Leader and Mrs. Franklin Sands To Attend White House Reception

Florida House Democratic Leader Franklin Sands (D-Weston) and his wife, Leslie Sands, are honored to be among the invited guests at today's holiday reception at The White House, which is being hosted by President Barack Obama and First Lady Michelle Obama.

The Hanukkah party, which begins at 4 p.m. on the State Floor of The White House, is expected to feature a Jewish student choir and the lighting of a 19th Century silver menorah from Prague.

Following the event, Representative and Mrs. Sands plan to attend an evening reception at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. hosted by Florida Congresswoman Debbie Wasserman Schultz.

Leader Sands provided the following statement:

“At today's holiday events in Washington, Leslie and I are grateful to have the honor and privilege of representing the Florida House Democratic Caucus and all the constituents of Florida House District 98 in Broward County.”
