The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 5

Wednesday, March 21, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 1:30 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Michael Keith Anderson of New Jerusalem First Missionary Baptist Church of Hollywood, upon invitation of Rep. Gottlieb:

To the immutable God who answers to many voices, by many names, in many languages of those that would call upon Him from the platform of a sincere heart. In the midst of our personal challenges and our collective woes, we pause to seek the wisdom of Thy studied guidance for the improved effectiveness of our failed but well-intentioned human efforts.

Before we take our seats or ascend to our dais of duty, we approach Thee as members of humanity. And only then, we ask Thee for supplemental privilege of approaching You as Members of this great House.

We need Thee, 'ere we admit it at all, as much as a shivering body needs a coat and a hungry belly craves for a hot bowl of soup. Give us the great privilege, the private bravery to continue to call upon You when we feel that we have failed You or others or, indeed, our very selves. Be for the shivering congressman or congress, the offered overcoat and the empty but craving congress or congressman or woman, their needed bowl of soup.

Great is the music of decent humanity. Great is the orchestra of democracy called America. Great and varied are the instruments of a legislative body who must honor the time, select the chords, and collaborate on the best notes possible to offer to this nation, from this great State of Florida, a worthy composition of freedom songs published by the human spirit.

But alas, again, we must pause. For even the most skilled musicians in these most wonderful Chambers, in the company of these most gifted collaborators and composers, ring silent and insufficient without a fair and focused conductor.

Dear God, may You tap Your baton on the podium of our persons and allow the best of You to be seen and realized in the band of us. Lord, I pray for a genuinely decent Congress; a humane and decent House of Representatives is our prayer. For they are the ones in the hallmark of our surest hope for a humanely decent America.

We thank Thee for hearing our prayer.

To the most wise God who answers by many voices, by many names, and in many languages of those who call upon Him humbly from the platform of a sincere heart, we say, Amen.

The offer of optional membership in a health maintenance organization plan permitted by this paragraph may be limited or conditioned by rule as may be necessary to meet the requirements of state and federal laws.

2. The department shall contract with health maintenance organizations seeking to participate in the state group insurance program through a request for proposal or other procurement process, as developed by the Department of Management Services and determined to be appropriate.

a. The department shall establish a schedule of minimum benefits for health maintenance organization coverage, and that schedule shall include: physician services; inpatient and outpatient hospital services; emergency medical services, including out-of-area emergency coverage; diagnostic laboratory and diagnostic and therapeutic radiologic services; mental health, alcohol, and chemical dependency treatment services meeting the minimum requirements of state and federal law; skilled nursing facilities and services; prescription drugs; and other benefits as may be required by the department. Additional services may be provided subject to the contract between the department and the HMO.

b. The department may establish uniform deductibles, copayments, or coinsurance schedules for all participating HMO plans.

c. The department may require detailed information from each health maintenance organization participating in the procurement process, including information pertaining to organizational status, experience in providing prepaid health benefits, accessibility of services, financial stability of the plan, quality of management services, accreditation status, quality of medical services, network access and adequacy, performance measurement, ability to meet the department's reporting requirements, and the actuarial basis of the proposed rates and other data determined by the director to be necessary for the evaluation and selection of health maintenance organization plans and negotiation of appropriate rates for these plans. Upon receipt of proposals by health maintenance organization plans and the evaluation of those proposals, the department may enter into negotiations with all of the plans or a subset of the plans, as the department determines appropriate. Nothing shall preclude the department from negotiating regional or statewide contracts with health maintenance organization plans when this is cost-effective and when the department determines that the plan offers high value to enrollees.

d. The department may limit the number of HMOs that it contracts with in each service area based on the nature of the bids the department receives, the number of state employees in the service area, or any unique geographical characteristics of the service area. The department shall establish by rule service areas throughout the state.

e. All persons participating in the state group insurance program who are required to contribute towards a total state group health premium shall be subject to the same dollar contribution regardless of whether the enrollee enrolls in the state group health insurance plan or in an HMO plan.

3. The department is authorized to negotiate and to contract with specialty psychiatric hospitals for mental health benefits, on a regional basis, for alcohol, drug abuse, and mental and nervous disorders. The department may establish, subject to the approval of the Legislature pursuant to subsection (5), any such regional plan upon completion of an actuarial study to determine any impact on plan benefits and premiums.

4. In addition to contracting pursuant to subparagraph 2., the department shall enter into contract with any HMO to participate in the state group insurance program which:

a. Serves greater than 5,000 recipients on a prepaid basis under the Medicaid program;

b. Does not currently meet the 25 percent non-Medicare/non-Medicaid enrollment composition requirement established by the Department of Health excluding participants enrolled in the state group insurance program;

The department is not required to renew the contract with the HMOs as set forth in this paragraph more than twice. Thereafter, the HMOs shall be eligible to participate in the state group insurance program only through the request for proposal process described in subparagraph 2.

5. All enrollees in the state group health insurance plan or any health maintenance organization plan shall have the option of changing to any other health plan which is offered by the state within any open enrollment period designated by the department. Open enrollment shall be held at least once each calendar year.

6. When a contract between a treating provider and the state-contracted health maintenance organization is terminated for any reason other than for cause, each party shall allow any enrollee for whom treatment was active to continue coverage and care when medically necessary, through completion of treatment of a condition for which the enrollee was receiving care at the time of the termination, until the enrollee selects another treating provider, or until the next open enrollment period offered, whichever is longer, but no longer than 6 months after termination of the contract. Each party to the terminated contract shall allow an enrollee who has initiated a course of prenatal care, regardless of the trimester in which care was initiated, to continue care and coverage until completion of postpartum care. This does not prevent a provider from refusing to continue to provide care to an enrollee who is abusive, noncompliant, or in arrears in payments for services provided. For care continued under this subparagraph, the program and the provider shall continue to be bound by the terms of the terminated contract. Changes made within 30 days before termination of a contract are effective only if agreed to by both parties.

7. Any HMO participating in the state group insurance program shall submit health care utilization and cost data to the department, in such form and in such manner as the department shall require, as a condition of participating in the program. The department shall enter into negotiations with its contracting HMOs to determine the nature and scope of the data submission and the final requirements, format, penalties associated with noncompliance, and timetables for submission. These determinations shall be adopted by rule.

8. The department may establish and direct, with respect to collective bargaining issues, a comprehensive package of insurance benefits that may include supplemental health and life coverage, dental care, long-term care, vision care, and other benefits it determines necessary to enable state employees to select from among benefit options that best suit their individual and family needs.

a. The administrator may establish administrative rules and procedures for applying this definition to creditable service authorized under this chapter. Upon recognition by a public employer, the employee organization shall immediately petition the ~~office commission~~ for certification. The ~~office commission~~ shall review only the appropriateness of the unit proposed by the employee organization. If the unit is appropriate according to the criteria used in this part, the ~~office commission~~ shall immediately certify the employee organization as the exclusive representative of all employees in the unit. If the unit is inappropriate according to the criteria used in this part, the ~~office commission~~ may dismiss the petition.

(b) Whenever a public employer recognizes an employee organization on the basis of majority status and on the basis of appropriateness in accordance with subparagraph (4)(f)5. of this section, the ~~office commission~~ shall, in the absence of inclusion of a prohibited category of employees or violation of s. 447.501, certify the proposed unit.

(2) If the public employer refuses to recognize the employee organization, the employee organization may file a petition with the ~~office commission~~ for certification as the bargaining agent for a proposed bargaining unit. The petition shall be accompanied by dated statements signed by at least 30 percent of the employees in the proposed unit, indicating that such employees desire to be represented for purposes of collective bargaining by the petitioning employee organization. Once a petition for certification has been filed by an employee organization, any registered employee organization desiring placement on the ballot in any election to be conducted pursuant to this section may be permitted by the ~~office commission~~ to intervene in the proceeding upon motion accompanied by dated statements signed by at least 10 percent of the employees in the proposed unit, indicating that such employees desire to be represented for the purposes of collective bargaining by the moving employee organization. The petitions and dated statements signed by the employees are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), except that any employee, employer, or employee organization having sufficient reason to believe any of the employee signatures were obtained by collusion, coercion, intimidation, or misrepresentation or are otherwise invalid shall be given a reasonable opportunity to verify and challenge the signatures appearing on the petition.

(3)(a) The ~~office commission~~ or one of its designated agents shall investigate the petition to determine its sufficiency; if it has reasonable cause to believe that the petition is sufficient, the ~~office commission~~ shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice. Such a hearing may be conducted by an agent of the ~~office commission~~. If the ~~office commission~~ finds the petition to be insufficient, it may dismiss the petition. If the ~~office commission~~ finds upon the record of the hearing that the petition is sufficient, it shall immediately:

1. Define the proposed bargaining unit and determine which public employees shall be qualified and entitled to vote at any election held by the ~~office commission~~.

2. Identify the public employer or employers for purposes of collective bargaining with the bargaining agent.

3. Order an election by secret ballot, the cost of said election and any required runoff election to be borne equally by the parties, except as the ~~office commission~~ may provide by rule. The ~~office's commission's~~ order assessing costs of an election may be enforced pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(b) When an employee organization is selected by a majority of the employees voting in an election, the ~~office commission~~ shall certify the employee organization as the exclusive collective bargaining representative of all employees in the unit. Certification is effective upon the issuance of the final order by the ~~office commission~~ or, if the final order is appealed, at the time the appeal is exhausted or any stay is vacated by the ~~office commission~~ or the court.

(c) In any election in which none of the choices on the ballot receives the vote of a majority of the employees voting, a runoff election shall be held according to rules promulgated by the ~~office commission~~.

(d) No petition may be filed seeking an election in any proposed or existing appropriate bargaining unit to determine the exclusive bargaining agent within 12 months after the date of an ~~office a commission~~ order verifying a representation election or, if an employee organization prevails, within 12 months after the date of an effective certification covering any of the employees in the proposed or existing bargaining unit. Furthermore, if a valid collective bargaining agreement covering any of the employees in a proposed unit is in effect, a petition for certification may be filed with the ~~office commission~~ only during the period extending from 150 days to 90 days immediately preceding the expiration date of that agreement, or at any time subsequent to its expiration date but prior to the effective date of any new agreement. The effective date of a collective bargaining agreement means the date of ratification by both parties, if the agreement becomes effective immediately or retroactively; or its actual effective date, if the agreement becomes effective after its ratification date.

(4) In defining a proposed bargaining unit, the ~~office commission~~ shall take into consideration:

(d) The power of the officials of government at the level of the unit to agree, or make effective recommendations to another administrative authority or to a legislative body, with respect to matters of employment upon which the employee desires to negotiate.

(e) The organizational structure of the public employer.

(f) Community of interest among the employees to be included in the unit, considering:

1. The manner in which wages and other terms of employment are determined.

2. The method by which jobs and salary classifications are determined.

3. The interdependence of jobs and interchange of employees.

4. The desires of the employees.

5. The history of employee relations within the organization of the public employer concerning organization and negotiation and the interest of the employees and the employer in the continuation of a traditional, workable, and accepted negotiation relationship.

447.308 Revocation of certification of employee organization.—

(1) Any employee or group of employees which no longer desires to be represented by the certified bargaining agent may file with the ~~office commission~~ a petition to revoke certification. The petition shall be accompanied by dated statements signed by at least 30 percent of the employees in the unit, indicating that such employees no longer desire to be represented for purposes of collective bargaining by the certified bargaining agent. The time of filing said petition shall be governed by the provisions of s. 447.307(3)(d) relating to petitions for certification. Any employee or employee organization having sufficient reason to believe any of the employee signatures were obtained by collusion, coercion, intimidation, or misrepresentation or are otherwise invalid shall be given a reasonable opportunity to verify and challenge the signatures appearing on the petition. The ~~office commission~~ or one of its designated agents shall investigate the petition to determine its sufficiency. If the ~~office commission~~ finds the petition to be insufficient, it may dismiss the petition. If the ~~office commission~~ finds that the petition is sufficient, it shall immediately:

(a) Identify the bargaining unit and determine which public employees shall be qualified and entitled to vote in the election held by the ~~office commission~~.

(b) Identify the public employer or employers.

(c) Order an election by secret ballot, the cost of ~~which is said election~~ to be borne equally by the parties, except as the ~~office commission~~ may provide by rule. The ~~office's commission's~~ order assessing costs of an election may be enforced pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(2) If a majority of the employees voting in such election vote against the continuation of representation by the certified bargaining agent, the certification of the employee organization as the exclusive bargaining agent for the employees in the bargaining unit shall be revoked.

(3) If a majority of the employees voting in such election do not vote against the continuation of representation by the certified bargaining agent, the certification of the employee organization as the exclusive bargaining agent for the employees in the unit shall be retained by the organization.

Section 160. Effective January 1, 2002, subsection (4) of section 447.309, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

447.309 Collective bargaining; approval or rejection.—

(4) If the agreement is not ratified by the public employer or is not approved by a majority vote of employees voting in the unit, in accordance with procedures adopted by the ~~office commission~~, the agreement shall be returned to the chief executive officer and the employee organization for further negotiations.

Section 161. Effective January 1, 2002, section 447.403, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

447.403 Resolution of impasses.—

(1) ~~If~~, After a reasonable period of negotiation concerning the terms and conditions of employment to be incorporated in a collective bargaining agreement, ~~if~~ a dispute ~~still~~ exists between a public employer and a bargaining agent, an impasse shall be deemed to have occurred when one of the parties so declares in writing to the other party and to the ~~office commission~~.

(2) When an impasse occurs, the public employer or the bargaining agent, or both parties acting jointly, may appoint, or secure the appointment of, a mediator to assist in the resolution of the impasse. Nothing in this section precludes the parties from using the services of a mediator at any time during the conduct of collective bargaining.

(3)(a)(2) If no mediator is appointed, or upon the request of either party, the ~~office commission~~ shall appoint, and submit all unresolved issues to, a special master acceptable to both parties. If the parties are unable to agree on the appointment of a special master, the ~~office commission~~ shall appoint, in its discretion, a qualified special master. However, if the parties agree in writing to waive the appointment of a special master, the parties may proceed directly to resolution of the impasse by the legislative body pursuant to paragraph (4)(d). ~~Nothing in this section precludes the parties from using the services of a mediator at any time during the conduct of collective bargaining.~~

(b)(3) The special master shall hold hearings in order to define the area or areas of dispute, to determine facts relating to the dispute, and to render a decision on any and all unresolved contract issues. The hearings shall be held at reasonable times, dates, and places to be established by the special master in accordance with rules promulgated by the ~~office commission~~. The special master shall be empowered to administer oaths and issue subpoenas on behalf of the parties to the dispute or on his or her own behalf. Within 15 calendar days after the close of the final hearing, the special master shall transmit his or her recommended decision to the ~~office commission~~ and to the representatives of both parties by registered mail, return receipt requested. Such recommended decision shall be discussed by the parties, and each recommendation of the special master shall be deemed approved by both parties unless specifically rejected by either party by written notice filed with the ~~office commission~~ within 20 calendar days after the date the party received the special master's recommended decision. The written notice shall include a statement of the cause for each rejection and shall be served upon the other party.

(4) In the event that either the public employer or the employee organization does not accept, in whole or in part, the recommended decision of the special master:

(a) The chief executive officer of the governmental entity involved shall, within 10 days after rejection of a recommendation of the special master, submit to the legislative body of the governmental entity involved a copy of the findings of fact and recommended decision of the special master, together with the chief executive officer's recommendations for settling the disputed impasse issues. The chief executive officer shall also transmit his or her recommendations to the employee organization. If the dispute involves employees for whom the Board of Regents is the public employer, the Governor may also submit recommendations to the legislative body for settling the disputed impasse issues.;

(b) The employee organization shall submit its recommendations for settling the disputed impasse issues to such legislative body and to the chief executive officer.;

(c) The legislative body or a duly authorized committee thereof shall forthwith conduct a public hearing at which the parties shall be required to explain their positions with respect to the rejected recommendations of the special master.;

(d) Thereafter, the legislative body shall take such action as it deems to be in the public interest, including the interest of the public employees involved, to resolve all disputed impasse issues. ~~and~~

(e) Following the resolution of the disputed impasse issues by the legislative body, the parties shall reduce to writing an agreement which includes those issues agreed to by the parties and those disputed impasse issues resolved by the legislative body's action taken pursuant to paragraph (d). The agreement shall be signed by the chief executive officer and the bargaining agent and shall be submitted to the public employer and to the public employees who are members of the bargaining unit for ratification. If such agreement is not ratified by all parties, pursuant to the provisions of s. 447.309, the legislative body's action taken pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (d) shall take effect as of the date of such legislative body's action for the remainder of the first fiscal year which was the subject of negotiations; however, the legislative body's action shall not take effect with respect to those disputed impasse issues which establish the language of contractual provisions which could have no effect in the absence of a ratified agreement, including, but not limited to, preambles, recognition clauses, and duration clauses.

Section 162. Effective January 1, 2002, section 447.4095, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

447.4095 Financial urgency.—In the event of a financial urgency requiring modification of an agreement, the chief executive officer or his or her representative and the bargaining agent or its representative shall meet as soon as possible to negotiate the impact of the financial urgency. If after a reasonable period of negotiation which shall not exceed 14 days, a dispute exists between the public employer and the bargaining agent, an impasse shall be deemed to have occurred, and one of the parties shall so declare in writing to the other party and to the ~~office commission~~. The parties shall then proceed pursuant to the provisions of s. 447.403. An unfair labor practice charge shall not be filed during the 14 days during which negotiations are occurring pursuant to this section.

Section 163. Effective January 1, 2002, section 447.503, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

447.503 Charges of unfair labor practices.—It is the intent of the Legislature that the ~~office commission~~ act as expeditiously as possible to settle disputes regarding alleged unfair labor practices. To this end, violations of the provisions of s. 447.501 shall be remedied by the ~~office commission~~ in accordance with the following procedures and in accordance with chapter 120; however, to the extent that chapter 120 is inconsistent with the provisions of this section, the procedures contained in this section shall govern:

(1) A proceeding to remedy a violation of the provisions of s. 447.501 shall be initiated by the filing of a charge with the ~~office commission~~ by an employer, employee, or employee organization, or any combination thereof. Such a charge shall contain a clear and concise statement of facts constituting the alleged unfair labor practice, including the names of all individuals involved in the alleged unfair labor practice, specific reference to the provisions of s. 447.501 alleged to have been violated, and such other relevant information as the ~~office commission~~ may by rule require or allow. Service of the charge shall be made upon each named respondent at the time of filing with the ~~office commission~~. The charge must be accompanied by sworn statements and documentary evidence sufficient to establish a prima facie violation of the applicable unfair labor practice provision. Such supporting evidence is not to be attached to the charge and is to be furnished only to the ~~office commission~~.

(2) The ~~office commission~~, or any agent designated by it for such purpose, shall thereupon review the charge to determine its sufficiency.

(a) If upon review it is determined that the charge is insufficient, the ~~office commission~~ or its designated agent may issue a summary dismissal of the charge. A charging party whose charge is dismissed by a designated agent may appeal the dismissal to the ~~office commission~~ within 20 days after the date of issuance of the dismissal. If the ~~office commission~~ finds the charge to be sufficient, it shall reinstate the charge.

(b) If upon review it is determined that the charge is sufficient, the ~~office commission~~ shall notify the parties. Each respondent so charged shall thereupon file an answer to the charge with the ~~office commission~~, and serve a copy upon the charging party, no more than 20 days after service of notification of the sufficiency of the charge, unless otherwise allowed by the ~~office commission~~. The ~~office commission~~, in its discretion, may allow a charge or answer to be amended at any time. The ~~office commission~~ may also, in its discretion, allow other interested parties to intervene in the proceeding.

(3) Whenever a charging party alleges that a respondent has engaged in unfair labor practices and that the charging party will suffer substantial and irreparable injury if not granted temporary relief, the ~~office commission~~ may petition the circuit court for appropriate injunctive relief pending the final adjudication by the ~~office commission~~ with respect to such matter. Upon the filing of any such petition, the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon the parties and, thereupon, shall have jurisdiction to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper.

(4) The ~~office commission~~ may issue prehearing orders requiring the parties to provide written statements of relevant issues of fact and law and such other information as the ~~office commission~~ may require to expedite the resolution of the case. Such orders may further direct the parties to identify witnesses, exchange intended exhibits and documentary evidence, and appear at a conference before the ~~office commission~~ or an ~~employee a member~~ thereof, or a ~~designated hearing officer~~, for the purpose of handling such matters as will aid the ~~office commission~~ in expeditiously resolving the case before it.

(5) Whenever the proceeding involves a disputed issue of material fact and an evidentiary hearing is to be conducted:

(a) The ~~office commission~~ shall issue and serve upon all parties a notice of hearing before a ~~person an~~ assigned pursuant to paragraph (b) hearing officer at a time and place specified therein. Such notice shall be issued at least 14 days prior to the scheduled hearing.

(b) The evidentiary hearing shall be conducted by a person designated by the executive director of the office who is an office employee and a member of The Florida Bar or an agent designated by the executive director who is a member of The Florida Bar ~~hearing officer designated by the commission. Said hearing officer may be the commission itself, a member of the commission, or an agent designated by the commission for such purpose, provided that such agent shall be an employee of the commission and a member of The Florida Bar.~~

(c) Not later than 45 days after the close of the evidentiary hearing, unless extended by the ~~office commission~~ with the consent of all parties, the person conducting the hearing ~~officer~~ shall submit to the ~~office commission~~ and to all parties a recommended order which shall include findings of fact and recommended rulings on procedural matters. The recommended order may also include recommended conclusions of law if requested by the ~~office commission~~.

~~(d) If the hearing was held before the commission or a member of the commission, the commission may elect to issue a final order which is in compliance with ss. 120.569 and 120.57.~~

(6)(a) If, upon consideration of the record in the case, the ~~office commission~~ finds that an unfair labor practice has been committed, it shall issue and cause to be served an order requiring the appropriate party or parties to cease and desist from the unfair labor practice and take such positive action, including reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will best implement the general policies expressed in this part. However, no order of the ~~office commission~~ shall require the reinstatement of any individual as an employee who has been suspended or discharged, or the payment of any back pay, if the individual was suspended or discharged as otherwise provided by law for cause. The order may further require the party or parties to make periodic reports showing the extent to which it has complied with the order. If, upon consideration of the record in the case, the ~~office commission~~ finds that an unfair labor practice has not been or is not being committed, it shall issue an order dismissing the case.

(b) If the ~~office commission~~ determines that the alleged unfair labor practice occurred more than 6 months prior to the filing of the charge, the ~~office commission~~ shall issue an order dismissing the case, unless the person filing the charge was prevented from doing so by reason of service in the Armed Forces, in which case the 6-month period shall run from the date of the person's discharge.

(c) The ~~office commission~~ may award to the prevailing party all or part of the costs of litigation, reasonable attorney's fees, and expert witness fees whenever the ~~office commission~~ determines that such an award is appropriate.

(d) Final orders of the ~~office commission~~ issued pursuant to this section shall be enforced pursuant to the provisions of s. 447.5035 and shall be reviewed pursuant to the provisions of s. 447.504.

Section 164. Effective January 1, 2002, section 447.5035, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

The findings of the ~~office commission~~ with respect to questions of fact, if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclusive.

(3) The court may award to the prevailing party all or part of the costs of litigation and reasonable attorney's fees and expert witness fees whenever the court determines that such an award is appropriate. However, no such costs or fees shall be assessed against the ~~office commission~~ in any appeal from an order issued by the ~~office commission~~ in an adjudicatory proceeding between adversary parties conducted pursuant to this part.

Section 166. Effective January 1, 2002, section 447.507, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

447.507 Violation of strike prohibition; penalties.—

(1) Circuit courts having jurisdiction of the parties are vested with the authority to hear and determine all actions alleging violations of s. 447.505. Suits to enjoin violations of s. 447.505 will have priority over all matters on the court's docket except other emergency matters.

(2) If a public employee, a group of employees, an employee organization, or any officer, agent, or representative of any employee organization engages in a strike in violation of s. 447.505, either the ~~office commission~~ or any public employer whose employees are involved or whose employees may be affected by the strike may file suit to enjoin the strike in the circuit court having proper jurisdiction and proper venue of such actions under the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure and Florida Statutes. The circuit court shall conduct a hearing, with notice to the ~~office commission~~ and to all interested parties, at the earliest practicable time. If the plaintiff makes a prima facie showing that a violation of s. 447.505 is in progress or that there is a clear, real, and present danger that such a strike is about to commence, the circuit court shall issue a temporary injunction enjoining the strike. Upon final hearing, the circuit court shall either make the injunction permanent or dissolve it.

(3) If an injunction to enjoin a strike issued pursuant to this section is not promptly complied with, on the application of the plaintiff, the circuit court shall immediately initiate contempt proceedings against those who appear to be in violation. An employee organization found to be in contempt of court for violating an injunction against a strike shall be fined an amount deemed appropriate by the court. In determining the appropriate fine, the court shall objectively consider the extent of lost services and the particular nature and position of the employee group in violation. In no event shall the fine exceed $5,000. Each officer, agent, or representative of an employee organization found to be in contempt of court for violating an injunction against a strike shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $100 for each calendar day that the violation is in progress.

(4) An employee organization shall be liable for any damages which might be suffered by a public employer as a result of a violation of the provisions of s. 447.505 by the employee organization or its representatives, officers, or agents. The circuit court having jurisdiction over such actions is empowered to enforce judgments against employee organizations, as defined in this part, by attachment or garnishment of union initiation fees or dues which are to be deducted or checked off by public employers. No action shall be maintained pursuant to this subsection until all proceedings which were pending before the ~~office commission~~ at the time of the strike or which were initiated within 30 days of the strike have been finally adjudicated or otherwise disposed of. In determining the amount of damages, if any, to be awarded to the public employer, the trier of fact shall take into consideration any action or inaction by the public employer or its agents that provoked or tended to provoke the strike by the public employees. The trier of fact shall also take into consideration any damages that might have been recovered by the public employer under subparagraph (6)(a)4.

(5) If the ~~office commission~~, after a hearing on notice conducted according to rules promulgated by the ~~office commission~~, determines that an employee has violated s. 447.505, it may order the termination of his or her employment by the public employer. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a person knowingly violating the provision of said section may, subsequent to such violation, be appointed, reappointed, employed, or reemployed as a public employee, but only upon the following conditions:

(a) Such person shall be on probation for a period of 18 6 months following his or her appointment, reappointment, employment, or reemployment, during which period he or she shall serve without permanent status and at the pleasure of the agency head tenure. ~~During this period, the person may be discharged only upon a showing of just cause.~~

(b) His or her compensation may in no event exceed that received immediately prior to the time of the violation.

(c) The compensation of the person may not be increased until after the expiration of 1 year from such appointment, reappointment, employment, or reemployment.

(6)(a) If the ~~office commission~~ determines that an employee organization has violated s. 447.505, it may:

1. Issue cease and desist orders as necessary to ensure compliance with its order.

2. Suspend or revoke the certification of the employee organization as the bargaining agent of such employee unit.

3. Revoke the right of dues deduction and collection previously granted to said employee organization pursuant to s. 447.303.

4. Fine the organization up to $20,000 for each calendar day of such violation or determine the approximate cost to the public due to each calendar day of the strike and fine the organization an amount equal to such cost, notwithstanding the fact that the fine may exceed $20,000 for each such calendar day. The fines so collected shall immediately accrue to the public employer and shall be used by him or her to replace those services denied the public as a result of the strike. In determining the amount of damages, if any, to be awarded to the public employer, the ~~office commission~~ shall take into consideration any action or inaction by the public employer or its agents that provoked, or tended to provoke, the strike by the public employees.

(b) An organization determined to be in violation of s. 447.505 shall not be certified until 1 year from the date of final payment of any fine against it.

Section 16. Section 110.123, Florida Statutes, is renumbered as section 109.123, Florida Statutes, and paragraph (g) of subsection (3) of said section is amended to read:

~~109.123 110.123~~ State group insurance program.—

(3) STATE GROUP INSURANCE PROGRAM.—

(g)1. A person eligible to participate in the state group insurance program may be authorized by rules adopted by the department, in lieu of participating in the state group health insurance plan, to exercise an option to elect membership in a health maintenance organization plan which is under contract with the state in accordance with criteria established by this section and by said rules. The offer of optional membership in a health maintenance organization plan permitted by this paragraph may be limited or conditioned by rule as may be necessary to meet the requirements of state and federal laws.

2. The department shall contract with health maintenance organizations seeking to participate in the state group insurance program through a request for proposal or other procurement process, as developed by the Department of Management Services and determined to be appropriate.

a. The department shall establish a schedule of minimum benefits for health maintenance organization coverage, and that schedule shall include: physician services; inpatient and outpatient hospital services; emergency medical services, including out-of-area emergency coverage; diagnostic laboratory and diagnostic and therapeutic radiologic services; mental health, alcohol, and chemical dependency treatment services meeting the minimum requirements of state and federal law; skilled nursing facilities and services; prescription drugs; and other benefits as may be required by the department. Additional services may be provided subject to the contract between the department and the HMO.

b. The department may establish uniform deductibles, copayments, or coinsurance schedules for all participating HMO plans.

c. The department may require detailed information from each health maintenance organization participating in the procurement process, including information pertaining to organizational status, experience in providing prepaid health benefits, accessibility of services, financial stability of the plan, quality of management services, accreditation status, quality of medical services, network access and adequacy, performance measurement, ability to meet the department's reporting requirements, and the actuarial basis of the proposed rates and other data determined by the director to be necessary for the evaluation and selection of health maintenance organization plans and negotiation of appropriate rates for these plans. Upon receipt of proposals by health maintenance organization plans and the evaluation of those proposals, the department may enter into negotiations with all of the plans or a subset of the plans, as the department determines appropriate. Nothing shall preclude the department from negotiating regional or statewide contracts with health maintenance organization plans when this is cost-effective and when the department determines that the plan offers high value to enrollees.

d. The department may limit the number of HMOs that it contracts with in each service area based on the nature of the bids the department receives, the number of state employees in the service area, or any unique geographical characteristics of the service area. The department shall establish by rule service areas throughout the state.

e. All persons participating in the state group insurance program who are required to contribute towards a total state group health premium shall be subject to the same dollar contribution regardless of whether the enrollee enrolls in the state group health insurance plan or in an HMO plan.

3. The department is authorized to negotiate and to contract with specialty psychiatric hospitals for mental health benefits, on a regional basis, for alcohol, drug abuse, and mental and nervous disorders. The department may establish, subject to the approval of the Legislature pursuant to subsection (5), any such regional plan upon completion of an actuarial study to determine any impact on plan benefits and premiums.

4. In addition to contracting pursuant to subparagraph 2., the department shall enter into contract with any HMO to participate in the state group insurance program which:

a. Serves greater than 5,000 recipients on a prepaid basis under the Medicaid program;

b. Does not currently meet the 25 percent non-Medicare/non-Medicaid enrollment composition requirement established by the Department of Health excluding participants enrolled in the state group insurance program;

c. Meets the minimum benefit package and copayments and deductibles contained in sub-subparagraphs 2.a. and b.;

d. Is willing to participate in the state group insurance program at a cost of premiums that is not greater than 95 percent of the cost of HMO premiums accepted by the department in each service area; and

e. Meets the minimum surplus requirements of s. 641.225.

The department is authorized to contract with HMOs that meet the requirements of sub-subparagraphs a.-d. prior to the open enrollment period for state employees. The department is not required to renew the contract with the HMOs as set forth in this paragraph more than twice. Thereafter, the HMOs shall be eligible to participate in the state group insurance program only through the request for proposal process described in subparagraph 2.

5. All enrollees in the state group health insurance plan or any health maintenance organization plan shall have the option of changing to any other health plan which is offered by the state within any open enrollment period designated by the department. Open enrollment shall be held at least once each calendar year.

6. When a contract between a treating provider and the state-contracted health maintenance organization is terminated for any reason other than for cause, each party shall allow any enrollee for whom treatment was active to continue coverage and care when medically necessary, through completion of treatment of a condition for which the enrollee was receiving care at the time of the termination, until the enrollee selects another treating provider, or until the next open enrollment period offered, whichever is longer, but no longer than 6 months after termination of the contract. Each party to the terminated contract shall allow an enrollee who has initiated a course of prenatal care, regardless of the trimester in which care was initiated, to continue care and coverage until completion of postpartum care. This does not prevent a provider from refusing to continue to provide care to an enrollee who is abusive, noncompliant, or in arrears in payments for services provided. For care continued under this subparagraph, the program and the provider shall continue to be bound by the terms of the terminated contract. Changes made within 30 days before termination of a contract are effective only if agreed to by both parties.

7. Any HMO participating in the state group insurance program shall submit health care utilization and cost data to the department, in such form and in such manner as the department shall require, as a condition of participating in the program. The department shall enter into negotiations with its contracting HMOs to determine the nature and scope of the data submission and the final requirements, format, penalties associated with noncompliance, and timetables for submission. These determinations shall be adopted by rule.

8. The department may establish and direct, with respect to collective bargaining issues, a comprehensive package of insurance benefits that may include supplemental health and life coverage, dental care, long-term care, vision care, and other benefits it determines necessary to enable state employees to select from among benefit options that best suit their individual and family needs.

a. Based upon a desired benefit package, the department shall issue a request for proposal for health insurance providers interested in participating in the state group insurance program, and the department shall issue a request for proposal for insurance providers interested in participating in the non-health-related components of the state group insurance program. Upon receipt of all proposals, the department may enter into contract negotiations with insurance providers submitting bids or negotiate a specially designed benefit package. Insurance providers offering or providing supplemental coverage as of May 30, 1991, which qualify for pretax benefit treatment pursuant to s. 125 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, with 5,500 or more state employees currently enrolled may be included by the department in the supplemental insurance benefit plan established by the department without participating in a request for proposal, submitting bids, negotiating contracts, or negotiating a specially designed benefit package. These contracts shall provide state employees with the most cost-effective and comprehensive coverage available; however, no state or agency funds shall be contributed toward the cost of any part of the premium of such supplemental benefit plans. With respect to dental coverage, the division shall include in any solicitation or contract for any state group dental program made after July 1, 2001, a comprehensive indemnity dental plan option which offers enrollees a completely unrestricted choice of dentists. If a dental plan is endorsed, or in some manner recognized as the preferred product, such plan shall include a comprehensive indemnity dental plan option which provides enrollees with a completely unrestricted choice of dentists.

b. Pursuant to the applicable provisions of s. ~~109.161~~ ~~110.161~~, and s. 125 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, the department shall enroll in the pretax benefit program those state employees who voluntarily elect coverage in any of the supplemental insurance benefit plans as provided by sub-subparagraph a.

c. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit insurance providers from continuing to provide or offer supplemental benefit coverage to state employees as provided under existing agency plans.

Such health insurance coverage shall provide the same benefits as provided to other retirees who are entitled to participate under s. 109.123 ~~110.123~~. Any eligible employee choosing to participate in voluntary binding arbitration must file a written request for arbitration with the office no later than 14 days after the receipt of notice of the adverse agency action.

(2) The arbitration request must be submitted on a form prescribed by the office by rule. The form must be signed by the employee and must include stipulations that:

(a) The employee is voluntarily participating in binding arbitration pursuant to this section.

(b) The arbitration order is final and may not be set aside except for an error in law that is apparent on the record.

(c) The employee will faithfully abide by the arbitration order unless otherwise determined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) Upon receipt of the arbitration request, the office shall provide written notice to the agency against which a request is made regarding the employee request for binding arbitration. The agency must participate in the requested binding arbitration. Binding arbitration shall not be conducted pursuant to this section unless the employee requests it.

(4)(a) The employee bears the burden of establishing by a preponderance of the evidence that the agency action complained of was adverse, that the agency head abused his or her discretion in taking the adverse agency action, and that no reasonable cause existed for the adverse agency action. This paragraph does not apply to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters.

(b) With regard to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters, the employer must prove just cause for the adverse agency action.

(5)(a) The voluntary binding arbitration shall be heard and determined by an employee panel that consists of three randomly selected career service employees chosen by the office in a manner to ensure a balanced representation of employees from each pay classification. At least one of the employees selected to serve on an employee panel must be a member of the same pay classification as the employee requesting binding arbitration. This paragraph does not apply to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters.

3. One panel member jointly selected by the other two panel members. If the two panel members do not agree on the jointly selected panel member, within 10 working days after the appeal is submitted, the parties shall jointly request the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to furnish a panel of seven names from which each party shall have the option, within 5 days of receipt, of striking three names in alternating fashion. The seventh or remaining name shall serve as the third panel member. The parties shall jointly notify the panel member of his or her selection. Either party may object to all names on the list, provided the objection is made prior to the commencement of the striking process. If this occurs, the objecting party may request the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to furnish another list of names. No more than two lists may be requested.

(c) The employee panel shall receive procedural direction and legal advice from the arbitrator appointed by the office.

(d) No employee currently employed or employed within the preceding 6 months by the agency participating in the binding arbitration shall be selected for an employee panel. Employees selected to serve on an employee panel shall hear all evidence submitted by the parties in arbitration and their decision shall be governed by the statutory burden of proof. The office shall reimburse agencies for the daily tasks of each agency employee that serves on an employee panel.

Section 50. Section 110.227, Florida Statutes, is renumbered as section 109.227, Florida Statutes, and subsection (2) of said section is amended, and, effective July 1, 2001, subsections (1), (3), and (6) of said section are amended, and, effective January 1, 2002, subsection (4) and paragraph (b) of subsection (5) of said section are amended, to read:

~~109.227~~ ~~110.227~~ Suspensions, dismissals, reductions in pay, demotions, layoffs, transfers, and grievances.—

(1) Any employee who has permanent status in the career service may only be suspended or dismissed for just cause. Just cause shall include, but not be limited to, negligence, inefficiency or inability to perform assigned duties, insubordination, willful violation of the provisions of law or agency rules, conduct unbecoming a public employee, misconduct, habitual drug abuse, or conviction of any crime involving moral turpitude. Each agency head shall ensure that all employees of the agency are completely familiar with the agency's established procedures on disciplinary actions and grievances.

(2) The department shall establish rules and procedures for the suspension, reduction in pay, transfer, layoff, demotion, and dismissal of employees in the career service. Except with regard to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters, rules regarding layoff procedures shall not include any system whereby a career service employee with greater seniority has the option of selecting a different position not being eliminated, but either vacant or already occupied by an employee of less seniority, and taking that position, commonly referred to as "bumping." Such rules shall be approved by the Administration Commission prior to their adoption by the department. This subsection does not prohibit collective bargaining units from seeking to incorporate "bumping" in their collective bargaining agreements.

(3)(a) With regard to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters, when a layoff becomes necessary, such layoff shall be conducted within the competitive area identified by the agency head and approved by the Department of Management Services. Such competitive area shall be established taking into consideration the similarity of work; the organizational unit, which may be by agency, department, division, bureau, or other organizational unit; and the commuting area for the work affected.

(b) Layoff procedures shall be developed to establish the relative merit and fitness of employees and shall include a formula for uniform application among potentially adversely affected employees, or, with respect to law enforcement or correctional officers or firefighters, among all employees in the competitive area, taking into consideration the type of appointment, the length of service, and the evaluations of the employee's performance within the last 5 years of employment.

(4) Any permanent career service employee subject to reduction in pay, transfer, layoff, or demotion from a class in which he or she has permanent status in the Career Service System shall be notified in writing by the agency prior to its taking such action. The notice may be delivered to the employee personally or may be sent by certified mail with return receipt requested. As of January 1, 2002, such actions shall be appealable to the circuit court, or the aggrieved employee may request voluntary binding arbitration as provided in s. 109.240 Public Employees Relations Commission, pursuant to s. 447.208 and rules adopted by the commission. Appeals based on the protections provided by the Whistle-blower's Act, ss. 112.3187-112.31895, must be filed with the Commission on Human Relations as provided for in that act.

(b) In extraordinary situations such as when the retention of a permanent career service employee would result in damage to state property, would be detrimental to the best interest of the state, or would result in injury to the employee, a fellow employee, or some other person, such employee may be suspended or dismissed without 10 days' prior notice, provided that written or oral notice of such action, evidence of the reasons therefor, and an opportunity to rebut the charges are furnished to the employee prior to such dismissal or suspension. Such notice may be delivered to the employee personally or may be sent by certified mail with return receipt requested. Agency compliance with the foregoing procedure requiring notice, evidence, and an opportunity for rebuttal must be substantiated. As of January 1, 2002, any employee who is suspended or dismissed pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall be entitled to a hearing before the circuit court, or the aggrieved employee may request voluntary binding arbitration as provided in s. 109.240 Public Employees Relations Commission or its designated agent pursuant to s. 447.208, except that such hearing shall be held no more than 20 days after the filing of the notice of appeal by the employee. Appeals based on the protections provided by the Whistle-blower's Act, ss. 112.3187-112.31895, must be filed with the Commission on Human Relations as provided for in that act.

(6) A grievance process shall be available to career service employees. A grievance is defined as the dissatisfaction that occurs when an employee believes thinks or feels that any condition affecting the employee is unjust, inequitable, or a hinderance to effective operation, or creates a problem, except that an employee shall not have the right to file a grievance against performance evaluations unless the employee alleges it is alleged that the evaluation is based on factors other than the employee's performance. Claims of discrimination and sexual harassment, suspensions, reductions in pay, transfers, layoffs, demotions, and dismissals are not subject to the career service grievance process.

(7) The department shall adopt rules for administration of the grievance process for career service employees. Such rules shall establish agency grievance procedures, eligibility, filing deadlines, forms, and review and evaluation governing the grievance process.

A withdrawal of contributions will constitute a break in service. Continuous service also includes past service purchased under this chapter, provided such service is continuous within this definition and the rules established by the administrator. The administrator may establish administrative rules and procedures for applying this definition to creditable service authorized under this chapter. Any correctional officer, as defined in s. 943.10, whose participation in the state-administered retirement system is terminated due to the transfer of a county detention facility through a contractual agreement with a private entity pursuant to s. 951.062, shall be deemed an employee with continuous service in the Special Risk Class, provided return to employment with the former employer takes place within 3 years due to contract termination or the officer is employed by a covered employer in a special risk position within 1 year after his or her initial termination of employment by such transfer of its detention facilities to the private entity.

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 6

Thursday, March 22, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 1:30 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Roger E. Miller of St. George Episcopal Church of Lady Lake, upon invitation of Rep. Gibson:

Almighty God, we humbly thank You for this good land which You have given us for our inheritance and especially the state of Florida in which we live. Fill with wisdom those to whom we entrust the authority of government, particularly the Members of this House of Representatives gathered today to do the work they have been called to do. In times of prosperity, fill their hearts with thankfulness, and in times of adversity, do not allow their trust in You to fail.

You, O God, are the source of wisdom whose statutes are good and gracious and whose law is truth. Therefore, we pray that You would guide and support the Representatives assembled here, that by just and prudent laws they may promote the well-being of all people in this state. Grant them the courage to make the hard decisions which may at times be unpopular, but as they cast all their cares on You, may they sense Your presence and guidance in all their deliberations.

All this we ask in Your name. Amen.

Withdrawal of Bills from Committee or Council

Rep. Byrd, Chair of the Procedural & Redistricting Council, made the following remarks concerning the withdrawal of bills from Committee or Council, on March 21.

I would like to compliment everyone, particularly our freshman Members on the very good ideas each of you have brought to the House this year. Our new Members are an inspiration.

This session is moving along quickly, and I know there will come a time when some of you will want to withdraw a bill from a committee or council. I have already had a few inquiries regarding how to go about withdrawing bills. I do caution you Members, that bill referrals are made with considerable deliberation, therefore withdrawals will be approved infrequently. The Speaker has instituted the following procedure for withdrawing bills from committees or councils.

- If the Chair of the committee or council recommends to withdraw a bill from his/her committee or council, he/she must send a letter to the Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections explaining why his/her committee or council does not need to hear the bill.
- The Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections will evaluate the request to determine whether the withdrawal is appropriate under traditional policies of the House.
- If the evaluation is favorable, the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections will forward the favorable recommendation to the Chair of the Procedural & Redistricting Council and the Speaker for a final decision.

Keep in mind Members, that this is a two-year process, and your good ideas that may not get through this year will still be good ideas next year. Should you have any questions, please contact me.

Explanation of Vote

As a product of our public schools and the husband of a public school teacher, I am committed to our public schools.

Although there are no schools in Charlotte County that would qualify under this grant program (and, of course, nobody would remove their children from our great local schools), nonetheless, I have now seen that in some inner city areas elsewhere in our state parents need choices.

I have kept an open mind on this issue. I have listened to diverse views both supporting and opposing this proposal.

I have listened to members of the teachers union and others who oppose the school choice proposal.

However, I cannot ignore the passionate voices of so many low-income parents pleading with me to help them have school choice until school districts complete the construction of facilities necessary to address the overcrowding problem. I cannot ignore their plea to empower them to help their own children. I cannot ignore the pleas of so many members of minority groups who support the legislation as a way to help their children access a better education. I have listened to many others who beg me to approve the proposal such as members of the "Black Alliance for Educational Options" whose Vice President, Ken Johnson, (a member of the Milwaukee School Board) recently stated "Private school choice is one of the best things that ever happened to my city's public schools".

Even though this vote will not affect my local district, as a "state" representative I cannot ignore the needs of parents in other [less fortunate] areas of our state. I must vote to help these parents. I must vote in favor of HB 303.

*Rep. Jerry Paul

Explanation of Vote

Once again the House is being called on to further expand school vouchers and once again, we are being asked to make this decision without having fully addressed the root causes of the problems facing public education today. We need to build more schools, hire more caring and qualified teachers and provide safe classrooms for students to learn. I cannot support this or any other voucher bill until we have taken care of our constitutional responsibility to all our children to provide a world class public education system.

Explanation of Vote

I fear that this legislation will blur the lines that separate the judicial branch of government with the executive branch of government. I hope that I will one day be proven wrong, however the risk of unintended consequences far out weigh the potential for good reforms. In the spirit of political theorist Baron de Montesquieu, who said “there is no liberty if the power of judging be not separated from the legislative and executive powers,” I cast a no vote.

HB 1083—A bill to be entitled An act relating to public records; providing an exemption from the public records law for photographs and video recordings of an autopsy; providing for access by a state or federal agency as provided by law and in furtherance of the agency's statutory duties; providing a penalty; providing for future legislative review and repeal; providing a finding of public necessity; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

The Committee on State Administration offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 874155)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—

Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. (1) All photographs or video recordings of an autopsy in the possession of a district medical examiner pursuant to chapter 406 are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution, except as otherwise provided herein. Photographs and video recordings of an autopsy made confidential and exempt by this section shall be disclosed for viewing or copying:

(a) Pursuant to a written waiver by the surviving spouse. If there is no surviving spouse, then pursuant to a written waiver by a surviving parent; and, if there is no surviving spouse or parent, then pursuant to written waiver by an adult child of the deceased; or

(b) Pursuant to a written request by a local government, state agency, or federal agency, in the furtherance of its official duties; and, unless otherwise required in the performance of their duties, the identity of the deceased shall remain confidential and exempt.

(2) Any person may petition the court for an order to make the photographs and video recordings available for inspection. Pursuant to such a public records petition, and the petitioner's showing of good cause, the court may authorize inspection pursuant to the terms and conditions which it deems appropriate, but shall not authorize copying; provided that the surviving spouse is given reasonable notice of the petition, and a copy of the petition, and reasonable notice of the opportunity to be present and heard at any hearing on the matter. If there is no surviving spouse, then such notice must be given to the deceased's parents, and if the deceased has no living parents, then to the adult children of the deceased.

In determining good cause the court shall consider:

a) The necessity of the viewing in determining governmental accountability;

b) The ramifications of the viewing with respect to the family's right to privacy; and

c) The availability of similar information in other forms.

(3) The viewing or copying of an autopsy photograph or video recording pursuant to this section shall be under the direct supervision of the custodian of the record or his or her designee.

(4) The district medical examiner or associate medical examiner, in his or her official capacity, may use the photographs or video recordings for the purposes of seeking another expert medical opinion, for providing professional training, for case-related medical or scientific research purposes, or for other purposes solely related to the accomplishment of the district or associate medical examiner's duties and responsibilities. However, the identity of the deceased shall remain confidential and exempt, unless a waiver has been obtained as provided for in subsection (1)(a).

(5) Any person who willfully or knowingly violates this section commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in ss. 775.082, 775.083, or 775.084.

(6) This exemption shall be given retroactive application. This section is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act of 1995 in accordance with s. 119.15, and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2006, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that photographs or video recordings of an autopsy be made confidential and exempt. Photographs or video recordings of an autopsy are highly sensitive, graphic depictions of the deceased, which, if viewed, copied, or publicized, could result in trauma, sorrow, humiliation, or emotional injury to the immediate family of the deceased, and is an invasion of that family's privacy, as well as injurious to the memories of the deceased. Furthermore, the Legislature finds that the existence of the World Wide Web and the proliferation of personal computers throughout the world encourages and promotes the worldwide dissemination of photographs and video recordings 24 hours a day, and that widespread dissemination of autopsy photographs and video recordings would subject the immediate family of the deceased to continuous injury. The Legislature further finds that there are other types of available information, such as the autopsy report, which is less intrusive and injurious to the immediate family member of the deceased but which continues to provide for public oversight. Furthermore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the exemption provided in this act be given retroactive application because it is remedial in nature and it furthers the public policy embodied in s. 382.008, that all information on the death certificate relating to the cause of death is confidential.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law and shall apply to all autopsy photographs and video recordings in the custody of a district medical examiner, whether made before or after the effective date of this act.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, lines 3 through 7, remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: exemption from public records requirements for photographs and video recordings of an autopsy; providing exceptions; providing a

Rep. Miller moved the adoption of the amendment.

On motion by Rep. Johnson, under Rule 12.2(c), the following late-filed substitute amendment was considered.

Representative(s) Johnson and Miller offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 822831)

Substitute Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. (1) A photograph or video or audio recording of an autopsy in the custody of a medical examiner is confidential and exempt from the requirements of section 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, except that a surviving spouse may view and copy a photograph or video or listen to or copy an audio recording of the deceased spouse's autopsy. If there is no surviving spouse, then the surviving parents shall have access to such records. If there is no surviving spouse or parent, then an adult child shall have access to such records. A local governmental entity, or a state or federal agency, in furtherance of its official duties, pursuant to a written request, may view or copy a photograph or video or may listen to or copy an audio recording of an autopsy, and unless otherwise required in the performance of their duties, the identity of the deceased shall remain confidential and exempt. The custodian of the record, or his or her designee, may not permit any other person to view or copy such photograph or video recording or listen to or copy an audio recording without a court order. For the purposes of this section, the term "medical examiner" means any district medical examiner, associate medical examiner, or substitute medical examiner acting pursuant to ch. 406, as well as any employee, deputy, or agent of a medical examiner or any other person who may obtain possession of a photograph or audio or video recording of an autopsy in the course of assisting a medical examiner in the performance of his or her official duties.

(2)(a) The court, upon a showing of good cause, may issue an order authorizing any person to view or copy a photograph or video recording of an autopsy or to listen to or copy an audio recording of an autopsy and may prescribe any restrictions or stipulations that the court deems appropriate.

In determining good cause, the court shall consider whether such disclosure is necessary for the public evaluation of governmental performance; the seriousness of the intrusion into the family's right to privacy and whether such disclosure is the least intrusive means available; and the availability of similar information in other public records, regardless of form. In all cases, the viewing, copying, listening to or other handling of a photograph or video or audio recording of an autopsy must be under the direct supervision of the custodian of the record or his or her designee.

(2)(b) A surviving spouse shall be given reasonable notice of a petition filed with the court to view or copy a photograph or video recording of an autopsy or a petition to listen to or copy an audio recording, a copy of such petition, and reasonable notice of the opportunity to be present and heard at any hearing on the matter. If there is no surviving spouse, then such notice must be given to the deceased's parents, and if the deceased has no living parent, then to the adult children of the deceased.

(3)(a) Any custodian of a photograph or video or audio recording of an autopsy who willfully and knowingly violates this section commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in section 775.082, section 775.083, or section 775.084, Florida Statutes.

(b) Any person who willfully and knowingly violates a court order issued pursuant to this section commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in section 775.082, section 775.083, or section 775.084, Florida Statutes.

(c) A criminal or administrative proceeding is exempt from this section, but unless otherwise exempted, is subject to all other provisions of Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, provided however that this section does not prohibit a court in a criminal or administrative proceeding upon good cause shown from restricting or otherwise controlling the disclosure of an autopsy, crime-scene, or similar photograph or video or audio recordings in the manner prescribed herein.

(4) This exemption shall be given retroactive application.

(5) The exemption in this section is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act of 1995 in accordance with section 119.15, Florida Statutes, and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2006, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that photographs and video and audio recordings of an autopsy be made confidential and exempt from the requirements of section 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and Section 24(a) of Article I of the State Constitution. The Legislature finds that photographs or video or audio recordings of an autopsy depict or describe the deceased in graphic and often disturbing fashion. Such photographs or video or audio recordings may depict or describe the deceased nude, bruised, bloodied, broken, with bullet or other wounds, cut open, dismembered, or decapitated. As such, photographs or video or audio recordings of an autopsy are highly sensitive depictions or descriptions of the deceased which, if heard, viewed, copied or publicized, could result in trauma, sorrow, humiliation, or emotional injury to the immediate family of the deceased, as well as injury to the memory of the deceased. The Legislature notes that the existence of the World Wide Web and the proliferation of personal computers throughout the world encourages and promotes the wide dissemination of photographs and video and audio recordings 24 hours a day and that widespread unauthorized dissemination of autopsy photographs and video and audio recordings would subject the immediate family of the deceased to continuous injury. The Legislature further notes that there continue to be other types of available information, such as the autopsy report, which are less intrusive and injurious to the immediate family members of the deceased and which continue to provide for public oversight. The Legislature further finds that the exemption provided in this act should be given retroactive application because it is remedial in nature.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law, and shall apply to all photographs or video or audio recordings of an autopsy, regardless of whether the autopsy was performed before or after the effective date of the act.

And the title is amended as follows: On page 1, lines 2 through 10, remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: A bill to be entitled An act relating to public records; providing an exemption from the public records law for photographs and video and audio recordings of an autopsy; providing an exemption for certain members of the immediate family, or a representative thereof, or a state or federal agency; prohibiting the custodian of a photograph or video or audio recording of an autopsy from permitting any person to view or duplicate a photograph or video or audio, except pursuant to court order and under the direct supervision of the custodian or his or her designee; exempting criminal and administrative proceedings from the act; requiring certain persons to be parties in a request for access to a photograph or video or audio recording of an autopsy; providing penalties; providing for future legislative review and repeal; providing a finding of public necessity; providing a retroactive effective date.

Reconsideration

On motion by Rep. Goodlette, the House reconsidered the vote by which a late-filed amendment to Substitute Amendment 1 was not allowed for consideration.

The question recurred on the motion by Rep. Gelber to allow a late-filed amendment to Substitute Amendment 1, which was agreed to.

On motion by Rep. Gelber, under Rule 12.2(c), the following late-filed amendment to the substitute amendment was considered.

Representative(s) Gelber and McGriff offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 425227)

Amendment 1 to Substitute Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 1, line 18 through page 4, line 31, remove from the substitute amendment: all of said lines

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. (1) All photographs, audio recordings, or video recordings of an autopsy in the possession of a district medical examiner pursuant to chapter 406 are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution, except as otherwise provided herein. Photographs, audio recordings, and video recordings of an autopsy made confidential and exempt by this section shall be disclosed for viewing or listening in all cases, but may only be copied:

(a) Pursuant to a written waiver by the surviving spouse. If there is no surviving spouse, then pursuant to a written waiver by a surviving parent; and, if there is no surviving spouse or parent, then pursuant to written waiver by an adult child of the deceased; or

(b) Pursuant to a written request by a local government, state agency, or federal agency, in the furtherance of its official duties; and, unless otherwise required in the performance of their duties, the identity of the deceased shall remain confidential and exempt.

(2) Any person may petition the court for an order to make the photographs, audio recordings, and video recordings available for copying. Pursuant to such a public records petition, and the petitioner's showing of good cause, the court may authorize copying pursuant to the terms and conditions which it deems appropriate; provided that the surviving spouse is given reasonable notice of the petition, and a copy of the petition, and reasonable notice of the opportunity to be present and heard at any hearing on the matter. If there is no surviving spouse, then such notice must be given to the deceased's parents, and if the deceased has no living parents, then to the adult children of the deceased.

In determining good cause the court shall consider:

- a) The necessity of the copying in determining governmental accountability;
- b) The ramifications of the copying with respect to the family's right to privacy; and
- c) The availability of similar information in other forms.

(3) The viewing or copying of an autopsy photograph, audio recording, or video recording pursuant to this section shall be under the direct supervision of the custodian of the record or his or her designee.

(4) The district medical examiner or associate medical examiner, in his or her official capacity, may use the photographs or video recordings for the purposes of seeking another expert medical opinion, for providing professional training, for case-related medical or scientific research purposes, or for other purposes solely related to the accomplishment of the district or associate medical examiner's duties and responsibilities. However, the identity of the deceased shall remain confidential and exempt, unless a waiver has been obtained as provided for in subsection (1)(a).

(5) Any person who willfully or knowingly violates this section commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in ss. 775.082, 775.083, or 775.084.

(6) This exemption shall be given retroactive application. This section is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act of 1995 in accordance with s. 119.15, and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2006, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that copies of photographs, audio recordings, or video recordings of an autopsy be made confidential and exempt. Photographs, audio recordings, or video recordings of an autopsy are highly sensitive, graphic depictions of the deceased, which, if copied, or publicized, could result in trauma, sorrow, humiliation, or emotional injury to the immediate family of the deceased, and is an invasion of that family's privacy, as well as injurious to the memories of the deceased. Furthermore, the Legislature finds that the existence of the World Wide Web and the proliferation of personal computers throughout the world encourages and promotes the worldwide dissemination of photographs and video recordings 24 hours a day, and that widespread dissemination of autopsy photographs and video recordings would subject the immediate family of the deceased to continuous injury. The Legislature further finds that there are other types of available information, such as the autopsy report, which is less intrusive and injurious to the immediate family member of the deceased but which continues to provide for public oversight. Furthermore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the exemption provided in this act be given retroactive application because it is remedial in nature.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 5, lines 13 through 31, of the amendment remove from the title of the amendment: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: An act relating to public records; providing an exemption from the public records law for copying photographs and video and audio recordings of an autopsy; providing an exemption for certain members of the immediate family, or a representative thereof, or a state or federal agency; providing for further exceptions to the exemption; providing a penalty; providing for future legislative

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 8

Friday, March 30, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 10:00 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend A. Randolph Jerald, Sr. of Mount Zion AME Church of Havana, upon invitation of Rep. Richardson:

Almighty and eternal God, we humbly thank You now for the opportunity, O God, to see a new day and a new session. Lord God, we recognize You as being the creator of all things. We recognize You, O God, as being the regulator of all things. We ask now, O God a special blessing from You, God, that You would send Your Divine Holy Spirit to come and lead and guide us as we be about Your business.

For God, You said in Your word that we are to be good stewards in charge of those things that You've left down here on earth. God, as the Psalm is said, come in and order our steps that as we walk and as we talk and as we conduct to the affairs of this state, O God, that You would guide us in everything that we do. We know, O God, that You are an enabling God and You have the ability to unify in the midst of anything.

Make us one people, one thought, God, with You as our leader. We ask now, O God, and pray a special blessing upon this Legislature, O God, that You will continue to help them to grow in wisdom and in grace, that they will forever take care of those affairs that You've put before them. We ask all these blessings in Your darling son, Jesus's name, Amen.

a) One half of the funds in Specific Appropriation 4A shall be allocated by prorating the amount of the appropriation on each district's K-12 base funding entitlement. Prior to the expenditure of these funds, each district shall establish policies and procedures that define enhancement and the types of expenditures that will be consistent with that definition. From the portion of funds allocated pursuant to this paragraph, school boards must allocate, not later than October 1, 2001, at least $10 per unweighted FTE student to be used at the discretion of the school advisory council or, in the absence of such, at the discretion of the staff and parents of the school. A portion of these funds shall be used for implementing the school improvement plan.

The improvement plan shall include performance indicators which are measurable. Funding for use by the school advisory councils shall be allocated directly to the school advisory councils and shall be earmarked for the councils' use. Council funds are not subject to override by the principal or interim approvals by school district staff. Council funds must be accounted for and are subject to being audited on a yearly basis.

b) The remaining one half of the funds provided in Specific Appropriation 4A shall be used to fund financial awards pursuant to provisions of s. 231.2905, F.S., relating to the Florida School Recognition Program, and to fund the provisions of s. 236.08106, F.S. relating to the Excellent Teaching Program. c) Any funds remaining after the obligations in paragraph (b) have been fully met shall be allocated to all school districts as provided in paragraph (a), and shall be subject to the expenditure requirements of that paragraph.

The Commissioner of Education shall develop a process such that estimated payments for the School Recognition program and Excellent Teaching program shall be determined by December 31, 2001, so that the balance of funds shall be allocated for the District Lottery program.

Rep. Wiles moved the adoption of the amendment.

Point of Order

Rep. Lacasa raised a point of order, under Rule 12.5(a) that the amendment failed to reduce a corresponding line item in the budget in order to accommodate the expenditure.

Rep. Goodlette, Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections, in speaking to the point, stated that Profile Amendment 78 by Rep. Wiles and others appeared to increase the budget by 300 million dollars from the Working Capital Fund and provide funding to three program areas. The amendment did not provide funding through a corresponding decrease in other line items and attempted to take funding from the Working Capital Fund that is not included in the General Appropriations Act. Rep. Goodlette recommended that the amendment be ruled out of order pursuant to House Rule 12.5(a).

The Chair [Rep. Ball] ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order.

Rep. Wiles moved to waive the rules to admit Profile Amendment 78, the Chair's ruling notwithstanding, which was not agreed to by the required two-thirds vote. The vote was:

The Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPPAGA), in consultation with the Department of Education, shall conduct a national search and request for proposals to identify suitable independent, research organization, or organizations, to conduct the review. The office shall provide the Florida House of Representatives and the Florida Senate with quarterly updates of their progress.

(Amendment Bar Code: 552493)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 9, between lines 26 and 27 of the bill

insert:

Section 7. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 118 of of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, subsection (8) of section 229.57, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

229.57 Student assessment program.—

(8) DESIGNATION OF SCHOOL PERFORMANCE GRADE CATEGORIES.—For purposes of determining school performance, student performance should be based on a student's annual learning gains when the gain can be measured with an accurate and consistent assessment system. Currently, the statewide assessment system cannot measure a year's worth of knowledge because not all grades are tested and there is not sufficient data to create a baseline to measure improvement. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature that an alternative system should be created until 2 years of assessment data are available to start measuring actual student learning gains. School performance grade category designations itemized in subsection (7) shall be based on the following:

(a) Timeframes.—

1. School performance grade category designations shall be based on one school year of performance.

2. In school years 1998-1999 and 1999-2000, a school's performance grade category designation shall be determined by the student achievement levels on the FCAT, and on other appropriate performance data, including, but not limited to, attendance, dropout rate, school discipline data, and student readiness for college, in accordance with state board rule.

3. In the 2000-2001 school year, a school's performance grade category designation shall be determined as follows: based on a combination of student achievement scores as measured by the FCAT, on the degree of measured learning gains of the students, and on other appropriate performance data, including, but not limited to, dropout rate and student readiness for college.

a. Elementary schools.—

(I) Sixty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from a composite of the FCAT scores for grades 4 and 5, and the percentage of kindergarten through grade 2 classes for which there is a ratio of one teacher to twenty students.

(II) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment by the school advisory committee of the progress toward the goals of the school improvement plan.

(III) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment of parental involvement and school safety programs and initiatives, to be weighted at ten percent each.

b. Middle schools.—

(I) Sixty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from the grade 8 FCAT scores.

(II) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment by the school advisory committee of the progress toward the goals of the school improvement plan.

(III) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment of parental involvement and school safety programs and initiatives, to be weighted at ten percent each.

c. High schools.—

(I) Sixty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from a composite of the grade 10 FCAT scores, and the school's overall dropout and graduation rate, which shall be weighted at thirty percent each.

(II) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment by the school advisory committee of the progress toward the goals of the school improvement plan.

(III) Twenty percent of the performance grade shall be derived from an assessment of parental involvement and school safety programs and initiatives, to be weighted at ten percent each.

In order to implement subparagraph 3., the Department of Education shall determine and disseminate the standardized method by which school advisory committees shall make their assessments pursuant to this subparagraph and the department shall determine a process for submission of documentation and standards for assessment of parental involvement, school safety, and bonus point factors.

4. Beginning with the 2001-2002 school year and thereafter, a school's performance grade category designation shall be based on student learning gains as measured by annual FCAT assessments in grades 3 through 10, and on other appropriate performance data, including, but not limited to, dropout rate, cohort graduation rate, and student readiness for college.

(b) Student assessment data.—Student assessment data used in determining school performance grade categories shall include:

1. The median scores of all eligible students enrolled in the school who have been assessed on the FCAT.

2. The median scores of all eligible students enrolled in the school who have been assessed on the FCAT and who have scored at or in the lowest 25th percentile of the state in the previous school year.

The Department of Education shall study the effects of mobility on the performance of highly mobile students and recommend programs to improve the performance of such students. The state board shall adopt appropriate criteria for each school performance grade category. The criteria must also give added weight to student achievement in reading.

Schools designated as performance grade category "C," making satisfactory progress, shall be required to demonstrate that adequate progress has been made by students who have scored among the lowest 25 percent of students in the state as well as by the overall population of students in the school.

Section 8. The amendment of subsection (8) of section 229.57, Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire on July 1, 2002, and the text of said subsection shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text enacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of said text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, line 20, after the semicolon, insert: modifying the method of determining school performance grade category designations in the 2000-2001 school year; providing for future reversion to current text;

Rep. Wiles moved the adoption of the amendment.

Point of Order

Rep. Lynn raised a point of order, under Rule 12.9, that the amendment was not germane.

Further consideration of the amendment, with pending point of order, was temporarily postponed.

Amendment 2 was withdrawn.

Representative(s) Gottlieb and Bucher offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 262081)

Amendment 3—On page 29, line 1 through page 30, line 26 remove from the bill: all of said lines

insert:

(3) Any agency or political subdivision of this state continues to have the authority to contract with faith-based organizations or to allow faith-based organizations to accept certificates, warrants, or other forms of disbursement under any program, on the same basis as any other nongovernmental provider, without impairing the religious character of such organizations. Any faith-based organization may act as a subcontractor in the delivery of services under any program, on the same basis as any other nongovernmental provider, without impairing the religious character of such organization.

(4) Each program to which this act is applicable shall be operated in compliance with federal requirements applicable to the particular program, and consistent with the Establishment and Free Exercise Clauses of the United States Constitution and s. 3, Art. I of the State Constitution.

(5) As a requirement for eligibility as a contractor, subcontractor or provider, any faith-based organization shall provide services through a non-profit corporate which is "not pervasively sectarian."

(6) Any faith-based organization continues to be eligible as a contractor or subcontractor, on the same basis as any other nongovernmental organization, to provide assistance or to accept certificates, warrants, or other forms of disbursement under any program. Any agency of this state or any political subdivision of this state receiving funds under any program shall not discriminate against any organization which is or applies to be a contractor to provide assistance, or which accepts certificates, warrants, or other forms of disbursement, on the basis that the organization has a religious character.

(7)(a) A faith-based organization which has entered into a contract with an agency or political subdivision of this state, or which accepts certificates, warrants, or other forms of disbursement described in subsection (1), shall retain its independence from state and local governments, in regard to the organization's control over the definition, development, practice, and expression of its religious beliefs. However, nothing in this act shall be construed to create an exemption from the provisions of s.24, Article I of the State Constitution with respect to any faith-based organization that contracts with the state to provide services or that accepts certificates, warrants or other forms of disbursement under any program, and the provisions of chapter 119 and chapter 286 shall apply as appropriate.

(b) An agency or any political subdivision of this state shall not require a faith-based organization to alter its form of internal governance or remove religious art, icons, scripture, or other symbols in order to be eligible to contract to provide assistance, or to accept certificates, warrants, or other forms of disbursement, funded under a program.

(8) Each agency which administers any program described in this section shall prepare a plan to implement this section and, no later than September 1, 2001, shall submit a copy of the plan to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(9) Any contractor or provider that has received a contract to provide services under any program may continue to employ faith-based organizations as subcontractors on the same basis as any other nongovernmental provider.

(10) Any agency that contracts with a faith-based or community organization shall establish and include in the contract, performance standards and other accountability measures for all services delivered as part of the program. The performance standards shall be established on the same basis as those required of any other contractor, subcontractor, provider, or the state. If the agency determines that it is reasonable, the standards shall include, but are not limited to, standards regarding service quality, client satisfaction, cost efficiency, and fiscal accountability. Faith-based and community organizations must be given the same reasonable opportunity to achieve the established standards as any other contractor, subcontractor, provider, or the state. If a faith-based or community organization fails to meet the appropriate performance standards, the agency awarding the contract shall take any appropriate action necessary to protect the interests of the state on the same basis as it would for any other contractor, subcontractor, provider, or the state. Such actions may include, but are not limited to, imposition of a requirement for corrective action, imposition of financial sanctions, notifications sent to the board of directors or other governing body, or termination of the contract. Except when an agency determines it is not reasonable, any agency that administers any program described in this section shall include in any client services contract a requirement that contractors or providers prepare plans describing their implementation of this section. Such plan shall include a disclosure of the administrative costs associated with the program or service to be provided. A failure to deliver such plans, if required, may be considered by the agency as a material breach of the contract that may result in cancellation of the contract.

(11) Any contractor or provider receiving state funds shall have established a separate 501(c)(3) organization for the purposes of receiving such funds and for administration, record keeping, accounting and other necessary functions relating to the usage of such funds.

(12) This section is repealed on July 1, 2002.

(c) ~~The agency for Health Care Administration shall adjust a hospital's current inpatient per diem rate to reflect the cost of serving the Medicaid population at that institution if:~~

2. The hospital's Medicaid per diem rate is at least 25 percent below the Medicaid per patient cost for that year.

~~No later than November 1, 2000, the agency must provide estimated costs for any adjustment in a hospital inpatient per diem pursuant to this paragraph to the Executive Office of the Governor, the House of Representatives General Appropriations Committee, and the Senate Budget Committee. # The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 9

Monday, April 2, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 11:00 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Phil F. Edwards of First Assembly of God of Panama City, upon invitation of Rep. Bense:

Heavenly Father, it is with sincere gratitude that we call on Your Holy Name this beautiful spring morning, thanking You for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness which You have so abundantly granted us in our country through the wisdom You gave our forefathers in establishing such a form of government as we now enjoy.

Thank You, Father, also, for these very special people, our state legislators who are, by Your design, powerful instruments of peace, prosperity, and protection to the people who elected them to such an honorable station.

Lord, we join millions who love our beloved state and nation, and we boldly ask in concert for humility, wisdom, and righteous courage to these, our leaders, to always find and do what is right in Your sight first, before they consider what is expedient or benefiting to us, the people. Please make them strong and help them greatly to be people of principle in a time and culture where everyone does what seems right in their own eyes.

Let them each one know that they can stand tall above the fray and think with a clear mind and clean conscience. Let them know that it's not only possible to do this, but that You will do this and help everyone who sincerely asks for that very special leadership grace.

Please help them, Lord, please, with their physical and medical needs, in their financial dealings, in their personal lives, in their homes, and in their marriages. Please, Father, at this very moment, communicate to each of them how very much You love them and want them to know You more personally than they have ever known You before, through faith in Your Son, Jesus Christ.

All this we ask believing, believing that You hear us and will answer, for such a time as this.

In the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, Amen.

WHEREAS, the five weeks of the Leadership NOW program were produced using little public money and, as a result, the cost to taxpayers was less than the amount spent in Florida in previous years for shorter programs with less content, NOW, THEREFORE,

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by David M. Fuller, State Command Chaplain of the Florida National Guard, upon invitation of Reps. Baker and Wiles:

O Lord of light and love, we thank You for the fresh day that lies before us. And we thank You for the opportunity of living in a land where the principles of liberty, justice, dignity, and responsibility guide our personal and corporate lives.

We recognize, O Lord, that the principles that guide our life as a nation must be guarded with care and diligence. And we thank You for the men and women of the armed forces who stand as sturdy sentinels on the frontier of freedom. And we ask You to bless them and to bless their families for the sacrifices they make to ensure that freedom and justice will remain bold beacons of hope in the 21st century.

And Lord, we thank You for the role that each of us can play as dedicated citizens in a good and gracious land. Give us insight and wisdom as we seek to serve the needs of our fellow citizens. Give us courage and faith to undertake even the most difficult issues with compassion and understanding. And unite us as a people ready to share the bounty of our blessings and the opportunity that freedom brings.

O Lord, we ask Your blessing upon those who have been elected and appointed to serve over us. We pray that You will guide, guard, and direct the President of the United States, the Governor of Florida, and the Florida House of Representatives, and the citizen soldiers who are poised and ready to bring safety and comfort to those in need.

And Father, we ask Your special blessing and healing touch upon Representative Harrell's husband, James. Be there, comfort. Be there, a presence in his life.

O Lord, we are a grateful people. Bless us with Your presence now. In Your name we pray. Amen.

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 11

Wednesday, April 4, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 1:00 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Ralph Wrightstone of Carrabelle United Methodist Church of Carrabelle, upon invitation of Rep. Kendrick:

Almighty God, we come to You this day seeking Your wisdom and Your grace for our brothers and sisters who have gathered today in this House of the Florida State Representatives. These are Your people who are Your servants and are called representing the people of Florida, who elected them for the work of government in this great state of Florida.

And Father, we also gather from all faith backgrounds, both men and women from different cultures, but with commonality, seeking wisdom and grace as we seek to work together for the good of the people that they represent for the purpose of making laws, budgets, and other administrative duties that they have been elected and given authority to do for the good of the people.

O God, we pray for harmony in all debates and discussions. Even when we disagree on issues, Father, we pray for an attitude of knowing that all things do work together for good for those who trust You. And Lord, let us reflect on the statement that our forefathers put on the state seal of this great state, "In God We Trust."

O God, grant us the courage to put our trust into You today. And we pray for wisdom and discernment for the people who have gathered here today that even when they disagree, they can do so with an attitude to agree to disagree while respecting each other's rights to have thoughts, ideas and opinions.

I pray in the spirit of the living God, a prayer of agreement with my brothers and sisters today that Your will be done in this session today and for the days to come. As it is proclaimed in Your word, then if My people who are called by My name will humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, I, the Lord, will hear from heaven and will listen to every prayer made in this place. For I, being God, have chosen this place and set it apart for the purpose it is being used for. My eyes and My heart will always be here.

Father, we thank You for hearing our prayer today and pray that You will open our ears that we may hear You today in this place as we proceed with the business of the people of Florida.

O Lord, hear our prayers. And I, as a Christian minister, lift this prayer up in the name of Jesus Christ, my Lord and Savior. Amen.

Motion

On motion by Rep. Paul, the rules were waived and the following colloquy made earlier today on the floor regarding the court injunction yesterday was ordered spread upon the Journal.

Rep. Goodlette: Members, if I could have your attention for just a few comments. Each of you received an e-mail this morning from Tom Tedcastle, our General Counsel, pertaining to an extremely important matter that I think all the Members should be aware of. I'd like for those of you who may not have read your e-mail, I'd just like to lift out from Mr. Tedcastle's memorandum a few pertinent remarks.

Mr. Tedcastle reported to us the following: As you may have heard, Judge Ralph Smith has issued a temporary restraining order to the Florida Legislature which asserts that the Legislature may not meet if the meeting will involve the consideration or resolution of collective bargaining disputes.

Of course, much of the legislation that is considered in the Legislature has an impact on such disputes. Nonetheless, in recognition of the constitutional obligation of the Legislature—that I would like to refer to a little bit more fully in a couple of moments—to meet and to represent the interests of the people without interference from either of the other two branches, Speaker Feeney will convene the Legislature in session today, as scheduled, and therefore as needed to consider legislation.

Members, I think that it's important for you to be aware, and I would like to simply refer to provisions of the Florida Constitution that I think are germane to this subject.

Article III of the Florida Constitution, as you are aware, pertains to the powers and duties and responsibilities, indeed, of the Florida Legislature. Section 4 discusses pertinent information pertaining to quorums and the procedures of the House. Section 4(a), in part reads that "Each house shall determine its rules of procedure." Section 4(e) of Article III goes on, in part, as follows: "The rules of procedure of each house shall provide that all legislative committee and subcommittee meetings of each house, and joint conference committee meetings, shall be open and noticed to the public." It goes on, "Each house shall be the sole judge for the interpretation, implementation, and enforcement of this section."

Members, I think that it's important for you—and I want to just extract from an order of the court that was issued yesterday a few relevant provisions. Because I think that we're all aware of how volatile some of these separation of powers issues have been, both in our special session and so far in this session. But, I think that it's important because I want to underscore what I believe to have been shown in the issuance of this order a particular insensitivity by this particular court for the separation of powers that we hold so vitally to be important in the State of Florida. This order was entered yesterday and the style of the case is the Florida Public Employees Council 79 AFSCME as the plaintiff, and it obviously refers to some of the activity that has taken place in this Chamber with respect to the Career Service last week and some activity that's ongoing in the Senate this week, Members.

The defendant in this lawsuit is you and me and each one of us because the defendant is the Florida Legislature. And the order that was entered here, Members, is an important order. It is an order granting a temporary restraining order. Ladies and gentlemen, and those of you, in particular, who are not lawyers and perhaps some of you who are trial lawyers, which I am not, will embellish this point, but in any instance in which a court is called upon to issue a restraining order the level of proof, if you will, is quite high. It's a very—it's seldom done and it's not done unless there's information contained in the motion to establish that restraining order and in any affidavits that have a bearing on that request to be verified and to be supportable before a restraining order is entered. In this case, we believe, and I believe that others may comment later, that the factual basis for the issuance of that order, simply, frankly, Members, did not exist. There was no mention in the affidavits or the motion that the Governor had rejected the Special Master's recommendations. There was no opportunity, Members, for the defendants in that litigation, the state Legislature, the Legislature of this state, to respond or to be heard with respect to the matter that was before the court. There is no precedent, Members, in law, for the temporary restraining order being directed to another branch of government, this Legislature. The temporary restraining order, Members, was going to be used, we believe, to prevent the Senate from further considering some of what we had taken up last week.

I won't go into any more detail on that, except that, I think, that in reading this order and in the issuance of this order there is an evident erosion of—and a lack of respect for—the co-equal branches of government as contemplated by our forefathers in the Declaration of Independence and in establishment of the Bill of Rights and our Constitution.

I think that it's important to refer to a couple of provisions in the Federalist Papers. We've talked a lot about this in the past, Members, but it's very germane in this instance as well. James Madison, in Federalist Paper No. 48, speaking about the importance of the separation of powers, indicates in part: "After discriminating, therefore, in theory, the several classes of power, as they may in their nature be legislative, executive, or judiciary, the next and most difficult task is to provide some practical security for each, against the invasion of the others." That's Federalist Paper 48. Madison goes on in Federalist Paper 50 to assert as follows: "...I confine myself to their aptitude for ENFORCING the Constitution, by keeping the several departments of power within their due bounds. ..."

I think, ladies and gentlemen and Members, that the issuance of this order shows such a disregard for those important principles of our forefathers that it bears mentioning today. And just, if I might, Mr. Speaker and Members, on a personal note, I am someone who has—although I am a board-certified real estate lawyer not a trial lawyer, I have served on the Board of Governors of the Florida Bar and I realize that, perhaps, I'm not held in the highest esteem by Representative Brummer and perhaps Representative Melvin for my service on the Board of Governors of the Florida Bar, but I'm proud of that nonetheless—and I've always maintained a fierce passion for the independence of the judiciary and for the separation of powers. But, ladies and gentlemen, I simply must suggest to you that the issuance of this order goes too far, and I think something needs to be said about it, and I think that as we move forward, my hope is that we will respect the separation of powers, notwithstanding what some may assert—perhaps some of our friends in the press and elsewhere—but I would suggest to you that this act should not be ignored. It's very important. The separation of powers is a principle component of the very institution of government as referred to by Madison, by Thomas Jefferson, by Hamilton, and others in the adoption of the Federalist Papers, etc.

We have talked a lot about these matters, Members, during the special session and I simply would suggest to you that we should take this very seriously and I think the Speaker will have more to say about that perhaps as our session today ensues. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I felt that it was important. [applause]

Speaker Feeney: Thank you, Representative Goodlette. Representative Frankel, we will take questions in a minute or two, but why don't you let me say a few words and then perhaps Representative Goodlette can attempt to defend us both.

Ladies and gentlemen, the court order potentially puts each and every one of you, it names every legislator, actually names all of our staffs, it names our legal consultants and others, and it attempts to prohibit us from undertaking certain duties that we consider to be our constitutional duties. So that it's important that you know as we convene here today at 1:00, and as we take certain votes the judiciary may consider some or all of you to be in defiance of the court order and may be subject to certain penalties. We don't think so because we do believe there is a separation of powers and thus we've told all of you that we are prepared to defend anybody who acts in accordance with the House Rules and procedures. I just, and the reason that I take the extraordinary step of saying a few words is that I've required each one of you to be here today. If you weren't here I would have the power, I doubt I would, but if you weren't here I would have the power to send the Sergeant out after you. So that you are put in a very difficult dilemma between doing your constitutional duty as a legislator and violating a court order, potentially. And I think that we had three Members last night that had to make that decision and I'm proud to say that they did their constitutional duty as they saw fit.

But when the first reports of the restraining order were provided to us and ultimately served on me, around 4:00 yesterday, and Chairman

Brummer, who is the Chairman of the Joint Select Committee affected, I had to answer to the press, you know, instantly on the subject of why it was we felt that we could not comply with the court order. The truth of the matter is, Representative Kyle, there is very little case law on this. American courts are not in the habit of trying to dissolve their legislatures or telling them they can't meet or telling them they can't say things or conduct business at a certain hour. Not a whole lot of case law on this Representative Goodlette would tell you. And so it was very difficult to explain exactly why it was that the Legislature could legislate notwithstanding the temporary restraining order. What I suggested to the press was that I thought it was a privilege that was at least 400 if not 500 years old of legislative governance, to act with immunity from court challenge of process during the regular course of business. Turns out that I didn't have all of the history of the common law at my disposal yesterday afternoon. Turns out we've done a little research. It was the year 1513, about 488 years ago, when the Strode's Case for the first time recognized the right of Parliament in Britain, formally the Commons, to conduct its business as part of the High Court of Parliament, and they were privileged against interference from other courts in the realm. Subsequently, for those of you that read a little bit of common law history, you will remember that James I in 1621 had a significant battle with an increasingly powerful Parliament. And in what was called the "Great Protestation" of the day, the Parliament asserted its right, essentially, to debate, any issue in Parliament at any time. And here's what Parliament issued as a proclamation: It was undoubtedly the "birthright of every Englishman" who is a member of Parliament to debate any subject without fear of arrest or punishment. And yet, that is precisely the fear that three Members of our House had to deal with, potentially, last night given the court order.

In 1642, Charles I had another significant battle with Parliament and these are precedents that are historic—and they are 400 and some years old—that have protected the rights of represented democracies in free countries to operate. They are important. John Pym, who was the ringleader of a group of issues that King Charles found very offensive. King Charles sent out his soldiers to arrest five Members of Parliament, including the ringleader, John Pym. They couldn't find the five members of the Parliament to arrest and punish. Who knows what the punishment may have been? But the King summoned the Speaker of the House, a fellow by the name of Lenthall, to go answer to the King as to why Parliament was behaving the way it was and to find out where these five members of Parliament were so they could be subject to arrest and punishment. And Lenthall in a very important pronouncement, Speaker of the Parliament at the time, said the following to the King of England: I have neither eyes to see, nor tongue to speak in this place, but as the House is the place to direct whose servant I am here and I humbly beg your Majesty's pardon that I cannot give any other answer than this to what your Majesty is pleased to demand of me. In other words, the Speaker of the House told the King that he didn't serve the King, he served the House of Representatives, and so, ladies and gentlemen, we are going to do the best we can with advice. We've got our lawyers now going back not just a hundred years for precedents but 500 years. We are going to do the best we can to operate the Legislature, notwithstanding submissions of the court from time to time. So with that, thank you, Representative Goodlette.

And Representative Frankel would like to weigh in on behalf of the legislative prerogatives, I'm sure. Representative Frankel, you are recognized.

Rep. Frankel: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all I'd like to say to Mr. Goodlette I know where you have been hanging out these last few weeks. Let me just say this, Mr. Speaker. Thank goodness for lawyers, I tell you what would we do? Listen, truthfully, I'm just a country lawyer from Brooklyn, OK? [laughter] And I don't know if I ever read the Federalist Papers but you can lend them to me sometime. But I tell you I looked at this order, really, I don't know, truthfully I think it's just a poorly worded order. And I think that if the lawyers go back to the court and ask for clarification, I really don't believe that this court was in any way trying to tell us not to come into session. And what I think would be helpful, Mr. Goodlette, if you'd yield to a question. If you could explain to the Members how this came about. There is a Joint Select Committee on Impasse Issues and if you could just explain to the Members what that is and why this lawsuit came about I think it would be clearer to all of us. Would that be alright, Mr. Speaker?

Speaker Feeney: Representative Goodlette could do that or perhaps Representative Cantens or Brummer, who are on the committee or Diaz-Balart. Representative Goodlette, what's your pleasure?

Rep. Goodlette: Mr. Speaker, perhaps it would be best to defer to the Chairman of the Joint Committee, Representative Brummer. If he would prefer to yield to me I will be happy to try to answer that but I would like to respect the Chairman's prerogative in that regard, Mr. Speaker.

Speaker Feeney: Fred Brummer, Esquire, to answer your question, Representative Frankel. [laughter]

Rep. Brummer: I would appreciate Representative Goodlette, if you would handle the question because I'm perhaps not in the best frame of mind to respond in a temperate manner.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Goodlette or Representative Diaz-Balart, Representative Goodlette what's your pleasure? Representative Cantens, why don't you—Representative Frankel said she wanted to know the posture we were in when the court issued its order yesterday with respect to the Committee. Representative Cantens.

Rep. Cantens: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Representative Frankel, the statutes provide for collective bargaining between the executive branch and this is what we are dealing with, the executive branch and the unions. They had declared an impasse at one point; they had appointed a Special Master. The Special Master had conducted hearings. The Special Master issued the Special Master's recommendation. The statute reads that if within 20 days no one has objected then that Special Master's recommendations become effective. If, however, someone files an objection or files their own recommendation, then it's deemed to have been rejected. That's where we were at yesterday. We were within the 20-day period. The executive branch filed their objection. It was submitted to the Legislature for the Legislature to take it up at the Select Committee. And we had to do so within—actually the language of the statute reads forthwith.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Frankel, for a question.

Rep. Frankel: Thank you. Representative Cantens, I don't know whether you would be the one to answer, whoever wants to answer it, whoever is in the right frame of mind can answer this. Don't you think it would be reasonable to believe that the court order was probably just aimed specifically at this Joint Select Committee and that what the judge was trying to do was to stop that particular meeting and not the meeting of the legislative body?

Speaker Feeney: Representative Goodlette, I think you touched on that in your address, but you can elaborate.

Rep. Goodlette: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And I welcome the opportunity, Mr. Speaker, to elaborate on that because I don't know who may have prepared this order, Representative Frankel, but the judge signed the order. And that's what's important. It's an order of the court and this is a very far-reaching order. It orders, Representative Frankel, that the defendants, that's us, ladies and gentlemen, their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and other persons in active concert or participation with them, are directed to cancel any meeting, hearing, or conference now scheduled for April 3, 2001, or to be scheduled later on any matter implicated in a bargaining dispute or bargaining impasse between the Governor of the State of Florida and the plaintiff, until the parties invoke the jurisdiction of the defendants in the manner subscribed by Section 447.403. That is a very broad order, Representative Frankel. As a lawyer, you recognize that. I think a lot of the non-lawyers who are Members here recognize that.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Frankel, could I just maybe ask a follow-up question to yours, with your permission?

Representative Goodlette, conceivably the matters under discussion would include things like the budget and salaries, and civil service reform, and retirement issues, at least conceivably.

Rep. Goodlette: Certainly, Mr. Speaker, that's the inference from the order itself. In reading the order, it's clear to me that anything that would have any budgetary impact would be something that would have been contemplated by the person who drafted the order on the first hand and presumably by the judge in conjunction with his execution of the order.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Frankel, and to elaborate from the Chair, at least with respect with having not appointed the budget conference committee yet, I'm in compliance with at least that small part of the order. You are recognized for another question.

Rep. Frankel: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know I feel like I'm being double-teamed back here. Alright, now [applause] alright, now, let me just say this, I want to say two things, OK? I can't possibly be as erudite as you but I want to say two things. One is that I know that many times courts issue injunctions over different governmental bodies and it's part of the common—really, it is part of a jurisprudence system. But I do want to say this for the record, and I want to say this because I was aware of your memorandum. I want to say this because I personally, in this instance, I would not favor civil disobedience. I believe that my protesting days are over, other than on the floor of the House. It is my interpretation of this order that it is not aimed at us here. It may be your interpretation because I will tell you this, that if I personally believed that I was violating this order I would not be here today because I would not want to be held in contempt of court. And I would use the judicial process to remedy that and I think I speak on behalf of my caucus back here, that with all due respect, we are not interpreting this order in a way that we would be held in contempt. So if anyone ever wants to question me at a later date, I think I've stated publicly that I believe that this order was aimed only at that specific committee, that joint committee. And with that I want to thank you for your courtesy, Mr. Speaker. [applause]

Speaker Feeney: Thank you, Representative Frankel. Representative Frankel, so that we understand, are you going to indemnify your members or do you want the House to, just in case?

Representative Smith, you are recognized.

Rep. Smith: Mr. Speaker, thank you, for a question and a slight comment.

I am a little concerned, more than just being a Member, meeting here, because as Members we are all under your interpretation of a violation of a court order. But there are about 30-something of us here who are officers of the court, so we have to answer not only to the court system but to the Florida Bar. And I wanted to make sure that your agreement to indemnify us in court as Members also extends to indemnifying us in front of the Florida Bar as we have disciplinary procedures. And I am very serious about that, Mr. Speaker. Dealing with the Florida Bar, you know, it can be a contentious situation for an officer of the court to violate a court order. In that vein, Mr. Speaker, could you have someone comment on where we are on the appellate process? And if possible if you could, I don't know, under the rules, if you could appoint a small committee to keep us constantly informed so that we can constantly make informed decisions of whether as officers of the court we violate court orders?

Speaker Feeney: Representative Goodlette, do you want to take a stab at answering Representative Smith's question? His question is with respect to whether or not the House—and you know from my perspective we'll take a look at any obligations that all of us who are members of the court may have as officers of the court. My intention would be that Members doing their constitutional duty would be completely protected by the actions of the House Counsel and that you could count on us to do our best.

Representative Goodlette, with respect to the rest of the question, go ahead.

Representative Goodlette: Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that to the extent that the appropriate answer to that question may be offered by our General Counsel, that Tom Tedcastle be called upon to answer some of the specifics of that if he is in the Chamber or otherwise available.

Speaker Feeney: Well I don't think it's appropriate to have our staff, even our General Counsel, answer that question here. But Representative Smith, I think it would be appropriate that we ask our General Counsel to respond to your question. We will put a copy on every Member's desk or in their office, if we can. Thank you for the question.

Is there any other—we have made a little light, but this is a serious issue, ladies and gentlemen, and it affects our ability to conduct our business.

Representative Goodlette, what is your pleasure about the Order of Business? Are you ready to get to work?

Rep. Goodlette: Indeed we are, Mr. Speaker.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Baxley, for what purpose?

Rep. Baxley: For a comment, Mr. Speaker.

Speaker Feeney: Representative Baxley, why don't you make a short comment if you feel compelled; but what we would like to do probably is get into business.

Rep. Baxley: My short comment that is on the behalf of my colleagues to you. I would like to thank you for standing up for our legislative authority. And we need to thank our Speaker. [applause]

Adjourned

Pursuant to the motion previously agreed to, the House adjourned at 4:18 p.m., to reconvene at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 10.

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 12

Tuesday, April 10, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 1:30 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by Rabbi Norman Lipson of Temple Dor Dorim of Weston, upon invitation of Rep. Rich:

Master of the Universe, Malka D'almah:

May these children of Adam and Eve, of all colors, faiths, and cultures, the chosen Representatives of the citizens of Florida, Your children, Christian and Jew, atheist and agnostic, man and woman, stand before You this day ready to work together to bring the blessings of hope, peace, and equity to their fellow citizens of this great state.

May the deliberations held within these walls always be on the highest level of discourse. May the words spoken by them, in fervor and passion, be free from rancor and discord. And may the compromises which will come from their sitting and reasoning together be for the betterment of their fellow citizens as a whole and not for the privileged few, at the expense of the many.

At this springtime season of Passover and Easter, of dreams of freedom from slavery and rebirth to a new world, may the words they utter match their deeds. And may their deeds reach to Your throne, O Ruler of all.

Bless these Representatives with wisdom and courage as they labor together: wisdom to see beyond the petty to the great, and courage to stand firmly for justice in the face of derision and scorn. Be with them always so that, together, they may one day, by their works here, help usher in the great promise of this land: true freedom and liberty for all.

Baruch Ata Adonay, Eloheinu Melech haolam, shehecheyanu, v'kiy'manu, v'higiyanu lazman hazeh.

Praised are You, Adonay our God, Ruler of the universe, who has kept us alive, sustained us, and enabled us to reach this moment in time. Amen.
