So the bill passed and was certified to the Senate.

HJR 951—A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution relating to excessive punishment.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution is agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized for that purpose.

SECTION 17. Excessive punishments.—Excessive fines, cruel and ~~or~~ unusual punishment, attainder, forfeiture of estate, indefinite imprisonment, and unreasonable detention of witnesses are forbidden. The death penalty is an authorized punishment for capital crimes designated by the legislature. The prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment, and the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment, shall be construed in conformity with decisions of the United States Supreme Court which interpret the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment provided in the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Any method of execution shall be allowed, unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. Methods of execution may be designated by the legislature, and a change in any method of execution may be applied retroactively. A sentence of death shall not be reduced on the basis that a method of execution is invalid. In any case in which an execution method is declared invalid, the death sentence shall remain in force until the sentence can be lawfully executed by any valid method. This section shall apply retroactively.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the following statement be placed on the ballot:

AMENDING ARTICLE I, SECTION 17 OF THE STATE CONSTITUTION

Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution identical to a proposed amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution which was approved by a statewide vote in 1998. The Supreme Court of Florida struck the 1998 amendment in a ruling in which four of the seven justices found that the ballot summary was inaccurate. The proposed amendment expressly authorizes the death penalty for capital crimes and expressly authorizes retroactive changes in the method of execution. The amendment changes the prohibition against “cruel or unusual punishment,” currently provided in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to a prohibition against “cruel and unusual punishment” to conform with the wording of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment prohibits reduction of a death sentence based on invalidity of an execution method and provides for continued force of the sentence. The amendment permits any execution method unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. The amendment requires construction of the prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment and the proposed prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment to conform to United States Supreme Court interpretation of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment would prevent state courts, including the Florida Supreme Court, from treating the state constitutional prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment as being more expansive than the federal constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment or United States Supreme Court interpretations thereof. The amendment effectively nullifies rights currently allowed under the state prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment which may afford greater protections for those subject to punishment for crimes than will be provided by the amendment. Under the amendment, the protections afforded those subject to punishment for crimes under the “cruel or unusual punishment” clause, as that clause currently appears in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, will be the same as the minimum protections provided under the “cruel and unusual” punishments clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment provides for retroactive applicability.

Specifically, the proposal amends Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to read as set forth below. The word ~~stricken~~ is a deletion; words underlined are additions:

SECTION 17. Excessive punishments.—Excessive fines, cruel and ~~or~~ unusual punishment, attainder, forfeiture of estate, indefinite imprisonment, and unreasonable detention of witnesses are forbidden. The death penalty is an authorized punishment for capital crimes designated by the legislature. The prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment, and the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment, shall be construed in conformity with decisions of the United States Supreme Court which interpret the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment provided in the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Any method of execution shall be allowed, unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. Methods of execution may be designated by the legislature, and a change in any method of execution may be applied retroactively. A sentence of death shall not be reduced on the basis that a method of execution is invalid. In any case in which an execution method is declared invalid, the death sentence shall remain in force until the sentence can be lawfully executed by any valid method. This section shall apply retroactively.

(a) Provide a perpetual source of enhanced funding for state children’s health programs, child welfare programs, children’s community-based health and human services initiatives, elder programs, and biomedical research activities related to tobacco use.

(b) Use tobacco settlement moneys as the source of enhanced funding to ensure the financial security of vital health and human services programs for children and elders.

(c) Ensure that enhancement revenues will be available to help finance these important programs and initiatives.

(d) Provide funds to help support public-health and biomedical research for the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of diseases related to tobacco use by creating an annual and perpetual source of funding for biomedical research in the state in order to expand the foundation of biomedical knowledge relating to the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of diseases related to tobacco use, including cancer, cardiovascular disease, stroke, and pulmonary disease; improve the quality of the state’s academic health centers by bringing the advances of biomedical research into the training of physicians and other health care providers; and increase the state’s per capita funding for biomedical research by undertaking new initiatives in biomedical research which will attract additional funding from outside the state while also stimulating economic activity in the state in areas related to biomedical research, such as the research and production of pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, and medical devices.

(e) Encourage the development of community-based solutions to strengthen and improve the quality of life of Florida’s most vulnerable citizens, its children and elders.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Board” means the State Board of Administration established by s. 16, Art. IX of the State Constitution of 1885 and incorporated into s. 9(c), Art. XII of the State Constitution of 1968.

(b) “Endowment” means the Lawton Chiles Endowment Fund.

(c) “Earnings” means all income generated by investments and the net change in the market value of assets.

(d) “State agency” or “state agencies” means the Department of Health, the Department of Children and Family Services, the Department of Elderly Affairs, or the Agency for Health Care Administration, or any combination thereof, as the context indicates.

(3) LAWTON CHILES ENDOWMENT FUND; CREATION; PRINCIPAL.—

(a) There is created the Lawton Chiles Endowment Fund, to be administered by the State Board of Administration. The endowment shall serve as a clearing trust fund, not subject to termination under s. 19(f), Art. III of the State Constitution. The endowment fund shall be exempt from the service charges imposed by s. 215.20.

(b) The endowment shall receive moneys from the sale of the state’s right, title, and interest in and to the tobacco settlement agreement as defined in s. 215.56005, including the right to receive payments under such agreement, and from accounts transferred from the Department of Banking and Finance Tobacco Settlement Clearing Trust Fund established under s. 17.41. Amounts to be transferred from the Department of Banking and Finance Tobacco Settlement Clearing Trust Fund to the endowment shall be in the following amounts for the following fiscal years:

1. For fiscal year 1999-2000, $1.1 billion;
2. For fiscal year 2000-2001, $200 million;
3. For fiscal year 2001-2002, $200 million; and
4. For fiscal year 2002-2003, $200 million.

(c) Amounts to be transferred under subparagraphs (b)2., 3., and 4. may be reduced by the amount the endowment receives in that fiscal year from the sale of the state's right, title, and interest in and to the tobacco settlement agreement.

(d) Beginning in fiscal year 2001-2002, $150 million of the existing principal in the endowment shall be reserved and accounted for within the endowment to be used solely for the funding for biomedical research activities as provided in s. 215.5602. The remaining principal shall be used solely as the source of funding for health and human services programs for children and elders as provided in subsection (5). The separate account for biomedical research shall be dissolved and the entire principal in the endowment shall be used exclusively for health and human services programs when cures have been found for tobacco-related cancer, heart, and lung disease.

(4) ADMINISTRATION.—

(a) The board may invest and reinvest funds of the endowment in accordance with s. 215.47 and consistent with an investment plan developed by the executive director and approved by the board.

(b) The endowment shall be managed as an annuity. The investment objective shall be long-term preservation of the real value of the principal and a specified regular annual cash outflow for appropriation, as nonrecurring revenue. From the annual cash outflow, a pro rata share shall be used solely for biomedical research activities as provided in paragraph (3)(d), until such time as cures are found for tobacco-related cancer and heart and lung disease. Five percent of the annual cash outflow dedicated to the biomedical research portion of the endowment shall be reinvested and applied to that portion of the endowment's principal, with the remainder to be spent on biomedical research activities consistent with this section. The schedule of annual cash outflow shall be included within the investment plan adopted under paragraph (a).

(c) In accordance with s. 215.44, the board shall include separate sections on the financial status of the endowment in its annual investment report to the Legislature.

(d) Accountability for funds from the endowment which have been appropriated to a state agency and distributed by the board shall reside with the state agency. The board is not responsible for the proper expenditure of or accountability concerning funds from the endowment after distribution to a state agency.

(e) Costs and fees of the board for investment services shall be deducted from the earnings accruing to the endowment. Fees for investment services shall be no greater than fees charged to the Florida Retirement System.

(5) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS; USES.—

(a) Funds from the endowment which are available for legislative appropriation shall be transferred by the board to the Department of Banking and Finance Tobacco Settlement Clearing Trust Fund, created in s. 17.41, and disbursed in accordance with the legislative appropriation.

1. Appropriations by the Legislature to the Department of Health from endowment earnings from the principal set aside for biomedical research shall be from a category called Florida Biomedical Research Program and shall be deposited into the Biomedical Research Trust Fund in the Department of Health established in s. 20.435.

2. Appropriations by the Legislature to the Department of Children and Family Services, the Department of Health, or the Department of Elderly Affairs for health and human services programs shall be from a category called the Lawton Chiles Endowment Fund Programs and shall be deposited into each department's respective Tobacco Settlement Trust Fund as appropriated.

(b) In order to ensure that the expenditure of funds earned from the Lawton Chiles Endowment Fund will be used for the purposes intended by the Legislature, the Legislature shall establish line item categories for the state agencies describing the designated use of the appropriated funds as provided in the General Appropriations Act.

(c) The secretaries of the state agencies shall conduct meetings to discuss priorities for endowment funding for health and human services programs for children and elders before submitting their legislative budget requests to the Executive Office of the Governor and the Legislature. The purpose of the meetings is to gain consensus for priority requests and recommended endowment funding levels for those priority requests. No later than September 1 of each year, the secretaries of the state agencies shall also submit their consensus priority requests to the Lawton Chiles Endowment Fund Advisory Council created in subsection (6).

(d) Subject to legislative appropriations, state agencies shall use distributions from the endowment to enhance or support increases in clients served or to meet increases in program costs in health and human services program areas. Funds distributed from the endowment may not be used to supplant existing revenues.

(e) Notwithstanding s. 216.301 and pursuant to s. 216.351, all unencumbered balances of appropriations as of June 30 or undisbursed balances as of December 31 shall revert to the endowment's principal. Unencumbered or undisbursed balances appropriated for biomedical research shall revert to the principal in the separately reserved and accounted-for portion of the endowment established for biomedical research activities.

(f) When advised by the Revenue Estimating Conference that a deficit will occur with respect to the appropriations from the tobacco settlement trust funds of the state agencies in any fiscal year, the Governor shall develop a plan of action to eliminate the deficit. WHEREAS, although any woman may be stricken, advancing age has been found to be the greatest risk factor leading to this disease, with 64 percent of all breast cancers occurring in women 60 years of age or older, yet it is estimated that almost one million of the state’s women over the age of 40 have never had a mammogram, and

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Monday, April 16, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 3:30 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by Father Ernest Sylvestre of St. Vincent's Catholic Church of Madison and St. Margaret's Catholic Church of Monticello, upon invitation of Rep. Fasano:

God, the Almighty One, by Your loving choice You are a perfect Father to our human family, from Day of Creation through the centuries and forever. In order to guide us to true happiness, in creating us, You planted Your law in the depths of our minds and hearts to be developed as conscience when we grow and mature. You later made those same laws explicit by revealing them to us through Moses on Mount Sinai. You gave us intelligence to apply Your judicious guidelines to the everyday life of our society for the common good of Your people.

We selected trusted men and women to make the directives we need for the harmonious and prosperous living together of men and women, in justice and fairness for all. We pray You, Loving Father, to shed light on the minds of our legislators that they make laws that are in keeping with Your judicious plans, and to warm their hearts that they legislate in compassion for the weakest of Your children here in Florida. Give them the courage to do what is right even when it is not popular, and to stand on solid and tested principles in the choices they make. Give them the generosity to forget their self-interests as they serve the people who elected them.

We have the courage to ask for these blessings because You care for us and for what we do and You love us. Amen.

Explanation of Vote

Before I fully understood SB 854/HB 705 (allowing storage of water in our aquifer), I opposed the bill. As a marine engineer and a Floridian who believes water quality is a priority, my concern was that the bill would allow storage of such water that has not yet been treated to meet certain drinking water standards and therefore would pose a health threat. I have subsequently been educated to the information provided to me by David Struhs, Secretary of the Dept. of Environmental Protection and Dr. Robert Brooks, Secretary of the Dept. of Health who have assured that “the legislation is built on comprehensive public health and environmental protection measures to ensure that storage does not present a health threat”. I now realize that any such stored water must meet all water quality standards before being distributed to our citizens. Based upon the assurances received from Dr. Brooks and Secretary Struhs, I can now join the Florida League of Cities, Florida Association of Counties, and the Water Management Districts who all support this measure to help support the Everglades Restoration program and to help provide water for our 16 million residents today and the additional 20 million Florida residents projected to arrive in the next 20 years.

Communications

The Governor advised that he had filed in the Office of the Secretary of State CS/HB 141, which will become law on April 18, 2001 without his signature.

The Honorable Katherine Harris
Secretary of State

April 17, 2001

Dear Secretary Harris:

I hereby transmit to you without my signature House Bill 141, an act relating to adoption.

Over the last few weeks, the Office of the Governor has been involved in an education process spanning countless hours of meetings with the entities and individuals most engaged in the debate over House Bill 141.

This bill has presented our state with the opportunity to address a subject that presents emotional and complex issues of public policy. One thing is clear to me—there are good people who passionately support this reform and good people who passionately oppose it. I have listened to all points of view. There are legislators for whom I have the greatest respect who voted for and against this bill. Adoptive parents are both proponents and opponents of the bill. It is also apparent that the faith community is divided over the impacts of House Bill 141. So, too, are our statewide newspaper editorial boards. The public debate, though difficult, has highlighted the need for reform on this important issue.

House Bill 141 begins with the premise that we should bring more certainty to Florida's adoption procedures and laws. This certainty is designed to provide greater finality once the adoption is approved, and to avoid circumstances where future challenges to the adoption disrupt the life of the child. In order to accomplish this goal, a goal that most everyone believes is worthy, certain rights and responsibilities must be clearly enumerated at the outset of the adoption process, and procedures followed.

Adoption laws in the state attempt to strike the appropriate balance between the rights and responsibilities of three parties with a vested interest in the outcome—the birth mother, the birth father, and the adoptive parents. The child's safety, well-being, and permanency must be the paramount concern of these parties and the state. House Bill 141 is no different in attempting to balance rights and responsibilities. Where it is different is that it spells out these rights and responsibilities in the law, which in turn provides some comfort as well as discomfort for all groups involved in the process.

House Bill 141 establishes a clear and distinct two-step process for private adoptions similar to the process that already exists for adoptions handled by the Department of Children and Families and licensed adoption agencies. It sets forth explicit and extensive disclosure, consent, notice and hearing requirements in adoption proceedings. It requires 48 hours before the birth mother may consent to an adoption in an effort to provide more finality to her decision, and it clarifies and updates the criteria for the finding of abandonment.

However, House Bill 141 does have its deficiencies. Foremost, in its effort to strike the appropriate balance between rights and responsibilities, there is a shortage of responsibility on behalf of the birth father that could be corrected by requiring some proactive conduct on his part. Furthermore, while House Bill 141 restates current law that provides a two-year statute of repose for challenging an adoption based on fraud, it is clear that this two-year window causes much concern among adoption practitioners, agencies and members of the faith community. I, too, believe the current statute of repose may be too long. And finally, there is language in the bill that is unclear. The notice provisions do not accurately track the substantive law in the bill, and there are certain word changes that have given rise to the concern that birth fathers' rights are being unduly expanded.

The standard procedure in Tallahassee is to pass during the next legislative session what insiders call a "glitch bill" that would seek to cure many of these defects. And, in fact, at least one of the sponsors of the bill has indicated his willingness to do the same in the event there is a need next year.

A better alternative exists. Yesterday, the House of Representatives passed House Bill 415 prepared by Rep. Johnnie Byrd and Rep. Evelyn Lynn that uses House Bill 141 as its base, but addresses many of the concerns raised above.

First, it provides for a Paternity Registry similar to those already in existence in the vast majority of states around the country. This registry imposes a duty on the birth father to take affirmative action if he wants to later raise a parental claim. The registry, which will be well publicized, also gives greater finality to adoptions by cutting off a birth father's ability to later claim a child on the basis that he was unaware of the child's birth.

Second, and most important, the current two-year statute of repose to challenge an adoption will be further reduced to one year. Only two years ago, challenges to adoptions based on fraud could have been brought within four years. With the passage of this later corrective adoption bill, Florida will have reduced the amount of time an adoption can be challenged by 75 percent.

Third, the bill provides for mutuality of obligations among the parties. Under House Bill 141, in cases of fraud or duress, the adoption entities are strictly liable for attorney's fees and costs of the challenging birth parent if that birth parent prevails. House Bill 415 provides more parity by requiring a "loser pays" system that will award attorney's fees and costs to the prevailing party in such a challenge.

Fourth, some of the publication requirements imposed in House Bill 141 have been scaled back to current practice in order to avoid higher adoption costs and public exposure to women who undertake this difficult decision.

And finally, many of the drafting problems with House Bill 141 are corrected in this later filed bill. Consistency is restored between the notice provisions and substantive law, and words are deleted that were causing adoption attorneys and other adoption entities some concern.

While House Bill 415 as a corrective measure will be portrayed by some as an elusive attempt to compromise, I believe it addresses many of the issues that were raised by those who opposed the adoption bill. In addition, I have received a commitment from the Senate sponsor of House Bill 141 that House Bill 415 will be favorably reported to and acted on in the Florida Senate. In fact, this commitment was a precondition to my allowing House Bill 141 to become law without signature. As the later enacted legislation, House Bill 415 will supercede and complement House Bill 141.

Of course, not all the concerns related to House Bill 141 are addressed in the later-filed legislation, but the legislative process rarely yields a work product on such a sensitive matter that satisfies everyone. That fact, in and of itself, should be no reason to stymie reform.

Our own United States Constitution was the product of a similar process. Amid resistance by some to sign the Constitution, our great founding father Ben Franklin said, "I cannot help expressing a wish that every member of the convention who may still have objections to it would with me on this occasion doubt a little of his own infallibility. . . ." because after all, Franklin was "not sure that it is not the best" product given the joint wisdom, passions, prejudices, and even errors of opinion of those who created the document. So it is the same with the adoption reform embodied in both House Bill 141 and House Bill 415, and that we must doubt a little of our own infallibility.

I look forward to receiving House Bill 415, and to turning our future thoughts to the means of having our new adoption laws well-administered.

Sincerely,
JEB BUSH
Governor

Disclosure of Interest

On April 16, 2001 the Florida House of Representatives voted on CS/HB 339, related to Certificate of Need and Open Heart Surgery. This bill has the potential to grant Martin Memorial Hospital an Open Heart Program.

Currently I am in negotiation with that hospital for their purchase of property located at 707 East Osceola Street of which I am a partial owner.

I requested an opinion on the potential conflict of interest in this matter from Mr. Tom Tedcastle, General Counsel to the Florida House of Representatives, on April 10, 2001. I was subsequently advised by the General Counsel that since the purchase of the property is not contingent on the passage of CS/HB 339 and I have no personal financial interest in the passage of the bill, I am required to vote on CS/HB 339.

In order to avoid any appearance of an ethical violation, I am hereby providing disclosure of Martin Memorial Medical System's potential benefit from CS/HB 339 and their possible purchase of said property.

Section 49. Subsection (2) through (9) of section 106.08, Florida Statutes, are renumbered as subsections (3) through (10), newly renumbered sections (3), (8) and (9) are amended and a new subsection (2) is added to said section to read:

(2) A person, political committee, or committee of continuous existence may not make contributions to the state and county executive committees of a political party, including any subordinate committee of a state or county executive committee of a political party, which contributions, including in-kind contributions, in the aggregate in any calendar year exceed $5,000.

~~(3)(2)(a)~~ A candidate may not accept contributions from national, state, ~~including any subordinate committee of a national, state, or county committee of a political party~~, and county executive committees of a political party, including any subordinate committee of a national, state, or county executive committee of a political party, which contributions, including in-kind contributions, in the aggregate exceed $50,000, no more than $25,000 of which may be accepted prior to the 28-day period immediately preceding the date of the general election.

~~(b) Polling services, research services, costs for campaign staff, professional consulting services, and telephone calls are not contributions to be counted toward the contribution limits of paragraph (a). Any item not expressly identified in this paragraph as nonallocable is a contribution in an amount equal to the fair market value of the item and must be counted as allocable toward the $50,000 contribution limits of paragraph (a). Nonallocable, in-kind contributions must be reported by the candidate under s. 106.07 and by the political party under s. 106.29.~~

~~(4)(3)(a)~~ Any contribution received by a candidate with opposition in an election or by the campaign treasurer or a deputy campaign treasurer of such a candidate on the day of that election or less than 5 days prior to the day of that election must be returned by him or her to the person or committee contributing it and may not be used or expended by or on behalf of the candidate.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c), any contribution received by a candidate or by the campaign treasurer or a deputy campaign treasurer of a candidate after the date at which the candidate withdraws his or her candidacy, or after the date the candidate is defeated, becomes unopposed, or is elected to office must be returned to the person or committee contributing it and may not be used or expended by or on behalf of the candidate.

1. The department or supervisor shall, no later than 3 days after that determination has been made, notify in writing all other candidates for that office of that determination.

2. Any contribution received by a candidate or the campaign treasurer or deputy campaign treasurer of a candidate after the candidate has been notified in writing by the department or supervisor that he or she has become unopposed as a result of an independent or minor party candidate failing to obtain the required number of petition signatures shall be returned to the person, political committee, or committee of continuous existence contributing it and shall not be used or expended by or on behalf of the candidate.

(5)(4) Any contribution received by the chair, campaign treasurer, or deputy campaign treasurer of a political committee supporting or opposing a candidate with opposition in an election or supporting or opposing an issue on the ballot in an election on the day of that election or less than 5 days prior to the day of that election may not be obligated or expended by the committee until after the date of the election.

(6)(5) A person may not make any contribution through or in the name of another, directly or indirectly, in any election. Candidates, political committees, and political parties may not solicit contributions from or make contributions to any religious, charitable, civic, or other causes or organizations established primarily for the public good. However, it is not a violation of this subsection for a candidate, political committee, or political party executive committee to make gifts of money in lieu of flowers in memory of a deceased person or for a candidate to continue membership in, or make regular donations from personal or business funds to, religious, political party, civic, or charitable groups of which the candidate is a member or to which the candidate has been a regular donor for more than 6 months. A candidate may purchase, with campaign funds, tickets, admission to events, or advertisements from religious, civic, political party, or charitable groups.

If any corporation, partnership, or other business entity or any political party, political committee, or committee of continuous existence is convicted of knowingly and willfully violating any provision punishable under this paragraph, it shall be fined not less than $1,000 and not more than $10,000. If it is a domestic entity, it may be ordered dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction; if it is a foreign or nonresident business entity, its right to do business in this state may be forfeited. Any officer, partner, agent, attorney, or other representative of a corporation, partnership, or other business entity or of a political party, political committee, or committee of continuous existence who aids, abets, advises, or participates in a violation of any provision punishable under this paragraph commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(b) Any person who knowingly and willfully makes two or more contributions in violation of subsection (1), subsection (2), or subsection (6), or any combination thereof, (5) commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. If any corporation, partnership, or other business entity or any political party, political committee, or committee of continuous existence is convicted of knowingly and willfully violating any provision punishable under this paragraph, it shall be fined not less than $10,000 and not more than $50,000. If it is a domestic entity, it may be ordered dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction; if it is a foreign or nonresident business entity, its right to do business in this state may be forfeited. Any officer, partner, agent, attorney, or other representative of a corporation, partnership, or other business entity, or of a political committee, committee of continuous existence, or political party who aids, abets, advises, or participates in a violation of any provision punishable under this paragraph commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(9)(8) Except when otherwise provided in subsection (8) (7), any person who knowingly and willfully violates any provision of this section shall, in addition to any other penalty prescribed by this chapter, pay to the state a sum equal to twice the amount contributed in violation of this chapter. Each campaign treasurer shall pay all amounts contributed in violation of this section to the state for deposit in the General Revenue Fund.

(10)(9) This section does not apply to the transfer of funds between a primary campaign depository and a savings account or certificate of deposit or to any interest earned on such account or certificate.

Section 16. Effective July 1, 2001, paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 101.5607, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.5607 Department of State to maintain voting system information; prepare software.—

(b) Within 24 hours after the completion of any logic and accuracy test conducted pursuant to s. 101.5612(4), the supervisor of elections shall send by certified mail to the Department of State a copy of the tabulation program which was used in the logic and accuracy testing.

Section 17. Effective July 1, 2001, paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section 101.5608, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.5608 Voting by electronic or electromechanical method; procedures.—

(2) When an electronic or electromechanical voting system utilizes a ballot card or paper ballot, the following procedures shall be followed:

(b) Any voter who spoils his or her ballot or makes an error may return the ballot to the election official and secure another ballot, except that in no case shall a voter be furnished more than three ballots. If the vote tabulation device has rejected a ballot, the ballot shall be considered spoiled and a new ballot shall be provided to the voter. The election official, without examining the original ballot, shall state the possible reasons for the rejection and direct the voter to the instruction model provided at the precinct pursuant to s. 101.5611. A spoiled ballot shall be preserved, without examination, in an envelope provided for that purpose. The stub shall be removed from the ballot and placed in an envelope.

Section 18. Effective July 1, 2001, section 101.5612, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.5612 Testing of tabulating equipment.—

(1) All electronic or electromechanical voting systems shall be thoroughly tested at the conclusion of maintenance and programming. Tests shall be sufficient to determine that the voting system is properly programmed, the election is correctly defined on the voting system, and all of the voting system input, output, and communication devices are working properly.

(2)(4) On any day not more than 10 days prior to the election day, the supervisor of elections shall have the automatic tabulating equipment publicly tested to ascertain that the equipment will correctly count the votes cast for all offices and on all measures. Public notice of the time and place of the test shall be given at least 48 hours prior thereto by publication once in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the county or, if there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, by posting such notice in at least four conspicuous places in the county. The supervisor or the municipal elections official may, at the time of qualifying, give written notice of the time and location of such public the preelection test to each candidate qualifying with that office and obtain a signed receipt that such notice has been given. The Department of State shall give written notice to each statewide candidate at the time of qualifying, or immediately at the end of qualifying, that the voting equipment will be tested and advise each such candidate to contact the county supervisor of elections as to the time and location of the public preelection test ~~pretest~~. The supervisor or the municipal elections official shall, at least 15 days prior to an election, send written notice by certified mail to the county party chair of each political party and to all candidates for other than statewide office whose names appear on the ballot in the county and who did not receive written notification from the supervisor or municipal elections official at the time of qualifying, stating the time and location of the public preelection test of the automatic tabulating equipment. The canvassing board shall convene, and each member of the canvassing board shall certify to the accuracy of the test. For the test, the canvassing board may designate one member to represent it. The test shall be open to representatives of the political parties, the press, and the public. Each political party may designate one person with expertise in the computer field who shall be allowed in the central counting room when all tests are being conducted and when the official votes are being counted. Such designee shall not interfere with the normal operation of the canvassing board.

(3) For electronic or electromechanical voting systems configured to tabulate absentee ballots at a central or regional site, the public testing shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots so produced as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and to include one or more ballots for each office which have activated voting positions in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated and errorless results achieved immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots and again after the completion of the official count. The programs and ballots used for testing shall be sealed and retained under the custody of the county canvassing board.

(4)(a)1. For electronic or electromechanical voting systems configured to include electronic or electromechanical tabulation devices which are distributed to the precincts, all or a sample of the devices to be used in the election shall be publicly tested. If a sample is to be tested, the sample shall consist of a random selection of at least 5 percent or 10 of the devices, whichever is greater. The test shall be conducted by processing a group of ballots, causing the device to output results for the ballots processed, and comparing the output of results to the results expected for the ballots processed. The group of ballots shall be produced so as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and to include for each office one or more ballots which have activated voting positions in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the tabulating device to reject such votes.

2. If any tested tabulating device is found to have an error in tabulation, it shall be deemed unsatisfactory. For each device deemed unsatisfactory, the canvassing board shall take steps to determine the cause of the error, shall attempt to identify and test other devices that could reasonably be expected to have the same error, and shall test a number of additional devices sufficient to determine that all devices are satisfactory. Upon deeming any device unsatisfactory, the canvassing board may require all devices to be tested or may declare that all devices are unsatisfactory.

3. If the operation or output of any tested tabulation device, such as spelling or the order of candidates on a report, is in error, such problem shall be reported to the canvassing board. The canvassing board shall then determine if the reported problem warrants its deeming the device unsatisfactory.

(b) At the completion of testing under this subsection, the canvassing board or its representative, the representatives of the political parties, and the candidates or their representatives who attended the test shall witness the resetting of each device that passed to a preelection state of readiness and the sealing of each device that passed in such a manner as to secure its state of readiness until the opening of the polls.

(c) The canvassing board or its representative shall execute a written statement setting forth the tabulation devices tested, the results of the testing, the protective counter numbers, if applicable, of each tabulation device, the number of the seal securing each tabulation device at the conclusion of testing, any problems reported to the board as a result of the testing, and whether each machine tested is satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

(d) Any tabulating device deemed unsatisfactory shall be reprogrammed, repaired, or replaced and shall be made available for retesting. Such device must be determined by the canvassing board or its representative to be satisfactory before it may be used in any election. The canvassing board or its representative shall announce at the close of the first testing the date, place, and time that any unsatisfactory device will be retested or may, at the option of the board, notify by telephone each person who was present at the first testing as to the date, place, and time that the retesting will occur.

(e) Records must be kept of all preelection testing of electronic or electromechanical tabulation devices used in any election. Such records are to be present and available for inspection and reference during public preelection testing by any person in attendance during such testing. The need of the canvassing board for access to such records during the testing shall take precedence over the need of other attendees to access such records so that the work of the canvassing board will not be delayed or hindered. Records of testing must include, for each device, the name of each person who tested the device and the date, place, time, and results of each test. Records of testing shall be retained as part of the official records of the election in which any device was used.

~~(2) The test shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots so produced as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and shall include for each office one or more ballots which have votes in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be ascertained and corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots in the same manner as set forth above. After the completion of the count, the test shall be repeated. The programs and ballots used shall be sealed and retained under the custody of the county canvassing board.~~

Section 19. Subsections (1), (2), (3), and (7) of section 101.5614, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

101.5614 Canvass of returns.—

(1)(a) In precincts in which an electronic or electromechanical voting system is used, as soon as the polls are closed, the election board shall secure the voting devices against further voting. The election board shall thereafter open the ballot box in the presence of members of the public desiring to witness the proceedings and count the number of voted ballots, unused ballots, and spoiled ballots to ascertain whether such number corresponds with the number of ballots issued by the supervisor. If there is a difference, this fact shall be reported in writing to the county canvassing board with the reasons therefor if known. The total number of voted ballots shall be entered on the forms provided. The proceedings of the election board at the precinct after the polls have closed shall be open to the public; however, no person except a member of the election board shall touch any ballot or ballot container or interfere with or obstruct the orderly count of the ballots.

~~(b) In lieu of opening the ballot box at the precinct, the supervisor may direct the election board to keep the ballot box sealed and deliver it to a central or regional counting location. In this case, the election board shall count the stubs removed from the ballots to determine the number of voted ballots.~~

~~(2)(a) If the ballots are to be tallied at a central location or at no more than three regional locations, the election board shall place all ballots that have been cast and the unused, void, and defective ballots in the container or containers provided for this purpose, which shall be sealed and delivered forthwith to the central or regional counting location or other designated location by two inspectors who shall not, whenever possible, be of the same political party. The election board shall certify that the ballots were placed in such container or containers and each container was sealed in its presence and under its supervision, and it shall further certify to the number of ballots of each type placed in the container or containers.~~

~~(2)(b) If ballots are to be counted at the precincts, such ballots shall be counted pursuant to rules adopted by The Department of State, which rules shall, in accordance with s. 101.015, adopt rules that provide safeguards which conform as nearly as practicable to the safeguards provided in the procedures for the counting of votes at a precinct and at a central or regional location.~~

~~(3)(a) All proceedings at the central or regional counting location or other designated location shall be under the direction of the county canvassing board and shall be open to the public, but no person except a person employed and authorized for the purpose shall touch any ballot or ballot container, any item of automatic tabulating equipment, or any return prior to its release. If the ballots are tabulated at regional locations, one member of the canvassing board or a person designated by the board to represent it shall be present at each location during the testing of the counting equipment and the tabulation of the ballots.~~

~~(3)(b) The results of If ballots are tabulated at precinct regional locations, the results of such election may be transmitted via dedicated teleprocessing lines to the main computer system for the purpose of compilation of complete returns. The security guidelines for transmission of returns by dedicated teleprocessing lines shall conform to rules adopted by the Department of State pursuant to s. 101.015.~~

(7) Absentee ballots may be counted by automatic tabulating equipment if they have been punched or marked in a manner which will enable them to be properly counted by such equipment.

Section 20. Section 101.58, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.58 Supervising and observing registration and election processes.—The Department of State may, at any time it deems fit, upon the petition of 5 percent of the registered electors; or upon the petition of any candidate, county executive committee chair, state committeeman or committeewoman, or state executive committee chair, appoint one or more deputies whose duties shall be to observe and examine the registration and election processes and the condition, custody, and operation of the voting system and equipment machines in any county or municipality. The deputy shall have access to all registration books and records as well as any other records or procedures relating to the voting process. The deputy may supervise preparation of the election machines and procedures for election, and it shall be unlawful for any person to obstruct the deputy in the performance of his or her duty. The deputy shall file with the Department of State a report of his or her findings and observations of the registration and election processes in the county or municipality, and a copy of the report shall also be filed with the clerk of the circuit court of said county. The compensation of such deputies shall be fixed by the Department of State; and costs incurred under this section shall be paid from the annual operating appropriation made to the Department of State.

101.64 Delivery of absentee ballots; envelopes; form.—

101.71 Polling place.—

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), whenever the supervisor of elections of any county determines that the accommodations for holding any election at a polling place designated for any precinct in the county are unavailable or are inadequate for the expeditious and efficient housing and handling of voting and voting paraphernalia, ~~including voting machines where used~~, the supervisor may provide, not less than 30 days prior to the holding of an election, that the voting place for such precinct shall be moved to another site which shall be accessible to the public on election day in said precinct or, if such is not available, to another site which shall be accessible to the public on election day in a contiguous precinct. If such action of the supervisor results in the voting place for two or more precincts being located for the purposes of an election in one building, the voting places for the several precincts involved shall be established and maintained separate from each other in said building. When any supervisor moves any polling place pursuant to this subsection, the supervisor shall, not more than 30 days or fewer than 7 days prior to the holding of an election, give notice of the change of the polling place for the precinct involved, with clear description of the voting place to which changed, at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in said county. A notice of the change of the polling place involved shall be mailed, at least 14 days prior to an election, to each registered elector or to each household in which there is a registered elector.

Section 23. Subsection (1) of section 101.75, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.75 Municipal elections; change of dates for cause.—

(1) In any municipality, when the date of the municipal election falls on the same date as any statewide or county election and the voting devices of the voting system used in the county machines are not available for both elections, the municipality may provide that the municipal election may be held within 30 days prior to or subsequent to the statewide or county election.

Section 24. Subsections (4), (7), (8), and (9) of section 102.012, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

102.012 Inspectors and clerks to conduct elections.—

(4)(a) The election board of each precinct shall attend the polling place by 6 a.m. of the day of the election and shall arrange the furniture, stationery, and voting equipment.

(b) An election board shall conduct the voting, beginning and closing at the time set forth in s. 100.011. If more than one board has been appointed, the second board shall, upon the closing of the polls, come on duty and count the votes cast. In such case, the first board shall turn over to the second board all closed ballot boxes, registration books, and other records of the election at the time the boards change. The second board shall continue counting until the count is complete or until 7 a.m. the next morning, and, if the count is not completed at that time, the first board that conducted the election shall again report for duty and complete the count. The second board shall turn over to the first board all ballots counted, all ballots not counted, and all registration books and other records and shall advise the first board as to what has transpired in tabulating the results of the election.

~~(7) For any precinct using voting machines, there shall be one election board appointed, plus an additional inspector for each machine in excess of one; however, the supervisor of elections may appoint a greater number of additional inspectors than required by this subsection.~~

(7)(8) The supervisor of elections shall conduct training for inspectors, clerks, and deputy sheriffs prior to each first primary, general, and special election for the purpose of instructing such persons in their duties and responsibilities as election officials. A certificate may be issued by the supervisor of elections to each person completing such training. No person shall serve as an inspector, clerk, or deputy sheriff for an election unless such person has completed the training as required. A person who has attended previous training conducted within 2 years of the election may be appointed by the supervisor to fill a vacancy on election day. If no person with prior training is available to fill such vacancy, the supervisor of elections may fill such vacancy in accordance with the provisions of subsection (8) (9) from among persons who have not received the training required by this section.

(8)(9) In the case of absence or refusal to act on the part of any inspector or clerk at any precinct on the day of an election, the supervisor shall appoint a replacement who meets the qualifications prescribed in subsection (2). The inspector or clerk so appointed shall be a member of the same political party as the clerk or inspector whom he or she replaces.

Section 25. Subsection (2) of section 102.021, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

102.021 Compensation of inspectors, clerks, and deputy sheriffs.—

(2) Inspectors and clerks of election and deputy sheriffs serving at the precincts may receive compensation and travel expenses, as provided in s. 112.061, for attending the poll worker training required by s. 102.012(8).

Section 26. Subsections (3) and (4) of section 102.141, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

102.141 County canvassing board; duties.—

(3) The canvass, except the canvass of absentee electors' returns, shall be made from the returns and certificates of the inspectors as signed and filed by them with the county court judge and supervisor, respectively, and the county canvassing board shall not change the number of votes cast for a candidate, nominee, constitutional amendment, or other measure submitted to the electorate of the county, respectively, in any polling place, as shown by the returns. All returns shall be made to the board on or before noon of the day following any primary, general, special, or other election. If the returns from any precinct are missing, if there are any omissions on the returns from any precinct, or if there is an obvious error on any such returns, the canvassing board shall order a recount of the returns from such precinct. Before canvassing such returns, the canvassing board shall examine the counters on the machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast in such precinct and determine whether the returns correctly reflect the votes cast. If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the counters of the machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast, the counters of such machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast shall be presumed correct and such votes shall be canvassed accordingly.

(4) If the returns for any office reflect that a candidate was defeated or eliminated by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast for such office, that a candidate for retention to a judicial office was retained or not retained by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast on the question of retention, or that a measure appearing on the ballot was approved or rejected by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast on such measure, the board responsible for certifying the results of the vote on such race or measure shall order a recount of the votes cast with respect to such office or measure. A recount need not be ordered with respect to the returns for any office, however, if the candidate or candidates defeated or eliminated from contention for such office by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast for such office request in writing that a recount not be made. Each canvassing board responsible for conducting a recount shall examine the counters on the machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast in each precinct in which the office or issue appeared on the ballot and determine whether the returns correctly reflect the votes cast. If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the counters of the machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast, the counters of such machines or the tabulation of the ballots cast shall be presumed correct and such votes shall be canvassed accordingly.

Section 27. Subsection (3) of section 102.166, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

102.166 Protest of election returns; procedure.—

(3) Before canvassing the returns of the election, the canvassing board shall:

(a) ~~When paper ballots are used, examine the tabulation of the paper ballots cast.~~

(b) ~~When voting machines are used, examine the counters on the machines of nonprinter machines or the printer pae on printer machines. If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the counters of the machines or the printer pae, the counters of such machines or the printer pae shall be presumed correct.~~

(c) ~~When electronic or electromechanical equipment is used, the canvassing board shall examine precinct records and election returns. If there is a clerical error, such error shall be corrected by the county canvassing board. If there is a discrepancy which could affect the outcome of an election, the canvassing board may recount the ballots on the automatic tabulating equipment.~~

(Amendment Bar Code: 173025)

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 16. Effective July 1, 2001, paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 101.5607, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(b) Within 24 hours after the completion of any logic and accuracy test conducted pursuant to s. 101.5612(4), the supervisor of elections shall send by certified mail to the Department of State a copy of the tabulation program which was used in the logic and accuracy testing.

Section 17. Effective July 1, 2001, paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section 101.5608, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.5608 Voting by electronic or electromechanical method; procedures.—

(2) When an electronic or electromechanical voting system utilizes a ballot card or paper ballot, the following procedures shall be followed:

(b) Any voter who spoils his or her ballot or makes an error may return the ballot to the election official and secure another ballot, except that in no case shall a voter be furnished more than three ballots. If the vote tabulation device has rejected a ballot, the ballot shall be considered spoiled and a new ballot shall be provided to the voter. The election official, without examining the original ballot, shall state the possible reasons for the rejection and direct the voter to the instruction model provided at the precinct pursuant to s. 101.5611. A spoiled ballot shall be preserved, without examination, in an envelope provided for that purpose. The stub shall be removed from the ballot and placed in an envelope.

Section 18. Effective July 1, 2001, section 101.5612, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.5612 Testing of tabulating equipment.—

(1) All electronic or electromechanical voting systems shall be thoroughly tested at the conclusion of maintenance and programming. Tests shall be sufficient to determine that the voting system is properly programmed, the election is correctly defined on the voting system, and all of the voting system input, output, and communication devices are working properly.

(2)(4) On any day not more than 10 days prior to the election day, the supervisor of elections shall have the automatic tabulating equipment publicly tested to ascertain that the equipment will correctly count the votes cast for all offices and on all measures. Public notice of the time and place of the test shall be given at least 48 hours prior thereto by publication once in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the county or, if there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, by posting such notice in at least four conspicuous places in the county. The supervisor or the municipal elections official may, at the time of qualifying, give written notice of the time and location of such public ~~the~~ preelection test to each candidate qualifying with that office and obtain a signed receipt that such notice has been given. The Department of State shall give written notice to each statewide candidate at the time of qualifying, or immediately at the end of qualifying, that the voting equipment will be tested and advise each such candidate to contact the county supervisor of elections as to the time and location of the public preelection test ~~pretest~~. The supervisor or the municipal elections official shall, at least 15 days prior to an election, send written notice by certified mail to the county party chair of each political party and to all candidates for other than statewide office whose names appear on the ballot in the county and who did not receive written notification from the supervisor or municipal elections official at the time of qualifying, stating the time and location of the public preelection test of the automatic tabulating equipment. The canvassing board shall convene, and each member of the canvassing board shall certify to the accuracy of the test. For the test, the canvassing board may designate one member to represent it. The test shall be open to representatives of the political parties, the press, and the public. Each political party may designate one person with expertise in the computer field who shall be allowed in the central counting room when all tests are being conducted and when the official votes are being counted. Such designee shall not interfere with the normal operation of the canvassing board.

(3) For electronic or electromechanical voting systems configured to tabulate absentee ballots at a central or regional site, the public testing shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots so produced as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and to include one or more ballots for each office which have activated voting positions in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated and errorless results achieved immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots and again after the completion of the official count. The programs and ballots used for testing shall be sealed and retained under the custody of the county canvassing board.

(4)(a)1. For electronic or electromechanical voting systems configured to include electronic or electromechanical tabulation devices which are distributed to the precincts, all or a sample of the devices to be used in the election shall be publicly tested. If a sample is to be tested, the sample shall consist of a random selection of at least 5 percent or 10 of the devices, whichever is greater. The test shall be conducted by processing a group of ballots, causing the device to output results for the ballots processed, and comparing the output of results to the results expected for the ballots processed. The group of ballots shall be produced so as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and to include for each office one or more ballots which have activated voting positions in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the tabulating device to reject such votes.

2. If any tested tabulating device is found to have an error in tabulation, it shall be deemed unsatisfactory. For each device deemed unsatisfactory, the canvassing board shall take steps to determine the cause of the error, shall attempt to identify and test other devices that could reasonably be expected to have the same error, and shall test a number of additional devices sufficient to determine that all devices are satisfactory. Upon deeming any device unsatisfactory, the canvassing board may require all devices to be tested or may declare that all devices are unsatisfactory.

3. If the operation or output of any tested tabulation device, such as spelling or the order of candidates on a report, is in error, such problem shall be reported to the canvassing board. The canvassing board shall then determine if the reported problem warrants its deeming the device unsatisfactory.

(b) At the completion of testing under this subsection, the canvassing board or its representative, the representatives of the political parties, and the candidates or their representatives who attended the test shall witness the resetting of each device that passed to a preelection state of readiness and the sealing of each device that passed in such a manner as to secure its state of readiness until the opening of the polls.

(c) The canvassing board or its representative shall execute a written statement setting forth the tabulation devices tested, the results of the testing, the protective counter numbers, if applicable, of each tabulation device, the number of the seal securing each tabulation device at the conclusion of testing, any problems reported to the board as a result of the testing, and whether each machine tested is satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

(d) Any tabulating device deemed unsatisfactory shall be reprogrammed, repaired, or replaced and shall be made available for retesting. Such device must be determined by the canvassing board or its representative to be satisfactory before it may be used in any election. The canvassing board or its representative shall announce at the close of the first testing the date, place, and time that any unsatisfactory device will be retested or may, at the option of the board, notify by telephone each person who was present at the first testing as to the date, place, and time that the retesting will occur.

(e) Records must be kept of all preelection testing of electronic or electromechanical tabulation devices used in any election. Such records are to be present and available for inspection and reference during public preelection testing by any person in attendance during such testing. The need of the canvassing board for access to such records during the testing shall take precedence over the need of other attendees to access such records so that the work of the canvassing board will not be delayed or hindered. Records of testing must include, for each device, the name of each person who tested the device and the date, place, time, and results of each test. Records of testing shall be retained as part of the official records of the election in which any device was used.

~~(2) The test shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots so produced as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure and shall include for each office one or more ballots which have votes in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be ascertained and corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots in the same manner as set forth above. After the completion of the count, the test shall be repeated. The programs and ballots used shall be sealed and retained under the custody of the county canvassing board.~~

Section 19. Subsections (1), (2), (3), and (7) of section 101.5614, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

101.5614 Canvass of returns.—

(1)(a) In precincts in which an electronic or electromechanical voting system is used, as soon as the polls are closed, the election board shall secure the voting devices against further voting. The election board shall thereafter open the ballot box in the presence of members of the public desiring to witness the proceedings and count the number of voted ballots, unused ballots, and spoiled ballots to ascertain whether such number corresponds with the number of ballots issued by the supervisor. If there is a difference, this fact shall be reported in writing to the county canvassing board with the reasons therefor if known. The total number of voted ballots shall be entered on the forms provided. The proceedings of the election board at the precinct after the polls have closed shall be open to the public; however, no person except a member of the election board shall touch any ballot or ballot container or interfere with or obstruct the orderly count of the ballots.

~~(b) In lieu of opening the ballot box at the precinct, the supervisor may direct the election board to keep the ballot box sealed and deliver it to a central or regional counting location. In this case, the election board shall count the stubs removed from the ballots to determine the number of voted ballots.~~

~~(2)(a) If the ballots are to be tallied at a central location or at no more than three regional locations, the election board shall place all ballots that have been cast and the unused, void, and defective ballots in the container or containers provided for this purpose, which shall be sealed and delivered forthwith to the central or regional counting location or other designated location by two inspectors who shall not, whenever possible, be of the same political party. The election board shall certify that the ballots were placed in such container or containers and each container was sealed in its presence and under its supervision, and it shall further certify to the number of ballots of each type placed in the container or containers.~~

~~(2)(b) If ballots are to be counted at the precincts, such ballots shall be counted pursuant to rules adopted by The Department of State, which rules shall, in accordance with s. 101.015, adopt rules that provide safeguards which conform as nearly as practicable to the safeguards provided in the procedures for the counting of votes at a precinct and at a central or regional location.~~

~~(3)(a) All proceedings at the central or regional counting location or other designated location shall be under the direction of the county canvassing board and shall be open to the public, but no person except a person employed and authorized for the purpose shall touch any ballot~~

or ballot container, any item of automatic tabulating equipment, or any return prior to its release. If the ballots are tabulated at regional locations, one member of the canvassing board or a person designated by the board to represent it shall be present at each location during the testing of the counting equipment and the tabulation of the ballots.

(3)(b) The results of ~~if~~ ballots are tabulated at ~~precinct~~ regional locations, the results of such election may be transmitted via dedicated teleprocessing lines to the main computer system for the purpose of compilation of complete returns. The security guidelines for transmission of returns by dedicated teleprocessing lines shall conform to rules adopted by the Department of State pursuant to s. 101.015.

(7) Absentee ballots may be counted by automatic tabulating equipment if they have been punched or marked in a manner which will enable them to be properly counted by such equipment.

Section 20. Section 101.58, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.58 Supervising and observing registration and election processes.—The Department of State may, at any time it deems fit,; upon the petition of 5 percent of the registered electors; or upon the petition of any candidate, county executive committee chair, state committeeman or committeewoman, or state executive committee chair, appoint one or more deputies whose duties shall be to observe and examine the registration and election processes and the condition, custody, and operation of the voting system and equipment machines in any county or municipality. The deputy shall have access to all registration books and records as well as any other records or procedures relating to the voting process. The deputy may supervise preparation of the election machines and procedures for election, and it shall be unlawful for any person to obstruct the deputy in the performance of his or her duty. The deputy shall file with the Department of State a report of his or her findings and observations of the registration and election processes in the county or municipality, and a copy of the report shall also be filed with the clerk of the circuit court of said county. The compensation of such deputies shall be fixed by the Department of State; and costs incurred under this section shall be paid from the annual operating appropriation made to the Department of State.

101.64 Delivery of absentee ballots; envelopes; form.—

(1) The supervisor shall enclose with each absentee ballot two envelopes: a secrecy envelope, into which the absent elector shall enclose his or her marked ballot; and a mailing envelope, into which the absent elector shall then place the secrecy envelope, which shall be addressed to the supervisor and also bear on the back side a certificate in substantially the following form:

101.71 Polling place.—

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), whenever the supervisor of elections of any county determines that the accommodations for holding any election at a polling place designated for any precinct in the county are unavailable or are inadequate for the expeditious and efficient housing and handling of voting and voting paraphernalia, including voting machines where used, the supervisor may provide, not less than 30 days prior to the holding of an election, that the voting place for such precinct shall be moved to another site which shall be accessible to the public on election day in said precinct or, if such is not available, to another site which shall be accessible to the public on election day in a contiguous precinct. If such action of the supervisor results in the voting place for two or more precincts being located for the purposes of an election in one building, the voting places for the several precincts involved shall be established and maintained separate from each other in said building. When any supervisor moves any polling place pursuant to this subsection, the supervisor shall, not more than 30 days or fewer than 7 days prior to the holding of an election, give notice of the change of the polling place for the precinct involved, with clear description of the voting place to which changed, at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in said county. A notice of the change of the polling place involved shall be mailed, at least 14 days prior to an election, to each registered elector or to each household in which there is a registered elector.

Section 23. Subsection (1) of section 101.75, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

101.75 Municipal elections; change of dates for cause.—

(1) In any municipality, when the date of the municipal election falls on the same date as any statewide or county election and the voting devices of the voting system used in the county machines are not available for both elections, the municipality may provide that the municipal election may be held within 30 days prior to or subsequent to the statewide or county election.

Section 24. Subsections (4), (7), (8), and (9) of section 102.012, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

102.012 Inspectors and clerks to conduct elections.—

(4)(a) The election board of each precinct shall attend the polling place by 6 a.m. of the day of the election and shall arrange the furniture, stationery, and voting equipment.

(b) An election board shall conduct the voting, beginning and closing at the time set forth in s. 100.011. If more than one board has been appointed, the second board shall, upon the closing of the polls, come on duty and count the votes cast. In such case, the first board shall turn over to the second board all closed ballot boxes, registration books, and other records of the election at the time the boards change. The second board shall continue counting until the count is complete or until 7 a.m. the next morning, and, if the count is not completed at that time, the first board that conducted the election shall again report for duty and complete the count. The second board shall turn over to the first board all ballots counted, all ballots not counted, and all registration books and other records and shall advise the first board as to what has transpired in tabulating the results of the election.

~~(7) For any precinct using voting machines, there shall be one election board appointed, plus an additional inspector for each machine in excess of one; however, the supervisor of elections may appoint a greater number of additional inspectors than required by this subsection.~~

~~(7)(8)~~ The supervisor of elections shall conduct training for inspectors, clerks, and deputy sheriffs prior to each first primary, general, and special election for the purpose of instructing such persons in their duties and responsibilities as election officials. A certificate may be issued by the supervisor of elections to each person completing such training. No person shall serve as an inspector, clerk, or deputy sheriff for an election unless such person has completed the training as required. A person who has attended previous training conducted within 2 years of the election may be appointed by the supervisor to fill a vacancy on election day. If no person with prior training is available to fill such vacancy, the supervisor of elections may fill such vacancy in accordance with the provisions of subsection (8) (9) from among persons who have not received the training required by this section.

~~(8)(9)~~ In the case of absence or refusal to act on the part of any inspector or clerk at any precinct on the day of an election, the supervisor shall appoint a replacement who meets the qualifications prescribed in subsection (2). The inspector or clerk so appointed shall be a member of the same political party as the clerk or inspector whom he or she replaces.

102.021 Compensation of inspectors, clerks, and deputy sheriffs.—

All returns shall be made to the board on or before noon of the day following any primary, general, special, or other election. If the returns from any precinct are missing, if there are any omissions on the returns from any precinct, or if there is an obvious error on any such returns, the canvassing board shall order a recount of the returns from such precinct. Before canvassing such returns, the canvassing board shall examine the ~~counters on the machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast in such precinct and determine whether the returns correctly reflect the votes cast. If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the ~~counters of the machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast, the ~~counters of such machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast shall be presumed correct and such votes shall be canvassed accordingly.

(4) If the returns for any office reflect that a candidate was defeated or eliminated by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast for such office, that a candidate for retention to a judicial office was retained or not retained by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast on the question of retention, or that a measure appearing on the ballot was approved or rejected by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast on such measure, the board responsible for certifying the results of the vote on such race or measure shall order a recount of the votes cast with respect to such office or measure. A recount need not be ordered with respect to the returns for any office, however, if the candidate or candidates defeated or eliminated from contention for such office by one-half of a percent or less of the votes cast for such office request in writing that a recount not be made. Each canvassing board responsible for conducting a recount shall examine the ~~counters on the machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast in each precinct in which the office or issue appeared on the ballot and determine whether the returns correctly reflect the votes cast. If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the ~~counters of the machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast, the ~~counters of such machines or the~~ tabulation of the ballots cast shall be presumed correct and such votes shall be canvassed accordingly.

Section 27. Subsection (3) of section 102.166, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

If there is a discrepancy between the returns and the counters of the machines or the printer pae, the counters of such machines or the printer pae shall be presumed correct.~~

~~(c) When electronic or electromechanical equipment is used, the canvassing board shall examine precinct records and election returns. If there is a clerical error, such error shall be corrected by the county canvassing board. If there is a discrepancy which could affect the outcome of an election, the canvassing board may recount the ballots on the automatic tabulating equipment.~~

(Amendment Bar Code: 154679)

Amendment 1—

Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

Section 1. Section 1. Creation of Jacksonville Seaport Authority and Jacksonville Airport Authority.—

(1) There are hereby created and established two separate bodies politic and corporate to be known as the Jacksonville Seaport Authority and the Jacksonville Airport Authority respectively (hereinafter referred to singly as an “authority” and collectively as “authorities”), which are created as agencies and political subdivisions of the State of Florida in the nature of counties and not municipalities. These authorities are authorized to exercise their respective jurisdictions, powers, and duties within the territorial limits of the former Duval County, which territorial limits now exist within the City of Jacksonville. The Jacksonville Seaport Authority shall operate, manage, and control the seaport and ancillary facilities located within Duval County. The Jacksonville Airport Authority shall operate, manage, and control all publicly owned airports and ancillary facilities located within Duval County. This authorization for a port authority split shall be reviewed for performance and efficiency after a period of 4 years.

(2) The governing body for the Seaport Authority shall consist of seven members, four of whom shall be appointed by the Mayor of the City of Jacksonville with the confirmation of the council of the City of Jacksonville, and three of whom shall be appointed by the Governor of Florida with the confirmation of the Senate. The governing body for the Airport Authority shall consist of seven members, four of whom shall be appointed by the Governor of Florida with the confirmation of the Senate, and three of whom shall be appointed by the Mayor of the City of Jacksonville with the confirmation of the council of the City of Jacksonville. Members shall serve for terms of 4 years commencing on October 1st of the year of the appointment or for the unexpired portion of a term deemed to have commenced on October 1st. Members of either authority, during their terms, shall serve at the pleasure of the Mayor or Governor, whoever appointed the member. Members shall continue to serve on either authority until their respective successors are appointed. A vacancy occurring during a term of an appointed member, on either authority, shall be filled only for the balance of the unexpired term. Any member appointed to an authority for two consecutive full terms shall not be eligible for appointment to that same authority for the next succeeding term. Provided, however, notwithstanding the above, members initially appointed to the authority shall serve in staggered terms to provide continuity of experience to each authority with two gubernatorial appointments and two mayoral appointments being for initial 2-year terms, which shall count as a full term for purposes of term limits herein.

(3) Each authority shall elect a chair, vice chair, secretary, and treasurer from its members, and such other officers it deems proper, not necessarily from its members, to perform such duties as each authority may direct. Four members of each authority shall constitute a quorum for such authority, but at least four members of such authority must approve any action to be taken by such authority. Resolutions adopted by the vote of at least four members of an authority shall become effective without further action by such authority. Each member of each authority shall have one vote. The yeas and nays shall be called and entered upon the minutes of each meeting upon the passage of every resolution or other action of each authority. Each authority may meet at such times and places designated by it but shall hold regular meetings as necessary, and generally once a month. Special meetings of an authority may be called upon the call of its chair or any three members of such authority. The members of each authority shall not be entitled to compensation but members and employees of each authority shall be entitled to payment of reasonable expenses as provided by the council of the City of Jacksonville.

(4) Each authority shall employ and fix the compensation of a managing director who shall manage the affairs of each respective authority under the supervision and control of the authority employing such managing director. Such managing director may be given any title suitable to either such authority. Each authority may employ such engineers, certified public accountants, consultants, and employees as either said authority may require, and fix and pay their compensation. Each authority may use any of the services available to governmental units through the Administration and Finance Department of the City of Jacksonville, but is not required by law to do so. However, the authority shall be required to use the legal services of the City of Jacksonville, except in those cases when the chief legal officer of the city determines that the city legal staff cannot provide legal services in the required legal area. Such use of city services, including, but not limited to, legal services, shall be on contractual basis and the authorities are authorized to pay the city reasonable and fair compensation for such services so furnished by the city and used by the authorities. The use by each authority of any such services furnished by the city shall not obligate either authority except to the extent it contracts with the city, or otherwise subject either authority to any rules, regulations, or ordinances of said city not otherwise applicable to the authorities under this act and the charter of said city. Each authority may delegate to one or more of its agents or employees such of its powers as it may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, subject always to the supervision and control of each authority, and may do any and all things necessary to accomplish the purposes of this act.

(5) The provisions of section 286.012, Florida Statutes, requiring any member of each authority present at a meeting to vote unless there is a possible conflict of interest, and the provisions of sections 112.311-112.3175, Florida Statutes, and as the same may be amended in the future, relating to financial disclosure and conflicts of interest, shall apply to each member of each authority.

Section 2. Definitions.—In the interpretation hereof the following words and terms shall be taken to include the following meanings when the context shall require or permit:

Any obligation or expense incurred by either authority prior to the issuance of revenue bonds under the provisions of this act for engineering studies and for estimates of cost and of revenue and for other technical, financial, or legal services in connection with the acquisition or construction of any project may be regarded as a part of the cost of such project.

Section 3. Powers.—Each authority shall have the below specified powers, in addition to other powers otherwise conferred by law; however, those powers that relate to maritime issues are vested in the Jacksonville Seaport Authority; those powers that relate to aviation issues are vested in the Jacksonville Airport Authority; those powers that are neutral in nature are vested in both authorities:

(1) To adopt, use, and alter at will a corporate seal; to sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, complain, and defend in all courts; to exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire property for any authorized purposes, including the taking of such property ancillary to said power in the manner from time to time provided by the laws of the State of Florida; to accept grants, gifts, and donations; and to enter into contracts, leases, or other transactions with any federal agency, the state, any agency of the state, the County of Duval, the City of Jacksonville, or with any other public body of the state.

(2) To adopt rules and regulations with reference to all projects and matters under their respective control. All rules and regulations promulgated and all impositions and exactions made by each authority hereof shall be just and reasonable and consistent with public interest and their application shall be subject to review by certiorari in any court of proper and competent jurisdiction. All rules and regulations shall be a matter of public record and copies thereof shall be dispensed at cost to all applicants therefor.

(3) To construct, acquire, establish, improve, extend, enlarge, reconstruct, re-equip, maintain, repair, and operate any project as herein defined.

(4) Subject to the jurisdiction of the United States and the State of Florida, to construct, establish, and improve harbors within the county, to improve navigable waters within the county, and to construct and maintain canals, slips, turning basins, and channels, all upon such terms and conditions as may be required by the United States and the State of Florida.

(5) To acquire for any project authorized by this act by grant, purchase, gift, devise, condemnation by eminent domain proceedings, exchange, or in any other manner, all property, real or personal, or any estate or interest therein, upon such terms and conditions as each authority shall by resolution fix and determine. The right of eminent domain herein conferred shall be exercised by each authority in the manner provided by law.

(7) To enter into joint arrangements with airlines, steamship lines, railroads, any common carrier, or any other commercial enterprise, related to either authority's basic mission, if either authority shall deem it advantageous so to do.

(8) To make and enter into all contracts and agreements and to do and perform all acts and deeds necessary and incidental to the performance of their respective duties and the exercise of their respective powers; to make and execute leases or agreements for the use and occupation of the property and projects under their respective control on such terms, conditions, and period of time as each authority may determine, except as noted in subsection (3) of section 1; and to sell and dispose of such property and projects as shall no longer be needed for the uses and purposes of either authority on such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by resolution of either authority; however, before disposing of any real property which was acquired from either the city or county under the provisions of this act, each authority shall give written notice to the governmental unit from which such real property was acquired. If said governmental unit desires to accept a reconveyance of said real property, it shall give such authority written notice of such intention within 30 days from the date of mailing of such authority's notice regarding the disposal of such property, and such authority shall make the reconveyance of such property to said governmental unit forthwith. If within such 30 days, said governmental unit does not notify such authority in writing of a desire to accept a reconveyance of said property or refuses to accept a reconveyance of same such authority may sell and dispose of same on such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by resolution of such authority. Neither authority shall sell real property for less than the appraised value.

(9) To the extent permitted by law to fix, regulate, and collect rates and charges for the services and facilities furnished by any project under the respective control of either authority, and to establish, limit, and control the use of any project as may be deemed necessary to ensure the proper operation of the project; and to impose sanctions to promote and enforce compliance with any rule or regulation which either authority may adopt in the regulation of the ports, harbors, wharves, docks, and other projects under its control.

(10) To fix the rates for wharfage, dockage, warehousing, storage, landing, and port and terminal charges for the use of the facilities owned or operated by such respective authority.

(11) To solicit air carriers, shipping lines, and other businesses and to do all things necessary or advisable to promote commerce and increase passenger traffic and freight tonnage through the seaport and airports operated by the respective authorities; to publicize, advertise, and promote the activities and projects authorized by this act and to promote the objects of either authority in the manner set forth by resolution of said authority; to make known to the users, potential users, and public in general the advantages, facilities, resources, products, attractions, and attributes of the activities and projects authorized by this act; to further create a favorable climate of opinion concerning the activities and projects authorized and indicated by this act; to cooperate, including expenditure of funds, to and with other agencies, both public and private, in accomplishing the purposes enumerated and indicated by this act; and in furtherance thereof, to authorize expenditures for any and all of the purposes herein enumerated, including, but not limited to, meals, hospitality, and entertainment of persons in the interest of promoting and engendering good will toward the activities and projects herein authorized, provided, however, that funds obtained under chapters 159 and 315 may not be used for such purposes. Whenever an expenditure of funds for any of the foregoing purposes is made by a member or employee of either authority, such authority may reimburse such member or employee therefor, but only after such expenditures have been duly authorized by such authority.

(12) To receive and accept from any federal or state agency grants for or in aid of the construction, improvement, or operation of any project and to receive and accept contributions from any source of money, property, labor, or other things of value.

(13) To make any and all applications required by the Treasury Department and other departments or agencies of the Federal Government as a condition precedent to the establishment within the county of a free port, foreign trade zone, or area for the reception from foreign countries of articles or commerce and to expedite and encourage foreign commerce, and the handling, processing, and delivery thereof into foreign commerce free from the payment of custom duties and to enter into any agreements required by such departments or agencies in connection therewith and to make like applications and agreements with respect to the establishment within said county of one or more bonded warehouses.

(14) To enter into any contract with the State of Florida, the Federal Government, or any agency of said governments, which may be necessary for development of any project related to the authority's basic mission.

(15) To make or cause to be made such surveys, investigations, studies, borings, maps, plans, drawings, and estimates of cost and revenues as either authority may deem necessary and may prepare and adopt a comprehensive plan or plans, for the location, construction, improvement, and development of any project.

(16) To grant exclusive or non-exclusive franchises to persons, firms, or corporations for the operation of restaurants, cafeterias, bars, cigar and cigarette stands, newsstands, buses, taxicabs, vending machines, hotels, motels, service stations, and other concessions in, on, and in connection with any project owned and operated by such authority. In granting such franchises it shall be the duty of the authority to investigate and consider the qualifications and ability of the lessee or concessionaires to provide or perform the contemplated services for the public using the facilities and the revenues which will be derived therefrom by such authority and to exercise sound prudent business judgment on behalf of such authority with respect thereto, calling for bids when practicable and when the interests of the public will best be served by such action.

(17) To enter into contracts with utility companies or others for the supplying by said utility companies or others of water, electricity, or telephone service to or in connection with any project.

(18) To pledge by resolution or contract the revenues arising from the operation of any project or projects owned and operated by such authority, or under its control, to the payment of the cost of operation, maintenance, repair, improvement, extension, or enlargement of the project or projects from the operation of which such revenues are received and for the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued in connection with any such project or projects and to combine for financing purposes any two or more projects constructed or acquired by such authority under the provisions of this act. In any such case the authorities may adopt separate budgets for the operation of such project or projects. In every such case such revenues shall be expended exclusively for the payment of the costs of operation, maintenance, repair, improvement, extension, and enlargement of the project or projects from the operation of which such revenues arise, for the performance of either authority's contracts in connection with such project or projects, and for the payment of principal of premium, if any, and interest requirements of any bonds issued in connection with the project or projects. Any surplus of such funds remaining on hand at the end of any year shall be carried forward and may be expended in the succeeding year for the payment of the costs of operation of such project or projects or for the repair, improvement, or extension thereof as the authorities may determine, unless such surplus has been pledged for the payment of principal of premium, if any, and interest on bonds, as authorized in subsections (1)-(6) of section 4, in which event any such surplus shall be applied in accordance with the resolution pledging the same.

(19) To do all other acts and things necessary or proper in the exercise of the powers herein granted.

(20) To do all acts or things necessary or proper to be and serve as a local governmental body within the meaning of Article VII, Section 10(c)(2) of the State Constitution, or as an Industrial Development Authority under part III, chapter 159, Florida Statutes, with respect to any project as defined therein.

(21) To appoint officers for the administration of criminal justice, as defined by Title 28, Chapter 1, Part 20, Code of Federal Regulations, and required by Part 107 of the Federal Aviation Regulations, at Jacksonville International Airport, Herlong Airport, Craig Airport, and Cecil Field. The Airport Authority shall assume all civil responsibility for the actions of such officers and shall provide for the necessary bond to cover any and all actions at law which might arise from the conduct of such officers within the scope of their employment.

Section 4. Issuance of bonds.—

(1) Each authority is authorized to issue general obligation bonds or revenue bonds of either said authority for the purpose of paying all or a part of the cost of any one or more projects as herein defined, including the cost of enlargement, expansion, or development of such project whether the property used therefor has previously been acquired or not, and the cost of removing therefrom or relocating or reconstructing at another location any buildings, structures, or facilities, which in the opinion of either such authority constitute obstructions or hazards to the safe or efficient operation of any such project and for the purpose of paying off and retiring any bonds issued or assumed under the provisions of this act.

(2) The bonds of each issue shall be authorized by resolution of the issuing authority and shall be dated, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding 40 years from their date or dates, as may be determined by the issuing authority, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the issuing authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing authority prior to the issuance of the bonds. The issuing authority shall determine the form of bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of the bonds and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the state. The resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds shall contain such provisions relating to the use of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds and for the protection and security of holders of the bonds, including their rights and remedies, and the rights, powers, privileges, duties, and obligations of the issuing authority with respect to the same, as shall be determined by the issuing authority. In case any officer whose signature or facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes to the same extent as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the negotiable instruments law of the state. The bonds may be issued in coupon registered or book entry form, as the issuing authority may determine, and provisions may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The issuance of such bonds shall not be subject to any limitations or conditions contained in any other law.

(3) Prior to any public sale of bonds, either authority shall, in addition to any other publication and notice to the financial community, cause notice to be given by publication in a daily newspaper published and having a general circulation in the city that the issuing authority will receive bids for the purchase of the bonds at the office of the issuing authority in the city. Said notice shall be published once not less than 15 days prior to the date set for receiving the bids. Said notice shall specify the amount of the bonds offered for sale, shall state that the bids shall be sealed bids, and shall give the schedule of the maturities of the proposed bonds and such other pertinent information as may be prescribed in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or any resolution subsequent thereto. Bidders may be invited to name the rate or rates of interest which the bonds are to bear or the issuing authority may name rates of interest and invite bids thereon. In addition to publication of notice of the proposed sale, a copy of such advertisement shall be given to the Florida Division of Bond Finance and to at least three recognized bond dealers in the state, not less than 10 days prior to the date set for receiving the bids.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, bonds and refunding bonds issued pursuant to this act shall be sold at public sale and shall be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest true interest cost to the issuing authority. The issuing authority shall reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Notwithstanding the foregoing, bonds and refunding bonds issued pursuant to this act may be sold at private sale at such price or prices as the issuing authority shall determine to be in its best interest. However, any price less than 100 percent of par value shall be subject to section 215.84, Florida Statutes, as it may be amended from time to time. In no event shall said bonds be sold at a net interest cost to the issuing authority in excess of the legal limit, as established by section 215.84, Florida Statutes, or according to said section as it may be amended from time to time. The net interest cost of bonds shall be determined by taking the aggregate amount of interest at the rate or rates specified in the bonds, computed from the date of the bonds to the date of the various stated maturities thereof, and deducting therefrom the amount of any premium offered in excess of the par value of the bonds or adding thereto the amount of any discount offered below the par value of the bonds with interest computed on a 360-day basis. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim bonds may be issued to the purchaser or purchasers of such bonds and may contain such terms and conditions as the authority may determine.

(5) The issuing authority shall require all bidders for said bonds to enclose a certified or bank cashier's check, in the amount of 2 percent of the total par value of the bonds offered for sale, drawn on an incorporated bank or trust company payable unconditionally to the order of the issuing authority, as a guarantee of good faith in the performance of each bid. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders shall be returned immediately upon the award of the bonds and the check of the successful bidder shall be retained by the authority and credited against the full purchase price of the bonds at the time of delivery or retained as and for liquidated damages in case of the failure of such bidder to fulfill the terms of his or her bid.

(6) No general obligation bonds shall be issued by either authority hereunder unless the issuance of such bonds shall have been approved by a majority of the votes cast by qualified voters in an election held for such purpose. Whenever an authority, by resolution, requests the council of the City of Jacksonville to hold such an election, said council shall, on behalf of such authority, hold, conduct, canvass, and announce the results of such election in accordance with the procedure prescribed by law for the issuance of county bonds. The expenses of such election shall be paid by the issuing authority that has requested the election. In no event shall such general obligation bonds be construed or considered to be bonds of the City of Jacksonville or any other municipality but shall be solely bonds of said authority that issues the bonds.

(7) Each authority is authorized to borrow money and to issue notes for any purpose or purposes for which bonds may be issued under the provisions of this act and to refund the same and to issue notes in anticipation of the receipt of the proceeds of the sale of any such bonds.

(8) Subject to the restrictions contained in subsections (2), (3), and (4) of section 4., each authority shall have the power to provide for the issuance of refunding bonds of such authority for the purpose of refunding any revenue bonds or general obligation bonds, or any combination of general obligation or revenue bonds then outstanding which have been assumed by such authority or issued for the purpose of financing the cost of making enlargements, extensions, and improvements to any project acquired, constructed, or operated under the provisions of this act. Said authority is further authorized to provide for the issuance of revenue bonds or general obligation bonds, or any combination thereof, of such authority for the combined purpose of:

(a) Paying the cost of enlargement, extension, reconstruction, or improvement of any project or combination of projects.

(b) Refunding revenue bonds or general obligation bonds, or any combination thereof, which have been assumed by such authority under the provisions of this act which shall then be outstanding and which shall then have matured or be subject to redemption or can be acquired for retirement.

The issuance of such bonds, the maturities or other details thereof, the rights or remedies of the holders thereof, and the rights, powers, privileges, duties, and obligations of the respective authorities with respect to the same shall be set forth in the resolution of the authorities authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

Section 5. Budget and finance.—The fiscal year of each authority shall commence on October 1 of each year and end on the following September 30. Each authority shall prepare and submit its budget to the council of the City of Jacksonville on or before July 1 for the ensuing fiscal year. The council, consistent with the provisions of the Charter of the City of Jacksonville, may increase or decrease the appropriation [budget] requested by each authority on a total basis or a line-by-line basis; however, the appropriation for construction, reconstruction, enlargement, expansion, improvement, or development of any project or projects authorized to be undertaken by the Jacksonville Seaport Authority shall not be reduced below $800,000 for each year that the bonds to which the $800,000 is pledged remain outstanding.

Section 6. Rights of bondholders.—All bonds issued by the City of Jacksonville or the Jacksonville Port Authority related to properties transferred to the authorities and bonds issued under authority of chapter 63-1447, Laws of Florida, remain the liability, responsibility, and obligation of the issuer and the rights of the holders of existing outstanding bonds shall be unimpaired. Rights, duties, and obligations of the authorities with respect to the property transferred to it by the Jacksonville Port Authority are ratified and remain unchanged.

Section 7. Rights of employees.—

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b), all employment rights and employee benefits authorized under section 11, chapter 63-1447, Laws of Florida, as amended, are hereby confirmed, ratified, and continued, notwithstanding the repeal of said chapter 63-1447, Laws of Florida, as amended. In order to preserve the rights of employees of the former Jacksonville Port Authority to continue participation in the Florida Retirement System pursuant to chapter 121, Florida Statutes, each separate authority created by this act shall be a county agency and employees of each such authority shall participate in the Florida Retirement System, notwithstanding any law to the contrary. Those employees of the Jacksonville Port Authority who were assigned to any activity related to the operation of the marine facilities shall become employees of the Jacksonville Seaport Authority. Those employees of the Jacksonville Port Authority who were assigned to any activities related to the operation of any aviation facilities operated by the Jacksonville Port Authority shall be employees of the Jacksonville Airport Authority. Central administrative employees shall be employed by either the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or the Jacksonville Airport Authority. It is expressly provided that none of those employees of the former Jacksonville Port Authority who remain with either the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or the Jacksonville Airport Authority shall lose any rights or benefits of whatsoever kind or nature afforded to them by any law, ordinance, collective bargaining agreement, or existing policy or plan, including, but not limited to, pension benefits by virtue of the change in corporate structure. In order to effectively implement the foregoing, each authority shall perform all functions with regard to its own employees that prior to the operation of the two authorities created by this act were performed by the Jacksonville Port Authority. In order to specifically preserve the rights of employees of the former Jacksonville Port Authority to continue participation in the Florida Retirement System, pursuant to chapter 121, Florida Statutes, each separate authority created by this act shall be a county authority and employees of each such authority who are currently participating in the Florida Retirement System and all employees of each authority after the effective date of this act shall participate in the Florida Retirement System.

(b) The Jacksonville Port Authority firefighters shall become merged into the City of Jacksonville's Fire and Rescue Department and shall become employees of the City of Jacksonville; however, with respect to pension benefits such Jacksonville Port Authority Fire Department employees shall have a one-time option to continue participation in the Florida Retirement System or to participate in the City of Jacksonville Police and Fire Pension Fund. Such option must be exercised no later than November 1, 2001. Upon such merger, firefighting services for the airports owned and operated by the Jacksonville Airport Authority shall be provided by the Fire and Rescue Department of the City of Jacksonville pursuant to a written contract to be entered into by and between the City of Jacksonville and the Jacksonville Airport Authority. Notwithstanding any provision in this act to the contrary, such merger and contract shall become effective October 1, 2001. If any firefighter who has vested in the Florida Retirement System exercises the option to become a member of the City of Jacksonville Police and Fire Pension Fund, such vested time shall not be included in the City of Jacksonville Police and Fire Pension Fund.

Section 8. Cooperation with other units, boards, agencies, and individuals.—Express authority and power is hereby given and granted any county, municipality, drainage district, road and bridge district, school district, or any other political subdivision, board, commission, or individual in, or of, the state to make and enter into with the authorities, contracts, leases, conveyances, or other agreements within the provisions and purposes of this act. The authorities are hereby expressly authorized to make and enter into contracts, leases, conveyances, and other agreements with any political subdivision, agency, or instrumentality of the state and any and all federal agencies, corporations, and individuals for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Section 9. Audits; bonds.—The authorities shall issue quarterly and annually financial reports of their respective operations and shall also cause annual audits to be made of their respective operations and affairs by an independent certified public accountant, in such detail as may be necessary to show the financial operation and status of the authorities, and the same shall be preserved as public records of the authorities. The authorities' records may be audited at any time by the Council Auditor of the City of Jacksonville. Members of said authorities shall be required to give a good and sufficient surety bond in the sum of $50,000, payable to the City of Jacksonville, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duties as members of the authorities. Such bonds shall be approved by and filed with the clerk of the circuit court of Duval County, and the premium or premiums thereon shall be paid by the respective authorities as a necessary expense of said authorities. Each authority shall have power to require their respective managing directors and such others of its employees as they may deem necessary to furnish good and sufficient surety bond in such sum as such authority shall require, conditioned upon the faithful performance of duties, and to pay the premium or premiums thereon as a necessary expense of each said authority.

Section 10. Award of contracts.—

(1) All construction, reconstruction, repairs, or work of any nature made by the authorities, where the entire costs, value, or amount of such construction, reconstruction, repairs, or work, including the labor and materials, exceeds $12,000, except construction, reconstruction, repairs, or work done by employees of such authorities or by labor supplied under agreement with Federal Government or state government, with supplies and materials purchased as hereinafter provided, shall be done only under contract or contracts to be entered into by the authorities with the lowest responsible bidder upon proper terms, after due public notice has been given asking for competitive bids as hereinafter provided. Each authority shall keep a current list of responsible bidders and, whenever the authorities shall award a contract, the bidder shall come from such list. No contract shall be entered into for construction, improvement, or repair of any project, or any part thereof, unless the contractor shall have given an undertaking with a sufficient surety or sureties, approved by either authority, and in an amount fixed by either authority, for the faithful performance of the contract. All such contracts shall provide, among other things, that the person or corporation entering into such contract with each authority will pay for all materials furnished and services rendered for the performance of the contract and that any person or corporation furnishing such materials or rendering such services may maintain an action to recover for the same against the obligor in the undertaking, as though such person or corporation were named therein, provided the action is brought within 1 year after the time the cause of action accrued. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the power of either authority to construct any project, or any part thereof, or any addition, betterment, or extension thereto, directly by the officers, agents, and employees of such authority, or otherwise, other than by contract.

(2) All supplies, equipment, machinery, and materials, costing $12,000 or more, shall be purchased by the authorities only after due advertisement as provided hereinafter. The authorities shall accept the lowest bid or bids, kind, quality, and material being equal but the authorities shall have the right to reject any or all bids or select a single item from any bid. The provision as to bidding shall not apply to the purchase of patented and manufactured products offered for sale in a noncompetitive market or solely by a manufacturer's authorized dealer.

(3) The term "advertisement" or "due public notice" wherever used in this section means a notice published at least once a week for 2 consecutive weeks before the award of any contract, in a daily newspaper published and having a general circulation in the county, and in such other newspapers or publications as each authority shall deem advisable.

(4) Subject to the aforesaid provisions, the authorities may, but without intending by this provision to limit any powers of either authority, enter into and carry out such contract or establish or comply with such rules and regulations concerning labor and materials and other related matters in connection with any project, or portion thereof, as the authorities may deem desirable or as may be requested by the Federal Government or state government assisting in the financing of its projects, seaport facilities, airport facilities, and facilities related thereto, or any part thereof, provided the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to any case in which an authority has taken over by transfer or assignment any contract assigned to it or assumed by it in connection with the transfer of city and county properties authorized under the provisions of sections 11 and 12, or to any contract in connection with projects which an authority may have had transferred to it by any persons or private corporations, and further provided the provisions of this section shall not apply to any contract or agreement between an authority and any engineers, architects, attorneys, or other professional services or to any contract or agreement relating to fiscal advisors, fiscal agents, or investment bankers, relating to the financing of projects herein authorized.

Section 11. Execution of instruments; examination of claims.—All instruments in writing necessary to be signed by either authority shall be executed by its chair and secretary. Either authority may, by resolution, designate one or more officers, members, employees, or agents of such authority to execute instruments in writing where it is necessary that such instruments be signed by either authority. No expenditure of funds of either authority shall be made except by voucher approved by the spending authority and signed by its chair and secretary, or by one or more officers, members, or employees of such authority as such authority may designate by resolution. The foregoing authority of the chair may be exercised by the vice chair in the absence of the chair and the foregoing authority of the secretary may be exercised by an assistant secretary designated by each authority in the absence of the secretary. Each authority shall provide for the examination of all payrolls, bills, and other claims and demands against either authority to determine before the same are paid that they are duly authorized, in proper form, correctly computed, legally due and payable, and that the authority has funds on hand to make payment.

Section 12. Transfer of assets and liabilities.—The Jacksonville Port Authority shall take all actions necessary to convey, assign, transfer, and set over:

(1) All of the right, title, and interests of the Jacksonville Port Authority in and to its marine port facilities and its airport facilities, including, without limitation, its real and personal property and any interests therein, books, records, contracts, leases, and all other property of any kind or nature related to the operation of the marine port activities and airport activities, by operation of this act and without further act, to the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or Jacksonville Airport Authority, respectively, depending upon the operation or jurisdiction of each such authority.

(2) All contracts and leases relating to Jacksonville Port Authority's marine port operations and airport operations, respectively, shall, by operation of this act and without further act, become contracts and leases of the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or the Jacksonville Airport Authority, respectively, depending upon the operating jurisdiction of each successor authority.

(3) All accounts receivable, accounts payable, and cash on hand relating to the Jacksonville Port Authority's marine port operations and airport operations shall, by operation of this act, and without further act, be transferred or delivered to the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or the Jacksonville Airport Authority, respectively, depending upon the operating jurisdiction of each such authority.

(4) All operating expenses, including taxes of all kinds and all revenue and expense accruals of Jacksonville Port Authority's marine operations and airport operations shall be transferred to the Jacksonville Seaport Authority or to the Jacksonville Airport Authority, respectively, depending upon the operating jurisdiction of each such authority, on the effective date at transfer.

The conveyances specified in this section shall be effective as of October 1, 2001.

Section 13. Chapter 315, Florida Statutes, relating to port facilities financing, also applicable.—The provisions of chapter 315, Florida Statutes, relating to port facilities financing, shall also be applicable to the Jacksonville Seaport Authority.

Section 14. Declaration of purposes.—The authorities created by this act and the purposes which they are intended to serve are hereby found to be for a county and public purpose. Such authorities are political subdivisions of the State of Florida, local governmental bodies within the meaning of Article VII, Section 10(c)(2) of the State Constitution, and, subject to proper resolution and establishment by the council of the City of Jacksonville pursuant to section 159.45, Florida Statutes, an Industrial Development Authority under part III, chapter 159, Florida Statutes, with respect to any project as defined therein. Nothing in this act is intended to create entities which are exempt from ad valorem taxation.

Section 2. Section 1. Construction.—The powers of each authority created by this act shall be construed liberally in favor of each such authority. No listing of powers included in this act is intended to be exclusive or restrictive and the specific mention of, or failure to mention, particular powers in this act shall not be construed as limiting in any way the general powers of either respective authority as stated in section 3. It is the intent of this act to grant each authority full power and right to exercise all authority necessary for the effective operation and conduct of each such authority. It is further intended that each authority should have all implied powers necessary or incidental to carrying out the expressed powers and the expressed purposes for which each such authority is created. The fact that this article specifically states that either authority possesses a certain power does not mean that either such authority must exercise such power unless this article specifically so requires.

Section 2. Severability clause.—The provisions of this act are severable and it is the intention to confer the whole or any part of the powers provided for herein and if any of the provisions of this act shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

(Amendment Bar Code: 580173)

Amendment 1—

Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Pursuant to section 189.429, Florida Statutes, this act constitutes the codification of all special acts relating to the Escambia County Utilities Authority. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this law to provide a single, comprehensive special act charter for the authority, including all current legislative powers granted to the authority by its several legislative enactments, to repeal certain obsolete provisions, to restore words inadvertently omitted in the preparation of Chapter 97-364, Laws of Florida, and to delete gender-specific references.

Section 2. Chapters 92-248, 93-365, 95-497, and 97-364, Laws of Florida, relating to the Escambia County Utilities Authority, are codified, reenacted, amended, and repealed as herein provided.

Section 3. The charter for the Escambia County Utilities Authority is re-created and reenacted to read:

Section 1. Authority created.—There is hereby created and established a local governmental body, corporate and politic, to be known as the “Escambia County Utilities Authority,” hereinafter referred to as the “authority.” The authority is hereby declared to be an independent special district.

Section 2. Legislative findings.—The Legislature finds and declares that the health, welfare, and safety of the inhabitants of Escambia County and of the City of Pensacola would be enhanced by the consolidation of certain utility systems and the creation of an independent authority for the purposes hereinafter enumerated: that the consolidation of said utility systems will serve a public purpose; that the consolidated systems will be able to utilize economies of scale and thereby achieve cost savings to the public; that the increased size of the combined utility systems will enhance the likelihood of more favorable financing for the city and county; that the present sewer system of the county is near maximum capacity, while the sewer system of the city presently has excess capacity and is underutilized; and that the consolidation of utility systems may eliminate duplicative staff functions and positions.

Section 3. Purposes.—The authority is created for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, financing, owning, managing, providing, promoting, improving, expanding, maintaining, operating, regulating, franchising, and otherwise having plenary authority with respect to certain utility systems within the territorial limits of Escambia County, Florida, and areas adjacent thereto. It is further the purpose of this act to repose in the authority all powers with respect to water, sewer, and such other additional utilities as may be hereafter designated as provided in sections 5(c) and 7(c) herein, which are now, in the future could be, or could have been, but for this act, exercised by the City of Pensacola or Escambia County, Florida.

Section 4. Governing body.—

(a) The governing body of the authority shall consist of five members. Members shall be elected by a majority of their electors in partisan elections utilizing the primary and general election system provided for in chapter 100, Florida Statutes. Candidates shall qualify for nomination to such offices in the manner provided in chapter 99, Florida Statutes, for the qualification of candidates for the office of county commissioner, and shall qualify with the Supervisor of Elections of Escambia County.

(b) Members shall be elected, in the primary and general elections held in 1984, by districts under the district plan of the Board of County Commissioners of Escambia County (hereinafter referred to as the “Board”). Each member shall be an elector of the district from which he or she is elected and shall be elected by the qualified electors of that respective district. Members elected for Districts Two and Four at the general election held in 1984 shall be elected to a 2-year term. Members elected for Districts One, Three, and Five at the general election held in 1984 shall serve for a 4-year term. Thereafter each member shall be elected for a term of 4 years. Beginning in 1996, the term of office of each member shall commence on the second Tuesday following the general election in which such member is elected. Upon the expiration of a term of office, a successor to the office shall be elected as designated in this paragraph; however, upon the occasion of a vacancy for any elected office which vacancy occurs prior to the expiration of the then present term of that office, a successor shall be appointed by the Governor and the successor shall be a resident of the district in which the vacancy occurred. Any person appointed to fill a vacancy shall be appointed to serve only for the unexpired term and until a successor is duly elected.

(c) Members shall be eligible for reelection.

(d) Before entering upon his or her duties, each member shall take an oath to administer the duties of office faithfully and impartially, and a record of such oath shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

(e) As compensation for performance of duties and responsibilities set forth herein, members of the authority and their successors shall receive from the authority monthly an amount to be determined by majority vote of the members of the authority, not to exceed the amount of compensation received monthly by members of the District School Board of Escambia County, and shall also receive from the authority $200 per month to be used in defraying regular expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of office. Members may receive reimbursement from the authority for additional, unusual, or extraordinary expenses upon approval by the authority.

(f) The authority shall elect a chair and a vice chair from the members of the authority, each of whom shall serve for 1 year or until his or her successor is chosen. The chair, or the vice chair in the chair's absence, shall preside at all meetings of the authority and shall perform such additional duties prescribed by the members or in the bylaws of the authority. The authority shall hold regular meetings at least monthly at such times and places as it may designate and may hold more frequent special meetings. A majority of the membership shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of meeting and transacting business. Each member of the authority shall have one vote. The authority may adopt bylaws and may make all policies, procedures, rules, and regulations not inconsistent with this act which it may deem necessary respecting the conduct of its affairs, including, but not limited to, the operation of its utility systems. Such policies, procedures, rules, and regulations shall provide for notice of all public meetings and shall provide that an agenda shall be prepared by the authority in time to ensure that a copy of the agenda will be available at least 3 days before any regular meeting of the authority. After the agenda has been made available, change shall be only for good cause, as determined by the person designated to preside at the meeting, and stated in the record. Special or emergency meetings may be called by the chair upon no less than 24 hours' notice. The authority shall publish and thereafter codify and index all rules, regulations, and resolutions formulated, adopted, or used by the authority in the discharge of its functions. Such rules, regulations, and resolutions shall be made available for public inspection and copying, at no more than cost. The authority shall not be deemed an “agency” within the meaning of chapter 120, Florida Statutes. The authority shall be deemed to be an “agency” within the meaning of chapter 119, Florida Statutes, and all records of the authority shall be open to the public. The authority shall be deemed an “agency” or “authority of the county” for purposes of section 286.011, Florida Statutes, the “Government in the Sunshine Law.” In addition to the provisions of the Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees, part III of chapter 112, Florida Statutes, no consultant to the authority shall have or hold any employment or contractual relationship with a business entity other than the authority in connection with any contract in which the consultant personally participated through decision, approval, disapproval, recommendation, rendering of advice, or investigation while the consultant. However, this provision shall not preclude the award of any contract to a consultant if such contract is awarded after open competitive bidding, and if the consultant submits the low bid.

Section 5. Powers.—

(a) The authority shall have all powers and authorities necessary, convenient, or desirable to accomplish the purposes of this act. In furtherance thereof, the authority shall have:

(1)a. The power to borrow and expend money to pay for any of the purposes of the authority, and to issue its bonds, notes in anticipation of the issuance of bonds, revenue certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, including obligations issued to refund or refinance same, and to pledge for the repayment of same any revenues of the authority, including any revenues provided to the authority by governmental or other entities for pledge by the authority as security for payment of such obligations, all in the manner and subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by resolution of the authority, including, but not limited to, the powers granted under chapter 125, part I of chapter 153, part I of chapter 159, part II of chapter 166, and chapter 170, Florida Statutes, and chapter 57-1313, Laws of Florida. The bonds, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness authorized to be issued by this act may be validated in the manner prescribed in chapter 75, Florida Statutes.

Any complaint for validation permitted by the preceding sentence shall be filed in the Circuit Court of Escambia County. The authority may enter into trust agreements with banks or other corporate entities possessing trust powers within or without the State of Florida. The authority may create liens upon or security interests in its assets, properties, funds, or revenues, of whatever kind or nature, and may specify the priority or order of such liens or security interests. Such creation and specification of priority or ordering may be made by resolution of the authority or in a trust agreement to which the authority is a party. The passage of such resolution or the execution of such trust agreement is sufficient to the creation and specification of priority and order of such liens and security interests, and it shall not be necessary to comply with the requirements of the Uniform Commercial Code respecting the filing of a financing statement to perfect a security interest granted by the authority.

b. In the exercise of the powers granted by this paragraph, the authority shall comply in all respects with the requirements of chapter 218, Florida Statutes, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(2) All power and authority heretofore possessed pursuant to law, ordinance, franchise, or otherwise by Escambia County, the Board, the City of Pensacola, or the City Council of the City of Pensacola (hereinafter referred to as the "Council"), or hereafter granted by law, ordinance, franchise, or otherwise to any county, municipality, special district, or other unit of local government insofar as such powers and authority are related to sewage collection and disposal, and water supply, including, but not limited to, the powers granted under chapter 125, chapter 127, part I of chapter 153, part I of chapter 159, part I of chapter 163, part II of chapter 166, chapter 170, and chapter 180, Florida Statutes, and chapter 57-1313, Laws of Florida.

(3) All powers granted to municipalities with regard to sewage collection and disposal and water supply granted to municipalities pursuant to chapters 170 and 180, Florida Statutes, including the issuance of bonds or notes in anticipation thereof payable from special assessments under chapter 170, Florida Statutes.

(4) The power to establish service districts and reasonable rate classifications for purposes of providing utilities services. The authority shall endeavor to provide that the costs of any improvements to or expansions of the systems are borne by those users of the systems who benefit from such improvements or expansions.

(5) The power to set, fix, pledge to establish, or establish, levy, or impose assessments, rates, fees, and other charges for the use of and for the services furnished or to be furnished by the authority's systems, and to alter and amend same from time to time, which assessments, rates, fees, and charges, together with other revenues and receipts, shall result in the authority's receiving or possessing an amount not less than is required to operate and maintain a self-liquidating or self-sustaining utility system.

(6) The power of eminent domain, as provided by general law, to carry out the purposes described in this act. As a condition precedent to instituting eminent domain proceedings, the authority shall first receive the approval of the governing body (either the Board or the Council) of the jurisdiction in which the subject property is located.

(7) The power to apply for and accept grants, loans, and subsidies from any governmental entity for the construction, operation, and maintenance of the systems, facilities, or functions under jurisdiction of the authority, and to comply with all requirements and conditions imposed in connection therewith.

(8) The power and authority to perform any of its functions by lease or contract with any other public or private entity.

(9) All other powers, not expressly prohibited by the United States or Florida Constitutions or by general law, necessary to effectuate and carry out the purposes and intent of this act.

(10) All privileges, immunities, and exemptions accorded political subdivisions of this state under the provisions of the constitution and laws of the state. Neither the members of the authority nor any person executing any contract or obligation on its behalf shall be personally liable or accountable thereon or by reason thereof.

(11) Only those powers granted by general law to counties or municipalities with respect to mandatory sewer taps or sewer utilization or with respect to the acquisition of privately owned water systems.

(12) The power to purchase, own, convey, sell, lease, rent, or encumber air space, development rights, tower space, or any other interests in property above the surface of any land pursuant to such terms and conditions as the authority in its discretion may determine.

(13) The power to provide any and all utilities services authorized by this act to areas outside the territorial limits of Escambia County, but adjacent thereto, if capacity is available.

(14) The power to establish civil penalties, including the imposition of fines, for the violation of rules or regulations of the authority pertaining to the disposal of waste or the use of the authority's systems, facilities, or services. The authority may enforce the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this section, by suit for injunction or other appropriate action in the courts of the state.

(15) All powers granted to municipalities and to counties with respect to membership and participation in and ownership of any separate legal entity created for the purposes of any financing program or loan pool as set forth in section 163.01(7)(d), Florida Statutes, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(b) Any power granted herein may be exercised by resolution of the authority duly adopted, and any such resolution shall be recorded in the minutes of the authority.

(c)(1) If the authority determines that it is necessary or appropriate for the authority to provide, operate, or maintain resource recovery systems or solid waste collection, distribution, or disposal systems, the authority may specify such additional utility systems by resolution. Upon approval of such resolution by the governmental body of the jurisdiction which such other additional utility system or systems shall serve, the authority, with respect to these specified utility systems, shall be vested with all power set forth herein or in general law that would, but for the provisions of this act, apply to such specified utility systems. All powers granted to the authority by this act regarding such specified utilities systems shall only apply to areas outside the corporate limits of the city unless the Council, by resolution, irrevocably relinquishes its powers to provide, operate, or maintain such specified utilities systems or any one of them within the corporate limits of the city.

(2) In providing, operating, or maintaining resource recovery systems or solid waste collection, distribution, or disposal systems, the authority shall use the most cost-effective means of providing such systems and is encouraged to contract with private persons on a competitive basis for any and all such systems in order to ensure that such services are provided on the most cost-effective basis. In accordance with section 403.7063, Florida Statutes, the authority shall not discriminate against private persons who provide resource recovery systems or solid waste collection, distribution, or disposal systems.

(3) The authority shall seek competitive bids for all construction-related activities pertaining to resource recovery systems or solid waste collection, distribution, or disposal systems when the estimated total cost of construction will exceed $5,000.

(d) No listing of powers included in this act is intended to be exclusive or restrictive. On the contrary, it is intended that the authority should have all implied powers necessary or incidental to carrying out the expressed powers and the expressed purposes for which the authority is created. These implied powers include, but are not limited to, the authority to employ personnel, to borrow and expend money, to enter into contractual obligations, to employ legal counsel, and to purchase, lease, sell, or exchange real or personal property. The fact that this act specifically states that the authority possesses a certain power does not mean that the authority must exercise such power unless the act specifically so requires. The authority's power to levy special assessments shall not be deemed to be the power to levy taxes.

(e) Except as is hereinafter provided, nothing herein shall be construed to affect any privately owned water or sewer utility operating within Escambia County on August 1, 1981, under any franchise, permit, or other authorization from the Board. The Board shall continue to exercise such powers, duties, and functions with regard to such privately owned utilities to the same extent as exercised or allowed prior to August 1, 1981. Any rates set or approved for any privately owned utility by the Board between August 1, 1981, and the effective date of chapter 83-404, Laws of Florida, shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be subject to challenge because of any provisions of chapter 81-376, Laws of Florida. The Board and the authority are authorized to utilize the provisions of section 367.081(4)(b), Florida Statutes, as it may be amended, and the rules of the Florida Public Service Commission adopted pursuant thereto, for the purpose of automatically increasing or decreasing the rates of any privately owned utility over which the Board exercises ratemaking authority or approval, subject to the limitations of such statutes and rules. Any publicly owned or privately owned water utility operating within Escambia County on or after August 1, 1981, under any franchise, permit, or other authorization from the authority, the Board, or the state shall:

(1) Promptly provide to the authority as soon as it is available a copy of its complete water service consumption information with regard to water service customers of such utility who are also sewer service or solid waste service customers of the authority or of an entity with which the authority has an agreement under subsection (i); and

(2) Upon certification by the authority that any such customer has failed to pay charges for sewer service or solid waste service furnished by the authority or by an entity with which the authority has an agreement under subsection (i) and has been given notice and a reasonable opportunity to pay such charges, discontinue furnishing water to such customer and disconnect the water supply system of such customer until all such charges and other charges, including interest and charges for the shutting off and discontinuance and the restoration of water service, are paid in full.

For purposes of interpreting Florida Administrative Code Rule 25-30.320, the authority shall be considered an "affiliated utility" of any such water utility. The authority shall promptly reimburse to such cooperating water utility the reasonable cost of providing a copy of its water service billing information and of disconnecting its water service.

(f) The authority shall enter into an agreement with each entity furnishing solid waste collection service to customers who are required by the Board to subscribe for such service. Upon certification to the authority by such entity that a customer has failed to pay charges for solid waste service furnished by it and has been given notice and a reasonable opportunity to pay such charges, the authority:

(1) Shall, if the customer is a customer of water from the authority, discontinue furnishing water to such customer and disconnect the water supply of such customer until all such charges, including interest and charges for the shutting off and discontinuance and the restoration of water service, are paid in full; or

(2) Shall certify the information provided by such entity to any utility providing water service to the customer, if the customer is also a customer of water from the water utility. The entity shall promptly reimburse the authority for amounts paid to a water utility under subsection (e) on its behalf.

Section 6. Public purpose.—The Legislature finds and declares that the creation of the authority and the carrying out of its purposes are in all respects for the benefit of the people of this state, Escambia County, and the City of Pensacola; that the authority is performing an essential governmental function; that all property of such authority is and shall in all respects be considered to be public property, and title to such property shall be held by the authority for the benefit of the public; that the use of such property, until disposed of upon such terms as the authority may deem just, shall be for essential public and governmental purposes; and that all bonds, notes, revenue certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness and interest or income thereon and all of the property, facilities, services, and activities of the authority are declared to be nontaxable for any and all purposes by the state or any unit of government herein to the same extent as if owned or issued by or on behalf of a county or municipality of the state.

Section 7. Transfer of assets and liabilities.—

(a) The City of Pensacola and Escambia County are hereby specifically authorized and directed to convey to the authority the water and sewer systems of each, and the authority is authorized and directed to accept such systems, upon payment to the City of Pensacola of $10 million as fair compensation for the loss of revenues from its water systems, plus the amount necessary to defease all outstanding obligations of the city with respect to its water and sewer systems and upon payment to the county of the amount necessary to defease all outstanding obligations of the county with respect to its water and sewer systems. However, if adequate provisions can be made to protect the rights of the county and the holders of the obligations relating to the county's Water and Sewer District Number One, then such obligations shall be transferred to the authority; otherwise, the authority shall pay to the county such amount as is necessary to defease the outstanding obligations of Water and Sewer District Number One. Furthermore, the rights of the holders of outstanding obligations issued by the City of Pensacola and Escambia County to finance their respective water and sewer systems shall be protected and shall not be deemed to be abridged or denied by the transfer herein authorized. Upon the transfer of any such systems to the authority, adequate provision shall be made for the payment of such obligations; whereupon, all rights of the holder in the property of the city or county or authority shall terminate. Upon payment of the compensation mentioned above, the city and county shall transfer to the authority all properties, both real and personal, improvements, facilities, and assets of the city's and county's water and sewer systems. To consummate the sale as aforementioned, revenue bonds shall be issued and sold by the authority as soon as practicable after the authority organizes and commences its activities.

(b) When such transfers have been completed, the authority shall assume all rights and obligations of ownership and management of the water and sewer systems of the City of Pensacola and Escambia County. Any and all legal commitments, contracts, or other obligations heretofore entered into or assumed by the City of Pensacola or Escambia County in connection with the programs, activities, or functions transferred are hereby charged to and shall be performed by the authority. However, accounts receivable and debts of the city and the county that are due and payable prior to the date of such transfer shall remain the property or the obligation of the city or the county.

(c) Upon majority vote of the authority and of the governmental body affected, and upon payment of fair compensation by the authority, such governmental body shall be authorized to transfer to the authority, and the authority shall be authorized to accept, any resource recovery system or solid waste collection, distribution, or disposal system of such governmental body. The amount of such compensation shall be agreed upon by the governmental body and the authority. However, the rights of the holders of any outstanding bonds, notes, revenue certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness issued to finance such system shall be protected and shall not be deemed to be abridged or denied by the transfer herein authorized. Nothing herein contained shall preclude the limitation or alteration of any and all such rights of such holders if and when adequate provision shall be made for the retirement of such bonds, notes, revenue certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness.

(d) The City of Pensacola, Escambia County, or any other governmental entity shall be authorized in its discretion to cooperate with or contract with the authority, on any matter necessary, incidental, or convenient, for such funding as will effectuate the purposes of this act, including, but not limited to, agreements authorizing the pledge of any legally available revenues as security for and for payment of any bonds, notes, revenue certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness of the authority, interest or redemption premium thereon, and other necessary expenses or costs in connection with such bonds, notes, revenue certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness. Such legally available revenues may be so provided, used, or pledged, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law; provided, however, that ad valorem taxes may be so provided and used only after full compliance with the Constitution of the State of Florida, and provided further that nothing herein shall be deemed or operate to impair the rights of the holders of any outstanding obligations secured by such revenues, until such time as provision for payment of such obligations shall have been made.

Section 8. Franchise fees.—The Council is hereby authorized to impose a franchise fee upon the authority system; provided, however, that the authority is authorized to pass on said fee only to in-city users of the system, which shall be reflected on the city bills.

Section 9. Rate setting procedure.—

(a) The authority shall fix the initial schedule of assessments, rates, fees, and other charges for the use of and for the services furnished or to be furnished by the authority's facilities, to be paid by the owner, tenant, or occupant of each lot or parcel of property which may be connected with and use any such facility by or through any part of the water, or other additional utility systems of the authority.

(b) After the system or systems shall have been in operation, the authority may revise such schedule of assessments, rates, fees, and charges from time to time. Such assessments, rates, fees, and charges shall be so fixed and revised as to provide funds, with other funds available for such purposes, sufficient at all times to pay the cost of maintaining, repairing, and operating the system or systems, including the reserves for such purposes and for replacements and depreciation and necessary extensions, to pay the principal of and the interest on any bonds as the same shall become due and the reserves therefor, and to provide a margin of safety for making such payments, all in accordance with section 5(a)(5). The authority shall charge and collect the assessments, rates, fees, and charges so fixed or revised.

(c) Such assessments, rates, fees, and charges shall be just and equitable and may be based or computed upon the quantity of water consumed, upon the number and size of sewer connections, upon the number and kind of plumbing fixtures in use in the premises connected with the sewer system, upon the number or average number of persons residing or working in or otherwise connected with such premises, upon any other factor affecting the use of the facilities furnished, or upon any combination of the foregoing factors. Prior to fixing or revising such schedule of rates, fees, and charges, the authority shall cause to be prepared a statement of financial impact. Such statement shall be made available to the public during the rate-making procedure.

(d) In cases where the amount of water furnished to any building or premises is such that it imposes an unreasonable burden upon the water system, an additional charge may be made therefor, or the authority may, if it deems it advisable, require the owners or occupants of such building or premises to reduce the amount of water consumed thereon in a manner to be specified by the authority, or the authority may refuse to furnish water to such building or premises.

(e) In cases where the character of the sewage from any manufacturing or industrial plant or any building or premises is such that it imposes an unreasonable burden upon any sewage disposal system, an additional charge may be made therefor, or the authority may, if it deems it advisable, require such manufacturing or industrial plant or such building or premises to treat such sewage in such manner as shall be specified by the authority before discharging such sewage into any sewer lines owned or maintained by the authority.

(f) The authority may charge any owner or occupant of any building or premises receiving the services of the facilities herein provided such initial installation or connection charge or fee as the authority may determine to be just and reasonable.

(g)(1) Except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (2), no assessments, rates, fees, or charges shall be fixed under the foregoing provisions of this section until after a public hearing at which all of the users of the authority's facilities and owners, tenants, and occupants of property served or to be served thereby and all others interested shall have an opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed assessments, rates, fees, and charges. After the adoption by the authority of a resolution setting forth the preliminary schedule or schedules fixing such assessments, rates, fees, and charges, notice of such public hearing setting forth the schedule or schedules of assessments, rates, fees, and charges shall be given:

a. By publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the affected area;

b. By mail to all persons and organizations that have made requests for advance notice of the authority's proceedings; and

c. By posting in appropriate places so that affected persons may be duly notified.

Such publication, mailing, and posting of notice shall occur at least 14 days prior to the public hearing. Such hearing may be adjourned from time to time. After such hearing, such preliminary schedule or schedules, either as originally adopted or as modified or amended, shall be adopted and put into effect. The assessments, rates, fees, or charges so fixed for any users or property served shall be extended to cover any additional users or property thereafter served that fall within the same class or classes without the necessity of any hearing or notice.

(2) The authority may fix the assessments, rates, fees, and charges to be paid by any such user, owner, tenant, or occupant as the authority reasonably finds to be unique with respect to its use of the authority's systems or facilities. Such assessments, rates, fees, and charges may be fixed by resolution adopted at any regular meeting, or any special meeting of the authority called for that purpose, and such resolution shall state the basis for such finding.

(3) A copy of the schedule or schedules of such assessments, rates, fees, and charges as finally fixed in such resolution shall be kept on file in the headquarters of the authority and shall be open to inspection by all parties interested.

(4) Any change or revision of any assessments, rates, fees, or charges may be made in the same manner as such assessments, rates, fees, or charges were originally established as hereinabove provided.

Section 10. Personnel.—

(a) The authority is empowered to appoint, remove, and suspend employees or agents of the authority and fix their compensation within the guidelines established by the Escambia County Civil Service Rules.

(b) The authority may provide social security for its employees pursuant to the provisions of chapter 650, Florida Statutes, and may bring its employees under the Florida Retirement System, the State and County Officers and Employees Retirement System, or any other qualified retirement program.

(c) On the effective date of the transfer of assets set forth in section 7, all employees of the Escambia County Department of Utilities and of the City of Pensacola Department of Utilities that theretofore had been assigned to the Escambia Water and Sewer Utilities Authority created by virtue of that certain interlocal agreement dated November 25, 1980, and any other such employee who may be designated by the city or the county prior to the effective date of the transfer of assets referred to above, shall be transferred to the authority and shall continue without loss of benefits as employees of the authority.

(d) Employees who are transferred to the authority and who are members of the retirement systems available to employees of the City of Pensacola or Escambia County shall not lose those pension or retirement rights or any reserves accrued to their benefit during the period of their employment by the city or the county. Such employees may elect to retain the pension and retirement rights accrued during the period of their employment by the city or the county. Any employee so electing shall give written notice of his or her election, within 30 days or such longer period of time determined by the authority after the effective date of the transfer, to the City Manager of the City of Pensacola or to the County Administrator of Escambia County, as appropriate, who shall then process the notice. In the event any employees elect to retain their pension and retirement rights accrued during the period of their employment with the city or the county, or prior to such election, the authority shall pay into the appropriate retirement system during the period that such employees remain as authority employees, such sums of money as are paid by the city or the county for the benefit of such employees in order to guarantee their continuing participation in such retirement program. The authority may make appropriate deductions from the employees' salaries to preserve their retirement benefits.

(e) Employees who, prior to being transferred to the authority, were members of the general pension system of the City of Pensacola and who do not elect to continue to accrue additional rights to benefits thereunder shall be entitled to the same rights under such system as would be afforded to persons who had voluntarily left the employ of the City of Pensacola as of September 30, 1981. Such rights shall be determined in accordance with the special laws governing such system, and shall include, but shall not be limited to, the right to receive a pension effective as of September 30, 1981, or such later date as the employee attains the age or length of service as an employee of the City of Pensacola as is required for eligibility to receive a pension, to retain vested rights, or to withdraw contributions, depending on the employee's length of service as of September 30, 1981. The enjoyment of such rights shall not be deemed to be a change of benefits within the meaning of section 112.63(3), Florida Statutes. The payment of such benefits as may be payable on account of service as an employee of the City of Pensacola shall be the obligation of the City of Pensacola, through its general pension and retirement fund.

(f) Employees of the authority are subject to the civil service system of Escambia County and to the policies and rules of the Civil Service Board.

Section 11. Personnel appeals board.—

(a) There shall be appointed a personnel appeals board comprised of two members appointed by the authority, two members chosen by employees of the authority classified below the level of department head, and one member appointed by the other four members. The members of the board shall serve a term of 1 year. An appointment to a vacant position on the board shall be filled in the manner of the original appointment to that position. The board shall hear appeals from suspensions, demotions, or dismissals or of employees of the authority classified below the level of department head and not designated as other key staff personnel by the authority as provided in section 13. The decisions of the board on such appeals shall be final, subject to review by the Circuit Court of Escambia County. The board may investigate and make recommendations to the executive director of the authority on major policy and procedural questions relating to personnel management and on individual grievances by employees. However, the recommendations of the board on such matters shall be advisory only. The board may employ legal counsel, and a reasonable budget for such purpose shall be provided by the authority. The executive director of the authority shall provide the administrative services required by the board.

(b) Notwithstanding anything provided herein or in any special or general act to the contrary, the rights and benefits herein granted shall be in lieu of and substitution for any rights and benefits such employees may have had under any civil service or personnel system of the City of Pensacola or Escambia County.

Section 12. Process and procedure.—

(a) Any person wishing to appeal an action of the authority that directly affects his or her substantial interests may file a petition for review within 10 days of the date the complained of action is taken. The authority shall consider such petitions for review and shall take action at a public meeting to grant or deny such petitions within 40 days of receipt.

(b) If the petition is granted, the petitioner, or his or her counsel, shall be afforded an opportunity, at a mutually convenient time and place and after reasonable written notice, to present to the authority or its designee written or oral evidence in opposition to the authority's action. If a material issue of disputed fact is involved, the authority shall appoint a hearing officer to preside. The hearing officer shall hear the evidence and shall prepare recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law for approval of the authority.

(c) Decisions of the authority shall be in writing and shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law. A person aggrieved by a decision of the authority shall have the same rights and remedies that would have been available to him or her under general law if the action complained of had been taken by Escambia County or the City of Pensacola.

Section 13. Executive director.—The authority shall employ and fix the compensation of an executive director, who shall manage the affairs of the utilities systems under the supervision of the authority and direct the activities of the employees of the authority. The executive director shall devote his or her entire working time to the performance of his or her duties and not have outside employment or business. The executive director shall be a college graduate. The executive director must either possess a degree in science, engineering, business management, or public administration or, alternatively, must be a licensed and registered engineer. The executive director shall have at least 6 years of experience in the field of engineering, operations, or management of a utility system of size comparable to or larger than the water and sewer system of the City of Pensacola in 1981. The authority may allow the substitution of additional years of administrative or management experience in lieu of the specific educational or professional requirements set forth above. The executive director, the assistant executive director, the department heads, and such other key staff personnel so designated by the authority shall not be included within any civil service system or be under the jurisdiction of the personnel appeals board.

Section 14. Fiscal year and budget.—The fiscal year of the authority shall begin on the first day of October and end on the last day of September of the following year. Prior to the beginning of each fiscal year, the authority shall adopt an annual budget that shall be balanced and that shall detail the anticipated expenses and revenues of the authority for the forthcoming fiscal year.

Section 15. Execution of documents; payment of bills.—All instruments in writing necessary to be executed by the authority shall be executed by the executive director upon authorization by the authority or by such other officer, agent, or employee of the authority as it may by resolution designate. The authority shall provide for the examination of all payrolls, bills, and other claims and demands against the authority to determine, before the same are paid, that they are duly authorized, in proper form, correctly computed, and legally due and payable and that the authority has funds on hand to make payment.

Section 16. Management efficiency audit.—The authority shall contract for a management efficiency audit by a private firm within 1 year of the effective date of the act, and at intervals of at least 3 years thereafter, to review program results and make recommendations for the proper, efficient, and economical operation and maintenance of the utilities systems, facilities, and functions under supervision of the authority.

Section 17. Citizens' advisory committee.—The authority shall make provision for and appoint a citizens' advisory committee or committees. The appointees to such committees shall have no personal or business ties with the authority that could be construed as a conflict of interest.

Section 18. Enforcement and penalties.—Any violation of rules or regulations of the authority pertaining to the disposal of waste or the use of the authority's systems, facilities, or services is declared to be a noncriminal violation and shall be punishable by fine, forfeiture, or penalty. Such fine, forfeiture, or penalty shall be established by resolution of the authority, and shall not exceed $500 for each violation. However, the authority may specify, by resolution, that violation of a rule or regulation of the authority is punishable by fine, forfeiture, or penalty in an amount exceeding $500 but not exceeding $2,000 per day, if the authority must have authority to punish a violation of such rule or regulation by a fine, forfeiture, or penalty in an amount greater than $500 in order for the authority to carry out a federally mandated program. Any resolution of the authority establishing such fine, forfeiture, or penalty may provide that each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation. Violations of such authority rules and regulations may be prosecuted in the same manner as misdemeanors, or pursuant to section 5(a)(14) of this act. If such violations are prosecuted in the same manner as misdemeanors, they may be enforced by local law enforcement agencies and prosecuted in the name of the state in a court having jurisdiction of misdemeanors by the prosecuting attorney thereof. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed for violations of authority rules and regulations shall be paid to the authority, provided that the local law enforcement agency be reimbursed from such fines, forfeitures, and penalties for its cost of enforcement.

Section 19. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes set forth herein.

Section 20. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared severable.

Section 4. Chapters 81-376, 82-390, 83-403, 83-404, 84-427, 84-428, 85-410, 86-451, 89-473, 91-349, 91-403, 92-248, 93-365, 95-497, and 97-364, Laws of Florida, and section 3 of chapter 91-335, Laws of Florida, are repealed.

Section 5. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

(2) Adopt a resource recovery and waste management program for Palm Beach County that shall provide for the transportation, storage, separation, processing, recovery, recycling, or disposal of solid waste generated or existing within the county and modify and update such program or plan as necessary or as may be required by law.

(3) Acquire, at its discretion, personal or real property or any interest therein by gifts, lease, eminent domain, or purchase. The Authority may enter upon any land or water for the purpose of making surveys and may exercise the right of eminent domain whenever public necessity or convenience requires in accordance with chapters 73 and 74, Florida Statutes, and other applicable law.

(4) Appoint an executive director to be responsible to the Authority and who shall serve at its pleasure. There shall be such other officers and employees as may be provided by the Authority. (5) Require surety bonds for any of the officers and employees in such amounts as the Authority deems necessary. The premiums for the bonds shall be paid in the same manner as any other operating expense.

(6) Sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, and complain and defend in all courts.

(7) Adopt, use, and alter a corporate seal.

(8) Acquire, construct, reconstruct, improve, maintain, equip, furnish, and operate at its discretion such resource recovery and waste management facilities as are required to carry out the purposes and intent of this act and to meet the requirements of chapter 403, Florida Statutes, and other applicable law.

(9) Conduct studies, develop programs, provide continuing management and monitoring of waste projects, programs, and facilities directly or indirectly affecting the solid waste management system in Palm Beach County, and contract, for such periods as may be agreed upon by the parties, with governmental agencies, individuals, public or private corporations, municipalities, or any other person in carrying out the purposes of this act and the requirements of chapter 403, Florida Statutes, and other applicable law.

(12) Issue revenue bonds.

(a) The Authority shall have the power and is hereby authorized to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or part of the costs of acquisition and/or construction of resource recovery and waste management facilities. The issuance of such revenue bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the Authority, which resolution may be adopted at a regular or special meeting by a majority vote of members voting thereon and at the same meeting at which it is introduced. Such revenue bonds may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates of issuance, bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding the maximum rate permitted under section 215.84, Florida Statutes, or any successor statute, mature at such time or times, not exceeding 40 years from their respective dates of issuance, be subject to such terms of redemption, with or without premium, be issued in such form, registered or not, with or without interest coupons, entitle the holder thereof to such conversion or registration privileges, be executed in such manner, be in such denomination or denominations, be payable in such medium of payment at such place or places, which may be any bank or trust company within or without the state, have such rank or priority, be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics as may be provided in the resolution of the Authority authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in such subsequent resolutions as the Authority may adopt prior to the issuance of such bonds. All bonds issued under this act shall have and are hereby declared to be and to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Uniform Commercial Code—Investment Securities Law of the state. The Authority may sell such bonds at private sale and in such manner and for such price or prices as it may determine to be in the best interest of the Authority, but no such bonds shall be sold at a price as will yield to the purchaser thereof income at a rate exceeding the maximum rate permitted under section 215.84, Florida Statutes, or any successor statute, as computed according to the standard tables of bond values. If said bonds are sold at public sale, a notice of such sale shall be published at least once at least 10 days prior to the date of such sale in a newspaper published and circulating in the county and in a financial newspaper or journal circulating in New York City, New York. The Authority may issue interim bonds, notes, certificates, or receipts, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds have been executed and are available for delivery.

(b) The Authority shall fix and revise from time to time the rates, fees, or other charges for the services and facilities furnished by the Authority, and such rates, fees, or other charges shall be so fixed and adjusted as to provide sufficient funds to pay the principal of and interest on all bonds issued as the same become due and payable for such purposes, and including the cost of operating, maintaining, and repairing the facilities of the Authority and all such other payments required by the proceedings providing for the issuance of such bonds. Such rates, fees, or other charges shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by the state, any political subdivision, or any commission, board, or agency.

(c) The Authority, in the issuance of revenue bonds, shall have the authority to pledge all or any part of the revenues derived from the operation of the facilities of the Authority and shall have the power to determine the rank or priority of such pledge of revenues for any purpose, including different issues of bonds, and to grant to the holders of the bonds a lien on all or any part of the revenues prior to the use of such revenues for any other purposes.

(d) All revenues received by the Authority shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied as provided in this act. The Authority may also provide that each issue of bonds or any combined issue of bonds may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the Authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank within or without the state. Such trust agreement may pledge or assign the revenues to be received and provide for the rank and priority between different trust agreements for different issues of bonds. The resolution or resolutions providing for the issuance of bonds or such trust agreements may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the holders of the bonds as may be reasonable and proper, not in violation of the law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the Authority relating to the construction, acquisition, improvement, maintenance, operation, repair, and cost of any project or facility, as is customary in trust agreements or trust indentures securing bonds or debentures of corporations, and may contain such other provisions as the Authority may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the holders of such bonds.

(e) The Authority is also hereby authorized to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any bonds of the Authority then outstanding, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon, and interest accrued or to accrue to maturity or to the prior redemption of such outstanding bonds, as the case may be, or for the combined purpose of refunding such outstanding bonds and paying the cost of acquisition and/or construction of one or more projects. The issuance of such revenue refunding bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the board of the Authority in the same manner as provided in paragraph (a). Such refunding bonds may be issued to refund such outstanding bonds as they mature and become payable, or as they are called for redemption prior to their stated dates of maturity, and the Authority shall be authorized to invest the proceeds or part of the proceeds of such refunding bonds, pending the dates of maturity of such outstanding bonds or the dates upon which such outstanding bonds are to be called prior to their stated dates of maturity, in such lawful securities as the Authority shall deem desirable, for the purpose of refunding such outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this paragraph. The issuance of such revenue refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, the security for the payment thereof, and the rights, duties, and obligations of the Authority in respect of the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act insofar as the same may be applicable.

(f) The Authority shall also have power to issue notes prior to the issuance of bonds, but such notes shall mature in not less than 3 years and the payment thereof shall be subject to any prior pledge of the revenues of the Authority or any ad valorem taxes of the Authority.

(g) The Authority may also issue bond anticipation notes after the authorization of the issuance of bonds in the manner provided in section 215.431, Florida Statutes, or successor law.

(13) Enter into interest rate swap agreements in connection with tax-exempt bonds and to issue debt to finance payments under such interest rate swap agreements. The use of interest rate swap agreements to reduce borrowing costs will enable the Authority to have flexibility to finance or refinance projects relating to its solid waste system in a more economically efficient manner. The Authority, other special districts, and municipalities already have the express power to enter into interest rate swap agreements and other derivative products with respect to their taxable bonds under the Taxable Bond Act of 1987, part VII, chapter 159, Florida Statutes. The Legislature finds that the ability of the Authority to enter into derivative agreements shall serve a public purpose by reducing interest costs to the Authority and enhancing the marketability of the Authority's bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes. Further, such derivative agreements afford the Authority the ability to achieve the lowest effective borrowing costs or terms most suitable to the Authority. The provisions of this paragraph are designed to serve a public purpose by providing for the health, safety, welfare, and economic well-being of the people of the county. Further, these provisions are intended to provide express authority to exercise the powers granted hereby and shall not be construed in limitation of any existing powers of the Authority to enter into or carry out any derivative agreements. This paragraph shall be a supplemental and alternative authority to any other provisions of special or general law.

(14) Seek injunctive relief in a court of competent jurisdiction to prevent the violation of this act or any resolution, rule, or regulation adopted pursuant to the powers granted by this act without the necessity of showing of a public nuisance in such legal proceeding.

(15) Sell or otherwise dispose of any byproducts produced by the operation of resource recovery or waste management facilities to any governmental agency, individual, public or private corporation, municipality, or any other person.

(16) Levy ad valorem tax on the taxable property in the special district solely for the purposes of this act and not to exceed 1 mill on the dollar, subject to referendum. Property taxes determined and levied under this section shall be certified by the Authority to the property appraiser and extended, assessed, and collected in accordance with the provisions of chapter 197, Florida Statutes. At any time after making a tax levy under this section and certifying the same to the county and the state, the Authority may issue tax anticipation notes of indebtedness in anticipation of the collection of such taxes.

(17) When the fees or charges for the services and facilities and any waste disposal or resource recovery facility are not paid when due and payable and are in default for 30 days or more, following written notice to such delinquent customer, discontinue and shut off the supply of the services and facilities of said system to the person, firm, corporation, or other body, public or private, so supplied with such services or facilities until such fees, rates, or charges, including legal interest, penalties, and charges for the shutting off and discontinuance or the restoration of such services or facilities, are fully paid. Such delinquent fees or charges, together with legal interest, penalties, and charges for the shutting off and discontinuance or the restoration of such services or facilities, and reasonable attorney's fees, costs, and other expenses may be recovered by the Authority in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(18) Transfer, sell, or assign to any governmental agency, individual, public or private corporation, municipality, or other person, at whatever terms it deems reasonable, any property which it finds is not needed to carry out the purposes of this act.

(19) As necessary to carry out its resource recovery and/or disposal plans or programs or when necessary to carry out any other provision of this act, require that all wastes collected by public or private agencies from any municipality or unincorporated area of the county be transported to Authority-designated processing and disposal facilities in a manner and form as may be mandated in accordance with this act, particularly paragraphs (2) and (8) of this section. This act shall not be construed to preclude public or private agencies from operating permitted transfer stations, provided that solid waste transferred or transported therefrom shall be delivered to Authority-designated processing and disposal facilities as set forth in this section.

(20) Perform any and all governmental functions of the county, or of any municipality, related to solid waste provided for by general law, including, but not limited to, chapter 403, Florida Statutes, or any successor law, pursuant to written contract or interlocal agreement. For those purposes, the Authority may employ the special assessment procedures contained in sections 7 and 8 of this act. The Palm Beach County Board of County Commissioners shall set for the unincorporated portions of the county all fees necessary to accomplish the purposes of this paragraph, and the governing body of any municipality shall set the required fees for its respective jurisdiction. Any such fees must be sufficient to pay all costs incurred by the Authority in connection with the solid waste services to be provided, including the cost of billing services.

(21) Establish a mandatory collection system for the county and impose reasonable rates, fees, and charges to all users of said system. The Authority may establish annual collection special assessments for users of this collection system in like manner as the disposal assessments provided for in this section or sections 7 or 8.

(22) Grant franchises and contracts, issue permits, or otherwise provide for the collection of solid waste in the county and receive the assignment of such franchises, contracts, and permits, and establish reasonable rates, fees, and charges therefor.

(23) In connection with, or incidental to, the sale and issuance of bonds, enter into any contracts which the Authority determines to be necessary or appropriate to achieve a desirable, effective interest rate in connection with the bonds or notes by means of, but not limited to, contracts commonly known as investment contracts, funding agreements, interest rate swap agreements, currency swap agreements, forward payment conversion agreements, or futures; contracts providing for payments based on levels of or changes in interest rates; contracts to exchange cash flows or a series of payments; or contracts including, without limitation, options, puts, or calls to hedge payment, rate, spread, or similar exposure. Such contracts or arrangements may also be entered into by the Authority in connection with, or incidental to, entering into any agreement which secures bonds or provides liquidity therefor. Such contracts and arrangements shall be made upon the terms and conditions established by the Authority after giving due consideration for the credit worthiness of the counterparties, where applicable, including any rating by a nationally recognized rating service or by any other criteria as may be appropriate.

(24) Notwithstanding the prohibition against extra compensation set forth in section 215.425, Florida Statutes, provide for an extra compensation program, including a lump-sum bonus payment program, to reward outstanding employees whose performances exceed standards, if the program provides that a bonus payment may not be included in an employee's regular base rate of pay and may not be carried forward in subsequent years.

Section 7. Special assessments; method of levy and collection.—Since all improved properties in the county receive a direct, substantial benefit by the provision of solid waste disposal and collection services by the Authority, the Authority shall have the additional power to impose, levy, collect, or have collected, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 197, Florida Statutes or sections 7, 8 or 9 of this charter, the annual disposal special assessments herein authorized and defined as a means of financing the construction and/or acquisition of additions, extensions, and improvements to the solid waste system, the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds issued pursuant to this act, the cost of operating, maintaining, and repairing the solid waste system, and all other payments that are required to be made by the Authority in connection with the purposes of this act.

(1) Definitions.—For the purposes of this section and sections 8 and 9, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) “Addendum to annual disposal special assessments roll” or “addendum” means the list prepared by and confirmed by the Authority each fiscal year containing the same information as the annual disposal special assessment roll as to any parcels of improved real property not incorporated on the corresponding annual disposal special assessment roll and incorporating any changes as to the information specified for any parcel of improved real property on the corresponding annual disposal special assessment roll, including any additions to or deletions from such annual disposal special assessment roll.

(b) “Annual disposal special assessments” means the annual disposal special assessments imposed upon a parcel or parcels of improved real property for the disposal of solid waste for the applicable fiscal year based upon the classification of the use of such parcel or parcels of improved real property as set forth in the rate resolution.

(c) “Annual disposal special assessment roll” means the list prepared and confirmed by the Authority each fiscal year containing a summary description of each parcel of improved real property, the name and address of the owner of each such parcel as indicated on the records maintained by the property appraiser, and the amount of the annual disposal special assessments applicable to each parcel of improved real property.

(d) “Collection” means, with respect to solid waste services, the process whereby solid waste is removed and transported to a solid waste facility.

(e) “Governmental agencies” means all state, federal, or local agencies or units of government located within the county, including, but not limited to, the School Board of Palm Beach County, all county agencies and departments, all municipalities within the county, all special districts and municipal service taxing units with all or part of their boundaries within the county, and any municipality or special district or other unit of government, the boundaries of which are not within the county but which is the owner of improved real property within the county.

(f) “Improved real property” means all real property located within the county that generates or is capable of generating solid waste and that contains buildings, structures, or other improvements designed or constructed for and capable of use or used for human habitation, human activity, or commercial enterprises.

(g) “Owner” means the person or persons owning an interest in improved real property.

(h) “Rate resolution” means the resolution or resolutions of the Authority described in paragraph (3)(b) of this section and paragraph (2)(b) of section 8 of this charter.

(2) Purpose.—It is the purpose of this section to require all persons within the county and all governmental agencies to use exclusively the solid waste system operated and maintained by the Authority or designated by the Authority for the disposal of all solid waste generated within both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county; to establish a schedule of assessments for all improved real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county to pay for the cost of financing, operating, and maintaining the solid waste system; to establish the method and procedure for the classification of such improved real property in the establishment of such schedule of annual disposal special assessments; to provide for a method and procedure for the collection of such assessments from the owners of such improved real property; and to provide for the operation of the solid waste system.

(3) Determination of annual disposal special assessments; public hearing.—On or before October 1 of each year, the Authority shall hold a public hearing for the following purposes:

(a) To adopt a budget for the operation and maintenance of the solid waste system for the ensuing fiscal year, including moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds and other outstanding or anticipated indebtedness, including all reserves necessary therefor, for the payment of necessary reserves for capital expenditures and the renovation, improvements, and replacements of existing facilities of the solid waste system, for the enforcement and administration of the billing and collection of the annual disposal special assessments provided for hereunder, including necessary reserves for anticipated delinquent or uncollectible annual disposal special assessments, and for the payment of the current operation and maintenance of the solid waste system.

(b) To adopt a rate resolution incorporating a schedule of annual disposal special assessments to impose upon the owners of all improved real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county which shall constitute a lien as provided for in paragraph (5) and to establish the classification of the use of such parcel of improved real property in order to provide revenues which, together with other moneys of the Authority lawfully available therefor, shall be sufficient to fund the budget referred to in paragraph (a). The rates established by the Authority in each year under the provisions of the rate resolution shall be sufficient to provide moneys for the purposes described in paragraph (a), and the Authority shall not establish rates over and above the rates that are necessary to comply with the provisions of paragraph (a) and the budgetary requirements of any proceedings of the Authority heretofore or hereafter adopted in connection with the issuance of any of its bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness.

Notice of said public hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least twice, with the first publication being at least 20 days prior to the date set for the public hearing. Said public hearing may be continued to a date certain without the necessity of further newspaper advertisement or public notice.

(4) Scope of annual disposal special assessments; discount for early payment; delinquency.—

(a) The annual disposal special assessments incorporated in the rate resolution applicable to each parcel of improved real property shall be the annual disposal special assessments for each such parcel of improved real property for the disposal of all solid waste generated or capable of being generated as determined by the Authority on each such parcel of improved real property during the ensuing fiscal year.

(b) The annual disposal special assessments shall be imposed against the owners of all improved real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county if such real property is improved real property on or before September 1 prior to the fiscal year in which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed.

(c) The owner and description of each parcel of improved real property shall be that designated on the real property records maintained by the property appraiser.

(d) The annual disposal special assessments shall be due and payable 30 days after the mailing of the original annual disposal special assessments billing. On all annual disposal special assessments imposed and collected, discounts for early payment thereof shall be at the rate of 4 percent in the month of November and at any time within 30 days after the mailing of the original annual disposal special assessments billings; 3 percent in the month of December; 2 percent in the month of January; and 1 percent in the month of February. The annual disposal special assessments paid in March shall be without discount. The annual disposal special assessments shall become delinquent if not fully paid by

March 31 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed. All delinquent annual disposal special assessments shall bear an initial penalty of 3 percent of the full amount of the annual disposal special assessments if not paid by March 31 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed and an additional penalty of 1 percent per month on the delinquent principal amount on the first day of June and on the first day of each month thereafter until the annual disposal special assessments are paid in full.

(5) Annual disposal special assessments shall constitute a lien on improved real property.—All annual disposal special assessments imposed against the owners of improved real property shall constitute, and are hereby imposed as, liens against such improved real property as of October 1 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed. Until fully paid and discharged or barred by law, the annual disposal special assessments shall be prior to all other liens, except that such liens shall be on parity with a lien of state, county, and municipal taxes, and any lien for charges for services created pursuant to section 159.17, Florida Statutes. If any annual disposal special assessment liens become delinquent by not being fully paid by March 31 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed and remain delinquent, the Authority shall cause to be prepared a notice of lien containing the amount of the delinquent annual disposal special assessments, including the amount of the first penalty, a legal description of the improved real property against which the lien is imposed, and the name of the owner of such real property as indicated on the real property records maintained by the property appraiser of the county. Said notice of lien shall be recorded in the public records of the county on or about September 30 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments were levied, or as soon thereafter as the Authority shall determine. A copy of the notice of lien shall be served on the owner of record as provided in section 713.18, Florida Statutes, within 10 days after the notice of lien is recorded.

(6) Notification and payment of annual disposal special assessments; discharge of recorded liens.—The Authority shall collect the payment of all current or delinquent annual disposal special assessments from November 1 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed until paid or satisfied as herein provided. The Authority shall mail notices of the annual disposal special assessments to the owners of each parcel of improved real property in the manner and containing the information as follows:

(a) The first notice shall be mailed on or about November 1 of each fiscal year to all owners, and such notice shall contain the amount of the annual disposal special assessments for the then-current fiscal year and a schedule of the discounts available to the owners for early payments. Such notice shall further advise the owners that failure to pay the annual disposal special assessments in a timely manner may result in a loss of title.

(b) The second notice shall be mailed on or about March 31 of such fiscal year to those owners who have failed to pay any or all of the then-due-and-owing annual disposal special assessments, and such notice shall contain a schedule of the initial penalty for nonpayment and shall further advise the owner that a notice of lien will be filed by the Authority against that parcel of improved real property on the public records of the county provided for that purpose. However, if such annual disposal special assessments, together with any penalties thereon, are received prior to September 30 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments were levied, then such notice of lien will not be filed. Such notice shall further advise the owners that failure to pay the annual disposal special assessments in a timely manner may result in a loss of title.

(c) The third notice shall be mailed on or before June 1 of such fiscal year to those owners who have failed to pay any or all of the then-due-and-owing annual disposal special assessments, and such notice shall contain a schedule of the additional penalty incurred by the owners for each month from June 1 and thereafter.

In addition to the collection of any penalties, the Authority shall recover from the owner any cost that may be incurred in connection with such delinquent payments. When any such lien or liens have been fully paid or discharged, the Authority shall properly cause evidence of the satisfaction and discharge of such lien to be provided. Said lien or liens shall not be assigned by the Authority to any person.

(7) Enforcement of delinquent annual disposal special assessments.—All delinquent annual disposal special assessment liens may be enforced at any time by the Authority at least 30 days subsequent to the date of the service of the notice of lien for the amount due under such recorded liens, including all penalties, plus costs and a reasonable attorney's fee, by proceeding in a court of equity to foreclose such liens in the manner in which a mortgage lien is foreclosed under the laws of Florida, or the collection and enforcement of payment thereof may be accomplished by any other method authorized by law. It shall be lawful to join in any complaint or foreclosure, or any such legal proceeding, any one or more lots or parcels of land that are the subject of a lien or liens. The Authority is authorized and directed to execute and deliver, upon request, a written certification certifying the amount, including all penalties, plus costs, due for delinquent annual disposal special assessments or under any recorded liens for any parcel of real property, or certifying that no such annual disposal special assessments are due, except current and nondelinquent annual disposal special assessments.

(8) Calculation of annual disposal special assessments.—

(a) Based upon the rate resolution, the Authority shall cause to be prepared an annual disposal special assessment roll. Such annual disposal special assessment roll shall contain a summary description of each parcel of improved real property within the county on or before September 1 prior to the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are to be imposed, the name and address of the owner of each parcel of improved real property, the rate applicable to each parcel of improved real property as specified in the rate resolution, and the amount of the annual disposal special assessments applicable to each parcel of improved real property. The summary description of each parcel of improved real property shall be in such detail as to permit ready identification of each parcel on the real property records. The information specified above to be included in the annual disposal special assessment roll shall conform to that maintained by the property appraiser on the real property records.

(b) Upon completion of the preparation of the annual disposal special assessment roll, the Authority shall at any regular or special meeting review the annual disposal special assessment roll for preparation in conformity with the rate resolution. The Authority shall make such changes or additions as necessary to conform such annual disposal special assessment roll to the rate resolution. If, upon the completion of such review, the Authority shall be satisfied that the annual disposal special assessment roll has been prepared in conformity with the rate resolution, the Authority shall ratify and confirm the annual disposal special assessment roll and certify that the annual disposal special assessment roll is correct and proper and is to be used in collecting the annual disposal special assessments.

(c) On or before October 1 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessment roll is confirmed, the Authority shall cause to be prepared an addendum to the annual disposal special assessment roll containing the addition or deletion of any parcels of improved real property not incorporated into or deleted from the annual disposal special assessment roll but constituting improved real property on September 1 prior to the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed. Included in such addendum shall be any change in the information specified for each parcel of improved real property on the annual disposal special assessment roll. Such addendum to the annual disposal special assessment roll shall contain information required for the annual disposal special assessment roll and shall be reviewed by the authority and certified as the annual disposal special assessment roll of the Authority.

Section 8. Collection of annual disposal special assessments by tax collector; alternative method of levy and collection.—The Authority may, to the extent permitted by law, utilize the office of the tax collector for the purpose of collecting the annual disposal special assessments imposed under this act. The Authority may, in connection with the collection of the annual disposal special assessments, proceed in the manner set forth in this section as an alternative to that set forth in section 7 of this charter, or as provided by chapter 197, Florida Statutes, as it may be amended from time to time. In the event the Authority chooses to follow the method of collection set forth in this section, it must first enter into written agreements with the property appraiser and the tax collector to perform the duties as outlined in this section. Said agreements shall be entered into voluntarily and at the sole options of the property appraiser and the tax collector, and shall provide for reimbursement to them of all costs associated with their duties hereunder.

(1) Purpose.—It is the purpose of this section to provide for an additional and alternative, but in no event exclusive, method and procedure for the collection of annual disposal special assessments from the owners of all improved real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county, in the same manner as the collection of ad valorem taxes by the county and through the tax bill issued by the tax collector.

(2) Determination of annual disposal special assessments; public hearing.—On or before July 30 of each year, or such other date as may be specified by chapter 197, Florida Statutes, the Authority shall hold a public hearing for the following purposes:

(a) To adopt a budget for the operation and maintenance of the solid waste system for the ensuing fiscal year, including moneys for the payment of the principal and interest on bonds and other outstanding or anticipated indebtedness, including all reserves necessary therefrom, for the payment of necessary reserves for capital expenditures and the renovation, improvements, and replacements of existing facilities of the solid waste system, for the enforcement and administration of the billing and collection of the annual disposal special assessments provided for hereunder, including necessary reserves for anticipated delinquent or uncollectible annual disposal special assessments, and for the payment of the current operation and maintenance of the solid waste system.

(b) To adopt a rate resolution incorporating a schedule of annual disposal special assessments to be imposed upon the owners of all improved real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county to establish the classification of the use of such parcel or parcels of improved real property in order to provide the revenues to fund the budget referred to in paragraph (a). Such rate resolution adopted at the public hearing shall further authorize the collection of the annual disposal special assessments in the same manner as the collection of ad valorem taxes by the county and through the utilization of the office of the tax collector of the county.

Notice of said public hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least twice, with the first publication being at least 20 days prior to the public hearing. Additional notice shall also be provided to each affected property owner by first class mail of both the potential for loss of his or her title through the use of the ad valorem collection method and the time and place of said public hearing. Said public hearing may be continued to a date certain without the necessity of further newspaper advertisement or public notice.

(3) Scope of annual disposal special assessments.—

(a) The annual disposal special assessments incorporated in the rate resolution applicable to each parcel of improved real property shall be the annual disposal special assessments for each such parcel of improved real property for the disposal of all solid waste generated on each such parcel of improved real property during the ensuing fiscal year.

(b) The annual disposal special assessments shall be imposed against the owners of all real property in both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county if such real property is improved real property on or before January 1 prior to the fiscal year in which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed.

(c) The owner and description of each parcel of improved real property shall be that designated on the real property records maintained by the property appraiser.

(4) Enforcement and collection.—The annual disposal special assessments shall be due and payable on November 1 of each year or at such other times as prescribed by the amended tax bill. Such annual disposal special assessments shall be collected and enforced by the tax collector in the same manner that ad valorem taxes are collected, including, but not limited to, provisions of law relating to discount for early payment, prepayment by installment method, and penalty for delinquent payment.

(5) Annual disposal special assessments shall constitute a lien on improved real property.—All annual disposal special assessments imposed against the owners of improved real property shall constitute, and are hereby imposed as, liens against such improved real property as of October 1 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed. Until fully paid and discharged or barred by law, the annual disposal special assessments shall remain liens equal in rank and dignity with the lien of the county ad valorem taxes and superior in rank and dignity to all other liens, encumbrances, titles, and claims in, to, or against the real property involved. If any annual disposal special assessment liens become delinquent by not being fully paid by March 31 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments are imposed and remain delinquent, the Authority shall cause to be prepared a notice of lien containing the amount of the delinquent annual disposal special assessments, including the amount of the first penalty, a legal description of the improved real property against which the lien is imposed, and the name of the owner of such real property as indicated on the real property records maintained by the property appraiser of the county. The Authority shall cause to be mailed on or before June 1 of such fiscal year to those owners who have failed to pay any or all of the then-due-and-owing annual disposal special assessments a notice of intention to file lien, and such notice shall contain a schedule of the additional penalty incurred by the owners for each month from June 1 and thereafter and a notice that a lien will be filed if not paid on or before September 30. If the assessment is not paid, a notice of lien shall be recorded in the public records of the county on or about September 30 of the fiscal year for which the annual disposal special assessments were levied, or as soon thereafter as the Authority shall determine.

(6) Payment of annual disposal special assessments.—It shall be the duty of the tax collector, pursuant to law, to collect payments of all annual disposal special assessments referred to in this section. The tax collector shall distribute the annual disposal special assessments so collected to the Authority at the times and in the manner provided by law. The tax collector shall mail to all owners of improved real property such notices as are required by law.

(7) Enforcement of delinquent annual disposal special assessments.—All delinquent annual disposal special assessment liens may be enforced by the Authority in the manner provided by law.

(8) Certification to property appraiser and tax collector.—

(a) Upon adoption by the Authority of the rate resolution provided herein, the Authority shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of the rate resolution to the property appraiser and tax collector. Based upon said rate resolution and pursuant to written contracts between the Authority and the property appraiser and the Authority and the tax collector, the property appraiser shall include the annual disposal special assessments on the tax notice issued pursuant to section 197.3635, Florida Statutes, or any successor laws, and the tax collector shall collect the annual disposal special assessments as provided by law.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed or interpreted to preclude the Authority from submitting, within its discretion, a separately prepared notice of the annual disposal special assessments imposed on certain improved real property to the owner of such property if, in the opinion of the Authority, such procedure shall facilitate the billing and collection of such annual disposal special assessments, which notice shall be in addition to the notice submitted by the property appraiser.

(9) Additional proceedings.—The Authority shall conform with and shall do and provide such additional proceedings as may be necessary to enable the Authority to collect the annual disposal special assessments in the same manner as the collection of ad valorem taxes of the county and through the utilization of the office of the tax collector to the extent that the general law relating to the method of collection shall require further and additional notices or other proceedings of the Authority.

Section 9. Annual disposal special assessments to governmental agencies; applicability of annual disposal special assessments to tax-exempt improved real property.—

(1)(a) The Authority shall bill all governmental agencies owning improved real property within both the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county and said governmental agencies shall pay the annual disposal special assessments imposed under the applicable classification specified in the rate resolution.

(b) The discounts for early payment shall not be applicable to the annual disposal special assessments imposed against governmental agencies owning real property. Such governmental agencies shall pay in the manner provided herein the full annual disposal special assessments imposed.

(c) The annual disposal special assessments imposed against governmental agencies shall become delinquent if not fully paid within 60 days from the date the notice of such annual disposal special assessments is mailed. All delinquent annual disposal special assessments shall bear an initial penalty of 4 percent of the full amount of the annual disposal special assessments if not paid by the expiration of the 60-day period and an additional penalty of 1 percent per month on the delinquent amount, plus the initial penalty, on the first day of each month thereafter until said annual disposal special assessments are paid in full.

(d) The Authority shall have the authority to enforce the collections of any delinquent annual disposal special assessments by the institution of an appropriate action against the governmental agency in a court of competent jurisdiction for a judgment for the amount due under such annual disposal special assessments, including all penalties, plus costs and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(e) The provisions of paragraphs (5), (6), and (7) of section 7 of this charter and paragraphs (5) and (6) of section 8 of this charter shall not be applicable to the annual disposal special assessments imposed against improved real property owned by any governmental agency.

(2) Applicability of annual disposal special assessments to tax-exempt improved real property.—The tax exemption of property form taxation under chapter 196, Florida Statutes, or any other law or constitutional provision shall not relieve the owner of any improved real property in the county from the provisions hereof or from the imposition by the Authority of the annual disposal special assessments applicable to such improved real property as specified in the rate resolution.

Section 10. Limitations on franchises.—The Authority shall adopt by resolution a procedure for granting exclusive franchises, subject to the following limitations:

(1) No franchise, contract, or permit shall be granted or extended for a period of time exceeding 5 years.

(2) A public hearing shall be held prior to the adoption of any rates, fees, or charges to the public.

(3) No exclusive franchise shall be granted except pursuant to a procedure adopted by the Authority which shall include the following minimum requirements:

(a) The entire process shall comply with chapter 286, Florida Statutes.

(b) The procedure shall encourage competition among potential franchisees.

(c) The franchise award shall occur at a regular meeting of the Authority and shall be confirmed by a subsequent resolution, which shall contain sufficient findings to demonstrate that the award was in the best interest of the public to be served thereby.

(d) Any party aggrieved by the franchise award may appeal the award in writing, within 30 days after the award, to the Authority, which shall decide said appeal by written order within 60 days after its receipt by the Authority. An unsuccessful appellant may thereafter appeal the Authority's decision by writ of certiorari to the circuit court.

Section 11. Exemption from taxation.—The property, moneys, and other assets of any countywide authority created hereunder and all of its revenues or other income shall be exempt from all taxation, licenses, fees, or other charges of any kind imposed by the state or by the county or by any municipality, political subdivision, taxing district, or other public agency or body of the state.

Section 12. Prohibition; permits; penalty.—

(1) It is unlawful to violate this act or the rules duly adopted pursuant to it. After the effective date of this act, no person shall:

(a) Place or deposit any solid waste in or on the lands or waters located within the county except in a manner consistent with the countywide solid waste program.

(b) Burn solid waste except in a manner consistent with the countywide solid waste program.

(c) Accomplish or authorize any act inconsistent with the provisions of this act and those of chapter 403, Florida Statutes.

(2) No person shall operate, maintain, construct, expand, or modify any resource recovery or waste management facility without first having applied for and received a valid operating permit from the Authority.

(3) Any person found in violation of any provision of this act or any rules adopted pursuant to it commits a misdemeanor of the second degree and shall be punished as provided by law. If such violation be continuing, each 24-hour day or fraction thereof during which such violation occurs shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 13. Enforcement.—The director of the Palm Beach County Health Department shall determine compliance with the provisions of this act which relate to sanitary collection, storage, processing, and disposal of solid waste, in accordance with the provisions of Palm Beach County Environmental Control Ordinance No. 78-5 and any amendments thereto. Any and all violations shall be reported in writing and a copy of the official inspection report shall be presented to the violator and a copy of said inspection report shall also be delivered to the executive director of the Authority.

(1) If any resource recovery or management facility fails to comply with the provisions of the rules adopted by the department or the Authority pursuant to chapter 403, Florida Statutes, or under this act, the director of the Palm Beach County Health Department shall give the violator a reasonable time, by formal notice, within which to correct such violation. Should the violation continue beyond the time specified for correction, the director of the Palm Beach County Health Department shall notify the environmental control officer, in writing, of such failure to correct the violation.

(2) Upon notice of the director of the Palm Beach County Health Department that a resource recovery or waste management facility has failed to correct violations, the environmental control officer shall notify the Palm Beach County Environmental Control Hearing Board of such noncompliance, whereupon the hearing board shall, within 45 days after such notice, order the violator to appear before it to show cause why remedial action should not be taken. Any meetings before the hearing board shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Palm Beach County Environmental Control Ordinance No. 78-5 and any amendments thereto.

(3) If, after due public hearing, the hearing board upholds the violation, the hearing board shall make a decision setting forth findings of fact and such conclusions of law as are required in view of the issues presented. The decision shall contain an order framed in the manner of a writ of injunction requiring the violator to refrain from committing, creating, maintaining, or permitting the violation and take such affirmative action as the hearing board deems reasonable and necessary under the circumstances to correct such violation.

Section 14. Injunctive relief.—If preventive or corrective measures are not taken in accordance with any order of the hearing board, or if the environmental control officer finds that a violation of the provisions of this act exists so as to create an emergency requiring immediate action to protect human health or welfare, the environmental control officer may institute proceedings in the Circuit Court for Palm Beach County to enforce this act or rules or orders pursuant thereto. Such injunctive relief may include both temporary and permanent injunctions. Any proceedings initiated under this section shall be brought for and in the name of the Authority.

Section 15. Judicial review.—Any person aggrieved by any action or decision of the hearing board may seek appropriate judicial review.

Section 4. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared severable.

Section 5. This act shall be construed as a remedial act and shall be liberally construed to promote the purpose for which it is intended.

Section 6. Chapters 75-473, 77-626, 79-536, 79-539, 79-542, 84-501, 84-502, 86-433, 88-544, 91-334, 93-345, and 94-462, Laws of Florida, are repealed.

Section 7. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Such non-ad valorem assessments may be imposed, collected, and enforced pursuant to the provisions of sections 197.363 through 197.3635, Florida Statutes.*

In setting assessment rates, the Commissioners shall consider the size of the property, the fire hazard it presents, and the protection provided.*

Section 6.03. For assessment purposes, all property within the District shall have the following general classifications:

- (1) Business and/or Commercial.*

The assessments may be increased as provided in chapter 191, Florida Statutes, provided the Board shall determine that such increase is necessary in order to properly carry out the purposes of the District. No increase in excess of that provided in chapter 191, Florida Statutes, shall be permitted unless and until the Board holds the required referendum for increasing said assessments. The District must establish that the increased assessment rate in excess of that amount allowed by statute does not exceed the benefits derived from the furnishing of the services. Any such assessment shall be made only when there has been competent substantial evidence presented to the District establishing that such an adjustment in the rate is necessary in order for the District to properly carry out its purposes and establishing that the proposed increase in assessments will not exceed the benefits. In accordance with section 191.011, Florida Statutes, the procedure for increasing the annual assessment rate in excess of that allowed under chapter 191 shall be as follows:*

(1) Presentation to the Board of competent substantial evidence establishing that the increase in the maximum rate of assessments is necessary in order to carry out the purposes of the District and further establishing that said assessments as increased will not exceed the benefits accruing to the property within the District.

(2) Adoption of a resolution setting forth findings of fact and establishing the necessity for the increase in assessment rates, and said resolution shall provide for the calling of a referendum election wherein the question of whether to increase the assessments as recommended by the Board shall be approved.

(3) Provided the maximum increase for rate of assessment in chapter 191, Florida Statutes is exceeded, a referendum election shall be held pursuant to the general law governing special elections in the state and, upon certification of the return of the election, the rate of assessment shall be deemed amended if approved by a majority vote of the electors voting in said election.

Section 6.05. Assessments shall be a lien upon the land so assessed, along with the county taxes assessed against the same until said assessments and taxes have been paid and, if the same becomes delinquent, shall be considered a part of the county tax, subject to the same penalties, charges, fees, and remedies for enforcement and collection as provided by the laws of the state for the collection of such taxes.

Section 6.06. The Board shall establish a schedule of impact fees in accordance with section 191.009(4), Florida Statutes, and with any standard set by general law for new construction to pay for the cost of new facilities and equipment, the need for which is in whole or in part the result of new construction. The impact fees collected by the District under this section shall be kept separate from the revenues of the District and must be used exclusively to acquire, purchase, or construct new facilities or portions thereof needed to provide fire protection and emergency services to new construction. As used in this section, "new facilities" means lands, buildings, and capital equipment, including, but not limited to, fire and emergency vehicles, radio telemetry equipment, and other firefighting or rescue equipment. The Board shall maintain adequate records to ensure that impact fees are expended only for permissible new facilities or new equipment. The Board may enter into agreements with general-purpose local governments to share in the revenue from fire protection impact fees imposed by such governments. For impact fee purposes, all property within the District shall have the classification of residential or commercial.

Section 6.07. The Board may provide a reasonable schedule of charges for special emergency services, including firefighting occurring in or to structures outside the District, motor vehicles, marine vessels, aircraft, or rail cars, or as a result of the operation of such motor vehicles or marine vessels to which the District is called to render emergency service, and may charge a fee for the services rendered in accordance with the schedule developed and pursuant to chapter 191.009(3), Florida Statutes.

an election pursuant to section 97.055, Florida Statutes, from the uniformed services or Merchant Marine, and any spouse or child accompanying such person, who is otherwise qualified, may register to vote in such election until 5 p.m. on the Friday before said election. Such persons must produce sufficient documentation showing evidence of qualifying for late registration pursuant to this section. The Department of State shall adopt rules specifying documentation that is sufficient to determine eligibility.

Section 5. State write-in ballot.—

(1) An overseas voter may request, not earlier than 180 days before a general election, a state write-in absentee ballot from the supervisor of elections in the county of registration. In order to receive a state write-in ballot, the voter shall state that due to military or other contingencies that preclude normal mail delivery, the voter cannot vote an absentee ballot during the normal absentee voting period. State write-in absentee ballots shall be made available to voters 90 to 180 days prior to a general election. The Department of State shall prescribe by rule the form of the state write-in ballot.

(2) In completing the ballot, the overseas voter may designate his or her choice by writing in the name of the candidate or by writing in the name of a political party, in which case the ballot must be counted for the candidate of that political party, if there is such a party candidate on the ballot.

(3) Any abbreviation, misspelling, or other minor variation in the form of the name of a candidate or a political party must be disregarded in determining the validity of the ballot if there is a clear indication that the voter has made a definite choice.

(4) The state write-in ballot shall contain all offices, federal, state, and local, for which the voter would otherwise be entitled to vote.

Section 6. Absentee ballots for overseas voters.—

(1) Not fewer than 35 days prior to the first primary and not fewer than 45 days prior to the second primary and the general election, the supervisor of elections shall mail an absentee ballot to each overseas voter who has made a request for an absentee ballot.

(2) If the regular absentee ballots for the second primary or general election are not available for mailing by the times prescribed in subsection (1), the supervisor of elections shall mail an advance ballot.

(a) The advance ballot for the second primary must be the same as the first primary ballot as to the names of candidates, except that for any offices where there are only two candidates, those offices and all political party executive committee offices shall be omitted.

(b) Except as provided in section 99.063(4), Florida Statutes, the advance absentee ballot for the general election shall include the same information as the general election ballot, except that in the case of candidates of political parties when nominations were not made in the first primary, the names of the candidates placing first and second in the first primary election must be printed on the advance absentee ballot.

(c) The advance absentee ballot shall be a different color for each election and also a different color from the absentee ballots for the first primary, second primary, and general election.

(d) The supervisor shall enclose with the advance ballot an explanation stating that the absentee ballot for the election will be mailed as soon as it is printed; and, if both the advance absentee ballot and the absentee ballot for the election are returned in time to be counted, only the absentee ballot will be counted.

(e) In the event that the Elections Canvassing Commission is unable to certify the results of an election for a state office in time to comply with the provisions of the subsection, the Department of State is authorized to prescribe rules for a ballot to be sent to overseas voters.

(3) If an overseas voter's request for an absentee ballot includes an e-mail address, the supervisor of elections shall inform the voter of the names of candidates who will be on the ballots via electronic transmission. The supervisor of elections shall e-mail to the voter the list of candidates for the first primary not later than 30 days before the first primary; the list of candidates for the second primary not later than eight days after the first primary, and the list of candidates for the general election not later than four days after the second primary.

(4) For absentee ballots received from overseas voters, there is a presumption that the envelope was mailed on the date stated and witnessed on the outside of the return envelope, regardless of the absence of a postmark on the mailed envelope or the existence of a postmark date that is later than the date of the election.

Section 7. Electronic transmission of election materials.—The Department of State shall adopt rules to authorize a supervisor of elections to accept a request for an absentee ballot and a voted absentee ballot by facsimile machine or other electronic means from overseas voters. The rules must provide that in order to accept a voted ballot, the verification of the voter must be established, the security of the transmission must be established, and each ballot received must be recorded.

Section 8. If a national or local emergency or other situation arises which makes substantial compliance with the provisions of state or federal law relating to the methods of voting for overseas voters impossible or unreasonable, such as an armed conflict involving United States Armed Forces or mobilization of those forces, including state National Guard and reserve components, the Elections Canvassing Commission may adopt by emergency rules, such special procedures or requirements necessary to facilitate absentee voting by those persons directly affected who are otherwise eligible to vote in the election.

Section 9. Subsections (4), (5), (6), and (7) of section 101.62, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

101.62 Request for absentee ballots.—

(4)(a) ~~To each absent qualified elector overseas who has requested an absentee ballot, the supervisor of elections shall, not fewer than 35 days before the first primary election, mail an absentee ballot. The advance absentee ballot for the second primary shall be the same as the first primary absentee ballot as to the names of candidates, except that for any offices where there are only two candidates, those offices and all political party executive committee offices shall be omitted. Except as provided in s. 99.063(4), the advance absentee ballot for the general election shall be as specified in s. 101.151, except that in the case of candidates of political parties where nominations were not made in the first primary, the names of the candidates placing first and second in the first primary election shall be printed on the advance absentee ballot. The advance absentee ballot or advance absentee ballot information booklet shall be of a different color for each election and also a different color from the absentee ballots for the first primary, second primary, and general election. The supervisor shall mail an advance absentee ballot for the second primary and general election to each qualified absent elector for whom a request is received until the absentee ballots are printed. The supervisor shall enclose with the advance second primary absentee ballot and advance general election absentee ballot an explanation stating that the absentee ballot for the election will be mailed as soon as it is printed; and, if both the advance absentee ballot and the absentee ballot for the election are returned in time to be counted, only the absentee ballot will be counted.~~

(b) As soon as the remainder of the absentee ballots are printed, the supervisor shall provide an absentee ballot to each elector by whom a request for that ballot has been made by one of the following means:

(a)1. By nonforwardable, return-if-undeliverable mail to the elector's current mailing address on file with the supervisor, unless the elector specifies in the request that:

(1.)a. The elector is absent from the county and does not plan to return before the day of the election;

(2.)b. The elector is temporarily unable to occupy the residence because of hurricane, tornado, flood, fire, or other emergency or natural disaster; or

(3.)e. The elector is in a hospital, assisted-living facility, nursing home, short-term medical or rehabilitation facility, or correctional facility, in which case the supervisor shall mail the ballot by nonforwardable, return-if-undeliverable mail to any other address the elector specifies in the request.

(b)2. By forwardable mail to voters who are entitled to vote by absentee ballot under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Voting Act.

(c)3. By personal delivery to the elector, upon presentation of the identification required in s. 101.657.

(d)4. By delivery to a designee on election day or up to 4 days prior to the day of an election. Any elector may designate in writing a person to pick up the ballot for the elector; however, the person designated may not pick up more than two absentee ballots per election, other than the designee's own ballot, except that additional ballots may be picked up for members of the designee's immediate family. For purposes of this section, "immediate family" means the designee's spouse or the parent, child, grandparent, or sibling of the designee or of the designee's spouse. The designee shall provide to the supervisor the written authorization by the elector and a picture identification of the designee and must complete an affidavit. The designee shall state in the affidavit that the designee is authorized by the elector to pick up that ballot and shall indicate if the elector is a member of the designee's immediate family and, if so, the relationship. The department shall prescribe the form of the affidavit. If the supervisor is satisfied that the designee is authorized to pick up the ballot and that the signature of the elector on the written authorization matches the signature of the elector on file, the supervisor shall give the ballot to that designee for delivery to the elector.

(5) In the event that the Elections Canvassing Commission is unable to certify the results of an election for a state office in time to comply with subsection (4), the Department of State is authorized to prescribe rules for a ballot to be sent to absent electors overseas.

(5)(6) Nothing other than the materials necessary to vote absentee shall be mailed or delivered with any absentee ballot.

(7)(a) For the purposes of this section, "absent qualified elector overseas" means:

1. Members of the Armed Forces while in the active service who are permanent residents of the state and are temporarily residing outside the territorial limits of the United States and the District of Columbia;

2. Members of the Merchant Marine of the United States who are permanent residents of the state and are temporarily residing outside the territorial limits of the United States and the District of Columbia; and

3. Other citizens of the United States who are permanent residents of the state and are temporarily residing outside the territorial limits of the United States and the District of Columbia; who are qualified and registered as provided by law.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, there shall appear on the ballots sent to absent qualified electors overseas, in addition to the names of the candidates for each office, the political party affiliation of each candidate for each office, other than a nonpartisan office.

(c) With respect to marked ballots mailed by absent qualified electors overseas, only those ballots mailed with an APO, FPO, or foreign postmark shall be considered valid.

Section 1. Subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (2), paragraph (e) of subsection (4), paragraph (b) of subsection (8), and paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (9) of section 121.4501, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (f) is added to subsection (9) of said section, to read:

121.4501 Public Employee Optional Retirement Program.—

(1) The Trustees of the State Board of Administration shall establish an optional defined contribution retirement program for members of the Florida Retirement System under which retirement benefits will be provided for eligible employees who elect to participate in the program. The benefits to be provided for or on behalf of participants in such optional retirement program shall be provided through employee-directed investments, in accordance with s. 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and its related regulations. The employers shall contribute, as provided in this section and s. 121.571, to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program Trust Fund toward the funding of such optional benefits.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Approved provider" or "provider" means a private sector company that is selected and approved by the state board to offer one or more investment products or services to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, including a "bundled provider" that offers participants a range of individually allocated or unallocated investment products and may offer a range of administrative and customer services, which may include accounting and administration of individual participant benefits and contributions; individual participant recordkeeping; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; direct execution of the participant's instructions as to asset and contribution allocation; calculation of daily net asset values; direct access to participant account information; periodic reporting to participants, at least quarterly, on account balances and transactions; direct advice and guidance on its investments options; a broad array of distribution options; and asset allocation and retirement counseling and education. Private sector companies include investment management companies, insurance companies, depositories, and mutual fund companies.

(4) PARTICIPATION; ENROLLMENT.—

(e) After the period during which an eligible employee had the choice to elect the defined benefit program or the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the employee shall have one opportunity, that is, a second election, at the employee's discretion, to choose to move from the defined benefit program to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program or from the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program to the defined benefit program. This paragraph shall be contingent upon approval from the Internal Revenue Service for including the choice described herein within the programs offered by the Florida Retirement System.

1. If the employee chooses to move to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the applicable provisions of this section shall govern the transfer.

2. If the employee chooses to move from the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program to the defined benefit program, the employee must transfer from his or her optional program Public Employee Optional Retirement Program account and from other employee moneys as necessary, a sum representing all contributions that would have been made to the defined benefit plan for that employee and the actual return that would have been earned on those contributions had they been invested in the defined benefit program.

If, at the time of a member's election to transfer to the defined benefit program, the member's optional program account does not contain the total amount required to be transferred to the defined benefit program, the member must pay the remaining balance. If the member's optional program account contains more than the amount required to be transferred to the defined benefit program, such additional amount shall remain in the member's optional program account.

(8) ADMINISTRATION OF PROGRAM.—

(b)1. The state board shall select and contract with one third-party administrator to provide administrative services, where those services do not duplicate services provided by the Division of Retirement within the Department of Management Services. With the approval of the state board, the third-party administrator may subcontract with other organizations or individuals to provide components of the administrative services. As a cost of administration, the board may compensate any such contractor for its services, in accordance with the terms of the contract, as is deemed necessary or proper by the board. The third-party administrator may not be an approved provider or be affiliated with an approved provider.

2. These administrative services may include, but are not limited to, enrollment of eligible employees, collection of employer contributions, disbursement of such contributions to approved providers in accordance with the allocation directions of participants; services relating to consolidated billing; individual and collective recordkeeping and accounting; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; and direct disbursement of funds to and from the third-party administrator, the division, the board, employers, participants, approved providers, and beneficiaries. Nothing in this section shall prevent or prohibit a bundled provider from providing any administrative or customer service, including accounting and administration of individual participant benefits and contributions; individual participant recordkeeping; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; direct execution of the participant's instructions as to asset and contribution allocation; calculation of daily net asset values; direct access to participant account information; periodic reporting to participants, at least quarterly, on account balances and transactions.

3. The state board shall select and contract with one or more organizations to provide educational services. With approval of the board, the organizations may subcontract with other organizations or individuals to provide components of the educational services. As a cost of administration, the board may compensate any such contractor for its services in accordance with the terms of the contract, as is deemed necessary or proper by the board. The education organization may not be an approved provider or be affiliated with an approved provider.

4. Educational services shall be designed by the board and department to assist employers, eligible employees, participants, and beneficiaries in order to maintain compliance with United States Department of Labor regulations under s. 404(c) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and to assist employees in their choice of defined benefit or defined contribution retirement alternatives. Educational services include, but are not limited to, disseminating educational materials; providing retirement planning education; explaining the differences between the defined benefit retirement plan and the defined contribution retirement plan; and offering financial planning guidance on matters such as investment diversification, investment risks, investment costs, and asset allocation. An approved provider may also provide educational information, including retirement planning and investment allocation information concerning its products and services.

(9) INVESTMENT OPTIONS OR PRODUCTS; PERFORMANCE REVIEW.—

(a) The board shall develop policy and procedures for selecting, evaluating, and monitoring the performance of approved providers and investment products to which employees may direct retirement contributions under the program. In accordance with such policy and procedures, the board shall designate and contract for a number of investment products as determined by the board. The board shall also select one or more bundled providers, each of whom who offer nine multiple investment options and related services products when such an approach is determined by the board to afford value to the participants otherwise not available through individual investment products. Each approved bundled provider may offer investment options that provide participants with the opportunity to invest in each of the following asset classes, to be composed of individual options that represent either a single asset class or a combination thereof: money markets, U.S. fixed income, U.S. equities, and foreign stock. The board shall review and manage all educational materials, contract terms, fee schedules, and other aspects of the approved provider relationships to ensure that no provider is unduly favored or penalized by virtue of its status within the plan.

(b) The board shall consider investment options or products it considers appropriate to give participants the opportunity to accumulate retirement benefits, subject to the following:

1. The Public Employee Optional Retirement Program must offer a diversified mix of low-cost investment products that span the risk-return spectrum, and may include a guaranteed account as well as investment products such as individually allocated guaranteed and variable annuities, that meet the requirements of this subsection and that combine the ability to accumulate investment returns with the option of receiving lifetime income consistent with the long-term retirement security of a pension plan and similar to the lifetime income benefit provided by the Florida Retirement System.

2. Investment options or products offered by the group of approved providers may include mutual funds, group annuity contracts, individual retirement annuities, interests in trusts, collective trusts, separate accounts, and other such financial instruments, and shall include products that give participants the option of committing their contributions for an extended time period in an effort to obtain higher returns than could be obtained from investment products offering full liquidity.

3. The board shall not contract with any provider that imposes a front-end, back-end, contingent, or deferred sales charge, or any other fee that limits or restricts the ability of participants to select any investment product available in the optional program. This prohibition shall not apply to fees or charges that are imposed on withdrawals from products that give participants the option of committing their contributions for an extended time period in an effort to obtain higher returns than could be obtained from investment products offering full liquidity, provided that the product in question, net of all fees and charges, produces material benefits relative to other comparable products in the program offering full liquidity.

4. Fees or charges for insurance features, such as mortality and expense risk charges, shall be reasonable relative to the benefits provided.

(f)1. An approved provider shall comply with all applicable federal and state securities and insurance laws and regulations, as well as the applicable rules and guidelines of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) governing the ethical marketing of investment products. In furtherance of this mandate, an approved provider must agree in its contract with the board to establish and maintain a compliance education and monitoring system to supervise the activities of all personnel who directly communicate with individual participants and recommend investment products, which system is consistent with National Association of Security Dealers rules.

2. Approved provider personnel who directly communicate with individual participants and who recommend investment products shall make an independent and unbiased determination as to whether an investment product is suitable for a particular participant.

3. The board shall develop procedures to receive and resolve participant complaints against a provider or approved provider personnel, and, when appropriate, refer such complaints to the appropriate regulatory agency.

4. Approved providers are prohibited from selling or in any way distributing any customer list or participant identification information generated through their offering of products or services through the optional retirement program.

Section 2. The appointment of the executive director of the State Board of Administration shall be subject to the approval by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees of the State Board of Administration and the Governor must vote on the prevailing side. Such appointment must be reaffirmed in the same manner by the Board of Trustees on an annual basis.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

(c)1. If the division has received from the employer the required documentation of the participant's termination of employment, the effective retirement date for a participant who applies and is approved for disability retirement shall be established by rule of the division.

2. For a participant who is receiving workers' compensation payments, the effective disability retirement date may not precede the date the participant reaches maximum medical improvement, unless the participant terminates employment prior to reaching maximum medical improvement.

(d) A participant shall be considered totally and permanently disabled if, in the opinion of the division, he or she is prevented by reason of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment from rendering useful and efficient service as an officer or employee.

(e) The division, before approving payment of any disability retirement benefit, shall require proof that the participant is totally and permanently disabled as follows:

1. Such proof shall include the certification of the participant's total and permanent disability by two licensed physicians in this state and such other evidence of disability as the division may require, including reports from vocational rehabilitation, evaluation, or testing specialists who have evaluated the applicant for employment.

2. It shall be documented that:

a. The participant's medical condition occurred or became symptomatic during the time the participant was employed in an employee/employer relationship with his or her employer.

b. The participant was totally and permanently disabled at the time he or she terminated covered employment.

c. The participant has not been employed with any other employer after such termination.

3. If the application is for in-line-of-duty disability, in addition to the requirements of subparagraph 2., it must be documented by competent medical evidence that the disability was caused by a job-related illness or accident which occurred while the participant was in an employee/employer relationship with his or her employer.

4. The unavailability of an employment position that the participant is physically and mentally capable of performing shall not be considered as proof of total and permanent disability.

(f) A participant whose application for regular disability retirement has been denied and who has filed an appeal to the State Retirement Commission under s. 121.23 may, if eligible, elect to terminate employment and take distribution of benefits as provided under subsection (1) while he or she is awaiting the decision on the appeal. In that event:

1. If disability benefits are later approved as a result of the appeal, to receive the disability benefit payable under this subsection, the participant shall first repay to the division for deposit in the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund the total amount withdrawn under subsection (1), less the amount that would have otherwise been payable as a monthly disability benefit while the appeal was pending if the application had been initially approved.

2. If the appeal is later denied, no further benefits are payable to the terminated participant.

(g) Upon the disability retirement of a participant under this subsection, the participant shall receive a monthly benefit that shall begin to accrue on the first day of the month of disability retirement, as approved by the division, and shall be payable on the last day of that month and each month thereafter during his or her lifetime and continued disability.

(h) The amount of each monthly payment shall be computed in the same manner as that computed for a normal retirement benefit but shall be based on disability option actuarial equivalency tables and the average monthly compensation and creditable service of the participant as of his or her disability retirement date, subject to the following:

1. If the participant's disability occurred in the line of duty, the monthly Option 1 benefit shall be a minimum of:

a. Forty-two percent of the participant's average monthly compensation as of the disability retirement date; or

b. Sixty-five percent of the participant's average monthly compensation as of the disability retirement date for a participant of the special risk class who retires on or after July 1, 2002.

2. If the participant's disability occurred other than in the line of duty, the monthly Option 1 benefit shall be a minimum of 25 percent of the participant's average monthly compensation as of the disability retirement date.

(i) A participant whose initial application for disability retirement has been denied may reapply for disability benefits. However, such participant's reapplication may be considered only if the participant presents new medical evidence of a medical condition that existed prior to the participant's termination of employment. The division may prescribe by rule procedures for reapplication and for review and approval or disapproval of reapplication.

(j) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent a participant who has been approved for a disability retirement benefit payable under this subsection from electing to receive, in lieu of the benefit payable under this subsection, the benefit payable to him or her under the provisions of subsection (1), provided such election is made prior to the deposit or cashing of a disability retirement warrant or receipt of such warrant by electronic funds transfer in accordance with the participant's authorization of direct deposit of such funds.

(k) The division may require periodic reexaminations at the expense of the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund. The division may adopt rules establishing procedures for conducting and review of such reexaminations. If the division finds that a participant who is receiving disability benefits is no longer disabled, the division shall direct that the disability benefits be discontinued and no further benefits shall be payable under this subsection. The decision of the division on this question shall be final and binding. Upon termination of the monthly disability benefit:

1. If such participant does not reenter covered employment following recovery from disability and had not satisfied the vesting requirement as of the disability retirement date for any or all of the moneys which had accumulated in his or her participant accounts, the remainder of the nonvested accumulation as described under subparagraph 5., if any, shall be held in a suspense account in the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund.

a. If the participant returns to covered employment as an eligible employee as defined in s. 121.4501(2) within 5 years after the date of recovery, the division shall transfer any such moneys held in the suspense account, plus interest calculated at an effective annual rate of 6 percent, to the State Board of Administration for deposit in the participant's individual account under the optional program, as directed by the participant.

b. If the participant fails to return to covered employment within 5 years after recovery, any such moneys held in the suspense account in the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund shall be forfeited.

2. If such participant does not reenter covered employment following recovery from disability but had satisfied vesting requirements as of the disability retirement date for any or all of the moneys which had accumulated in his or her accounts under the optional program, the amount representing the remainder of his or her vested accumulation as described under subparagraph 5., if any, shall be transferred from the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program Trust Fund and shall be payable as provided in subsection (1).

3. If such participant returns to covered employment following recovery from disability as a participant in the optional program, the amount representing the remainder of his or her nonvested accumulation or the remainder of his or her vested accumulation as described under subparagraph 5., if any, shall be transferred from the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund to the third-party administrator for deposit in the participant's individual investment accounts as directed by the participant. Vested accumulations shall be accounted for separately from nonvested accumulations.

4. If such participant reenters covered employment as a member of the defined benefit program of the Florida Retirement System, and is continuously employed for a minimum of 1 year of creditable service, he or she may claim as creditable service the months during which he or she was receiving a disability benefit, upon payment of the required contributions as provided in s. 121.091(4)(h)1.d.

5. As used in reference to funds deposited in the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund under paragraph (a):

a. The term "remainder of the nonvested accumulation" means all employer contributions deposited on behalf of a participant who had not met the vesting requirement set forth in s. 121.4501(6)(a)1. as of his or her disability retirement date and any transferred present value amount deposited on behalf of a participant who had not met the vesting requirement set forth in s. 121.4501(6)(b)1. as of his or her disability retirement date, plus interest and earnings thereon, less the total amount of disability benefits received by that participant.

b. The term "remainder of the vested accumulation" means all employer contributions deposited on behalf of any participant who had met the vesting requirement set forth in s. 121.4501(6)(a)1. as of his or her disability retirement date and any transferred present value amount deposited on behalf of any participant who had met the vesting requirement set forth in s. 121.4501(6)(b)1. as of his or her disability retirement date, plus interest and earnings thereon, less the total amount of disability benefits received by that participant.

(l) Both the participant receiving disability benefits who reenters employment and the employer employing such disability retiree shall notify the division immediately upon reemployment and the division shall terminate such participant's disability benefits, effective upon the first day of the month following the month in which notification of recovery is received. If the participant is reemployed with a Florida Retirement System employer at the time of benefit termination and he or she has received disability retirement benefit and salary payments concurrently prior to notifying the division, he or she may elect within 30 days to:

1. Retain the retirement benefits received prior to termination of disability benefits and begin receiving retirement service credit effective upon the date of termination of benefits; or

2. Repay, within 12 months after his or her decision to receive service credit, the retirement benefits received for each month of reemployment prior to termination of disability benefits and begin receiving retirement service credit effective upon the date of reemployment. Any such unpaid benefits shall have compound interest of 6.5 percent added each June 30.

A participant may not receive both retirement service credit for employment and retirement benefits for the same month.

(m) If, after recovery from disability and reentry into covered employment, the participant again becomes disabled and is again approved for disability retirement, the Option 1 monthly retirement benefit shall not be less than the Option 1 monthly benefit calculated at the time of the previous disability, plus any cost-of-living increases payable up to the time the disability benefit was terminated upon his or her reentry into covered employment.

(n) A participant shall not be entitled to receive any disability retirement benefit if the disability is a result of:

1. Injury or disease sustained by the participant while willfully participating in a riot, civil insurrection, or other act of violence or while committing a felony;

2. Injury or disease sustained by the participant after his or her employment has terminated; or

3. Intentional, self-inflicted injury.

(o)1. If a participant is a justice of the Supreme Court, judge of a district court of appeal, circuit judge, or judge of a county court who has served for 6 years or more as an elected constitutional judicial officer, including service as a judicial officer in any court abolished pursuant to Art. V of the State Constitution, and who is retired for disability by order of the Supreme Court upon recommendation of the Judicial Qualifications Commission pursuant to the provisions of Art. V of the State Constitution, the participant's Option 1 monthly disability benefit amount as provided in s. 121.091(6)(a)1. shall be two-thirds of his or her monthly compensation as of the participant's disability retirement date. Such a participant may alternatively elect to receive an actuarially adjusted disability retirement benefit under any other option as provided in s. 121.091(6)(a), or to receive the normal benefit payable under the optional program as set forth under subsection (1).

2. If any justice or judge who is a participant of the optional program is retired for disability by order of the Supreme Court upon recommendation of the Judicial Qualifications Commission pursuant to the provisions of Art. V of the State Constitution and elects to receive a monthly disability benefit under the provisions of this paragraph:

a. Any present value amount which was transferred to his or her program account and all employer contributions made to such account on his or her behalf, plus interest and earnings thereon, shall be transferred to and deposited in the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund.

b. The monthly benefits payable under this paragraph for any affected justice or judge retired from the Florida Retirement System pursuant to Art. V of the State Constitution shall be paid from the Public Employee Disability Trust Fund.

(3) DEATH BENEFITS.—Under the optional program:

(a) Survivor benefits shall be payable in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

1. To the extent vested, benefits shall be payable only to a participant's beneficiary or beneficiaries as designated by the participant.

2. Benefits shall be paid by the third-party administrator or designated approved providers in accordance with the law, the contracts, and any applicable board rule or policy.

3. To receive benefits under this subsection, the participant must be deceased.

(b) In the event of a participant's death, all vested accumulations as described in s. 121.4501(6), less withholding taxes remitted to the Internal Revenue Service, shall be distributed, as provided in paragraph (c), to the participant's designated beneficiary or beneficiaries, or to the participant's estate, as if the participant retired on the date of death. No other death benefits shall be available for survivors of participants under the optional program, except for such benefits, or coverage for such benefits, as are otherwise provided by law or are separately afforded by the employer, at the employer's discretion.

(c) Upon receipt by the third-party administrator of a properly executed application for distribution of benefits, the total accumulated benefit shall be payable by the third-party administrator to the participant's surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries as:

1. A lump-sum distribution payable to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to the deceased participant's estate;

2. An eligible rollover distribution on behalf of the surviving spouse of a deceased participant, whereby all accrued benefits, plus interest and investment earnings, are paid from the deceased participant's account directly to the custodian of an individual retirement account or an individual retirement annuity, as described in s. 402(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code, on behalf of the surviving spouse; or

3. A partial lump-sum payment whereby a portion of the accrued benefit is paid to the deceased participant's surviving spouse or other designated beneficiaries, less withholding taxes remitted to the Internal Revenue Service, and the remaining amount is transferred directly to the custodian of an individual retirement account or an individual retirement annuity, as described in s. 402(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code, on behalf of the surviving spouse. The proportions must be specified by the participant or the surviving beneficiary.

This paragraph does not abrogate other applicable provisions of state or federal law providing for payment of death benefits.

(4) LIMITATION ON LEGAL PROCESS.—The benefits payable to any person under the optional program and any contributions accumulated under such program are not subject to assignment, execution, attachment, or any legal process, except for qualified domestic relations orders by a court of competent jurisdiction, income deduction orders as provided in s. 61.1301, and federal income tax levies.

Section 6. The Legislature finds that a proper and legitimate state purpose is served when employees and retirees of the state and of its political subdivisions, and the dependents, survivors, and beneficiaries of such employees and retirees, are extended the basic protections afforded by governmental retirement systems that provide fair and adequate benefits that are managed, administered, and funded in an actuarially sound manner, as required by section 14, Article X of the State Constitution and part VII of chapter 112, Florida Statutes. Therefore, the Legislature determines and declares that this act fulfills an important state interest.

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Wednesday, April 25, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 10:30 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Father James Rousakis of Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church of Clearwater, upon invitation of Rep. Carassas:

Let us pray to the Lord. Lord, have mercy.

Almighty God, our help and refuge, fountain of wisdom, and tower of strength, who at all times and in every hour is glorified, who knows that we can do nothing without Your guidance and help. Assist us, we pray to You, and direct to divine wisdom and power the Members of the Florida House of Representatives, that they may accomplish their task and whatever they undertake to do, faithfully and diligently, according to Your will, so that it may be profitable to the great State of Florida and those citizens who live therein, young and old, and to the glory of Your Holy name. We pray to You to send Your blessings upon this session of the Florida State House. Bless them and those who put their trust in You. Sanctify and reward them with glory by Your divine power. We pray to You to be their light when the day is dark and they know not which way to turn; to be their fortress in the hour of temptation, a house of defense to save them; to be their strength when the flesh is weak and the spirit sore-troubled and depressed; to be their courage in the hour of danger and in the day of adversity; to be their hope when all other hope fails, and to be at all times their salvation.

Grant them perfect health of mind and body. Direct their thoughts, Lord, in the way of truth, that they may enact, order, and enforce those laws that are true, those laws that are just, tending toward excellence and virtue. Enlighten them to govern and to lead this State of Florida in the way of prosperity and righteousness. This we offer and pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

Explanations of Vote

HB 1925 ON PASSAGE: I cannot support House Bill 1925 in this version. My primary objection to this legislation is the increase in the amount of campaign contributions allowed. Over the past decade, campaign contributions were reduced. I see no reason to reverse course. I believe that our goal should be to restore trust and credibility to the political process. While there is a great deal of positive portions of this bill, I cannot support this version in its entirety. This is why I voted NO.

*Rep. Charlie Justice

This is the most important bill of session. This is probably the most important general bill of any of our careers. This is our chance to regain credibility with the voters. This is our chance to do what was right for Floridians. Unfortunately, Mr. Speaker and Members, I am afraid that in we have done much wrong. I refuse to go back to my constituents and tell them that I voted to put more money into a system that is already overflowing with cash. I refuse to tie the hands of unknown statewide candidates, fighting for their chance to enter public service. Fortunately, there are still several days of session left. We can say no today and come back tomorrow and do what is right. With that, I must vote no.

Upon adoption of a Special Order Calendar, no other bills shall be considered for the time period set forth for that Special Order Calendar, except that any bill appearing on that Special Order Calendar may be stricken from it by a two-thirds vote of the Members present and voting or any bill may be added to it pursuant to Rule 10.16. A previously adopted Special Order Calendar shall expire upon adoption by the House of a new Special Order Calendar.

(2) Any committee, council, or Member may apply to the Procedural & Redistricting Council to place a bill on the Special Order Calendar. The Procedural & Redistricting Council may grant such requests by a majority vote.

Ruling on Question of Order Certified From Committee

The Honorable Tom Feeney
Speaker of the House of Representatives

April 23, 2001

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I have received an appeal by Rep. Renier Diaz de la Portilla, under House Rule 7.5(b) regarding my decision as committee chair to refuse his motion to reconsider and leave pending during the committee's deliberation of House Bill 1189 on Thursday, April 12, 2001.

During the committee meeting, Rep. Haridopolos was recognized for a motion to reconsider House Bill 1189; the motion was subsequently defeated. After that motion was disposed of, Rep. Diaz de la Portilla made a motion to reconsider and leave the bill pending. Since the earlier reconsideration motion was clearly defeated by a voice vote of the committee, the second motion was ruled out of order based upon House Rule 7.17(d). Upon further review, it is my opinion that my ruling at the meeting was, in fact, correct and was made within the extended time limit provided for through the unanimous consent of the committee.

Thank you for your time and consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,
Rob Wallace, Chair
Committee on Fiscal Policy & Resources

Rep. Goodlette, Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections: Chairman Wallace has certified forward an appeal from Rep. Diaz de la Portilla regarding a sequence of events at the April 12, 2001, meeting of the Fiscal Policy & Resources Committee. The question outlined in Chairman Wallace's letter and Rep. Diaz de la Portilla's attached materials involved whether several motions made during the consideration of HB 1189 were disposed of in the proper order and during the committee's authorized meeting time.

The audio tape of the committee meeting documents the following series of events. After the vote on passage of HB 1189, the Chair recognized Rep. Haridopolos who moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed. Rep. Mack was then recognized and moved to lay that motion on the table. Rep. Diaz de la Portilla moved to reconsider the vote and leave the motion pending. Upon the defeat of the motion to lay the motion to reconsider on the table, the committee addressed the motion to reconsider, which was also defeated. Chairman Wallace then stated that the motion by Rep. Diaz de la Portilla was in order at that point and the motion would be left pending.

Following the subsequent consideration of several proposed committee bills and a third motion to extend, which was adopted without objection, Chairman Wallace readdressed Rep. Diaz de la Portilla's motion to reconsider and leave the motion pending, noted that the motion had been out of order, and announced that HB 1189 would be reported favorably by the committee.

While several issues have been raised in this appeal, the essential issue is the determination of which reconsideration motion has precedence. The motion to reconsider was properly made prior to the motion to reconsider and leave the motion pending. The two motions have equal precedence under House Rule 7.17(a), and should therefore be taken in the order made, as provided in a ruling by Speaker Pettigrew on February 10, 1972 (Precedent 134-7 of Rulings and Opinions, Florida House of Representatives, 2000). Rep. Diaz de la Portilla has also argued that unanimous consent was provided by the committee for his motion to reconsider and leave pending. Silence on the part of the committee without the chair asking if there is an objection does not constitute unanimous consent. Since such consent was not provided, this opinion does not reach the issue of whether a motion to reconsider and leave pending may be made when unanimous consent of the committee is received and once a motion to reconsider has been disposed of. It is my opinion that the final ruling by Chairman Wallace was properly reached.

The Chair [Speaker Feeney] concurred in the recommendation of Rep. Goodlette, Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections, and ruled the final ruling by Chairman Wallace was properly reached.

On motion by Rep. Goodlette, Special Rule 01-11 was waived and—

By Representatives Peterman, Joyner, Wilson, Harper, Smith, Cusack, Meadows, Richardson, Siplin, Jennings, Holloway, Bullard, Bendross-Mindingall, Brutus, Fields, Justice, Kendrick, Lee, Heyman, Slosberg, Gannon, Weissman, Bucher, Lerner, McGriff, Sobel, Henriquez, Betancourt, Ausley, Gottlieb, Romeo, Meador, Baxley, Prieguez, Waters, Brown, Detert, Murman, Mayfield, Ross, Allen, Benson, Hogan, Baker, Bean, Stansel, Kravitz, Simmons, Garcia, Paul, Arza, Wallace, Berfield, Argenziano, Russell, Littlefield, Needelman, Farkas, Ritter, and Wishner—

HR 9073—A resolution honoring the memory of Douglas Lee “Tim” Jamerson.

WHEREAS, remembered for his “great sense of humor, his booming voice for the underprivileged, and his kind heart,” Douglas Lee “Tim” Jamerson left no doubt as to where he stood on an issue, yet so adept was he at concealing the state of his health that many who were closest to him were profoundly shocked when cancer claimed his life on Saturday, April 21, 2001, and

WHEREAS, Doug Jamerson was a teacher at St. Petersburg High School when he made his successful bid for the Legislature, quickly becoming recognized as a “tireless champion for public education” as he pushed for measures that put more control of schools in local hands, led in establishing school accountability in Florida, and promoted parental involvement in their children’s schools, and

WHEREAS, known as one of the most prominent black politicians in Florida, smart, passionate, and well-connected, Doug Jamerson served with uncommon distinction as the District 55 State Representative for 11 years after his election in 1982 until his resignation in 1993 to assume statewide positions, first as Commissioner of Education and, later, as Secretary of Labor, both by appointment of then-Governor Lawton Chiles, and

WHEREAS, service to his state kept him in Tallahassee for much of his political career, but in his heart Douglas Lee Jamerson never truly left St. Petersburg, where he was born on October 16, 1947, and remained intensely interested in its welfare, often visiting in the neighborhoods in which he grew up and, when racial violence broke out in the city in 1996, he walked the streets, attempting to cool emotions and restore order, the following year winning a national award for his efforts, and

WHEREAS, the first black legislator elected from Pinellas County and referred to as “one of the political pioneers of the African-American community” and as a statesman who “represented all that is right in public service,” Douglas Lee “Tim” Jamerson accomplished much in the relatively short span of his public service and has made a lasting impact on the lives of all Floridians, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Florida:

That the House of Representatives pauses in its deliberations to honor the memory of Douglas Lee “Tim” Jamerson and to reflect upon the contributions made by this dedicated public servant.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be presented to Mrs. Leatha Jamerson and to Cedric Jamerson, wife and son of Doug Jamerson, as a tangible token of the esteem in which this body holds the memory of its former colleague.

—was read the first time by title and the second time by title. On motion by Rep. Peterman, the resolution was adopted.

Rep. Peterman, Rep. Frankel, and the Speaker each gave brief remarks.

In honor and appreciation of the Honorable Douglas L. “Tim” Jamerson’s life and service to the State of Florida, the Members stood and applauded.

On motion by Rep. Peterman, the board was opened [Session Vote Sequence: 0180] and the following Members were recorded as cosponsors of the resolution, along with Reps. # The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 18

Thursday, April 26, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 10:30 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Henry D. Cribb, Jr. of First United Methodist Church of Apopka, upon invitation of Rep. Brummer:

Lord, we take a moment as we begin another day, to give You thanks and praise for the gift of life and every opportunity we are given to serve. Let Your favor rest upon us as we stop and ask for Your blessings for each of us, each family that we represent, each community represented here today, and for all the people of our state and our nation.

We seek Your wisdom and grace because we are aware of the important work still before each of our state leaders as they gather here today. Help them in all their debating, planning, and decision making, to be wise, and just, and compassionate as they fulfill their responsibilities. Help each of us to see ourselves as part of a larger community, larger than the communities that we come from or those that we represent as state leaders. Encourage us and help us to find ways in which we can be vehicles of Your love reaching out to all people across the state of Florida and around the world. Remind us of our greater responsibilities and of Your never-ending grace and help. Lord, may the work accomplished here today be pleasing in Your sight. Amen.

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 163.3174 is amended to read:

163.3174 Local planning agency.—

(1) The governing body of each local government, individually or in combination as provided in s. 163.3171, shall designate and by ordinance establish a "local planning agency," unless the agency is otherwise established by law. Notwithstanding any special act to the contrary, no later than January 1, 2002, each local planning agencies shall include a representative of the district school board as a member of the local planning agency. The governing body may designate itself as the local planning agency pursuant to this subsection with the addition of a school board representative. The governing body shall notify the state land planning agency of the establishment of its local planning agency. All local planning agencies shall provide opportunities for involvement by ~~district school boards and~~ applicable community college boards, which may be accomplished by formal representation, membership on technical advisory committees, or other appropriate means. The local planning agency shall prepare the comprehensive plan or plan amendment after hearings to be held after public notice and shall make recommendations to the governing body regarding the adoption or amendment of the plan. The agency may be a local planning commission, the planning department of the local government, or other instrumentality, including a countywide planning entity established by special act or a council of local government officials created pursuant to s. 163.02, provided the composition of the council is fairly representative of all the governing bodies in the county or planning area; however:

Section 2. Paragraphs (a) and (h) of Subsection (6) and subsection (11) of section 163.3177 is amended, and subsection (12) is repealed:

163.3177 Required and optional elements of comprehensive plan; studies and surveys.—

(6) In addition to the requirements of subsections (1)- (5), the comprehensive plan shall include the following elements:

(a) A future land use plan element designating proposed future general distribution, location, and extent of the uses of land for residential uses, commercial uses, industry, agriculture, recreation, conservation, education, public buildings and grounds, other public facilities, and other categories of the public and private uses of land. The future land use plan shall include standards to be followed in the control and distribution of population densities and building and structure intensities. The proposed distribution, location, and extent of the various categories of land use shall be shown on a land use map or map series which shall be supplemented by goals, policies, and measurable objectives. Each land use category shall be defined in terms of the types of uses included and specific standards for the density or intensity of use. The future land use plan shall be based upon surveys, studies, and data regarding the area, including the amount of land required to accommodate anticipated growth; the projected population of the area; the character of undeveloped land; the availability of public services; the need for redevelopment, including the renewal of blighted areas and the elimination of nonconforming uses which are inconsistent with the character of the community; and, in rural communities, the need for job creation, capital investment, and economic development that will strengthen and diversify the community's economy. The future land use plan may designate areas for future planned development use involving combinations of types of uses for which special regulations may be necessary to ensure development in accord with the principles and standards of the comprehensive plan and this act. In addition, for rural communities, the amount of land designated for future planned industrial use shall be based upon surveys and studies that reflect the need for job creation, capital investment, and the necessity to strengthen and diversify the local economies, and shall not be limited solely by the projected population of the rural community. The future land use plan of a county may also designate areas for possible future municipal incorporation. The land use maps or map series shall generally identify and depict historic district boundaries and shall designate historically significant properties meriting protection. The future land use element must clearly identify the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use. When delineating the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use, a local government shall include in the categories sufficient land proximate to residential development to meet the projected needs for schools in coordination with public school boards and may establish differing criteria for schools of different type or size. Each local government shall include lands contiguous to existing school sites, to the maximum extent possible, within the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use. All comprehensive plans must comply with the school siting requirements of this paragraph no later than October 1, 1999. The failure by a local government to comply with these school siting requirements by October 1, 1999, will result in the prohibition of the local government's ability to amend the local comprehensive plan, except for plan amendments described in s. 163.3187(1)(b), until the school siting requirements are met. ~~An amendment Amendments~~ proposed by a local government for purposes of identifying the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use or for adopting or amending the school siting maps pursuant to s. 163.3177(6) are exempt from the limitation on the frequency of plan amendments contained in s. 163.3187. The future land use element shall include criteria which encourage the location of schools proximate to urban residential areas to the extent possible and shall require that the local government seek to collocate public facilities, such as parks, libraries, and community centers, with schools ~~to the extent possible and to encourage using elementary schools as focal points for neighborhoods.~~ For schools serving predominantly rural counties, defined as a county with a population of less than 75,000, an agricultural land use category shall be eligible for the location of public school facilities if the local comprehensive plan contains school siting criteria, and the location is consistent with such criteria.

5. Intergovernmental coordination between local governments and the district school board shall be governed by ss. 163.31776 and 163.31777 for local governments subject to the requirements of those sections and is encouraged for local governments exempt from such requirements.

(11)(a) The Legislature recognizes the need for innovative planning and development strategies which will address the anticipated demands of continued urbanization of Florida's coastal and other environmentally sensitive areas, and which will accommodate the development of less populated regions of the state which seek economic development and which have suitable land and water resources to accommodate growth in an environmentally acceptable manner. The Legislature further recognizes the substantial advantages of innovative approaches to development which may better serve to protect environmentally sensitive areas, maintain the economic viability of agricultural and other predominantly rural land uses, and provide for the cost-efficient delivery of public facilities and services.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the local government comprehensive plans and plan amendments adopted pursuant to the provisions of this part provide for a planning process which allows for land use efficiencies within existing urban areas and which also allows for the conversion of rural lands to other uses, where appropriate and consistent with the other provisions of this part and the affected local comprehensive plans, through the application of innovative and flexible planning and development strategies and creative land use planning techniques, which may include, but not be limited to, urban villages, new towns, satellite communities, area-based allocations, clustering and open space provisions, mixed-use development, and sector planning.

(c) It is the further intent of the Legislature that local government comprehensive plans and implementing land development regulations shall provide strategies which maximize the use of existing facilities and services through redevelopment, urban infill development, and other strategies for urban revitalization.

(d)1. The department, in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, shall provide assistance to local governments in the implementation of this paragraph and s. 9J-5.006(5)(l), Florida Administrative Code. Implementation of those provisions shall include a process by which the department may authorize up to five local governments to designate all or portions of lands classified in the future land use element as predominantly agricultural, rural, open, open-rural, or a substantively equivalent land use, as a rural land stewardship area within which planning and economic incentives are applied to encourage the implementation of innovative and flexible planning and development strategies and creative land use planning techniques, including those contained in Rule 9J-5.006(5)(l), Florida Administrative Code.

2. The department shall encourage participation by local governments of different sizes and rural characteristics. It is the intent of the Legislature that rural land stewardship areas be used to further the following broad principles of rural sustainability: restoration and maintenance of the economic value of rural land; control of urban sprawl; identification and protection of ecosystems, habitats, and natural resources; promotion of rural economic activity; maintenance of the viability of Florida's agricultural economy; and protection of the character of rural areas of Florida.

3. A local government may apply to the department in writing requesting consideration for authorization to designate a rural land stewardship area and shall describe its reasons for applying for the authorization with supporting documentation regarding its compliance with criteria set forth in this section.

4. In selecting a local government, the department shall, by written agreement:

a. Ensure that the local government has expressed its intent to designate a rural land stewardship area pursuant to the provisions of this subsection and clarify that the rural land stewardship area is intended.

b. Ensure that the local government has the financial and administrative capabilities to implement a rural land stewardship area.

5. The written agreement shall include the basis for the authorization and provide criteria for evaluating the success of the authorization including the extent the rural land stewardship area enhances rural land values; control urban sprawl; provides necessary open space for agriculture and protection of the natural environment; promotes rural economic activity; and maintains rural character and the economic viability of agriculture. The department may terminate the agreement at any time if it determines that the local government is not meeting the terms of the agreement.

6. A rural land stewardship area shall be not less than 50,000 acres and shall not exceed 400,000 acres in size, shall be located outside of municipalities and established urban growth boundaries, and shall be designated by plan amendment. The plan amendment designating a rural land stewardship area shall be subject to review by the Department of Community Affairs pursuant to s. 163.3184, F.S., and shall provide for the following:

a. Criteria for the designation of receiving areas within rural land stewardship areas in which innovative planning and development strategies may be applied. Criteria shall at a minimum provide for the following: adequacy of suitable land to accommodate development so as to avoid conflict with environmentally sensitive areas, resources, and habitats; compatibility between and transition from higher density uses to lower intensity rural uses; the establishment of receiving area service boundaries which provide for a separation between receiving areas and other land uses within the rural and stewardship are through limitations on the extension of services; and connection of receiving areas with the rest of the rural land stewardship area using rural design and rural road corridors.

b. Goals, objectives, an policies setting forth the innovative planning and development strategies to be applied within rural land stewardship areas pursuant to the provisions of this section.

c. A process for the implementation of innovative planning and development strategies within the rural land stewardship area, including those described in this subsection and s. 9J-5.006(5)(1), Florida Administrative code, which provide for a functional mix of land uses and which are applied through the adoption by the local government of zoning and land development regulations applicable to the rural land stewardship area.

d. A process which encourages visioning pursuant to s. 163.3167(11) to ensure that innovative planning and development strategies comply with the provisions of this section.

e. The control of sprawl through the use of innovative strategies and creative land use techniques consistent with the provisions of this subsection and rural 9J-5.006(5)(1), Florida Administrative Code.

7. A receiving area shall be designated by the adoption of a land development regulation. Prior to the designation of a receiving area, the local government shall provide the Department of Community Affairs a period of 30 days in which to review a proposed receiving area for consistency with the rural land stewardship area plan amendment and to provide comments to the local government.

8. Upon the adoption of a plan amendment creating a rural land stewardship area, the local government shall, by ordinance, assign to the area a certain number of credits, to be known as "transferable rural land use credits," which shall not constitute a right to develop land, nor increase density of land, except as provided by this section. The total amount of transferrable rural land use credits assigned to the rural land stewardship area must correspond to the 25-year or greater projected population of the rural land stewardship area. Transferable rural land use credits are subject to the following limitations:

a. Transferable rural land use credits may only exist within a rural land stewardship area.

b. Transferable rural land use credits may only be used on lands designated as receiving areas and then solely for the purpose of implementing innovative planning and development strategies and creative land use planning techniques adopted by the local government pursuant to this section.

c. Transferable rural land use credits assigned to a parcel of land within a rural land stewardship area shall cease to exist if the parcel of land is removed from the rural land stewardship area by plan amendment.

d. Neither the creation of the rural land stewardship area by plan amendment nor the assignment of transferable rural land use credits by the local government shall operate to displace the underlying density of land uses assigned to a parcel of land within the rural land stewardship area; however, if transferable rural land use credits are transferred from a parcel for use within a designated receiving area, the underlying density assigned to the parcel of land shall cease to exist.

e. The underlying density on each parcel of land located within a rural land stewardship area shall not be increased or decreased by the local government, except as a result of the conveyance or use of transferable rural land use credits, as long as the parcel remains within the rural land stewardship area.

f. Transferable rural land use credits shall cease to exist on a parcel of land where the underlying density assigned to the parcel of land is utilized.

g. An increase in the density of use on a parcel of land located within a designated receiving area may occur only through the assignment or use of transferable rural land use credits and shall not require a plan amendment.

h. A change in the density of land use on parcels located within receiving areas shall be specified in a development order which reflects the total number of transferable rural land use credits assigned to the parcel of land and the infrastructure and support services necessary to provide for a functional mix of land uses corresponding to the plan of development.

i. Land within a rural land stewardship area may be removed from the rural land stewardship area through a plan amendment.

j. Transferable rural land use credits may be assigned at different ratios of credits per acre according to the land use remaining following the transfer of credits, with the highest number of credits per acre assigned to preserve environmentally valuable land and a lesser number of credits to be assigned to open space and agricultural land.

k. The use or conveyance of transferable rural land use credits must be recorded in the public records of the county in which the property is located as a covenant or restrictive easement running with the land in favor of the county and either the Department of Environmental Protection, Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, a water management district, or a recognized statewide land trust.

9. Owners of land within rural land stewardship areas should be provided incentives to enter into rural land stewardship agreements, pursuant to existing law and rules adopted thereto, with state agencies, water management districts, and local governments to achieve mutually agreed upon conservation objectives. Such incentives may include, but not be limited to, the following:

- a. Opportunity to accumulate transferable mitigation credits.
- b. Extended permit agreements.
- c. Opportunities for recreational leases and ecotourism.
- d. Payment for specified land management services on publicly owned land, or property under covenant or restricted easement in favor of a public entity.
- e. Option agreements for sale to government, in either fee or easement, upon achievement of conservation objectives.

10. The department shall report to the Legislature on an annual basis on the results of implementation of rural land stewardship areas authorized by the department, including successes and failures in achieving the intent of the Legislature as expressed in this paragraph. It is further the intent of the Legislature that the success of authorized rural land stewardship areas be substantiated before implementation occurs on a statewide basis.

(e)(d) The implementation of this subsection shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, chapters 186 and 187, and applicable agency rules.

(f)(e) The department is authorized to adopt rules as required to ~~shall~~ implement the provisions of this subsection ~~by rule~~.

Section 3. Create new Section 163.31776:

163.31776 Public Educational Facilities Element.—

(1) The intent of the Legislature is:

(a) To establish a systematic process of sharing information between school boards and local governments on the growth and development trends in their communities in order to forecast future enrollment and school needs;

(b) To establish a systematic process for school boards and local governments to cooperatively plan for the provision of educational facilities to meet the current and projected needs of the public education system population, including the needs placed on the public education system as a result of growth and development decisions by local government;

(c) To establish a systematic process for local governments and school boards to cooperatively identify and meet the infrastructure needs of public schools to assure healthy school environments and safe school access;

(2) The Legislature finds that:

(a) Public schools are a linchpin to the vitality of our communities and play a significant role in thousands of individual housing decisions which result in community growth trends;

(b) Growth and development issues transcend the boundaries and responsibilities of individual units of government, and often no single unit of government can plan or implement policies to deal with these issues without affecting other units of government.

(3) A public educational facilities element shall be adopted in cooperation with the applicable school district by all local governments meeting the criteria identified in paragraph (a). All local governments are encouraged to adopt a public educational facilities element regardless of whether it meets the criteria of paragraph (a) or is exempted by subparagraph (c). The public educational facilities elements shall be transmitted no later than January 1, 2003, for those local governments initially meeting the criteria in paragraph (a).

(a) A local government must adopt a public educational facilities element if the local government is located in a county where the districtwide number of actual public school students:

- 1. are 80 percent or greater of the most current year's school capacity and the projected five-year student growth is 1,000 students or greater, or
- 2. the projected five-year student growth rate is 10 percent or greater.

(b) The Department of Education shall issue a report notifying the state land planning agency and each county and school district that meets the criteria in (a) on June 1 of each year. Local governments and school boards will have 18 months following notification to comply with the requirements of ss. 163.31776 and 163.31777.

(c) Each municipality shall adopt its own element or adopt a plan amendment accepting the public educational facilities element adopted by the county which includes the municipality's area of authority as defined in s. 163.3171. However, a municipality is exempt from this requirement if it does not contain a public school within its jurisdiction or none is scheduled in the five year district facilities work program of the school board's education facilities plan adopted pursuant to s. 235.185, and if the residents of the municipality have generated less than 50 additional public school students during the last five years.

Any municipality currently exempt shall notify the county and the school board of any planned annexations into residential or proposed residential areas or other change in condition and shall comply with the provisions of this subsection no later than one year following a change in conditions which render the municipality no longer eligible for exemption or the identification of a proposed public school in the school board's five-year district facilities work program in the municipality's jurisdiction.

(d) The Department of Education and the Department of Community Affairs will submit a report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representative by January 2003, that evaluates the criteria in s. 163.31776(3)(a) and makes any recommendations for changes to the criteria as needed to meet the intent of this part.

(4) No later than six months prior to the deadline for transmittal of a public educational facilities element, the county, the non-exempt municipalities, and the school board shall enter into an interlocal agreement which establishes a process to develop coordinated and consistent local government public educational facilities elements and district education facilities plan, including a process:

(a) By which each local government and the school district agree and base the local government comprehensive plan and educational facilities plan on uniform projections of the amount, type, and distribution of population growth and student enrollment.

(b) To coordinate and share information relating to existing and planned public school facilities and local government plans for development and redevelopment.

(c) To ensure school siting decisions by the school board are consistent with the local comprehensive plan and future land use maps, including appropriate circumstances and criteria under which a school district may request an amendment to the comprehensive plan for school siting, and for early involvement by the local government as the school board identifies potential school sites.

(d) To coordinate and provide timely formal comments during the development, adoption, and amendment of each local government's public educational facilities element and the educational facilities plan of the school district to ensure a uniform countywide school facility planning system.

(e) For school district participation in the review of comprehensive plan amendments and rezonings which increase residential density and which are reasonably expected to have an impact on public school facility demand pursuant to s. 163.31777. The interlocal agreement shall express how the school board and local governments will develop the methodology and the criteria for determining if school facility capacity will not be reasonably available at the time of projected school impacts, including uniform, districtwide level-of-service standards for all public schools of the same type and availability standards for public schools.

The interlocal agreement shall ensure that consistent criteria and capacity determination methodologies, including student generation multipliers are adopted into the school board's district education facilities plan and the local government's public educational facilities element. The interlocal agreement shall also set forth the process and uniform methodology for determining proportionate share mitigation pursuant to s. 163.31777; and,

(f) For the resolution of disputes between the school district and local governments.

(g) That determines the "true cost of school needs." This analysis must provide the number of schools and the funding needed to meet any current backlog and future needs based on uniform projections of population and student growth and development trends. This analysis should also identify how the current and future needs are funded.

(5) The public educational facilities element shall be based on data and analysis, including the interlocal agreement required by subsection (4), and the education facilities plan required by section 235.185. All local government public educational facilities elements within a county must be consistent with each other and shall address the following:

(a) The need for, strategies, and commitments to address improvements to infrastructure, safety, and community conditions in areas proximate to existing public schools.

(b) The need for and strategies for the provision of adequate infrastructure necessary to support proposed schools, including potable water, wastewater, drainage, and transportation; and other actions needed to assure safe access to schools, including sidewalks, bicycle paths, turn lanes and signalization.

(c) Co-location of other public facilities such as parks, libraries and community centers with public schools.

(d) Location of schools proximate to residential areas and for public schools to complement patterns of development including using elementary schools as focal points for neighborhoods.

(e) Use of public schools to serve as emergency shelters.

(f) A uniform methodology for consideration of the existing and planned capacity of public schools when reviewing comprehensive plan amendments and rezonings which would increase residential development, and that are reasonably expected to have an impact on the demand for public school facilities pursuant to s. 163.31777, with the review based on uniform districtwide level-of service standards for all public schools of the same type and availability standards for public schools, and the financially feasible five-year district facilities work program adopted by the school board pursuant to s. 235.185. "Financially feasible" means that a capital improvements programs will be financed for each year of the planning period, without a deficit, based on projected revenues from existing or committed revenue sources so that the adopted level-of service standard will be achieved and maintained throughout the planning period. Revenue sources may include ad valorem taxes, state revenue distributions, proceeds from the sale of bonds, sales tax proceeds, or other general tax sources. Local-option revenue sources requiring approval by a referendum of the electors shall be deemed an existing or committed revenue source only after approval in the required referendum. The current level and amount of impact fees collected by a local government may be included in the calculation of financial feasibility. However, new impact fees or expansion of existing impact fees may not be adopted until the statewide implementation of the uniform account model occurs.

(g) A uniform methodology for determining school capacity needs and proportionate share mitigation consistent with the requirements of s. 163.31777(4) and the interlocal agreement.

(h) The "true cost of school needs." This analysis must provide the number of schools and the funding needed to meet any current backlog and future needs based on local governments' population and growth trends. This analysis should also identify how the current and future needs are funded.

(i) As part of the public education facilities element, the school board shall provide its response to the independent third-party financial management audit as required by s. 235.185, as it relates to educational facility planning and construction. The response shall be part of the data and analysis needed to support the element.

(6) The future land use map series shall either incorporate maps which are the result of a collaborative process for identifying school sites and adopted in the educational facilities plan promulgated by the school board pursuant to s. 235.185 showing the locations of existing public schools and the general locations of improvements to existing schools or construction of new schools anticipated over the five, ten and twenty year time periods, or such maps shall be data and analysis in support of the future land use map series. Maps indicating general locations of future schools or school improvements shall not be deemed to prescribe a land use on a particular parcel of land.

(7) The process for adoption of a public educational facilities element shall be as provided for in s. 163.3184. The state land planning agency shall submit a copy of the proposed public school facilities element pursuant to the procedures outlined in s. 163.3184(4) to the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education for review and comment.

(8) The interlocal agreement must be entered into by the county, the school board, and the non-exempt municipalities within the county. If such parties cannot reach agreement, the matter shall be resolved by binding arbitration through the regional planning council. The failure of such parties to enter an interlocal agreement within 60 days of referral to binding arbitration shall result in the prohibition of the local governments' ability to amend the local comprehensive plan until the dispute is resolved. The failure of a school board to provide the required plans, information or to enter into the interlocal agreement under this subsection shall subject the school board to sanctions pursuant to s. 235.193(3). Any local government that has executed an interlocal agreement to implement school concurrency pursuant to the requirements of s. 163.3180 prior to the effective date of this act shall not be required to amend the public school element or any interlocal agreement to conform with the provisions of this section, if such amendment is ultimately determined to be in compliance.

Section 4. Create a new section 163.31777:

163.31777 Public School Capacity for Plan Amendments and Rezonings.—

(1) Local governments shall consider public school facilities when reviewing proposed comprehensive plan amendments and rezonings that increase residential densities and which are reasonably expected to have an impact on public school facility demand.

(2) For each proposed comprehensive plan amendment or rezoning, which increases residential densities and is reasonably expected to have an impact on the demand for public school facilities, the school board shall provide the local government with a school capacity report based on the district educational facilities plan adopted by the school board pursuant to s. 235.185, which shall provide data and analysis on the capacity and enrollment of affected schools based on standards established by state or federal law or judicial orders, projected additional enrollment attributable to the density increase from the amendment or rezoning, programmed and financially feasible new public school facilities or improvements for affected schools identified in the educational facilities plan of the school board and the expected date of availability of such facilities or improvements, and available reasonable options for providing public school facilities to students if the rezoning or comprehensive plan amendment is approved. The options shall include but not be limited to the school board's evaluation of school schedule modification, school attendance zones modification, school facility modification, and creation of charter schools. The report shall be consistent with this section, any adopted interlocal agreement and public educational facilities element, and must be submitted no later than three working days prior to the first public hearing by the local government to consider the comprehensive plan amendment or rezoning.

(3) Within a jurisdiction, following the effective date of an interlocal agreement between the local governments and the school board entered into pursuant to s. 163.31776, the determination that an adopted public education facilities element required under s. 163.31776 is in compliance and is financially feasible, and the revision by the school board of its district education facilities plan to comply with s. 235.185, then the local government shall deny a comprehensive plan amendment or rezoning request which would increase residential development if the school facility capacity of the district as a whole will not be reasonably available at the time of projected school impacts as determined by the methodology established in the public education facilities element; however, the application for a comprehensive plan amendment or rezoning shall not be disapproved based on lack of school capacity if the applicant executes a legally binding commitment to provide mitigation proportionate to the demand for public school facilities to be created by actual development of the property, including but not limited to the options described in subsection (4).

(4)(a) Options for proportionate share mitigation of public school facility impacts from actual development of property subject to a plan amendment or rezoning that increases residential density shall be established in the educational facilities plan and the public educational facilities element. Such options shall include execution by the applicant and the local government of a binding development agreement pursuant to ss 163.3220-163.3243 which shall constitute a legally binding commitment to pay proportionate share mitigation for the additional residential units when approved by the local government in a development order and actually developed on the property, but shall not require payment pursuant to this section for residential density allowed on the property prior to the plan amendment or rezoning which increased overall residential density. The district school board may be a party to such an agreement. As a condition of its entry into such a development agreement, the local government may require the landowner to agree to continuing renewal of the agreement upon its expiration.

(b) If the educational facilities plan and the public educational facilities element authorize a contribution of land or construction, expansion, or payment for land acquisition or construction or expansion of a public school facility, or a portion thereof, as proportionate share mitigation, the local government shall credit such a contribution, construction, expansion or payment toward any other impact fee or exaction imposed by local ordinance for the same need, on a dollar-for-dollar basis at fair market value.

(c) Any proportionate share mitigation shall be directed by the school board toward a school capacity improvement within the affected area which is identified in the financially feasible five year district work plan.

(5) Nothing in this section prohibits a local government from using its home rule powers to deny a comprehensive plan amendment or rezoning.

Section 5. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1), and subsection (4) of section 163.3184 are amended to read:

Section 6. Section 163.3184 Process for adoption of comprehensive plan or plan amendment.—

If the issues are not relevant, the local government shall demonstrate that they are not relevant.

Section 10. Section 163.3198 is created to read:

(1) The Legislature finds that the quality of growth in Florida could benefit greatly by the adoption of a uniform fiscal impact analysis tool that could be used by local governments to determine the costs and benefits of new development. To facilitate informed decisionmaking and accountability by local governments, the analysis model would itemize and calculate the costs and fiscal impacts of infrastructure needs created by proposed development, as well as the anticipated revenues utilized for infrastructure associated with the project. It is intended that the model be a minimum base model for implementation by all local governments. Local governments shall not be required to implement the model until the Legislature approves such implementation, nor shall local governments be prevented from utilizing other fiscal or economic analysis tools before or after adoption of the uniform fiscal analysis model. The Legislature intends that the analysis will provide local government decisionmakers with a clearer understanding of the fiscal impact of the new development on the community and its resources.

(2)(a) To oversee the development of a fiscal analysis model by the state land planning agency, there is created a commission consisting of nine members. The Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall each appoint three members to the commission, and the Governor shall designate one of his appointees as chair. Appointments must be made by July 1, 2001, and each appointing authority shall consider ethnic and gender balance when making appointments. The members of the commission must have technical or practical expertise to bring to bear on the design or implementation of the model. The commission shall include representatives of municipalities, counties, school boards, the development community, and public interest groups.

(b) The commission shall have the responsibility to:

1. Direct the state land planning agency, and others, in developing a fiscal analysis model.

2. Select one or more models to test through six pilot projects conducted in six regionally diverse local government jurisdictions selected by the commission.

3. Make changes to the models during the testing period as needed.

4. Report to the Governor and the Legislature with implementation recommendations.

(c) Each member may receive per diem and expenses for travel, as provided in s. 112.061, while carrying out the official business of the commission.

(d) The commission is assigned, for administrative purposes, to the Department of Community Affairs.

(e) The commission shall meet at the call of the chair and shall be dissolved upon the submittal of the report and recommendations required by subsection (6).

(3)(a) The state land planning agency, as directed by the commission, shall develop one or more fiscal analysis models for determining the estimated costs and revenues of proposed development. The analysis provided by the model shall be a tool for government decisionmaking, shall not constitute an automatic approval or disapproval of new development, and shall apply to all public and private projects and all land use categories. The model or models selected for field testing shall be approved by the commission.

(b) The model shall be capable of estimating the capital, operating, and maintenance expenses and revenues for infrastructure needs created by new development based on the type, scale, and location of various land uses. For the purposes of developing the model, estimated costs shall include those associated with provision of school facilities, transportation facilities, water supply, sewer, stormwater, public safety, and solid waste services, and publicly provided telecommunications services. Estimated revenues shall include all revenues attributable to the proposed development which are utilized to construct, operate, or maintain such facilities and services. The model may be developed with capabilities of estimating other costs and benefits directly related to new development, including economic costs and benefits. The Legislature recognizes the potential limitations of such models in fairly quantifying important quality of life issues such as the intangible benefits and costs associated with development, including, but not limited to, overall impact on community character, housing costs, compatibility, and impacts on natural and historic resources, and therefore affirms its intention that the model not be used as the only determinate of the acceptability of new development. In order to develop a model for testing through pilot projects, the Legislature directs the commission to focus on the infrastructure costs expressly identified in this paragraph. The commission may authorize a local government selected to conduct a pilot project to apply the fiscal analysis model being tested to a public facility or service other than those identified in this paragraph; however, appropriately related revenues and benefits must also be considered.

(c) The model shall be capable of identifying infrastructure deficits or backlogs, and costs associated with addressing such needs.

(d) As part of its development of a fiscal analysis model, and as directed by the commission, the state land planning agency shall develop a format by which the local government shall report to its citizens, at least annually, the cumulative fiscal impact of its local planning decisions.

(4) One or more fiscal analysis models shall be tested in the field to evaluate their technical validity and practical usefulness and the financial feasibility of local government implementation. The field tests shall be conducted as demonstration projects in six regionally diverse local government jurisdictions, which may include multi-jurisdictional local planning agencies.

(5) Data, findings, and feedback from the field tests shall be presented to the commission at least every 3 months following the initiation of each demonstration project. Based on the feedback provided by the state land planning agency and the local government partner of a demonstration project, the commission may require the state land planning agency to adjust or modify one or more models, including consideration of appropriate thresholds and exemptions, and conduct additional field testing if necessary.

(6) No later than February 1, 2003, the commission shall transmit to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives a report detailing the results of the demonstration projects. The commission shall report its recommendations for statewide implementation of a uniform fiscal analysis model. Any recommendation to implement the model must be based on the commission's determination that the model is technically valid, financially feasible for local government implementation, and practically useful for implementation as a uniform fiscal analysis model. Should the commission determine that a uniform fiscal analysis model is not technically valid, financially feasible for local government implementation, and practically useful for implementation as a uniform fiscal analysis model, it shall recommend that the model or its application be modified or not implemented. The report shall also include recommendations for changes to any existing growth management laws and policies necessary to implement the model; recommendations for repealing existing growth management laws, such as concurrency, that may no longer be relevant or effective once the model is implemented; recommendations for state technical and financial assistance to help local governments in the implementation of the uniform fiscal analysis model; recommendations addressing state and local sources of additional infrastructure funding; and recommendations for incentives to local governments to encourage identification of areas in which infrastructure development will be encouraged.

Section 11. There is appropriated to the Department of Community Affairs from the General Revenue Fund $500,000 to implement s. 163.3198, Florida Statutes.

Section 12. Subsection (6) of Section 163.3202, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

(6)(a) The legislature finds that electric utilities have a statutory duty pursuant to this chapter to provide reasonably sufficient, adequate, and efficient service. The legislature further finds that electric substations are an indispensable component of the grid system by which electric utilities deliver reliable electric service to all public and private persons as required by law. The legislature further finds that electric utility substations are essential services for the public health, safety and welfare and therefore are in the public interest.

(b) Nothing in this part shall prohibit a local government from adopting land development regulations which establish reasonable standards for setbacks, buffering, and landscaping for a substation to be operated by an electric utility. Compliance with any such adopted standards shall render a substation compatible with adjacent land uses.

(c) Notwithstanding any other law, after an electric utility demonstrates by competent substantial evidence that it meets all criteria for approval of an application for a development permit for the location, construction, and operation of a substation, the local government may not deny the application on grounds of incompatibility with adjacent land uses or adverse impacts on property values without clear and convincing competent evidence.

Section 13. Section 163.3215, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

163.3215 Standing to enforce local comprehensive plans through development orders.—

(1) Any aggrieved or adversely affected party may maintain an action for declaratory and injunctive or other relief against any local government to challenge any decision of local government granting or denying an application for, or to prevent such local government from taking any action on a development order, as defined in s. 163.3164, which materially alters the use or density or intensity of use on a particular piece of property that is not consistent with the comprehensive plan adopted under this part. Such action shall be filed no later than 30 days following rendition of a development order or other written decision, or when all local administrative appeals, if any, are exhausted, whichever is later.

(2) "Aggrieved or adversely affected party" means any person or local government which will suffer an adverse effect to an interest protected or furthered by the local government comprehensive plan, including interests related to health and safety, police and fire protection service systems, densities or intensities of development, transportation facilities, health care facilities, equipment or services, or environmental or natural resources. The alleged adverse interest may be shared in common with other members of the community at large, but shall exceed in degree the general interest in community good shared by all persons. The term shall include the owner, developer or applicant for a development order.

~~(3)(a) No suit may be maintained under this section challenging the approval or denial of a zoning, rezoning, planned unit development, variance, special exception, conditional use, or other development order granted prior to October 1, 1985, or applied for prior to July 1, 1985.~~

~~(b) Suit under subsections (1) or (4) this section shall be the sole action available to challenge the consistency of a development order with a comprehensive plan adopted under this part. The local government that issues that development order shall be named as the respondent.~~

~~(4) As a condition precedent to the institution of an action pursuant to this section, the complaining party shall first file a verified complaint with the local government whose actions are complained of setting forth the facts upon which the complaint is based and the relief sought by the complaining party. The verified complaint shall be filed no later than 30 days after the alleged inconsistent action has been taken. The local government receiving the complaint shall respond within 30 days after receipt of the complaint. Thereafter, the complaining party may institute the action authorized in this section. However, the action shall be instituted no later than 30 days after the expiration of the 30 day period which the local government has to take appropriate action. Failure to comply with this subsection shall not bar an action for a temporary restraining order to prevent immediate and irreparable harm from the actions complained of. If a local government elects to adopt or has adopted an ordinance establishing, at a minimum, the requirements listed in this subsection, then the sole action for an aggrieved and adversely affected party to challenge consistency of a development order with the comprehensive plan shall be by a petition for certiorari filed in circuit court no later than 30 days following rendition of a development order or other written decision of the local government, or when all local administrative appeals, if any, are exhausted, whichever is later. An action for injunctive or other relief may be joined with the petition for certiorari. Principles of judicial or administrative res judicata and collateral estoppel shall apply to these proceedings. Minimum components of the local process shall be as follows:~~

~~(a) Notice by publication and by mailed notice to all abutting property owners within 10 days of the filing of an application for development review, provided that notice under this subsection shall not be required for an application for a building permit. The notice must delineate that aggrieved or adversely affected persons have the right to request a quasi-judicial hearing, that the request need not be a formal petition or complaint, how to initiate the quasi-judicial process and the time-frames for initiating the process. The local government shall include an opportunity for an alternative dispute resolution process and may include a stay of the formal quasi-judicial hearing for this purpose.~~

~~(b) A point of entry into the process consisting of a written preliminary decision, at a time and in a manner to be established in the local ordinance, with the time to request a quasi-judicial hearing running from the written preliminary decision; provided that the local government is not bound by the preliminary decision. A party may request a hearing to challenge or support a preliminary decision.~~

~~(c) An opportunity to participate in the process for an aggrieved or adversely affected party which provides a reasonable time to prepare and present a case for a quasi-judicial hearing.~~

~~(d) An opportunity for reasonable discovery prior to a quasi-judicial hearing.~~

~~(e) A quasi-judicial hearing before an independent special master who shall be an attorney with at least five years experience and who shall, at the conclusion of the hearing, recommend written findings of fact and conclusions of law.~~

~~(f) At the quasi-judicial hearing all parties shall have the opportunity to respond, present evidence and argument on all issues involved that are related to the development order and to conduct cross-examination and submit rebuttal evidence.~~

~~(g) The standard of review applied by the special master shall be strict scrutiny in accordance with Florida law.~~

~~(h) A duly noticed public hearing before the local government at which public testimony shall be allowed. At the hearing the local government shall be bound by the special master's findings of fact unless the findings of fact are not supported by competent substantial evidence. The governing body may modify the conclusions of law if it finds that the special master's application or interpretation of law is erroneous. The governing body may make reasonable interpretations of its comprehensive plan and land development regulations without regard to whether the special master's interpretation is labeled as a finding of fact or a conclusion of law. The local government's final decision shall be reduced to writing, including the findings of fact and conclusions of law, and shall not be considered rendered or final until officially date stamped by the city or county clerk.~~

~~(i) No ex parte communication relating to the merits of the matter under review shall be made to the special master. No ex parte communication relating to the merits of the matter under review shall be made to the governing body after a time to be established by the local ordinance, but no later than receipt of the recommended order by the governing body.~~

~~(j) At the option of the local government this ordinance may require actions to challenge the consistency of a development order with land development regulations to be brought in the same proceeding.~~

~~(k) Authority by the special master to issue and enforce subpoenas and compel entry upon land.~~

~~(5) Venue in any cases brought under this section shall lie in the county or counties where the actions or inactions giving rise to the cause of action are alleged to have occurred.~~

~~(6) The signature of an attorney or party constitutes a certificate that he or she has read the pleading, motion, or other paper and that, to the best of his or her knowledge, information, and belief formed after reasonable inquiry, it is not interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or for economic advantage, competitive reasons or frivolous purposes or needless increase in the cost of litigation. If a pleading, motion, or other paper is signed in violation of these requirements, the court, upon motion or its own initiative, shall impose upon the person who signed it, a represented party, or both, an appropriate sanction, which may include an order to pay to the other party or parties the amount of reasonable expenses incurred because of the filing of the pleading, motion, or other paper, including a reasonable attorney's fee.~~

~~(7) In any suit action under subsections (1) or (4) this section, no settlement shall be entered into by the local government unless the terms of the settlement have been the subject of a public hearing after notice as required by this part.~~

~~(8) In any suit under this section, the Department of Legal Affairs may intervene to represent the interests of the state.~~

~~(9) Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve the local government of its obligations to hold public hearings as required by law.~~

Section 14. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 235.002, Florida Statutes, is repealed and subsequent paragraphs are amended and a new paragraph (a) of subsection (2) is created and subsequent paragraphs are renumbered and amended as follows:

235.002 Intent.—

(1) The intent of the Legislature is:

(a) To encourage the use of innovative designs, construction techniques, and financing mechanisms in building educational facilities for the purpose of reducing costs to the taxpayer, creating a more satisfactory educational environment, and reducing the amount of time necessary for design, permitting of on- and off-site improvements required by law, and construction to fill unmet needs.

(b) To provide a systematic mechanism whereby educational facilities construction plans can meet the current and projected needs of the public education system population as quickly as possible by building uniform, sound educational environments and to provide a sound base for planning for educational facilities needs.

(c) To provide proper legislative support for as wide a range of fiscally sound financing methodologies as possible for the delivery of educational facilities and, where appropriate, for their construction, operation, and maintenance.

(d) To establish a systematic process of sharing information between school boards and local governments on the growth and development trends in their communities in order to forecast future enrollment and school needs;

(e) To establish a systematic process for school boards and local governments to cooperatively plan for the provision of educational facilities to meet the current and projected needs of the public education system population, including the needs placed on the public education system as a result of growth and development decisions by local government;

(f) To establish a systematic process for local governments and school boards to cooperatively identify and meet the infrastructure needs of public schools;

(2) The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Public schools are a linchpin to the vitality of our communities and play a significant role in the thousands of individual housing decisions which result in community growth trends;

(b) Growth and development issues transcend the boundaries and responsibilities of individual units of government, and often no single unit of government can plan or implement policies to deal with these issues without affecting other units of government.

(c) The effective and efficient provision of public educational facilities and services is essential to preserving and enhancing the quality of life of the people of this state.

(d) The provision of educational facilities often impacts community infrastructure and services. Assuring coordinated and cooperative provision of such facilities and associated infrastructure and services is in the best interest of the state.

(e) The location of schools must follow future land use maps and may not be used to control growth, rather the location of schools should correspond with local government growth trends.

235.15 Educational plant survey; localized need assessment; PECO project funding.—

(1) At least every 5 years, each board, including the Board of Regents, shall arrange for an educational plant survey, to aid in formulating plans for housing the educational program and student population, faculty, administrators, staff, and auxiliary and ancillary services of the district or campus, including consideration of the local comprehensive plan. The Division of Workforce Development shall document the need for additional career and adult education programs and the continuation of existing programs before facility construction or renovation related to career or adult education may be included in the educational plant survey of a school district or community college that delivers career or adult education programs. Information used by the Division of Workforce Development to establish facility needs must include, but need not be limited to, labor market data, needs analysis, and information submitted by the school district or community college.

(a) Survey preparation and required data.—Each survey shall be conducted by the board or an agency employed by the board. Surveys shall be reviewed and approved by the board, and a file copy shall be submitted to the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education. The survey report shall include at least an inventory of existing educational and ancillary plants; recommendations for existing educational and ancillary plants, including safe access facilities; recommendations for new educational or ancillary plants, including the general location of each in coordination with the land use plan; campus master plan update and detail for community colleges; the utilization of school plants based on an extended school day or year-round operation; and such other information as may be required by the rules of the State Board of Education. This report may be amended, if conditions warrant, at the request of the board or commissioner.

(b) Required need assessment criteria for district, community college, and state university plant surveys.—Each educational plant survey completed after December 31, 1997, must use uniform data sources and criteria specified in this paragraph. Each educational plant survey completed after June 30, 1995, and before January 1, 1998, must be revised, if necessary, to comply with this paragraph. Each revised educational plant survey and each new educational plant survey supersedes previous surveys.

1. The school district's survey is to be submitted as a part of the District Education Facilities Plan in s. 235.185. Each school district's educational plant survey must reflect the capacity of existing satisfactory facilities as reported in the Florida Inventory of School Houses. Projections of facility space needs may not exceed the norm space and occupant design criteria established by the State Requirements for Educational Facilities. Existing and projected capital outlay full-time equivalent student enrollment must be consistent with data prepared by the department and must include all enrollment used in the calculation of the distribution formula in ss. 235.435(3). All satisfactory relocatable classrooms, including those owned, lease-purchased, or leased by the school district, shall be included in the school district inventory of gross capacity of facilities and must be counted at actual student capacity for purposes of the inventory. For future needs determination, student capacity shall not be assigned to any relocatable classroom that is scheduled for elimination or replacement with a permanent educational facility in the adopted 5-year educational plant survey and in the district facilities work program adopted under ss. 235.185. Those relocatables clearly identified and scheduled for replacement in a school board adopted financially feasible 5-year district facilities work program shall be counted at zero capacity at the time the work program is adopted and approved by the school board. However, if the district facilities work program is changed or altered and the relocatables are not replaced as scheduled in the work program, they must then be reentered into the system for counting at actual capacity. Relocatables may not be perpetually added to the work program and continually extended for purposes of circumventing the intent of this section. All remaining relocatable classrooms, including those owned, lease-purchased, or leased by the school district, shall be counted at actual student capacity. The educational plant survey shall identify the number of relocatable student stations scheduled for replacement during the 5-year survey period and the total dollar amount needed for that replacement. All district educational plant surveys revised after July 1, 1998, shall include information on leased space used for conducting the district's instructional program, in accordance with the recommendations of the department's report authorized in ss. 235.056. A definition of satisfactory relocatable classrooms shall be established by rule of the department.

2. Each survey of a special facility, joint-use facility, or cooperative vocational education facility must be based on capital outlay full-time equivalent student enrollment data prepared by the department for school districts, by the Division of Community Colleges for community colleges, and by the Board of Regents for state universities. A survey of space needs of a joint-use facility shall be based upon the respective space needs of the school districts, community colleges, and universities, as appropriate. Projections of a school district's facility space needs may not exceed the norm space and occupant design criteria established by the State Requirements for Educational Facilities.

3. Each community college's survey must reflect the capacity of existing facilities as specified in the inventory maintained by the Division of Community Colleges. Projections of facility space needs must comply with standards for determining space needs as specified by rule of the State Board of Education. The 5-year projection of capital outlay student enrollment must be consistent with the annual report of capital outlay full-time student enrollment prepared by the Division of Community Colleges.

4. Each state university's survey must reflect the capacity of existing facilities as specified in the inventory maintained and validated by the Board of Regents. Projections of facility space needs must be consistent with standards for determining space needs approved by the Board of Regents. The projected capital outlay full-time equivalent student enrollment must be consistent with the 5-year planned enrollment cycle for the State University System approved by the Board of Regents.

5. The ~~educational plant survey~~ district education facilities plan of a school district, and the educational plant survey of a community college, or state university may include space needs that deviate from approved standards for determining space needs if the deviation is justified by the district or institution and approved by the department or the Board of Regents, as appropriate, as necessary for the delivery of an approved educational program.

(c) Review and validation.—The Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education ~~department~~ shall review and validate the education facilities plans of school districts and the surveys of school districts and community colleges and any amendments thereto for compliance with the requirements of this chapter and, ~~when required by the State Constitution,~~ shall recommend those in compliance for approval by the State Board of Education.

(2) Only the superintendent or the college president shall certify to the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education ~~department~~ a project's compliance with the requirements for expenditure of PECO funds prior to release of funds.

(a) Upon request for release of PECO funds for planning purposes, certification must be made to the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education ~~department~~ that the need and location of the facility are in compliance with the board-approved education facilities plan or survey recommendations, ~~and~~ that the project meets the definition of a PECO project and the limiting criteria for expenditures of PECO funding and that the plan is consistent with the local government comprehensive plan.

(b) Upon request for release of construction funds, certification must be made to the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education ~~department~~ that the need and location of the facility are in compliance with the board-approved education facilities plan or survey recommendations, that the project meets the definition of a PECO project and the limiting criteria for expenditures of PECO funding, ~~and~~ that the construction documents meet the requirements of the State Uniform Building Code for Educational Facilities Construction or other applicable codes as authorized in this chapter, and that the site is consistent with the local government comprehensive plan.

Section 16. Paragraphs (3) and (4) of section 235.175, and sections 235.18 and .185 are amended as follows:

235.175 SMART schools; Classrooms First; legislative purpose.—

(3) SCHOOL DISTRICT EDUCATION FACILITIES PLAN WORK PROGRAMS.—It is the purpose of the Legislature to create ss. 235.185, requiring each school district annually to adopt an education facilities plan that provides an integrated long-range facilities plan, including the survey of projected needs and the five-year work program. a district facilities 5-year work program. The purpose of the ~~district facilities work~~

~~program~~ education facilities plan is to keep the school board, local governments and the public fully informed as to whether the district is using sound policies and practices that meet the essential needs of students and that warrant public confidence in district operations. The ~~district facilities work program~~ education facilities plan will be monitored by the SMART Schools Clearinghouse, which will also apply performance standards pursuant to ss. 235.218.

(4) SMART SCHOOLS CLEARINGHOUSE.—It is the purpose of the Legislature to create ss. 235.217, establishing the SMART Schools Clearinghouse to assist the school districts in building SMART schools utilizing functional and frugal practices. The SMART Schools Clearinghouse must review district facilities work programs and projects and identify districts qualified for incentive funding available through School Infrastructure Thrift Program awards; identify opportunities to maximize design and construction savings; develop school district facilities work program performance standards; and provide for review and recommendations to the Governor, the Legislature, and the State Board of Education.

Each board, including the Board of Regents, shall, each year, adopt a capital outlay budget for the ensuing year in order that the capital outlay needs of the board for the entire year may be well understood by the public. This capital outlay budget shall be a part of the annual budget and shall be based upon and in harmony with the educational plant and ancillary facilities plan. This budget shall designate the proposed capital outlay expenditures by project for the year from all fund sources. The board may not expend any funds on any project not included in the budget, as amended. Each district school board must prepare its tentative ~~district facilities work program~~ education facilities plan as required by ss. 235.185 before adopting the capital outlay budget.

The affected local governments shall review the tentative district education facilities plan and comment to the district school board on the consistency of the plan with the local comprehensive plan, whether a comprehensive plan amendment will be necessary for any proposed educational facility, and whether the local government supports a necessary comprehensive plan amendment. If the local government does not support a comprehensive plan amendment for a proposed educational facility, the matter shall be resolved pursuant to the interlocal agreement required by ss. 163.31776(4) and 235.193(2). The process for the submittal and review shall be detailed in the interlocal agreement required pursuant to ss. 163.31776(4) and 235.193(2). Where the school board and the local government have not entered into an interlocal agreement pursuant to ss. 163.31776(4) and 235.193(2), the school board and the local government must determine a mutually acceptable process for submittal and review of the tentative district education facilities plan. Disputes between the school board and the local government, in instances where the school board and the local government have not entered into an interlocal agreement pursuant to 163.31776(4) and 235.193(2), shall be addressed pursuant to s. 163.3181.*

(4) (3) ADOPTED DISTRICT EDUCATION FACILITIES PLAN WORK PROGRAM.—Annually, the district school board shall consider and adopt the tentative district education facilities ~~plan work program~~ completed pursuant to subsection (2). may become available. The adopted district facilities work program shall include a 5-year facilities work program which:

(a) Be a complete, balanced and financially feasible capital outlay financial plan for the district.

(b) Set forth the proposed commitments and planned expenditures of the district to address the educational facilities needs of its students and to adequately provide for the maintenance of the educational plant and ancillary facilities, including safe access ways from neighborhoods to schools.

(5) (4) EXECUTION OF ADOPTED DISTRICT FACILITIES WORK PROGRAM.—The first year of the adopted district education facilities ~~plan work program~~ shall constitute the capital outlay budget required in ss. 235.18. The adopted district facilities work program shall include the information required in subparagraphs (2)(b) 1., 2., and 3., based upon projects actually funded in the program.

(5) ~~10 YEAR AND 20 YEAR WORK PROGRAMS.~~—~~In addition to the adopted district facilities work program covering the 5-year work program, the district school board shall adopt annually a 10-year and a 20-year work program which include the information set forth in subsection (2), but based upon enrollment projections and facility needs for the 10-year and 20-year periods. It is recognized that the projections in the 10-year and 20-year timeframes are tentative and should be used only for general planning purposes.~~

Section 19. Section 235.188, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

235.188 Full bonding required to participate in programs.—

Any district with unused bonding capacity in its Capital Outlay and Debt Service Trust Fund allocation that certifies in its district education facilities ~~plan work program~~ that it will not be able to meet all of its need for new student stations within existing revenues must fully bond its Capital Outlay and Debt Service Trust Fund allocation before it may participate in Classrooms First, the School Infrastructure Thrift (SIT) Program, or the Effort Index Grants Program.

Section 20. Section 235.19 is amended as follows:

(1) If the school board and local government have entered into an interlocal agreement pursuant to ss. 163.31776(4) and 235.193(2) and have developed a process to ensure consistency between the local government comprehensive plan and the school district education facilities plan and a method to coordinate decision making and approval activities relating to school planning and site selection, the provisions of this section are superseded by the interlocal agreement and the plans of the local government and the school board.

(4) (2) Before acquiring property for sites, each board shall determine the location of proposed educational centers or campuses for the board. In making this determination, the board shall consider existing and anticipated site needs and the most economical and practicable locations of sites. The board shall coordinate with the long-range or comprehensive plans of local, regional, and state governmental agencies to assure the ~~compatibility~~ consistency of such plans with ~~site planning~~. Boards are encouraged to locate schools proximate to urban residential areas to the extent possible, and shall seek to collocate schools with other public facilities, such as parks, libraries, and community centers, to the extent possible, and to encourage using elementary schools as focal points for neighborhoods.

(2) (3) Each new site selected must be adequate in size to meet the educational needs of the students to be served on that site by the original educational facility or future expansions of the facility through renovation or the addition of relocatables. ~~The Commissioner of Education shall prescribe by rule recommended sizes for new sites according to categories of students to be housed and other appropriate factors determined by the commissioner. Less than recommended site sizes are allowed if the board, by a two-thirds majority, recommends such a site and finds that it can provide an appropriate and equitable educational program on the site.~~

(3) (4) Sites recommended for purchase, or purchased, in accordance with chapter 230 or chapter 240 must meet standards prescribed therein and such supplementary standards as the school board commissioner prescribes to promote the educational interests of the students. Each site must be well drained and either suitable for outdoor educational purposes as appropriate for the educational program or co-located with facilities to serve this purpose. As provided in ss. 333.03, the site must not be located within any path of flight approach of any airport. Insofar as is practicable, the site must not adjoin a right-of-way of any railroad or through highway and must not be adjacent to any factory or other property from which noise, odors, or other disturbances, or at which conditions, would be likely to interfere with the educational program. To the extent practicable, sites must be chosen that will provide safe access from neighborhoods to schools.

(4) (5) It shall be the responsibility of the board to provide adequate notice to appropriate municipal, county, regional, and state governmental agencies for requested traffic control and safety devices so they can be installed and operating prior to the first day of classes or to satisfy itself that every reasonable effort has been made in sufficient time to secure the installation and operation of such necessary devices prior to the first day of classes. It shall also be the responsibility of the board to review annually traffic control and safety device needs and to request all necessary changes indicated by such review.

(5) (6) Each board may request county and municipal governments to construct and maintain sidewalks and bicycle trails within a 2-mile radius of each educational facility within the jurisdiction of the local government. When a board discovers or is aware of an existing hazard on or near a public sidewalk, street, or highway within a 2-mile radius of a school site and the hazard endangers the life or threatens the health or safety of students who walk, ride bicycles, or are transported regularly between their homes and the school in which they are enrolled, the board shall, within 24 hours after discovering or becoming aware of the hazard, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, report such hazard to the governmental entity within the jurisdiction of which the hazard is located. Within 5 days after receiving notification by the board, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, the governmental entity shall investigate the hazardous condition and either correct it or provide such precautions as are practicable to safeguard students until the hazard can be permanently corrected. However, if the governmental entity that has jurisdiction determines upon investigation that it is impracticable to correct the hazard, or if the entity determines that the reported condition does not endanger the life or threaten the health or safety of students, the entity shall, within 5 days after notification by the board, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, inform the board in writing of its reasons for not correcting the condition. The governmental entity, to the extent allowed by law, shall indemnify the board from any liability with respect to accidents or injuries, if any, arising out of the hazardous condition.

(1) It is the policy of this state to require the coordination of planning between boards and local governing bodies to ensure that plans for the construction and opening of public educational facilities are facilitated and coordinated in time and place with plans for residential development, concurrently with other necessary services. Such planning shall include the integration of the education facilities plan educational plant survey and applicable policies and procedures of a board with the local comprehensive plan and land development regulations of local governments governing bodies. The planning must include the consideration of allowing students to attend the school located nearest their homes when a new housing development is constructed near a county boundary and it is more feasible to transport the students a short distance to an existing facility in an adjacent county than to construct a new facility or transport students longer distances in their county of residence. The planning must also consider the effects of the location of public education facilities, including the feasibility of keeping central city facilities viable, in order to encourage central city redevelopment and the efficient use of infrastructure and to discourage uncontrolled urban sprawl. In addition, all parties to the planning process must consult with state and local road departments to assist in implementing the Safe Paths to Schools program administered by the Florida Department of Transportation.

(2) No later than six months prior to the transmittal of a public educational facilities element by general purpose local governments meeting the criteria of s. 163.31776(3), ~~No later than six months prior to the deadline established by the state land planning agency pursuant to s. 163.31776(3) for the transmittal of a public educational facilities element by general purpose local governments,~~ the school district, the county and the non-exempt municipalities shall enter into an interlocal agreement which establishes a process to develop coordinated and consistent local government public educational facilities elements and district education facilities plan, including a process:

(a) By which each local government and the school district agree and base their plans on local government projections based on professionally accepted methodology of the amount, type, and distribution of population growth and student enrollment.

(b) To coordinate and share information relating to existing and planned public school facilities and local government plans for development and redevelopment.

(c) To ensure school siting decisions by the school board are consistent with the local comprehensive plan and future land use maps, including appropriate circumstances and criteria under which a school district may request an amendment to the comprehensive plan for school siting, and for early involvement by the local government as the school board identifies potential school sites.

(d) To coordinate and provide formal timely comments during the development, adoption, and amendment of each local government's public educational facilities element and the education facilities plan of the school district to ensure a uniform countywide school facility planning system.

(e) For school district participation in the review of comprehensive plan amendments and rezonings which increase residential density and which are reasonably expected to have an impact on public school facility demand pursuant to s. 163.31777. The interlocal agreement shall express how the school board and local governments will develop the methodology and the criteria for determining if school facility capacity will not be reasonably available at the time of projected school impacts, including uniform, districtwide level-of-service standards for all public schools of the same type and availability standards for public schools. The interlocal agreement shall ensure that consistent criteria and capacity determination methodologies including student generation multipliers, are adopted into the school board's district education facilities plan and the local government's public educational facilities element. The interlocal agreement shall also set forth the process and uniform methodology for determining proportionate share mitigation pursuant to s. 163.31777; and,

(f) For the resolution of disputes between the school district and local governments.

(g) That determines the "true cost of school needs." This analysis must provide the number of schools and the funding needed to meet any current backlog and future needs based on local governments' population and growth trends. This analysis should also identify how the current and future needs are funded.

(h) Any school board entering into an interlocal agreement for the purpose of adopting public school concurrency prior to the effective date of this act is not required to amend the interlocal agreement to conform to the provisions of this paragraph if the comprehensive plan amendment adopting public school concurrency is ultimately determined to be in compliance.

(3) Failure to enter into an interlocal agreement as required by s. 235.193(2) shall result in the withholding of funds for school construction available pursuant to ss. 235.187, 235.216, 235.2195, and 235.42 and a prohibition from siting schools. Before the Office of

Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education can withhold any funds, the Office shall provide the school board with a notice of intent to withhold funds, which the school board may dispute pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120. The Office shall withhold funds when a final order is issued finding the school board has failed to enter into an interlocal agreement which meets the requirements of this subsection.

(4) The local school board shall provide the local government a school capacity report when the local government notifies the school board that it is reviewing an application for a comprehensive plan amendment or a rezoning which seeks to increase residential density. The report shall provide data and analysis as required by s. 163.31777(2) for the local government's review of such proposed plan amendment or rezoning.

(5) ~~(2)~~ A school board and the local governing body must share and coordinate information related to existing and planned public school facilities; proposals for development, redevelopment, or additional development; and infrastructure required to support the public school facilities, concurrent with proposed development. A school board shall use information produced by the demographic, revenue and education estimating conferences pursuant to s. 216.136 Department of Education enrollment projections when preparing the district education facilities plan 5-year district facilities work program pursuant to ss. 235.185, as modified, and agreed to by the local governments and the Office of Educational Facilities of the Commissioner of Education, in and a school board shall affirmatively demonstrate in the educational facilities report consideration of local governments' population projections to ensure that the district education facilities plan 5-year work program not only reflects enrollment projections but also considers applicable municipal and county growth and development projections. The projections shall be apportioned geographically with assistance from the local governments using local development trend data and the school district student enrollment data from all communities. There must be a reasonable, distribution to all local governments with a county, regardless of the local government's size. A school board is precluded from siting a new school in a jurisdiction where the school board has failed to provide the annual educational facilities plan report for the prior year required pursuant to ss. 235.185 ~~235.194~~ unless the failure is corrected.

(6) ~~(3)~~ The location of public educational facilities shall be consistent with the comprehensive plan of the appropriate local governing body developed under part II of chapter 163 and consistent with the plan's implementing land development regulations, to the extent that the regulations are not in conflict with or the subject regulated is not specifically addressed by this chapter or the State Uniform Building Code, unless mutually agreed by the local government and the board.

(7) (4) To improve coordination relative to potential educational facility sites, a board shall provide written notice to the local government that has regulatory authority over the use of the land at least 120 ~~60~~ days prior to acquiring or leasing property that may be used for a new public educational facility. The local government, upon receipt of this notice, shall notify the board within 45 days if the site proposed for acquisition or lease is consistent with the future land use element of the local government's comprehensive plan. This preliminary notice does not constitute the local government's determination of consistency pursuant to subsection ~~(5)~~(8).

(8) ~~(5)~~ As early in the design phase as feasible, but at least before commencing construction of a new public educational facility, the local governing body that regulates the use of land shall determine, in writing within 90 days after receiving the necessary information and a school board's request for a determination, whether a proposed public educational facility is consistent with the local comprehensive plan and consistent with local land development regulations, to the extent that the regulations are not in conflict with or the subject regulated is not specifically addressed by this chapter or the State Uniform Building Code, unless mutually agreed. If the determination is affirmative, school construction may proceed and further local government approvals are not required, except as provided in this section. Failure of the local governing body to make a determination in writing within 90 days after a school board's request for a determination of consistency shall be considered an approval of the school board's application.

(9) ~~(6)~~ A local governing body may not deny the site applicant based on adequacy of the site plan as it relates solely to the needs of the school. If the site is consistent with the comprehensive plan's future land use, the local government may not deny the application but it may impose reasonable development standards and conditions in accordance with ss. 235.34(1) and consider the site plan and its adequacy as it relates to environmental concerns, health, safety and welfare, and effects on adjacent property. Standards and conditions may not be imposed which conflict with those established in this chapter or the State Uniform Building Code, unless mutually agreed.

(10) ~~(7)~~ This section does not prohibit a local governing body and district school board from agreeing and establishing an alternative process for reviewing a proposed educational facility and site plan, and offsite impacts pursuant to an interlocal agreement adopted in accordance with s. 235.193.

~~(11)(8)~~ Existing schools shall be considered consistent with the applicable local government comprehensive plan adopted under part II of chapter 163. ~~The collocation of a new proposed public educational facility with an existing public educational facility, or the expansion of an existing public educational facility is not inconsistent with the local comprehensive plan, if the site is consistent with the comprehensive plan's future land use, and levels of service adopted by the local government for any facilities affected by the proposed location for the new facility are maintained.~~ If a board submits an application to expand an existing school site, the local governing body may impose reasonable development standards and conditions on the expansion only, and in a manner consistent with ss. 235.34(1). Standards and conditions may not be imposed which conflict with those established in this chapter or the State Uniform Building Code, unless mutually agreed. Local government review or approval is not required for:

- (a) The placement of temporary or portable classroom facilities; or
- (b) Proposed renovation or construction on existing school sites, with the exception of construction that changes the primary use of a facility, includes stadiums, or results in a greater than 5 percent increase in student capacity, or as mutually agreed.

Section 22. Section 235.194 is repealed.

Section 23. Section 235.218, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

235.218 School district educational facilities plan ~~work program~~ performance and productivity standards; development; measurement; application.—

(1) The SMART Schools Clearinghouse shall develop and adopt measures for evaluating the performance and productivity of school district educational facilities plan ~~work program~~. The measures may be both quantitative and qualitative and must, to the maximum extent practical, assess those factors that are within the districts' control. The measures must, at a minimum, assess performance in the following areas:

- (a) Frugal production of high-quality projects.
- (b) Efficient finance and administration.
- (c) Optimal school and classroom size and utilization rate.
- (d) Safety.
- (e) Core facility space needs and cost-effective capacity improvements that consider demographic projections, land use patterns, and collocation and shared use with other public facilities.
- (f) Level of district local effort.

(2) The clearinghouse shall establish annual performance objectives and standards that can be used to evaluate district performance and productivity.

(3) The clearinghouse shall conduct ongoing evaluations of district educational facilities program performance and productivity, using the measures adopted under this section. If, using these measures, the clearinghouse finds that a district failed to perform satisfactorily, the clearinghouse must recommend to the district school board actions to be taken to improve the district's performance.

235.321 Changes in construction requirements after award of contract.—

The board may, at its option and by written policy duly adopted and entered in its official minutes, authorize the superintendent or president or other designated individual to approve change orders in the name of the board for preestablished amounts. Approvals shall be for the purpose of expediting the work in progress and shall be reported to the board and entered in its official minutes. For accountability, the school district shall monitor and report the impact of change orders on its district education facilities plan work program pursuant to ss. 235.185.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, if through its adopted education facilities plan work program a district has clearly identified the need for an ancillary plant, has provided opportunity for public input as to the relative value of the ancillary plant versus an educational plant, and has obtained public approval, the district may use revenue generated by the millage levy authorized by subsection (2) for the construction, renovation, remodeling, maintenance, or repair of an ancillary plant.

A district that violates these expenditure restrictions shall have an equal dollar reduction in funds appropriated to the district under ss. 236.081 in the fiscal year following the audit citation. The expenditure restrictions do not apply to any school district that certifies to the Commissioner of Education that all of the district's instructional space needs for the next 5 years can be met from capital outlay sources that the district reasonably expects to receive during the next 5 years or from alternative scheduling or construction, leasing, rezoning, or technological methodologies that exhibit sound management.

Section 26. Section 380.04, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

~~b.—It shall be presumed that a development that is at 100 percent or between 100 and 120 percent of a numerical threshold shall be required to undergo development-of-regional-impact review.~~

~~The Administration Commission, upon the recommendation of the state land planning agency, shall implement this paragraph by rule no later than December 1, 1993. The increased guidelines and standards authorized by this paragraph shall not be implemented until the effectiveness of the rule which, among other things, shall set forth the pertinent characteristics of urban central business districts and regional activity centers.~~

A local government may petition for an increase or decrease within its jurisdiction or a part of its jurisdiction. A number of requests may be combined in a single petition.~~

~~(c) The Administration Commission shall have authority to increase or decrease a threshold in the statewide guidelines and standards up to 50 percent above or below the statewide presumptive threshold. The commission may from time to time reconsider changed thresholds and make additional variations as it deems necessary.~~

~~2.—The development is between a presumptive numerical threshold and 20 percent below the numerical threshold and the local government or the state land planning agency is in doubt as to whether the character or magnitude of the development at the proposed location creates a likelihood that the development will have a substantial effect on the health, safety, or welfare of citizens of more than one county.~~

~~(8) PRELIMINARY DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS.—~~

~~(a) A developer may enter into a written preliminary development agreement with the state land planning agency to allow a developer to proceed with a limited amount of the total proposed development, subject to all other governmental approvals and solely at the developer's own risk, prior to issuance of a final development order. All owners of the land in the total proposed development shall join the developer as parties to the agreement. Each agreement shall include and be subject to the following conditions:~~

~~1. The developer shall comply with the preapplication conference requirements pursuant to subsection (7) within 45 days after the execution of the agreement.~~

~~2. ~~3. The agreement shall include maps and legal descriptions of both the preliminary development area and the total proposed development area and shall specifically describe the preliminary development in terms of magnitude and location. The area approved for preliminary development must be included in the application for development approval and shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the final development order.~~

~~4. The preliminary development shall be limited to lands that the state land planning agency agrees are suitable for development and shall only be allowed in areas where adequate public infrastructure exists to accommodate the preliminary development, when such development will utilize public infrastructure. The developer must also demonstrate that the preliminary development will not result in material adverse impacts to existing resources or existing or planned facilities.~~

~~5. The preliminary development agreement may allow development which is:~~

~~a. Less than 100 or equal to 80 percent of any applicable threshold if the developer demonstrates that such development is consistent with subparagraph 4.; or~~

~~b. Equal to or more than 100 Less than 120 percent of any applicable threshold if the developer demonstrates that such development is part of a proposed downtown development of regional impact specified in subsection (22) or part of any areawide development of regional impact specified in subsection (25) and that the development is consistent with subparagraph 4.~~

~~6. The developer and owners of the land may not claim vested rights, or assert equitable estoppel, arising from the agreement or any expenditures or actions taken in reliance on the agreement to continue with the total proposed development beyond the preliminary development. The agreement shall not entitle the developer to a final development order approving the total proposed development or to particular conditions in a final development order.~~

~~7. The agreement shall not prohibit the regional planning agency from reviewing or commenting on any regional issue that the regional agency determines should be included in the regional agency's report on the application for development approval.~~

~~8. The agreement shall include a disclosure by the developer and all the owners of the land in the total proposed development of all land or~~ development within 5 miles of the total proposed development in which they have an interest and shall describe such interest.

9. In the event of a breach of the agreement or failure to comply with any condition of the agreement, or if the agreement was based on materially inaccurate information, the state land planning agency may terminate the agreement or file suit to enforce the agreement as provided in this section and s. 380.11, including a suit to enjoin all development.

10. A notice of the preliminary development agreement shall be recorded by the developer in accordance with s. 28.222 with the clerk of the circuit court for each county in which land covered by the terms of the agreement is located. The notice shall include a legal description of the land covered by the agreement and shall state the parties to the agreement, the date of adoption of the agreement and any subsequent amendments, the location where the agreement may be examined, and that the agreement constitutes a land development regulation applicable to portions of the land covered by the agreement. The provisions of the agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon successors and assigns of the parties in the agreement.

11. Except for those agreements which authorize preliminary development for substantial deviations pursuant to subsection (19), a developer who no longer wishes to pursue a development of regional impact may propose to abandon any preliminary development agreement executed after January 1, 1985, including those pursuant to s. 380.032(3), provided at the time of abandonment:

a. A final development order under this section has been rendered that approves all of the development actually constructed; or

b. The amount of development is less than ~~100~~ 80 percent of all numerical thresholds of the guidelines and standards, and the state land planning agency determines in writing that the development to date is in compliance with all applicable local regulations and the terms and conditions of the preliminary development agreement and otherwise adequately mitigates for the impacts of the development to date.

In either event, when a developer proposes to abandon said agreement, the developer shall give written notice and state that he or she is no longer proposing a development of regional impact and provide adequate documentation that he or she has met the criteria for abandonment of the agreement to the state land planning agency. Within 30 days of receipt of adequate documentation of such notice, the state land planning agency shall make its determination as to whether or not the developer meets the criteria for abandonment. Once the state land planning agency determines that the developer meets the criteria for abandonment, the state land planning agency shall issue a notice of abandonment which shall be recorded by the developer in accordance with s. 28.222 with the clerk of the circuit court for each county in which land covered by the terms of the agreement is located.

(15) LOCAL GOVERNMENT DEVELOPMENT ORDER.—

(c) The development order shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law consistent with subsections (13) and (14). The development order:

1. Shall specify the monitoring procedures and the local official responsible for assuring compliance by the developer with the development order.

2. Shall establish compliance dates for the development order, including a deadline for commencing physical development and for compliance with conditions of approval or phasing requirements, and shall include a termination date that reasonably reflects the time required to complete the development.

3. Shall establish a date until which the local government agrees that the approved development of regional impact shall not be subject to downzoning, unit density reduction, or intensity reduction, unless the local government can demonstrate that substantial changes in the conditions underlying the approval of the development order have occurred or the development order was based on substantially inaccurate information provided by the developer or that the change is clearly established by local government to be essential to the public health, safety, or welfare.

4. Shall specify the requirements for the ~~biennial annual~~ report designated under subsection (18), including the date of submission, parties to whom the report is submitted, and contents of the report, based upon the rules adopted by the state land planning agency. Such rules shall specify the scope of any additional local requirements that may be necessary for the report.

5. May specify the types of changes to the development which shall require submission for a substantial deviation determination under subsection (19).

6. Shall include a legal description of the property.

(g) A local government shall not issue permits for development subsequent to the termination date or expiration date contained in the development order unless:

1. The proposed development has been evaluated cumulatively with existing development under the substantial deviation provisions of subsection (19) subsequent to the termination or expiration date;

2. The proposed development is consistent with an abandonment of development order that has been issued in accordance with the provisions of subsection (26); or

3. The project has been determined to be an essentially built-out development of regional impact through an agreement executed by the developer, the state land planning agency, and the local government, in accordance with s. 380.032, which will establish the terms and conditions under which the development may be continued. If the project is determined to be essentially built-out, development may proceed pursuant to the s. 380.032 agreement after the termination or expiration date contained in the development order without further development-of-regional-impact review subject to the local government comprehensive plan and land development regulations or subject to a modified development-of-regional-impact analysis. As used in this paragraph, an “essentially built-out” development of regional impact means:

a. The development is in compliance with all applicable terms and conditions of the development order except the built-out date; and

b.(I) The amount of development that remains to be built is less than the substantial deviation threshold specified in paragraph (19)(b) for each individual land use category, or, for a multiuse development, the sum total of all unbuild land uses as a percentage of the applicable substantial deviation threshold is equal to or less than ~~150~~ 100 percent; or

(II) The state land planning agency and the local government have agreed in writing that the amount of development to be built does not create the likelihood of any additional regional impact not previously reviewed.

(18) ~~BIENNIAL ANNUAL~~ REPORTS.—The developer shall submit a ~~biennial an annual~~ report on the development of regional impact to the local government, the regional planning agency, the state land planning agency, and all affected permit agencies in alternate years on the date specified in the development order, unless the development order by its terms requires more frequent monitoring. If the ~~annual~~ report is not received, the regional planning agency or the state land planning agency shall notify the local government. If the local government does not receive the ~~annual~~ report or receives notification that the regional planning agency or the state land planning agency has not received the report, the local government shall request in writing that the developer submit the report within 30 days. The failure to submit the report after 30 days shall result in the temporary suspension of the development order by the local government. If no additional development pursuant to the development order has occurred since the submission of the previous report, then a letter from the developer stating that no development has occurred shall satisfy the requirement for a report. Development orders which require annual reports may be amended to require biennial reports at the option of the local government.

(19) SUBSTANTIAL DEVIATIONS.—

(c) An extension of the date of buildout of a development, or any phase thereof, by 7 or more years shall be presumed to create a substantial deviation subject to further development-of-regional-impact review. An extension of the date of buildout, or any phase thereof, of 5 years or more but less than 7 years shall be presumed not to create a substantial deviation. These presumptions may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence at the public hearing held by the local government. An extension of less than 7 5 years is not a substantial deviation. For the purpose of calculating when a buildout, phase, or termination date has been exceeded, the time shall be tolled during the pendency of administrative or judicial proceedings relating to development permits. Any extension of the buildout date of a project or a phase thereof shall automatically extend the commencement date of the project, the termination date of the development order, the expiration date of the development of regional impact, and the phases thereof by a like period of time.

~~(e)1. A proposed change which, either individually or, if there were previous changes, cumulatively with those changes, is equal to or exceeds 40 percent of any numerical criterion in subparagraphs (b)1-15., but which does not exceed such criterion, shall be presumed not to create a substantial deviation subject to further development-of-regional-impact review. The presumption may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence at the public hearing held by the local government pursuant to subparagraph (f)5.~~

1.2. Except for a development order rendered pursuant to subsection (22) or subsection (25), a proposed change to a development order that individually or cumulatively with any previous change is less than 60 40 percent of any numerical criterion contained in subparagraphs (b)1-12.1-15. and does not exceed any other criterion is not a substantial deviation, or that involves an extension of the buildout date of a development, or any phase thereof, of less than 5 years is not subject to the public hearing requirements of subparagraph (f)3., and is not subject to a determination pursuant to subparagraph (f)5. Notice of the proposed change shall be made to the local government and the regional planning council and the state land planning agency. Such notice shall include a description of previous individual changes made to the development, including changes previously approved by the local government, and shall include appropriate amendments to the development order. The following changes, individually or cumulatively with any previous changes, are not substantial deviations:

a. Changes in the name of the project, developer, owner, or monitoring official.

b. Changes to a setback that do not affect noise buffers, environmental protection or mitigation areas, or archaeological or historical resources.

c. Changes to minimum lot sizes.

d. Changes in the configuration of internal roads that do not affect external access points.

e. Changes to the building design or orientation that stay approximately within the approved area designated for such building and parking lot, and which do not affect historical buildings designated as significant by the Division of Historical Resources of the Department of State.

f. Changes to increase the acreage in the development, provided that no development is proposed on the acreage to be added.

g. Changes to eliminate an approved land use, provided that there are no additional regional impacts.

h. Changes required to conform to permits approved by any federal, state, or regional permitting agency, provided that these changes do not create additional regional impacts.

i. Any other change which the state land planning agency agrees in writing is similar in nature, impact, or character to the changes enumerated in sub-subparagraphs a.-h. and which does not create the likelihood of any additional regional impact.

This subsection does not require a development order amendment for any change listed in sub-subparagraphs a.-i. unless such issue is addressed either in the existing development order or in the application for development approval, but, in the case of the application, only if, and in the manner in which, the application is incorporated in the development order.

2.3. Except for the change authorized by sub-subparagraph 1.f. 2.f., any addition of land not previously reviewed or any change not specified in paragraph (b) or paragraph (c) shall be presumed to create a substantial deviation. This presumption may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence.

3.4. Any submittal of a proposed change to a previously approved development shall include a description of individual changes previously made to the development, including changes previously approved by the local government. The local government shall consider the previous and current proposed changes in deciding whether such changes cumulatively constitute a substantial deviation requiring further development-of-regional-impact review.

4.5. The following changes to an approved development of regional impact shall be presumed to create a substantial deviation. Such presumption may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence.

a. A change proposed for 15 percent or more of the acreage to a land use not previously approved in the development order. Changes of less than 15 percent shall be presumed not to create a substantial deviation.

b. Except for the types of uses listed in subparagraph (b)13.16., any change which would result in the development of any area which was specifically set aside in the application for development approval or in the development order for preservation, buffers, or special protection, including habitat for plant and animal species, archaeological and historical sites, dunes, and other special areas.

c. Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (b) to the contrary, a proposed change consisting of simultaneous increases and decreases of at least two of the uses within an authorized multiuse development of regional impact which was originally approved with three or more uses specified in s. 380.0651(3)(b)(e), (c)(d), (d)(f), and (e)(g) and residential use.

(f)1. The state land planning agency shall establish by rule standard forms for submittal of proposed changes to a previously approved development of regional impact which may require further development-of-regional-impact review. At a minimum, the standard form shall require the developer to provide the precise language that the developer proposes to delete or add as an amendment to the development order.

2. The developer shall submit, simultaneously, to the local government, the regional planning agency, and the state land planning agency the request for approval of a proposed change. Those changes described in subparagraph (e)1. do not need to be submitted to the state land planning agency; however, if the proposed change does not qualify under subparagraph (e)1., the local government or the regional planning agency shall request that the state land planning agency review the proposed change.

3. No sooner than 30 days but no later than 45 days after submittal by the developer to the local government, the state land planning agency, and the appropriate regional planning agency, the local government shall give 15 days' notice and schedule a public hearing to consider the change that the developer asserts does not create a substantial deviation. This public hearing shall be held within 90 days after submittal of the proposed changes, unless that time is extended by the developer.

4. The appropriate regional planning agency or the state land planning agency shall review the proposed change and, no later than 45 days after submittal by the developer of the proposed change, unless that time is extended by the developer, and prior to the public hearing at which the proposed change is to be considered, shall advise the local government in writing whether it objects to the proposed change, shall specify the reasons for its objection, if any, and shall provide a copy to the developer. ~~A change which is subject to the substantial deviation criteria specified in sub-subparagraph (e)5.c. shall not be subject to this requirement.~~

5. At the public hearing, the local government shall determine whether the proposed change requires further development-of-regional-impact review. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (e), the thresholds set forth in paragraph (b), and the presumptions set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) and ~~subparagraph (e)2. subparagraphs (e)1. and 3.~~ shall be applicable in determining whether further development-of-regional-impact review is required.

6. If the local government determines that the proposed change does not require further development-of-regional-impact review and is otherwise approved, or if the proposed change is not subject to a hearing and determination pursuant to subparagraphs 3. and 5. and is otherwise approved, the local government shall issue an amendment to the development order incorporating the approved change and conditions of approval relating to the change. The decision of the local government to approve, with or without conditions, or to deny the proposed change that the developer asserts does not require further review shall be subject to the appeal provisions of s. 380.07. However, the state land planning agency may not appeal the local government decision if it did not comply with subparagraph 4., except for a change to a development order made pursuant to subparagraph (e)1., if the approved change is not consistent with this and other provisions of this section. The state land planning agency may not appeal a change to a development order made pursuant to subparagraph (e)1. ~~(e)2.~~ for developments of regional impact approved after January 1, 1980, unless the change would result in a significant impact to a regionally significant archaeological, historical, or natural resource not previously identified in the original development-of-regional-impact review.

Section 28. Paragraphs (b), (d), (f), and (j) of said subsection are amended, to read:

380.0651 Statewide guidelines and standards.—

(3) The following statewide guidelines and standards shall be applied in the manner described in s. 380.06(2) to determine whether the following developments shall be required to undergo development-of-regional-impact review:

(b) Attractions and recreation facilities.—Any sports, entertainment, amusement, or recreation facility, including, but not limited to, a sports arena, stadium, racetrack, tourist attraction, amusement park, or pari-mutuel facility, the construction or expansion of which:

1. For single performance facilities:
  - a. Provides parking spaces for more than 2,500 cars; or
  - b. Provides more than 10,000 permanent seats for spectators.
2. For serial performance facilities,
  - ~~a.—Provides parking spaces for more than 1,000 cars; or~~
  - ~~b. provides more than 4,000 permanent seats for spectators.~~

For purposes of this subsection, “serial performance facilities” means those using their parking areas or permanent seating more than one time per day on a regular or continuous basis.

3. For multiscreen movie theaters of at least 8 screens and 2,500 seats:
  - a. Provides parking spaces for more than 1,500 cars; or
  - b. Provides more than 6,000 permanent seats for spectators.

(d) Office development.—Any proposed office building or park operated under common ownership, development plan, or management that:

1. Encompasses 300,000 or more square feet of gross floor area; or
- ~~2.—Has a total site size of 30 or more acres; or~~
- ~~2.3.~~ Encompasses more than 600,000 square feet of gross floor area in a county with a population greater than 500,000 and only in a geographic area specifically designated as highly suitable for increased threshold intensity in the approved local comprehensive plan and in the strategic regional policy plan.

(f) Retail and service development.—Any proposed retail, service, or wholesale business establishment or group of establishments which deals primarily with the general public onsite, operated under one common property ownership, development plan, or management that:

1. Encompasses more than 400,000 square feet of gross area; or
- ~~2.—Occupies more than 40 acres of land; or~~
- ~~2.3.~~ Provides parking spaces for more than 2,500 cars.

(j) Residential development.—No rule may be adopted concerning residential developments which treats a residential development in one county as being located in a less populated adjacent county unless more than 25 percent of the development is located within 2 or less miles of the less populated adjacent county. However, residential development shall not be treated as though it is in a less populated county if the affected counties have entered into an interlocal agreement to specify development review standards for affected developments within 2 or less miles.

Section 29. Section 570.70, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

570.70 Legislative findings.—The Legislature finds and declares that:

(1) A thriving rural economy with a strong agricultural base, a healthy natural environment, and viable rural communities is an essential part of Florida. Rural areas include the largest remaining intact ecosystems and best examples of remaining wildlife habitats as well as a majority of privately owned land targeted by local, state, and federal agencies for natural resource protection.

(2) The growth of Florida’s population can result in the conversion of agricultural and rural lands into residential or commercial development areas.

(3) The agricultural, rural, natural resource, and commodity values of rural lands are vital to the state’s economy, productivity, rural heritage, and quality of life.

(4) The purpose of this act is to bring under public protection lands that serve to limit subdivision and conversion of agricultural and natural areas that provide economic, open space, water, and wildlife benefits by acquiring land or related interests in land such as perpetual, less-than-fee acquisitions, agricultural protection agreements, and resource conservation agreements.

Section 30. Section 570.71, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

570.71 Conservation easements and agreements.—

(1) The department, on behalf of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, may allocate moneys to acquire perpetual, less-than-fee interest in land, to enter into agricultural protection agreements, and to enter into resource conservation agreements for any of the following public purposes:

- (a) Promotion and improvement of wildlife habitat.*
- (b) Protection and enhancement of water bodies, aquifer recharge areas, wetlands, and watersheds.*
- (c) Perpetuation of open space on lands with significant natural areas.*

(d) Protection of agricultural lands threatened by conversion to other uses.

(2) To achieve the purposes of this act, beginning no later than July 1, 2002, and every year thereafter, the department shall accept applications for project proposals that:

- (a) Purchase conservation easements as defined in s. 704.06.
- (b) Purchase rural land protection easements pursuant to this act.
- (c) Fund resource conservation agreements pursuant to this act.
- (d) Fund agricultural protection agreements pursuant to this act.

(3) Rural land protection easements shall be perpetual rights or interests in agricultural land which are appropriate to retain such land in predominantly its current state and to prevent the subdivision and conversion of such land into other uses. Such easements shall prohibit only the following:

(a) Construction or placement of buildings, roads, billboards or other advertising, utilities, or structures on the land, except those structures and unpaved roads necessary for agricultural operations or structures necessary for other activities allowed under the easement, and except for linear facilities described in s. 704.06(11);

(b) Subdivision of the land;

(c) Dumping or placement of trash, waste, or offensive materials on the land; and

(d) Activities that affect the natural hydrology of the land or that detrimentally affect water conservation, erosion control, soil conservation, or fish and wildlife habitat, except those required for environmental restoration; federal, state, or local government regulatory programs; or best management practices.

(4) Resource conservation agreements shall be contracts for services that provide annual payments to landowners for services that actively improve habitat and water restoration or conservation on their lands over and above that which is already required by law or that provide recreational opportunities. Such agreements shall be for a term of not less than 5 years and not more than 10 years. Property owners shall become eligible to enter into a resource conservation agreement only upon entering into a conservation easement or rural land protection easement.

(5) Agricultural protection agreements shall be for terms of 30 years and shall provide payments to landowners having significant natural areas on their land. Public access and public recreational opportunities may be negotiated at the request of the landowner.

(a) For the length of the agreement, the landowner shall agree to prohibit:

1. Construction or placement of buildings, roads, billboards or other advertising, utilities, or structures on the land, except those structures and unpaved roads necessary for agricultural operations or structures necessary for other activities allowed under the agreement, and except for linear facilities described in s. 704.06(11);

2. Subdivision of the land;

3. Dumping or placement of trash, waste, or offensive materials on the land; and

4. Activities that affect the natural hydrology of the land or that detrimentally affect water conservation, erosion control, soil conservation, or fish and wildlife habitat.

(b) As part of the agricultural protection agreement, the parties shall agree that the state shall have a right to buy a conservation easement or rural land protection easement at the end of the 30-year term or prior to the landowner transferring or selling the property, whichever occurs later. If the landowner tenders the easement for the purchase and the state does not timely exercise its right to buy the easement, the landowner shall be released from the agricultural agreement. The purchase price of the easement shall be established in the agreement and shall be based on the value of the easement at the time the agreement is entered into, plus a reasonable escalator multiplied by the number of full calendar years following the date of the commencement of the agreement. The landowner may transfer or sell the property before the expiration of the 30-year term, but only if the property is sold subject to the agreement and the buyer becomes the successor in interest to the agricultural protection agreement. Upon mutual consent of the parties, a landowner may enter into a perpetual easement at any time during the term of an agricultural protection agreement.

(6) Payment for conservation easements and rural land protection easements shall be a lump-sum payment at the time the easement is entered into, payable from proceeds derived from revenues distributed pursuant to ss. 201.15 and 215.619.

(7) Landowners entering into an agricultural protection agreement may receive up to 50 percent of the purchase price at the time the agreement is entered into, and remaining payments on the balance shall be equal annual payments over the term of the agreement, payable from proceeds derived from revenues distributed pursuant to ss. 201.15 and 215.619, subject to the provisions of s. 11(e), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Payments for agricultural protection agreements may not exceed 10 percent of the total funds appropriated.

(8) Payments for resource conservation agreements shall be equal annual payments over the term of the agreement, payable from proceeds derived from revenues distributed pursuant to s. 201.15.

(9) Easements purchased pursuant to this act may not prevent landowners from transferring the remaining fee value with the easement.

(10) The department, in consultation with the Department of Environmental Protection, water management districts, the Department of Community Affairs, and the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, shall adopt rules that establish an application process, a process and criteria for setting priorities for use of funds consistent with the purposes specified in s. 570.71(1) and giving preference to ranch and timber lands managed using sustainable practices, an appraisal process, and a process for title review and compliance and approval of the rules by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund.

(11) The department is directed to seek funds from federal sources to use in combination with state funds to carry out the purposes of this section.

Section 31. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared severable.

Section 32. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

If appropriate, the standards must also require relocatables to provide access to the same technologies available to similar classrooms within the main school facility and, if appropriate, to be accessible by adequate covered walkways. By July 1, 2000, the commissioner shall adopt

(19) SUBSTANTIAL DEVIATIONS.—

(b) Any proposed change to a previously approved development of regional impact or development order condition which, either individually or cumulatively with other changes, exceeds any of the following criteria shall constitute a substantial deviation and shall cause the development to be subject to further development-of-regional-impact review without the necessity for a finding of same by the local government:

1. An increase in the number of parking spaces at an attraction or recreational facility by 5 percent or 300 spaces, whichever is greater, or an increase in the number of spectators that may be accommodated at such a facility by 5 percent or 1,000 spectators, whichever is greater.

~~2. A new runway, a new terminal facility, a 25 percent lengthening of an existing runway, or a 25 percent increase in the number of gates of an existing terminal, but only if the increase adds at least three additional gates. However, if an airport is located in two counties, a 10 percent lengthening of an existing runway or a 20 percent increase in the number of gates of an existing terminal is the applicable criteria.~~

~~2.3.~~ An increase in the number of hospital beds by 5 percent or 60 beds, whichever is greater.

~~3.4.~~ An increase in industrial development area by 5 percent or 32 acres, whichever is greater.

~~4.5.~~ An increase in the average annual acreage mined by 5 percent or 10 acres, whichever is greater, or an increase in the average daily water consumption by a mining operation by 5 percent or 300,000 gallons, whichever is greater. An increase in the size of the mine by 5 percent or 750 acres, whichever is less.

~~5.6.~~ An increase in land area for office development by 5 percent or 6 acres, whichever is greater, or an increase of gross floor area of office development by 5 percent or 60,000 gross square feet, whichever is greater.

~~7. An increase in the storage capacity for chemical or petroleum storage facilities by 5 percent, 20,000 barrels, or 7 million pounds, whichever is greater.~~

~~8. An increase of development at a waterport of wet storage for 20 watercraft, dry storage for 30 watercraft, or wet/dry storage for 60 watercraft in an area identified in the state marina siting plan as an appropriate site for additional waterport development or a 5 percent increase in watercraft storage capacity, whichever is greater.~~

~~6.9.~~ An increase in the number of dwelling units by 5 percent or 50 dwelling units, whichever is greater.

~~7.10.~~ An increase in commercial development by 6 acres of land area or by 50,000 square feet of gross floor area, or of parking spaces provided for customers for 300 cars or a 5-percent increase of any of these, whichever is greater.

The percentage of any decrease in the amount of open space shall be treated as an increase for purposes of determining when 150 ~~100~~ percent has been reached or exceeded.

~~13.16.~~ Any change which would result in development of any area which was specifically set aside in the application for development approval or in the development order for preservation or special protection of endangered or threatened plants or animals designated as endangered, threatened, or species of special concern and their habitat, primary dunes, or archaeological and historical sites designated as significant by the Division of Historical Resources of the Department of State. The substantial deviation numerical standards in subparagraphs ~~3.4., 5.6., 6.9., 7.10., 8.11., and 11.14.~~ are increased by 50 percent for a project located wholly within an urban infill and redevelopment area designated on the applicable adopted local comprehensive plan future land use map and not located within the coastal high hazard area.

Rep. Bennett moved the adoption of the amendment to the amendment, which was adopted.

The question recurred on the adoption of Amendment 8 to Amendment 1 which was adopted.

(Amendment Bar Code: 303681)

Amendment 10 to Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 39, line 31, through page 44, line 24, remove from the amendment: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 10. Section 163.3198, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.3198 Development of a uniform fiscal impact analysis model for evaluating the cost of infrastructure to support development.—

(1) The Legislature finds that the quality of growth in this state will benefit greatly by the adoption of a uniform fiscal impact analysis tool that can be used by local governments to determine the costs and benefits of new development. To facilitate informed decisionmaking and accountability by local government, the analysis model must itemize and calculate the costs and fiscal impacts of infrastructure needs created by proposed development, as well as the anticipated revenues needed for infrastructure associated with the project. It is intended that the model be a minimum base model for implementation by all local governments. Local governments are not required to implement the model until the Legislature approves such implementation, and local governments are not prevented from using other fiscal or economic analysis tools before or after adoption of the uniform fiscal analysis model. The Legislature intends that the analysis provide local government decisionmakers with a clearer understanding of the fiscal impact of new development on the community and its resources.

(2) A three-member technical advisory committee with one member each to be selected by the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, respectively, shall be created to advise the secretary concerning the development of a fiscal analysis model. The appointments must be made prior to July 1, 2001.

(a) The technical advisory committee shall advise the state land planning agency concerning:

1. The development of a fiscal analysis model;
2. The selection of one or more models;
3. Changes that may be made to the model during the testing period, as needed; and
4. Recommendations on the implementation of the model.

(b) Each member of the technical advisory committee is entitled to reimbursement for per diem and travel expenses, as provided in s. 112.061, while carrying out the official business of the committee.

(c) The technical advisory committee shall meet at the call of the secretary and shall be dissolved upon the submittal of the report and recommendations required in subsection (4).

(3)(a) The state land planning agency shall develop one or more fiscal analysis models for determining the estimated costs and revenues of proposed development. The analysis provided by the model is a tool for government decisionmaking, does not constitute an automatic approval or disapproval of new development, and applies to all public and private projects and all land use categories.

(b) The model must be capable of estimating the capital, operating, and maintenance costs, and revenues for infrastructure the need for which is created by new development based on the type, scale, and location of various land uses. For the purposes of developing the model, estimated costs include those associated with provision of school facilities; transportation facilities; water supply; sewer; stormwater; solid waste services; police, fire, and emergency medical services; publicly provided energy services; parks and recreation services; and publicly provided telecommunications. Estimated revenues include all revenues attributable to the proposed development which are used to construct, operate, or maintain the listed infrastructure. The model may be developed with capabilities of estimating other costs and benefits directly related to new development, including economic costs and benefits. The Legislature recognizes the potential limitations of such models in fairly quantifying important quality-of-life issues, such as the intangible benefits and costs associated with development, including, but not limited to, overall impact on community character, housing costs, compatibility, and impacts to natural and historic resources, and the Legislature affirms its intention that this model not be used as the only determinant of the acceptability of new development.

(c) The model must be capable of identifying infrastructure deficits or backlogs and the costs associated with addressing such needs.

(d) As part of its development of a fiscal analysis model, the state land planning agency shall develop a format by which the local governments shall report to the public, at least annually, the cumulative fiscal impact of their local planning decisions.

(4) By January 1, 2003, the state land planning agency shall transmit to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives a report detailing the estimated costs of implementation, recommendations for a uniform fiscal analysis model, and recommendations for statewide implementation of such a model. If the state land planning agency determines that a uniform fiscal analysis model is unfeasible, the agency may recommend that the model or its application be modified. The report must also include recommendations for any changes to existing growth management laws and policies necessary to implement the model. However, this model is not intended to serve as a replacement for concurrency. The report must also include recommendations for state technical and financial assistance to help local governments in implementing the uniform fiscal analysis model and recommendations for incentives to local governments to encourage identification of areas in which infrastructure development will be encouraged. It is not the intent of this section to repeal concurrency.

212.055 Discretionary sales surtaxes; legislative intent; authorization and use of proceeds.—It is the legislative intent that any authorization for imposition of a discretionary sales surtax shall be published in the Florida Statutes as a subsection of this section, irrespective of the duration of the levy. Each enactment shall specify the types of counties authorized to levy; the rate or rates which may be imposed; the maximum length of time the surtax may be imposed, if any; the procedure which must be followed to secure voter approval, if required; the purpose for which the proceeds may be expended; and such other requirements as the Legislature may provide. Taxable transactions and administrative procedures shall be as provided in s. 212.054.

(2) LOCAL GOVERNMENT INFRASTRUCTURE SURTAX.—

(a)1. The governing authority in each county may levy a discretionary sales surtax of 0.5 percent or 1 percent. The levy of the surtax shall be pursuant to ordinance enacted by a majority of the members of the county governing authority and approved by a majority of the electors of the county voting in a referendum on the surtax. If the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county’s population adopt uniform resolutions establishing the rate of the surtax and calling for a referendum on the surtax, the levy of the surtax shall be placed on the ballot and shall take effect if approved by a majority of the electors of the county voting in the referendum on the surtax.

2. If the surtax was levied pursuant to a referendum held before July 1, 1993, the surtax may not be levied beyond the time established in the ordinance, or, if the ordinance did not limit the period of the levy, the surtax may not be levied for more than 15 years. The levy of such surtax may be extended only by approval of a majority of the electors of the county voting in a referendum on the surtax.

(b) A statement which includes a brief general description of the projects to be funded by the surtax and which conforms to the requirements of s. 101.161 shall be placed on the ballot by the governing authority of any county which enacts an ordinance calling for a referendum on the levy of the surtax or in which the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county’s population adopt uniform resolutions calling for a referendum on the surtax. The following question shall be placed on the ballot:

... FOR the ... -cent sales tax
 ... AGAINST the ... -cent sales tax

(c) Pursuant to s. 212.054(4), the proceeds of the surtax levied under this subsection shall be distributed to the county and the municipalities within such county in which the surtax was collected, according to:

1. An interlocal agreement between the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county’s municipal population, which agreement may include a school district with the consent of the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county’s municipal population; or

2. If there is no interlocal agreement, according to the formula provided in s. 218.62.

Any change in the distribution formula must take effect on the first day of any month that begins at least 60 days after written notification of that change has been made to the department.

(d)1. The proceeds of the surtax authorized by this subsection and any interest accrued thereto shall be expended by the school district or within the county and municipalities within the county, or, in the case of a negotiated joint county agreement, within another county, to finance, plan, and construct infrastructure and to acquire land for public recreation or conservation or protection of natural resources and to finance the closure of county-owned or municipally owned solid waste landfills that are already closed or are required to close by order of the Department of Environmental Protection. Any use of such proceeds or interest for purposes of landfill closure prior to July 1, 1993, is ratified. Neither the proceeds nor any interest accrued thereto shall be used for operational expenses of any infrastructure, except that any county with a population of less than 75,000 that is required to close a landfill by order of the Department of Environmental Protection may use the proceeds or any interest accrued thereto for long-term maintenance costs associated with landfill closure. Counties, as defined in s. 125.011(1), and charter counties may, in addition, use the proceeds and any interest accrued thereto to retire or service indebtedness incurred for bonds issued prior to July 1, 1987, for infrastructure purposes, and for bonds subsequently issued to refund such bonds. Any use of such proceeds or interest for purposes of retiring or servicing indebtedness incurred for such refunding bonds prior to July 1, 1999, is ratified.

2. For the purposes of this paragraph, “infrastructure” means:

a. Any fixed capital expenditure or fixed capital outlay associated with the construction, reconstruction, or improvement of public facilities which have a life expectancy of 5 or more years and any land acquisition, land improvement, design, and engineering costs related thereto.

b. A fire department vehicle, an emergency medical service vehicle, a sheriff’s office vehicle, a police department vehicle, or any other vehicle, and such equipment necessary to outfit the vehicle for its official use or equipment that has a life expectancy of at least 5 years.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, a discretionary sales surtax imposed or extended after the effective date of this act may provide for an amount not to exceed 15 percent of the local option sales surtax proceeds to be allocated for deposit to a trust fund within the county’s accounts created for the purpose of funding economic development projects of a general public purpose targeted to improve local economies, including the funding of operational costs and incentives related to such economic development. The ballot statement must indicate the intention to make an allocation under the authority of this subparagraph.

(e) School districts, counties, and municipalities receiving proceeds under the provisions of this subsection may pledge such proceeds for the purpose of servicing new bond indebtedness incurred pursuant to law. Local governments may use the services of the Division of Bond Finance of the State Board of Administration pursuant to the State Bond Act to issue any bonds through the provisions of this subsection. In no case may a jurisdiction issue bonds pursuant to this subsection more frequently than once per year. Counties and municipalities may join together for the issuance of bonds authorized by this subsection.

(f) Counties and municipalities shall not use the surtax proceeds to supplant or replace user fees or to reduce ad valorem taxes existing prior to the levy of the surtax authorized by this subsection.

(g)1. Notwithstanding paragraph (d), a county that has a population of 50,000 or less on April 1, 1992, or any county designated as an area of critical state concern on the effective date of this act, and that imposed the surtax before July 1, 1992, may use the proceeds and interest of the surtax for any public purpose if:

- a. The debt service obligations for any year are met;
- b. The county's comprehensive plan has been determined to be in compliance with part II of chapter 163; and
- c. The county has adopted an amendment to the surtax ordinance pursuant to the procedure provided in s. 125.66 authorizing additional uses of the surtax proceeds and interest.

2. A municipality located within a county that has a population of 50,000 or less on April 1, 1992, or within a county designated as an area of critical state concern on the effective date of this act, and that imposed the surtax before July 1, 1992, may not use the proceeds and interest of the surtax for any purpose other than an infrastructure purpose authorized in paragraph (d) unless the municipality's comprehensive plan has been determined to be in compliance with part II of chapter 163 and the municipality has adopted an amendment to its surtax ordinance or resolution pursuant to the procedure provided in s. 166.041 authorizing additional uses of the surtax proceeds and interest. Such municipality may expend the surtax proceeds and interest for any public purpose authorized in the amendment.

3. Those counties designated as an area of critical state concern which qualify to use the surtax for any public purpose may use only up to 10 percent of the surtax proceeds for any public purpose other than for infrastructure purposes authorized by this section.

(h) Notwithstanding paragraph (d), a county in which 40 percent or more of the just value of real property is exempt or immune from ad valorem taxation, and the municipalities within such a county, may use the proceeds and interest of the surtax for operation and maintenance of parks and recreation programs and facilities established with the proceeds of the surtax.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a county shall not levy local option sales surtaxes authorized in this subsection and subsections (3), (4), and (5) in excess of a combined rate of 1 percent. However, if the county is levying local option sales surtaxes under this subsection and subsection (3) only, the combined rate shall not exceed 1.5 percent.

(3) SMALL COUNTY SURTAX.—

(a) The governing authority in each county that has a population of 50,000 or less on April 1, 1992, may levy a discretionary sales surtax of 0.5 percent or 1 percent. The levy of the surtax shall be pursuant to ordinance enacted by an extraordinary vote of the members of the county governing authority if the surtax revenues are expended for operating purposes. If the surtax revenues are expended for the purpose of servicing bond indebtedness, the surtax shall be approved by a majority of the electors of the county voting in a referendum on the surtax. However, any local government levying the local government infrastructure surtax under subsection (2) at the rate of 1 percent shall not levy the surtax under this subsection at a rate of 0.5 percent, so that the combined rates equal 1.5 percent as authorized by paragraph (2)(i), unless the surtax under this subsection is approved by a majority of the electors of the county voting in a referendum on the surtax.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a county shall not levy local option sales surtaxes authorized in this subsection and subsections (2), (4), and (5) in excess of a combined rate of 1 percent, except as provided in paragraph (2)(i).

(c) Local option taxes collected on sales or use of diesel fuel in this state shall be distributed in the following manner:

1. The fiscal year of July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996, shall be the base year for all distributions.

2. Each year the tax collected, less the deduction provided for in paragraph (2)(b), the service and administrative charges enumerated in s. 215.20, and the allowances allowed under s. 206.91, on the number of gallons reported, up to the total number of gallons reported in the base year, shall be distributed to each county using the distribution percentage calculated for the base year.

3. After the distribution of taxes pursuant to subparagraph 2., additional taxes available for distribution shall first be distributed pursuant to this subparagraph. A distribution shall be made to each county in which a qualified new retail station is located. A qualified new retail station is a retail station that began operation after June 30, 1996, and that has sales of diesel fuel exceeding 50 percent of the sales of diesel fuel reported in the county in which it is located during the 1995-1996 state fiscal year. The determination of whether a new retail station is qualified shall be based on the total gallons of diesel fuel sold at the station during each full month of operation during the 12-month period ending March 31, divided by the number of full months of operation during those 12 months, and the result multiplied by 12. The amount distributed pursuant to this subparagraph to each county in which a qualified new retail station is located shall equal the local option taxes due on the gallons of diesel fuel sold by the new retail station during the year ending March 31, less the service charges enumerated in s. 215.20 and the dealer allowance provided for by s. 206.91. Gallons of diesel fuel sold at the qualified new retail station shall be certified to the department by the county requesting the additional distribution by June 15, 1997, and by May 1 in each subsequent year. The certification shall include the beginning inventory, fuel purchases and sales, and the ending inventory for the new retail station for each month of operation during the year, the original purchase invoices for the period, and any other information the department deems reasonable and necessary to establish the certified gallons. The department may review and audit the retail dealer's records provided to a county to establish the gallons sold by the new retail station. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subparagraph, when more than one county qualifies for a distribution pursuant to this subparagraph and the requested distributions exceed the total taxes available for distribution, each county shall receive a prorated share of the moneys available for distribution.

4. After the distribution of taxes pursuant to subparagraph 3., all additional taxes available for distribution shall be distributed based on vehicular diesel fuel storage capacities in each county pursuant to this subparagraph. The total vehicular diesel fuel storage capacity shall be established for each fiscal year based on the registration of facilities with the Department of Environmental Protection as required by s. 376.303 for the following facility types: retail stations, fuel user/nonretail, state government, local government, and county government. Each county shall receive a share of the total taxes available for distribution pursuant to this subparagraph equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the storage capacity located within the county for vehicular diesel fuel in the facility types listed in this subparagraph and the denominator of which is the total statewide storage capacity for vehicular diesel fuel in those facility types. The vehicular diesel fuel storage capacity for each county and facility type shall be that established by the Department of Environmental Protection by June 1, 1997, for the 1996-1997 fiscal year, and by January 31 for each succeeding fiscal year. The storage capacities so established shall be final. The storage capacity for any new retail station for which a county receives a distribution pursuant to subparagraph 3. shall not be included in the calculations pursuant to this subparagraph.

(2)(a) The tax collected by the department pursuant to subsection (1), except for the deduction provided for by paragraph (b), shall be transferred to the Ninth-cent Fuel Tax Trust Fund, which fund is created for distribution to the counties pursuant to paragraph (1)(d). The department shall deduct the administrative costs incurred by it in collecting, administering, enforcing, and distributing back to the counties the tax, which administrative costs may not exceed 2 percent of collections authorized by this section. The total administrative cost shall be prorated among those counties levying the tax according to the following formula, which shall be revised on July 1 of each year: Two-thirds of the amount deducted shall be based on the county's proportional share of the number of dealers who are registered for purposes of chapter 212 on June 30th of the preceding state fiscal year, and one-third of the amount deducted shall be based on the county's share of the total amount of the tax collected during the preceding state fiscal year. The department has the authority to prescribe and publish all forms upon which reports shall be made to it and other forms and records deemed to be necessary for proper administration and collection of the tax levied by any county and shall adopt rules necessary to enforce this section, which rules shall have the full force and effect of law. insert:

163.3244 Sustainable communities ~~certification demonstration project.~~—

(1) The Department of Community Affairs ~~shall create is authorized to undertake~~ a sustainable communities ~~certification program for communities that have implemented best planning practices through their local government comprehensive plans and specific planning or design initiatives, thereby reducing the need for state review of amendments to local government comprehensive plans. One of the purposes of the certification program is to address the extrajurisdictional effects of development occurring within the certified area and to assume development-of-regional-impact review authority from the department. It is the intent of the Legislature that the department and other executive agencies under the Governor give priority to and direct infrastructure spending to areas within the certified communities. demonstration project. Up to five local governments may be designated under this section. At least three of the local governments shall be located totally or in part within the boundaries of the South Florida Water Management District. In selecting the local governments to participate in this demonstration project, the department shall assure participation by local governments of different sizes and characteristics. It is the intent of the Legislature that this demonstration project shall be used to further six broad principles of sustainability: restoring key ecosystems; achieving a more clean, healthy environment; limiting urban sprawl; protecting wildlife and natural areas; advancing the efficient use of land and other resources; and creating quality communities and jobs.~~

(2) A local government may apply to the department in writing requesting consideration for ~~certification as a sustainable community designation under the demonstration program.~~ The local government shall describe its reasons for applying for this ~~certification designation~~ and support its application with documents regarding its compliance with criteria set forth in this section.

(3) In determining whether to ~~certify designate~~ all or part of a local government as a sustainable community, the department shall:

(a) Assure that the local government has set an urban development boundary or functionally equivalent mechanisms, based on projected needs and adequate data and analysis, that will:

1. Encourage urban infill at appropriate densities and intensities, separate urban and rural uses, and discourage urban sprawl ~~development patterns~~ while preserving public open space and planning for buffer-type land uses and rural development consistent with their respective character along and outside of the urban boundary.

2. Assure protection of key natural areas and agricultural lands.

3. Ensure the cost-efficient provision of public infrastructure and services.

(b) Consider and assess the extent to which the local government has adopted programs in its local comprehensive plan or land development regulations which:

1. Promote infill development and redevelopment, including prioritized and timely permitting processes in which applications for local development permits within the urban development boundary are acted upon expeditiously for proposed development which is consistent with the local comprehensive plan.

2. Promote the development of housing for low-income and very-low-income households or specialized housing to assist elders and the disabled to remain at home or in independent living arrangements.

3. Achieve effective intergovernmental coordination.

4. Promote economic diversity and growth while encouraging the retention of rural character, where rural areas exist, and the protection and restoration of the environment.

5. Provide and maintain public urban and rural open space and recreational opportunities.

6. Manage transportation and land uses to support public transit and promote opportunities for pedestrian and nonmotorized transportation.

7. Use urban design principles to foster individual community identity, create a sense of place, and promote pedestrian-oriented safe neighborhoods and town centers.

8. Redevelop blighted areas.

9. Improve disaster preparedness programs and the ability to protect lives and property, especially in coastal high-hazard areas.

10. Encourage clustered, mixed-use development which incorporates greenspace and residential development within walking distance of commercial development.

11. Demonstrate financial and administrative capabilities to implement the designation.

12. Demonstrate a record of effectively adopting, implementing, and enforcing its comprehensive plan.

(c) Consider and assess the extent to which the local government has the support of its regional planning council governing board in favor of the designation.

(4) The department shall ~~certify designate~~ all or part of a local government as a sustainable community by written agreement, which shall be considered final agency action. The agreement shall include the basis for the ~~certification designation~~, any conditions necessary to comply with the intent of this section, including procedures for mitigation of extrajurisdictional effects ~~impacts~~ of development, a 5-year work plan identifying local government and department tasks that will promote the intent of this section, a commitment to effectively adopt, implement, and enforce the local government's comprehensive plan ~~in jurisdictions where developments of regional impact would be abolished or modified~~, and criteria for evaluating the success of the ~~certification designation~~. Subsequent to executing the agreement, the department may remove the local government's ~~certification designation~~ if it determines that the local government is not meeting the terms of the ~~certification designation~~ agreement. If an affected person, as defined by s. 163.3184(1)(a), determines that a local government is not complying with the terms of the ~~certification designation~~ agreement, he or she may petition for administrative review of local government compliance with the terms of the agreement, using the procedures and timeframes for notice and conditions precedent described in s. 163.3213.

(5) Upon ~~certification designation~~ as a sustainable community, ~~the local government shall receive the following benefits:~~

(a) All comprehensive plan amendments affecting areas within the urban growth boundary or functional equivalent shall be adopted and reviewed in the manner described in ss. 163.3184(1), (2), (7), (14), (15), and (16) and 163.3187, such that state and regional agency review is eliminated. The department shall not issue an objections, recommendations, and comments report on proposed plan amendments or a notice of intent on adopted plan amendments; however, affected persons, as defined by s. 163.3184(1)(a), may file a petition for administrative review pursuant to the requirements of s. 163.3187(3)(a) to challenge the compliance of an adopted plan amendment. Plan amendments that would change the adopted urban development boundary, impact lands outside the urban development boundary, or impact lands within the coastal high-hazard area shall be reviewed pursuant to ss. 163.3184 and 163.3187.

(b) ~~The local government shall assume the review authority of the department and regional planning council for developments of regional impact~~ ~~Developments~~ within the urban growth boundary and outside the coastal high-hazard area ~~are exempt from review pursuant to ss. 380.06 and 380.061 to the extent established in the designation agreement.~~

(c) The Executive Office of the Governor shall work with ~~the Department of Community Affairs~~ and other departments to emphasize programs and set priorities for funding ~~within areas in certified designated~~ local governments in the areas of ~~education job creation; crime prevention; environmental protection and restoration programs; solid waste recycling; transportation improvements, including highways, transit, and nonmotorized transportation projects; sewage treatment system improvements; expedited and prioritized funding initiatives; and other programs that will direct development within the urban development boundary of certified~~ assist local governments ~~to create and maintain self-sustaining communities.~~

(6) The Secretary of ~~the Department of Environmental Protection,~~ the Secretary of Community Affairs, the Secretary of Transportation, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the executive director of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, and the executive directors of the five water management districts ~~and the 11 regional planning councils~~ shall have the authority to enter into agreements with landowners, developers, businesses, industries, individuals, and governmental agencies as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section.

(7) Once ~~certified designated~~ as a sustainable community pursuant to this section, the local government shall provide a progress report to the department ~~and the Advisory Council on Intergovernmental Relations~~ each year on the first anniversary date of its designation ~~and thereafter, biennially,~~ that identifies plan amendments adopted during the year ~~or 2-year period,~~ updates the future land use map, and advises whether the local government continues to comply with the ~~certification designation agreement. Beginning December 1, 1997, and each year thereafter, the department shall provide a report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate regarding the successes and failures of this demonstration project. The report shall include any recommendations for legislative action to modify or repeal the project.~~

(8) The ~~certification designation~~ of a local government as a sustainable community under this section shall ~~continue~~ be for a period of 5 years, unless otherwise revoked or renewed by the department. The ~~certification designation~~ may be renewed for ~~additional 5-year periods~~ if the department determines that the local government is complying with the terms of its agreement. ~~Those local governments designated as a sustainable community demonstration project shall have their designation renewed for an additional 5-year period, which may be renewed for additional 5-year periods pursuant to this subsection. ; showing continuing progress toward sustainable goals, and the demonstration project is still in effect.~~

~~(9) This section shall stand repealed on June 30, 2001, and shall be reviewed by the Legislature prior to that date.~~

~~(10) If this section is repealed, all designations shall terminate as of the effective date of the repeal.~~

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 112, line 15, after "judicial review;" of the amendment insert: amending s. 163.3244, F.S.; providing for a sustainable communities certification program in lieu of the sustainable communities demonstration project; revising requirements for certification agreements; providing that a certified local government shall assume review authority for certain developments of regional impact; revising programs to be emphasized in such areas and providing for certain funding priorities; revising report requirements; providing for renewal of local governments designated as a sustainable community demonstration project; eliminating the scheduled June 30, 2001, repeal of said section;

Section 5. Subsection (5) and paragraph (a) of subsection (12) of section 163.3180, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

163.3180 Concurrency.—

(5)(a) The Legislature finds that under limited circumstances dealing with transportation facilities, countervailing planning and public policy goals may come into conflict with the requirement that adequate public facilities and services be available concurrent with the impacts of such development. The Legislature further finds that often the unintended result of the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities is the discouragement of urban infill development and redevelopment. Such unintended results directly conflict with the goals and policies of the state comprehensive plan and the intent of this part. Therefore, exceptions from the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities may be granted as provided by this subsection.

(b) A local government may grant an exception from the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities if the proposed development is otherwise consistent with the adopted local government comprehensive plan and is a project that promotes public transportation. ~~or is located within an area designated in the comprehensive plan for:~~

(c) A local government shall grant an exception from the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities if the proposed development is located within an area designated in the comprehensive plan for:

1. Urban infill development,
2. Urban redevelopment,
3. Downtown revitalization, or
4. Urban infill and redevelopment under s. 163.2517.

(d)(e) The Legislature also finds that developments located within urban infill, urban redevelopment, existing urban service, or downtown revitalization areas or areas designated as urban infill and redevelopment areas under s. 163.2517 which pose only special part-time demands on the transportation system should be excepted from the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities. A special part-time demand is one that does not have more than 200 scheduled events during any calendar year and does not affect the 100 highest traffic volume hours.

(e)(d) A local government shall establish guidelines for granting the exceptions authorized in paragraphs (b) and (d)(e) in the comprehensive plan. These guidelines must include consideration of the impacts on the Florida Intrastate Highway System, as defined in s. 338.001. The exceptions may be available only within the specific geographic area of the jurisdiction designated in the plan. Pursuant to s. 163.3184, any affected person may challenge a plan amendment establishing these guidelines and the areas within which an exception could be granted.

(f) A local government shall establish guidelines for designating the exception areas authorized in paragraph (c) in the comprehensive plan. These guidelines must include consideration of the impacts on the Florida Intrastate Highway System, as defined in s. 338.001. The exceptions may be available only within the specific geographic area of the jurisdiction designated in the plan. Pursuant to s. 163.3184, any affected person may challenge a plan amendment establishing these guidelines and the areas within which an exception could be granted.

(12) When authorized by a local comprehensive plan, a multiuse development of regional impact may satisfy the transportation concurrency requirements of the local comprehensive plan, the local government's concurrency management system, and s. 380.06 by payment of a proportionate-share contribution for local and regionally significant traffic impacts, if:

(a) The development of regional impact meets or exceeds the guidelines and standards of s. 380.0651(3)(g)(i) and rule 28-24.032(2), Florida Administrative Code, and includes a residential component that contains at least 100 residential dwelling units or 15 percent of the applicable residential guideline and standard, whichever is greater;

The proportionate-share contribution may be applied to any transportation facility to satisfy the provisions of this subsection and the local comprehensive plan, but, for the purposes of this subsection, the amount of the proportionate-share contribution shall be calculated based upon the cumulative number of trips from the proposed development expected to reach roadways during the peak hour from the complete buildout of a stage or phase being approved, divided by the change in the peak hour maximum service volume of roadways resulting from construction of an improvement necessary to maintain the adopted level of service, multiplied by the construction cost, at the time of developer payment, of the improvement necessary to maintain the adopted level of service. For purposes of this subsection, "construction cost" includes all associated costs of the improvement.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 110, line 6-8, after the semicolon of the amendment remove: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: revising provisions relating to exceptions from the concurrency requirement for transportation facilities; requiring that such an exception be granted under certain conditions;

(c) If an electric utility demonstrates by competent substantial evidence that it meets all criteria for approval of an application for a development permit for the location, construction, and operation of a substation, the local government may not deny the application unless the preponderance of the evidence demonstrates the application does not meet the requirements of the comprehensive plan, land development regulations, or is otherwise incompatible with adjacent land uses.

Section 16. Section 229.0083, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

229.0083 School Readiness Act; legislative intent; division of responsibilities.—

(1) The School Readiness Act, chapter 99-357, Laws of Florida, created the Florida Partnership for School Readiness to fulfill three major purposes: to administer school readiness program services that help parents prepare eligible children for school; to coordinate the provision of school readiness services on a full-day, full-year, full-choice basis to the extent possible in order to enable parents to work and be financially self-sufficient; and to establish a uniform screening instrument to be implemented by the Department of Education and administered by the school districts upon entry into kindergarten to assess the readiness for school of all children. Readiness for kindergarten is the outcome measure of the success of each school readiness program that receives state or federal funds.

(2) It is the intent of the Legislature that school readiness services shall be an integrated and seamless system of services with a developmentally appropriate education component for the state's eligible birth-to-kindergarten population described in s. 411.01(6) and shall not be construed as part of the seamless K-20 education system until the administration of the uniform screening system upon entry into kindergarten.

(3) The Legislature finds that, because of a variety of factors, not all children come to school equally ready to learn and that, in order to more effectively assess and monitor programs designed to help prepare Florida's children to attend school, educators and policymakers need more objective information regarding the school readiness of Florida's children. However, nothing contained in the School Readiness Act, chapter 99-357, Laws of Florida, is intended to:

(a) Relieve parents and guardians of their own obligations to ready their children for school; or

(b) Create any obligation to provide publicly funded school readiness programs or services beyond those authorized by the Legislature.

(4)(a) Notwithstanding s. 411.01(4):

1. The Florida Partnership for School Readiness is assigned to the Agency for Workforce Innovation pursuant to subsection (7).

2. Four members shall be added to the Florida Partnership for School Readiness as follows:

a. Two members shall be added to the partnership from the child care industry, one representing the private for-profit sector appointed by the Governor from a list of two nominees submitted by the President of the Senate and one representing faith-based providers appointed by the Governor from a list of two nominees submitted by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Neither shall have a direct contract with any local coalition to provide school readiness services.

b. Two members shall be added to the partnership from the business community, one appointed by the Governor from a list of two nominees submitted by the President of the Senate and one appointed by the Governor from a list of two nominees submitted by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Neither shall be involved in any business related to school readiness services.

3. The executive director of the partnership shall serve at the pleasure of the Governor.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, minimum child care licensing standards shall be developed to provide for reasonable, affordable, and safe before-school and after-school care. Standards, at a minimum, shall allow for a credentialed director to supervise multiple before-school and after-school sites.

(c) Notwithstanding s. 411.01(5)(d):

1. Instructional staff must be trained pursuant to s. 402.305(2)(d).

2. Reimbursement rates shall not have the effect of limiting parental choice or creating standards or levels of services that have not been authorized by the Legislature.

3. The Florida Partnership for School Readiness shall review and revise coalition plans at least annually.

(d) Notwithstanding s. 20.50:

1. The Agency for Workforce Innovation shall administer school readiness funds, plans, and policies pursuant to contract with the Florida Partnership for School Readiness and shall prepare and submit a unified budget request for the school readiness program in accordance with chapter 216.

2. All instructions to local school readiness coalitions shall emanate from the Agency for Workforce Innovation pursuant to policies of the Legislature, plans of the Florida Partnership for School Readiness, and the contract between the Florida Partnership for School Readiness and the agency.

(e) The Agency for Workforce Innovation shall prepare a plan that provides for the distribution and expenditure of all state and federal school readiness funds for children participating in public or private school readiness programs based upon an equity and performance funding formula. The plan shall be submitted to the Governor and the Legislative Budget Commission. Upon approval, the Legislative Budget

Commission shall authorize the transfer of funds to the Agency for Workforce Innovation for distribution in accordance with the provisions of the formula.

(5) The Florida Partnership for School Readiness shall:

(a) Coordinate the birth-to-kindergarten services for children who are eligible pursuant to s. 411.01(6) and the programmatic, administrative, and fiscal standards pursuant to s. 411.01 and this section for all public providers of school readiness programs.

(b) Continue to provide unified leadership for school readiness through local school readiness coalitions.

(c) Focus on improving the educational quality of all publicly funded school readiness programs.

(6) The Department of Education shall implement a school readiness uniform screening, including a pilot program during the 2002-2003 school year, to validate the system recommended by the Florida Partnership for School Readiness as part of a comprehensive evaluation design. Beginning with the 2002-2003 school year, the department shall require that all school districts administer the school readiness uniform screening to each kindergarten student in the district school system upon the student's entry into kindergarten. Children who enter public school for the first time in first grade must undergo a uniform screening adopted for use in first grade. The department shall incorporate school readiness data into the K-20 data warehouse for longitudinal tracking. The department shall provide the partnership and the Agency for Workforce Innovation with complete and full access to kindergarten uniform screening data at the student, school, district, and state levels in a format that will enable the partnership and the agency to prepare reports needed by state policymakers and local school readiness coalitions to assess progress toward school readiness goals and provide input for continuous improvement of local school readiness services and programs.

(7) Effective July 1, 2002, the Florida Partnership for School Readiness is transferred by a type two transfer, pursuant to s. 20.06(2), from the Executive Office of the Governor to the Agency for Workforce Innovation.

(9) Effective July 1, 2002, the prekindergarten early intervention, migrant prekindergarten, and Florida First Start programs, including statewide staff as referenced in the interagency agreement between the Department of Education and the Florida Partnership for School Readiness, shall be transferred by a type two transfer, pursuant to s. 20.06(2), to the Agency for Workforce Innovation.

(10) For purposes of administration of the Early Learning Opportunities Act and the Even Start Family Literacy Programs, pursuant to Pub. L. No. 106-554, the Agency for Workforce Innovation is designated as the lead agency and must comply with lead agency responsibilities pursuant to federal law.
