OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Speaker—Tom Feeney
Speaker pro tempore—Sandra L. "Sandy" Murman
Clerk—John B. Phelps
Sergeant at Arms—Earnest W. Sumner

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 19 Friday, April 27, 2001

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 10:30 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Thomas C. Veit of St. Mary the Virgin Church of Brandon, upon invitation of Rep. Byrd:

Most gracious God, we humbly beseech Thee for the people of the great state of Florida in general, and especially for the House of Representatives here assembled, that Thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations to the advancement of Thy glory and safety, honor, and welfare of Thy people. That all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established among us for all generations. We beseech Thee to guide and bless the Legislature of this state, that they may ordain for our governance only such things as please Thee, to the glory of Thy name and the welfare of the people. These and all other necessary things, for them, for us, and for the great state of Florida, we humbly ask in the name of Almighty God. Amen.

The following Members were recorded present:

Correction of the Journal

The Journal of April 26 was corrected and approved as follows: On page 849, column 1, lines 2 through 4 from the bottom, delete all of said lines and insert: On motion by Rep. Kendrick, the House reconsidered the vote by which Amendment 1 was laid on the table earlier today.

The question recurred on the adoption of Amendment 1, which failed of adoption.

And on page 942, column 1, line 13 from the bottom, delete "which was withdrawn." and insert in lieu thereof: which was adopted.

Representative(s) Ritter and Barriero offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 175593)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Section 202.105, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

202.105 Declaration of legislative findings and intent.—

(1) It is declared to be a specific legislative finding that the creation of this chapter fulfills important state interests by reforming the tax laws to provide a fair, efficient, and uniform method for taxing communications services sold in this state. This chapter is essential to the continued economic vitality of this increasingly important industry because it restructures state and local taxes and fees to account for the impact of federal legislation, industry deregulation, and the convergence of service offerings that is now taking place among providers. This chapter promotes the increased competition that accompanies deregulation by embracing a competitively neutral tax policy that will free consumers to choose a provider based on tax-neutral considerations. This chapter further spurs new competition by simplifying an extremely complicated state and local tax and fee system. Simplification will lower the cost of collecting taxes and fees, increase service availability, and place downward pressure on price. Newfound administrative efficiency is demonstrated by a reduction in the number of returns that a provider must file each month. By restructuring separate taxes and fees into a revenue-neutral communications services tax centrally administered by the department, this chapter will ensure that the growth of the industry is unimpaired by excessive governmental regulation. The tax imposed pursuant to this chapter is a replacement for taxes and fees previously imposed and is not a new tax. The taxes imposed and administered pursuant to this chapter are of general application and are imposed in a uniform, consistent, and nondiscriminatory manner.

(2) It is declared to be a specific legislative finding that this chapter will not reduce the authority that municipalities or counties had to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989.

Section 2. Subsections (2), (14), and (16) of section 202.11, Florida Statutes, are amended, subsection (18) is added to said section, and, effective August 1, 2002, subsections (8) and (15) are amended and subsections (19), (20), (21), (22), (23), (24), and (25) are added to said section, to read:

202.11 Definitions.—As used in this chapter:

(2) "Cable service" means the transmission of video, audio, or other programming service to purchasers, and the purchaser interaction, if any, required for the selection or use of any such programming service, regardless of whether the programming is transmitted over facilities owned or operated by the cable service provider or over facilities owned or operated by one or more other dealers of communications services. The term includes point-to-point and point-to-multipoint distribution services by which programming is transmitted or broadcast by microwave or other equipment directly to the purchaser's premises, but does not include direct-to-home satellite service. The term includes basic, extended, premium, pay-per-view, digital, and music services.

(8) "Mobile communications service" means commercial mobile radio service, as defined in 47 C.F.R. s. 20.3 as in effect on June 1, 1999 ~~any one-way or two-way radio communications service, whether identified by the dealer as local, toll, long distance, or otherwise, and which is carried between mobile stations or receivers and land stations, or by mobile stations communicating among themselves, and includes, but is not limited to, cellular communications services, personal communications services, paging services, specialized mobile radio services, and any other form of mobile one-way or two-way communications service~~. The term does not include air-ground radiotelephone service as defined in 47 C.F.R. s. 22.99 as in effect on June 1, 1999.

(14) "Sales price" means the total amount charged in money or other consideration by a dealer for the sale of the right or privilege of using communications services in this state, including any property or other services that are part of the sale. The sales price of communications services shall not be reduced by any separately identified components of the charge that constitute expenses of the dealer, including, but not limited to, sales taxes on goods or services purchased by the dealer, property taxes, taxes measured by net income, and universal-service fund fees.

(a) The sales price of communications services shall ~~also~~ include, whether or not separately stated, charges for any of the following:

~~1. Separately identified components of the charge or expenses of the dealer, including, but not limited to, sales taxes on goods or services purchased by the dealer, property taxes, taxes measured by net income, and federal universal-service fund fees.~~

1.~~2.~~ The connection, movement, change, or termination of communications services.

2.~~3.~~ The detailed billing of communications services.

3.~~4.~~ The sale of directory listings in connection with a communications service.

4.~~5.~~ Central office and custom calling features.

5.~~6.~~ Voice mail and other messaging service.

~~6.~~7. Directory assistance.

7. The service of sending or receiving a document commonly referred to as a facsimile or "fax," except when performed during the course of providing professional or advertising services.

(b) The sales price of communications services does not include charges for any of the following:

1. Any excise tax, sales tax, or similar tax levied by the United States or any state or local government on the purchase, sale, use, or consumption of any communications service, including, but not limited to, any tax imposed under this chapter or chapter 203 which is permitted or required to be added to the sales price of such service, if the tax is stated separately.

2. Any fee or assessment levied by the United States or any state or local government, including, but not limited to, regulatory fees and emergency telephone surcharges, which is required to be added to the price of such service if the fee or assessment is separately stated.

3. Communications services ~~Local telephone service~~ paid for by inserting coins into coin-operated communications devices available to the public.

4. The sale or recharge of a prepaid calling arrangement.

5. The provision of air-to-ground communications services, defined as a radio service provided to purchasers while on board an aircraft.

6. A dealer's internal use of communications services in connection with its business of providing communications services.

7. Charges for property or other services that are not part of the sale of communications services, if such charges are stated separately from the charges for communications services.

(15) "Service address" means:

(a)~~(b)~~ Except as otherwise provided in this section ~~In the case of all other communications services~~, the location of the communications equipment from which communications services originate or at which communications services are received by the customer. If the location of such equipment cannot be determined as part of the billing process, as in the case of ~~mobile communications services, paging systems, maritime systems,~~ third-number and calling-card calls~~,~~ and similar services, the term means the location determined by the dealer based on the customer's telephone number, the customer's mailing address to which bills are sent by the dealer, or another street address provided by the customer. ~~However, such address must be within the licensed service area of the dealer.~~ In the case of a communications service paid through a credit or payment mechanism that does not relate to a service address, such as a bank, travel, debit, or credit card, the service address is the address of the central office, as determined by the area code and the first three digits of the seven-digit originating telephone number.

(b)~~(a)~~ In the case of cable services and direct-to-home satellite services, the location where the customer receives the services in this state.

(c) In the case of mobile communications services, the customer's place of primary use.

(16) "Substitute communications system" means any telephone system, or other system capable of providing communications services, which a person purchases, installs, rents, or leases for his or her own use to provide himself or herself with services used as a substitute for any switched service or dedicated facility by which ~~communications services provided by~~ a dealer of communications services provides a communication path.

(18) "Private communications service" means a communications service that entitles the subscriber or user to exclusive or priority use of a communications channel or group of channels between or among channel termination points, regardless of the manner in which such channel or channels are connected, and includes switching capacity, extension lines, stations, and any other associated services which are provided in connection with the use of such channel or channels.

(19)(a) "Customer" means:

1. The person or entity that contracts with the home service provider for mobile communications services; or

2. If the end user of mobile communications services is not the contracting party, the end user of the mobile communications service. This subparagraph only applies for the purpose of determining the place of primary use.

(b) "Customer" does not include:

1. A reseller of mobile communications services; or

2. A serving carrier under an agreement to serve the customer outside the home service provider's licensed service area.

(20) "Enhanced zip code" means a United States postal zip code of 9 or more digits.

(21) "Home service provider" means the facilities-based carrier or reseller with which the customer contracts for the provision of mobile communications services.

(22) "Licensed service area" means the geographic area in which the home service provider is authorized by law or contract to provide mobile communications service to the customer.

(23) "Place of primary use" means the street address representative of where the customer's use of the mobile communications service primarily occurs, which must be:

(a) The residential street address or the primary business street address of the customer; and

(b) Within the licensed service area of the home service provider.

(24)(a) "Reseller" means a provider who purchases communications services from another communications service provider and then resells, uses as a component part of, or integrates the purchased services into a mobile communications service.

(b) "Reseller" does not include a serving carrier with which a home service provider arranges for the services to its customers outside the home service provider's licensed service area.

(25) "Serving carrier" means a facilities-based carrier providing mobile communications service to a customer outside a home service provider's or reseller's licensed service area.

Section 3. Effective with respect to bills issued by communications services providers on or after October 1, 2001, subsections (1) and (3) of section 202.12, Florida Statutes, are amended and paragraph (d) is added to subsection (1), and, effective with respect to bills issued by communications services providers after August 1, 2002, paragraph (e) is added to subsection (1), to read:

202.12 Sales of communications services.—The Legislature finds that every person who engages in the business of selling communications services at retail in this state is exercising a taxable privilege. It is the intent of the Legislature that the tax imposed by chapter 203 be administered as provided in this chapter.

(1) For the exercise of such privilege, a tax is levied on each taxable transaction, and the tax is due and payable as follows:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, at a ~~the~~ rate of 6.8 percent ~~calculated pursuant to s. 30, chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida,~~ applied to the sales price of the communications service~~, except for direct-to-home satellite service,~~ which:

1. Originates and terminates in this state, or

2. Originates or terminates in this state and is charged to a service address in this state, when sold at retail, computed on each taxable sale for the purpose of remitting the tax due. The gross receipts tax imposed by chapter 203 shall be collected on the same taxable transactions and remitted with the tax imposed by this paragraph. If no tax is imposed by this paragraph by reason of s. 202.125(1), the tax imposed by chapter 203 shall nevertheless be collected and remitted in the manner and at the time prescribed for tax collections and remittances under this chapter.

(b) At the rate set forth in paragraph (a) on the actual cost of operating a substitute communications system, to be paid in accordance with s. 202.15. This paragraph does not apply to the use by any dealer of his or her own communications system to conduct a business of providing communications services or any communications system operated by a county, a municipality, the state, or any political subdivision of the state. The gross receipts tax imposed by chapter 203 shall be applied to the same costs, and remitted with the tax imposed by this paragraph.

(c) At the ~~a~~ rate of 10.8 percent ~~to be computed by the Revenue Estimating Conference and approved by the Legislature~~ on the retail sales price of any direct-to-home satellite service received in this state. ~~The rate computed by the Revenue Estimating Conference shall be the sum of:~~

~~1. The rate set forth in paragraph (a); and~~

~~2. The weighted average, based on the aggregate population in the respective taxing jurisdictions, of the rate computed under s. 202.20(2)(a)1. for municipalities and charter counties and the rate computed under such subparagraph for all other counties.~~

The proceeds of the tax imposed under this paragraph shall be accounted for and distributed in accordance with s. 202.18(2). The gross receipts tax imposed by chapter 203 shall be collected on the same taxable transactions and remitted with the tax imposed by this paragraph.

(d) At the rate set forth in paragraph (a) on the sales price of private communications services provided within this state. In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the states in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this paragraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method. The gross receipts tax imposed by chapter 203 shall be collected on the same taxable transactions and remitted with the tax imposed by this paragraph.

(e) At the rate set forth in paragraph (a) applied to the sales price of all mobile communications services deemed to be provided to a customer by a home service provider pursuant to s. 117(a) of the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, Pub. L. No. 106-252, if such customer's service address is located within this state.

(2) A dealer of taxable communications services shall bill, collect, and remit the taxes on communications services imposed pursuant to chapter 203 and this section at a combined rate that is the sum of the rate of tax on communications services prescribed in chapter 203 and the applicable rate of tax prescribed in this section. Each dealer subject to the tax provided in paragraph (1)(b) shall also remit the taxes imposed pursuant to chapter 203 and this section on a combined basis. However, a dealer shall, in reporting each remittance to the department, identify the portion thereof which consists of taxes remitted pursuant to chapter 203. Return forms prescribed by the department shall facilitate such reporting.

(3) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the combined amount of taxes imposed under this section and s. 203.01(1)(a)2. shall not exceed $100,000 per calendar year on charges to any person for interstate communications services that originate outside this state and terminate within this state. This subsection applies only to holders of a direct-pay permit issued under this subsection. A refund may not be given for taxes paid before receiving a direct-pay permit. Upon application, the department may issue one ~~a~~ direct-pay permit to the purchaser of communications services authorizing such purchaser to pay the Florida communications services tax on such services directly to the department if the majority of such services used by such person are for communications originating outside of this state and terminating in this state. Only one direct-pay permit shall be issued to a person. Such direct-pay permit shall identify the taxes and service addresses to which it applies. Any dealer of communications services furnishing communications services to the holder of a valid direct-pay permit is relieved of the obligation to collect and remit the taxes imposed under this section and s. 203.01(1)(a)2. on such services. Tax payments and returns pursuant to a direct-pay permit shall be monthly. As used in this subsection, "person" means a single legal entity and does not mean a group or combination of affiliated entities or entities controlled by one person or group of persons.

Section 4. Effective January 1, 2004, paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 202.12, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, is amended to read:

202.12 Sales of communications services.—The Legislature finds that every person who engages in the business of selling communications services at retail in this state is exercising a taxable privilege. It is the intent of the Legislature that the tax imposed by chapter 203 be administered as provided in this chapter.

(1) For the exercise of such privilege, a tax is levied on each taxable transaction, and the tax is due and payable as follows:

(d) At the rate set forth in paragraph (a) on the sales price of private communications services provided within this state*, which shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:*~~.~~

1. Any charge with respect to a channel termination point located within this state;

2. Any charge for the use of a channel between two channel termination points located in this state; and

3. Where channel termination points are located both within and outside of this state:

a. If any segment between two such channel termination points is separately billed, 50 percent of such charge; and

b. If any segment of the circuit is not separately billed, an amount equal to the total charge for such circuit multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of channel termination points within this state and the denominator of which is the total number of channel termination points of the circuit. ~~In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the states in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this paragraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.~~

The gross receipts tax imposed by chapter 203 shall be collected on the same taxable transactions and remitted with the tax imposed by this paragraph.

Section 5. Effective with respect to bills issued by communications services providers after August 1, 2002, section 202.155, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

202.155 Special rules for mobile communications services.—

(1) A home service provider shall be responsible for obtaining and maintaining the customer's place of primary use. Subject to subsections (2) and (3), if the home service provider's reliance on information provided by its customer is in good faith:

(a) The home service provider shall be entitled to rely on the applicable residential or business street address supplied by such customer.

(b) The home service provider shall be held harmless from liability for any additional taxes imposed by or pursuant to this chapter or chapter 203 which are based on a different determination of such customer's place of primary use.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), a home service provider shall be allowed to treat the address used for tax purposes for any customer under a service contract in effect on August 1, 2002, as that customer's place of primary use for the remaining term of such service contract or agreement, excluding any extension or renewal of such service contract or agreement.

(3)(a) The department shall provide notice to the customer of its intent to redetermine the customer's place of primary use. If a final order is entered ruling that the address used by a home service provider as a customer's place of primary use does not meet the definition of "place of primary use" provided by s. 202.11, the department shall notify the home service provider of the proper address to be used as such customer's place of primary use. The home service provider shall begin using the correct address within 120 days.

(b) The department shall provide notice to the home service provider of its intent to redetermine the assignment of a taxing jurisdiction by a home service provider under s. 202.22. If a final order is entered ruling that the jurisdiction assigned by the home service provider is incorrect, the department shall notify the home service provider of the proper jurisdictional assignment. The home service provider shall begin using the correct jurisdictional assignment within 120 days.

(4)(a) If a mobile communications service is not subject to the taxes administered pursuant to this chapter, and if the sales price of such service is aggregated with and not separately stated from the sales price of services subject to tax, then the nontaxable mobile communications service shall be treated as being subject to tax unless the home service provider can reasonably identify the sales price of the service not subject to tax from its books and records kept in the regular course of business.

(b) If a mobile communications service is not subject to the taxes administered pursuant to this chapter, a customer may not rely upon the nontaxability of such service unless the customer's home service provider separately states the sales price of such nontaxable services or the home service provider elects, after receiving a written request from the customer in the form required by the provider, to provide verifiable data based upon the home service provider's books and records that are kept in the regular course of business that reasonably identifies the sales price of such nontaxable service.

Section 6. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) and subsection (3) of section 202.16, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

202.16 Payment.—The taxes imposed or administered under this chapter and chapter 203 shall be collected from all dealers of taxable communications services on the sale at retail in this state of communications services taxable under this chapter and chapter 203. The full amount of the taxes on a credit sale, installment sale, or sale made on any kind of deferred payment plan is due at the moment of the transaction in the same manner as a cash sale.

(1)(a) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 202.12(1)(b) and 202.15, the taxes collected under this chapter and chapter 203~~, including any penalties or interest attributable to the nonpayment of such taxes or for noncompliance with this chapter or chapter 203,~~ shall be paid by the purchaser of the communications service and shall be collected from such person by the dealer of communications services.

(3) Notwithstanding the rate of tax on the sale of communications services imposed pursuant to this chapter and chapter 203, the department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise ~~prescribe by rule~~ the tax amounts and brackets applicable to each taxable sale such that the tax collected results in a tax rate no less than the tax rate imposed pursuant to this chapter and chapter 203.

Section 7. Subsections (1), (2), (4), and (6) of section 202.17, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

202.17 Registration.—

(1) Each person seeking to engage in business as a dealer of communications services must file with the department an application for a certificate of registration. Registration under this section does not constitute registration with a municipality or county for the purpose of placing and maintaining communications facilities in municipal or county rights-of-way, as described in s. 337.401.

(2) A person may not engage in the business of providing communications services without first obtaining a certificate of registration. The failure or refusal to submit an application by any person required to register, as required by this section, is a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. Any person who fails or refuses to register shall pay an initial registration fee of $100 ~~in lieu of the $5 registration fee prescribed under subsection (4)~~. However, this fee ~~increase~~ may be waived by the department if the failure is due to reasonable cause.

(4) Each application required by paragraph (3)(a) must ~~be accompanied by a registration fee of $5, to be deposited in the General Revenue Fund, and must~~ set forth:

(a) The name under which the person will transact business within this state.

(b) The street address of his or her principal office or place of business within this state and of the location where records are available for inspection.

(c) The name and complete residence address of the owner or the names and residence addresses of the partners, if the applicant is a partnership, or of the principal officers, if the applicant is a corporation or association. If the applicant is a corporation organized under the laws of another state, territory, or country, he or she must also file with the application a certified copy of the certificate or license issued by the Department of State showing that the corporation is authorized to transact business in this state.

(d) Any other data required by the department.

(6) In addition to the certificate of registration, the department shall provide to each newly registered dealer an initial ~~annual~~ resale certificate that is valid for the remainder of the period of issuance ~~remaining portion of the year~~. The department shall provide to each active dealer*, except persons registered pursuant to s. 202.15,* an annual resale certificate. As used in this section, "active dealer" means a person who is registered with the department and who is required to file a return at least once during each applicable reporting period.

Section 8. Subsection (2) and paragraphs (a) and (c) of subsection (3) of section 202.18, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

202.18 Allocation and disposition of tax proceeds.—The proceeds of the communications services taxes remitted under this chapter shall be treated as follows:

(2) The proceeds of the taxes remitted under s. 202.12(1)(c) shall be divided as follows:

(a) The portion of such proceeds which constitutes gross receipts taxes, imposed at the rate prescribed in chapter 203, shall be deposited as provided by law and in accordance with s. 9, Art. XII of the State Constitution.

(b) Sixty-three percent ~~The portion~~ of the remainder ~~such proceeds which is derived from the rate component specified in s. 202.12(1)(c)1.~~ shall be allocated to the state and distributed pursuant to s. 212.20(6), except that the proceeds allocated pursuant to s. 212.20(6)(d)3. shall be prorated to the participating counties in the same proportion as that month's collection of the taxes and fees imposed pursuant to chapter 212 and paragraph (1)(b).

(c)1. During each calendar year, the remaining portion of such proceeds shall be transferred to the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund and shall be allocated in the same proportion as the allocation of total receipts of the half-cent sales tax under s. 218.61 and the emergency distribution under s. 218.65 in the prior state fiscal year. However, during calendar year 2001, state fiscal year 2000-2001 proportions shall be used.

2. The proportion of the proceeds allocated based on the emergency distribution under s. 218.65 shall be distributed pursuant to s. 218.65.

3. In each calendar year, the proportion of the proceeds allocated based on the half-cent sales tax under s. 218.61 shall be allocated to each county in the same proportion as the county's percentage of total sales tax allocation for the prior state fiscal year and distributed pursuant to s. 218.62, except that for calendar year 2001, state fiscal year 2000-2001 proportions shall be used. ~~The remaining portion of such proceeds shall be allocated to the municipalities and counties in proportion to the allocation of receipts from the half-cent sales tax under s. 218.61 and the emergency distribution of such tax under s. 218.65.~~

4. The department shall distribute the appropriate amount to each municipality and county each month at the same time that local communications services taxes are distributed pursuant to subsection (3).

(3)(a) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the proceeds of each local communications services tax levied by a municipality or county pursuant to s. 202.19*(1) or s. 202.20(1), less the department's costs of administration, shall be transferred to the Local Communications Services Tax Clearing Trust Fund and held there to be distributed to such municipality or county. However, the proceeds of any communications services tax imposed pursuant to s. 202.19(5) shall be deposited and disbursed in accordance with ss. 212.054 and 212.055. For purposes of this section, the proceeds of any tax levied by a municipality, county, or school board under s. 202.19(1) or s. 202.20(1)* are all funds collected and received by the department pursuant to a specific levy authorized by such sections ~~section~~, including any interest and penalties attributable to the tax levy.

(c)1. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, proceeds of the taxes levied pursuant to s. 202.19, less amounts deducted for costs of administration in accordance with paragraph (b), shall be distributed monthly to the appropriate jurisdictions. The proceeds of taxes imposed pursuant to s. 202.19(5) shall be distributed in the same manner as discretionary surtaxes are distributed, in accordance with ss. 212.054 and 212.055.

2. The department shall make any adjustments to the distributions pursuant to this paragraph which are necessary to reflect the proper amounts due to individual jurisdictions. In the event that the department adjusts amounts due to reflect a correction in the situsing of a customer, such adjustment shall be limited to the amount of tax actually collected from such customer by the dealer of communication services.

Section 9. Effective with respect to communications services reflected on bills dated on or after October 1, 2001, section 202.19, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

202.19 Authorization to impose local communications services tax.—

(1) The governing authority of each county and municipality may, by ordinance, levy a discretionary communications services tax.

(2)(a) Charter counties and municipalities may levy the tax authorized by subsection (1) at a rate of up to 5.1 percent for municipalities and charter counties that have not chosen to levy permit fees, and at a rate of up to 4.98 percent for municipalities and charter counties that have chosen to levy permit fees.

(b) Noncharter counties may levy the tax authorized by subsection (1) at a rate of up to 1.6 percent.

(c) The maximum rates authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) do not include the add-ons of up to 0.12 percent for municipalities and charter counties or of up to 0.24 percent for noncharter counties authorized pursuant to s. 337.401, nor do they supersede conversion or emergency rates authorized by s. 202.20 which are in excess of these maximum rates. ~~The rate of such tax shall be as follows:~~

~~(a) For municipalities and charter counties, the rate shall be up to the maximum rate determined for municipalities and charter counties in accordance with s. 202.20(2).~~

~~(b) For all other counties, the rate shall be up to the maximum rate determined for other counties in accordance with s. 202.20(2).~~

~~The rate imposed by any municipality or county shall be expressed in increments of one-tenth of a percent and rounded up to the nearest one-tenth percent.~~

(3)~~(a) The maximum rates established under subsection (2) reflect the rates for communications services taxes imposed under this chapter which are necessary for each municipality or county to raise the maximum amount of revenues which it was authorized to raise prior to July 1, 2000, through the imposition of taxes, charges, and fees, but that it is prohibited from imposing under s. 202.24, other than the discretionary surtax authorized under s. 212.055. It is the legislative intent that the maximum rates for charter counties be calculated by treating them as having had the same authority as municipalities to impose franchise fees on recurring local telecommunication service revenues prior to July 1, 2000. However, the Legislature recognizes that the authority of charter counties to impose such fees is in dispute, and the treatment provided in this section is not an expression of legislative intent that charter counties actually do or do not possess such authority.~~

(a)~~(b)~~ The tax authorized under this section includes any fee or other consideration to which the municipality or county is otherwise entitled for granting permission to dealers of communications services*, including, but not limited to,* ~~or~~ providers of cable television services, as authorized in 47 U.S.C. s. 542, to use or occupy its roads or rights-of-way for the placement, construction, and maintenance of poles, wires, and other fixtures used in the provision of communications services.

(b)~~(c)~~ This subsection does not supersede or impair the right, if any, of a municipality or county to require the payment of consideration or to require the payment of regulatory fees or assessments by persons using or occupying its roads or rights-of-way in a capacity other than that of a dealer of communications services.

(4)(a)1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax imposed by any municipality shall be on all communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

a.~~1.~~ Originate or terminate in this state; and

b.~~2.~~ Are charged to a service address in the municipality.

2. With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the municipality. In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this subparagraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.

(b)1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax imposed by any county under subsection (1) shall be on all communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

a.~~1.~~ Originate or terminate in this state; and b.~~2.~~ Are charged to a service address in the unincorporated area of the county.

2. With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the unincorporated area of the county. In determining the amount of charges for private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this subparagraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.

(5) In addition to the communications services taxes authorized by subsection (1), a discretionary sales surtax that a county or school board has levied under s. 212.055 is imposed as a local communications services tax under this section, and the rate shall be determined in accordance with s. 202.20*(3)*~~(5)~~.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, each such tax rate shall be applied, in addition to the other tax rates applied under this chapter, to communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

1.~~(a)~~ Originate or terminate in this state; and

2.~~(b)~~ Are charged to a service address in the county.

(b) With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the county. In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this paragraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a tax imposed under this section does not apply to any direct-to-home satellite service.

(7) Any tax imposed by a municipality, school board, or county under this section also applies to the actual cost of operating a substitute communications system, to be paid in accordance with s. 202.15. This subsection does not apply to the use by any provider of its own communications system to conduct a business of providing communications services or to the use of any communications system operated by a county, a municipality, the state, or any political subdivision of the state.

(8) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, a tax imposed under this section shall not exceed $25,000 per calendar year on communications services charges billed to a service address located in a municipality or county imposing a local communications services tax for interstate communications services that originate outside this state and terminate within this state. This subsection applies only to holders of a direct-pay permit issued under s. 202.12(3) ~~this subsection~~. A person who does not qualify for a direct-pay permit under s. 202.12(3) does not qualify for a direct-pay permit under this subsection. A refund may not be given for taxes paid before receiving a direct-pay permit. Upon application, the department shall identify the service addresses qualifying for the limitation provided by this subsection on the direct-pay permit issued under s. 202.12(3) and authorize ~~may issue a direct-pay permit to the purchaser of communications services authorizing~~ such purchaser to pay the local communications tax on such interstate services directly to the department if the application indicates that the majority of such services used by such person and billed to a service address are for communications originating outside of this state and terminating in this state. The direct-pay permit shall also indicate the counties or municipalities to which it applies. Any dealer of communications services furnishing communications services to the holder of a valid direct-pay permit is relieved of the obligation to collect and remit the tax on such services. Tax payments and returns pursuant to a direct-pay permit shall be monthly. As used in this subsection, "person" means a single legal entity and does not mean a group or combination of affiliated entities or entities controlled by one person or group of persons.

(9) ~~A municipality or county that imposes a tax under subsection (1) may use~~ The revenues raised by any ~~such~~ tax imposed under subsection (1) or s. 202.20(1) may be used by a municipality or county for any public purpose, including, but not limited to, pledging such revenues for the repayment of current or future bonded indebtedness. Revenues raised by a tax imposed under subsection (5) shall be used for the same purposes as the underlying discretionary sales surtax imposed by the county or school board under s. 212.055.

(10) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the exemption set forth in s. 202.125(1) shall not apply to a tax imposed by a municipality, school board, or county pursuant to subsection (4) or subsection (5).

(11) To the extent that a provider of communications services is required to pay to a local taxing jurisdiction a tax, charge, or other fee under any franchise agreement or ordinance with respect to the services or revenues that are also subject to the tax imposed by this section, such provider is entitled to a credit against the amount payable to the state pursuant to this section in the amount of such tax, charge, or fee with respect to such services or revenues. The amount of such credit shall be deducted from the amount that such local taxing jurisdiction is entitled to receive under s. 202.18(3).

Section 10. Effective January 1, 2004, subsections (4) and (5) of section 202.19, Florida Statutes, as amended by this act, are amended to read:

202.19 Authorization to impose local communications services tax.—

(4)(a)1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax imposed by any municipality shall be on all communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

a. Originate or terminate in this state; and

b. Are charged to a service address in the municipality.

2. With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the municipality*, which shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:*~~.~~

a. Any charge with respect to a channel termination point located within such municipality;

b. Any charge for the use of a channel between two channel termination points located in such municipality; and

c. Where channel termination points are located both within and outside of the municipality:

(I) If any segment between two such channel termination points is separately billed, 50 percent of such charge; and

(II) If any segment of the circuit is not separately billed, an amount equal to the total charge for such circuit multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of channel termination points within such municipality and the denominator of which is the total number of channel termination points of the circuit. ~~In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this subparagraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.~~

(b)1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax imposed by any county under subsection (1) shall be on all communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

a. Originate or terminate in this state; and

b. Are charged to a service address in the unincorporated area of the county.

2. With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the unincorporated area of the county*, which shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:*~~.~~

a. Any charge with respect to a channel termination point located within the unincorporated area of such county;

b. Any charge for the use of a channel between two channel termination points located in the unincorporated area of such county; and

c. Where channel termination points are located both within and outside of the unincorporated area of such county:

(I) If any segment between two such channel termination points is separately billed, 50 percent of such charge; and

(II) If any segment of the circuit is not separately billed, an amount equal to the total charge for such circuit multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of channel termination points within the unincorporated area of such county and the denominator of which is the total number of channel termination points of the circuit. ~~In determining the amount of charges for private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this subparagraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.~~

(5) In addition to the communications services taxes authorized by subsection (1), a discretionary sales surtax that a county or school board has levied under s. 212.055 is imposed as a local communications services tax under this section, and the rate shall be determined in accordance with s. 202.20(3).

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, each such tax rate shall be applied, in addition to the other tax rates applied under this chapter, to communications services subject to tax under s. 202.12 which:

1. Originate or terminate in this state; and

2. Are charged to a service address in the county.

(b) With respect to private communications services, the tax shall be on the sales price of such services provided within the county*, which shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:*~~.~~

1. Any charge with respect to a channel termination point located within such county;

2. Any charge for the use of a channel between two channel termination points located in such county; and

3. Where channel termination points are located both within and outside of such county:

a. If any segment between two such channel termination points is separately billed, 50 percent of such charge; and

b. If any segment of the circuit is not separately billed, an amount equal to the total charge for such circuit multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of channel termination points within such county and the denominator of which is the total number of channel termination points of the circuit. ~~In determining the sales price of private communications services subject to tax, the communications service provider shall be entitled to use any method that reasonably allocates the total charges among the state and local taxing jurisdictions in which channel termination points are located. An allocation method is deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this paragraph if the communications service provider regularly used such method for Florida tax purposes prior to December 31, 2000. If a communications service provider uses a reasonable allocation method, such provider shall be held harmless from any liability for additional tax, interest, or penalty based on a different allocation method.~~

Section 11. Effective with respect to bills issued by communications services providers after August 1, 2002, subsection (12) is added to section 202.19, Florida Statutes, to read:

202.19 Authorization to impose local communications services tax.—

(12) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, with respect to mobile communications services, the rate of a local communications services tax levied under this section shall be applied to the sales price of all mobile communications services deemed to be provided to a customer by a home service provider pursuant to s. 117(a) of the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act, Pub. L. No. 106-252, if such customer's service address is located within the municipality levying the tax or within the unincorporated area of the county levying the tax, as the case may be.

Section 12. Effective with respect to communications services reflected on bills dated on or after October 1, 2001, section 202.20, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

202.20 Local communications services tax conversion rates.—

(1)(a) For the period of October 1, 2001, through September 30, 2002, there are hereby levied the following local communications services tax conversion rates on taxable sales as authorized by s. 202.19. The conversion rates take effect without any action required by the local government. The conversion rates for local governments that have not chosen to levy permit fees do not include the add-ons of up to 0.12 percent for municipalities and charter counties or of up to 0.24 percent for noncharter counties authorized pursuant to s. 337.401.

The conversion rate displayed in the rows with the name of the county in capitalized letters assigns the conversion rate for the unincorporated area. This paragraph is repealed October 1, 2002.

(b) Beginning October 1, 2002, there are hereby levied the following local communications services tax conversion rates on taxable sales as authorized by s. 202.19. The conversion rates take effect without any action required by the local government. The conversion rates for local governments that have not chosen to levy permit fees do not include the add-ons of up to 0.12 percent for municipalities and charter counties or of up to 0.24 percent for noncharter counties authorized pursuant to s. 337.401.

The conversion rate displayed in the rows with the name of the county in capitalized letters assigns the conversion rate for the unincorporated area.

(c) Notwithstanding the rates provided by paragraph (b), the following local communications services tax conversion rates shall take effect upon the expiration of existing franchise agreements which provide for fees in excess of those authorized by s. 337.401. The conversion rates for local governments that have not chosen to levy permit fees do not include the add-ons of up to 0.12 percent for municipalities and charter counties or of up to 0.24 percent for noncharter counties authorized pursuant to s. 337.401.

~~(a) On or before December 31, 2000, the Revenue Estimating Conference shall compute for each municipality and county the rate of local communications services tax which would be required to be levied under s. 202.19(1) in order for such local taxing jurisdiction to raise in calendar year 1999, through the imposition of a local communications services tax, revenues equal to the sum of:~~

~~1. The amount of revenues estimated to have been received in calendar year 1999 based on the revenues that were actually received from the replaced revenue sources in the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, adjusted to reflect the growth reasonably estimated to have occurred in the final quarter of calendar year 1999; and~~

~~2. An amount representing the revenues the jurisdiction would have received from the replaced revenue sources during the month immediately preceding the month in which local taxing jurisdictions receive their first distributions of revenues under this chapter.~~

~~In computing the amounts in subparagraphs 1. and 2., the Revenue Estimating Conference shall consider, to the maximum extent practicable, changes in local replaced revenues, other than changes due to normal growth, and shall adjust the amounts in subparagraphs 1. and 2. accordingly.~~

~~(b) The rates computed by the Revenue Estimating Conference shall be presented to the Legislature for review and approval during the 2001 Regular Session. The rates approved by the Legislature under this subsection shall be effective in the respective local taxing jurisdictions on October 1, 2001, without any action being taken by the governing authority or voters of such local taxing jurisdictions. The rate computed and approved pursuant to this subsection shall be reduced on October 1, 2002, by that portion of the rate which was necessary to recoup the 1 month of foregone revenues addressed in subparagraph (a)2.~~

(2)(a)1.~~(c)~~ With respect to any local taxing jurisdiction, if, for the periods ending December 31, 2001; March 31, 2002; June 30, 2002; or September 30, 2002, the revenues received by that local government from the local communications services tax imposed under subsection (1) ~~s. 202.19(1)~~ are less than the revenues received from the replaced revenue sources for the corresponding 2000-2001 period; plus reasonably anticipated growth in such revenues over the preceding 1-year period, based on the average growth of such revenues over the immediately preceding 5-year period; plus an amount representing the revenues from the replaced revenue sources for the 1-month period that the local taxing jurisdiction was required to forego, the governing authority may adjust the rate of the local communications services tax upward to the extent necessary to generate the entire shortfall in revenues within 1 year after the rate adjustment and by an amount necessary to generate the expected amount of revenue on an ongoing basis.

2. If complete data are not available at the time of determining whether the revenues received by a local government from the local communications services tax imposed under subsection (1) are less than the revenues received from the replaced revenue sources for the corresponding 2000-2001 period, as set forth in subparagraph 1., the local government shall use the best data available for the corresponding 2000-2001 period in making such determination.

3. The adjustment permitted under subparagraph 1. may be made by emergency ordinance or resolution and may be made notwithstanding the maximum rate established under s. 202.19(2) ~~subsection (2)~~ and notwithstanding any schedules or timeframes or any other limitations contained in this chapter. The emergency ordinance or resolution shall specify an effective date for the adjusted rate, which shall be no less than 60 ~~90~~ days after the date of adoption of the ordinance or resolution and shall be effective with respect to taxable services included on bills that are dated on the first day of a month subsequent to the expiration of the 60-day period. At the end of 1 ~~that~~ year following the effective date of such adjusted rate, the local governing authority shall, as soon as is consistent with s. 202.21, reduce the rate by that portion of the emergency rate which was necessary to recoup the amount of revenues not received prior to the implementation of the emergency rate.

4. If, for the period October 1, 2001 through September 30, 2002, the revenues received by a local government from the local communications services tax conversion rate established under subsection (1), adjusted upward for the difference in rates between paragraphs (1)(a) and (b) or any other rate adjustments or base changes, are above the threshold of 10 percent more than the revenues received from the replaced revenue sources for the corresponding 2000-2001 period plus reasonably anticipated growth in such revenues over the preceding 1-year period, based on the average growth of such revenues over the immediately preceding 5 year period, the governing authority must adjust the rate of the local communications services tax to the extent necessary to reduce revenues to the threshold by emergency ordinance or resolution within the time frames established in subparagraph 3. The foregoing rate adjustment requirement shall not apply to local government that adopts a local communications services tax rate by resolution or ordinance. If complete data are not available at the time of determining whether the revenues exceed the threshold, the local government shall use the best data available for the corresponding 2000-2001 period in making such determination. This subparagraph shall not be construed as establishing a right of action for any person to enforce this provision or challenge a local government's implementation of this subparagraph.

~~(2)(a) On or before December 31, 2000, the Revenue Estimating Conference shall compute, in accordance with this paragraph, the maximum rates at which local taxing jurisdictions shall be permitted to impose local communications services taxes under s. 202.19(1).~~

~~1. A single maximum rate shall apply to all municipalities and charter counties, and another single maximum rate shall apply to all other counties.~~

~~2. Each respective maximum rate, when applied to the services taxed pursuant to this chapter, shall be calculated to produce the revenues which could have been generated from the replaced revenue sources, assuming that all local taxing jurisdictions had imposed every replaced revenue source in the manner and at the rate that would have produced the greatest amount of revenues.~~

~~(b) The rates computed by the Revenue Estimating Conference shall be presented to the Legislature for review and approval during the 2001 Regular Session. The rates approved by the Legislature pursuant to this subsection shall be the maximum rates for purposes of s. 202.19(1).~~

~~(3)(a) Each person who provides communications services shall include as part of the August 2000 return due pursuant to chapter 212 on or before September 20, 2000, the information set forth in this paragraph, in a format prescribed by the department. Returns shall contain data for calendar year 1999 that may include, but are not limited to, remittances of replaced revenue sources for each local taxing jurisdiction and an estimate of the revenue from communications services that will be taxable pursuant to this chapter for each local taxing jurisdiction. Such data may also include, on an aggregated statewide basis, each person's statewide sales taxable under chapter 203, taxable sales under s. 212.05(1)(e), and estimates for sales exempt under s. 212.08(7)(j) and exempt sales to governmental and other exempt entities under chapter 212.~~

~~(b) All information furnished to the department under this subsection shall be available to all local taxing jurisdictions. Such taxpayer information shall remain subject to s. 213.053. Such data may not be disclosed or used by local taxing jurisdictions for any purpose other than to review the validity of data and the calculations made pursuant to this subsection.~~

~~(c) For each replaced revenue source, each county and each municipality shall provide the following data to the Department of Revenue on or before September 30, 2000:~~

~~1. The rate of the levy for calendar year 1999.~~

~~2. The amount of revenues received during fiscal year 1998-1999 and, if known, the 1999 calendar year.~~

~~3. A description of the revenue base or taxable services.~~

~~4. The name and federal employer identification number of each taxpayer.~~

~~5. For the purpose of assisting the Revenue Estimating Conference in the computations required by this section, any other relevant information, including, but not limited to, changes in the rate of replaced revenues or imposition of additional replaced revenues subsequent to September 30, 1999.~~

~~(d) The department shall provide technical assistance to the Revenue Estimating Conference and compile and analyze the information submitted pursuant to this subsection in the manner requested by the Revenue Estimating Conference.~~

(b)~~(4)~~ Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, "replaced revenue sources," as used in this section, means the following taxes, charges, fees, or other impositions to the extent that the respective local taxing jurisdictions were authorized to impose them prior to July 1, 2000.

1.~~(a)~~ With respect to municipalities and charter counties and the taxes authorized by s. 202.19(1):

a.~~1.~~ The public service tax on telecommunications authorized by s. 166.231(9).

b.~~2.~~ Franchise fees on cable service providers as authorized by 47 U.S.C. s. 542.

c.~~3.~~ The public service tax on prepaid calling arrangements.

d.~~4.~~ Franchise fees on dealers of communications services which use the public roads or rights-of-way, up to the limit set forth in s. 337.401. For purposes of calculating rates under this section, it is the legislative intent that charter counties be treated as having had the same authority as municipalities to impose franchise fees on recurring local telecommunication service revenues prior to July 1, 2000. However, the Legislature recognizes that the authority of charter counties to impose such fees is in dispute, and the treatment provided in this section is not an expression of legislative intent that charter counties actually do or do not possess such authority.

e.~~5.~~ Actual permit fees relating to placing or maintaining facilities in or on public roads or rights-of-way, collected from providers of long-distance, cable, and mobile communications services for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999; however, if a municipality or charter county elects the option to charge permit fees pursuant to s. 337.401(3)(c)1.a., such fees shall not be included as a replaced revenue source.

2.~~(b)~~ With respect to all other counties and the taxes authorized in s. 202.19(1), franchise fees on cable service providers as authorized by 47 U.S.C. s. 542.

(3)~~(5)~~ For any county or school board that levies a discretionary surtax under s. 212.055, the rate of such tax on communications services as authorized by s. 202.19(5) shall be as follows:

The discretionary surtax conversion rate with respect to communications services reflected on bills dated on or after October 1, 2001 shall take effect without any further action by a county or school board that has levied a surtax on or before October 1, 2001. For a county or school board that levies a surtax subsequent to October 1, 2001, the discretionary surtax conversion rate with respect to communications services shall take effect upon the effective date of the surtax as provided in s.212.054. The discretionary sales surtax rate on communications services for a county or school board levying a combined rate which is not listed in the table provided by this subsection shall be calculated by averaging or adding the appropriate rates from the table and rounding up to the nearest tenth of a percent. ~~multiplied by a factor to determine the applicable rate of tax under s. 202.19(5). The Revenue Estimating Conference shall compute the factor on or before December 31, 2000. The factor shall be calculated such that any rate applied under s. 202.19(5) will produce substantially the same tax revenues as the corresponding rate levied on telecommunication services under s. 212.055 during the year ending September 30, 1999. The factor shall be calculated to three decimal places, and the tax rates calculated by applying the factor for purposes of s. 202.19(5) shall be rounded up to the nearest one-tenth percent. The factor shall be presented to the Legislature for review and approval during the 2001 Regular Session.~~

~~(6) For purposes of calculating the appropriate value of the replaced revenue under subparagraph (4)(a)2. and paragraph (4)(b), and in~~

~~conjunction with the study required by this act, the Revenue Estimating Conference may include in its computation any adjustment necessary to include the value of any in-kind requirements, institutional networks, and contributions for, or in support of, the use or construction of public, educational, or governmental access facilities allowed under federal law.~~

~~(7)(a) The provisions of this subsection shall apply only with respect to the initial tax rate of a local taxing jurisdiction which on October 1, 2001, is entitled to receive from any dealer of communications services fees in excess of the applicable limitation set forth in s. 337.401, as such section existed prior to the effective date of this section, pursuant to an agreement with such dealer of communications services in effect on such date.~~

~~(b) Immediately upon the expiration of an agreement described in paragraph (a), the rate determined under subsection (1), as it applies to such local taxing jurisdiction, shall automatically be reduced by the portion of such rate representing the difference between the fees actually received by the taxing jurisdiction pursuant to the agreement described in paragraph (a) for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and the fees that such jurisdiction would have received for such period under the applicable limitation set forth in s. 337.401, as such section existed prior to the effective date of this section.~~

Section 13. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 202, Florida Statutes, to the contrary, any municipality or county that has a local communications services tax conversion rate established under s. 202.20, Florida Statutes, which is less than the maximum rate established under s. 202.19, Florida Statutes, may by resolution or ordinance increase its rate up to the maximum rate established under s. 202.19, Florida Statutes, with such increased rate to be effective October 1, 2001. For purposes of this section, during the period beginning on October 1, 2001, and ending September 30, 2002, the maximum rate established under s. 202.19, Florida Statutes, shall be deemed to be the sum of such maximum rate plus the difference between the conversion rates set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of s. 202.20(1), Florida Statutes. The municipality or county shall notify the department of such increased rate by certified mail postmarked on or before July 16, 2001.

(2) This section shall take effect upon this act becoming a law.

Section 14. Section 202.21, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

202.21 Effective dates; procedures for informing dealers of communications services of tax levies and rate changes.—Any adoption, repeal, or change in the rate of a local communications services tax imposed under s. 202.19 is effective with respect to taxable services included on bills that are dated on or after the January 1 subsequent to such adoption, repeal, or change. A municipality or county adopting, repealing, or changing the rate of such tax must notify the department of the adoption, repeal, or change by September 1 immediately preceding such January 1. Notification must be furnished on a form prescribed by the department and must specify the rate of tax; the effective date of the adoption, repeal, or change thereof; and the name, mailing address, and telephone number of a person designated by the municipality or county to respond to inquiries concerning the tax. The department shall provide notice of such adoption, repeal, or change to all affected dealers of communications services at least 90 days before the effective date of the tax. Any local government that adjusts the rate of its local communications services tax by emergency ordinance or resolution pursuant to s. 202.20*(2)*~~(1)(c)~~ shall notify the department of the new tax rate immediately upon its adoption. The department shall provide written notice of the adoption of the new rate to all affected dealers within 30 days after receiving such notice. In any notice to providers or publication of local tax rates for purposes of this chapter, the department shall express the rate for a municipality or charter county as the sum of the tax rates levied within such jurisdiction pursuant to s. 202.19(2)(a) and (5), and shall express the rate for any other county as the sum of the tax rates levied pursuant to s. 202.19(2)(b) and (5). The department is not liable for any loss of or decrease in revenue by reason of any error, omission, or untimely action that results in the nonpayment of a tax imposed under s. 202.19.

Section 15. Paragraph (c) of subsection (1), paragraph (b) of subsection (2), and paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (3) of section 202.22, Florida Statutes, are amended, paragraph (g) is added to subsection (3), and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) and paragraph (b) of subsection (6) of said section are amended, to read:

202.22 Determination of local tax situs.—

(1) A dealer of communications services who is obligated to collect and remit a local communications services tax imposed under s. 202.19 shall be held harmless from any liability, including tax, interest, and penalties, which would otherwise be due solely as a result of an assignment of a service address to an incorrect local taxing jurisdiction, if the dealer of communications services exercises due diligence in applying one or more of the following methods for determining the local taxing jurisdiction in which a service address is located:

(c)1. Employing enhanced zip codes to assign each street address, address range, post office box, or post office box range in the dealer's service area to a specific local taxing jurisdiction.

2. If an enhanced zip code overlaps boundaries of municipalities or counties, or if an enhanced zip code cannot be assigned to the service address because the service address is in a rural area or a location without postal delivery, the dealer of communications services or its database vendor shall assign the affected service addresses to one specific local taxing jurisdiction within such zip code based on a reasonable methodology. A methodology satisfies this subparagraph ~~paragraph~~ if the information used to assign service addresses is obtained by the dealer or its database vendor from:

a.~~1.~~ A database provided by the department;

b.~~2.~~ A database certified by the department under subsection (3); c.~~3.~~ Responsible representatives of the relevant local taxing jurisdictions; or d.~~4.~~ The United States Census Bureau or the United States Postal Service.

(b)1. Each local taxing jurisdiction shall furnish to the department all information needed to create and update the electronic database, including changes in service addresses, annexations, incorporations, reorganizations, and any other changes in jurisdictional boundaries. The information furnished to the department must specify an effective date, which must be the next ensuing January 1 or July 1, and such information must be furnished to the department at least 120 days prior to the effective date. However, the requirement that counties submit information pursuant to this paragraph shall be subject to appropriation.

2. The department shall update the electronic database in accordance with the information furnished by local taxing jurisdictions under subparagraph 1. Each update must specify the effective date as the next ensuing January 1 or July 1 and must be posted by the department on a website not less than 90 days prior to the effective date. A substantially affected person may provide notice to the database administrator of an objection to information contained in the electronic database. If an objection is supported by competent evidence, the department shall forward the evidence to the affected local taxing jurisdictions and update the electronic database in accordance with the determination furnished by local taxing jurisdictions to the department. The department shall also furnish the update on magnetic or electronic media to any dealer of communications services or vendor who requests the update on such media. However, the department may collect a fee from the dealer of communications services which does not exceed the actual cost of furnishing the update on magnetic or electronic media. Information contained in the electronic database is conclusive for purposes of this chapter. The electronic database is not an order, a rule, or a policy of general applicability.

3. Each update must identify the additions, deletions, and other changes to the preceding version of the database. Each dealer of communications services shall be required to collect and remit local communications services taxes imposed under this chapter only for those service addresses that are contained in the database and for which all of the elements required by this subsection are included in the database.

(3) For purposes of this section, a database must be certified by the department pursuant to rules that implement the following criteria and procedures:

(b) Upon receipt of an application for certification or recertification of a database, the provisions of s. 120.60 shall apply, except that the department shall examine the application and, within 90 days after receipt, notify the applicant of any apparent errors or omissions and request any additional information~~, conduct any inspection, or perform any testing~~ determined necessary. The applicant shall designate an individual responsible for providing access to all records, facilities, and processes the department determines are reasonably necessary to review*, inspect, or test to* ~~and~~ make a determination regarding the application. Such access must be provided within 10 working days after notification.

(c) The application must be in the form prescribed by rule and must include the applicant's name, federal employer identification number, mailing address, business address, and any other information required by the department. The application may request that the applicant identify ~~must identify, among other elements required by the department,~~ the applicant's proposal for testing the database.

(g) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a dealer submits an application for certification on or before the later of October 1, 2001, or the date which is 30 days after the date on which the applicable department rule becomes effective, and such application is neither approved nor denied within the time period set forth in paragraph (d):

1. For purposes of computing the amount of the deduction to which such dealer is entitled under s. 202.28, the dealer shall be deemed to have used a certified database pursuant to paragraph (1)(b), until such time as the application for certification is denied.

2. In the event that such application is approved, such approval shall be deemed to have been effective on the date of the application or October 1, 2001, whichever is later.

(b) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, a dealer of communications services is exercising due diligence in applying one or more of the methods set forth in subsection (1) if the dealer:

1. Expends reasonable resources to accurately and reliably implement such method. However, the employment of enhanced zip codes pursuant to paragraph (1)(c) satisfies the requirements of this subparagraph; and

2. Maintains adequate internal controls in assigning street addresses, address ranges, post offices boxes, and post office box ranges to taxing jurisdictions. Internal controls are adequate if the dealer of communications services:

a. Maintains and follows procedures to obtain and implement periodic and consistent updates to the database at least once every 6 months; and

b. Corrects errors in the assignments of service addresses to local taxing jurisdictions within 120 days after the dealer discovers such errors.

(b) Notwithstanding s. 202.28, if a dealer of communications services employs a method of assigning service addresses other than as set forth in paragraph (1)(a), paragraph (1)(b), or paragraph (1)(c), the deduction allowed to the dealer of communications services as compensation under s. 202.28 shall be 0.25 percent of that portion of the tax due and accounted for and remitted to the department which is attributable to such method of assigning service addresses other than as set forth in paragraph (1)(a), paragraph (1)(b), or paragraph (1)(c).

Section 16. Subsection (8) is added to section 202.23, Florida Statutes, to read:

202.23 Procedure on purchaser's request for refund or credit of communications services taxes.—

(8)(a) Subject to the provisions of s. 213.756, if it appears, upon examination of a communications services tax return made under this chapter, or upon proof submitted to the department by the dealer, that an amount of communications services tax has been paid in excess of the amount due, the department may refund the amount of the overpayment to the dealer. The department may refund the overpayment without regard to whether the dealer has filed a written claim for refund; however, the department may require the dealer to file a statement affirming that the dealer made the overpayment. Prior to issuing a refund pursuant to this subsection, the department shall notify the dealer of its intent to issue such refund, the amount of such refund, and the reason for such refund.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a), a refund of communications services tax shall not be made, and no action for a refund may be brought by a dealer or other person, after the applicable period set forth in s. 215.26(2) has elapsed.

(c) If, after the issuance of a refund by the department pursuant to this subsection, the department determines that the amount of such refund exceeds the amount legally due to the dealer, the provisions of s. 202.35 concerning penalties and interest shall not apply if, within 60 days of receiving notice of such determination, the dealer reimburses the department the amount of such excess.

Section 17. Section 202.231, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

202.231 Provision of information to local taxing jurisdictions.—

(1) The department shall provide a monthly report to each jurisdiction imposing the tax authorized by s. 202.19. Each report shall contain the following information for the jurisdiction which is receiving the report: the name and other information necessary to identify each dealer providing service in the jurisdiction, including each dealer's federal employer identification number; the gross taxable sales reported by each dealer; the amount of the dealer's collection allowance; and any adjustments specified on the return, including audit assessments or refunds, and interest or penalties, affecting the net tax from each dealer which is being remitted to the jurisdiction. The report shall total the net amount transferred to the jurisdiction, showing the net taxes remitted by dealers less the administrative fees deducted by the department.

(2) Monthly reports shall be transmitted by the department to each municipality and county through a secure electronic mail system or by other suitable written or electronic means.

Section 18. Paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of section 202.24, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

202.24 Limitations on local taxes and fees imposed on dealers of communications services.—

(2)(a) Except as provided in paragraph (c), each public body is prohibited from:

1. Levying on or collecting from dealers or purchasers of communications services any tax, charge, fee, or other imposition on or with respect to the provision or purchase of communications services.

2. Requiring any dealer of communications services to enter into or extend the term of a franchise or other agreement that requires the payment of a tax, charge, fee, or other imposition.

3. Adopting or enforcing any provision of any ordinance or agreement to the extent that such provision obligates a dealer of communications services to charge, collect, or pay to the public body a tax, charge, fee, or other imposition.

Each municipality and county retains authority to negotiate all terms and conditions of a cable service franchise allowed by federal and state law except those terms and conditions related to franchise fees and the definition of gross revenues or other definitions or methodologies related to the payment or assessment of franchise fees on providers of cable services.

(b) For purposes of this subsection, a tax, charge, fee, or other imposition includes any amount or in-kind payment of property or services which is required by ordinance or agreement to be paid or furnished to a public body by or through a dealer of communications services in its capacity as a dealer of communications services, regardless of whether such amount or in-kind payment of property or services is:

1. Designated as a sales tax, excise tax, subscriber charge, franchise fee, user fee, privilege fee, occupancy fee, rental fee, license fee, pole fee, tower fee, base-station fee, or other tax or fee;

2. Measured by the amounts charged or received for services, regardless of whether such amount is permitted or required to be separately stated on the customer's bill, by the type or amount of equipment or facilities deployed, or by other means; or

3. Intended as compensation for the use of public roads or rights-of-way, for the right to conduct business, or for other purposes.

(c) This subsection does not apply to:

1. Local communications services taxes levied under this chapter.

2. Ad valorem taxes levied pursuant to chapter 200.

3. Occupational license taxes levied under chapter 205.

4. "911" service charges levied under chapter 365.

5. Amounts charged for the rental or other use of property owned by a public body which is not in the public rights-of-way to a dealer of communications services for any purpose, including, but not limited to, the placement or attachment of equipment used in the provision of communications services.

6. Permit fees of general applicability which are not related to placing or maintaining facilities in or on public roads or rights-of-way.

7. Permit fees related to placing or maintaining facilities in or on public roads or rights-of-way pursuant to s. 337.401.

8. Any in-kind requirements, institutional networks, or contributions for, or in support of, the use or construction of public, educational, or governmental access facilities allowed under federal law and imposed on providers of cable service pursuant to any ordinance or agreement. Nothing in this subparagraph shall prohibit the ability of providers of cable service to recover such expenses as allowed under federal law. ~~This subparagraph shall be reviewed by the Legislature during the 2001 legislative session in conjunction with the study required by this act.~~

9. Special assessments and impact fees.

10. Pole attachment fees that are charged by a local government for attachments to utility poles owned by the local government.

11. Utility service fees or other similar user fees for utility services.

12. Any other generally applicable tax, fee, charge, or imposition authorized by general law on July 1, 2000, which is not specifically prohibited by this subsection or included as a replaced revenue source in s. 202.20.

Section 19. Paragraph (i) of subsection (3) of section 202.26, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 20. Subsection (3) of section 202.27, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

202.27 Return filing; rules for self-accrual.—

(3) The department shall accept returns, except those required to be initiated through an electronic data interchange, as timely if postmarked on or before the 20th day of the month; if the 20th day falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or federal or state legal holiday, returns are timely if postmarked on the next succeeding workday. ~~Any dealer who makes sales of any nature in two or more locations for which returns are required to be filed with the department and who maintains records for such locations in a central office or place may, on each reporting date, file one return for all such places of business in lieu of separate returns for each location; however, the return must clearly indicate the amounts collected within each location.~~ Each dealer shall file a return for each tax period even though no tax is due for such period.

202.28 Credit for collecting tax; penalties.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in s. 202.22, for the purpose of compensating persons providing communications services for the keeping of prescribed records, the filing of timely tax returns, and the proper accounting and remitting of taxes, persons collecting taxes imposed under this chapter and under s. 203.01(1)(a)2. shall be allowed to deduct 0.75 percent of the amount of the tax due and accounted for and remitted to the department.

(a) The collection allowance may not be granted, nor may any deduction be permitted, if the required tax return or tax is delinquent at the time of payment.

(b) The department may deny the collection allowance if a taxpayer files an incomplete return.

1. For the purposes of this chapter, a return is incomplete if it is lacking such uniformity, completeness, and arrangement that the physical handling, verification, review of the return, or determination of other taxes and fees reported on the return can not be readily accomplished.

2. The department shall adopt rules requiring the information that it considers necessary to ensure that the taxes levied or administered under this chapter are properly collected, reviewed, compiled, reported, and enforced, including, but not limited to, rules requiring the reporting of the amount of gross sales; the amount of taxable sales; the amount of tax collected or due; the amount of lawful refunds, deductions, or credits claimed; the amount claimed as the dealer's collection allowance; the amount of penalty and interest; and the amount due with the return.

(c) The collection allowance and other credits or deductions provided in this chapter shall be applied to the taxes reported for the jurisdiction previously credited with the tax paid.

Section 22. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 202.37, Florida Statues, is amended, and paragraph (c) is added to that subsection, to read:

202.37 Special rules for administration of local communications services tax.—

(1)(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, all statutory provisions and administrative rules applicable to the communications services tax imposed by s. 202.12 apply to any local communications services tax imposed under s. 202.19, and the department shall administer, collect, and enforce all taxes imposed under s. 202.19, including interest and penalties attributable thereto, in accordance with the same procedures used in the administration, collection, and enforcement of the communications services tax imposed by s. 202.12. Audits performed by the department shall include a determination of the dealer's compliance with the jurisdictional situsing of its customers' service addresses and a determination of whether the rate collected for the local tax pursuant to ss. 202.19 and 202.20 is correct. The person or entity designated by a local government pursuant to s. 213.053(7)(u) may provide evidence to the department demonstrating a specific person's failure to fully or correctly report taxable communications services sales within the jurisdiction. The department may request additional information from the designee to assist in any review. The department shall inform the designee of what action, if any, the department intends to take regarding the person.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if a dealer of communications services provides communications services solely within a single county, that county or any municipality located therein may perform an audit of such dealer with respect to communications services provided by such dealer within such county, including both the state and local components of the communications services tax imposed and any other tax administered pursuant to this chapter.

1. Prior to the exercise of such authority, and for purposes of determining whether a dealer operates solely within one county, a local government may presume such localized operation if the dealer reports sales in a single county. Upon notice by the local government to the department of an intent to audit a dealer, the department shall notify the local government within 60 days if the department has issued a notice of intent to audit the dealer, or it shall notify the dealer of the local government's request to audit.

2. The dealer may, within 30 days, rebut the single-county operation presumption by providing evidence to the department that it provides communication services in more than one county in the State of Florida or that it is part of an affiliated group, members of which provide communications services in more than one county in the State of Florida. An affiliated group is defined as one or more chains of includable corporations or partnerships connected through ownership with a common parent corporation or other partnership which is an includable corporation or partnership when the common parent corporation or partnership has ownership in at least one other includable corporation or partnership which generally satisfy the requirements of Internal Revenue Code s. 267 or Internal Revenue Code s. 707. If a dealer or a member of an affiliated group provides communications services in more than one county in the State of Florida, the department will notify the local government that no audit may be performed.

3. If during the course of an audit conducted pursuant to this paragraph a local government determines that a dealer provided communications services in more that one county during the period under audit, the local government shall terminate the audit and notify the department of its findings.

4. Local governments conducting audits shall be bound by department rules and technical assistance advisement issued during the course of an audit conducted pursuant to this paragraph. Local governments conducting communications service tax audits pursuant to this subparagraph, or taxpayers being audited pursuant to this subparagraph, may request and the Department may issue technical assistance advisements pursuant to s.213.22 regarding a pending audit issue. When the department is requested to issue a technical assistance advisement hereunder, it shall notify the affected local government or taxpayer of the request.

5. Any Audit performed hereunder shall obligate the local government to extend situsing work performed during such audit to include all addresses within the county. Such audit results shall be performed on behalf of an computed for each local government and unincorporated county area inside the subject county and they shall be bound thereby.

6. The review, protest and collection of amounts due as the results of audit performed hereunder shall be the responsibility of the local jurisdiction and shall be governed by s. 166.234 to the extent not inconsistent with this chapter.

7. No fee or any portion of a fee for audits conducted on behalf of a municipality or county pursuant to this paragraph shall be based upon the amount assessed or collected as a result of the audit, and no determination based upon an audit conducted in violation of this prohibition shall be valid.

8. All audits performed pursuant to this paragraph shall be in accordance with standards promulgated by either the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Institute of Internal Auditors, or the Comptroller General of the United States insofar as those standards are not inconsistent with Department of Revenue Rules.

9. Results of audits performed pursuant to this paragraph shall be valid for all jurisdictions within the subject county. The assessment, review and collection of any amounts ultimately determined to be due as the result of such an audit will be the responsibility of the auditing jurisdiction, and any such collections from the dealer shall be remitted to the Department of Revenue along with appropriate instructions for distribution of such amounts. No entity subject to audit hereunder can be audited by any local jurisdiction for compliance with this chapter more frequently than once every three years.

10. The department may adopt rules for the notification and determination processes established herein as well as for the information to be provided by a local government conducting an audit.

Section 23. Section 202.38, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

202.38 Special rules for bad debts and adjustments under previous taxes.—

(1)(a)1. Any dealer who has paid the tax imposed by chapter 212 on telecommunications services billed prior to October 1, 2001, which are no longer subject to such tax as a result of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, may take a credit or obtain a refund of the state communications services tax imposed under this chapter on unpaid balances due on worthless accounts within 12 months following the last day of the calendar year for which the bad debt was charged off on the taxpayer's federal income tax return.

2. Any dealer who has paid a local public service tax levied pursuant to chapter 166 on telecommunications services billed prior to October 1, 2001, which are no longer subject to such tax as a result of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, may take a credit or obtain a refund of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction on unpaid balances due on worthless accounts within 12 months following the last day of the calendar year for which the bad debt was charged off on the taxpayer's federal income tax return.

(b) If any account for which a credit or refund has been received under this section is then in whole or in part paid to the dealer, the amount paid must be included in the first communications services tax return filed after such receipt and the applicable state and local communications services tax paid accordingly.

(c) Bad debts associated with accounts receivable which have been assigned or sold with recourse are eligible upon reassignment for inclusion by the dealer in the credit or refund authorized by this section.

(2)(a) If any dealer would have been entitled to an adjustment of the tax imposed by chapter 212 on telecommunications services billed prior to October 1, 2001, which are no longer subject to such tax as a result of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, such dealer may take a credit or obtain a refund of the state communications services tax imposed under this chapter.

(b) If any dealer would have been entitled to an adjustment of a local public service tax levied pursuant to chapter 166 on telecommunications services billed prior to October 1, 2001, which are no longer subject to such tax as a result of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, such dealer may take a credit or obtain a refund of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction pursuant to this chapter.

(3) Credits and refunds of the tax imposed by chapter 203 attributable to bad debts or adjustments with respect to telecommunications services billed prior to October 1, 2001, shall be governed by the applicable provisions of this chapter.

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the refunds and credits allowed by this section shall be subject to audit by the state and the respective local taxing jurisdictions in any audit of the taxes to which such refunds and credits relate.

Section 24. Section 202.381, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

202.381 Transition from previous taxes.—The department is directed to implement the tax changes contained in this act, and in chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, in a manner that ensures that any request or action under existing statutes and rules, including, but not limited to, a claim for a credit or refund of an overpayment of tax, audits in progress, and protests of tax, penalty, or interest initiated before October 1, 2001, shall apply, to the fullest extent possible, to any tax that replaces an existing tax that is repealed effective October 1, 2001. It is the intent of the Legislature that a person not be subject to an adverse administrative action solely due to the tax changes that take effect October 1, 2001.

Section 25. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 203.01, Florida Statutes, as amended by chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, is amended to read:

203.01 Tax on gross receipts for utility and communications services.—

(1)(a)1. Every person that receives payment for any utility service shall report by the last day of each month to the Department of Revenue, under oath of the secretary or some other officer of such person, the total amount of gross receipts derived from business done within this state, or between points within this state, for the preceding month and, at the same time, shall pay into the State Treasury an amount equal to a percentage of such gross receipts at the rate set forth in paragraph (b). Such collections shall be certified by the Comptroller upon the request of the State Board of Education.

2. A tax is levied on communications services as defined in s. 202.11(3). Such tax shall be applied to the same services and transactions as are subject to taxation under chapter 202, and to communications services that are subject to the exemption provided in s. 202.125(1). Such tax shall be applied to the sales price of communications services when sold at retail and to the actual cost of operating substitute communications systems, as such terms are defined in s. 202.11, shall be due and payable at the same time as the taxes imposed pursuant to chapter 202, and shall be administered and collected pursuant to the provisions of chapter 202.

(b) The rate applied to utility services shall be 2.5 percent. The rate applied to communications services shall be 2.37 percent ~~the rate calculated pursuant to s. 44, chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida~~.

Section 26. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 212.031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.031 Lease or rental of or license in real property.—

(1)(a) It is declared to be the legislative intent that every person is exercising a taxable privilege who engages in the business of renting, leasing, letting, or granting a license for the use of any real property unless such property is:

1. Assessed as agricultural property under s. 193.461.

2. Used exclusively as dwelling units.

3. Property subject to tax on parking, docking, or storage spaces under s. 212.03(6).

4. Recreational property or the common elements of a condominium when subject to a lease between the developer or owner thereof and the condominium association in its own right or as agent for the owners of individual condominium units or the owners of individual condominium units. However, only the lease payments on such property shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter, and any other use made by the owner or the condominium association shall be fully taxable under this chapter.

5. A public or private street or right-of-way and poles, conduits, fixtures, and similar improvements located on such streets or rights-of-way, occupied or used by a utility or provider of communications services, as defined by s. 202.11, ~~franchised cable television company~~ for utility or communications or television purposes. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "utility" means any person providing utility services as defined in s. 203.012. This exception also applies to property, wherever located, on which the following are placed: towers, antennas, cables, accessory structures, or equipment, not including switching equipment, used in the provision of mobile communications services as defined in s. 202.11. For purposes of this chapter, towers used in the provision of mobile communications services, as defined in s. 202.11, are considered to be fixtures.

6. A public street or road which is used for transportation purposes.

7. Property used at an airport exclusively for the purpose of aircraft landing or aircraft taxiing or property used by an airline for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers or property onto or from aircraft or for fueling aircraft.

8.a. Property used at a port authority, as defined in s. 315.02(2), exclusively for the purpose of oceangoing vessels or tugs docking, or such vessels mooring on property used by a port authority for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers or cargo onto or from such a vessel, or property used at a port authority for fueling such vessels, or to the extent that the amount paid for the use of any property at the port is based on the charge for the amount of tonnage actually imported or exported through the port by a tenant.

b. The amount charged for the use of any property at the port in excess of the amount charged for tonnage actually imported or exported shall remain subject to tax except as provided in sub-subparagraph a.

9. Property used as an integral part of the performance of qualified production services. As used in this subparagraph, the term "qualified production services" means any activity or service performed directly in connection with the production of a qualified motion picture, as defined in s. 212.06(1)(b), and includes:

a. Photography, sound and recording, casting, location managing and scouting, shooting, creation of special and optical effects, animation, adaptation (language, media, electronic, or otherwise), technological modifications, computer graphics, set and stage support (such as electricians, lighting designers and operators, greensmen, prop managers and assistants, and grips), wardrobe (design, preparation, and management), hair and makeup (design, production, and application), performing (such as acting, dancing, and playing), designing and executing stunts, coaching, consulting, writing, scoring, composing, choreographing, script supervising, directing, producing, transmitting dailies, dubbing, mixing, editing, cutting, looping, printing, processing, duplicating, storing, and distributing;

b. The design, planning, engineering, construction, alteration, repair, and maintenance of real or personal property including stages, sets, props, models, paintings, and facilities principally required for the performance of those services listed in sub-subparagraph a.; and

c. Property management services directly related to property used in connection with the services described in sub-subparagraphs a. and b.

This exemption will inure to the taxpayer upon presentation of the certificate of exemption issued to the taxpayer under the provisions of s. 288.1258.

10. Leased, subleased, licensed, or rented to a person providing food and drink concessionaire services within the premises of a convention hall, exhibition hall, auditorium, stadium, theater, arena, civic center, performing arts center, publicly owned recreational facility, or any business operated under a permit issued pursuant to chapter 550. A person providing retail concessionaire services involving the sale of food and drink or other tangible personal property within the premises of an airport shall be subject to tax on the rental of real property used for that purpose, but shall not be subject to the tax on any license to use the property. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "sale" shall not include the leasing of tangible personal property.

11. Property occupied pursuant to an instrument calling for payments which the department has declared, in a Technical Assistance Advisement issued on or before March 15, 1993, to be nontaxable pursuant to rule 12A-1.070(19)(c), Florida Administrative Code; provided that this subparagraph shall only apply to property occupied by the same person before and after the execution of the subject instrument and only to those payments made pursuant to such instrument, exclusive of renewals and extensions thereof occurring after March 15, 1993.

12. Rented, leased, subleased, or licensed to a concessionaire by a convention hall, exhibition hall, auditorium, stadium, theater, arena, civic center, performing arts center, or publicly owned recreational facility, during an event at the facility, to be used by the concessionaire to sell souvenirs, novelties, or other event-related products. This subparagraph applies only to that portion of the rental, lease, or license payment which is based on a percentage of sales and not based on a fixed price.

13. Property used or occupied predominantly for space flight business purposes. As used in this subparagraph, "space flight business" means the manufacturing, processing, or assembly of a space facility, space propulsion system, space vehicle, satellite, or station of any kind possessing the capacity for space flight, as defined by s. 212.02(23), or components thereof, and also means the following activities supporting space flight: vehicle launch activities, flight operations, ground control or ground support, and all administrative activities directly related thereto. Property shall be deemed to be used or occupied predominantly for space flight business purposes if more than 50 percent of the property, or improvements thereon, is used for one or more space flight business purposes. Possession by a landlord, lessor, or licensor of a signed written statement from the tenant, lessee, or licensee claiming the exemption shall relieve the landlord, lessor, or licensor from the responsibility of collecting the tax, and the department shall look solely to the tenant, lessee, or licensee for recovery of such tax if it determines that the exemption was not applicable.

Section 27. Effective July 1, 2003, paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 212.031, Florida Statutes, as amended by chapter 2000-345, Laws of Florida, is amended to read:

212.031 Lease or rental of or license in real property.—

(1)(a) It is declared to be the legislative intent that every person is exercising a taxable privilege who engages in the business of renting, leasing, letting, or granting a license for the use of any real property unless such property is:

1. Assessed as agricultural property under s. 193.461.

2. Used exclusively as dwelling units.

3. Property subject to tax on parking, docking, or storage spaces under s. 212.03(6).

4. Recreational property or the common elements of a condominium when subject to a lease between the developer or owner thereof and the condominium association in its own right or as agent for the owners of individual condominium units or the owners of individual condominium units. However, only the lease payments on such property shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter, and any other use made by the owner or the condominium association shall be fully taxable under this chapter.

5. A public or private street or right-of-way and poles, conduits, fixtures, and similar improvements located on such streets or rights-of-way, occupied or used by a utility or provider of communications services, as defined by s. 202.11, ~~franchised cable television company~~ for utility or communications or television purposes. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "utility" means any person providing utility services as defined in s. 203.012. This exception also applies to property, wherever located, on which the following are placed: towers, antennas, cables, accessory structures, or equipment, not including switching equipment, used in the provision of mobile communications services as defined in s. 202.11. For purposes of this chapter, towers used in the provision of mobile communications services, as defined in s. 202.11, are considered to be fixtures.

6. A public street or road which is used for transportation purposes.

7. Property used at an airport exclusively for the purpose of aircraft landing or aircraft taxiing or property used by an airline for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers or property onto or from aircraft or for fueling aircraft.

8.a. Property used at a port authority, as defined in s. 315.02(2), exclusively for the purpose of oceangoing vessels or tugs docking, or such vessels mooring on property used by a port authority for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers or cargo onto or from such a vessel, or property used at a port authority for fueling such vessels, or to the extent that the amount paid for the use of any property at the port is based on the charge for the amount of tonnage actually imported or exported through the port by a tenant.

b. The amount charged for the use of any property at the port in excess of the amount charged for tonnage actually imported or exported shall remain subject to tax except as provided in sub-subparagraph a.

9. Property used as an integral part of the performance of qualified production services. As used in this subparagraph, the term "qualified production services" means any activity or service performed directly in connection with the production of a qualified motion picture, as defined in s. 212.06(1)(b), and includes:

a. Photography, sound and recording, casting, location managing and scouting, shooting, creation of special and optical effects, animation, adaptation (language, media, electronic, or otherwise), technological modifications, computer graphics, set and stage support (such as electricians, lighting designers and operators, greensmen, prop managers and assistants, and grips), wardrobe (design, preparation, and management), hair and makeup (design, production, and application), performing (such as acting, dancing, and playing), designing and executing stunts, coaching, consulting, writing, scoring, composing, choreographing, script supervising, directing, producing, transmitting dailies, dubbing, mixing, editing, cutting, looping, printing, processing, duplicating, storing, and distributing;

b. The design, planning, engineering, construction, alteration, repair, and maintenance of real or personal property including stages, sets, props, models, paintings, and facilities principally required for the performance of those services listed in sub-subparagraph a.; and

c. Property management services directly related to property used in connection with the services described in sub-subparagraphs a. and b.

This exemption will inure to the taxpayer upon presentation of the certificate of exemption issued to the taxpayer under the provisions of s. 288.1258.

10. Leased, subleased, licensed, or rented to a person providing food and drink concessionaire services within the premises of a convention hall, exhibition hall, auditorium, stadium, theater, arena, civic center, performing arts center, publicly owned recreational facility, or any business operated under a permit issued pursuant to chapter 550. A person providing retail concessionaire services involving the sale of food and drink or other tangible personal property within the premises of an airport shall be subject to tax on the rental of real property used for that purpose, but shall not be subject to the tax on any license to use the property. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "sale" shall not include the leasing of tangible personal property.

11. Property occupied pursuant to an instrument calling for payments which the department has declared, in a Technical Assistance Advisement issued on or before March 15, 1993, to be nontaxable pursuant to rule 12A-1.070(19)(c), Florida Administrative Code; provided that this subparagraph shall only apply to property occupied by the same person before and after the execution of the subject instrument and only to those payments made pursuant to such instrument, exclusive of renewals and extensions thereof occurring after March 15, 1993.

12. Property used or occupied predominantly for space flight business purposes. As used in this subparagraph, "space flight business" means the manufacturing, processing, or assembly of a space facility, space propulsion system, space vehicle, satellite, or station of any kind possessing the capacity for space flight, as defined by s. 212.02(23), or components thereof, and also means the following activities supporting space flight: vehicle launch activities, flight operations, ground control or ground support, and all administrative activities directly related thereto. Property shall be deemed to be used or occupied predominantly for space flight business purposes if more than 50 percent of the property, or improvements thereon, is used for one or more space flight business purposes. Possession by a landlord, lessor, or licensor of a signed written statement from the tenant, lessee, or licensee claiming the exemption shall relieve the landlord, lessor, or licensor from the responsibility of collecting the tax, and the department shall look solely to the tenant, lessee, or licensee for recovery of such tax if it determines that the exemption was not applicable.

Section 28. Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 212.054, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.054 Discretionary sales surtax; limitations, administration, and collection.—

(2)(a) The tax imposed by the governing body of any county authorized to so levy pursuant to s. 212.055 shall be a discretionary surtax on all transactions occurring in the county which transactions are subject to the state tax imposed on sales, use, services, rentals, admissions, and other transactions by this chapter and communications services as defined for purposes of chapter 202. The surtax, if levied, shall be computed as the applicable rate or rates authorized pursuant to s. 212.055 times the amount of taxable sales and taxable purchases representing such transactions. If the surtax is levied on the sale of an item of tangible personal property or on the sale of a service, the surtax shall be computed by multiplying the rate imposed by the county within which the sale occurs by the amount of the taxable sale. The sale of an item of tangible personal property or the sale of a service is not subject to the surtax if the property, the service, or the tangible personal property representing the service is delivered within a county that does not impose a discretionary sales surtax.

Section 29. Subsection (6) of section 212.20, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.20 Funds collected, disposition; additional powers of department; operational expense; refund of taxes adjudicated unconstitutionally collected.—

(6) Distribution of all proceeds under this chapter and s. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) shall be as follows:

(a) Proceeds from the convention development taxes authorized under s. 212.0305 shall be reallocated to the Convention Development Tax Clearing Trust Fund.

(b) Proceeds from discretionary sales surtaxes imposed pursuant to ss. 212.054 and 212.055 shall be reallocated to the Discretionary Sales Surtax Clearing Trust Fund.

~~(c) Proceeds from the tax imposed pursuant to s. 212.06(5)(a)2. shall be reallocated to the Mail Order Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund.~~

(c)~~(d)~~ Proceeds from the fees imposed under ss. 212.05(1)(i)3. and 212.18(3) shall remain with the General Revenue Fund.

(d)~~(c)~~ The proceeds of all other taxes and fees imposed pursuant to this chapter or remitted pursuant to s. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) shall be distributed as follows:

1. In any fiscal year, the greater of $500 million, minus an amount equal to 4.6 percent of the proceeds of the taxes collected pursuant to chapter 201, or 5 percent of all other taxes and fees imposed pursuant to this chapter or remitted pursuant to s. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) shall be deposited in monthly installments into the General Revenue Fund.

2. Two-tenths of one percent shall be transferred to the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund.

3. After the distribution under subparagraphs 1. and 2., 9.653 percent of the amount remitted by a sales tax dealer located within a participating county pursuant to s. 218.61 shall be transferred into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund.

4. After the distribution under subparagraphs 1., 2., and 3., 0.065 percent shall be transferred to the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund and distributed pursuant to s. 218.65.

5. For proceeds received after July 1, 2000, and after the distributions under subparagraphs 1., 2., 3., and 4., 2.25 percent of the available proceeds pursuant to this paragraph shall be transferred monthly to the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Counties pursuant to s. 218.215.

6. For proceeds received after July 1, 2000, and after the distributions under subparagraphs 1., 2., 3., and 4., 1.0715 percent of the available proceeds pursuant to this paragraph shall be transferred monthly to the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities pursuant to s. 218.215. If the total revenue to be distributed pursuant to this subparagraph is at least as great as the amount due from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000, no municipality shall receive less than the amount due from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000. If the total proceeds to be distributed are less than the amount received in combination from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000, each municipality shall receive an amount proportionate to the amount it was due in state fiscal year 1999-2000.

7. Of the remaining proceeds:

a. Beginning July 1, 2000, and in each fiscal year thereafter, the sum of $29,915,500 shall be divided into as many equal parts as there are counties in the state, and one part shall be distributed to each county. The distribution among the several counties shall begin each fiscal year on or before January 5th and shall continue monthly for a total of 4 months. If a local or special law required that any moneys accruing to a county in fiscal year 1999-2000 under the then-existing provisions of s. 550.135 be paid directly to the district school board, special district, or a municipal government, such payment shall continue until such time that the local or special law is amended or repealed. The state covenants with holders of bonds or other instruments of indebtedness issued by local governments, special districts, or district school boards prior to July 1, 2000, that it is not the intent of this subparagraph to adversely affect the rights of those holders or relieve local governments, special districts, or district school boards of the duty to meet their obligations as a result of previous pledges or assignments or trusts entered into which obligated funds received from the distribution to county governments under then-existing s. 550.135. This distribution specifically is in lieu of funds distributed under s. 550.135 prior to July 1, 2000.

b. The department shall distribute $166,667 monthly pursuant to s. 288.1162 to each applicant that has been certified as a "facility for a new professional sports franchise" or a "facility for a retained professional sports franchise" pursuant to s. 288.1162. Up to $41,667 shall be distributed monthly by the department to each applicant that has been certified as a "facility for a retained spring training franchise" pursuant to s. 288.1162; however, not more than $208,335 may be distributed monthly in the aggregate to all certified facilities for a retained spring training franchise. Distributions shall begin 60 days following such certification and shall continue for not more than 30 years. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to allow an applicant certified pursuant to s. 288.1162 to receive more in distributions than actually expended by the applicant for the public purposes provided for in s. 288.1162(6). However, a certified applicant is entitled to receive distributions up to the maximum amount allowable and undistributed under this section for additional renovations and improvements to the facility for the franchise without additional certification.

c. Beginning 30 days after notice by the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development to the Department of Revenue that an applicant has been certified as the professional golf hall of fame pursuant to s. 288.1168 and is open to the public, $166,667 shall be distributed monthly, for up to 300 months, to the applicant.

d. Beginning 30 days after notice by the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development to the Department of Revenue that the applicant has been certified as the International Game Fish Association World Center facility pursuant to s. 288.1169, and the facility is open to the public, $83,333 shall be distributed monthly, for up to 168 months, to the applicant. This distribution is subject to reduction pursuant to s.

288.1169. A lump sum payment of $999,996 shall be made, after certification and before July 1, 2000.

8. All other proceeds shall remain with the General Revenue Fund.

Section 30. Paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of section 11.45, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

11.45 Definitions; duties; audits; reports.—

(b) The Legislative Auditing Committee shall direct the Auditor General to make a financial audit of any municipality whenever petitioned to do so by at least 20 percent of the electors of that municipality. The supervisor of elections of the county in which the municipality is located shall certify whether or not the petition contains the signatures of at least 20 percent of the electors of the municipality. After the completion of the audit, the Auditor General shall determine whether the municipality has the fiscal resources necessary to pay the cost of the audit. The municipality shall pay the cost of the audit within 90 days after the Auditor General's determination that the municipality has the available resources. If the municipality fails to pay the cost of the audit, the Department of Revenue shall, upon certification of the Auditor General, withhold from that portion of the distribution pursuant to s. 212.20(6)(d)6.~~(f)5.~~ which is distributable to such municipality a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the audit and shall deposit that sum into the General Revenue Fund of the state.

218.65 Emergency distribution.—

(5) At the beginning of each fiscal year, the Department of Revenue shall calculate a base allocation for each eligible county equal to the difference between the current per capita limitation times the county's population, minus prior year ordinary distributions to the county pursuant to ss. 212.20(6)(d)~~(c)~~3., 218.61, and 218.62. If moneys deposited into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 212.20(6)(d)~~(c)~~4., excluding moneys appropriated for supplemental distributions pursuant to subsection (7), for the current year are less than or equal to the sum of the base allocations, each eligible county shall receive a share of the appropriated amount proportional to its base allocation. If the deposited amount exceeds the sum of the base allocations, each county shall receive its base allocation, and the excess appropriated amount shall be distributed equally on a per capita basis among the eligible counties.

(6) There is hereby annually appropriated from the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund the distribution provided in s. 212.20(6)(d)~~(c)~~4. to be used for emergency and supplemental distributions pursuant to this section.

Section 32. Subsection (6) of section 288.1169, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.1169 International Game Fish Association World Center facility; department duties.—

(6) The Department of Commerce must recertify every 10 years that the facility is open, that the International Game Fish Association World Center continues to be the only international administrative headquarters, fishing museum, and Hall of Fame in the United States recognized by the International Game Fish Association, and that the project is meeting the minimum projections for attendance or sales tax revenues as required at the time of original certification. If the facility is not recertified during this 10-year review as meeting the minimum projections, then funding will be abated until certification criteria are met. If the project fails to generate $1 million of annual revenues pursuant to paragraph (2)(e), the distribution of revenues pursuant to s. 212.20(6)(d)7.d.~~(e)6.e.~~ shall be reduced to an amount equal to $83,333 multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual revenues generated and the denominator of which is $1 million. Such reduction shall remain in effect until revenues generated by the project in a 12-month period equal or exceed $1 million.

Section 33. Section 212.202, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.202 Renaming, creation, and continuation of certain funds.—The Local Government Infrastructure Tax Trust Fund is hereby retitled the Discretionary Sales Surtax Clearing Trust Fund. The Mail Order Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund is retitled the Communications Services Tax Clearing Trust Fund ~~hereby created in the State Treasury~~. Notwithstanding the repeal of s. 212.237 by s. 45, chapter 89-356, the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund shall continue to exist.

Section 34. Effective upon this act becoming a law, paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of section 337.401, Florida Statutes, as amended by section 50 of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, is amended and subsection (5) is added to that section to read:

337.401 Use of right-of-way for utilities subject to regulation; permit; fees.—

(c)1. It is the intention of the state to treat all providers of communications services that use or occupy municipal or charter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services in a nondiscriminatory and competitively neutral manner with respect to the payment of permit fees. Certain providers of communications services have been granted by general law the authority to offset permit fees against franchise or other fees while other providers of communications services have not been granted this authority. In order to treat all providers of communications services in a nondiscriminatory and competitively neutral manner with respect to the payment of permit fees, each municipality and charter county shall make an election under either sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. and must inform the Department of Revenue of the election by certified mail by July 16 ~~1~~, 2001. Such election shall take effect October 1, 2001.

a.(I) The municipality or charter county may require and collect permit fees from any providers of communications services that use or occupy municipal or county roads or rights-of-way. All fees permitted under this sub-subparagraph must be reasonable and commensurate with the direct and actual cost of the regulatory activity, including issuing and processing permits, plan reviews, physical inspection, and direct administrative costs; must be demonstrable; and must be equitable among users of the roads or rights-of-way. A fee permitted under this sub-subparagraph may not: be offset against the tax imposed under chapter 202; include the costs of roads or rights-of-way acquisition or roads or rights-of-way rental; include any general administrative, management, or maintenance costs of the roads or rights-of-way; or be based on a percentage of the value or costs associated with the work to be performed on the roads or rights-of-way. In an action to recover amounts due for a fee not permitted under this sub-subparagraph, the prevailing party may recover court costs and attorney's fees at trial and on appeal. In addition to the limitations set forth in this section, a fee levied by a municipality or charter county under this sub-subparagraph may not exceed $100. However, permit fees may not be imposed with respect to permits that may be required for service drop lines not required to be noticed under s. 556.108(5)(b) or for any activity that does not require the physical disturbance of the roads or rights-of-way or does not impair access to or full use of the roads or rights-of-way.

(II) To ensure competitive neutrality among providers of communications services, for any municipality or charter county that elects to exercise its authority to require and collect permit fees under this sub-subparagraph, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction, as computed under s. 202.20(1) and (2), shall automatically be reduced by a rate of 0.12 percent.

b. Alternatively, the municipality or charter county may elect not to require and collect permit fees from any provider of communications services that uses or occupies municipal or charter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services; however, each municipality or charter county that elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph retains all authority to establish rules and regulations for providers of communications services to use or occupy roads or rights-of-way as provided in this section. If a municipality or charter county elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph, the total rate for the local communications services tax as computed under s. 202.20(1) and (2) for that municipality or charter county may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed a rate of 0.12 percent. If a municipality or charter county elects to increase its rate effective October 1, 2001, the municipality or charter county shall inform the department of such increased rate by certified mail postmarked on or before July 16, 2001.

c. A municipality or charter county that does not make an election as provided for in this subparagraph shall be presumed to have elected to operate under the provisions of sub-subparagraph b.

2. Each noncharter county shall make an election under either sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. and shall inform the Department of Revenue of the election by certified mail by July 16 ~~1~~, 2001. Such election shall take effect October 1, 2001.

a. The noncharter county may elect to require and collect permit fees from any providers of communications services that use or occupy noncharter county roads or rights-of-way. All fees permitted under this sub-subparagraph must be reasonable and commensurate with the direct and actual cost of the regulatory activity, including issuing and processing permits, plan reviews, physical inspection, and direct administrative costs; must be demonstrable; and must be equitable among users of the roads or rights-of-way. A fee permitted under this sub-subparagraph may not: be offset against the tax imposed under chapter 202; include the costs of roads or rights-of-way acquisition or roads or rights-of-way rental; include any general administrative, management, or maintenance costs of the roads or rights-of-way; or be based on a percentage of the value or costs associated with the work to be performed on the roads or rights-of-way. In an action to recover amounts due for a fee not permitted under this sub-subparagraph, the prevailing party may recover court costs and attorney's fees at trial and on appeal. In addition to the limitations set forth in this section, a fee levied by a noncharter county under this sub-subparagraph may not exceed $100. However, permit fees may not be imposed with respect to permits that may be required for service drop lines not required to be noticed under s. 556.108(5)(b) or for any activity that does not require the physical disturbance of the roads or rights-of-way or does not impair access to or full use of the roads or rights-of-way.

b. Alternatively, the noncharter county may elect not to require and collect permit fees from any provider of communications services that uses or occupies noncharter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services; however, each noncharter county that elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph shall retain all authority to establish rules and regulations for providers of communications services to use or occupy roads or rights-of-way as provided in this section. If a noncharter county elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph, the total rate for the local communications services tax as computed under s. 202.20(1) and (2) for that noncharter county may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed a rate of 0.24 percent, to replace the revenue the noncharter county would otherwise have received from permit fees for providers of communications services. If a noncharter county elects to increase its rate effective October 1, 2001, the noncharter county shall inform the department of such increased rate by certified mail postmarked on or before July 16, 2001.

c. A noncharter county that does not make an election as provided for in this subparagraph shall be presumed to have elected to operate under the provisions of sub-subparagraph b.

3. Except as provided in this paragraph, municipalities and counties retain all existing authority to require and collect permit fees from users or occupants of municipal or county roads or rights-of-way and to set appropriate permit fee amounts.

(5) If a municipality or county imposes any amount on a person or entity other than a provider of communications services in connection with the placement or maintenance by such person or entity of a communication facility in municipal or county roads or rights-of-way, such amounts, if any, shall not exceed the highest amount, if any, the municipality or county is imposing in such context as of the effective date of this section. If a municipality or county is not imposing any amount in such context as of the effective date of this section, any amount, if any, imposed thereafter, shall not be less than $500 per linear mile, payable annually, of any cable, fiber optic, or other pathway that makes physical use of the municipal or county rights-of-way. Any excess of $500 shall be applied in a nondiscriminatory manner and shall not exceed the sum of:

1. Costs directly related to the inconvenience or impairment solely caused by the disturbance to the municipal or county rights-of-way;

2. The reasonable cost of the regulatory activity of the municipality or county; and

3. The proportionate share of cost of land for such street, alley, or other public way attributable to utilization of the rights-of-way by such person or entity other than a provider of communications services.

Section 35. Paragraphs (f) and (g) of subsection (3) of section 337.401, Florida Statutes, as amended by section 51 of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, are repealed, paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (e), and (h) of said subsection are amended, new paragraphs (j) and (k) are added to said subsection, subsections (4) and (5) of said section are amended, and subsection (6) is added to that section, to read:

(3)(a)1. Because of the unique circumstances applicable to providers of communications services, including, but not limited to, the circumstances described in paragraph (e) and the fact that federal and state law require the nondiscriminatory treatment of providers of telecommunications services, and because of the desire to promote competition among providers of communications services, it is the intent of the Legislature that municipalities and counties treat providers of communications services in a nondiscriminatory and competitively neutral manner when imposing rules or regulations governing the placement or maintenance of communications facilities in the public roads or rights-of-way. Rules or regulations imposed by a municipality or county relating to providers of communications services placing or maintaining communications facilities in its roads or rights-of-way must be generally applicable to all providers of communications services and, notwithstanding any other law, may not require a provider of communications services, except as otherwise provided in subparagraph 2. ~~paragraph (f)~~, to apply for or enter into an individual license, franchise, or other agreement with the municipality or county as a condition of placing or maintaining communications facilities in its roads or rights-of-way. In addition to other reasonable rules or regulations that a municipality or county may adopt relating to the placement or maintenance of communications facilities in its roads or rights-of-way under this subsection, a municipality or county may require a provider of communications services that places or seeks to place facilities in its roads or rights-of-way to register with the municipality or county and to provide the name of the registrant; the name, address, and telephone number of a contact person for the registrant; the number of the registrant's current certificate of authorization issued by the Florida Public Service Commission or the Federal Communications Commission; and proof of insurance or self-insuring status adequate to defend and cover claims. Nothing in this subparagraph is intended to limit or expand any existing zoning or land use authority of a municipality or county; however, no such zoning or land use authority may require an individual license, franchise, or other agreement as prohibited by this subparagraph.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph 1., a municipality or county may, as provided by 47 U.S.C. s. 541, award one or more franchises within its jurisdiction for the provision of cable service, and a provider of cable service shall not provide cable service without such franchise. Each municipality and county retains authority to negotiate all terms and conditions of a cable service franchise allowed by federal law and s. 166.046, except those terms and conditions related to franchise fees and the definition of gross revenues or other definitions or methodologies related to the payment or assessment of franchise fees and permit fees as provided in paragraph (c) on providers of cable services. A municipality or county may exercise its right to require from providers of cable service in-kind requirements, including, but not limited to, institutional networks, and contributions for, or in support of, the use or construction of public, educational, or governmental access facilities to the extent permitted by federal law. A provider of cable service may exercise its right to recover any such expenses associated with such in-kind requirements, to the extent permitted by federal law.

(b) Registration described in subparagraph (a)1. does not establish a right to place or maintain, or priority for the placement or maintenance of, a communications facility in roads or rights-of-way of a municipality or county. Each municipality and county retains the authority to regulate and manage municipal and county roads or rights-of-way in exercising its police power. Any rules or regulations adopted by a municipality or county which govern the occupation of its roads or rights-of-way by providers of communications services must be related to the placement or maintenance of facilities in such roads or rights-of-way, must be reasonable and nondiscriminatory, and may include only those matters necessary to manage the roads or rights-of-way of the municipality or county.

(c)1. It is the intention of the state to treat all providers of communications services that use or occupy municipal or charter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services in a nondiscriminatory and competitively neutral manner with respect to the payment of permit fees. Certain providers of communications services have been granted by general law the authority to offset permit fees against franchise or other fees while other providers of communications services have not been granted this authority. In order to treat all providers of communications services in a nondiscriminatory and competitively neutral manner with respect to the payment of permit fees, each municipality and charter county shall make an election under either sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. and must inform the Department of Revenue of the election by certified mail by July 16 ~~1~~, 2001. Such election shall take effect October 1, 2001.

a.(I) The municipality or charter county may require and collect permit fees from any providers of communications services that use or occupy municipal or county roads or rights-of-way. All fees permitted under this sub-subparagraph must be reasonable and commensurate with the direct and actual cost of the regulatory activity, including issuing and processing permits, plan reviews, physical inspection, and direct administrative costs; must be demonstrable; and must be equitable among users of the roads or rights-of-way. A fee permitted under this sub-subparagraph may not: be offset against the tax imposed under chapter 202; include the costs of roads or rights-of-way acquisition or roads or rights-of-way rental; include any general administrative, management, or maintenance costs of the roads or rights-of-way; or be based on a percentage of the value or costs associated with the work to be performed on the roads or rights-of-way. In an action to recover amounts due for a fee not permitted under this sub-subparagraph, the prevailing party may recover court costs and attorney's fees at trial and on appeal. In addition to the limitations set forth in this section, a fee levied by a municipality or charter county under this sub-subparagraph may not exceed $100. However, permit fees may not be imposed with respect to permits that may be required for service drop lines not required to be noticed under s. 556.108(5)(b) or for any activity that does not require the physical disturbance of the roads or rights-of-way or does not impair access to or full use of the roads or rights-of-way.

(II) To ensure competitive neutrality among providers of communications services, for any municipality or charter county that elects to exercise its authority to require and collect permit fees under this sub-subparagraph, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction, as computed under s. 202.20~~(1) and (2)~~, shall automatically be reduced by a rate of 0.12 percent.

b. Alternatively, the municipality or charter county may elect not to require and collect permit fees from any provider of communications services that uses or occupies municipal or charter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services; however, each municipality or charter county that elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph retains all authority to establish rules and regulations for providers of communications services to use or occupy roads or rights-of-way as provided in this section. If a municipality or charter county elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph, the total rate for the local communications services tax as computed under s. 202.20~~(1) and (2)~~ for that municipality or charter county may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed a rate of 0.12 percent. If a municipality or charter county elects to increase its rate effective October 1, 2001, the municipality or charter county shall inform the department of such increased rate by certified mail postmarked on or before July 16, 2001.

c. A municipality or charter county that does not make an election as provided for in this subparagraph shall be presumed to have elected to operate under the provisions of sub-subparagraph b.

2. Each noncharter county shall make an election under either sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. and shall inform the Department of Revenue of the election by certified mail by July 16 ~~1~~, 2001. Such election shall take effect October 1, 2001.

a. The noncharter county may elect to require and collect permit fees from any providers of communications services that use or occupy noncharter county roads or rights-of-way. All fees permitted under this sub-subparagraph must be reasonable and commensurate with the direct and actual cost of the regulatory activity, including issuing and processing permits, plan reviews, physical inspection, and direct administrative costs; must be demonstrable; and must be equitable among users of the roads or rights-of-way. A fee permitted under this sub-subparagraph may not: be offset against the tax imposed under chapter 202; include the costs of roads or rights-of-way acquisition or roads or rights-of-way rental; include any general administrative, management, or maintenance costs of the roads or rights-of-way; or be based on a percentage of the value or costs associated with the work to be performed on the roads or rights-of-way. In an action to recover amounts due for a fee not permitted under this sub-subparagraph, the prevailing party may recover court costs and attorney's fees at trial and on appeal. In addition to the limitations set forth in this section, a fee levied by a noncharter county under this sub-subparagraph may not exceed $100. However, permit fees may not be imposed with respect to permits that may be required for service drop lines not required to be noticed under s. 556.108(5)(b) or for any activity that does not require the physical disturbance of the roads or rights-of-way or does not impair access to or full use of the roads or rights-of-way.

b. Alternatively, the noncharter county may elect not to require and collect permit fees from any provider of communications services that uses or occupies noncharter county roads or rights-of-way for the provision of communications services; however, each noncharter county that elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph shall retain all authority to establish rules and regulations for providers of communications services to use or occupy roads or rights-of-way as provided in this section. If a noncharter county elects to operate under this sub-subparagraph, the total rate for the local communications services tax as computed under s. 202.20~~(1) and (2)~~ for that noncharter county may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed a rate of 0.24 percent, to replace the revenue the noncharter county would otherwise have received from permit fees for providers of communications services. If a noncharter county elects to increase its rate effective October 1, 2001, the noncharter county shall inform the department of such increased rate by certified mail postmarked on or before July 16, 2001.

c. A noncharter county that does not make an election as provided for in this subparagraph shall be presumed to have elected to operate under the provisions of sub-subparagraph b.

3. Except as provided in this paragraph, municipalities and counties retain all existing authority to require and collect permit fees from users or occupants of municipal or county roads or rights-of-way and to set appropriate permit fee amounts.

(e) The authority of municipalities and counties to require franchise fees from providers of communications services, with respect to the provision of communications services, is specifically preempted by the state, except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (a)2. ~~paragraph (f)~~, because of unique circumstances applicable to providers of communications services when compared to other utilities occupying municipal or county roads or rights-of-way. Providers of communications services may provide similar services in a manner that requires the placement of facilities in municipal or county roads or rights-of-way or in a manner that does not require the placement of facilities in such roads or rights-of-way. Although similar communications services may be provided by different means, the state desires to treat providers of communications services in a nondiscriminatory manner and to have the taxes, franchise fees, and other fees paid by providers of communications services be competitively neutral. Municipalities and counties retain all existing authority, if any, to collect franchise fees from users or occupants of municipal or county roads or rights-of-way other than providers of communications services, and the provisions of this subsection shall have no effect upon this authority. The provisions of this subsection do not restrict the authority, if any, of municipalities or counties or other governmental entities to receive reasonable rental fees based on fair market value for the use of public lands and buildings on property outside the public roads or rights-of-way for the placement of communications antennas and towers.

(f)~~(h)~~ Except as expressly allowed or authorized by general law and except for the rights-of-way permit fees subject to paragraph (c), a municipality or county may not levy on a provider of communications services a tax, fee, or other charge or imposition for operating as a provider of communications services within the jurisdiction of the municipality or county which is in any way related to using its roads or rights-of-way. A municipality or county may not require or solicit in-kind compensation, except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (a)2. ~~paragraph (f)~~. Nothing in this paragraph shall impair any ordinance or agreement in effect on May 22, 1998, or any voluntary agreement entered into subsequent to that date, which provides for or allows in-kind compensation by a telecommunications company.

(j) Pursuant to this paragraph, any county or municipality may by ordinance change either its election made on or before July 16, 2001, under paragraph (c) or an election made under this paragraph.

1.a. If a municipality or charter county changes its election under this paragraph in order to exercise its authority to require and collect permit fees in accordance with this subsection, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction pursuant to ss. 202.19 and 202.20 shall automatically be reduced by the sum of 0.12 percent plus the percentage, if any, by which such rate was increased pursuant to sub-subparagraph (c)1.b.

b. If a municipality or charter county changes its election under this paragraph in order to discontinue requiring and collecting permit fees, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction pursuant to ss. 202.19 and 202.20 may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed 0.24 percent.

2.a. If a noncharter county changes its election under this paragraph in order to exercise its authority to require and collect permit fees in accordance with this subsection, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction pursuant to ss. 202.19 and 202.20 shall automatically be reduced by the percentage, if any, by which such rate was increased pursuant to sub-subparagraph (c)2.b.

b. If a noncharter county changes its election under this paragraph in order to discontinue requiring and collecting permit fees, the rate of the local communications services tax imposed by such jurisdiction pursuant to ss. 202.19 and 202.20 may be increased by ordinance or resolution by an amount not to exceed 0.24 percent.

3.a. Any change of election pursuant to this paragraph and any tax rate change resulting from such change of election shall be subject to the notice requirements of s. 202.21; however, no such change of election shall become effective prior to January 1, 2003.

b. Any county or municipality changing its election under this paragraph in order to exercise its authority to require and collect permit fees shall, in addition to complying with the notice requirements under s. 202.21, provide to all dealers providing communications services in such jurisdiction written notice of such change of election by July 1 immediately preceding the January 1 on which such change of election becomes effective. For purposes of this sub-subparagraph, dealers providing communications services in such jurisdiction shall include every dealer reporting tax to such jurisdiction pursuant to s. 202.37 on the return required under s. 202.27 to be filed on or before the 20th day of May immediately preceding the January 1 on which such change of election becomes effective.

(k) Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 202.19, when a local communications services tax rate is changed as a result of an election made or changed under this subsection, such rate shall not be rounded to tenths.

(4) As used in this section, "communications services" has ~~and "cable services" have~~ the same meaning ~~meanings~~ ascribed in chapter 202*, and "cable service" has the same meaning ascribed in 47 U.S.C. s. 522, as amended*.

(5) This section, except subsections (1) and (2) and paragraph (3)(g)~~(i)~~, does not apply to the provision of pay telephone service on public, municipal, or county roads or rights-of-way.

(6) If a municipality or county imposes any amount on a person or entity other than a provider of communications services in connection with the placement or maintenance by such person or entity of a communication facility in municipal or county roads or rights-of-way, such amounts, if any, shall not exceed the highest amount, if any, the municipality or county is imposing in such context as of the effective date of this section. If a municipality or county is not imposing any amount in such context as of the effective date of this section, any amount, if any, imposed thereafter, shall not be less than $500 per linear mile, payable annually, of any cable, fiber optic, or other pathway that makes physical use of the municipal or county rights-of-way. Any excess of $500 shall be applied in a nondiscriminatory manner and shall not exceed the sum of:

1. Costs directly related to the inconvenience or impairment solely caused by the disturbance to the municipal or county rights-of-way;

2. The reasonable cost of the regulatory activity of the municipality or county; and

3. The proportionate share of cost of land for such street, alley, or other public way attributable to utilization of the rights-of-way by such person or entity other than a provider of communications services.

Section 36. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the provisions of s. 166.234, Florida Statutes, shall continue to apply with respect to all public service taxes imposed on telecommunications services under s. 166.231(9), Florida Statutes, prior to its amendment by chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida.

Section 37. (1) Notwithstanding any law or ordinance to the contrary, and regardless of the payment schedule contained in any license, franchise, ordinance, or other arrangement that provides for payment after December 31, 2001, all franchise fees required to be paid by cable or telecommunications service providers with respect to cable or telecommunications services provided prior to October 1, 2001, shall be paid on or before December 31, 2001.

(2) For services provided prior to October 1, 2001, all franchise fees required to be paid prior to October 1, 2001, under any license, franchise, ordinance, or other arrangement shall be paid as provided in such license, franchise, ordinance, or other arrangement. Cable and telecommunications services providers shall be obligated to remit franchise fees collected from subscribers for services billed prior to October 1, 2001, regardless of their actual collection date.

(3) If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are declared severable.

Section 38. Effective upon this act becoming a law, section 52, subsections (1) and (2) of section 58, and section 59 of chapter 2000-260, Laws of Florida, are repealed.

Section 39. Except as otherwise provided herein, this act shall take effect October 1, 2001.

Representative(s) Brummer offered the following:

Amendment 1—On page 2, line 9 through page 3, line 10, remove from the bill: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: (2)(a) The Legislature acknowledges that Florida is a right to work state as guaranteed by s. 6, Art. I of the State Constitution, which provides employees the right to bargain collectively. However, the State Constitution does not require an employer to deduct and collect a bargaining agent's dues and uniform assessments from an employee's salary. Furthermore, the Legislature in implementing s. 6, Art. I of the State Constitution, has declared that it is the public policy of this state to neither encourage nor discourage participation in a certified employee organization. The current statutory right of a collective bargaining agent to have its dues and uniform assessments deducted from an employee's salary is inconsistent with this policy because it assumes a non-neutral position regarding membership in a certified employee organization. By statutorily requiring an employer to deduct a collective bargaining agent's dues and assessments, the state facilitates the financial support of that organization not only for its collective bargaining functions but for whatever political or social causes that organization chooses to support. The payroll deduction process does not require the identification of how the money deducted will be utilized. Other voluntary payroll deductions are clear on their face as to the amount and purpose of the deductions. In addition, other payroll deductions are not encumbered with the legal complexities surrounding collective bargaining rights and this state's policy of neutrality regarding membership in a certified employee organization. Morever, the First Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees a person freedom of association, and included in that right a person may not be compelled to financially support a social cause or a political candidate or cause. To the extent members of a certified employee organization are uninformed regarding the use of their payroll deducted dues and assessments, unaware of their rights to be refunded any portion of such dues or assessments used for political or social purposes to which they do not agree, or are prevented or inhibited from exercising their associational rights, directly or indirectly, for whatever reason and from whatever source, then the state's participation in their payroll deduction impinges on those employees' First Amendment rights.

The Legislature finds that instructional personnel represent the largest collective bargaining unit in this state. Furthermore, the Legislature recognizes and finds that teacher shortages in this state have reached critical proportions and anticipates that Florida will need an additional 162,000 teachers over the next 10 years to meet the challenges of this state's growing student population. Attracting new teachers as well as retaining existing teachers is a priority for this Legislature. Furthermore, the Legislature finds that this state has a substantial and compelling interest in protecting the First Amendment rights of instructional personnel, and that the state's ability to recruit and retain instructional personnel should be enhanced by empowering instructional personnel to pursue their First Amendment rights and to make informed decisions regarding their political and social participation within the context of exercising their collective bargaining rights. The Legislature also finds that, as a result of the recent merger and industry consolidation of the collective bargaining agents that represented instructional personnel as defined in s. 228.041, a monopoly in such services has been created in this state. Accordingly, this state must redouble its efforts to remain neutral and thereby not empower or detract from that collective bargaining agent's representational role, or from the employees' ability to be represented in the collective bargaining process by whomever they so choose.

Because of these facts and trends, the Legislature finds that the current status of instructional personnel constitutes a set of circumstances distinct and unique from any other area of public employment within this state. Therefore, the Legislature finds that with regard to instructional personnel, the deduction and collection of the certified bargaining agent's dues and uniform assessments should not be mandated by the Legislature but should be a permissive subject of collective bargaining, as otherwise restricted by this act. The Legislature further finds that the restrictions imposed by this act do not interfere with the ability of instructional personnel to be a member of a certified labor organization or to contribute directly to that organization in support of its non-collective bargaining activities.

Representative(s) Mealor and Melvin offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 965965)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Section 229.05371, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(Substantial rewording of section. See s. 229.05371, F.S., for present text.)

229.05371 The John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program.—There is established a program that is separate and distinct from the Opportunity Scholarship Program and is named the John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program, pursuant to this section.

(1) THE JOHN M. MCKAY SCHOLARSHIPS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES PROGRAM.—The John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program is established to provide the option to attend a public school other than the one to which assigned, or to provide a scholarship to a private school of choice, for students with disabilities for whom an individual education plan has been written in accordance with rules of the Commissioner of Education or the State Board of Education. Students with disabilities include K-12 students who are mentally handicapped, speech and language impaired, deaf or hard of hearing, visually impaired, dual sensory impaired, physically impaired, emotionally handicapped, specific learning disabled, hospitalized or homebound, or autistic.

(2) SCHOLARSHIP ELIGIBILITY.—The parent of a public school student with a disability who is dissatisfied with the student's progress may request and receive from the state a John M. McKay Scholarship for the child to enroll in and attend a private school in accordance with this section if:

(a) By assigned school attendance area or by special assignment, the student has spent the prior school year in attendance at a Florida public school. Prior school year in attendance means that the student was enrolled and reported by a school district for funding during the preceding October and February Florida Education Finance Program surveys in kindergarten through grade 12; and

(b) The parent has obtained acceptance for admission of the student to a private school that is eligible for the program under subsection (4) and has notified, in writing, the school district of the request for a scholarship at least 60 days prior to the date of the first scholarship payment.

This section does not apply to a student who is enrolled in a school operating for the purpose of providing educational services to youth in Department of Juvenile Justice commitment programs. For purposes of continuity of educational choice, the scholarship shall remain in force until the student returns to a public school or graduates from high school. However, at any time, the student's parent may remove the student from the private school and place the student in another private school that is eligible for the program under subsection (4) or in a public school as provided in subsection (3).

(3) SCHOOL DISTRICT AND DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION OBLIGATIONS.—

(a) A school district shall timely notify the parent of the student of all options available pursuant to this section and offer that student's parent an opportunity to enroll the student in another public school within the district. The parent is not required to accept this offer in lieu of requesting a John M. McKay Scholarship to a private school. However, if the parent chooses the public school option, the student may continue attending a public school chosen by the parent until the student graduates from high school. If the parent chooses a public school consistent with the school board's choice plan under s. 228.057, the school district will provide transportation to the public school selected by the parent. The parent is responsible to provide transportation to a public school chosen that is not consistent with the school board's choice plan under s. 228.057.

(b) For a student with disabilities who does not have a matrix of services under s. 236.025, the school district must complete a matrix that assigns the student to one of the levels of service as they existed prior to the 2000-2001 school year. The school district must complete the matrix of services for any student who is participating in the John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program and must notify the Department of Education of the student's matrix level within 30 days after receiving notification by the student's parent of intent to participate in the scholarship program. The Department of Education shall notify the private school of the amount of the scholarship within 10 days after receiving the school district's notification of the student's matrix level.

(c) If the parent chooses the private school option and the student is accepted by the private school pending the availability of a space for the student, the parent of the student must notify the school district 60 days prior to the first scholarship payment and before entering the private school in order to be eligible for the scholarship when a space becomes available for the student in the private school.

(d) The parent of a student may choose, as an alternative, to enroll the student in and transport the student to a public school in an adjacent school district which has available space and has a program with the services agreed to in the student's individual education plan already in place, and that school district shall accept the student and report the student for purposes of the district's funding pursuant to the Florida Education Finance Program.

(e) For a student in the district who participates in the John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program whose parent requests that the student take the statewide assessments under s. 229.57, the district shall provide locations and times to take all statewide assessments.

(f) A school district must notify the Department of Education within 10 days after it receives notification of a parent's intent to apply for a scholarship for a student with a disability.

(4) PRIVATE SCHOOL ELIGIBILITY.—To be eligible to participate in the John M. McKay Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program, a private school must be a Florida private school, may be sectarian or nonsectarian, and must:

(a) Demonstrate fiscal soundness by being in operation for 1 school year or provide the Department of Education with a statement by a certified public accountant confirming that the private school desiring to participate is insured and the owner or owners have sufficient capital or credit to operate the school for the upcoming year serving the number of students anticipated with expected revenues from tuition and other sources that may be reasonably expected. In lieu of such a statement, a surety bond or letter of credit for the amount equal to the scholarship funds for any quarter may be filed with the department.

(b) Notify the Department of Education of its intent to participate in the program under this section by May 1 of the school year preceding the school year in which it intends to participate. The notice must specify the grade levels and services that the private school has available for students with disabilities who are participating in the scholarship program.

(c) Comply with the antidiscrimination provisions of 42 U.S.C. s. 2000d.

(d) Meet state and local health and safety laws and codes.

(e) Be academically accountable to the parent for meeting the educational needs of the student.

(f) Employ or contract with teachers who hold baccalaureate or higher degrees, or have at least 3 years of teaching experience in public or private schools, or have special skills, knowledge, or expertise that qualifies them to provide instruction in subjects taught.

(g) Comply with all state laws relating to general regulation of private schools.

(h) Adhere to the tenets of its published disciplinary procedures prior to the expulsion of a scholarship student.

(5) OBLIGATION OF PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS.—

(a) A parent who applies for a John M. McKay Scholarship is exercising his or her parental option to place his or her child in a private school. The parent must select the private school and apply for the admission of his or her child.

(b) The parent must have requested the scholarship at least 60 days prior to the date of the first scholarship payment.

(c) Any student participating in the scholarship program must remain in attendance throughout the school year, unless excused by the school for illness or other good cause, and must comply fully with the school's code of conduct.

(d) The parent of each student participating in the scholarship program must comply fully with the private school's parental involvement requirements, unless excused by the school for illness or other good cause.

(e) If the parent requests that the student participating in the scholarship program take all statewide assessments required pursuant to s. 229.57, the parent is responsible for transporting the student to the assessment site designated by the school district.

(f) Upon receipt of a scholarship warrant, the parent to whom the warrant is made must restrictively endorse the warrant to the private school for deposit into the account of the private school.

(g) A participant who fails to comply with this subsection forfeits the scholarship.

(6) SCHOLARSHIP FUNDING AND PAYMENT.—

(a)1. The maximum scholarship granted for an eligible student with disabilities shall be a calculated amount equivalent to the base student allocation in the Florida Education Finance Program multiplied by the appropriate cost factor for the educational program that would have been provided for the student in the district school to which he or she was assigned, multiplied by the district cost differential.

2. In addition, a share of the guaranteed allocation for exceptional students shall be determined and added to the calculated amount. The calculation shall be based on the methodology and the data used to calculate the guaranteed allocation for exceptional students for each district in chapter 2000-166, Laws of Florida. The calculation shall be based on the student's grade, matrix level of services, and the difference between the 2000-2001 basic program and the appropriate level of services cost factor, multiplied by the 2000-2001 base student allocation and the 2000-2001 district cost differential for the sending district. Also, the calculated amount shall include the per-student share of Supplemental Academic Instruction funds, instructional materials funds, technology funds, and other categorical funds as provided for such purposes in the General Appropriations Act.

(b) The amount of the John M. McKay Scholarship shall be the calculated amount or the amount of the private school's tuition and fees, whichever is less. The amount of any assessment fee required by the participating private school may be paid from the total amount of the scholarship.

(c) If the participating private school requires partial payment of tuition prior to the start of the academic year to reserve space for students admitted to the school, that partial payment may be paid by the Department of Education prior to the first quarterly payment of the year in which the John M. McKay Scholarship is awarded, up to a maximum of $1,000, and deducted from subsequent scholarship payments. If a student decides not to attend the participating private school, the partial reservation payment must be returned to the Department of Education by the participating private school. There is a limit of one reservation payment per student per year.

(d) The school district shall report all students who are attending a private school under this program. The students with disabilities attending private schools on John M. McKay Scholarships shall be reported separately from other students reported for purposes of the Florida Education Finance Program.

(e) Following notification on July 1, September 1, December 1, or February 1 of the number of program participants, the Department of Education shall transfer, from General Revenue funds only, the amount calculated under paragraph (b) from the school district's total funding entitlement under the Florida Education Finance Program and from authorized categorical accounts to a separate account for the scholarship program for quarterly disbursement to the parents of participating students. When a student enters the scholarship program, the Department of Education must receive all documentation required for the student's participation, including the private school's and student's fee schedules, at least 30 days before the first quarterly scholarship payment is made for the student. The Department of Education may not make any retroactive payments.

(f) Upon proper documentation reviewed and approved by the Department of Education, the Comptroller shall make scholarship payments in four equal amounts no later than September 1, November 1, February 1, and April 15 of each academic year in which the scholarship is in force. The initial payment shall be made after Department of Education verification of admission acceptance, and subsequent payments shall be made upon verification of continued enrollment and attendance at the private school. Payment must be by individual warrant made payable to the student's parent and mailed by the Department of Education to the private school of the parent's choice, and the parent shall restrictively endorse the warrant to the private school for deposit into the account of the private school.

(7) LIABILITY.—No liability shall arise on the part of the state based on the award or use of a John M. McKay Scholarship.

(8) RULES.—The State Board of Education may adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to administer this section. However, the inclusion of eligible private schools within options available to Florida public school students does not expand the regulatory authority of the state, its officers, or any school district to impose any additional regulation of private schools beyond those reasonably necessary to enforce requirements expressly set forth in this section.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

—was read the second time by title.

(Amendment Bar Code: 374349)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Section 240.5311, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

240.5311 Learning Gateway Project.—

(1) There is created the Learning Gateway Project to provide grants to eligible universities to establish an integrated approach for health care providers and parents to lessen the effects of learning disabilities for children through prevention, early identification, early education, and appropriate intervention. Parental consent shall be required for all services provided pursuant to the Learning Gateway Project, including initial contact and further referral for evaluation and services. The selected universities shall form a statewide consortium and shall select a university with a medical program to serve as lead university for the consortium.

(2) The Learning Gateway Project shall:

(a) Be administered by the Department of Education to provide grants to eligible state universities for the purpose of developing a statewide catalog of programs, resources, and funds that assist children with learning disabilities. The state universities identified in the Learning Gateway Project shall work collaboratively to develop this project and use the expertise, resources, faculty, and students within the universities to develop the project. Under the direction of the Learning Gateway Project, the participating universities may use their students to design brochures, perform research, collect data on community resources and programs, and develop and maintain a website, through coordination with the State Technology Office, to give parents, teachers, and practitioners information about early warning signs of learning disabilities, Learning Gateway Centers, and community-based programs.

(b) Work collaboratively with representatives of state and local agencies and private programs to develop a comprehensive list of regional providers.

(c) Identify the factors that interfere with or inhibit normal development and learning. The Learning Gateway Project shall bring together research that integrates the disciplines relevant to the diagnosis, causes, treatment, and intervention of early learning disabilities.

(d) Provide physicians, health care personnel, and school personnel with medical and nonmedical intervention strategies that help identify such factors as diet, noise, environmental contaminants and allergies which inhibit learning. Such information shall be prepared so that it can be appropriately presented as part of routine clinic sessions for immunization visits and visits under the "Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children" (WIC) under s. 383.011 and other well-child appointments.

(e) Identify the elements of an effective research-based curriculum for each learning disability.

(f) Develop a model system of care, through the establishment of regional Learning Gateway Centers, that builds upon, integrates, and identifies the gaps in existing services.

(g) Develop two brochures and a website, in coordination with the State Technology Office, to distribute information.

1. One brochure shall be designed to educate parents and caretakers about the importance of prenatal care and nutrition and shall identify the early warning signs of disabilities that may lead to learning disabilities and developmental delays. This brochure shall be distributed to parents through early childhood programs administered by the Department of Education, the Department of Health, the Florida Partnership for School Readiness, the Agency for Workforce Innovation, the Department of Children and Family Services, the Agency for Health Care Administration, the Department of Juvenile Justice, the Department of Corrections, and the Learning Development and Evaluation Center of Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University.

2. One brochure shall be developed to provide physicians, parents, and teachers information on the Learning Gateway Project and the Learning Gateway Centers, as well as all the programs, facilities, resources, and services available within each identified service area.

3. The website shall provide ready access for parents, physicians, teachers, and caretakers to information regarding the Learning Gateway Project and the Learning Gateway Centers for the purpose of referral and information on the learning disabilities addressed by the project. It shall itemize the resources available for intervention, diagnosis, and treatment, as well as regional listings of available related services and providers, indexed by learning disability.

(3)(a) The Learning Gateway Centers shall develop a network of all available services within each identified service area and submit the list and description to the Learning Gateway Project for inclusion in the website for the programs available to parents, physicians, and other health care providers. The Learning Gateway Centers shall use the list to refer parents to programs or facilities appropriate to meet their child's needs. For the purpose of serving areas of the state where no services currently exist or where the private providers lack the expertise to diagnose and provide strategies for improved learning, each participating university may use Learning Gateway Project funds to expand the current services provided through the university to set up clinics on site or at other locations to diagnose learning disabilities while providing students an opportunity to intern. Participating universities with comprehensive schools that can diagnose difficult problems may expand existing clinics to serve as a resource for children with specialized problems and their parents when services are not available from public or private local providers within the regional Learning Gateway Center. The regional Learning Gateway Centers may provide services to parents, physicians, and other health care providers where there is a gap in the service available from public and private providers. The Learning Gateway Centers may provide direct service to children who do not receive coverage under state, federal, or private insurance or may contract for specialty services. Centers may also provide for services to children whose parents are dissatisfied with their present services.

(b) Learning Gateway Centers shall be the single point of access for screening, assessment, integration of services, linkages of providers, referrals, and services required to address the needs of the children and families, using faculty, graduate students, and other professionals as needed. The Learning Gateway Centers shall provide to parents and physicians a one-stop referral center to provide accurate information on public and private professionals who can assist in determining the physical, emotional, nutritional, environmental, and mental factors that may be interfering with learning and normal development.

(c) Staff of the Learning Gateway Centers must be knowledgeable about child development, early identification of learning disabilities, access to needed health care services and health insurance coverage for such services, and state and federal funds available for services in the local area. If the following services are not provided by existing service systems, with the permission of the parent, the Learning Gateway Centers shall:

1. Conduct appropriate screening or refer for such services.

2. Develop family resource plans.

3. Make referrals for needed services and assist families in the application process.

4. Provide educational and training classes for parents, teachers, and caretakers.

(d) The specific services and supports provided by the Learning Gateway Centers may include:

1. Speech and language therapy that is appropriate.

2. Comprehensive medical screening and referral.

3. Referral as needed for family therapy, other mental health services, and treatment programs.

4. Therapy for learning differences in reading and math, and attention to subject material for children in grades K-3.

5. Referral for services pursuant to Part B or Part C of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, as required.

(e) The Learning Gateway Centers shall designate a central information and referral access phone number for each center, to be used to improve access to local supports and services for children and their families.

(f) When results of screening suggest developmental problems, potential learning problems, or learning disabilities, the intervention program, with permission of the parent, shall refer the child to the regional Learning Gateway Center for coordination of further assessment. The Learning Gateway Center shall make referrals to the appropriate entities within the service system.

(g) The Learning Gateway Centers shall provide regional training and updates concerning effective instructional and behavioral practices and interventions based on advances in the field and for encouraging researchers to regularly guide practitioners in designing and implementing research-based practices.

(4) By January 2003, the Learning Gateway Project shall report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Commissioner of Education on the progress, success, and integration of services; the number, types, and outcomes of children served by the Learning Gateway Centers; and the number and types of referrals made through the project.

(5) The Learning Gateway Project must develop a comprehensive list of services and funding sources available to provide services for children. Relevant state agencies shall assist the Learning Gateway Project in securing state and federal waivers as appropriate.

(6) This project shall be implemented subject to the General Appropriations Act.

Section 2. By October 15, 2001, the Florida Department of Education shall finalize all administrative rule revisions necessary to properly implement the 1997 amendments to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

Section 3. By October 15, 2001, the Florida Department of Education shall report to the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate the additional rule authority it needs, if any, to implement the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

Section 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:

used for part-time teaching positions. The intent of this provision is to allow school districts to tap the wealth of talent and expertise represented in Florida's citizens who may wish to teach part-time in a Florida public school by permitting school districts to issue adjunct certificates. Adjunct certificateholders should be used as a strategy to reduce the teacher shortage, thus, adjunct certificateholders should supplement a school's instructional staff, not supplant it. Each school principal shall assign an experienced peer mentor to assist the adjunct teaching certificateholder during the certificateholder's first year of teaching and an adjunct certificateholder may participate in a district's new teacher training program. (4) NOTICE OF TREATMENT TO CARRIER; FILING WITH DIVISION.—

(a) Any health care provider providing necessary remedial treatment, care, or attendance to any injured worker shall submit treatment reports to the carrier in a format and on forms prescribed by the division in consultation with the agency. A claim for medical or surgical treatment is not valid or enforceable against such employer or employee, unless, by the close of the third business day following the first treatment, the physician providing the treatment furnishes to the employer or carrier a preliminary notice of the injury and treatment on forms prescribed by the division and, within 15 days thereafter, furnishes to the employer or carrier a complete report, and subsequent thereto furnishes progress reports, if requested by the employer or insurance carrier, at intervals of not less than 3 weeks apart or at less frequent intervals if requested on forms prescribed by the division.

(b) Each medical report or bill obtained or received by the employer, the carrier, or the injured employee, or the attorney for the employer, carrier, or injured employee, with respect to the remedial treatment or care of the injured employee, including any report of an examination, diagnosis, or disability evaluation, must be filed with the Division of Workers' Compensation pursuant to rules adopted by the division in consultation with the agency. The health care provider shall also furnish to the injured employee or to his or her attorney, on demand, a copy of his or her office chart, records, and reports, and may charge the injured employee an amount authorized by the division for the copies. Each such health care provider shall provide to the agency or the division any additional information about the remedial treatment, care, and attendance that the agency or the division reasonably requests.

(c) It is the policy for the administration of the workers' compensation system that there be reasonable access to medical information by all parties to facilitate the self-executing features of the law. Notwithstanding the limitations in s. 456.057 and subject to the limitations in s. 381.004, upon the request of the employer, the carrier, or the attorney for either of them, the medical records of an injured employee must be furnished to those persons and the medical condition of the injured employee must be discussed with those persons, if the records and the discussions are restricted to conditions relating to the workplace injury. Any such discussions may be held before or after the filing of a claim without the knowledge, consent, or presence of any other party or his or her agent or representative. A health care provider who willfully refuses to provide medical records or to discuss the medical condition of the injured employee, after a reasonable request is made for such information pursuant to this subsection, shall be subject by the division to one or more of the penalties set forth in paragraph (8)(b).

Section 1. (1) The Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security is transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Insurance, except as otherwise provided in this section. The transfers to the Department of Insurance shall include all resources, data, records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, or other funds. No personnel are transferred to the Department of Insurance. The employees of the Department of Labor and Employment Security's Division of Workers' Compensation, Office of the Secretary, Office of Administrative Services, and Office of General Counsel employed by the Department of Labor and Employment Security as of March 1, 2001 may be given hiring priority by the Department of Insurance, and at least 300 of these employees shall be offered employment by the Department of Insurance, effective October 1, 2001. To the extent feasible, the positions established by the Department of Insurance will be at pay grades comparable to the positions established by the Department of Labor and Employment Security based on the classification code and specifications of the positions for work to be performed at the Department of Insurance. Offers of employment to the 300 employees must be tendered no later than August 15, 2001. The Department of Labor and Employment Security shall offer, and if accepted provide, job placement assistance to those employees not offered employment by the Department of Insurance. After October 1, 2001, such assistance, upon request, shall be provided to these employees by the Agency for Workforce Innovation. The Department of Insurance shall determine the number of positions needed to administer the provisions of chapter 440, Florida Statutes. The number of positions the department determines is needed may not exceed the number of authorized positions and salary and benefits that was authorized for the Division of Workers' Compensation within the Department of Labor and Employment Security prior to the transfer. Upon transfer of the Division of Workers' Compensation, the number of required positions as determined by the department shall be authorized within the agency. The Department of Insurance is further authorized to reassign, reorganize, or otherwise transfer positions to appropriate administrative subdivisions within the department and to establish such regional offices as are necessary to properly enforce and administer its responsibilities under the Florida Insurance Code and chapter 440, Florida Statutes. The department may also enter into contracts with public or private entities to administer its duties and responsibilities associated with the transfer of the Division of Workers' Compensation. All existing contracts related to those functions that are transferred to the Department of Insurance are subject to cancellation or renewal upon review by the Department of Insurance.

(2) Three senior attorney positions and one administrative assistant III position, and the related property and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds, are transferred from the Office of General Counsel of the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Insurance by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes.

(3) The Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims is transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services.

(4) Four positions within the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security responsible for coding or entering data contained within final orders issued by the judges of compensation claims are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims within the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services.

(5) Ten positions within the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security responsible for receiving and preparing docketing orders for the petitions for benefits and for receiving and entering data related to the petitions for benefits are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims within the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services.

(6) Four positions within the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security responsible for financial management, accounting, and budgeting for the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims within the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services.

(7) Twenty-nine full-time equivalent positions from the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security and the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds related to oversight of medical services in workers' compensation provider relations, dispute and complaint resolution, program evaluation, and data management are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Agency for Health Care Administration. However, the claims review functions and three-member panel shall not be so transferred and shall be retained by the Department of Insurance.

(8) All statutory powers, duties, functions, rules, records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Division of Workers' Compensation, Office of Medical Services and Rehabilitation, related to reemployment, training and education, obligations to rehire, and preferred worker requirements, consisting of 98 full-time equivalent positions, are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Education.

(9) Except as provided in this section, the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions of the Division of Workers' Compensation are transferred by a type two transfer as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Insurance. The Department of Insurance, in consultation with the Department of Labor and Employment Security, shall determine the number of positions needed for administrative support of the programs within the Division of Workers' Compensation as transferred to the Department of Insurance. The number of administrative support positions that the Department of Insurance determines is needed may not exceed the number of administrative support positions that was authorized for the Department of Labor and Employment Security for this purpose prior to the transfer. Upon transfer of the Division of Workers' Compensation, the number of required administrative support positions as determined by the Department of Insurance shall be authorized within the Department of Insurance.

(10) All the personnel, records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsections (7) and (8) to the Department of Education are transferred by a type two transfer as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Education.

(11) The records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsection (7) to the Agency for Health Care Administration are transferred by a type two transfer as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Agency for Health Care Administration.

(12) Effective July 1, 2001, all powers, duties, functions, rules, records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Unemployment Appeals Commission relating to the commission's specified authority, powers, duties, and responsibilities are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Agency for Workforce Innovation.

(13) Effective July 1, 2001, all powers, duties, functions, rules, records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Public Employees Relations Commission relating to the commission's specified authority, powers, duties, and responsibilities are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Management Services.

(14) Effective July 1, 2001, the Office of Information Systems is transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the State Technology Office.

(15)(a) Effective July 1, 2001, the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsection (12) to the Agency for Workforce Innovation are transferred as provided in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Agency for Workforce Innovation.

(b) Effective July 1, 2001, the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsection (13) to the Department of Management Services are transferred as provided in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Management Services.

(c) Effective July 1, 2001, the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsection (14) to the State Technology Office are transferred as provided in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the State Technology Office.

(16) This act does not affect the validity of any judicial or administrative proceeding involving the Department of Labor and Employment Security, which is pending as of the effective date of any transfer under this act. The successor department, agency, or entity responsible for the program, activity, or function relative to the proceeding shall be substituted, as of the effective date of the applicable transfer under this act, for the Department of Labor and Employment Security as a party in interest in any such proceedings.

(17) Effective July 1, 2001, eleven full-time equivalent positions from the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security, and the powers, duties, functions, rules, records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds related to the administration of child labor laws under chapter 450, Florida Statutes, are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation.

(18) Effective July 1, 2001, thirty full-time equivalent positions from the Compliance and Enforcement Program in the Office of the Secretary and Administrative Services and one senior attorney and one administrative secretary from the Office of General Counsel in the Office of the Secretary and Administrative Services, and the powers, duties, functions, rules, records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Office of the Secretary and Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security related to the regulation of labor organizations under chapter 447, Florida Statutes, and the administration of migrant labor and farm labor laws under chapter 450, Florida Statutes, are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06 (2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation.

(19) Effective July 1, 2001, any other powers, duties, functions, rules, records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds of the Department of Labor and Employment Security not otherwise transferred by this act, relating to workplace regulation and enforcement, including, but not limited to, those under chapter 448, Florida Statutes, are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation.

(20) Effective July 1, 2001, the records, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds and resources of the Office of the Secretary and Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security which support the activities and functions transferred under subsections (17), (18), and (19) to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation are transferred as provided in section 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation.

(21) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any binding contract or interagency agreement existing on or before October 1, 2001, between the Department of Labor and Employment Security, or an entity or agent of the department, and any other agency, entity, or person shall continue as a binding contract or agreement for the remainder of the term of such contract or agreement with the successor department, agency, or entity responsible for the program, activity, or functions relative to the contract or agreement.

Section 2. Paragraph (k) is added to subsection (2) of section 20.13, Florida Statutes, to read:

20.13 Department of Insurance.—There is created a Department of Insurance.

(2) The following divisions of the Department of Insurance are established:

(k) Division of Workers' Compensation.

Section 3. Section 20.171, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 4. Paragraph (l) of subsection (2) of section 110.205, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

110.205 Career service; exemptions.—

(2) EXEMPT POSITIONS.—The exempt positions which are not covered by this part include the following, provided that no position, except for positions established for a limited period of time pursuant to paragraph (h), shall be exempted if the position reports to a position in the career service:

(l) All assistant division director, deputy division director, and bureau chief positions in any department, and those positions determined by the department to have managerial responsibilities comparable to such positions, which positions include, but are not limited to, positions in the Department of Health, the Department of Children and Family Services, and the Department of Corrections that are assigned primary duties of serving as the superintendent or assistant superintendent, or warden or assistant warden, of an institution; positions in the Department of Corrections that are assigned primary duties of serving as the circuit administrator or deputy circuit administrator; positions in the Department of Transportation that are assigned primary duties of serving as regional toll managers and managers of offices as defined in s. 20.23(3)(d)3. and (4)(d); positions in the Department of Environmental Protection that are assigned the duty of an Environmental Administrator or program administrator; ~~those positions described in s. 20.171 as included in the Senior Management Service;~~ and positions in the Department of Health that are assigned the duties of Environmental Administrator, Assistant County Health Department Director, and County Health Department Financial Administrator. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules established for the Selected Exempt Service.

Section 5. Section 440.015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.015 Legislative intent.—It is the intent of the Legislature that the Workers' Compensation Law be interpreted so as to assure the quick and efficient delivery of disability and medical benefits to an injured worker and to facilitate the worker's return to gainful reemployment at a reasonable cost to the employer. It is the specific intent of the Legislature that workers' compensation cases shall be decided on their merits. The workers' compensation system in Florida is based on a mutual renunciation of common-law rights and defenses by employers and employees alike. In addition, it is the intent of the Legislature that the facts in a workers' compensation case are not to be interpreted liberally in favor of either the rights of the injured worker or the rights of the employer. Additionally, the Legislature hereby declares that disputes concerning the facts in workers' compensation cases are not to be given a broad liberal construction in favor of the employee on the one hand or of the employer on the other hand, and the laws pertaining to workers' compensation are to be construed in accordance with the basic principles of statutory construction and not liberally in favor of either employee or employer. It is the intent of the Legislature to ensure the prompt delivery of benefits to the injured worker. Therefore, an efficient and self-executing system must be created which is not an economic or administrative burden. The Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Insurance, the Department of Education, and the Agency for Health Care Administration shall administer the Workers' Compensation Law in a manner that ~~which~~ facilitates the self-execution of the system and the process of ensuring a prompt and cost-effective delivery of payments.

Section 6. Subsections (11), (13), and (14) of section 440.02, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (40) is added to that section, to read:

440.02 Definitions.—When used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(11) "Department" means the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(13) "Division" means the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(14)(a) "Employee" means any person engaged in any employment under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and includes, but is not limited to, aliens and minors.

(b) "Employee" includes any person who is an officer of a corporation and who performs services for remuneration for such corporation within this state, whether or not such services are continuous.

1. Any officer of a corporation may elect to be exempt from this chapter by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05.

2. As to officers of a corporation who are actively engaged in the construction industry, no more than three officers may elect to be exempt from this chapter by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05.

3. An officer of a corporation who elects to be exempt from this chapter by filing a written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05 is not an employee.

Services are presumed to have been rendered to the corporation if the officer is compensated by other than dividends upon shares of stock of the corporation which the officer owns.

(c) "Employee" includes a sole proprietor or a partner who devotes full time to the proprietorship or partnership and, except as provided in this paragraph, elects to be included in the definition of employee by filing notice thereof as provided in s. 440.05. Partners or sole proprietors actively engaged in the construction industry are considered employees unless they elect to be excluded from the definition of employee by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05. However, no more than three partners in a partnership that is actively engaged in the construction industry may elect to be excluded. A sole proprietor or partner who is actively engaged in the construction industry and who elects to be exempt from this chapter by filing a written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05 is not an employee. For purposes of this chapter, an independent contractor is an employee unless he or she meets all of the conditions set forth in subparagraph (d)1.

(d) "Employee" does not include:

1. An independent contractor, if:

a. The independent contractor maintains a separate business with his or her own work facility, truck, equipment, materials, or similar accommodations;

b. The independent contractor holds or has applied for a federal employer identification number, unless the independent contractor is a sole proprietor who is not required to obtain a federal employer identification number under state or federal requirements;

c. The independent contractor performs or agrees to perform specific services or work for specific amounts of money and controls the means of performing the services or work;

d. The independent contractor incurs the principal expenses related to the service or work that he or she performs or agrees to perform;

e. The independent contractor is responsible for the satisfactory completion of work or services that he or she performs or agrees to perform and is or could be held liable for a failure to complete the work or services;

f. The independent contractor receives compensation for work or services performed for a commission or on a per-job or competitive-bid basis and not on any other basis;

g. The independent contractor may realize a profit or suffer a loss in connection with performing work or services;

h. The independent contractor has continuing or recurring business liabilities or obligations; and

i. The success or failure of the independent contractor's business depends on the relationship of business receipts to expenditures.

However, the determination as to whether an individual included in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual of 1987, Industry Numbers 0711, 0721, 0722, 0751, 0761, 0762, 0781, 0782, 0783, 0811, 0831, 0851, 2411, 2421, 2435, 2436, 2448, or 2449, or a newspaper delivery person, is an independent contractor is governed not by the criteria in this paragraph but by common-law principles, giving due consideration to the business activity of the individual.

2. A real estate salesperson or agent, if that person agrees, in writing, to perform for remuneration solely by way of commission.

3. Bands, orchestras, and musical and theatrical performers, including disk jockeys, performing in licensed premises as defined in chapter 562, if a written contract evidencing an independent contractor relationship is entered into before the commencement of such entertainment.

4. An owner-operator of a motor vehicle who transports property under a written contract with a motor carrier which evidences a relationship by which the owner-operator assumes the responsibility of an employer for the performance of the contract, if the owner-operator is required to furnish the necessary motor vehicle equipment and all costs incidental to the performance of the contract, including, but not limited to, fuel, taxes, licenses, repairs, and hired help; and the owner-operator is paid a commission for transportation service and is not paid by the hour or on some other time-measured basis.

5. A person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession, or occupation of the employer.

6. A volunteer, except a volunteer worker for the state or a county, municipality, or other governmental entity. A person who does not receive monetary remuneration for services is presumed to be a volunteer unless there is substantial evidence that a valuable consideration was intended by both employer and employee. For purposes of this chapter, the term "volunteer" includes, but is not limited to:

a. Persons who serve in private nonprofit agencies and who receive no compensation other than expenses in an amount less than or equivalent to the standard mileage and per diem expenses provided to salaried employees in the same agency or, if such agency does not have salaried employees who receive mileage and per diem, then such volunteers who receive no compensation other than expenses in an amount less than or equivalent to the customary mileage and per diem paid to salaried workers in the community as determined by the department ~~division~~; and

b. Volunteers participating in federal programs established under Pub. L. No. 93-113.

7. Any officer of a corporation who elects to be exempt from this chapter.

8. A sole proprietor or officer of a corporation who actively engages in the construction industry, and a partner in a partnership that is actively engaged in the construction industry, who elects to be exempt from the provisions of this chapter. Such sole proprietor, officer, or partner is not an employee for any reason until the notice of revocation of election filed pursuant to s. 440.05 is effective.

9. An exercise rider who does not work for a single horse farm or breeder, and who is compensated for riding on a case-by-case basis, provided a written contract is entered into prior to the commencement of such activity which evidences that an employee/employer relationship does not exist.

10. A taxicab, limousine, or other passenger vehicle-for-hire driver who operates said vehicles pursuant to a written agreement with a company which provides any dispatch, marketing, insurance, communications, or other services under which the driver and any fees or charges paid by the driver to the company for such services are not conditioned upon, or expressed as a proportion of, fare revenues.

(40) "Agency" means the Agency for Health Care Administration.

Section 7. Section 440.021, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.021 Exemption of workers' compensation from chapter 120.—Workers' compensation adjudications by judges of compensation claims are exempt from chapter 120, and no judge of compensation claims shall be considered an agency or a part thereof. Communications of the result of investigations by the department ~~division~~ pursuant to s. 440.185(4) are exempt from chapter 120. In all instances in which the department ~~division~~ institutes action to collect a penalty or interest which may be due pursuant to this chapter, the penalty or interest shall be assessed without hearing, and the party against which such penalty or interest is assessed shall be given written notice of such assessment and shall have the right to protest within 20 days of such notice. Upon receipt of a timely notice of protest and after such investigation as may be necessary, the department ~~division~~ shall, if it agrees with such protest, notify the protesting party that the assessment has been revoked. If the department ~~division~~ does not agree with the protest, it shall refer the matter to the judge of compensation claims for determination pursuant to s. 440.25(2)-(5). Such action of the department ~~division~~ is exempt from the provisions of chapter 120.

Section 8. Section 440.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.05 Election of exemption; revocation of election; notice; certification.—

(1) Each corporate officer who elects not to accept the provisions of this chapter or who, after electing such exemption, revokes that exemption shall mail to the department ~~division~~ in Tallahassee notice to such effect in accordance with a form to be prescribed by the department ~~division~~.

(2) Each sole proprietor or partner who elects to be included in the definition of "employee" or who, after such election, revokes that election must mail to the department ~~division~~ in Tallahassee notice to such effect, in accordance with a form to be prescribed by the department ~~division~~.

(3) Each sole proprietor, partner, or officer of a corporation who is actively engaged in the construction industry and who elects an exemption from this chapter or who, after electing such exemption, revokes that exemption, must mail a written notice to such effect to the department ~~division~~ on a form prescribed by the department ~~division~~ notice of election to be exempt from the provisions of this chapter must be notarized and under oath. The notice of election to be exempt which is submitted to the department ~~division~~ by the sole proprietor, partner, or officer of a corporation must list the name, federal tax identification number, social security number, all certified or registered licenses issued pursuant to chapter 489 held by the person seeking the exemption, a copy of relevant documentation as to employment status filed with the Internal Revenue Service as specified by the department ~~division~~, a copy of the relevant occupational license in the primary jurisdiction of the business, and, for corporate officers and partners, the registration number of the corporation or partnership filed with the Division of Corporations of the Department of State. The notice of election to be exempt must identify each sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation that employs the person electing the exemption and must list the social security number or federal tax identification number of each such employer and the additional documentation required by this section. In addition, the notice of election to be exempt must provide that the sole proprietor, partner, or officer electing an exemption is not entitled to benefits under this chapter, must provide that the election does not exceed exemption limits for officers and partnerships provided in s. 440.02, and must certify that any employees of the sole proprietor, partner, or officer electing an exemption are covered by workers' compensation insurance. Upon receipt of the notice of the election to be exempt, receipt of all application fees, and a determination by the department ~~division~~ that the notice meets the requirements of this subsection, the department ~~division~~ shall issue a certification of the election to the sole proprietor, partner, or officer, unless the department ~~division~~ determines that the information contained in the notice is invalid. The department ~~division~~ shall revoke a certificate of election to be exempt from coverage upon a determination by the department ~~division~~ that the person does not meet the requirements for exemption or that the information contained in the notice of election to be exempt is invalid. The certificate of election must list the names of the sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation listed in the request for exemption. A new certificate of election must be obtained each time the person is employed by a new sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation that is not listed on the certificate of election. A copy of the certificate of election must be sent to each workers' compensation carrier identified in the request for exemption. Upon filing a notice of revocation of election, a sole proprietor, partner, or officer who is a subcontractor must notify her or his contractor. Upon revocation of a certificate of election of exemption by the department ~~division~~, the department ~~division~~ shall notify the workers' compensation carriers identified in the request for exemption.

(4) The notice of election to be exempt from the provisions of this chapter must contain a notice that clearly states in substance the following: "Any person who, knowingly and with intent to injure, defraud, or deceive the department ~~division~~ or any employer or employee, insurance company, or purposes program, files a notice of election to be exempt containing any false or misleading information is guilty of a felony of the third degree." Each person filing a notice of election to be exempt shall personally sign the notice and attest that he or she has reviewed, understands, and acknowledges the foregoing notice.

(5) A notice given under subsection (1), subsection (2), or subsection (3) shall become effective when issued by the department ~~division~~ or 30 days after an application for an exemption is received by the department ~~division~~, whichever occurs first. However, if an accident or occupational disease occurs less than 30 days after the effective date of the insurance policy under which the payment of compensation is secured or the date the employer qualified as a self-insurer, such notice is effective as of 12:01 a.m. of the day following the date it is mailed to the department ~~division~~ in Tallahassee.

(6) A construction industry certificate of election to be exempt which is issued in accordance with this section shall be valid for 2 years after the effective date stated thereon. Both the effective date and the expiration date must be listed on the face of the certificate by the department ~~division~~. The construction industry certificate must expire at midnight, 2 years from its issue date, as noted on the face of the exemption certificate. Any person who has received from the department ~~division~~ a construction industry certificate of election to be exempt which is in effect on December 31, 1998, shall file a new notice of election to be exempt by the last day in his or her birth month following December 1, 1998. A construction industry certificate of election to be exempt may be revoked before its expiration by the sole proprietor, partner, or officer for whom it was issued or by the department ~~division~~ for the reasons stated in this section. At least 60 days prior to the expiration date of a construction industry certificate of exemption issued after December 1, 1998, the department ~~division~~ shall send notice of the expiration date and an application for renewal to the certificateholder at the address on the certificate.

(7) Any contractor responsible for compensation under s. 440.10 may register in writing with the workers' compensation carrier for any subcontractor and shall thereafter be entitled to receive written notice from the carrier of any cancellation or nonrenewal of the policy.

(8)(a) The department ~~division~~ must assess a fee of $50 with each request for a construction industry certificate of election to be exempt or renewal of election to be exempt under this section.

(b) The funds collected by the department ~~division~~ shall be used to administer this section, to audit the businesses that pay the fee for compliance with any requirements of this chapter, and to enforce compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

(9) The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe forms and procedures for filing an election of exemption, revocation of election to be exempt, and notice of election of coverage for all employers and require specified forms to be submitted by all employers in filing for the election of exemption. The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe forms and procedures for issuing a certificate of the election of exemption.

Section 9. Paragraph (d) of subsection (7) of section 440.09, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(d) The department ~~division~~ shall provide by rule for the authorization and regulation of drug-testing policies, procedures, and methods. Testing of injured employees shall not commence until such rules are adopted.

Section 10. Paragraphs (f) and (g) of subsection (1) of section 440.10, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.10 Liability for compensation.—

(f) If an employer willfully fails to secure compensation as required by this chapter, the department ~~division~~ may assess against the employer a penalty not to exceed $5,000 for each employee of that employer who is classified by the employer as an independent contractor but who is found by the department ~~division~~ to not meet the criteria for an independent contractor that are set forth in s. 440.02.

(g) For purposes of this section, a person is conclusively presumed to be an independent contractor if:

1. The independent contractor provides the general contractor with an affidavit stating that he or she meets all the requirements of s. 440.02(14)(d); and

2. The independent contractor provides the general contractor with a valid certificate of workers' compensation insurance or a valid certificate of exemption issued by the department ~~division~~.

A sole proprietor, partner, or officer of a corporation who elects exemption from this chapter by filing a certificate of election under s. 440.05 may not recover benefits or compensation under this chapter. An independent contractor who provides the general contractor with both an affidavit stating that he or she meets the requirements of s. 440.02(14)(d) and a certificate of exemption is not an employee under s. 440.02(14)(c) and may not recover benefits under this chapter. For purposes of determining the appropriate premium for workers' compensation coverage, carriers may not consider any person who meets the requirements of this paragraph to be an employee.

Section 11. Subsection (2), paragraph (a) of subsection (3), and paragraph (g) of subsection (7) of section 440.102, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.102 Drug-free workplace program requirements.—The following provisions apply to a drug-free workplace program implemented pursuant to law or to rules adopted by the Agency for Health Care Administration:

(2) DRUG TESTING.—An employer may test an employee or job applicant for any drug described in paragraph (1)(c). In order to qualify as having established a drug-free workplace program which affords an employer the ability to qualify for the discounts provided under s. 627.0915 and deny medical and indemnity benefits, under this chapter all drug testing conducted by employers shall be in conformity with the standards and procedures established in this section and all applicable rules adopted pursuant to this section. However, an employer does not have a legal duty under this section to request an employee or job applicant to undergo drug testing. If an employer fails to maintain a drug-free workplace program in accordance with the standards and procedures established in this section and in applicable rules, the employer shall not be eligible for discounts under s. 627.0915. All employers qualifying for and receiving discounts provided under s. 627.0915 must be reported annually by the insurer to the department ~~division~~.

(3) NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES AND JOB APPLICANTS.—

(a) One time only, prior to testing, an employer shall give all employees and job applicants for employment a written policy statement which contains:

1. A general statement of the employer's policy on employee drug use, which must identify:

a. The types of drug testing an employee or job applicant may be required to submit to, including reasonable-suspicion drug testing or drug testing conducted on any other basis.

b. The actions the employer may take against an employee or job applicant on the basis of a positive confirmed drug test result.

2. A statement advising the employee or job applicant of the existence of this section.

3. A general statement concerning confidentiality.

4. Procedures for employees and job applicants to confidentially report to a medical review officer the use of prescription or nonprescription medications to a medical review officer both before and after being tested.

5. A list of the most common medications, by brand name or common name, as applicable, as well as by chemical name, which may alter or affect a drug test. A list of such medications as developed by the Agency for Health Care Administration shall be available to employers through the Division of Workers' Compensation ~~of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~.

6. The consequences of refusing to submit to a drug test.

7. A representative sampling of names, addresses, and telephone numbers of employee assistance programs and local drug rehabilitation programs.

8. A statement that an employee or job applicant who receives a positive confirmed test result may contest or explain the result to the medical review officer within 5 working days after receiving written notification of the test result; that if an employee's or job applicant's explanation or challenge is unsatisfactory to the medical review officer, the medical review officer shall report a positive test result back to the employer; and that a person may contest the drug test result pursuant to law or to rules adopted by the Agency for Health Care Administration.

9. A statement informing the employee or job applicant of his or her responsibility to notify the laboratory of any administrative or civil action brought pursuant to this section.

10. A list of all drugs for which the employer will test, described by brand name or common name, as applicable, as well as by chemical name.

11. A statement regarding any applicable collective bargaining agreement or contract and the right to appeal to the Public Employees Relations Commission or applicable court.

12. A statement notifying employees and job applicants of their right to consult with a medical review officer for technical information regarding prescription or nonprescription medication.

(7) EMPLOYER PROTECTION.—

(g) This section does not prohibit an employer from conducting medical screening or other tests required, permitted, or not disallowed by any statute, rule, or regulation for the purpose of monitoring exposure of employees to toxic or other unhealthy substances in the workplace or in the performance of job responsibilities. Such screening or testing is limited to the specific substances expressly identified in the applicable statute, rule, or regulation, unless prior written consent of the employee is obtained for other tests. Such screening or testing need not be in compliance with the rules adopted by the Agency for Health Care Administration under this chapter or under s. 112.0455. A public employer may, through the use of an unbiased selection procedure, conduct random drug tests of employees occupying safety-sensitive or special-risk positions if the testing is performed in accordance with drug-testing rules adopted by the Agency for Health Care Administration and the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~. If applicable, random drug testing must be specified in a collective bargaining agreement as negotiated by the appropriate certified bargaining agent before such testing is implemented.

Section 12. Section 440.103, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.103 Building permits; identification of minimum premium policy.—Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, every employer shall, as a condition to receiving a building permit, show proof that it has secured compensation for its employees under this chapter as provided in ss. 440.10 and 440.38. Such proof of compensation must be evidenced by a certificate of coverage issued by the carrier, a valid exemption certificate approved by the division or the department, or a copy of the employer's authority to self-insure and shall be presented each time the employer applies for a building permit. As provided in s. 627.413(5), each certificate of coverage must show, on its face, whether or not coverage is secured under the minimum premium provisions of rules adopted by rating organizations licensed by the Department of Insurance. The words "minimum premium policy" or equivalent language shall be typed, printed, stamped, or legibly handwritten.

Section 13. Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 440.105, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.105 Prohibited activities; reports; penalties; limitations.—

(2) Whoever violates any provision of this subsection commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any employer to knowingly:

1. Coerce or attempt to coerce, as a precondition to employment or otherwise, an employee to obtain a certificate of election of exemption pursuant to s. 440.05.

2. Discharge or refuse to hire an employee or job applicant because the employee or applicant has filed a claim for benefits under this chapter.

3. Discharge, discipline, or take any other adverse personnel action against any employee for disclosing information to the department ~~division~~ or any law enforcement agency relating to any violation or suspected violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or rules promulgated hereunder.

4. Violate a stop-work order issued by the department ~~division~~ pursuant to s. 440.107.

Section 14. Subsections (3) and (4) of section 440.106, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.106 Civil remedies; administrative penalties.—

(3) Whenever any group or individual self-insurer, carrier, rating bureau, or agent or other representative of any carrier or rating bureau is determined to have violated s. 440.105, the department ~~of Insurance~~ may revoke or suspend the authority or certification of any group or individual self-insurer, carrier, agent, or broker.

(4) The department ~~division~~ shall report any contractor determined in violation of requirements of this chapter to the appropriate state licensing board for disciplinary action.

Section 15. Section 440.107, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.107 Department ~~Division~~ powers to enforce employer compliance with coverage requirements.—

(1) The Legislature finds that the failure of an employer to comply with the workers' compensation coverage requirements under this chapter poses an immediate danger to public health, safety, and welfare. The Legislature authorizes the department ~~division~~ to secure employer compliance with the workers' compensation coverage requirements and authorizes the department ~~division~~ to conduct investigations for the purpose of ensuring employer compliance.

(2) The department ~~division~~ and its authorized representatives may enter and inspect any place of business at any reasonable time for the limited purpose of investigating compliance with workers' compensation coverage requirements under this chapter. Each employer shall keep true and accurate business records that contain such information as the department ~~division~~ prescribes by rule. The business records must contain information necessary for the department ~~division~~ to determine compliance with workers' compensation coverage requirements and must be maintained within this state by the business, in such a manner as to be accessible within a reasonable time upon request by the department ~~division~~. The business records must be open to inspection and be available for copying by the department ~~division~~ at any reasonable time and place and as often as necessary. The department ~~division~~ may require from any employer any sworn or unsworn reports, pertaining to persons employed by that employer, deemed necessary for the effective administration of the workers' compensation coverage requirements.

(3) In discharging its duties, the department ~~division~~ may administer oaths and affirmations, certify to official acts, issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records deemed necessary by the department ~~division~~ as evidence in order to ensure proper compliance with the coverage provisions of this chapter.

(4) If a person has refused to obey a subpoena to appear before the department ~~division~~ or its authorized representative and produce evidence requested by the department ~~division~~ or to give testimony about the matter that is under investigation, a court has jurisdiction to issue an order requiring compliance with the subpoena if the court has jurisdiction in the geographical area where the inquiry is being carried on or in the area where the person who has refused the subpoena is found, resides, or transacts business. Failure to obey such a court order may be punished by the court as contempt.

(5) Whenever the department ~~division~~ determines that an employer who is required to secure the payment to his or her employees of the compensation provided for by this chapter has failed to do so, such failure shall be deemed an immediate serious danger to public health, safety, or welfare sufficient to justify service by the department ~~division~~ of a stop-work order on the employer, requiring the cessation of all business operations at the place of employment or job site. The order shall take effect upon the date of service upon the employer, unless the employer provides evidence satisfactory to the department ~~division~~ of having secured any necessary insurance or self-insurance and pays a civil penalty to the department ~~division~~, to be deposited by the department ~~division~~ into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund, in the amount of $100 per day for each day the employer was not in compliance with this chapter.

(6) The department ~~division~~ may file a complaint in the circuit court in and for Leon County to enjoin any employer, who has failed to secure compensation as required by this chapter, from employing individuals and from conducting business until the employer presents evidence satisfactory to the department ~~division~~ of having secured payment for compensation and pays a civil penalty to the department ~~division~~, to be deposited by the department ~~division~~ into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund, in the amount of $100 per day for each day the employer was not in compliance with this chapter.

(7) In addition to any penalty, stop-work order, or injunction, the department ~~division~~ may assess against any employer, who has failed to secure the payment of compensation as required by this chapter, a penalty in the amount of:

(a) Twice the amount the employer would have paid during periods it illegally failed to secure payment of compensation in the preceding 3-year period based on the employer's payroll during the preceding 3-year period; or

(b) One thousand dollars, whichever is greater.

Any penalty assessed under this subsection is due within 30 days after the date on which the employer is notified, except that, if the department ~~division~~ has posted a stop-work order or obtained injunctive relief against the employer, payment is due, in addition to those conditions set forth in this section, as a condition to relief from a stop-work order or an injunction. Interest shall accrue on amounts not paid when due at the rate of 1 percent per month.

(8) The department ~~division~~ may bring an action in circuit court to recover penalties assessed under this section, including any interest owed to the department ~~division~~ pursuant to this section. In any action brought by the department ~~division~~ pursuant to this section in which it prevails, the circuit court shall award costs, including the reasonable costs of investigation and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(9) Any judgment obtained by the department ~~division~~ and any penalty due pursuant to the service of a stop-work order or otherwise due under this section shall, until collected, constitute a lien upon the entire interest of the employer, legal or equitable, in any property, real or personal, tangible or intangible; however, such lien is subordinate to claims for unpaid wages and any prior recorded liens, and a lien created by this section is not valid against any person who, subsequent to such lien and in good faith and for value, purchases real or personal property from such employer or becomes the mortgagee on real or personal property of such employer, or against a subsequent attaching creditor, unless, with respect to real estate of the employer, a notice of the lien is recorded in the public records of the county where the real estate is located, and with respect to personal property of the employer, the notice is recorded with the Secretary of State.

(10) Any law enforcement agency in the state may, at the request of the department ~~division~~, render any assistance necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, including, but not limited to, preventing any employee or other person from remaining at a place of employment or job site after a stop-work order or injunction has taken effect.

(11) Actions by the department ~~division~~ under this section must be contested as provided in chapter 120. All civil penalties assessed by the department ~~division~~ must be paid into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund. The department ~~division~~ shall return any sums previously paid, upon conclusion of an action, if the department ~~division~~ fails to prevail and if so directed by an order of court or an administrative hearing officer. The requirements of this subsection may be met by posting a bond in an amount equal to twice the penalty and in a form approved by the department ~~division~~.

Section 16. Subsection (1) of section 440.108, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.108 Investigatory records relating to workers' compensation employer compliance; confidentiality.—

(1) All investigatory records of the department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~ made or received pursuant to s. 440.107 and any records necessary to complete an investigation are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution until the investigation is completed or ceases to be active. For purposes of this section, an investigation is considered "active" while such investigation is being conducted by the department ~~division~~ with a reasonable, good-faith ~~good faith~~ belief that it may lead to the filing of administrative, civil, or criminal proceedings. An investigation does not cease to be active if the agency is proceeding with reasonable dispatch and there is a good faith belief that action may be initiated by the agency or other administrative or law enforcement agency. After an investigation is completed or ceases to be active, records relating to the investigation remain confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution if disclosure would:

(a) Jeopardize the integrity of another active investigation;

(b) Reveal a trade secret, as defined in s. 688.002;

(c) Reveal business or personal financial information;

(d) Reveal the identity of a confidential source;

(e) Defame or cause unwarranted damage to the good name or reputation of an individual or jeopardize the safety of an individual; or

(f) Reveal investigative techniques or procedures.

Section 17. Section 440.125, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.125 Medical records and reports; identifying information in employee medical bills; confidentiality.—

(1) Any medical records and medical reports of an injured employee and any information identifying an injured employee in medical bills which are provided to the department, agency, or Department of Education ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ pursuant to s. 440.13 are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, except as otherwise provided by this chapter.

(2) The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that an injured employee's medical records and medical reports and information identifying the employee in medical bills held by the department, agency, or Department of Education ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~ pursuant to s. 440.13 be confidential and exempt from the public records law. Public access to such information is an invasion of the injured employee's right to privacy in that personal, sensitive information would be revealed, and public knowledge of such information could lead to discrimination against the employee by coworkers and others. Additionally, there is little utility in providing public access to such information in that the effectiveness and efficiency of the workers' compensation program can be otherwise adequately monitored and evaluated.

(3) The department may share any confidential and exempt information received pursuant to s. 440.13 with the Agency for Health Care Administration in furtherance of the agency's official duties under ss. 440.13 and 440.134. The agency shall maintain the confidential and exempt status of the information.

Section 18. Section 440.13, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.13 Medical services and supplies; penalty for violations; limitations.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Alternate medical care" means a change in treatment or health care provider.

(b) "Attendant care" means care rendered by trained professional attendants which is beyond the scope of household duties. Family members may provide nonprofessional attendant care, but may not be compensated under this chapter for care that falls within the scope of household duties and other services normally and gratuitously provided by family members. "Family member" means a spouse, father, mother, brother, sister, child, grandchild, father-in-law, mother-in-law, aunt, or uncle.

(c) "Carrier" means, for purposes of this section, insurance carrier, self-insurance fund or individually self-insured employer, or assessable mutual insurer.

(d) "Catastrophic injury" means an injury as defined in s. 440.02.

(e) "Certified health care provider" means a health care provider who has been certified by the agency ~~division~~ or who has entered an agreement with a licensed managed care organization to provide treatment to injured workers under this section. Certification of such health care provider must include documentation that the health care provider has read and is familiar with the portions of the statute, impairment guides, and rules which govern the provision of remedial treatment, care, and attendance.

(f) "Compensable" means a determination by a carrier or judge of compensation claims that a condition suffered by an employee results from an injury arising out of and in the course of employment.

(g) "Emergency services and care" means emergency services and care as defined in s. 395.002.

(h) "Health care facility" means any hospital licensed under chapter 395 and any health care institution licensed under chapter 400.

(i) "Health care provider" means a physician or any recognized practitioner who provides skilled services pursuant to a prescription or under the supervision or direction of a physician and who has been certified by the agency ~~division~~ as a health care provider. The term "health care provider" includes a health care facility.

(j) "Independent medical examiner" means a physician selected by either an employee or a carrier to render one or more independent medical examinations in connection with a dispute arising under this chapter.

(k) "Independent medical examination" means an objective evaluation of the injured employee's medical condition, including, but not limited to, impairment or work status, performed by a physician or an expert medical advisor at the request of a party, a judge of compensation claims, or the agency ~~division~~ to assist in the resolution of a dispute arising under this chapter.

(l) "Instance of overutilization" means a specific inappropriate service or level of service provided to an injured employee.

(m) "Medically necessary" means any medical service or medical supply which is used to identify or treat an illness or injury, is appropriate to the patient's diagnosis and status of recovery, and is consistent with the location of service, the level of care provided, and applicable practice parameters. The service should be widely accepted among practicing health care providers, based on scientific criteria, and determined to be reasonably safe. The service must not be of an experimental, investigative, or research nature, except in those instances in which prior approval of the Agency for Health Care Administration has been obtained. The Agency for Health Care Administration shall adopt rules providing for such approval on a case-by-case basis when the service or supply is shown to have significant benefits to the recovery and well-being of the patient.

(n) "Medicine" means a drug prescribed by an authorized health care provider and includes only generic drugs or single-source patented drugs for which there is no generic equivalent, unless the authorized health care provider writes or states that the brand-name drug as defined in s. 465.025 is medically necessary, or is a drug appearing on the schedule of drugs created pursuant to s. 465.025(6), or is available at a cost lower than its generic equivalent.

(o) "Palliative care" means noncurative medical services that mitigate the conditions, effects, or pain of an injury.

(p) "Pattern or practice of overutilization" means repetition of instances of overutilization within a specific medical case or multiple cases by a single health care provider.

(q) "Peer review" means an evaluation by two or more physicians licensed under the same authority and with the same or similar specialty as the physician under review, of the appropriateness, quality, and cost of health care and health services provided to a patient, based on medically accepted standards.

(r) "Physician" or "doctor" means a physician licensed under chapter 458, an osteopathic physician licensed under chapter 459, a chiropractic physician licensed under chapter 460, a podiatric physician licensed under chapter 461, an optometrist licensed under chapter 463, or a dentist licensed under chapter 466, each of whom must be certified by the agency ~~division~~ as a health care provider.

(s) "Reimbursement dispute" means any disagreement between a health care provider or health care facility and carrier concerning payment for medical treatment.

(t) "Utilization control" means a systematic process of implementing measures that assure overall management and cost containment of services delivered.

(u) "Utilization review" means the evaluation of the appropriateness of both the level and the quality of health care and health services provided to a patient, including, but not limited to, evaluation of the appropriateness of treatment, hospitalization, or office visits based on medically accepted standards. Such evaluation must be accomplished by means of a system that identifies the utilization of medical services based on medically accepted standards as established by medical consultants with qualifications similar to those providing the care under review, and that refers patterns and practices of overutilization to the agency ~~division~~.

(2) MEDICAL TREATMENT; DUTY OF EMPLOYER TO FURNISH.—

(a) Subject to the limitations specified elsewhere in this chapter, the employer shall furnish to the employee such medically necessary remedial treatment, care, and attendance for such period as the nature of the injury or the process of recovery may require, including medicines, medical supplies, durable medical equipment, orthoses, prostheses, and other medically necessary apparatus. Remedial treatment, care, and attendance, including work-hardening programs or pain-management programs accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities or Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Health Organizations or pain-management programs affiliated with medical schools, shall be considered as covered treatment only when such care is given based on a referral by a physician as defined in this chapter. Each facility shall maintain outcome data, including work status at discharges, total program charges, total number of visits, and length of stay. ~~The department shall utilize such data and report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives regarding the efficacy and cost-effectiveness of such program, no later than October 1, 1994.~~ Medically necessary treatment, care, and attendance does not include chiropractic services in excess of 18 treatments or rendered 8 weeks beyond the date of the initial chiropractic treatment, whichever comes first, unless the carrier authorizes additional treatment or the employee is catastrophically injured.

(b) The employer shall provide appropriate professional or nonprofessional attendant care performed only at the direction and control of a physician when such care is medically necessary. The value of nonprofessional attendant care provided by a family member must be determined as follows:

1. If the family member is not employed, the per-hour value equals the federal minimum hourly wage.

2. If the family member is employed and elects to leave that employment to provide attendant or custodial care, the per-hour value of that care equals the per-hour value of the family member's former employment, not to exceed the per-hour value of such care available in the community at large. A family member or a combination of family members providing nonprofessional attendant care under this paragraph may not be compensated for more than a total of 12 hours per day.

(c) If the employer fails to provide treatment or care required by this section after request by the injured employee, the employee may obtain such treatment at the expense of the employer, if the treatment is compensable and medically necessary. There must be a specific request for the treatment, and the employer or carrier must be given a reasonable time period within which to provide the treatment or care. However, the employee is not entitled to recover any amount personally expended for the treatment or service unless he or she has requested the employer to furnish that treatment or service and the employer has failed, refused, or neglected to do so within a reasonable time or unless the nature of the injury requires such treatment, nursing, and services and the employer or his or her superintendent or foreman, having knowledge of the injury, has neglected to provide the treatment or service.

(d) The carrier has the right to transfer the care of an injured employee from the attending health care provider if an independent medical examination determines that the employee is not making appropriate progress in recuperation.

(e) Except in emergency situations and for treatment rendered by a managed care arrangement, after any initial examination and diagnosis by a physician providing remedial treatment, care, and attendance, and before a proposed course of medical treatment begins, each insurer shall review, in accordance with the requirements of this chapter, the proposed course of treatment, to determine whether such treatment would be recognized as reasonably prudent. The review must be in accordance with all applicable workers' compensation practice parameters. The insurer must accept any such proposed course of treatment unless the insurer notifies the physician of its specific objections to the proposed course of treatment by the close of the tenth business day after notification by the physician, or a supervised designee of the physician, of the proposed course of treatment.

(3) PROVIDER ELIGIBILITY; AUTHORIZATION.—

(a) As a condition to eligibility for payment under this chapter, a health care provider who renders services must be a certified health care provider and must receive authorization from the carrier before providing treatment. This paragraph does not apply to emergency care. The agency ~~division~~ shall adopt rules to implement the certification of health care providers. As a one-time prerequisite to obtaining certification, the agency ~~division~~ shall require each physician to demonstrate proof of completion of a minimum 5-hour course that covers the subject areas of cost containment, utilization control, ergonomics, and the practice parameters adopted by the agency ~~division~~ governing the physician's field of practice. The agency ~~division~~ shall coordinate with ~~the Agency for Health Care Administration,~~ the Florida Medical Association, the Florida Osteopathic Medical Association, the Florida Chiropractic Association, the Florida Podiatric Medical Association, the Florida Optometric Association, the Florida Dental Association, and other health professional organizations and their respective boards as deemed necessary by the Agency for Health Care Administration in complying with this subsection. ~~No later than October 1, 1994, the division shall adopt rules regarding the criteria and procedures for approval of courses and the filing of proof of completion by the physicians.~~

(b) A health care provider who renders emergency care must notify the carrier by the close of the third business day after it has rendered such care. If the emergency care results in admission of the employee to a health care facility, the health care provider must notify the carrier by telephone within 24 hours after initial treatment. Emergency care is not compensable under this chapter unless the injury requiring emergency care arose as a result of a work-related accident. Pursuant to chapter 395, all licensed physicians and health care providers in this state shall be required to make their services available for emergency treatment of any employee eligible for workers' compensation benefits. To refuse to make such treatment available is cause for revocation of a license.

(c) A health care provider may not refer the employee to another health care provider, diagnostic facility, therapy center, or other facility without prior authorization from the carrier, except when emergency care is rendered. Any referral must be to a health care provider that has been certified by the agency ~~division~~, unless the referral is for emergency treatment.

(d) A carrier must respond, by telephone or in writing, to a request for authorization by the close of the third business day after receipt of the request. A carrier who fails to respond to a written request for authorization for referral for medical treatment by the close of the third business day after receipt of the request consents to the medical necessity for such treatment. All such requests must be made to the carrier. Notice to the carrier does not include notice to the employer.

(e) Carriers shall adopt procedures for receiving, reviewing, documenting, and responding to requests for authorization. Such procedures shall be for a health care provider certified under this section.

(f) By accepting payment under this chapter for treatment rendered to an injured employee, a health care provider consents to the jurisdiction of the agency ~~division~~ as set forth in subsection (11) and to the submission of all records and other information concerning such treatment to the agency ~~division~~ in connection with a reimbursement dispute, audit, or review as provided by this section. The health care provider must further agree to comply with any decision of the agency ~~division~~ rendered under this section.

(g) The employee is not liable for payment for medical treatment or services provided pursuant to this section except as otherwise provided in this section.

(h) The provisions of s. 456.053 are applicable to referrals among health care providers, as defined in subsection (1), treating injured workers.

(i) Notwithstanding paragraph (d), a claim for specialist consultations, surgical operations, physiotherapeutic or occupational therapy procedures, X-ray examinations, or special diagnostic laboratory tests that cost more than $1,000 and other specialty services that the agency ~~division~~ identifies by rule is not valid and reimbursable unless the services have been expressly authorized by the carrier, or unless the carrier has failed to respond within 10 days to a written request for authorization, or unless emergency care is required. The insurer shall not refuse to authorize such consultation or procedure unless the health care provider or facility is not authorized or certified or unless an expert medical advisor has determined that the consultation or procedure is not medically necessary or otherwise compensable under this chapter. Authorization of a treatment plan does not constitute express authorization for purposes of this section, except to the extent the carrier provides otherwise in its authorization procedures. This paragraph does not limit the carrier's obligation to identify and disallow overutilization or billing errors.

(j) Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary, a sick or injured employee shall be entitled, at all times, to free, full, and absolute choice in the selection of the pharmacy or pharmacist dispensing and filling prescriptions for medicines required under this chapter. It is expressly forbidden for the agency ~~division~~, an employer, or a carrier, or any agent or representative of the agency ~~division~~, an employer, or a carrier to select the pharmacy or pharmacist which the sick or injured employee must use; condition coverage or payment on the basis of the pharmacy or pharmacist utilized; or to otherwise interfere in the selection by the sick or injured employee of a pharmacy or pharmacist.

(4) NOTICE OF TREATMENT TO CARRIER; FILING WITH DEPARTMENT ~~DIVISION~~.—

(a) Any health care provider providing necessary remedial treatment, care, or attendance to any injured worker shall submit treatment reports to the carrier in a format prescribed by the department in consultation with the agency ~~division~~. A claim for medical or surgical treatment is not valid or enforceable against such employer or employee, unless, by the close of the third business day following the first treatment, the physician providing the treatment furnishes to the employer or carrier a preliminary notice of the injury and treatment on forms prescribed by the department in consultation with the agency ~~division~~ and, within 15 days thereafter, furnishes to the employer or carrier a complete report, and subsequent thereto furnishes progress reports, if requested by the employer or insurance carrier, at intervals of not less than 3 weeks apart or at less frequent intervals if requested on forms prescribed by the department ~~division~~.

(b) Each medical report or bill obtained or received by the employer, the carrier, or the injured employee, or the attorney for the employer, carrier, or injured employee, with respect to the remedial treatment or care of the injured employee, including any report of an examination, diagnosis, or disability evaluation, must be filed with the department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~ pursuant to rules adopted by the department in consultation with the agency ~~division~~. The health care provider shall also furnish to the injured employee or to his or her attorney, on demand, a copy of his or her office chart, records, and reports, and may charge the injured employee an amount authorized by the department ~~division~~ for the copies. Each such health care provider shall provide to the agency or department ~~division~~ any additional information about the remedial treatment, care, and attendance that the agency or department ~~division~~ reasonably requests.

(c) It is the policy for the administration of the workers' compensation system that there be reasonable access to medical information by all parties to facilitate the self-executing features of the law. Notwithstanding the limitations in s. 456.057 and subject to the limitations in s. 381.004, upon the request of the employer, the carrier, or the attorney for either of them, the medical records of an injured employee must be furnished to those persons and the medical condition of the injured employee must be discussed with those persons, if the records and the discussions are restricted to conditions relating to the workplace injury. Any such discussions may be held before or after the filing of a claim without the knowledge, consent, or presence of any other party or his or her agent or representative. A health care provider who willfully refuses to provide medical records or to discuss the medical condition of the injured employee, after a reasonable request is made for such information pursuant to this subsection, shall be subject by the agency ~~division~~ to one or more of the penalties set forth in paragraph (8)(b).

(5) INDEPENDENT MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS.—

(a) In any dispute concerning overutilization, medical benefits, compensability, or disability under this chapter, the carrier or the employee may select an independent medical examiner. The examiner may be a health care provider treating or providing other care to the employee. An independent medical examiner may not render an opinion outside his or her area of expertise, as demonstrated by licensure and applicable practice parameters.

(b) Each party is bound by his or her selection of an independent medical examiner and is entitled to an alternate examiner only if:

1. The examiner is not qualified to render an opinion upon an aspect of the employee's illness or injury which is material to the claim or petition for benefits;

2. The examiner ceases to practice in the specialty relevant to the employee's condition;

3. The examiner is unavailable due to injury, death, or relocation outside a reasonably accessible geographic area; or

4. The parties agree to an alternate examiner.

Any party may request, or a judge of compensation claims may require, designation of an agency ~~a division~~ medical advisor as an independent medical examiner. The opinion of the advisors acting as examiners shall not be afforded the presumption set forth in paragraph (9)(c).

(c) The carrier may, at its election, contact the claimant directly to schedule a reasonable time for an independent medical examination. The carrier must confirm the scheduling agreement in writing within 5 days and notify claimant's counsel, if any, at least 7 days before the date upon which the independent medical examination is scheduled to occur. An attorney representing a claimant is not authorized to schedule independent medical evaluations under this subsection.

(d) If the employee fails to appear for the independent medical examination without good cause and fails to advise the physician at least 24 hours before the scheduled date for the examination that he or she cannot appear, the employee is barred from recovering compensation for any period during which he or she has refused to submit to such examination. Further, the employee shall reimburse the carrier 50 percent of the physician's cancellation or no-show fee unless the carrier that schedules the examination fails to timely provide to the employee a written confirmation of the date of the examination pursuant to paragraph (c) which includes an explanation of why he or she failed to appear. The employee may appeal to a judge of compensation claims for reimbursement when the carrier withholds payment in excess of the authority granted by this section.

(e) No medical opinion other than the opinion of a medical advisor appointed by the judge of compensation claims or agency ~~division~~, an independent medical examiner, or an authorized treating provider is admissible in proceedings before the judges of compensation claims.

(f) Attorney's fees incurred by an injured employee in connection with delay of or opposition to an independent medical examination, including, but not limited to, motions for protective orders, are not recoverable under this chapter.

(6) UTILIZATION REVIEW.—Carriers shall review all bills, invoices, and other claims for payment submitted by health care providers in order to identify overutilization and billing errors, and may hire peer review consultants or conduct independent medical evaluations. Such consultants, including peer review organizations, are immune from liability in the execution of their functions under this subsection to the extent provided in s. 766.101. If a carrier finds that overutilization of medical services or a billing error has occurred, it must disallow or adjust payment for such services or error without order of a judge of compensation claims or the agency ~~division~~, if the carrier, in making its determination, has complied with this section and rules adopted by the agency ~~division~~.

(7) UTILIZATION AND REIMBURSEMENT DISPUTES.—

(a) Any health care provider, carrier, or employer who elects to contest the disallowance or adjustment of payment by a carrier under subsection (6) must, within 30 days after receipt of notice of disallowance or adjustment of payment, petition the agency ~~division~~ to resolve the dispute. The petitioner must serve a copy of the petition on the carrier and on all affected parties by certified mail. The petition must be accompanied by all documents and records that support the allegations contained in the petition. Failure of a petitioner to submit such documentation to the agency ~~division~~ results in dismissal of the petition.

(b) The carrier must submit to the agency ~~division~~ within 10 days after receipt of the petition all documentation substantiating the carrier's disallowance or adjustment. Failure of the carrier to submit the requested documentation to the agency ~~division~~ within 10 days constitutes a waiver of all objections to the petition.

(c) Within 60 days after receipt of all documentation, the agency ~~division~~ must provide to the petitioner, the carrier, and the affected parties a written determination of whether the carrier properly adjusted or disallowed payment. The agency ~~division~~ must be guided by standards and policies set forth in this chapter, including all applicable reimbursement schedules, in rendering its determination.

(d) If the agency ~~division~~ finds an improper disallowance or improper adjustment of payment by an insurer, the insurer shall reimburse the health care provider, facility, insurer, or employer within 30 days, subject to the penalties provided in this subsection.

(e) The agency ~~division~~ shall adopt rules to carry out this subsection. The rules may include provisions for consolidating petitions filed by a petitioner and expanding the timetable for rendering a determination upon a consolidated petition.

(f) Any carrier that engages in a pattern or practice of arbitrarily or unreasonably disallowing or reducing payments to health care providers may be subject to one or more of the following penalties imposed by the agency ~~division~~:

1. Repayment of the appropriate amount to the health care provider.

2. An administrative fine assessed by the agency ~~division~~ in an amount not to exceed $5,000 per instance of improperly disallowing or reducing payments.

3. Award of the health care provider's costs, including a reasonable attorney's fee, for prosecuting the petition.

(8) PATTERN OR PRACTICE OF OVERUTILIZATION.—

(a) Carriers must report to the agency ~~division~~ all instances of overutilization including, but not limited to, all instances in which the carrier disallows or adjusts payment. The agency ~~division~~ shall determine whether a pattern or practice of overutilization exists.

(b) If the agency ~~division~~ determines that a health care provider has engaged in a pattern or practice of overutilization or a violation of this chapter or rules adopted by the agency ~~division~~, it may impose one or more of the following penalties:

1. An order of the agency ~~division~~ barring the provider from payment under this chapter;

2. Deauthorization of care under review;

3. Denial of payment for care rendered in the future;

4. Decertification of a health care provider certified as an expert medical advisor under subsection (9) or of a rehabilitation provider certified under s. 440.49;

5. An administrative fine assessed by the agency ~~division~~ in an amount not to exceed $5,000 per instance of overutilization or violation; and

6. Notification of and review by the appropriate licensing authority pursuant to s. 440.106(3).

(9) EXPERT MEDICAL ADVISORS.—

(a) The agency ~~division~~ shall certify expert medical advisors in each specialty to assist the agency ~~division~~ and the judges of compensation claims within the advisor's area of expertise as provided in this section. The agency ~~division~~ shall, in a manner prescribed by rule, in certifying, recertifying, or decertifying an expert medical advisor, consider the qualifications, training, impartiality, and commitment of the health care provider to the provision of quality medical care at a reasonable cost. As a prerequisite for certification or recertification, the agency ~~division~~ shall require, at a minimum, that an expert medical advisor have specialized workers' compensation training or experience under the workers' compensation system of this state and board certification or board eligibility.

(b) The agency ~~division~~ shall contract with or employ expert medical advisors to provide peer review or medical consultation to the agency ~~division~~ or to a judge of compensation claims in connection with resolving disputes relating to reimbursement, differing opinions of health care providers, and health care and physician services rendered under this chapter. Expert medical advisors contracting with the agency ~~division~~ shall, as a term of such contract, agree to provide consultation or services in accordance with the timetables set forth in this chapter and to abide by rules adopted by the agency ~~division~~, including, but not limited to, rules pertaining to procedures for review of the services rendered by health care providers and preparation of reports and recommendations for submission to the agency ~~division~~.

(c) If there is disagreement in the opinions of the health care providers, if two health care providers disagree on medical evidence supporting the employee's complaints or the need for additional medical treatment, or if two health care providers disagree that the employee is able to return to work, the agency ~~division~~ may, and the judge of compensation claims shall, upon his or her own motion or within 15 days after receipt of a written request by either the injured employee, the employer, or the carrier, order the injured employee to be evaluated by an expert medical advisor. The opinion of the expert medical advisor is presumed to be correct unless there is clear and convincing evidence to the contrary as determined by the judge of compensation claims. The expert medical advisor appointed to conduct the evaluation shall have free and complete access to the medical records of the employee. An employee who fails to report to and cooperate with such evaluation forfeits entitlement to compensation during the period of failure to report or cooperate.

(d) The expert medical advisor must complete his or her evaluation and issue his or her report to the agency ~~division~~ or to the judge of compensation claims within 45 days after receipt of all medical records. The expert medical advisor must furnish a copy of the report to the carrier and to the employee.

(e) An expert medical advisor is not liable under any theory of recovery for evaluations performed under this section without a showing of fraud or malice. The protections of s. 766.101 apply to any officer, employee, or agent of the agency ~~division~~ and to any officer, employee, or agent of any entity with which the agency ~~division~~ has contracted under this subsection.

(f) If the agency ~~division~~ or a judge of compensation claims determines that the services of a certified expert medical advisor are required to resolve a dispute under this section, the carrier must compensate the advisor for his or her time in accordance with a schedule adopted by the agency ~~division~~. The agency ~~division~~ may assess a penalty not to exceed $500 against any carrier that fails to timely compensate an advisor in accordance with this section.

(10) WITNESS FEES.—Any health care provider who gives a deposition shall be allowed a witness fee. The amount charged by the witness may not exceed $200 per hour. An expert witness who has never provided direct professional services to a party but has merely reviewed medical records and provided an expert opinion or has provided only direct professional services that were unrelated to the workers' compensation case may not be allowed a witness fee in excess of $200 per day.

(11) AUDITS BY AGENCY FOR HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION ~~DIVISION~~; JURISDICTION.—

(a) The Agency for Health Care Administration ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ may investigate health care providers to determine whether providers are complying with this chapter and with rules adopted by the agency ~~division~~, whether the providers are engaging in overutilization, and whether providers are engaging in improper billing practices. If the agency ~~division~~ finds that a health care provider has improperly billed, overutilized, or failed to comply with agency ~~division~~ rules or the requirements of this chapter it must notify the provider of its findings and may determine that the health care provider may not receive payment from the carrier or may impose penalties as set forth in subsection (8) or other sections of this chapter. If the health care provider has received payment from a carrier for services that were improperly billed or for overutilization, it must return those payments to the carrier. The agency ~~division~~ may assess a penalty not to exceed $500 for each overpayment that is not refunded within 30 days after notification of overpayment by the agency ~~division~~ or carrier.

(b) The department ~~division~~ shall monitor and audit carriers*, as provided in s. 624.3161,* to determine if medical bills are paid in accordance with this section and department ~~division~~ rules. ~~Any employer, if self-insured, or carrier found by the division not to be within 90 percent compliance as to the payment of medical bills after July 1, 1994, must be assessed a fine not to exceed 1 percent of the prior year's assessment levied against such entity under s. 440.51 for every quarter in which the entity fails to attain 90 percent compliance.~~ The department ~~division~~ shall fine or otherwise discipline an employer or carrier, pursuant to this chapter, the insurance code, or rules adopted by the department ~~division, for each late payment of compensation that is below the minimum 90 percent performance standard. Any carrier that is found to be not in compliance in subsequent consecutive quarters must implement a medical bill review program approved by the division, and the carrier is subject to disciplinary action by the Department of Insurance~~.

(c) The agency ~~division~~ has exclusive jurisdiction to decide any matters concerning reimbursement, to resolve any overutilization dispute under subsection (7), and to decide any question concerning overutilization under subsection (8), which question or dispute arises after January 1, 1994.

(d) The following agency ~~division~~ actions do not constitute agency action subject to review under ss. 120.569 and 120.57 and do not constitute actions subject to s. 120.56: referral by the entity responsible for utilization review; a decision by the agency ~~division~~ to refer a matter to a peer review committee; establishment by a health care provider or entity of procedures by which a peer review committee reviews the rendering of health care services; and the review proceedings, report, and recommendation of the peer review committee.

(12) CREATION OF THREE-MEMBER PANEL; GUIDES OF MAXIMUM REIMBURSEMENT ALLOWANCES.—

(a) A three-member panel is created, consisting of the Insurance Commissioner, or the Insurance Commissioner's designee, and two members to be appointed by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate, one member who, on account of present or previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, shall be classified as a representative of employers, the other member who, on account of previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, shall be classified as a representative of employees. The panel shall determine statewide schedules of maximum reimbursement allowances for medically necessary treatment, care, and attendance provided by physicians, hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, work-hardening programs, pain programs, and durable medical equipment. The maximum reimbursement allowances for inpatient hospital care shall be based on a schedule of per diem rates, to be approved by the three-member panel no later than March 1, 1994, to be used in conjunction with a precertification manual as determined by the agency ~~division~~. All compensable charges for hospital outpatient care shall be reimbursed at 75 percent of usual and customary charges. Until the three-member panel approves a schedule of per diem rates for inpatient hospital care and it becomes effective, all compensable charges for hospital inpatient care must be reimbursed at 75 percent of their usual and customary charges. Annually, the three-member panel shall adopt schedules of maximum reimbursement allowances for physicians, hospital inpatient care, hospital outpatient care, ambulatory surgical centers, work-hardening programs, and pain programs. However, the maximum percentage of increase in the individual reimbursement allowance may not exceed the percentage of increase in the Consumer Price Index for the previous year. An individual physician, hospital, ambulatory surgical center, pain program, or work-hardening program shall be reimbursed either the usual and customary charge for treatment, care, and attendance, the agreed-upon contract price, the per diem rate for hospital inpatient stay, or the maximum reimbursement allowance in the appropriate schedule, whichever is less.

(b) As to reimbursement for a prescription medication, the reimbursement amount for a prescription shall be the average wholesale price times 1.2 plus $4.18 for the dispensing fee, except where the carrier has contracted for a lower amount. Fees for pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical services shall be reimbursable at the applicable fee schedule amount. Where the employer or carrier has contracted for such services and the employee elects to obtain them through a provider not a party to the contract, the carrier shall reimburse at the schedule, negotiated, or contract price, whichever is lower.

(c) Reimbursement for all fees and other charges for such treatment, care, and attendance, including treatment, care, and attendance provided by any hospital or other health care provider, ambulatory surgical center, work-hardening program, or pain program, must not exceed the amounts provided by the uniform schedule of maximum reimbursement allowances as determined by the panel or as otherwise provided in this section. This subsection also applies to independent medical examinations performed by health care providers under this chapter. Until the three-member panel approves a uniform schedule of maximum reimbursement allowances and it becomes effective, all compensable charges for treatment, care, and attendance provided by physicians, ambulatory surgical centers, work-hardening programs, or pain programs shall be reimbursed at the lowest maximum reimbursement allowance across all 1992 schedules of maximum reimbursement allowances for the services provided regardless of the place of service. In determining the uniform schedule, the panel shall first approve the data which it finds representative of prevailing charges in the state for similar treatment, care, and attendance of injured persons. Each health care provider, health care facility, ambulatory surgical center, work-hardening program, or pain program receiving workers' compensation payments shall maintain records verifying their usual charges. In establishing the uniform schedule of maximum reimbursement allowances, the panel must consider:

1. The levels of reimbursement for similar treatment, care, and attendance made by other health care programs or third-party providers;

2. The impact upon cost to employers for providing a level of reimbursement for treatment, care, and attendance which will ensure the availability of treatment, care, and attendance required by injured workers;

3. The financial impact of the reimbursement allowances upon health care providers and health care facilities, including trauma centers as defined in s. 395.4001, and its effect upon their ability to make available to injured workers such medically necessary remedial treatment, care, and attendance. The uniform schedule of maximum reimbursement allowances must be reasonable, must promote health care cost containment and efficiency with respect to the workers' compensation health care delivery system, and must be sufficient to ensure availability of such medically necessary remedial treatment, care, and attendance to injured workers; and

4. The most recent average maximum allowable rate of increase for hospitals determined by the Health Care Board under chapter 408.

(13) REMOVAL OF PHYSICIANS FROM LISTS OF THOSE AUTHORIZED TO RENDER MEDICAL CARE.—The agency ~~division~~ shall remove from the list of physicians or facilities authorized to provide remedial treatment, care, and attendance under this chapter the name of any physician or facility found after reasonable investigation to have:

(a) Engaged in professional or other misconduct or incompetency in connection with medical services rendered under this chapter;

(b) Exceeded the limits of his or her or its professional competence in rendering medical care under this chapter, or to have made materially false statements regarding his or her or its qualifications in his or her application;

(c) Failed to transmit copies of medical reports to the employer or carrier, or failed to submit full and truthful medical reports of all his or her or its findings to the employer or carrier as required under this chapter;

(d) Solicited, or employed another to solicit for himself or herself or itself or for another, professional treatment, examination, or care of an injured employee in connection with any claim under this chapter;

(e) Refused to appear before, or to answer upon request of, the agency ~~division~~ or any duly authorized officer of the state, any legal question, or to produce any relevant book or paper concerning his or her conduct under any authorization granted to him or her under this chapter;

(f) Self-referred in violation of this chapter or other laws of this state; or

(g) Engaged in a pattern of practice of overutilization or a violation of this chapter or rules adopted by the agency ~~division~~.

(14) PAYMENT OF MEDICAL FEES.—

(a) Except for emergency care treatment, fees for medical services are payable only to a health care provider certified and authorized to render remedial treatment, care, or attendance under this chapter. A health care provider may not collect or receive a fee from an injured employee within this state, except as otherwise provided by this chapter. Such providers have recourse against the employer or carrier for payment for services rendered in accordance with this chapter.

(b) Fees charged for remedial treatment, care, and attendance may not exceed the applicable fee schedules adopted under this chapter.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, following overall maximum medical improvement from an injury compensable under this chapter, the employee is obligated to pay a copayment of $10 per visit for medical services. The copayment shall not apply to emergency care provided to the employee.

(15) PRACTICE PARAMETERS.—

(a) The Agency for Health Care Administration, in conjunction with the department ~~division~~ and appropriate health professional associations and health-related organizations shall develop and may adopt by rule scientifically sound practice parameters for medical procedures relevant to workers' compensation claimants. Practice parameters developed under this section must focus on identifying effective remedial treatments and promoting the appropriate utilization of health care resources. Priority must be given to those procedures that involve the greatest utilization of resources either because they are the most costly or because they are the most frequently performed. Practice parameters for treatment of the 10 top procedures associated with workers' compensation injuries including the remedial treatment of lower-back injuries must be developed by December 31, 1994.

(b) The guidelines may be initially based on guidelines prepared by nationally recognized health care institutions and professional organizations but should be tailored to meet the workers' compensation goal of returning employees to full employment as quickly as medically possible, taking into consideration outcomes data collected from managed care providers and any other inpatient and outpatient facilities serving workers' compensation claimants.

(c) Procedures must be instituted which provide for the periodic review and revision of practice parameters based on the latest outcomes data, research findings, technological advancements, and clinical experiences, at least once every 3 years.

(d) Practice parameters developed under this section must be used by carriers and the agency ~~division~~ in evaluating the appropriateness and overutilization of medical services provided to injured employees.

Section 19. Subsection (23) of section 440.134, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.134 Workers' compensation managed care arrangement.—

(23) The agency shall immediately notify the Department of Insurance ~~and the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ whenever it issues an administrative complaint or an order or otherwise initiates legal proceedings resulting in, or which may result in, suspension or revocation of an insurer's authorization.

Section 20. Subsection (3) of section 440.14, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.14 Determination of pay.—

(3) The department ~~division~~ shall establish by rule a form which shall contain a simplified checklist of those items which may be included as "wage" for determining the average weekly wage.

Section 21. Subsections (11), (13), and (14) of section 440.02, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (40) is added to that section, to read:

440.02 Definitions.—When used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(11) "Department" means the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(13) "Division" means the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(14)(a) "Employee" means any person engaged in any employment under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and includes, but is not limited to, aliens and minors.

(b) "Employee" includes any person who is an officer of a corporation and who performs services for remuneration for such corporation within this state, whether or not such services are continuous.

1. Any officer of a corporation may elect to be exempt from this chapter by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05.

2. As to officers of a corporation who are actively engaged in the construction industry, no more than three officers may elect to be exempt from this chapter by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05.

3. An officer of a corporation who elects to be exempt from this chapter by filing a written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05 is not an employee.

Services are presumed to have been rendered to the corporation if the officer is compensated by other than dividends upon shares of stock of the corporation which the officer owns.

(c) "Employee" includes a sole proprietor or a partner who devotes full time to the proprietorship or partnership and, except as provided in this paragraph, elects to be included in the definition of employee by filing notice thereof as provided in s. 440.05. Partners or sole proprietors actively engaged in the construction industry are considered employees unless they elect to be excluded from the definition of employee by filing written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05. However, no more than three partners in a partnership that is actively engaged in the construction industry may elect to be excluded. A sole proprietor or partner who is actively engaged in the construction industry and who elects to be exempt from this chapter by filing a written notice of the election with the department ~~division~~ as provided in s. 440.05 is not an employee. For purposes of this chapter, an independent contractor is an employee unless he or she meets all of the conditions set forth in subparagraph (d)1.

(d) "Employee" does not include:

1. An independent contractor, if:

a. The independent contractor maintains a separate business with his or her own work facility, truck, equipment, materials, or similar accommodations;

b. The independent contractor holds or has applied for a federal employer identification number, unless the independent contractor is a sole proprietor who is not required to obtain a federal employer identification number under state or federal requirements;

c. The independent contractor performs or agrees to perform specific services or work for specific amounts of money and controls the means of performing the services or work;

d. The independent contractor incurs the principal expenses related to the service or work that he or she performs or agrees to perform;

e. The independent contractor is responsible for the satisfactory completion of work or services that he or she performs or agrees to perform and is or could be held liable for a failure to complete the work or services;

f. The independent contractor receives compensation for work or services performed for a commission or on a per-job or competitive-bid basis and not on any other basis;

g. The independent contractor may realize a profit or suffer a loss in connection with performing work or services;

h. The independent contractor has continuing or recurring business liabilities or obligations; and

i. The success or failure of the independent contractor's business depends on the relationship of business receipts to expenditures.

However, the determination as to whether an individual included in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual of 1987, Industry Numbers 0711, 0721, 0722, 0751, 0761, 0762, 0781, 0782, 0783, 0811, 0831, 0851, 2411, 2421, 2435, 2436, 2448, or 2449, or a newspaper delivery person, is an independent contractor is governed not by the criteria in this paragraph but by common-law principles, giving due consideration to the business activity of the individual.

2. A real estate salesperson or agent, if that person agrees, in writing, to perform for remuneration solely by way of commission.

3. Bands, orchestras, and musical and theatrical performers, including disk jockeys, performing in licensed premises as defined in chapter 562, if a written contract evidencing an independent contractor relationship is entered into before the commencement of such entertainment.

4. An owner-operator of a motor vehicle who transports property under a written contract with a motor carrier which evidences a relationship by which the owner-operator assumes the responsibility of an employer for the performance of the contract, if the owner-operator is required to furnish the necessary motor vehicle equipment and all costs incidental to the performance of the contract, including, but not limited to, fuel, taxes, licenses, repairs, and hired help; and the owner-operator is paid a commission for transportation service and is not paid by the hour or on some other time-measured basis.

5. A person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession, or occupation of the employer.

6. A volunteer, except a volunteer worker for the state or a county, municipality, or other governmental entity. A person who does not receive monetary remuneration for services is presumed to be a volunteer unless there is substantial evidence that a valuable consideration was intended by both employer and employee. For purposes of this chapter, the term "volunteer" includes, but is not limited to:

a. Persons who serve in private nonprofit agencies and who receive no compensation other than expenses in an amount less than or equivalent to the standard mileage and per diem expenses provided to salaried employees in the same agency or, if such agency does not have salaried employees who receive mileage and per diem, then such volunteers who receive no compensation other than expenses in an amount less than or equivalent to the customary mileage and per diem paid to salaried workers in the community as determined by the department ~~division~~; and

b. Volunteers participating in federal programs established under Pub. L. No. 93-113.

7. Any officer of a corporation who elects to be exempt from this chapter.

8. A sole proprietor or officer of a corporation who actively engages in the construction industry, and a partner in a partnership that is actively engaged in the construction industry, who elects to be exempt from the provisions of this chapter. Such sole proprietor, officer, or partner is not an employee for any reason until the notice of revocation of election filed pursuant to s. 440.05 is effective.

9. An exercise rider who does not work for a single horse farm or breeder, and who is compensated for riding on a case-by-case basis, provided a written contract is entered into prior to the commencement of such activity which evidences that an employee/employer relationship does not exist.

10. A taxicab, limousine, or other passenger vehicle-for-hire driver who operates said vehicles pursuant to a written agreement with a company which provides any dispatch, marketing, insurance, communications, or other services under which the driver and any fees or charges paid by the driver to the company for such services are not conditioned upon, or expressed as a proportion of, fare revenues.

(40) "Agency" means the Agency for Health Care Administration.

Section 22. Section 440.15, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.15 Compensation for disability.—Compensation for disability shall be paid to the employee, subject to the limits provided in s. 440.12(2), as follows:

(1) PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—

(a) In case of total disability adjudged to be permanent, 66⅔ percent of the average weekly wages shall be paid to the employee during the continuance of such total disability.

(b) Only a catastrophic injury as defined in s. 440.02 shall, in the absence of conclusive proof of a substantial earning capacity, constitute permanent total disability. Only claimants with catastrophic injuries are eligible for permanent total benefits. In no other case may permanent total disability be awarded.

(c) In cases of permanent total disability resulting from injuries that occurred prior to July 1, 1955, such payments shall not be made in excess of 700 weeks.

(d) If an employee who is being paid compensation for permanent total disability becomes rehabilitated to the extent that she or he establishes an earning capacity, the employee shall be paid, instead of the compensation provided in paragraph (a), benefits pursuant to subsection (3). The department ~~division~~ shall adopt rules to enable a permanently and totally disabled employee who may have reestablished an earning capacity to undertake a trial period of reemployment without prejudicing her or his return to permanent total status in the case that such employee is unable to sustain an earning capacity.

(e)1. The employer's or carrier's right to conduct vocational evaluations or testing pursuant to s. 440.491 continues even after the employee has been accepted or adjudicated as entitled to compensation under this chapter. This right includes, but is not limited to, instances in which such evaluations or tests are recommended by a treating physician or independent medical-examination physician, instances warranted by a change in the employee's medical condition, or instances in which the employee appears to be making appropriate progress in recuperation. This right may not be exercised more than once every calendar year.

2. The carrier must confirm the scheduling of the vocational evaluation or testing in writing, and must notify employee's counsel, if any, at least 7 days before the date on which vocational evaluation or testing is scheduled to occur.

3. Pursuant to an order of the judge of compensation claims, the employer or carrier may withhold payment of benefits for permanent total disability or supplements for any period during which the employee willfully fails or refuses to appear without good cause for the scheduled vocational evaluation or testing.

(f)1. If permanent total disability results from injuries that occurred subsequent to June 30, 1955, and for which the liability of the employer for compensation has not been discharged under s. 440.20(11), the injured employee shall receive additional weekly compensation benefits equal to 5 percent of her or his weekly compensation rate, as established pursuant to the law in effect on the date of her or his injury, multiplied by the number of calendar years since the date of injury. The weekly compensation payable and the additional benefits payable under this paragraph, when combined, may not exceed the maximum weekly compensation rate in effect at the time of payment as determined pursuant to s. 440.12(2). Entitlement to these supplemental payments shall cease at age 62 if the employee is eligible for social security benefits under 42 U.S.C. ss. 402 and 423, whether or not the employee has applied for such benefits. These supplemental benefits shall be paid by the division out of the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund when the injury occurred subsequent to June 30, 1955, and before July 1, 1984. These supplemental benefits shall be paid by the employer when the injury occurred on or after July 1, 1984. Supplemental benefits are not payable for any period prior to October 1, 1974.

2.a. The department ~~division~~ shall provide by rule for the periodic reporting to the department ~~division~~ of all earnings of any nature and social security income by the injured employee entitled to or claiming additional compensation under subparagraph 1. Neither the department ~~division~~ nor the employer or carrier shall make any payment of those additional benefits provided by subparagraph 1. for any period during which the employee willfully fails or refuses to report upon request by the department ~~division~~ in the manner prescribed by such rules.

b. The department ~~division~~ shall provide by rule for the periodic reporting to the employer or carrier of all earnings of any nature and social security income by the injured employee entitled to or claiming benefits for permanent total disability. The employer or carrier is not required to make any payment of benefits for permanent total disability for any period during which the employee willfully fails or refuses to report upon request by the employer or carrier in the manner prescribed by such rules or if any employee who is receiving permanent total disability benefits refuses to apply for or cooperate with the employer or carrier in applying for social security benefits.

3. When an injured employee receives a full or partial lump-sum advance of the employee's permanent total disability compensation benefits, the employee's benefits under this paragraph shall be computed on the employee's weekly compensation rate as reduced by the lump-sum advance.

(2) TEMPORARY TOTAL DISABILITY.—

(a) In case of disability total in character but temporary in quality, 66⅔ percent of the average weekly wages shall be paid to the employee during the continuance thereof, not to exceed 104 weeks except as provided in this subsection, s. 440.12(1), and s. 440.14(3). Once the employee reaches the maximum number of weeks allowed, or the employee reaches the date of maximum medical improvement, whichever occurs earlier, temporary disability benefits shall cease and the injured worker's permanent impairment shall be determined.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a), an employee who has sustained the loss of an arm, leg, hand, or foot, has been rendered a paraplegic, paraparetic, quadriplegic, or quadriparetic, or has lost the sight of both eyes shall be paid temporary total disability of 80 percent of her or his average weekly wage. The increased temporary total disability compensation provided for in this paragraph must not extend beyond 6 months from the date of the accident. The compensation provided by this paragraph is not subject to the limits provided in s. 440.12(2), but instead is subject to a maximum weekly compensation rate of $700. If, at the conclusion of this period of increased temporary total disability compensation, the employee is still temporarily totally disabled, the employee shall continue to receive temporary total disability compensation as set forth in paragraphs (a) and (c). The period of time the employee has received this increased compensation will be counted as part of, and not in addition to, the maximum periods of time for which the employee is entitled to compensation under paragraph (a) but not paragraph (c).

(c) Temporary total disability benefits paid pursuant to this subsection shall include such period as may be reasonably necessary for training in the use of artificial members and appliances, and shall include such period as the employee may be receiving training and education under a program pursuant to s. 440.49(1). Notwithstanding s. 440.02(9), the date of maximum medical improvement for purposes of paragraph (3)(b) shall be no earlier than the last day for which such temporary disability benefits are paid.

(d) The department ~~division~~ shall, by rule, provide for the periodic reporting to the department ~~division~~, employer, or carrier of all earned income, including income from social security, by the injured employee who is entitled to or claiming benefits for temporary total disability. The employer or carrier is not required to make any payment of benefits for temporary total disability for any period during which the employee willfully fails or refuses to report upon request by the employer or carrier in the manner prescribed by the rules. The rule must require the claimant to personally sign the claim form and attest that she or he has reviewed, understands, and acknowledges the foregoing.

(3) PERMANENT IMPAIRMENT AND WAGE-LOSS BENEFITS.—

(a) Impairment benefits.—

1. Once the employee has reached the date of maximum medical improvement, impairment benefits are due and payable within 20 days after the carrier has knowledge of the impairment.

2. The three-member panel, in cooperation with the department ~~division~~, shall establish and use a uniform permanent impairment rating schedule. This schedule must be based on medically or scientifically demonstrable findings as well as the systems and criteria set forth in the American Medical Association's Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment; the Snellen Charts, published by American Medical Association Committee for Eye Injuries; and the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry Disability Schedules. The schedule should be based upon objective findings. The schedule shall be more comprehensive than the AMA Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment and shall expand the areas already addressed and address additional areas not currently contained in the guides. On August 1, 1979, and pending the adoption, by rule, of a permanent schedule, Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment, copyright 1977, 1971, 1988, by the American Medical Association, shall be the temporary schedule and shall be used for the purposes hereof. For injuries after July 1, 1990, pending the adoption by department ~~division~~ rule of a uniform disability rating schedule, the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry Disability Schedule shall be used unless that schedule does not address an injury. In such case, the Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment by the American Medical Association shall be used. Determination of permanent impairment under this schedule must be made by a physician licensed under chapter 458, a doctor of osteopathic medicine licensed under chapters 458 and 459, a chiropractic physician licensed under chapter 460, a podiatric physician licensed under chapter 461, an optometrist licensed under chapter 463, or a dentist licensed under chapter 466, as appropriate considering the nature of the injury. No other persons are authorized to render opinions regarding the existence of or the extent of permanent impairment.

3. All impairment income benefits shall be based on an impairment rating using the impairment schedule referred to in subparagraph 2. Impairment income benefits are paid weekly at the rate of 50 percent of the employee's average weekly temporary total disability benefit not to exceed the maximum weekly benefit under s. 440.12. An employee's entitlement to impairment income benefits begins the day after the employee reaches maximum medical improvement or the expiration of temporary benefits, whichever occurs earlier, and continues until the earlier of:

a. The expiration of a period computed at the rate of 3 weeks for each percentage point of impairment; or

b. The death of the employee.

4. After the employee has been certified by a doctor as having reached maximum medical improvement or 6 weeks before the expiration of temporary benefits, whichever occurs earlier, the certifying doctor shall evaluate the condition of the employee and assign an impairment rating, using the impairment schedule referred to in subparagraph 2. Compensation is not payable for the mental, psychological, or emotional injury arising out of depression from being out of work. If the certification and evaluation are performed by a doctor other than the employee's treating doctor, the certification and evaluation must be submitted to the treating doctor, and the treating doctor must indicate agreement or disagreement with the certification and evaluation. The certifying doctor shall issue a written report to the department ~~division~~, the employee, and the carrier certifying that maximum medical improvement has been reached, stating the impairment rating, and providing any other information required by the department by rule ~~division~~. If the employee has not been certified as having reached maximum medical improvement before the expiration of 102 weeks after the date temporary total disability benefits begin to accrue, the carrier shall notify the treating doctor of the requirements of this section.

5. The carrier shall pay the employee impairment income benefits for a period based on the impairment rating.

6. The department ~~division~~ may by rule specify forms and procedures governing the method of payment of wage loss and impairment benefits for dates of accidents before January 1, 1994, and for dates of accidents on or after January 1, 1994.

(b) Supplemental benefits.—

1. All supplemental benefits must be paid in accordance with this subsection. An employee is entitled to supplemental benefits as provided in this paragraph as of the expiration of the impairment period, if:

a. The employee has an impairment rating from the compensable injury of 20 percent or more as determined pursuant to this chapter;

b. The employee has not returned to work or has returned to work earning less than 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage as a direct result of the employee's impairment; and

c. The employee has in good faith attempted to obtain employment commensurate with the employee's ability to work.

2. If an employee is not entitled to supplemental benefits at the time of payment of the final weekly impairment income benefit because the employee is earning at least 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage, the employee may become entitled to supplemental benefits at any time within 1 year after the impairment income benefit period ends if:

a. The employee earns wages that are less than 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage for a period of at least 90 days;

b. The employee meets the other requirements of subparagraph 1.; and

c. The employee's decrease in earnings is a direct result of the employee's impairment from the compensable injury.

3. If an employee earns wages that are at least 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage for a period of at least 90 days during which the employee is receiving supplemental benefits, the employee ceases to be entitled to supplemental benefits for the filing period. Supplemental benefits that have been terminated shall be reinstated when the employee satisfies the conditions enumerated in subparagraph 2. and files the statement required under subparagraph 5. Notwithstanding any other provision, if an employee is not entitled to supplemental benefits for 12 consecutive months, the employee ceases to be entitled to any additional income benefits for the compensable injury. If the employee is discharged within 12 months after losing entitlement under this subsection, benefits may be reinstated if the employee was discharged at that time with the intent to deprive the employee of supplemental benefits.

~~4. During the period that impairment income benefits or supplemental income benefits are being paid, the carrier has the affirmative duty to determine at least annually whether any extended unemployment or underemployment is a direct result of the employee's impairment. To accomplish this purpose, the division may require periodic reports from the employee and the carrier, and it may, at the carrier's expense, require any physical or other examinations, vocational assessments, or other tests or diagnoses necessary to verify that the carrier is performing its duty. Not more than once in each 12 calendar months, the employee and the carrier may each request that the division review the status of the employee and determine whether the carrier has performed its duty with respect to whether the employee's unemployment or underemployment is a direct result of impairment from the compensable injury.~~

4.~~5.~~ After the initial determination of supplemental benefits, the employee must file a statement with the carrier stating that the employee has earned less than 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage as a direct result of the employee's impairment, stating the amount of wages the employee earned in the filing period, and stating that the employee has in good faith sought employment commensurate with the employee's ability to work. The statement must be filed quarterly on a form and in the manner prescribed by the department ~~division~~. The department ~~division~~ may modify the filing period as appropriate to an individual case. Failure to file a statement relieves the carrier of liability for supplemental benefits for the period during which a statement is not filed.

5.~~6.~~ The carrier shall begin payment of supplemental benefits not later than the seventh day after the expiration date of the impairment income benefit period and shall continue to timely pay those benefits. The carrier may request a mediation conference for the purpose of contesting the employee's entitlement to or the amount of supplemental income benefits.

6.~~7.~~ Supplemental benefits are calculated quarterly and paid monthly. For purposes of calculating supplemental benefits, 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage and the average wages the employee has earned per week are compared quarterly. For purposes of this paragraph, if the employee is offered a bona fide position of employment that the employee is capable of performing, given the physical condition of the employee and the geographic accessibility of the position, the employee's weekly wages are considered equivalent to the weekly wages for the position offered to the employee.

7.~~8.~~ Supplemental benefits are payable at the rate of 80 percent of the difference between 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage determined pursuant to s. 440.14 and the weekly wages the employee has earned during the reporting period, not to exceed the maximum weekly income benefit under s. 440.12.

8.~~9.~~ The department ~~division~~ may by rule define terms that are necessary for the administration of this section and forms and procedures governing the method of payment of supplemental benefits for dates of accidents before January 1, 1994, and for dates of accidents on or after January 1, 1994.

(c) Duration of temporary impairment and supplemental income benefits.—The employee's eligibility for temporary benefits, impairment income benefits, and supplemental benefits terminates on the expiration of 401 weeks after the date of injury.

(4) TEMPORARY PARTIAL DISABILITY.—

(a) In case of temporary partial disability, compensation shall be equal to 80 percent of the difference between 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage and the salary, wages, and other remuneration the employee is able to earn, as compared weekly; however, the weekly benefits may not exceed an amount equal to 66⅔ percent of the employee's average weekly wage at the time of injury. In order to simplify the comparison of the preinjury average weekly wage with the salary, wages, and other remuneration the employee is able to earn, the department ~~division~~ may by rule provide for the modification of the weekly comparison so as to coincide as closely as possible with the injured worker's pay periods. The amount determined to be the salary, wages, and other remuneration the employee is able to earn shall in no case be less than the sum actually being earned by the employee, including earnings from sheltered employment.

(b) Such benefits shall be paid during the continuance of such disability, not to exceed a period of 104 weeks, as provided by this subsection and subsection (2). Once the injured employee reaches the maximum number of weeks, temporary disability benefits cease and the injured worker's permanent impairment must be determined. The department ~~division~~ may by rule specify forms and procedures governing the method of payment of temporary disability benefits for dates of accidents before January 1, 1994, and for dates of accidents on or after January 1, 1994.

(5) SUBSEQUENT INJURY.—

(a) The fact that an employee has suffered previous disability, impairment, anomaly, or disease, or received compensation therefor, shall not preclude her or him from benefits for a subsequent aggravation or acceleration of the preexisting condition nor preclude benefits for death resulting therefrom, except that no benefits shall be payable if the employee, at the time of entering into the employment of the employer by whom the benefits would otherwise be payable, falsely represents herself or himself in writing as not having previously been disabled or compensated because of such previous disability, impairment, anomaly, or disease and the employer detrimentally relies on the misrepresentation. Compensation for temporary disability, medical benefits, and wage-loss benefits shall not be subject to apportionment.

(b) If a compensable permanent impairment, or any portion thereof, is a result of aggravation or acceleration of a preexisting condition, or is the result of merger with a preexisting impairment, an employee eligible to receive impairment benefits under paragraph (3)(a) shall receive such benefits for the total impairment found to result, excluding the degree of impairment existing at the time of the subject accident or injury or which would have existed by the time of the impairment rating without the intervention of the compensable accident or injury. The degree of permanent impairment attributable to the accident or injury shall be compensated in accordance with paragraph (3)(a). As used in this paragraph, "merger" means the combining of a preexisting permanent impairment with a subsequent compensable permanent impairment which, when the effects of both are considered together, result in a permanent impairment rating which is greater than the sum of the two permanent impairment ratings when each impairment is considered individually.

(6) OBLIGATION TO REHIRE.—If the employer has not in good faith made available to the employee, within a 100-mile radius of the employee's residence, work appropriate to the employee's physical limitations within 30 days after the carrier notifies the employer of maximum medical improvement and the employee's physical limitations, the employer shall pay to the department ~~division~~ for deposit into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund a fine of $250 for every $5,000 of the employer's workers' compensation premium or payroll, not to exceed $2,000 per violation, as the department ~~division~~ requires by rule. The employer is not subject to this subsection if the employee is receiving permanent total disability benefits or if the employer has 50 or fewer employees.

(7) EMPLOYEE REFUSES EMPLOYMENT.—If an injured employee refuses employment suitable to the capacity thereof, offered to or procured therefor, such employee shall not be entitled to any compensation at any time during the continuance of such refusal unless at any time in the opinion of the judge of compensation claims such refusal is justifiable.

(8) EMPLOYEE LEAVES EMPLOYMENT.—If an injured employee, when receiving compensation for temporary partial disability, leaves the employment of the employer by whom she or he was employed at the time of the accident for which such compensation is being paid, the employee shall, upon securing employment elsewhere, give to such former employer an affidavit in writing containing the name of her or his new employer, the place of employment, and the amount of wages being received at such new employment; and, until she or he gives such affidavit, the compensation for temporary partial disability will cease. The employer by whom such employee was employed at the time of the accident for which such compensation is being paid may also at any time demand of such employee an additional affidavit in writing containing the name of her or his employer, the place of her or his employment, and the amount of wages she or he is receiving; and if the employee, upon such demand, fails or refuses to make and furnish such affidavit, her or his right to compensation for temporary partial disability shall cease until such affidavit is made and furnished.

(9) EMPLOYEE BECOMES INMATE OF INSTITUTION.—In case an employee becomes an inmate of a public institution, then no compensation shall be payable unless she or he has dependent upon her or him for support a person or persons defined as dependents elsewhere in this chapter, whose dependency shall be determined as if the employee were deceased and to whom compensation would be paid in case of death; and such compensation as is due such employee shall be paid such dependents during the time she or he remains such inmate.

(10) EMPLOYEE ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS UNDER THIS CHAPTER AND FEDERAL OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE ACT.—

(a) Weekly compensation benefits payable under this chapter for disability resulting from injuries to an employee who becomes eligible for benefits under 42 U.S.C. s. 423 shall be reduced to an amount whereby the sum of such compensation benefits payable under this chapter and such total benefits otherwise payable for such period to the employee and her or his dependents, had such employee not been entitled to benefits under this chapter, under 42 U.S.C. ss. 402 and 423, does not exceed 80 percent of the employee's average weekly wage. However, this provision shall not operate to reduce an injured worker's benefits under this chapter to a greater extent than such benefits would have otherwise been reduced under 42 U.S.C. s. 424(a). This reduction of compensation benefits is not applicable to any compensation benefits payable for any week subsequent to the week in which the injured worker reaches the age of 62 years.

(b) If the provisions of 42 U.S.C. s. 424(a) are amended to provide for a reduction or increase of the percentage of average current earnings that the sum of compensation benefits payable under this chapter and the benefits payable under 42 U.S.C. ss. 402 and 423 can equal, the amount of the reduction of benefits provided in this subsection shall be reduced or increased accordingly. The department ~~division~~ may by rule specify forms and procedures governing the method for calculating and administering the offset of benefits payable under this chapter and benefits payable under 42 U.S.C. ss. 402 and 423. The department ~~division~~ shall have first priority in taking any available social security offsets on dates of accidents occurring before July 1, 1984.

(c) No disability compensation benefits payable for any week, including those benefits provided by paragraph (1)(f), shall be reduced pursuant to this subsection until the Social Security Administration determines the amount otherwise payable to the employee under 42 U.S.C. ss. 402 and 423 and the employee has begun receiving such social security benefit payments. The employee shall, upon demand by the department ~~division~~, the employer, or the carrier, authorize the Social Security Administration to release disability information relating to her or him and authorize the Division of Unemployment Compensation to release unemployment compensation information relating to her or him, in accordance with rules to be promulgated by the department ~~division~~ prescribing the procedure and manner for requesting the authorization and for compliance by the employee. Neither the department ~~division~~ nor the employer or carrier shall make any payment of benefits for total disability or those additional benefits provided by paragraph (1)(f) for any period during which the employee willfully fails or refuses to authorize the release of information in the manner and within the time prescribed by such rules. The authority for release of disability information granted by an employee under this paragraph shall be effective for a period not to exceed 12 months, such authority to be renewable as the department ~~division~~ may prescribe by rule.

(d) If compensation benefits are reduced pursuant to this subsection, the minimum compensation provisions of s. 440.12(2) do not apply.

(11) EMPLOYEE ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS UNDER THIS CHAPTER WHO HAS RECEIVED OR IS ENTITLED TO RECEIVE UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION.—

(a) No compensation benefits shall be payable for temporary total disability or permanent total disability under this chapter for any week in which the injured employee has received, or is receiving, unemployment compensation benefits.

(b) If an employee is entitled to temporary partial benefits pursuant to subsection (4) and unemployment compensation benefits, such unemployment compensation benefits shall be primary and the temporary partial benefits shall be supplemental only, the sum of the two benefits not to exceed the amount of temporary partial benefits which would otherwise be payable.

(12) FULL-PAY STATUS FOR CERTAIN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS.—Any law enforcement officer as defined in s. 943.10(1), (2), or (3) who, while acting within the course of employment as provided by s. 440.091, is maliciously or intentionally injured and who thereby sustains a job-connected disability compensable under this chapter shall be carried in full-pay status rather than being required to use sick, annual, or other leave. Full-pay status shall be granted only after submission to the employing agency's head of a medical report which gives a current diagnosis of the employee's recovery and ability to return to work. In no case shall the employee's salary and workers' compensation benefits exceed the amount of the employee's regular salary requirements.

(13) REPAYMENT.—If an employee has received a sum as an indemnity benefit under any classification or category of benefit under this chapter to which she or he is not entitled, the employee is liable to repay that sum to the employer or the carrier or to have that sum deducted from future benefits, regardless of the classification of benefits, payable to the employee under this chapter; however, a partial payment of the total repayment may not exceed 20 percent of the amount of the biweekly payment.

Section 23. Section 440.17, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.17 Guardian for minor or incompetent.—Prior to the filing of a claim, the department ~~division~~, and after the filing of a claim, a judge of compensation claims, may require the appointment by a court of competent jurisdiction, for any person who is mentally incompetent or a minor, of a guardian or other representative to receive compensation payable to such person under this chapter and to exercise the powers granted to or to perform the duties required of such person under this chapter; however, the judge of compensation claims, in the judge of compensation claims' discretion, may designate in the compensation award a person to whom payment of compensation may be paid for a minor or incompetent, in which event payment to such designated person shall discharge all liability for such compensation.

Section 24. Section 440.185, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.185 Notice of injury or death; reports; penalties for violations.—

(1) An employee who suffers an injury arising out of and in the course of employment shall advise his or her employer of the injury within 30 days after the date of or initial manifestation of the injury. Failure to so advise the employer shall bar a petition under this chapter unless:

(a) The employer or the employer's agent had actual knowledge of the injury;

(b) The cause of the injury could not be identified without a medical opinion and the employee advised the employer within 30 days after obtaining a medical opinion indicating that the injury arose out of and in the course of employment;

(c) The employer did not put its employees on notice of the requirements of this section by posting notice pursuant to s. 440.055; or

(d) Exceptional circumstances, outside the scope of paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) justify such failure.

In the event of death arising out of and in the course of employment, the requirements of this subsection shall be satisfied by the employee's agent or estate. Documents prepared by counsel in connection with litigation, including but not limited to notices of appearance, petitions, motions, or complaints, shall not constitute notice for purposes of this section.

(2) Within 7 days after actual knowledge of injury or death, the employer shall report such injury or death to its carrier, in a format prescribed by the department ~~division~~, and shall provide a copy of such report to the employee or the employee's estate. The report of injury shall contain the following information:

(a) The name, address, and business of the employer;

(b) The name, social security number, street, mailing address, telephone number, and occupation of the employee;

(c) The cause and nature of the injury or death;

(d) The year, month, day, and hour when, and the particular locality where, the injury or death occurred; and

(e) Such other information as the department ~~division~~ may require.

The carrier shall, within 14 days after the employer's receipt of the form reporting the injury, file the information required by this subsection with the department ~~division~~ in Tallahassee. However, the department ~~division~~ may by rule provide for a different reporting system for those types of injuries which it determines should be reported in a different manner and for those cases which involve minor injuries requiring professional medical attention in which the employee does not lose more than 7 days of work as a result of the injury and is able to return to the job immediately after treatment and resume regular work.

(3) In addition to the requirements of subsection (2), the employer shall notify the department ~~division~~ within 24 hours by telephone or telegraph of any injury resulting in death. However, this special notice shall not be required when death results subsequent to the submission to the department ~~division~~ of a previous report of the injury pursuant to subsection (2).

(4) Within 3 days after the employer or the employee informs the carrier of an injury the carrier shall mail to the injured worker an informational brochure approved by the department ~~division~~ which sets forth in clear and understandable language an explanation of the rights, benefits, procedures for obtaining benefits and assistance, criminal penalties, and obligations of injured workers and their employers under the Florida Workers' Compensation Law. Annually, the carrier or its third-party administrator shall mail to the employer an informational brochure approved by the department ~~division~~ which sets forth in clear and understandable language an explanation of the rights, benefits, procedures for obtaining benefits and assistance, criminal penalties, and obligations of injured workers and their employers under the Florida Workers' Compensation Law. All such informational brochures shall contain a notice that clearly states in substance the following: "Any person who, knowingly and with intent to injure, defraud, or deceive any employer or employee, insurance company, or self-insured program, files a statement of claim containing any false or misleading information commits a felony of the third degree."

(5) Additional reports with respect to such injury and of the condition of such employee, including copies of medical reports, funeral expenses, and wage statements, shall be filed by the employer or carrier to the department ~~division~~ at such times and in such manner as the department ~~division~~ may prescribe by rule. In carrying out ~~its~~ responsibilities under this chapter, the department and agency ~~division~~ may by rule provide for the obtaining of any medical records relating to medical treatment provided pursuant to this chapter, notwithstanding the provisions of ss. 90.503 and 395.3025(4).

(6) In the absence of a stipulation by the parties, reports provided for in subsection (2), subsection (4), or subsection (5) shall not be evidence of any fact stated in such report in any proceeding relating thereto, except for medical reports which, if otherwise qualified, may be admitted at the discretion of the judge of compensation claims.

(7) Every carrier shall file with the department ~~division~~ within 21 days after the issuance of a policy or contract of insurance such policy information as the department ~~division~~ may require, including notice of whether the policy is a minimum premium policy. Notice of cancellation or expiration of a policy as set out in s. 440.42(3) shall be mailed to the department ~~division~~ in accordance with rules adopted ~~promulgated~~ by the department ~~division~~ under chapter 120.

(8) When a claimant, employer, or carrier has the right, or is required, to mail a report or notice with required copies within the times prescribed in subsection (2), subsection (4), or subsection (5), such mailing will be completed and in compliance with this section if it is postmarked and mailed prepaid to the appropriate recipient prior to the expiration of the time periods prescribed in this section.

(9) Any employer or carrier who fails or refuses to timely send any form, report, or notice required by this section shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $500 for each such failure or refusal. However, any employer who fails to notify the carrier of the injury on the prescribed form or by letter within the 7 days required in subsection (2) shall be liable for the civil penalty, which shall be paid by the employer and not the carrier. Failure by the employer to meet its obligations under subsection (2) shall not relieve the carrier from liability for the civil penalty if it fails to comply with subsections (4) and (5).

(10) The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe forms and procedures governing the submission of the change in claims administration report and the risk class code and standard industry code report for all lost time and denied lost-time cases. The department ~~division~~ may by rule define terms that are necessary for the effective administration of this section.

(11) Any information in a report of injury or illness filed pursuant to this section that would identify an ill or injured employee is confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution. This subsection is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act of 1995 in accordance with s. 119.15, and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2003, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 25. Subsection (1) of section 440.191, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.191 Employee Assistance and Ombudsman Office.—

(1)(a) In order to effect the self-executing features of the Workers' Compensation Law, this chapter shall be construed to permit injured employees and employers or the employer's carrier to resolve disagreements without undue expense, costly litigation, or delay in the provisions of benefits. It is the duty of all who participate in the workers' compensation system, including, but not limited to, carriers, service providers, health care providers, attorneys, employers, and employees, to attempt to resolve disagreements in good faith and to cooperate with the department's ~~division's~~ efforts to resolve disagreements between the parties. The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe definitions that are necessary for the effective administration of this section.

(b) An Employee Assistance and Ombudsman Office is created within the department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~ to inform and assist injured workers, employers, carriers, and health care providers in fulfilling their responsibilities under this chapter. The department ~~division~~ may by rule specify forms and procedures for administering requests for assistance provided by this section.

(c) The Employee Assistance and Ombudsman Office~~, Division of Workers' Compensation,~~ shall be a resource available to all employees who participate in the workers' compensation system and shall take all steps necessary to educate and disseminate information to employees and employers.

Section 26. Subsections (1) and (8) of section 440.192, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.192 Procedure for resolving benefit disputes.—

(1) Subject to s. 440.191, any employee who has not received a benefit to which the employee believes she or he is entitled under this chapter shall serve by certified mail upon the employer, the employer's carrier, and the department ~~division~~ in Tallahassee a petition for benefits that meets the requirements of this section. The department ~~division~~ shall refer the petition to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims.

(8) Within 14 days after receipt of a petition for benefits by certified mail, the carrier must either pay the requested benefits without prejudice to its right to deny within 120 days from receipt of the petition or file a notice of denial with the department ~~division~~. The carrier must list all benefits requested but not paid and explain its justification for nonpayment in the notice of denial. A carrier that does not deny compensability in accordance with s. 440.20(4) is deemed to have accepted the employee's injuries as compensable, unless it can establish material facts relevant to the issue of compensability that could not have been discovered through reasonable investigation within the 120-day period. The carrier shall provide copies of the notice to the filing party, employer, and claimant by certified mail.

440.1925 Procedure for resolving maximum medical improvement or permanent impairment disputes.—

(1) Notwithstanding the limitations on carrier independent medical examinations in s. 440.13, an employee or carrier who wishes to obtain an opinion other than the opinion of the treating physician or an agency ~~a division~~ advisor on the issue of permanent impairment may obtain one independent medical examination, except that the employee or carrier who selects the treating physician is not entitled to obtain an alternate opinion on the issue of permanent impairment, unless the parties otherwise agree. This section and s. 440.13(2) do not permit an employee or a carrier to obtain an additional medical opinion on the issue of permanent impairment by requesting an alternate treating physician pursuant to s. 440.13.

(3) Disputes shall be resolved under this section when:

(a) A carrier that is entitled to obtain a determination of an employee's date of maximum medical improvement or permanent impairment has done so;

(b) The independent medical examiner's opinion on the date of the employee's maximum medical improvement and degree or permanent impairment differs from the opinion of the employee's treating physician on either of those issues, or from the opinion of the expert medical advisor appointed by the agency ~~division~~ on the degree of permanent impairment; or

(c) The carrier denies any portion of an employee's claim petition for benefits due to disputed maximum medical improvement or permanent impairment issues.

(4) Only opinions of the employee's treating physician, an agency ~~a division~~ medical advisor, or an independent medical examiner are admissible in proceedings before a judge of compensation claims to resolve maximum medical improvement or impairment disputes.

Section 28. Subsections (3), (6), (8), (9), (10), (11), (12), (15), (16), and (17) of section 440.20, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.20 Time for payment of compensation; penalties for late payment.—

(3) Upon making payment, or upon suspension or cessation of payment for any reason, the carrier shall immediately notify the department ~~division~~ that it has commenced, suspended, or ceased payment of compensation. The department ~~division~~ may require such notification in any format and manner it deems necessary to obtain accurate and timely reporting.

(6) If any installment of compensation for death or dependency benefits, disability, permanent impairment, or wage loss payable without an award is not paid within 7 days after it becomes due, as provided in subsection (2), subsection (3), or subsection (4), there shall be added to such unpaid installment a punitive penalty of an amount equal to 20 percent of the unpaid installment or $5, which shall be paid at the same time as, but in addition to, such installment of compensation, unless notice is filed under subsection (4) or unless such nonpayment results from conditions over which the employer or carrier had no control. When any installment of compensation payable without an award has not been paid within 7 days after it became due and the claimant concludes the prosecution of the claim before a judge of compensation claims without having specifically claimed additional compensation in the nature of a penalty under this section, the claimant will be deemed to have acknowledged that, owing to conditions over which the employer or carrier had no control, such installment could not be paid within the period prescribed for payment and to have waived the right to claim such penalty. However, during the course of a hearing, the judge of compensation claims shall on her or his own motion raise the question of whether such penalty should be awarded or excused. The department ~~division~~ may assess without a hearing the punitive penalty against either the employer or the insurance carrier, depending upon who was at fault in causing the delay. The insurance policy cannot provide that this sum will be paid by the carrier if the department ~~division~~ or the judge of compensation claims determines that the punitive penalty should be made by the employer rather than the carrier. Any additional installment of compensation paid by the carrier pursuant to this section shall be paid directly to the employee.

(8) In addition to any other penalties provided by this chapter for late payment, if any installment of compensation is not paid when it becomes due, the employer, carrier, or servicing agent shall pay interest thereon at the rate of 12 percent per year from the date the installment becomes due until it is paid, whether such installment is payable without an order or under the terms of an order. The interest payment shall be the greater of the amount of interest due or $5.

(a) Within 30 days after final payment of compensation has been made, the employer, carrier, or servicing agent shall send to the department ~~division~~ a notice, in accordance with a ~~form~~ format and manner prescribed by the department ~~division~~, stating that such final payment has been made and stating the total amount of compensation paid, the name of the employee and of any other person to whom compensation has been paid, the date of the injury or death, and the date to which compensation has been paid.

(b) If the employer, carrier, or servicing agent fails to so notify the department ~~division~~ within such time, the department ~~division~~ shall assess against such employer, carrier, or servicing agent a civil penalty in an amount not over $100.

(c) In order to ensure carrier compliance under this chapter and provisions of the insurance code, the department ~~division~~ shall monitor the performance of carriers by conducting market conduct examinations, as provided in s. 624.3161, and conducting investigations, as provided in s. 624.317. The department ~~division~~ shall impose penalties on ~~establish by rule minimum performance standards for~~ carriers ~~to ensure that a minimum of 90 percent of all compensation benefits are timely paid. The division shall fine a carrier as provided in s. 440.13(11)(b) up to $50~~ for each late payment of compensation pursuant to s. 624.4211 ~~that is below the minimum 90 percent performance standard~~. This paragraph does not affect the imposition of any penalties or interest due to the claimant. If a carrier contracts with a servicing agent to fulfill its administrative responsibilities under this chapter, the payment practices of the servicing agent are deemed the payment practices of the carrier for the purpose of assessing penalties against the carrier.

(9) The department ~~division~~ may upon its own initiative at any time in a case in which payments are being made without an award investigate same and shall, in any case in which the right to compensation is controverted, or in which payments of compensation have been stopped or suspended, upon receipt of notice from any person entitled to compensation or from the employer that the right to compensation is controverted or that payments of compensation have been stopped or suspended, make such investigations, cause such medical examination to be made, or hold such hearings, and take such further action as it considers will properly protect the rights of all parties.

(10) Whenever the department ~~division~~ deems it advisable, it may require any employer to make a deposit with the Treasurer to secure the prompt and convenient payments of such compensation; and payments therefrom upon any awards shall be made upon order of the department ~~division~~ or judge of compensation claims.

(11)(a) Upon joint petition of all interested parties, a lump-sum payment in exchange for the employer's or carrier's release from liability for future medical expenses, as well as future payments of compensation expenses and any other benefits provided under this chapter, shall be allowed at any time in any case in which the employer or carrier has filed a written notice of denial within 120 days after the date of the injury, and the judge of compensation claims at a hearing to consider the settlement proposal finds a justiciable controversy as to legal or medical compensability of the claimed injury or the alleged accident. The employer or carrier may not pay any attorney's fees on behalf of the claimant for any settlement under this section unless expressly authorized elsewhere in this chapter. Upon the joint petition of all interested parties and after giving due consideration to the interests of all interested parties, the judge of compensation claims may enter a compensation order approving and authorizing the discharge of the liability of the employer for compensation and remedial treatment, care, and attendance, as well as rehabilitation expenses, by the payment of a lump sum. Such a compensation order so entered upon joint petition of all interested parties is not subject to modification or review under s. 440.28. If the settlement proposal together with supporting evidence is not approved by the judge of compensation claims, it shall be considered void. Upon approval of a lump-sum settlement under this subsection, the judge of compensation claims shall send a report to the Chief Judge of the amount of the settlement and a statement of the nature of the controversy. The Chief Judge shall keep a record of all such reports filed by each judge of compensation claims and shall submit to the Legislature a summary of all such reports filed under this subsection annually by September 15.

(b) Upon joint petition of all interested parties, a lump-sum payment in exchange for the employer's or carrier's release from liability for future medical expenses, as well as future payments of compensation and rehabilitation expenses, and any other benefits provided under this chapter, may be allowed at any time in any case after the injured employee has attained maximum medical improvement. An employer or carrier may not pay any attorney's fees on behalf of the claimant for any settlement, unless expressly authorized elsewhere in this chapter. A compensation order so entered upon joint petition of all interested parties shall not be subject to modification or review under s. 440.28. However, a judge of compensation claims is not required to approve any award for lump-sum payment when it is determined by the judge of compensation claims that the payment being made is in excess of the value of benefits the claimant would be entitled to under this chapter. The judge of compensation claims shall make or cause to be made such investigations as she or he considers necessary, in each case in which the parties have stipulated that a proposed final settlement of liability of the employer for compensation shall not be subject to modification or review under s. 440.28, to determine whether such final disposition will definitely aid the rehabilitation of the injured worker or otherwise is clearly for the best interests of the person entitled to compensation and, in her or his discretion, may have an investigation made by the Department of Education ~~Rehabilitation Section of the Division of Workers' Compensation~~. The joint petition and the report of any investigation so made will be deemed a part of the proceeding. An employer shall have the right to appear at any hearing pursuant to this subsection which relates to the discharge of such employer's liability and to present testimony at such hearing. The carrier shall provide reasonable notice to the employer of the time and date of any such hearing and inform the employer of her or his rights to appear and testify. When the claimant is represented by counsel or when the claimant and carrier or employer are represented by counsel, final approval of the lump-sum settlement agreement, as provided for in a joint petition and stipulation, shall be approved by entry of an order within 7 days after the filing of such joint petition and stipulation without a hearing, unless the judge of compensation claims determines, in her or his discretion, that additional testimony is needed before such settlement can be approved or disapproved and so notifies the parties. The probability of the death of the injured employee or other person entitled to compensation before the expiration of the period during which such person is entitled to compensation shall, in the absence of special circumstances making such course improper, be determined in accordance with the most recent United States Life Tables published by the National Office of Vital Statistics of the United States Department of Health and Human Services. The probability of the happening of any other contingency affecting the amount or duration of the compensation, except the possibility of the remarriage of a surviving spouse, shall be disregarded. As a condition of approving a lump-sum payment to a surviving spouse, the judge of compensation claims, in the judge of compensation claims' discretion, may require security which will ensure that, in the event of the remarriage of such surviving spouse, any unaccrued future payments so paid may be recovered or recouped by the employer or carrier. Such applications shall be considered and determined in accordance with s. 440.25.

(c) This section applies to all claims that the parties have not previously settled, regardless of the date of accident.

(12)(a) Liability of an employer for future payments of compensation may not be discharged by advance payment unless prior approval of a judge of compensation claims or the department ~~division~~ has been obtained as hereinafter provided. The approval shall not constitute an adjudication of the claimant's percentage of disability.

(b) When the claimant has reached maximum recovery and returned to her or his former or equivalent employment with no substantial reduction in wages, such approval of a reasonable advance payment of a part of the compensation payable to the claimant may be given informally by letter by a judge of compensation claims or~~,~~ by the department ~~division director, or by the administrator of claims of the division~~.

(c) In the event the claimant has not returned to the same or equivalent employment with no substantial reduction in wages or has suffered a substantial loss of earning capacity or a physical impairment, actual or apparent:

1. An advance payment of compensation not in excess of $2,000 may be approved informally by letter, without hearing, by any judge of compensation claims or the Chief Judge.

2. An advance payment of compensation not in excess of $2,000 may be ordered by any judge of compensation claims after giving the interested parties an opportunity for a hearing thereon pursuant to not less than 10 days' notice by mail, unless such notice is waived, and after giving due consideration to the interests of the person entitled thereto. When the parties have stipulated to an advance payment of compensation not in excess of $2,000, such advance may be approved by an order of a judge of compensation claims, with or without hearing, or informally by letter by any such judge of compensation claims, or by the department ~~division director~~, if such advance is found to be for the best interests of the person entitled thereto.

3. When the parties have stipulated to an advance payment in excess of $2,000, subject to the approval of the department ~~division~~, such payment may be approved by a judge of compensation claims by order if the judge finds that such advance payment is for the best interests of the person entitled thereto and is reasonable under the circumstances of the particular case. The judge of compensation claims shall make or cause to be made such investigations as she or he considers necessary concerning the stipulation and, in her or his discretion, may have an investigation of the matter made by the Department of Education ~~Rehabilitation Section of the division~~. The stipulation and the report of any investigation shall be deemed a part of the record of the proceedings.

(d) When an application for an advance payment in excess of $2,000 is opposed by the employer or carrier, it shall be heard by a judge of compensation claims after giving the interested parties not less than 10 days' notice of such hearing by mail, unless such notice is waived. In her or his discretion, the judge of compensation claims may have an investigation of the matter made by the Department of Education ~~Rehabilitation Section of the division~~, in which event the report and recommendation of that section will be deemed a part of the record of the proceedings. If the judge of compensation claims finds that such advance payment is for the best interests of the person entitled to compensation, will not materially prejudice the rights of the employer and carrier, and is reasonable under the circumstances of the case, she or he may order the same paid. However, in no event may any such advance payment under this paragraph be granted in excess of $7,500 or 26 weeks of benefits in any 48-month period, whichever is greater, from the date of the last advance payment.

(15)(a) The department ~~division~~ shall examine on an ongoing basis claims files in accordance with ss. 624.3161 and 624.310(5) in order to identify questionable claims-handling techniques, questionable patterns or practices of claims, or a pattern of repeated unreasonably controverted claims by employers, carriers, and self-insurers~~, health care providers, health care facilities, training and education providers, or any others~~ providing services to employees pursuant to this chapter ~~and may certify its findings to the Department of Insurance~~. If the department finds such questionable techniques, patterns, or repeated unreasonably controverted claims as constitute a general business practice of a carrier, ~~in the judgment of the division shall be certified in its findings by the division to the Department of Insurance or such other appropriate licensing agency. Such certification by the division is exempt from the provisions of chapter 120. Upon receipt of any such certification,~~ the department ~~of Insurance~~ shall take appropriate action so as to bring such general business practices to a halt pursuant to s. 440.38(3)(a) or may impose penalties pursuant to s. 624.4211. The department ~~division~~ may initiate investigations of questionable techniques, patterns, practices, or repeated unreasonably controverted claims. The department ~~division~~ may by rule establish penalties for violations and forms and procedures for corrective action plans and for auditing carriers.

(b) As to any examination, investigation, or hearing being conducted under this chapter, the Treasurer or his or her designee ~~Secretary of Labor and Employment Security or the secretary's designee~~:

1. May administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses, receive oral and documentary evidence; and

2. Shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance and testimony, and require by subpoena the production of books, papers, records, files, correspondence, documents, or other evidence which is relevant to the inquiry.

(c) If any person refuses to comply with any such subpoena or to testify as to any matter concerning which she or he may be lawfully interrogated, the Circuit Court of Leon County or of the county wherein such examination, investigation, or hearing is being conducted, or of the county wherein such person resides, may, on the application of the department, issue an order requiring such person to comply with the subpoena and to testify.

(d) Subpoenas shall be served, and proof of such service made, in the same manner as if issued by a circuit court. Witness fees, costs, and reasonable travel expenses, if claimed, shall be allowed the same as for testimony in a circuit court.

(e) ~~The division shall publish annually a report which indicates the promptness of first payment of compensation records of each carrier or self-insurer so as to focus attention on those carriers or self-insurers with poor payment records for the preceding year. A copy of such report shall be certified to~~ The department ~~of Insurance which~~ shall take appropriate steps so as to cause such poor carrier payment practices to halt pursuant to s. 440.38(3)(a). In addition, the department ~~division~~ shall take appropriate action so as to halt such poor payment practices of self-insurers. "Poor payment practice" means a practice of late payment sufficient to constitute a general business practice.

(f) The department ~~division~~ shall promulgate rules providing guidelines to carriers, self-insurers, and employers to indicate behavior that may be construed as questionable claims-handling techniques, questionable patterns of claims, repeated unreasonably controverted claims, or poor payment practices.

(16) No penalty assessed under this section may be recouped by any carrier or self-insurer in the rate base, the premium, or any rate filing. ~~In the case of carriers,~~ The Department of Insurance shall enforce this subsection~~; and in the case of self-insurers, the division shall enforce this subsection~~.

(17) The department ~~division~~ may by rule establish audit procedures and set standards for the Automated Carrier Performance System.

Section 29. Subsections (1) and (2) of section 440.207, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.207 Workers' compensation system guide.—

(1) The department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ shall educate all persons providing or receiving benefits pursuant to this chapter as to their rights and responsibilities under this chapter.

(2) The department ~~division~~ shall publish an understandable guide to the workers' compensation system which shall contain an explanation of benefits provided; services provided by the Employee Assistance and Ombudsman Office; procedures regarding mediation, the hearing process, and civil and criminal penalties; relevant rules of the department ~~division~~; and such other information as the department ~~division~~ believes will inform employees, employers, carriers, and those providing services pursuant to this chapter of their rights and responsibilities under this chapter and the rules of the department ~~division~~. For the purposes of this subsection, a guide is understandable if the text of the guide is written at a level of readability not exceeding the eighth grade level, as determined by a recognized readability test.

440.211 Authorization of collective bargaining agreement.—

(1) Subject to the limitation stated in subsection (2), a provision that is mutually agreed upon in any collective bargaining agreement filed with the department ~~division~~ between an individually self-insured employer or other employer upon consent of the employer's carrier and a recognized or certified exclusive bargaining representative establishing any of the following shall be valid and binding:

(a) An alternative dispute resolution system to supplement, modify, or replace the provisions of this chapter which may include, but is not limited to, conciliation, mediation, and arbitration. Arbitration held pursuant to this section shall be binding on the parties.

(b) The use of an agreed-upon list of certified health care providers of medical treatment which may be the exclusive source of all medical treatment under this chapter.

(c) The use of a limited list of physicians to conduct independent medical examinations which the parties may agree shall be the exclusive source of independent medical examiners pursuant to this chapter.

(d) A light-duty, modified-job, or return-to-work program.

(e) A vocational rehabilitation or retraining program.

440.24 Enforcement of compensation orders; penalties.—

(1) In case of default by the employer or carrier in the payment of compensation due under any compensation order of a judge of compensation claims or other failure by the employer or carrier to comply with such order within 10 days after the order becomes final, any circuit court of this state within the jurisdiction of which the employer or carrier resides or transacts business shall, upon application by the department ~~division~~ or any beneficiary under such order, have jurisdiction to issue a rule nisi directing such employer or carrier to show cause why a writ of execution, or such other process as may be necessary to enforce the terms of such order, shall not be issued, and, unless such cause is shown, the court shall have jurisdiction to issue a writ of execution or such other process or final order as may be necessary to enforce the terms of such order of the judge of compensation claims.

(2) In any case where the employer is insured and the carrier fails to comply with any compensation order of a judge of compensation claims or court within 10 days after such order becomes final, ~~the division shall notify~~ the department ~~of Insurance of such failure, and the Department of Insurance~~ shall thereupon suspend the license of such carrier to do an insurance business in this state, until such carrier has complied with such order.

(3) In any case where the employer is a self-insurer and fails to comply with any compensation order of a judge of compensation claims or court within 10 days after such order becomes final, the department ~~division~~ may suspend or revoke any authorization previously given to the employer to become a self-insurer, and the department ~~division~~ may sell such of the securities deposited by such self-insurer with the department ~~division~~ as may be necessary to satisfy such order.

Section 32. Subsections (4), (5), and (7) of section 440.25, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.25 Procedures for mediation and hearings.—

(4)(a) If, on the 10th day following commencement of mediation, the questions in dispute have not been resolved, the judge of compensation claims shall hold a pretrial hearing. The judge of compensation claims shall give the interested parties at least 7 days' advance notice of the pretrial hearing by mail. At the pretrial hearing, the judge of compensation claims shall, subject to paragraph (b), set a date for the final hearing that allows the parties at least 30 days to conduct discovery unless the parties consent to an earlier hearing date.

(b) The final hearing must be held and concluded within 45 days after the pretrial hearing. Continuances may be granted only if the requesting party demonstrates to the judge of compensation claims that the reason for requesting the continuance arises from circumstances beyond the party's control.

(c) The judge of compensation claims shall give the interested parties at least 7 days' advance notice of the final hearing, served upon the interested parties by mail.

(d) The hearing shall be held in the county where the injury occurred, if the injury occurred in this state, unless otherwise agreed to between the parties and authorized by the judge of compensation claims in the county where the injury occurred. If the injury occurred without the state and is one for which compensation is payable under this chapter, then the hearing above referred to may be held in the county of the employer's residence or place of business, or in any other county of the state which will, in the discretion of the Chief Judge, be the most convenient for a hearing. The hearing shall be conducted by a judge of compensation claims, who shall, within 14 days after final hearing, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, determine the dispute in a summary manner. At such hearing, the claimant and employer may each present evidence in respect of such claim and may be represented by any attorney authorized in writing for such purpose. When there is a conflict in the medical evidence submitted at the hearing, the provisions of s. 440.13 shall apply. The report or testimony of the expert medical advisor shall be made a part of the record of the proceeding and shall be given the same consideration by the judge of compensation claims as is accorded other medical evidence submitted in the proceeding; and all costs incurred in connection with such examination and testimony may be assessed as costs in the proceeding, subject to the provisions of s. 440.13. No judge of compensation claims may make a finding of a degree of permanent impairment that is greater than the greatest permanent impairment rating given the claimant by any examining or treating physician, except upon stipulation of the parties.

(e) The order making an award or rejecting the claim, referred to in this chapter as a "compensation order," shall set forth the findings of ultimate facts and the mandate; and the order need not include any other reason or justification for such mandate. The compensation order shall be filed in the office of the department ~~division~~ at Tallahassee. A copy of such compensation order shall be sent by mail to the parties and attorneys of record at the last known address of each, with the date of mailing noted thereon.

(f) Each judge of compensation claims is required to submit a special report to the Chief Judge in each contested workers' compensation case in which the case is not determined within 14 days of final hearing. Said form shall be provided by the Chief Judge and shall contain the names of the judge of compensation claims and of the attorneys involved and a brief explanation by the judge of compensation claims as to the reason for such a delay in issuing a final order. The Chief Judge shall compile these special reports into an annual public report to the Governor, the department ~~Secretary of Labor and Employment Security~~, the Legislature, The Florida Bar, and the appellate district judicial nominating commissions.

(g) Judges of compensation claims shall adopt and enforce uniform local rules for workers' compensation.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the judge of compensation claims may require the appearance of the parties and counsel before her or him without written notice for an emergency conference where there is a bona fide emergency involving the health, safety, or welfare of an employee. An emergency conference under this section may result in the entry of an order or the rendering of an adjudication by the judge of compensation claims.

(i) To expedite dispute resolution and to enhance the self-executing features of the Workers' Compensation Law, the Chief Judge shall make provision by rule or order for the resolution of appropriate motions by judges of compensation claims without oral hearing upon submission of brief written statements in support and opposition, and for expedited discovery and docketing.

(j) To further expedite dispute resolution and to enhance the self-executing features of the system, those petitions filed in accordance with s. 440.192 that involve a claim for benefits of $5,000 or less shall, in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary, be presumed to be appropriate for expedited resolution under this paragraph; and any other claim filed in accordance with s. 440.192, upon the written agreement of both parties and application by either party, may similarly be resolved under this paragraph. For purposes of expedited resolution pursuant to this paragraph, the Chief Judge shall make provision by rule or order for expedited and limited discovery and expedited docketing in such cases. At least 15 days prior to hearing, the parties shall exchange and file with the judge of compensation claims a pretrial outline of all issues, defenses, and witnesses on a form promulgated by the Chief Judge; provided, in no event shall such hearing be held without 15 days' written notice to all parties. No pretrial hearing shall be held. The judge of compensation claims shall limit all argument and presentation of evidence at the hearing to a maximum of 30 minutes, and such hearings shall not exceed 30 minutes in length. Neither party shall be required to be represented by counsel. The employer or carrier may be represented by an adjuster or other qualified representative. The employer or carrier and any witness may appear at such hearing by telephone. The rules of evidence shall be liberally construed in favor of allowing introduction of evidence.

(5)(a) Procedures with respect to appeals from orders of judges of compensation claims shall be governed by rules adopted by the Supreme Court. Such an order shall become final 30 days after mailing of copies of such order to the parties, unless appealed pursuant to such rules.

(b) An appellant may be relieved of any necessary filing fee by filing a verified petition of indigency for approval as provided in s. 57.081(1) and may be relieved in whole or in part from the costs for preparation of the record on appeal if, within 15 days after the date notice of the estimated costs for the preparation is served, the appellant files with the judge of compensation claims a copy of the designation of the record on appeal, and a verified petition to be relieved of costs. A verified petition filed prior to the date of service of the notice of the estimated costs shall be deemed not timely filed. The verified petition relating to record costs shall contain a sworn statement that the appellant is insolvent and a complete, detailed, and sworn financial affidavit showing all the appellant's assets, liabilities, and income. Failure to state in the affidavit all assets and income, including marital assets and income, shall be grounds for denying the petition with prejudice. The department ~~division~~ shall promulgate rules as may be required pursuant to this subsection, including forms for use in all petitions brought under this subsection. The appellant's attorney, or the appellant if she or he is not represented by an attorney, shall include as a part of the verified petition relating to record costs an affidavit or affirmation that, in her or his opinion, the notice of appeal was filed in good faith and that there is a probable basis for the District Court of Appeal, First District, to find reversible error, and shall state with particularity the specific legal and factual grounds for the opinion. Failure to so affirm shall be grounds for denying the petition. A copy of the verified petition relating to record costs shall be served upon all interested parties, including the department ~~division and the Office of the General Counsel, Department of Labor and Employment Security,~~ in Tallahassee. The judge of compensation claims shall promptly conduct a hearing on the verified petition relating to record costs, giving at least 15 days' notice to the appellant, the department ~~division~~, and all other interested parties, all of whom shall be parties to the proceedings. The judge of compensation claims may enter an order without such hearing if no objection is filed by an interested party within 20 days from the service date of the verified petition relating to record costs. Such proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of this section and with the workers' compensation rules of procedure, to the extent applicable. In the event an insolvency petition is granted, the judge of compensation claims shall direct the department ~~division~~ to pay record costs and filing fees from the Workers' Compensation Administrative Trust Fund pending final disposition of the costs of appeal. The department ~~division~~ may transcribe or arrange for the transcription of the record in any proceeding for which it is ordered to pay the cost of the record. In the event the insolvency petition is denied, the judge of compensation claims may enter an order requiring the petitioner to reimburse the department ~~division~~ for costs incurred in opposing the petition, including investigation and travel expenses.

(c) As a condition of filing a notice of appeal to the District Court of Appeal, First District, an employer who has not secured the payment of compensation under this chapter in compliance with s. 440.38 shall file with the notice of appeal a good and sufficient bond, as provided in s. 59.13, conditioned to pay the amount of the demand and any interest and costs payable under the terms of the order if the appeal is dismissed, or if the District Court of Appeal, First District, affirms the award in any amount. Upon the failure of such employer to file such bond with the judge of compensation claims or the District Court of Appeal, First District, along with the notice of appeal, the District Court of Appeal, First District, shall dismiss the notice of appeal.

(7) An injured employee claiming or entitled to compensation shall submit to such physical examination by a certified expert medical advisor approved by the agency ~~division~~ or the judge of compensation claims as the agency ~~division~~ or the judge of compensation claims may require. The place or places shall be reasonably convenient for the employee. Such physician or physicians as the employee, employer, or carrier may select and pay for may participate in an examination if the employee, employer, or carrier so requests. Proceedings shall be suspended and no compensation shall be payable for any period during which the employee may refuse to submit to examination. Any interested party shall have the right in any case of death to require an autopsy, the cost thereof to be borne by the party requesting it; and the judge of compensation claims shall have authority to order and require an autopsy and may, in her or his discretion, withhold her or his findings and award until an autopsy is held.

Section 33. Section 440.271, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.271 Appeal of order of judge of compensation claims.—Review of any order of a judge of compensation claims entered pursuant to this chapter shall be by appeal to the District Court of Appeal, First District. Appeals shall be filed in accordance with rules of procedure prescribed by the Supreme Court for review of such orders. The department ~~division~~ shall be given notice of any proceedings pertaining to s. 440.25, regarding indigency, or s. 440.49, regarding the Special Disability Trust Fund, and shall have the right to intervene in any proceedings.

Section 34. Section 440.345, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.345 Reporting of attorney's fees.—All fees paid to attorneys for services rendered under this chapter shall be reported to the department ~~division~~ as the department ~~division~~ requires by rule. The department ~~division~~ shall annually summarize such data in a report to the Workers' Compensation Oversight Board.

Section 35. Section 440.35, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.35 Record of injury or death.—Every employer shall keep a record in respect of any injury to an employee. Such record shall contain such information of disability or death in respect of such injury as the department ~~division~~ may by regulation require, and shall be available to inspection by the department ~~division~~ or by any state authority at such time and under such conditions as the department ~~division~~ may by regulation prescribe.

Section 36. Subsections (1), (2), and (3) of section 440.38, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.38 Security for compensation; insurance carriers and self-insurers.—

(1) Every employer shall secure the payment of compensation under this chapter:

(a) By insuring and keeping insured the payment of such compensation with any stock company or mutual company or association or exchange, authorized to do business in the state;

(b) By furnishing satisfactory proof to the department ~~division~~ of its financial ability to pay such compensation individually and on behalf of its subsidiary and affiliated companies with employees in this state and receiving an authorization from the department ~~division~~ to pay such compensation directly in accordance with the following provisions:

1. The department ~~division~~ may, as a condition to such authorization, require such employer to deposit in a depository designated by the department ~~division~~ either an indemnity bond or securities, at the option of the employer, of a kind and in an amount determined by the department ~~division~~ and subject to such conditions as the department ~~division~~ may prescribe, which shall include authorization to the department ~~division~~ in the case of default to sell any such securities sufficient to pay compensation awards or to bring suit upon such bonds, to procure prompt payment of compensation under this chapter. In addition, the department ~~division~~ shall require, as a condition to authorization to self-insure, proof that the employer has provided for competent personnel with whom to deliver benefits and to provide a safe working environment. Further, the department ~~division~~ shall require such employer to carry reinsurance at levels that will ensure the actuarial soundness of such employer in accordance with rules promulgated by the department ~~division~~. The department ~~division~~ may by rule require that, in the event of an individual self-insurer's insolvency, such indemnity bonds, securities, and reinsurance policies shall be payable to the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, created pursuant to s. 440.385. Any employer securing compensation in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall be known as a self-insurer and shall be classed as a carrier of her or his own insurance.

2. If the employer fails to maintain the foregoing requirements, the department ~~division~~ shall revoke the employer's authority to self-insure, unless the employer provides to the department ~~division~~ the certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Society of Actuaries as to the actuarial present value of the employer's determined and estimated future compensation payments based on cash reserves, using a 4-percent discount rate, and a qualifying security deposit equal to 1.5 times the value so certified. The employer shall thereafter annually provide such a certified opinion until such time as the employer meets the requirements of subparagraph 1. The qualifying security deposit shall be adjusted at the time of each such annual report. Upon the failure of the employer to timely provide such opinion or to timely provide a security deposit in an amount equal to 1.5 times the value certified in the latest opinion, the department ~~division~~ shall then revoke such employer's authorization to self-insure, and such failure shall be deemed to constitute an immediate serious danger to the public health, safety, or welfare sufficient to justify the summary suspension of the employer's authorization to self-insure pursuant to s. 120.68.

3. Upon the suspension or revocation of the employer's authorization to self-insure, the employer shall provide to the department ~~division~~ and to the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, created pursuant to s. 440.385 the certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Society of Actuaries of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the employer for claims incurred while the member exercised the privilege of self-insurance, using a discount rate of 4 percent. The employer shall provide such an opinion at 6-month intervals thereafter until such time as the latest opinion shows no remaining value of claims. With each such opinion, the employer shall deposit with the department ~~division~~ a qualifying security deposit in an amount equal to the value certified by the actuary. The association has a cause of action against an employer, and against any successor of the employer, who fails to timely provide such opinion or who fails to timely maintain the required security deposit with the department ~~division~~. The association shall recover a judgment in the amount of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the employer for claims incurred while the employer exercised the privilege of self-insurance, together with attorney's fees. For purposes of this section, the successor of an employer means any person, business entity, or group of persons or business entities, which holds or acquires legal or beneficial title to the majority of the assets or the majority of the shares of the employer.

4. A qualifying security deposit shall consist, at the option of the employer, of:

a. Surety bonds, in a form and containing such terms as prescribed by the department ~~division~~, issued by a corporation surety authorized to transact surety business by the Department of Insurance, and whose policyholders' and financial ratings, as reported in A.M. Best's Insurance Reports, Property-Liability, are not less than "A" and "V", respectively.

b. Certificates of deposit with financial institutions, the deposits of which are insured through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

c. Irrevocable letters of credit in favor of the department ~~division~~ issued by financial institutions described in sub-subparagraph b.

d. Direct obligations of the United States Treasury backed by the full faith and credit of the United States.

e. Securities issued by this state and backed by the full faith and credit of this state.

5. The qualifying security deposit shall be held by the department ~~division~~, or by a depository authorized by the department ~~division~~, exclusively for the benefit of workers' compensation claimants. The security shall not be subject to assignment, execution, attachment, or any legal process whatsoever, except as necessary to guarantee the payment of compensation under this chapter. No surety bond may be terminated, and no other qualifying security may be allowed to lapse, without 90 days' prior notice to the department ~~division~~ and deposit by the self-insuring employer of other qualifying security of equal value within 10 business days after such notice. Failure to provide such notice or failure to timely provide qualifying replacement security after such notice shall constitute grounds for the department ~~division~~ to call or sue upon the surety bond, or to act with respect to other pledged security in any manner necessary to preserve its value for the purposes intended by this section, including the exercise of rights under a letter of credit, the sale of any security at then prevailing market rates, or the withdrawal of any funds represented by any certificate of deposit forming part of the qualifying security deposit. The department ~~division~~ may specify by rule the amount of the qualifying security deposit required prior to authorizing an employer to self-insure and the amount of net worth required for an employer to qualify for authorization to self-insure;

(c) By entering into a contract with a public utility under an approved utility-provided self-insurance program as set forth in s. 440.571 in effect as of July 1, 1983. The department ~~division~~ shall adopt rules to implement this paragraph;

(d) By entering into an interlocal agreement with other local governmental entities to create a local government pool pursuant to s. 624.4622;

(e) In accordance with s. 440.135, an employer, other than a local government unit, may elect coverage under the Workers' Compensation Law and retain the benefit of the exclusiveness of liability provided in s. 440.11 by obtaining a 24-hour health insurance policy from an authorized property and casualty insurance carrier or an authorized life and health insurance carrier, or by participating in a fully or partially self-insured 24-hour health plan that is established or maintained by or for two or more employers, so long as the law of this state is not preempted by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, Pub. L. No. 93-406, or any amendment to that law, which policy or plan must provide, for at least occupational injuries and illnesses, medical benefits that are comparable to those required by this chapter. A local government unit, as a single employer, in accordance with s. 440.135, may participate in the 24-hour health insurance coverage plan referenced in this paragraph. Disputes and remedies arising under policies issued under this section are governed by the terms and conditions of the policies and under the applicable provisions of the Florida Insurance Code and rules adopted under the insurance code and other applicable laws of this state. The 24-hour health insurance policy may provide for health care by a health maintenance organization or a preferred provider organization. The premium for such 24-hour health insurance policy shall be paid entirely by the employer. The 24-hour health insurance policy may use deductibles and coinsurance provisions that require the employee to pay a portion of the actual medical care received by the employee. If an employer obtains a 24-hour health insurance policy or self-insured plan to secure payment of compensation as to medical benefits, the employer must also obtain an insurance policy or policies that provide indemnity benefits as follows:

1. If indemnity benefits are provided only for occupational-related disability, such benefits must be comparable to those required by this chapter.

2. If indemnity benefits are provided for both occupational-related and nonoccupational-related disability, such benefits must be comparable to those required by this chapter, except that they must be based on 60 percent of the average weekly wages.

3. The employer shall provide for each of its employees life insurance with a death benefit of $100,000.

4. Policies providing coverage under this subsection must use prescribed and acceptable underwriting standards, forms, and policies approved by the Department of Insurance. If any insurance policy that provides coverage under this section is canceled, terminated, or nonrenewed for any reason, the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal is ineffective until the self-insured employer or insurance carrier or carriers notify ~~the division and~~ the Department of Insurance of the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal, and until the department ~~division~~ has actually received the notification. The department ~~division~~ must be notified of replacement coverage under a workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance policy or plan by the employer prior to the effective date of the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal; or

(f) By entering into a contract with an individual self-insurer under an approved individual self-insurer-provided self-insurance program as set forth in s. 624.46225. The department ~~division~~ may adopt rules to implement this subsection.

(2)(a) The department ~~division~~ shall adopt rules by which businesses may become qualified to provide underwriting claims-adjusting, loss control, and safety engineering services to self-insurers.

(b) The department ~~division~~ shall adopt rules requiring self-insurers to file any reports necessary to fulfill the requirements of this chapter. Any self-insurer who fails to file any report as prescribed by the rules adopted by the department ~~division~~ shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $100 for each such failure.

(3)(a) The license of any stock company or mutual company or association or exchange authorized to do insurance business in the state shall for good cause~~, upon recommendation of the division,~~ be suspended or revoked by the Department of Insurance. No suspension or revocation shall affect the liability of any carrier already incurred.

(b) The department ~~division~~ shall suspend or revoke any authorization to a self-insurer for good cause, as defined by rule of the department ~~division~~. No suspension or revocation shall affect the liability of any self-insurer already incurred.

(c) Violation of s. 440.381 by a self-insurance fund shall result in the imposition of a fine not to exceed $1,000 per audit if the self-insurance fund fails to act on said audits by correcting errors in employee classification or accepted applications for coverage where it knew employee classifications were incorrect. Such fines shall be levied by the department ~~division~~ and deposited into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund.

Section 37. Subsections (3) and (7) of section 440.381, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.381 Application for coverage; reporting payroll; payroll audit procedures; penalties.—

(3) The department ~~of Insurance and the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ shall establish by rule minimum requirements for audits of payroll and classifications in order to ensure that the appropriate premium is charged for workers' compensation coverage. The rules shall ensure that audits performed by both carriers and employers are adequate to provide that all sources of payments to employees, subcontractors, and independent contractors have been reviewed and that the accuracy of classification of employees has been verified. The rules shall provide that employers in all classes other than the construction class be audited not less frequently than biennially and may provide for more frequent audits of employers in specified classifications based on factors such as amount of premium, type of business, loss ratios, or other relevant factors. In no event shall employers in the construction class, generating more than the amount of premium required to be experience rated, be audited less than annually. The annual audits required for construction classes shall consist of physical onsite audits. Payroll verification audit rules must include, but need not be limited to, the use of state and federal reports of employee income, payroll and other accounting records, certificates of insurance maintained by subcontractors, and duties of employees.

(7) If an employee suffering a compensable injury was not reported as earning wages on the last quarterly earnings report filed with the Division of Unemployment Compensation before the accident, the employer shall indemnify the carrier for all workers' compensation benefits paid to or on behalf of the employee unless the employer establishes that the employee was hired after the filing of the quarterly report, in which case the employer and employee shall attest to the fact that the employee was employed by the employer at the time of the injury. ~~It shall be the responsibility of the Division of Workers' Compensation to collect all necessary data so as to enable it to notify the carrier of the name of an injured worker who was not reported as earning wages on the last quarterly earnings report. The division is hereby authorized to release such records to the carrier which will enable the carrier to seek reimbursement as provided under this subsection.~~ Failure of the employer to indemnify the insurer within 21 days after demand by the insurer shall constitute grounds for the insurer to immediately cancel coverage. Any action for indemnification brought by the carrier shall be cognizable in the circuit court having jurisdiction where the employer or carrier resides or transacts business. The insurer shall be entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee if it recovers any portion of the benefits paid in such action.

Section 38. Section 440.385, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.385 Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated.—

(1) CREATION OF ASSOCIATION.—

(a) There is created a nonprofit corporation to be known as the "Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated," hereinafter referred to as "the association." Upon incorporation of the association, all individual self-insurers as defined in ss. 440.02(23)(a) and 440.38(1)(b), other than individual self-insurers which are public utilities or governmental entities, shall be members of the association as a condition of their authority to individually self-insure in this state. The association ~~corporation~~ shall perform its functions under a plan of operation as established and approved under subsection (5) and shall exercise its powers and duties through a board of directors as established under subsection (2). The association ~~corporation~~ shall have those powers granted or permitted associations ~~corporations~~ not for profit, as provided in chapter 617. The activities of the association shall be subject to review by the Department of Insurance. The Department of Insurance shall have oversight responsibility as set forth in this act. The association is specifically authorized to enter into agreements with the State of Florida to perform specified services.

(b) A member may voluntarily withdraw from the association when the member voluntarily terminates the self-insurance privilege and pays all assessments due to the date of such termination. However, the withdrawing member shall continue to be bound by the provisions of this section relating to the period of his or her membership and any claims charged pursuant thereto. The withdrawing member who is a member on or after January 1, 1991, shall also be required to provide to the association ~~division~~ upon withdrawal, and at 12-month intervals thereafter, satisfactory proof*, including, if requested by the association, a report of known and potential claims certified by a member of the American Academy of Actuaries,* that it continues to meet the standards of s. 440.38(1)(b)1. in relation to claims incurred while the withdrawing member exercised the privilege of self-insurance. Such reporting shall continue until the withdrawing member demonstrates to ~~satisfies~~ the association ~~division~~ that there is no remaining value to claims incurred while the withdrawing member was self-insured. If a withdrawing member fails or refuses to timely provide an actuarial report to the association, the association may obtain an order from a circuit court requiring the member to produce such a report and ordering such other relief as the court determines appropriate. The association shall be entitled to recover all reasonable costs and attorney's fees expended in such proceedings. If during this reporting period the withdrawing member fails to meet the standards of s. 440.38(1)(b)1., the withdrawing member who is a member on or after January 1, 1991, shall thereupon, and at 6-month intervals thereafter, provide to the ~~division and the~~ association the certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Academy ~~Society~~ of Actuaries of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the member for claims incurred while the member was a self-insurer, using a discount rate of 4 percent. With each such opinion, the withdrawing member shall deposit with the association ~~division~~ security in an amount equal to the value certified by the actuary and of a type that is acceptable for qualifying security deposits under s. 440.38(1)(b). The withdrawing member shall continue to provide such opinions and to provide such security until such time as the latest opinion shows no remaining value of claims. The association has a cause of action against a withdrawing member, and against any successor of a withdrawing member, who fails to timely provide the required opinion or who fails to maintain the required deposit with the division. The association shall be entitled to recover a judgment in the amount of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the withdrawing member for claims incurred during the time that the withdrawing member exercised the privilege of self-insurance, together with reasonable attorney's fees. The association is also entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees in any action to compel production of any actuarial report required by this statute. For purposes of this section, the successor of a withdrawing member means any person, business entity, or group of persons or business entities, which holds or acquires legal or beneficial title to the majority of the assets or the majority of the shares of the withdrawing member.

(2) BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—The board of directors of the association shall consist of nine persons and shall be organized as established in the plan of operation. All board members shall be experienced in self-insurance in this state. ~~With respect to initial appointments, the Secretary of Labor and Employment Security shall, by July 15, 1982, approve and appoint to the board persons who are experienced with self-insurance in this state and who are recommended by the individual self-insurers in this state required to become members of the association pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (1)(a). In the event the secretary finds that any person so recommended does not have the necessary qualifications for service on the board and a majority of the board has been appointed, the secretary shall request the directors thus far approved and appointed to recommend another person for appointment to the board.~~ Each director shall serve for a 4-year term and may be reappointed. Appointments after March 21, 2001, ~~other than initial appointments~~ shall be made by the Insurance Commissioner ~~Secretary of Labor and Employment Security~~ upon recommendation of members of the association. Any vacancy on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term in the same manner as appointments other than initial appointments are made. Each director shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred in carrying out the duties of the board on behalf of the association.

(3) POWERS AND DUTIES.—

(a) Upon creation of the Insolvency Fund pursuant to the provisions of subsection (4), the association is obligated for payment of compensation under this chapter to insolvent members' employees resulting from incidents and injuries existing prior to the member becoming an insolvent member and from incidents and injuries occurring within 30 days after the member has become an insolvent member, provided the incidents giving rise to claims for compensation under this chapter occur during the year in which such insolvent member is a member of the guaranty fund and was assessable pursuant to the plan of operation, and provided the employee makes timely claim for such payments according to procedures set forth by a court of competent jurisdiction over the delinquency or bankruptcy proceedings of the insolvent member. Such obligation includes only that amount due the injured worker or workers of the insolvent member under this chapter. In no event is the association obligated to a claimant in an amount in excess of the obligation of the insolvent member. The association shall be deemed the insolvent employer for purposes of this chapter to the extent of its obligation on the covered claims and, to such extent, shall have all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent employer as if the employer had not become insolvent. However, in no event shall the association be liable for any penalties or interest.

(b) The association may:

1. Employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association.

2. Borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this section in accord with the plan of operation.

3. Sue or be sued.

4. Negotiate and become a party to such contracts as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

5. Purchase such reinsurance as is determined necessary pursuant to the plan of operation.

6. Review all applicants for membership in the association to determine whether the applicant is qualified for membership under the law. The association shall recommend to the Department of Insurance that the application be accepted or rejected based on the criteria set forth in s. 440.38(1)(b). The department shall approve or disapprove the application. ~~Prior to a final determination by the Division of Workers' Compensation as to whether or not to approve any applicant for membership in the association, the association may issue opinions to the division concerning any applicant, which opinions shall be considered by the division prior to any final determination.~~

7. Collect and review financial information from employers and make recommendations to the Department of Insurance regarding the appropriate security deposit and reinsurance amounts necessary for an employer to demonstrate that it has the financial strength necessary to assure the timely payment of all current and future claims. The association may audit and examine an employer to verify the financial strength of its current and former members. If the association determines that a current or former self-insured employer does not have the financial strength necessary to assure the timely payment of all current and estimated future claims, the association may recommend to the department that the department:

a. Revoke the employer's self-insurance privilege.

b. Require the employer to provide a certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries as to the actuarial present value of the employer's estimated current and future compensation payments, using a 4-percent discount rate.

c. Require an increase in the employer's security deposit in an amount determined by the association to be necessary to assure payment of compensation claims. The department shall act on such recommendations. The association has a cause of action against an employer, and against any successor of an employer, who fails to provide an additional security deposit required by the department. The association shall recover a judgment in the amount of the requested additional security deposit together with reasonable attorney's fees. For the purposes of this section, the successor of an employer is any person, business entity, or group of persons or business entities that holds or acquires legal or beneficial title to the majority of the assets or the majority of the shares of the employer.

8. ~~7.~~ Charge fees to any member of the association to cover the actual costs of examining the financial and safety conditions of that member.

9. ~~8.~~ Charge an applicant for membership in the association a fee sufficient to cover the actual costs of examining the financial condition of the applicant.

10. Implement any and all procedures necessary to ensure compliance with regulatory actions taken by the department.

(c)1. To the extent necessary to secure funds for the payment of covered claims and also to pay the reasonable costs to administer them, the association, subject to approval by the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security, upon certification of the board of directors~~, shall levy assessments based on the annual written ~~normal~~ premium each employer would have paid had the employer not been self-insured. Every assessment shall be made as a uniform percentage of the figure applicable to all individual self-insurers, provided that the assessment levied against any self-insurer in any one year shall not exceed 1 percent of the annual written ~~normal~~ premium during the calendar year preceding the date of the assessment. Assessments shall be remitted to and administered by the board of directors in the manner specified by the approved plan. Each employer so assessed shall have at least 30 days' written notice as to the date the assessment is due and payable. The association shall levy assessments against any newly admitted member of the association so that the basis of contribution of any newly admitted member is the same as previously admitted members, provision for which shall be contained in the plan of operation.

2. If, in any one year, funds available from such assessments, together with funds previously raised, are not sufficient to make all the payments or reimbursements then owing, the funds available shall be prorated, and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon thereafter as sufficient additional funds become available.

3. Funds may be allocated or paid from the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund to contract with the association to perform services required by law. However, no state funds of any kind shall be allocated or paid to the association or any of its accounts for payment of covered claims or related expenses except those state funds accruing to the association by and through the assignment of rights of an insolvent employer. The department shall not levy any assessment on the Florida Self-Insurance Guaranty Association.

(4) INSOLVENCY FUND.—Upon the adoption of a plan of operation ~~or the adoption of rules by the Department of Labor and Employment Security pursuant to subsection (5)~~, there shall be created an Insolvency Fund to be managed by the association.

(a) The Insolvency Fund is created for purposes of meeting the obligations of insolvent members incurred while members of the association and after the exhaustion of any security deposit ~~bond~~, as required under this chapter. However, if such security deposit ~~bond, surety,~~ or reinsurance policy is payable to the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, the association shall commence to provide benefits out of the Insolvency Fund and be reimbursed from the security deposit ~~bond, surety,~~ or reinsurance policy. The method of operation of the Insolvency Fund shall be defined in the plan of operation as provided in subsection (5).

(b) The department shall have the authority to audit the financial soundness of the Insolvency Fund annually.

(c) The department may offer certain amendments to the plan of operation to the board of directors of the association for purposes of assuring the ongoing financial soundness of the Insolvency Fund and its ability to meet the obligations of this section.

~~(d) The department actuary may make certain recommendations to improve the orderly payment of claims.~~

(5) PLAN OF OPERATION.—The association shall operate pursuant to a plan of operation approved by the board of directors. The plan of operation in effect on March 1, 2001, and approved by the Department of Labor and Employment Security shall remain in effect. However, any amendments to the plan shall not become effective until approved by the Department of Insurance. ~~By September 15, 1982, the board of directors shall submit to the Department of Labor and Employment Security a proposed plan of operation for the administration of the association and the Insolvency Fund.~~

(a) The purpose of the plan of operation shall be to provide the association and the board of directors with the authority and responsibility to establish the necessary programs and to take the necessary actions to protect against the insolvency of a member of the association. In addition, the plan shall provide that the members of the association shall be responsible for maintaining an adequate Insolvency Fund to meet the obligations of insolvent members provided for under this act and shall authorize the board of directors to contract and employ those persons with the necessary expertise to carry out this stated purpose. By January 1, 2002, the board of directors shall submit to the Department of Insurance a proposed plan of operation for the administration of the association. The Department of Insurance shall approve the plan by order, consistent with this act. The Department of Insurance shall approve any amendments to the plan, by order consistent with this act, and determined appropriate to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the association.

~~(b) The plan of operation, and any amendments thereto, shall take effect upon approval in writing by the department. If the board of directors fails to submit a plan by September 15, 1982, or fails to make required amendments to the plan within 30 days thereafter, the department shall promulgate such rules as are necessary to effectuate the provisions of this subsection. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the department or superseded by a plan submitted by the board of directors and approved by the department.~~

(c)~~(d)~~ The plan of operation shall:

1. Establish the procedures whereby all the powers and duties of the association under subsection (3) will be performed.

2. Establish procedures for handling assets of the association.

3. Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under subsection (2).

4. Establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims. Notice of claims to the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent employer shall be deemed notice to the association or its agent, and a list of such claims shall be submitted periodically to the association or similar organization in another state by the receiver or liquidator.

5. Establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors.

6. Establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association and its agents and the board of directors.

7. Provide that any member employer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the department within 30 days after the action or decision.

8. Establish the procedures whereby recommendations of candidates for the board of directors shall be submitted to the department.

9. Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(d)~~(e)~~ The plan of operation may provide that any or all of the powers and duties of the association, except those specified under subparagraphs (c)~~(d)~~1. and 2., be delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association or its equivalent in two or more states. Such a corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed as a servicing facility would be reimbursed and shall be paid for its performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation of powers or duties under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the department and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection which is not substantially less favorable and effective than the protection provided by this section.

(6) POWERS AND DUTIES OF DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE ~~LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT SECURITY~~.—

(a) The department shall:

~~1.~~ review recommendations of the association concerning whether current or former self-insured employers or members of the association have the financial strength necessary to ensure the timely payment of all current and estimated future claims. If the association determines an employer does not have the financial strength necessary to ensure the timely payment of all current and future claims and recommends action pursuant to paragraph (3)(b), the Department of Insurance may take such action as necessary to order the employer to comply with the recommendation. ~~Notify the association of the existence of an insolvent employer not later than 3 days after it receives notice of the determination of insolvency.~~

(b) The department may:

1. Contract with the association for services, which may include, but not be limited to, the following:

a. Process applications for self-insurance.

b. Collect and review financial statements and loss reserve information from individual self-insurers.

c. Collect and maintain files for original security deposit documents and reinsurance policies from individual self-insurers and, if necessary, perfect security interests in security deposits.

d. Process compliance documentation for individual self-insurers and provide same to the Department of Insurance.

e. Collect all data necessary to calculate annual premium for all individual self-insurers, including individual self-insurers that are public utilities or governmental entities, and provide such calculated annual premium to the Department of Insurance for assessment purposes.

f. Inspect and audit annually, if necessary, the payroll and other records of each individual self-insurer, including individual self-insurers that are public utilities or governmental entities, in order to determine the wages paid by each individual self-insurer, the premium such individual self-insurer would have to pay if insured, and all payments of compensation made by such individual self-insurer during each prior period with the results of such audit provided to the Department of Insurance. For the purposes of this section, the payroll records of each individual self-insurer shall be open to inspection and audit by the association, the department, or their authorized representative, during regular business hours.

g. Provide legal representation to implement the administration and audit of individual self-insurers and make recommendations regarding prosecution of any administrative or legal proceedings necessitated by the department's regulation of the individual self-insurers.

2. Contract with an attorney or attorneys recommended by the association for representation of the department in any administrative or legal proceedings necessitated by the recommended regulation of the individual self-insurers. ~~Upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the annual normal premiums of each member employer.~~

~~(b) The department may:~~

3.~~1.~~ Direct the association to require from each individual self-insurer, at such time and in accordance with such regulations as the department prescribes, reports in respect to wages paid, the amount of premiums such individual self-insurer would have to pay if insured, and all payments of compensation made by such individual self-insurer during each prior period and determine the amounts paid by each individual self-insurer and the amounts paid by all individual self-insurers during such period. For the purposes of this section, the payroll records of each individual self-insurer shall be open to annual inspection and audit by the association, the department, or their authorized representative, during regular business hours, and if any audit of such records of an individual self-insurer discloses a deficiency in the amount reported to the association or in the amounts paid to the Department of Insurance by an individual self-insurer for its assessment for the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund, the Department of Insurance or the association may assess the cost of such audit against the individual self-insurer.

4. Require that the association notify the member employers and any other interested parties of the determination of insolvency and of their rights under this section. Such notification shall be by mail at the last known address thereof when available; but, if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation shall be sufficient.

5.~~2.~~ Suspend or revoke the authority of any member employer failing to pay an assessment when due or failing to comply with the plan of operation to self-insure in this state. As an alternative, the department may levy a fine on any member employer failing to pay an assessment when due. Such fine shall not exceed 5 percent of the unpaid assessment per month, except that no fine shall be less than $100 per month.

~~3. Revoke the designation of any servicing facility if the department finds that claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.~~

(7) EFFECT OF PAID CLAIMS.—

(a) Any person who recovers from the association under this section shall be deemed to have assigned his or her rights to the association to the extent of such recovery. Every claimant seeking the protection of this section shall cooperate with the association to the same extent as such person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent member. The association shall have no cause of action against the employee of the insolvent member for any sums the association has paid out, except such causes of action as the insolvent member would have had if such sums had been paid by the insolvent member. In the case of an insolvent member operating on a plan with assessment liability, payments of claims by the association shall not operate to reduce the liability of the insolvent member to the receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor for unpaid assessments.

(b) The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent member shall be bound by settlements of covered claims by the association or a similar organization in another state. The court having jurisdiction shall grant such claims priority against the assets of the insolvent member equal to that to which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this section. The expense of the association or similar organization in handling claims shall be accorded the same priority as the expenses of the liquidator.

(c) The association shall file periodically with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent member statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association, which shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent member.

(8) NOTIFICATION ~~PREVENTION~~ OF INSOLVENCIES.—To aid in the detection and prevention of employer insolvencies~~:~~

~~(a)~~ upon determination by majority vote that any member employer may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the employees thereof or to the public, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to notify the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ of any information indicating such condition.

~~(b) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the department determine the condition of any member employer which the board in good faith believes may no longer be qualified to be a member of the association. Within 30 days of the receipt of such request or, for good cause shown, within a reasonable time thereafter, the department shall make such determination and shall forthwith advise the board of its findings. Each request for a determination shall be kept on file by the department, but the request shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the determination to the public.~~

~~(c) It shall also be the duty of the department to report to the board of directors when it has reasonable cause to believe that a member employer may be in such a financial condition as to be no longer qualified to be a member of the association.~~

~~(d) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the department upon any matter which is germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation of any member employer. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.~~

~~(e) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the department for the detection and prevention of employer insolvencies.~~

~~(f) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any member's insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report on the history and cause of such insolvency, based on the information available to the association, and shall submit such report to the department.~~

(9) EXAMINATION OF THE ASSOCIATION.—The association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~. No later than March 30 of each year, the board of directors shall submit an audited ~~a~~ financial statement ~~report~~ for the preceding calendar year in a form approved by the department.

(10) IMMUNITY.—There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against, any member employer, the association or its agents or employees, the board of directors, or the Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ or its representatives for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this section.

(11) STAY OF PROCEEDINGS; REOPENING OF DEFAULT JUDGMENTS.—All proceedings in which an insolvent employer is a party, or is obligated to defend a party, in any court or before any quasi-judicial body or administrative board in this state shall be stayed for up to 6 months, or for such additional period from the date the employer becomes an insolvent member, as is deemed necessary by a court of competent jurisdiction to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action as to any covered claims arising from a judgment under any decision, verdict, or finding based on the default of the insolvent member. The association, either on its own behalf or on behalf of the insolvent member, may apply to have such judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding set aside by the same court or administrator that made such judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding and shall be permitted to defend against such claim on the merits. If requested by the association, the stay of proceedings may be shortened or waived.

(12) LIMITATION ON CERTAIN ACTIONS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a covered claim, as defined herein, with respect to which settlement is not effected and pursuant to which suit is not instituted against the insured of an insolvent member or the association within 1 year after the deadline for filing claims with the receiver of the insolvent member, or any extension of the deadline, shall thenceforth be barred as a claim against the association.

(13) CORPORATE INCOME TAX CREDIT.—Any sums acquired by a member by refund, dividend, or otherwise from the association shall be payable within 30 days of receipt to the Department of Insurance for deposit with the Treasurer to the credit of the General Revenue Fund. All provisions of chapter 220 relating to penalties and interest on delinquent corporate income tax payments apply to payments due under this subsection.

Section 39. Subsections (2), (3), and (4) of section 440.386, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.386 Individual self-insurers' insolvency; conservation; liquidation.—

(2) COMMENCEMENT OF DELINQUENCY PROCEEDING.—The Department of Insurance or the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, may commence a delinquency ~~any such~~ proceeding by application to the court for an order directing the individual self-insurer to show cause why the department or association should not have the relief prayed for. ~~The Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, may petition the department to commence such proceedings, and upon receipt of such petition, the department shall commence such proceeding.~~ On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall either deny the application or grant the application, together with such other relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the claimants, creditors, stockholders, members, subscribers, or public may require. The Department of Insurance and the association shall give ~~Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, shall be given~~ reasonable written notice to each other ~~by the department~~ of all hearings which pertain to an adjudication of insolvency of a member individual self-insurer.

(3) GROUNDS FOR LIQUIDATION.—The Department of Insurance or the association may apply to the court for an order appointing a receiver and directing the receiver to liquidate the business of a domestic individual self-insurer if such individual self-insurer is insolvent. ~~Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, may petition the department to apply to the court for such order. Upon receipt of such petition, the department shall apply to the court for such order.~~

(4) GROUNDS FOR CONSERVATION; FOREIGN INDIVIDUAL SELF-INSURERS.—

(a) The Department of Insurance or the association may apply to the court for an order appointing a receiver or ancillary receiver, and directing the receiver to conserve the assets within this state, of a foreign individual self-insurer if such individual self-insurer is insolvent. ~~Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, may petition the department to apply for such order, and, upon receipt of such petition, the department shall apply to the court for such order.~~

(b) An order to conserve the assets of an individual self-insurer shall require the receiver forthwith to take possession of the property of the receiver within the state and to conserve it, subject to the further direction of the court.

Section 40. Section 440.40, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.40 Compensation notice.—Every employer who has secured compensation under the provisions of this chapter shall keep posted in a conspicuous place or places in and about her or his place or places of business typewritten or printed notices, in accordance with a form prescribed by the department ~~division~~, stating that such employer has secured the payment of compensation in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Such notices shall contain the name and address of the carrier, if any, with whom the employer has secured payment of compensation and the date of the expiration of the policy. The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe the form of the notices and require carriers to provide the notices to policyholders.

Section 41. Section 440.41, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.41 Substitution of carrier for employer.—In any case where the employer is not a self-insurer, in order that the liability for compensation imposed by this chapter may be most effectively discharged by the employer, and in order that the administration of this chapter in respect of such liability may be facilitated, the department ~~division~~ shall by regulation provide for the discharge, by the carrier for such employer, of such obligations and duties of the employer in respect of such liability, imposed by this chapter upon the employer, as it considers proper in order to effectuate the provisions of this chapter. For such purposes:

(1) Notice to or knowledge of an employer of the occurrence of the injury shall be notice to or knowledge of the carrier.

(2) Jurisdiction of the employer by the judges of compensation claims, the department ~~division~~, or any court under this chapter shall be jurisdiction of the carrier.

(3) Any requirement by the judges of compensation claims, the department ~~division~~, or any court under any compensation order, finding, or decision shall be binding upon the carrier in the same manner and to the same extent as upon the employer.

Section 42. Subsection (3) of section 440.42, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.42 Insurance policies; liability.—

(3) No contract or policy of insurance issued by a carrier under this chapter shall expire or be canceled until at least 30 days have elapsed after a notice of cancellation has been sent to the department ~~division~~ and to the employer in accordance with the provisions of s. 440.185(7). However, when duplicate or dual coverage exists by reason of two different carriers having issued policies of insurance to the same employer securing the same liability, it shall be presumed that only that policy with the later effective date shall be in force and that the earlier policy terminated upon the effective date of the latter. In the event that both policies carry the same effective date, one of the policies may be canceled instanter upon filing a notice of cancellation with the department ~~division~~ and serving a copy thereof upon the employer in such manner as the department ~~division~~ prescribes by rule. The department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe the content of the notice of retroactive cancellation and specify the time, place, and manner in which the notice of cancellation is to be served.

Section 43. Section 440.44, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.44 Workers' compensation; staff organization.—

(1) INTERPRETATION OF LAW.—As a guide to the interpretation of this chapter, the Legislature takes due notice of federal social and labor acts and hereby creates an agency to administer such acts passed for the benefit of employees and employers in Florida industry, and desires to meet the requirements of such federal acts wherever not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of Florida.

(2) INTENT.—It is the intent of the Legislature that the department, the agency, and the Department of Education ~~division~~ assume an active and forceful role in their ~~its~~ administration of this act, so as to ensure that the system operates efficiently and with maximum benefit to both employers and employees.

(3) EXPENDITURES.—The department, the agency, the Department of Education, ~~division~~ and the Chief Judge shall make such expenditures, including expenditures for personal services and rent at the seat of government and elsewhere, for law books; for telephone services and WATS lines; for books of reference, periodicals, equipment, and supplies; and for printing and binding as may be necessary in the administration of this chapter. All expenditures in the administration of this chapter shall be allowed and paid as provided in s. 440.50 upon the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the department, the agency, the Department of Education, ~~division~~ or the Chief Judge.

(4) MERIT SYSTEM PRINCIPLE OF PERSONNEL ADMINISTRATION.—Subject to the other provisions of this chapter, the department, the agency, and the Department of Education are ~~division is~~ authorized to appoint, and prescribe the duties and powers of, bureau chiefs, attorneys, accountants, medical advisers, technical assistants, inspectors, claims examiners, and such other employees as may be necessary in the performance of its duties under this chapter.

(5) OFFICE.—The department, the agency, the Department of Education, ~~division~~ and the Chief Judge shall maintain and keep open during reasonable business hours an office, which shall be provided in the Capitol or some other suitable building in the City of Tallahassee, for the transaction of business under this chapter, at which office the official records and papers shall be kept. The office shall be furnished and equipped. The department, the agency ~~division~~, any judge of compensation claims, or the Chief Judge may hold sessions and conduct hearings at any place within the state.

(6) SEAL.—The division and~~,~~ the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims ~~judges of compensation claims, and the Chief Judge~~ shall have seals ~~a seal~~ upon which shall be inscribed the words "State of Florida Department of Insurance . . .Seal" and the "Division of Administrative Hearings. . . Seal." respectively. ~~of Labor and Employment Security—Seal."~~

(7) DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE RECORDS.—The department ~~division~~ is expressly authorized to provide by regulation for and to destroy obsolete records of the department ~~division and commission~~.

(8) PROCEDURE.—In the exercise of their ~~its~~ duties and functions requiring administrative hearings, the department and the agency ~~division~~ shall proceed in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act. The authority of the department and the agency ~~division~~ to issue orders resulting from administrative hearings as provided for in this chapter shall not infringe upon the jurisdiction of the judges of compensation claims.

Section 44. Section 440.4416, Florida Statutes, is hereby repealed.

Section 45. Subsection (1) of section 440.45, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.45 Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims.—

(1) There is hereby created the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims within the Division of Administrative Hearing of the Department of Management Services ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~. The Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims shall be headed by a Chief Judge. The Chief Judge shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of 4 years from a list of three names submitted by the statewide nominating commission created under subsection (2). The Chief Judge must possess the same qualifications for appointment as a judge of compensation claims, and the procedure for reappointment of the Chief Judge will be the same as for reappointment of a judge of compensation claims. The office shall be a separate budget entity and the Chief Judge shall be its agency head for all purposes. The Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ shall provide administrative support and service to the office to the extent requested by the Chief Judge but shall not direct, supervise, or control the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims in any manner, including, but not limited to, personnel, purchasing, budgetary matters, or property transactions. The operating budget of the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims shall be paid out of the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund established in s. 440.50.

Section 46. Subsections (1), (2), (7), (8), (9), (10), and (11) of section 440.49, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.49 Limitation of liability for subsequent injury through Special Disability Trust Fund.—

(1) LEGISLATIVE INTENT.—Whereas it is often difficult for workers with disabilities to achieve employment or to become reemployed following an injury, and it is the desire of the Legislature to facilitate the return of these workers to the workplace, it is the purpose of this section to encourage the employment, reemployment, and accommodation of the physically disabled by reducing an employer's insurance premium for reemploying an injured worker, to decrease litigation between carriers on apportionment issues, and to protect employers from excess liability for compensation and medical expense when an injury to a physically disabled worker merges with, aggravates, or accelerates her or his preexisting permanent physical impairment to cause either a greater disability or permanent impairment, or an increase in expenditures for temporary compensation or medical benefits than would have resulted from the injury alone. The department ~~division~~ or the administrator shall inform all employers of the existence and function of the fund and shall interpret eligibility requirements liberally. However, this subsection shall not be construed to create or provide any benefits for injured employees or their dependents not otherwise provided by this chapter. The entitlement of an injured employee or her or his dependents to compensation under this chapter shall be determined without regard to this subsection, the provisions of which shall be considered only in determining whether an employer or carrier who has paid compensation under this chapter is entitled to reimbursement from the Special Disability Trust Fund.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Permanent physical impairment" means and is limited to the conditions listed in paragraph (6)(a).

(b) "Preferred worker" means a worker who, because of a permanent impairment resulting from a compensable injury or occupational disease, is unable to return to the worker's regular employment.

(c) "Merger" describes or means that:

1. If the permanent physical impairment had not existed, the subsequent accident or occupational disease would not have occurred;

2. The permanent disability or permanent impairment resulting from the subsequent accident or occupational disease is materially and substantially greater than that which would have resulted had the permanent physical impairment not existed, and the employer has been required to pay, and has paid, permanent total disability or permanent impairment benefits for that materially and substantially greater disability;

3. The preexisting permanent physical impairment is aggravated or accelerated as a result of the subsequent injury or occupational disease, or the preexisting impairment has contributed, medically and circumstantially, to the need for temporary compensation, medical, or attendant care and the employer has been required to pay, and has paid, temporary compensation, medical, or attendant care benefits for the aggravated preexisting permanent impairment; or

4. Death would not have been accelerated if the permanent physical impairment had not existed.

(d) "Excess permanent compensation" means that compensation for permanent impairment, or permanent total disability or death benefits, for which the employer or carrier is otherwise entitled to reimbursement from the Special Disability Trust Fund.

(e) "Administrator" means the entity selected by the commission to review, allow, deny, compromise, controvert, and litigate claims of the Special Disability Trust Fund.

(f) "Corporation" means the Special Disability Trust Fund Financing Corporation, as created under subsection (14).

(g) "Commission" means the Special Disability Trust Fund Privatization Commission, as created under subsection (13).

In addition to the definitions contained in this subsection, the department ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe definitions that are necessary for the effective administration of this section.

(7) REIMBURSEMENT OF EMPLOYER.—

(a) The right to reimbursement as provided in this section is barred unless written notice of claim of the right to such reimbursement is filed by the employer or carrier entitled to such reimbursement with the department ~~division~~ or administrator at Tallahassee within 2 years after the date the employee last reached maximum medical improvement, or within 2 years after the date of the first payment of compensation for permanent total disability, wage loss, or death, whichever is later. The notice of claim must contain such information as the department ~~division~~ by rule requires or as established by the administrator; and the employer or carrier claiming reimbursement shall furnish such evidence in support of the claim as the department ~~division~~ or administrator reasonably may require.

(b) For notice of claims on the Special Disability Trust Fund filed on or after July 1, 1978, the Special Disability Trust Fund shall, within 120 days after receipt of notice that a carrier has paid, been required to pay, or accepted liability for excess compensation, serve notice of the acceptance of the claim for reimbursement.

(c) A proof of claim must be filed on each notice of claim on file as of June 30, 1997, within 1 year after July 1, 1997, or the right to reimbursement of the claim shall be barred. A notice of claim on file on or before June 30, 1997, may be withdrawn and refiled if, at the time refiled, the notice of claim remains within the limitation period specified in paragraph (a). Such refiling shall not toll, extend, or otherwise alter in any way the limitation period applicable to the withdrawn and subsequently refiled notice of claim. Each proof of claim filed shall be accompanied by a proof-of-claim fee as provided in paragraph (9)(d). The Special Disability Trust Fund shall, within 120 days after receipt of the proof of claim, serve notice of the acceptance of the claim for reimbursement. This paragraph shall apply to all claims notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (12).

(d) Each notice of claim filed or refiled on or after July 1, 1997, must be accompanied by a notification fee as provided in paragraph (9)(d). A proof of claim must be filed within 1 year after the date the notice of claim is filed or refiled, accompanied by a proof-of-claim fee as provided in paragraph (9)(d), or the claim shall be barred. The notification fee shall be waived if both the notice of claim and proof of claim are submitted together as a single filing. The Special Disability Trust Fund shall, within 180 days after receipt of the proof of claim, serve notice of the acceptance of the claim for reimbursement. This paragraph shall apply to all claims notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (12).

(e) For dates of accident on or after January 1, 1994, the Special Disability Trust Fund shall, within 120 days of receipt of notice that a carrier has been required to pay, and has paid over $10,000 in benefits, serve notice of the acceptance of the claim for reimbursement. Failure of the Special Disability Trust Fund to serve notice of acceptance shall give rise to the right to request a hearing on the claim for reimbursement. If the Special Disability Trust Fund through its representative denies or controverts the claim, the right to such reimbursement shall be barred unless an application for a hearing thereon is filed with the department ~~division~~ or administrator at Tallahassee within 60 days after notice to the employer or carrier of such denial or controversion. When such application for a hearing is timely filed, the claim shall be heard and determined in accordance with the procedure prescribed in s. 440.25, to the extent that such procedure is applicable, and in accordance with the workers' compensation rules of procedure. In such proceeding on a claim for reimbursement, the Special Disability Trust Fund shall be made the party respondent, and no findings of fact made with respect to the claim of the injured employee or the dependents for compensation, including any finding made or order entered pursuant to s. 440.20(11), shall be res judicata. The Special Disability Trust Fund may not be joined or made a party to any controversy or dispute between an employee and the dependents and the employer or between two or more employers or carriers without the written consent of the fund.

(f) When it has been determined that an employer or carrier is entitled to reimbursement in any amount, the employer or carrier shall be reimbursed annually from the Special Disability Trust Fund for the compensation and medical benefits paid by the employer or carrier for which the employer or carrier is entitled to reimbursement, upon filing request therefor and submitting evidence of such payment in accordance with rules prescribed by the department ~~division~~, which rules may include parameters for annual audits. The Special Disability Trust Fund shall pay the approved reimbursement requests on a first-in, first-out basis reflecting the order in which the reimbursement requests were received.

(g) The department ~~division~~ may by rule require specific forms and procedures for the administration and processing of claims made through the Special Disability Trust Fund.

(8) PREFERRED WORKER PROGRAM.—The The Department of Education ~~division~~ or administrator shall issue identity cards to preferred workers upon request by qualified employees and the department shall reimburse an employer, from the Special Disability Trust Fund, for the cost of workers' compensation premium related to the preferred workers payroll for up to 3 years of continuous employment upon satisfactory evidence of placement and issuance of payroll and classification records and upon the employee's certification of employment. The department and the Department of Education ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe definitions, forms, and procedures for the administration of the preferred worker program. The Department of Education ~~division~~ may by rule prescribe the schedule for submission of forms for participation in the program.

(9) SPECIAL DISABILITY TRUST FUND.—

(a) There is established in the State Treasury a special fund to be known as the "Special Disability Trust Fund," which shall be available only for the purposes stated in this section; and the assets thereof may not at any time be appropriated or diverted to any other use or purpose. The Treasurer shall be the custodian of such fund, and all moneys and securities in such fund shall be held in trust by such Treasurer and shall not be the money or property of the state. The Treasurer is authorized to disburse moneys from such fund only when approved by the department ~~division~~ or corporation and upon the order of the Comptroller. The Treasurer shall deposit any moneys paid into such fund into such depository banks as the department ~~division~~ or corporation may designate and is authorized to invest any portion of the fund which, in the opinion of the division, is not needed for current requirements, in the same manner and subject to all the provisions of the law with respect to the deposits of state funds by such Treasurer. All interest earned by such portion of the fund as may be invested by the Treasurer shall be collected by her or him and placed to the credit of such fund.

(b)1. The Special Disability Trust Fund shall be maintained by annual assessments upon the insurance companies writing compensation insurance in the state, the commercial self-insurers under ss. 624.462 and 624.4621, the assessable mutuals under s. 628.601, and the self-insurers under this chapter, which assessments shall become due and be paid quarterly at the same time and in addition to the assessments provided in s. 440.51. The department ~~division~~ shall estimate annually in advance the amount necessary for the administration of this subsection and the maintenance of this fund and shall make such assessment in the manner hereinafter provided.

2. The annual assessment shall be calculated to produce during the ensuing fiscal year an amount which, when combined with that part of the balance in the fund on June 30 of the current fiscal year which is in excess of $100,000, is equal to the average of:

a. The sum of disbursements from the fund during the immediate past 3 calendar years, and

b. Two times the disbursements of the most recent calendar year.

Such amount shall be prorated among the insurance companies writing compensation insurance in the state and the self-insurers. Provided however, for those carriers that have excluded ceded reinsurance premiums from their assessments on or before January 1, 2000, no assessments on ceded reinsurance premiums shall be paid by those carriers until such time as the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security or the department advises each of those carriers of the impact that the inclusion of ceded reinsurance premiums has on their assessment. The department ~~division~~ may not recover any past underpayments of assessments levied against any carrier that on or before January 1, 2000, excluded ceded reinsurance premiums from their assessment prior to the point that the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security or the department advises of the appropriate assessment that should have been paid.

3. The net premiums written by the companies for workers' compensation in this state and the net premium written applicable to the self-insurers in this state are the basis for computing the amount to be assessed as a percentage of net premiums. Such payments shall be made by each carrier and self-insurer to the department ~~division~~ for the Special Disability Trust Fund in accordance with such regulations as the department ~~division~~ prescribes.

4. The Treasurer is authorized to receive and credit to such Special Disability Trust Fund any sum or sums that may at any time be contributed to the state by the United States under any Act of Congress, or otherwise, to which the state may be or become entitled by reason of any payments made out of such fund.

(c) Notwithstanding the Special Disability Trust Fund assessment rate calculated pursuant to this section, the rate assessed shall not exceed 4.52 percent.

(d) The Special Disability Trust Fund shall be supplemented by a $250 notification fee on each notice of claim filed or refiled after July 1, 1997, and a $500 fee on each proof of claim filed in accordance with subsection (7). Revenues from the fee shall be deposited into the Special Disability Trust Fund and are exempt from the deduction required by s. 215.20. The fees provided in this paragraph shall not be imposed upon any insurer which is in receivership with the Department of Insurance.

(e) The Department of Insurance ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ or administrator shall report annually on the status of the Special Disability Trust Fund. The report shall update the estimated undiscounted and discounted fund liability, as determined by an independent actuary, change in the total number of notices of claim on file with the fund in addition to the number of newly filed notices of claim, change in the number of proofs of claim processed by the fund, the fee revenues refunded and revenues applied to pay down the liability of the fund, the average time required to reimburse accepted claims, and the average administrative costs per claim. The department or administrator shall submit its report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 1 of each year.

(10) DEPARTMENT ~~DIVISION~~ ADMINISTRATION OF FUND; CLAIMS; ADVISORY COMMITTEE; EXPENSES.—The department ~~division~~ or administrator shall administer the Special Disability Trust Fund with authority to allow, deny, compromise, controvert, and litigate claims made against it and to designate an attorney to represent it in proceedings involving claims against the fund, including negotiation and consummation of settlements, hearings before judges of compensation claims, and judicial review. The department ~~division~~ or administrator or the attorney designated by it shall be given notice of all hearings and proceedings involving the rights or obligations of such fund and shall have authority to make expenditures for such medical examinations, expert witness fees, depositions, transcripts of testimony, and the like as may be necessary to the proper defense of any claim. The department ~~division~~ shall appoint an advisory committee composed of representatives of management, compensation insurance carriers, and self-insurers to aid it in formulating policies with respect to conservation of the fund, who shall serve without compensation for such terms as specified by it, but be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in s. 112.061. All expenditures made in connection with conservation of the fund, including the salary of the attorney designated to represent it and necessary travel expenses, shall be allowed and paid from the Special Disability Trust Fund as provided in this section upon the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the department ~~division~~.

(11) EFFECTIVE DATES.—This section does not apply to any case in which the accident causing the subsequent injury or death or the disablement or death from a subsequent occupational disease occurred prior to July 1, 1955, or on or after January 1, 1998. In no event shall the Special Disability Trust Fund be liable for, or reimburse employers or carriers for, any case in which the accident causing the subsequent injury or death or the disablement or death from a subsequent occupational disease occurred on or after January 1, 1998. The Special Disability Trust Fund shall continue to reimburse employers or carriers for subsequent injuries occurring prior to January 1, 1998, and the department ~~division~~ shall continue to assess for and the department ~~division~~ or administrator shall fund reimbursements as provided in subsection (9) for this purpose.

Section 47. Section 440.491, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.491 Reemployment of injured workers; rehabilitation.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Carrier" means group self-insurance funds or individual self-insureds authorized under this chapter and commercial funds or insurance entities authorized to write workers' compensation insurance under chapter 624.

(b) "Medical care coordination" includes, but is not limited to, coordinating physical rehabilitation services such as medical, psychiatric, or therapeutic treatment for the injured employee, providing health training to the employee and family, and monitoring the employee's recovery. The purposes of medical care coordination are to minimize the disability and recovery period without jeopardizing medical stability, to assure that proper medical treatment and other restorative services are timely provided in a logical sequence, and to contain medical costs.

(c) "Qualified rehabilitation provider" means a rehabilitation nurse, rehabilitation counselor, vocational evaluator, rehabilitation facility, or agency approved by the Department of Education ~~division~~ as qualified to provide reemployment assessments, medical care coordination, reemployment services, or vocational evaluations under this chapter.

(d) "Reemployment assessment" means a written assessment performed by a qualified rehabilitation provider which provides a comprehensive review of the medical diagnosis, treatment, and prognosis; includes conferences with the employer, physician, and claimant; and recommends a cost-effective physical and vocational rehabilitation plan to assist the employee in returning to suitable gainful employment.

(e) "Reemployment services" means services that include, but are not limited to, vocational counseling, job-seeking skills training, ergonomic job analysis, transferable skills analysis, selective job placement, labor market surveys, and arranging other services such as education or training, vocational and on-the-job, which may be needed by the employee to secure suitable gainful employment.

(f) "Reemployment status review" means a review to determine whether an injured employee is at risk of not returning to work.

(g) "Suitable gainful employment" means employment or self-employment that is reasonably attainable in light of the employee's age, education, work history, transferable skills, previous occupation, and injury, and which offers an opportunity to restore the individual as soon as practicable and as nearly as possible to his or her average weekly earnings at the time of injury.

(h) "Vocational evaluation" means a review of the employee's physical and intellectual capabilities, his or her aptitudes and achievements, and his or her work-related behaviors to identify the most cost-effective means toward the employee's return to suitable gainful employment.

(2) INTENT.—It is the intent of this section to implement a systematic review by carriers of the factors that are predictive of longer-term disability and to encourage the provision of medical care coordination and reemployment services that are necessary to assist the employee in returning to work as soon as is medically feasible.

(3) REEMPLOYMENT STATUS REVIEWS AND REPORTS.—

(a) When an employee who has suffered an injury compensable under this chapter is unemployed 60 days after the date of injury and is receiving benefits for temporary total disability, temporary partial disability, or wage loss, and has not yet been provided medical care coordination and reemployment services voluntarily by the carrier, the carrier must determine whether the employee is likely to return to work and must report its determination to the Department of Education ~~division~~. The carrier must thereafter determine the reemployment status of the employee at 90-day intervals as long as the employee remains unemployed, is not receiving medical care coordination or reemployment services, and is receiving the benefits specified in this subsection.

(b) If medical care coordination or reemployment services are voluntarily undertaken within 60 days of the date of injury, such services may continue to be provided as agreed by the employee and the carrier.

(4) REEMPLOYMENT ASSESSMENTS.—

(a) The carrier may require the employee to receive a reemployment assessment as it considers appropriate. However, the carrier is encouraged to obtain a reemployment assessment if:

1. The carrier determines that the employee is at risk of remaining unemployed.

2. The case involves catastrophic or serious injury.

(b) The carrier shall authorize only a qualified rehabilitation provider to provide the reemployment assessment. The rehabilitation provider shall conduct its assessment and issue a report to the carrier, the employee, and the Department of Education ~~division~~ within 30 days after the time such assessment is complete.

(c) If the rehabilitation provider recommends that the employee receive medical care coordination or reemployment services, the carrier shall advise the employee of the recommendation and determine whether the employee wishes to receive such services. The employee shall have 15 days after the date of receipt of the recommendation in which to agree to accept such services. If the employee elects to receive services, the carrier may refer the employee to a rehabilitation provider for such coordination or services within 15 days of receipt of the assessment report or notice of the employee's election, whichever is later.

(5) MEDICAL CARE COORDINATION AND REEMPLOYMENT SERVICES.—

(a) Once the carrier has assigned a case to a qualified rehabilitation provider for medical care coordination or reemployment services, the provider shall develop a reemployment plan and submit the plan to the carrier and the employee for approval.

(b) If the rehabilitation provider concludes that training and education are necessary to return the employee to suitable gainful employment, or if the employee has not returned to suitable gainful employment within 180 days after referral for reemployment services or receives $2,500 in reemployment services, whichever comes first, the carrier must discontinue reemployment services and refer the employee to the Department of Education ~~division~~ for a vocational evaluation. Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 289 or chapter 627, the cost of a reemployment assessment and the first $2,500 in reemployment services to an injured employee must not be treated as loss adjustment expense for workers' compensation ratemaking purposes.

(c) A carrier may voluntarily provide medical care coordination or reemployment services to the employee at intervals more frequent than those required in this section. For the purpose of monitoring reemployment, the carrier or the rehabilitation provider shall report to the Department of Education ~~division~~, in the manner prescribed by the Department of Education ~~division~~, the date of reemployment and wages of the employee. The carrier shall report its voluntary service activity to the Department of Education ~~division~~ as required by rule. Voluntary services offered by the carrier for any of the following injuries must be considered benefits for purposes of ratemaking: traumatic brain injury; spinal cord injury; amputation, including loss of an eye or eyes; burns of 5 percent or greater of the total body surface.

(d) If medical care coordination or reemployment services have not been undertaken as prescribed in paragraph (3)(b), a qualified rehabilitation service provider, facility, or agency that performs a reemployment assessment shall not provide medical care coordination or reemployment services for the employees it assesses.

(6) TRAINING AND EDUCATION.—

(a) Upon referral of an injured employee by the carrier, or upon the request of an injured employee, the Department of Education ~~division~~ shall conduct a training and education screening to determine whether it should refer the employee for a vocational evaluation and, if appropriate, approve training and education or other vocational services for the employee. The Department of Education ~~division~~ may not approve formal training and education programs unless it determines, after consideration of the reemployment assessment, pertinent reemployment status reviews or reports, and such other relevant factors as it prescribes by rule, that the reemployment plan is likely to result in return to suitable gainful employment. The Department of Education ~~division~~ is authorized to expend moneys from the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund, established by s. 440.50, to secure appropriate training and education or other vocational services when necessary to satisfy the recommendation of a vocational evaluator. The Department of Education ~~division~~ shall establish training and education standards pertaining to employee eligibility, course curricula and duration, and associated costs.

(b) When it appears that an employee who has attained maximum medical improvement requires training and education to obtain suitable gainful employment, the employer shall pay the employee additional temporary total compensation while the employee receives such training and education for a period not to exceed 26 weeks, which period may be extended for an additional 26 weeks or less, if such extended period is determined to be necessary and proper by a judge of compensation claims. However, a carrier or employer is not precluded from voluntarily paying additional temporary total disability compensation beyond that period. If an employee requires temporary residence at or near a facility or an institution providing training and education which is located more than 50 miles away from the employee's customary residence, the reasonable cost of board, lodging, or travel must be borne by the Department of Insurance ~~division~~ from the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund established by s. 440.50. An employee who refuses to accept training and education that is recommended by the vocational evaluator and considered necessary by the Department of Education ~~division~~ is subject to a 50-percent reduction in weekly compensation benefits, including wage-loss benefits, as determined under s. 440.15(3)(b).

(7) PROVIDER QUALIFICATIONS.—

(a) The Department of Education ~~division~~ shall investigate and maintain a directory of each qualified public and private rehabilitation provider, facility, and agency, and shall establish by rule the minimum qualifications, credentials, and requirements that each rehabilitation service provider, facility, and agency must satisfy to be eligible for listing in the directory. These minimum qualifications and credentials must be based on those generally accepted within the service specialty for which the provider, facility, or agency is approved.

(b) The Department of Education ~~division~~ shall impose a biennial application fee of $25 for each listing in the directory, and all such fees must be deposited in the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund.

(c) The Department of Education ~~division~~ shall monitor and evaluate each rehabilitation service provider, facility, and agency qualified under this subsection to ensure its compliance with the minimum qualifications and credentials established by the Department of Education ~~division~~. The failure of a qualified rehabilitation service provider, facility, or agency to provide the Department of Education ~~division~~ with information requested or access necessary for the Department of Education ~~division~~ to satisfy its responsibilities under this subsection is grounds for disqualifying the provider, facility, or agency from further referrals.

(d) A qualified rehabilitation service provider, facility, or agency may not be authorized by an employer, a carrier, or the Department of Education ~~division~~ to provide any services, including expert testimony, under this section in this state unless the provider, facility, or agency is listed or has been approved for listing in the directory. This restriction does not apply to services provided outside this state under this section.

(e) The Department of Education ~~division~~, after consultation with representatives of employees, employers, carriers, rehabilitation providers, and qualified training and education providers, shall adopt rules governing professional practices and standards.

(8) CARRIER PRACTICES.—The department ~~division~~ shall monitor the selection of providers and the provision of services by carriers under this section for consistency with legislative intent set forth in subsection (2).

(9) PERMANENT DISABILITY.—The judge of compensation claims may not adjudicate an injured employee as permanently and totally disabled until or unless the carrier is given the opportunity to provide a reemployment assessment.

Section 48. Section 440.50, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.50 Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund.—

(1)(a) There is established in the State Treasury a special fund to be known as the "Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund" for the purpose of providing for the payment of all expenses in respect to the administration of this chapter, including the vocational rehabilitation of injured employees as provided in s. 440.49 and the payments due under s. 440.15(1)(f), the funding of the fixed administrative expenses of the plan, and the funding of the Bureau of Workers' Compensation Fraud within the Department of Insurance. Such fund shall be administered by the department ~~division~~.

(b) The department ~~division~~ is authorized to transfer as a loan an amount not in excess of $250,000 from such special fund to the Special Disability Trust Fund established by s. 440.49(9), which amount shall be repaid to said special fund in annual payments equal to not less than 10 percent of moneys received for such Special Disability Trust Fund.

(2) The Treasurer is authorized to disburse moneys from such fund only when approved by the department ~~division~~ and upon the order of the Comptroller.

(3) The Treasurer shall deposit any moneys paid into such fund into such depository banks as the department ~~division~~ may designate and is authorized to invest any portion of the fund which, in the opinion of the department ~~division~~, is not needed for current requirements, in the same manner and subject to all the provisions of the law with respect to the deposit of state funds by such Treasurer. All interest earned by such portion of the fund as may be invested by the Treasurer shall be collected by him or her and placed to the credit of such fund.

(4) All civil penalties provided in this chapter, if not voluntarily paid, may be collected by civil suit brought by the department ~~division~~ and shall be paid into such fund.

Section 49. Section 440.51, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.51 Expenses of administration.—

(1) The department ~~division~~ shall estimate annually in advance the amounts necessary for the administration of this chapter, in the following manner.

(a) The department ~~division~~ shall, by July 1 of each year, notify carriers and self-insurers of the assessment rate, which shall be based on the anticipated expenses of the administration of this chapter for the next calendar year. Such assessment rate shall take effect January 1 of the next calendar year and shall be included in workers' compensation rate filings approved by the Department of Insurance which become effective on or after January 1 of the next calendar year. Assessments shall become due and be paid quarterly.

(b) The total expenses of administration shall be prorated among the carriers writing compensation insurance in the state and self-insurers. The net premiums collected by carriers and the amount of premiums calculated by the department ~~division~~ for self-insured employers are the basis for computing the amount to be assessed. When reporting deductible policy premium for purposes of computing assessments levied after July 1, 2001, full policy premium value must be reported prior to application of deductible discounts or credits. This amount may be assessed as a specific amount or as a percentage of net premiums payable as the department ~~division~~ may direct, provided such amount so assessed shall not exceed 2.75 percent, beginning January 1, 2001, except during the interim period from July 1, 2000, through December 31, 2000, such assessments shall not exceed 4 percent of such net premiums. The carriers may elect to make the payments required under s. 440.15(1)(f) rather than having these payments made by the department ~~division~~. In that event, such payments will be credited to the carriers, and the amount due by the carrier under this section will be reduced accordingly.

(2) The department ~~division~~ shall provide by regulation for the collection of the amounts assessed against each carrier. Such amounts shall be paid within 30 days from the date that notice is served upon such carrier. If such amounts are not paid within such period, there may be assessed for each 30 days the amount so assessed remains unpaid, a civil penalty equal to 10 percent of the amount so unpaid, which shall be collected at the same time and a part of the amount assessed. For those carriers who excluded ceded reinsurance premiums from their assessments prior to January 1, 2000, the department ~~division~~ shall not recover any past underpayments of assessments related to ceded reinsurance premiums prior to January 1, 2001, against such carriers.

(3) If any carrier fails to pay the amounts assessed against him or her under the provisions of this section within 60 days from the time such notice is served upon him or her, the Department of Insurance ~~upon being advised by the division~~ may suspend or revoke the authorization to insure compensation in accordance with the procedure in s. 440.38(3)(a). The department ~~division~~ may permit a carrier to remit any underpayment of assessments for assessments levied after January 1, 2001.

(4) All amounts collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the fund established in s. 440.50.

(5) Any amount so assessed against and paid by an insurance carrier, self-insurer authorized pursuant to s. 624.4621, or commercial self-insurance fund authorized under ss. 624.460-624.488 shall be allowed as a deduction against the amount of any other tax levied by the state upon the premiums, assessments, or deposits for workers' compensation insurance on contracts or policies of said insurance carrier, self-insurer, or commercial self-insurance fund. Any insurance carrier claiming such a deduction against the amount of any such tax shall not be required to pay any additional retaliatory tax levied pursuant to s. 624.5091 as a result of claiming such deduction. Because deductions under this subsection are available to insurance carriers, s. 624.5091 does not limit such deductions in any manner.

(6)(a) The department ~~division~~ may require from each carrier, at such time and in accordance with such regulations as the department ~~division~~ may prescribe, reports in respect to all gross earned premiums and of all payments of compensation made by such carrier during each prior period, and may determine the amounts paid by each carrier and the amounts paid by all carriers during such period.

(b) The Department of Insurance may require from each self-insurer, at such time and in accordance with such regulations as the Department of Insurance prescribes, reports in respect to wages paid, the amount of premiums such self-insurer would have to pay if insured, and all payments of compensation made by such self-insurer during each prior period, and may determine the amounts paid by each self-insurer and the amounts paid by all self-insurers during such period. For the purposes of this section, the payroll records of each self-insurer shall be open to annual inspection and audit by the Department of Insurance or its authorized representative, during regular business hours; and if any audit of such records of a self-insurer discloses a deficiency in the amounts reported to the Department of Insurance or in the amounts paid to the Department of Insurance by a self-insurer pursuant to this section, the Department of Insurance may assess the cost of such audit against the self-insurer.

(7) The department ~~division~~ shall keep accumulated cost records of all injuries occurring within the state coming within the purview of this chapter on a policy and calendar-year basis. For the purpose of this chapter, a "calendar year" is defined as the year in which the injury is reported to the department ~~division~~; "policy year" is defined as that calendar year in which the policy becomes effective, and the losses under such policy shall be chargeable against the policy year so defined.

(8) The department ~~division~~ shall assign an account number to each employer under this chapter and an account number to each insurance carrier authorized to write workers' compensation insurance in the state; and it shall be the duty of the department ~~division~~ under the account number so assigned to keep the cost experience of each carrier and the cost experience of each employer under the account number so assigned by calendar and policy year, as above defined.

(9) In addition to the above, it shall be the duty of the department ~~division~~ to keep the accident experience, as classified by the department ~~division~~, by industry as follows:

(a) Cause of the injury;

(b) Nature of the injury; and

(c) Type of disability.

(10) In every case where the duration of disability exceeds 30 days, the carrier shall establish a sufficient reserve to pay all benefits to which the injured employee, or in case of death, his or her dependents, may be entitled to under the law. In establishing the reserve, consideration shall be given to the nature of the injury, the probable period of disability, and the estimated cost of medical benefits.

(11) The department ~~division~~ shall furnish to any employer or carrier, upon request, its individual experience. ~~The division shall furnish to the Department of Insurance, upon request, the Florida experience as developed under accident year or calendar year.~~

(12) In addition to any other penalties provided by this law, the failure to submit any report or other information required by this law shall be just cause to suspend the right of a self-insurer to operate as such, or~~, upon certification by the division to the Department of Insurance that a carrier has failed or refused to furnish such reports,~~ shall be just cause for the Department of Insurance to suspend or revoke the license of such carrier.

(13) As used in s. 440.50 and this section, the term:

(a) "Plan" means the workers' compensation joint underwriting plan provided for in s. 627.311(4).

(b) "Fixed administrative expenses" means the expenses of the plan, not to exceed $750,000, which are directly related to the plan's administration but which do not vary in direct relationship to the amount of premium written by the plan and which do not include loss adjustment premiums.

(14) Before July 1 in each year, the plan shall notify the department ~~division~~ of the amount of the plan's gross written premiums for the preceding calendar year. Whenever the plan's gross written premiums reported to the department ~~division~~ are less than $30 million, the department ~~division~~ shall transfer to the plan, subject to appropriation by the Legislature, an amount not to exceed the plan's fixed administrative expenses for the preceding calendar year.

Section 50. Section 440.52, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.52 Registration of insurance carriers; notice of cancellation or expiration of policy; suspension or revocation of authority.—

~~(1) Each insurance carrier who desires to write such compensation insurance in compliance with this chapter shall be required, before writing such insurance, to register with the division and pay a registration fee of $100. This shall be deposited by the division in the fund created by s. 440.50.~~

(1)~~(2)~~ A carrier or self-insurance fund that receives notice pursuant to s. 440.05 shall notify the contractor of the cancellation or expiration of the insurance.

(2)~~(3)~~ If the department ~~division~~ finds, after due notice and a hearing at which the insurance carrier is entitled to be heard in person or by counsel and present evidence, that the insurance carrier has repeatedly failed to comply with its obligations under this chapter, the department ~~division~~ may ~~request the Department of Insurance to~~ suspend or revoke the authorization of such insurance carrier to write workers' compensation insurance ~~under this chapter~~. Such suspension or revocation shall not affect the liability of any such insurance carrier under policies in force prior to the suspension or revocation.

(3)~~(4)~~ In addition to the penalties prescribed in subsection (3), violation of s. 440.381 by an insurance carrier shall result in the imposition of a fine not to exceed $1,000 per audit, if the insurance carrier fails to act on said audits by correcting errors in employee classification or accepted applications for coverage where it knew employee classifications were incorrect. Such fines shall be levied by the Department of Insurance and deposited into the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

Section 51. Section 440.525, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.525 Examination of carriers.~~—Beginning July 1, 1994,~~ The ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the~~ department ~~of Labor and Employment Security~~ may examine each carrier as often as is warranted to ensure that carriers are fulfilling their obligations under the law~~, and shall examine each carrier not less frequently than once every 3 years~~. ~~The examination must cover the preceding 3 fiscal years of the carrier's operations and must commence within 12 months after the end of the most recent fiscal year being covered by the examination.~~ The examination may cover any period of the carrier's operations since the last previous examination.

Section 52. Section 440.572, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.572 Authorization for individual self-insurer to provide coverage.—An individual self-insurer having a net worth of not less than $250 million as authorized by s. 440.38(1)(f) may assume by contract the liabilities under this chapter of contractors and subcontractors, or each of them, employed by or on behalf of such individual self-insurer when performing work on or adjacent to property owned or used by the individual self-insurer by the department ~~division~~. The net worth of the individual self-insurer shall include the assets of the self-insurer's parent company and its subsidiaries, sister companies, affiliated companies, and other related entities, located within the geographic boundaries of the state.

Section 53. Section 440.59, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.59 Reporting requirements.—

(1) The department ~~of Labor and Employment Security~~ shall annually prepare a report of the administration of this chapter for the preceding calendar year, including a detailed statement of the receipts of and expenditures from the fund established in s. 440.50 and a statement of the causes of the accidents leading to the injuries for which the awards were made, together with such recommendations as the department considers advisable. On or before September 15 of each year, the department shall submit a copy of the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Democratic and Republican Leaders of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the legislative committees having jurisdiction over workers' compensation.

(2) The ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the~~ department ~~of Labor and Employment Security~~ shall periodically complete ~~on a quarterly basis~~ an analysis of the ~~previous quarter's~~ injuries which resulted in workers' compensation claims as deemed necessary by the department. The analysis shall include the information, data, and statistics deemed relevant by the department ~~be broken down by risk classification, shall show for each such risk classification the frequency and severity for the various types of injury, and shall include an analysis of the causes of such injuries~~. The department ~~division~~ shall make available ~~distribute~~ to each employer and self-insurer in the state covered by the Workers' Compensation Law the data relevant to its workforce. The report shall also be distributed to the insurers authorized to write workers' compensation insurance in the state.

(3) The department ~~division~~ shall annually prepare a closed claim report for all claims for which the employee lost more than 7 days from work and shall submit a copy of the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Democratic and Republican Leaders of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the legislative committees having jurisdiction over workers' compensation on or before September 15 of each year. The closed claim report shall include information, data, and statistics deemed relevant by the department~~, but not be limited to, an analysis of all claims closed during the preceding year as to the date of accident, age of the injured employee, occupation of the injured employee, type of injury, body part affected, type and duration of indemnity benefits paid, permanent impairment rating, medical benefits identified by type of health care provider, and type and cost of any rehabilitation benefits provided~~.

(4) The department ~~division~~ shall prepare an annual report for all claims for which the employee lost more than 7 days from work and shall submit a copy of the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Democratic and Republican Leaders of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the legislative committees having jurisdiction over workers' compensation, on or before September 15 of each year. The annual report shall include information, data, and statistics deemed relevant by the department ~~a status report on all cases involving work-related injuries in the previous 10 years~~. ~~The annual report shall include, but not be limited to, the number of open and closed cases, the number of cases receiving various types of benefits, the cash and medical benefits paid between the date of injury and the evaluation date, the number of litigated cases, and the amount of attorney's fees paid in each case.~~

(5) The Chief Judge must prepare an annual report summarizing the disposition of mediation conferences and must submit the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Democratic and Republican Leaders of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the legislative committees having jurisdiction over workers' compensation, on or before September 15 of each year.

Section 54. Section 440.591, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.591 Administrative procedure; rulemaking authority.—The department, the agency, and the Department of Education have ~~division has~~ authority to adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement the provisions of this chapter conferring duties upon it.

Section 55. Section 440.593, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

440.593 Electronic reporting.—The department ~~division~~ may establish by rule an electronic reporting system whereby an employer or carrier is required to submit information electronically rather than by filing otherwise required forms or reports. The department ~~division~~ may by rule establish different deadlines for reporting information to the department ~~division~~ via the electronic reporting system than are otherwise required.

Section 56. Subsections (1), (4), and (5) of section 443.012, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

443.012 Unemployment Appeals Commission.—

(1) There is created within the Agency for Workforce Innovation ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ an Unemployment Appeals Commission, hereinafter referred to as the "commission." The commission shall consist of a chair and two other members to be appointed by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate. Not more than one appointee must be a person who, on account of previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, is classified as a representative of employers; and not more than one such appointee must be a person who, on account of previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, is classified as a representative of employees.

(a) The chair shall devote his or her entire time to commission duties and shall be responsible for the administrative functions of the commission.

(b) The chair shall have the authority to appoint a general counsel and such other personnel as may be necessary to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the commission.

(c) The chair shall have the qualifications required by law for a judge of the circuit court and shall not engage in any other business vocation or employment. Notwithstanding any other provisions of existing law, the chair shall be paid a salary equal to that paid under state law to a judge of the circuit court.

(d) The remaining members shall be paid a stipend of $100 for each day they are engaged in the work of the commission. The chair and other members shall also be reimbursed for travel expenses, as provided in s. 112.061.

(e) The total salary and travel expenses of each member of the commission shall be paid from the Employment Security Administration Trust Fund.

(4) The property, personnel, and appropriations relating to the specified authority, powers, duties, and responsibilities of the commission shall be provided to the commission by the Agency for Workforce Innovation ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~.

(5) The commission shall not be subject to control, supervision, or direction by the Agency for Workforce Innovation ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ in the performance of its powers and duties under this chapter.

Section 57. Subsection (12) of section 443.036, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

443.036 Definitions.—As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(12) COMMISSION.—"Commission" means the Unemployment Appeals Commission ~~of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~.

(3) The term "department" means the Department of Business and Professional Regulation ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

Section 59. Subsections (1), (3), and (4) of section 447.205, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

447.205 Public Employees Relations Commission.—

(1) There is hereby created within the Department of Management Services ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ the Public Employees Relations Commission, hereinafter referred to as the "commission." The commission shall be composed of a chair and two full-time members to be appointed by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate, from persons representative of the public and known for their objective and independent judgment, who shall not be employed by, or hold any commission with, any governmental unit in the state or any employee organization, as defined in this part, while in such office. In no event shall more than one appointee be a person who, on account of previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, is, or has been, classified as a representative of employers; and in no event shall more than one such appointee be a person who, on account of previous vocation, employment, or affiliation, is, or has been, classified as a representative of employees or employee organizations. The commissioners shall devote full time to commission duties and shall not engage in any other business, vocation, or employment while in such office. ~~Beginning January 1, 1980, the chair shall be appointed for a term of 4 years, one commissioner for a term of 1 year, and one commissioner for a term of 2 years. Thereafter,~~ Every term of office shall be for 4 years; and each term of the office of chair shall commence on January 1 of the second year following each regularly scheduled general election at which a Governor is elected to a full term of office. In the event of a vacancy prior to the expiration of a term of office, an appointment shall be made for the unexpired term of that office. The chair shall be responsible for the administrative functions of the commission and shall have the authority to employ such personnel as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this part. Once appointed to the office of chair, the chair shall serve as chair for the duration of the term of office of chair. Nothing contained herein prohibits a chair or commissioner from serving multiple terms.

(3) The commission, in the performance of its powers and duties under this part, shall not be subject to control, supervision, or direction by the Department of Management Services ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(4) The property, personnel, and appropriations related to the commission's specified authority, powers, duties, and responsibilities shall be provided to the commission by the Department of Management Services ~~Labor and Employment Security~~.

(i) Coordinate all federal, state, and local programs pertaining to migrant laborers; and

(j) Cooperate with the farm labor office of the Department of Business and Professional Regulation ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ in the recruitment and referral of migrant laborers and other persons for the planting, cultivation, and harvesting of agricultural crops in Florida.

Section 64. Subsection (3) of section 468.529, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

468.529 Licensee's insurance; employment tax; benefit plans.—

(3) A licensed employee leasing company shall within 30 days of initiation or termination notify its workers' compensation insurance carrier, the Department of Insurance ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~, and the Division of Unemployment Compensation of the Department of Revenue ~~Labor and Employment Security~~ of both the initiation or the termination of the company's relationship with any client company.

Section 65. Subsections (1) and (5) of section 624.3161, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

624.3161 Market conduct examinations.—

(1) As often as it deems necessary, the department shall examine each licensed rating organization, each advisory organization, each group, association carrier as defined in s. 440.02,, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance, and each authorized insurer transacting in this state any class of insurance to which the provisions of chapter 627 are applicable. The examination shall be for the purpose of ascertaining compliance by the person examined with the applicable provisions of chapters 440, 624, 626, 627, and 635.

(5) Such examinations shall also be subject to the applicable provisions of ss. 624.318, 624.319, 624.321, and 624.322 and chapter 440.

Section 66. Paragraph (m) of subsection (1) of section 626.88, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

626.88 Definitions of "administrator" and "insurer".—

(1) For the purposes of this part, an "administrator" is any person who directly or indirectly solicits or effects coverage of, collects charges or premiums from, or adjusts or settles claims on residents of this state in connection with authorized commercial self-insurance funds or with insured or self-insured programs which provide life or health insurance coverage or coverage of any other expenses described in s. 624.33(1), other than any of the following persons:

(m) A person approved by the Department of Insurance ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ who administers only self-insured workers' compensation plans.

Section 67. Subsection (9) of section 626.989, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

626.989 Investigation by department or Division of Insurance Fraud; compliance; immunity; confidential information; reports to division; division investigator's power of arrest.—

(9) In recognition of the complementary roles of investigating instances of workers' compensation fraud and enforcing compliance with the workers' compensation coverage requirements under chapter 440, the Division of Insurance Fraud of the Department of Insurance is ~~and the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security are~~ directed to prepare and submit a ~~joint~~ performance report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by November 1 of each year for each of the next 2 years, and then every 3 years thereafter, describing the results obtained in achieving compliance with the workers' compensation coverage requirements and reducing the incidence of workers' compensation fraud.

627.0915 Rate filings; workers' compensation, drug-free workplace, and safe employers.—The Department of Insurance shall approve rating plans for workers' compensation insurance that give specific identifiable consideration in the setting of rates to employers that either implement a drug-free workplace program pursuant to rules adopted by the department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security or implement a safety program approved by the Division of Safety pursuant to rules adopted by the Division of Safety of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~

~~or implement both a drug-free workplace program and a safety program~~. ~~The Division of Safety may by rule require that the client of a help supply services company comply with the essential requirements of a workplace safety program as a condition for receiving a premium credit.~~ The plans must ~~take effect January 1, 1994, must~~ be actuarially sound, and must state the savings anticipated to result from such drug-testing program ~~and safety programs~~.

Section 69. Subsection (5) of section 627.914, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.914 Reports of information by workers' compensation insurers required.—

(5) Self-insurers authorized to transact workers' compensation insurance as provided in s. 440.02 shall report only Florida data as prescribed in paragraphs (a)-(e) of subsection (4) to the department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~.

(a) The department ~~Division of Workers' Compensation~~ shall publish the dates and forms necessary to enable self-insurers to comply with this section.

~~(b) The Division of Workers' Compensation shall report the information collected under this section to the Department of Insurance in a manner prescribed by the department.~~

(b)~~(c)~~ A statistical or rating organization may be used by self-insurers for the purposes of reporting the data required by this section and calculating experience ratings.

Section 70. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 71. To the extent that any conflict exists between this act and the provisions of SB 1926, or similar legislation, which transfers the Office of Judges of Compensation Claims to the Division of Administration Hearings, the provisions of SB 1926 or the similar legislation shall control.

Section 72. Unless otherwise expressly provided for in this act, this act shall take effect October 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, line 1, through 5, line 29, remove the entire title of the bill:

and insert in lieu thereof: A bill to be entitled An act relating to The Department of Labor and Employment Security; transferring the Division of Workers' Compensation from the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Department of Insurance; providing exceptions; transferring various functions, powers, duties, personnel, and assets relating to workers' compensation to the Department of Education, the Agency for Health Care Administration, and the Department of Insurance; amending s. 20.13, F.S.; providing for certain employees of the Division to be given hiring priority by the Department of Insurance; providing pay and employment guidelines for such employees; creating the Division of Workers' Compensation in the Department of Insurance; repealing s. 20.171, F.S., which creates the Department of Labor and Employment Security; amending s. 440.015, F.S.; designating state agencies to administer the workers' compensation law; amending s. 440.02, F.S.; providing definitions; amending ss. 110.025, 440.05, 440.09, 440.10, 440.021, 440.102, 440.103, 440.105, 440.106, 440.107, 440.108, 440.125, 440.13, 440.134, 440.14, 440.15, 440.17, 440.185, 440.191, 440.192, 440.1925, 440.20, 440.207, 440.211, 440.24, 440.25, 440.271, 440.345, 440.35, 440.38, 440.381, 440.385, 440.386, 440.40, 440.41, 440.42, 440.44, 440.49, 440.491, 440.50, 440.51, 440.52, 440.525, 440.572, 440.59, 440.591, 440.593, 443.012, 443.036, 447.02, 447.205, 447.305, 450.12, 450.197, 450.28, 468.529, 626.88, 626.989, 627.0915, 627.914, F.S., to conform to the transfers made by this act; providing for the continuation of contracts and agreements; amending s. 440.4416, F.S.; revising the composition of the Workers' Compensation Oversight Board; providing for substitution of a successor agency as a party in judicial and administrative proceedings; providing severability; amending s. 624.3161, F.S.; providing for market conduct examinations with respect to workers' compensation; providing legislative intent; providing for a type two transfer of the administration of child labor laws to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; providing for a type two transfer of certain functions of the Office of the Secretary and the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Labor and Employment Security relating to labor organizations and migrant and farm labor registration to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; providing for a type two transfer of other workplace regulation functions to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; providing appropriations; amending s. 447.02, F.S.; conforming the definition of "department" to the transfer of the regulation of labor organizations to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; amending s. 450.012, F.S.; conforming the definition of "department" to the transfer of the regulation of child labor to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; amending s. 450.191, F.S., relating to the duties of the Executive Office of the Governor with respect to migrant labor; conforming provisions to changes made by the act; amending s. 450.28, F.S.; conforming the definition of "department" to the transfer of the regulation of farm labor to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation; providing effective dates.

Section 36. Subsections (1), (2), and (3) of section 440.38, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

440.38 Security for compensation; insurance carriers and self-insurers.—

(1) Every employer shall secure the payment of compensation under this chapter:

(a) By insuring and keeping insured the payment of such compensation with any stock company or mutual company or association or exchange, authorized to do business in the state;

(b) By furnishing satisfactory proof to the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, created in s. 440.385, that it has the financial strength necessary to assure timely payment of all current and future claims ~~division of its financial ability to pay such compensation~~ individually and on behalf of its subsidiary and affiliated companies with employees in this state and receiving an authorization from the Department of Insurance, ~~division~~ to pay such compensation directly. The association shall review the financial strength of applicants for membership, current members, and former members and make recommendations to the department regarding their qualifications to self-insure in accordance with this act and ss. 440.385 and 440.386. The department shall consult with the association on any recommendation before taking action. ~~the following provisions:~~

1. The association ~~division~~ may recommend that the Department of Insurance~~, as a condition to such authorization,~~ require an ~~such~~ employer to deposit with ~~in a depository designated by~~ the association a qualifying deposit. The association shall recommend the type and amount of the qualifying security deposit and shall ~~division either an indemnity bond or securities, at the option of the employer, of a kind and in an amount determined by the division and subject to such conditions as the division may~~ prescribe conditions for the qualifying security deposit~~,~~ which shall include authorization for ~~to~~ the association to call the qualifying security deposit ~~division~~ in the case of default ~~to sell any such securities sufficient~~ to pay compensation awards and related expenses of the association ~~or to bring suit upon such bonds, to procure prompt payment of compensation under this chapter~~. ~~In addition, the division shall require,~~ As a condition to authorization to self-insure, the employer shall provide proof that the employer has provided for competent personnel with whom to deliver benefits and to provide a safe working environment. ~~Further,~~ The employer ~~division~~ shall also provide evidence of ~~require such employer to carry~~ reinsurance at levels that will ensure the financial strength and actuarial soundness of such employer in accordance with rules adopted ~~promulgated~~ by the Department of Insurance ~~division~~. The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ may by rule require that, in the event of an individual self-insurer's insolvency, such qualifying security deposits ~~indemnity bonds, securities,~~ and reinsurance policies are ~~shall be~~ payable to the association ~~Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty Association, Incorporated, created pursuant to s. 440.385~~. Any employer securing compensation in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall be known as a self-insurer and shall be classed as a carrier of her or his own insurance. All such employers shall, if requested, provide the association an actuarial report signed by a member of the American Academy of Actuaries providing an opinion of the appropriate present value of the reserves for current and future compensation claims. If any member or former member of the association refuses to timely provide such a report, the association may obtain an order from a circuit court requiring the member to produce such a report and ordering such other relief as the court determines appropriate. The association shall be entitled to recover all reasonable costs and attorney's fees in such proceedings.

2. If the employer fails to maintain the foregoing requirements, the association ~~division~~ shall recommend to the Department of Insurance that it revoke the employer's authority to self-insure, unless the employer provides to the association ~~division~~ the certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Academy ~~Society~~ of Actuaries as to the actuarial present value of the employer's determined and estimated future compensation payments based on cash reserves, using a 4-percent discount rate, and a qualifying security deposit equal to 1.5 times the value so certified. The employer shall thereafter annually provide such a certified opinion until such time as the employer meets the requirements of subparagraph 1. The qualifying security deposit shall be adjusted at the time of each such annual report. Upon the failure of the employer to timely provide such opinion or to timely provide a security deposit in an amount equal to 1.5 times the value certified in the latest opinion, the association shall provide such information to the department along with a recommendation, and the Department of Insurance ~~division~~ shall then revoke an ~~such~~ employer's authorization to self-insure.~~, and such~~ Failure to comply with this provision shall be deemed to constitute an immediate serious danger to the public health, safety, or welfare sufficient to justify the summary suspension of the employer's authorization to self-insure pursuant to s. 120.68.

3. Upon the suspension or revocation of the employer's authorization to self-insure, the employer shall provide to the ~~division and to the Florida Self-Insurers Guaranty~~ association~~, Incorporated, created pursuant to s. 440.385~~ the certified opinion of an independent actuary who is a member of the American Academy ~~Society~~ of Actuaries of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the employer for claims incurred while the member exercised the privilege of self-insurance, using a discount rate of 4 percent. The employer shall provide such an opinion at 6-month intervals thereafter until such time as the latest opinion shows no remaining value of claims. With each such opinion, the employer shall deposit with the association ~~division~~ a qualifying security deposit in an amount equal to the value certified by the actuary. The association has a cause of action against an employer, and against any successor of the employer, who fails to timely provide such opinion or who fails to timely maintain the required security deposit with the association ~~division~~. The association shall recover a judgment in the amount of the actuarial present value of the determined and estimated future compensation payments of the employer for claims incurred while the employer exercised the privilege of self-insurance, together with attorney's fees. For purposes of this section, the successor of an employer means any person, business entity, or group of persons or business entities, which holds or acquires legal or beneficial title to the majority of the assets or the majority of the shares of the employer.

4. A qualifying security deposit shall consist, at the option of the employer, of:

a. Surety bonds, in a form and containing such terms as prescribed by the association ~~division~~, issued by a corporation surety authorized to transact surety business by the Department of Insurance, and whose policyholders' and financial ratings, as reported in A.M. Best's Insurance Reports, Property-Liability, are not less than "A" and "V", respectively.

~~b. Certificates of deposit with financial institutions, the deposits of which are insured through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.~~

b.~~c.~~ Irrevocable letters of credit in favor of the association ~~division~~ issued by financial institutions located within this state, the deposits of which are insured through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ~~described in sub-subparagraph b~~.

~~d. Direct obligations of the United States Treasury backed by the full faith and credit of the United States.~~

~~e. Securities issued by this state and backed by the full faith and credit of this state.~~

5. The qualifying security deposit shall be held by the association ~~division, or by a depository authorized by the division,~~ exclusively for the benefit of workers' compensation claimants. The security shall not be subject to assignment, execution, attachment, or any legal process whatsoever, except as necessary to guarantee the payment of compensation under this chapter. No surety bond may be terminated, and no letter of credit ~~other qualifying security~~ may be allowed to expire ~~lapse~~, without 90 days' prior written notice to the association ~~division~~ and the deposit by the self-insuring employer of some other qualifying security deposit of equal value within 10 business days after such notice. Failure to provide such written notice or failure to timely provide qualifying replacement security after such notice shall constitute grounds for the association ~~division~~ to call or sue upon the surety bond, or to ~~act with respect to other pledged security in any manner necessary to preserve its value for the purposes intended by this section, including the~~ exercise its ~~of~~ rights under a letter of credit. Current self-insured employers must comply with this section on or before December 31, 2001, or upon maturity of existing security deposits, whichever occurs later ~~the sale of any security at then prevailing market rates, or the withdrawal of any funds represented by any certificate of deposit forming part of the qualifying security deposit~~. The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ may specify by rule the amount of the qualifying security deposit required prior to authorizing an employer to self-insure and the amount of net worth required for an employer to qualify for authorization to self-insure;

(c) By entering into a contract with a public utility under an approved utility-provided self-insurance program as set forth in s. 624.46225 ~~440.571~~ in effect as of July 1, 1983. The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ shall adopt rules to implement this paragraph;

(d) By entering into an interlocal agreement with other local governmental entities to create a local government pool pursuant to s. 624.4622;

(e) In accordance with s. 440.135, an employer, other than a local government unit, may elect coverage under the Workers' Compensation Law and retain the benefit of the exclusiveness of liability provided in s. 440.11 by obtaining a 24-hour health insurance policy from an authorized property and casualty insurance carrier or an authorized life and health insurance carrier, or by participating in a fully or partially self-insured 24-hour health plan that is established or maintained by or for two or more employers, so long as the law of this state is not preempted by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, Pub. L. No. 93-406, or any amendment to that law, which policy or plan must provide, for at least occupational injuries and illnesses, medical benefits that are comparable to those required by this chapter. A local government unit, as a single employer, in accordance with s. 440.135, may participate in the 24-hour health insurance coverage plan referenced in this paragraph. Disputes and remedies arising under policies issued under this section are governed by the terms and conditions of the policies and under the applicable provisions of the Florida Insurance Code and rules adopted under the insurance code and other applicable laws of this state. The 24-hour health insurance policy may provide for health care by a health maintenance organization or a preferred provider organization. The premium for such 24-hour health insurance policy shall be paid entirely by the employer. The 24-hour health insurance policy may use deductibles and coinsurance provisions that require the employee to pay a portion of the actual medical care received by the employee. If an employer obtains a 24-hour health insurance policy or self-insured plan to secure payment of compensation as to medical benefits, the employer must also obtain an insurance policy or policies that provide indemnity benefits as follows:

1. If indemnity benefits are provided only for occupational-related disability, such benefits must be comparable to those required by this chapter.

2. If indemnity benefits are provided for both occupational-related and nonoccupational-related disability, such benefits must be comparable to those required by this chapter, except that they must be based on 60 percent of the average weekly wages.

3. The employer shall provide for each of its employees life insurance with a death benefit of $100,000.

4. Policies providing coverage under this subsection must use prescribed and acceptable underwriting standards, forms, and policies approved by the Department of Insurance. If any insurance policy that provides coverage under this section is canceled, terminated, or nonrenewed for any reason, the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal is ineffective until the self-insured employer or insurance carrier or carriers notify the ~~division and the~~ Department of Insurance of the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal, and until the Department of Insurance ~~division~~ has actually received the notification. The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ must be notified of replacement coverage under a workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance policy or plan by the employer prior to the effective date of the cancellation, termination, or nonrenewal; or

(f) By entering into a contract with an individual self-insurer under an approved individual self-insurer-provided self-insurance program as set forth in s. 624.46225. The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ may adopt rules to implement this subsection.

(2)(a) The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ shall adopt rules by which businesses may become qualified to provide underwriting claims-adjusting, loss control, and safety engineering services to self-insurers.

(b) The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ shall adopt rules requiring self-insurers to file any reports necessary to fulfill the requirements of this chapter. Any self-insurer who fails to file any report as prescribed by the rules adopted by the department ~~division~~ shall be subject to a civil penalty ~~not to exceed $100 for each such failure~~.

(3)~~(a) The license of any stock company or mutual company or association or exchange authorized to do insurance business in the state shall for good cause, upon recommendation of the division, be suspended or revoked by the Department of Insurance. No suspension or revocation shall affect the liability of any carrier already incurred.~~

(a)~~(b)~~ The Department of Insurance ~~division~~ shall suspend or revoke any authorization to a self-insurer for failure to comply with this act or for good cause, as defined by rule of the department ~~division~~. No suspension or revocation shall affect the liability of any self-insurer already incurred.

(b)~~(c)~~ Violation of s. 440.381 by a self-insurance fund shall result in the imposition of a fine not to exceed $1,000 per audit if the self-insurance fund fails to act on said audits by correcting errors in employee classification or accepted applications for coverage where it knew employee classifications were incorrect. Such fines shall be levied by the Department of Insurance ~~division~~ and deposited into the Workers' Compensation Administration Trust Fund.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 189, line 6, of the amendment, after the semicolon, insert: amending s. 440.38, F.S.; transferring operation of provisions requiring the securing of payment of compensation by employers from the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security to the Florida Self-Insurer's Guaranty Association, Incorporated, and the Department of Insurance; revising and clarifying requirements and procedures; providing powers and duties of the association and the departments; providing for allocation or payment of state funds to the association for certain purposes; providing rulemaking authority;

Rep. Clarke moved the adoption of the amendment to the amendment, which was adopted.

Representative(s) Clarke offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 212573)

Amendment 6 to Amendment 7—On page 186, lines 4-21, remove from the amendment: all of said lines,

and insert in lieu thereof:

627.0915 Rate filings; workers' compensation, drug-free workplace, and safe employers.—The Department of Insurance shall approve rating plans for workers' compensation insurance that give specific identifiable consideration in the setting of rates to employers that either implement a drug-free workplace program pursuant to rules adopted by the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Employment Security or implement a safety program pursuant to provisions of the rating plan ~~approved by the Division of Safety pursuant to rules adopted by the Division of Safety of the Department of Labor and Employment Security~~ or implement both a drug-free workplace program and a safety program. ~~The Division of Safety may by rule require that the client of a help supply services company comply with the essential requirements of a workplace safety program as a condition for receiving a premium credit.~~ The plans must ~~take effect January 1, 1994, must~~ be actuarially sound, and must state the savings anticipated to result from such drug-testing and safety programs.

Rep. Clarke moved the adoption of the amendment to the amendment, which was adopted.

On motion by Rep. Miller, under Rule 12.2(c), the following late-filed amendment to the amendment was considered.

Representative(s) Clarke, Alexander, and Miller offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 920569)

Amendment 7 to Amendment 7 (with title amendment)—On page 178, between lines 21 and 22 of the amendment insert:

Section 1. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.801, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.801 Short title.—Sections 633.801 through 633.825 may be cited as the "Florida Firefighter Occupational Safety and Health Act."

Section 2. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.802, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.802 Definitions.—As used in ss. 633.801-633.825, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the term:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(2) "Division" means the Division of State Fire Marshal of the Department of Insurance.

(3) "Firefighter employee" means any person engaged in any employment, public or private, as a firefighter under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and responding to or assisting with fire and medical emergencies whether or not the firefighter is on duty, except those appointed under s. 590.02(1)(d).

(4) "Firefighter employer" means the state and all political subdivisions thereof, all public and quasi-public corporations therein, and any person carrying on any employment thereof, which employs firefighters or which uses volunteer firefighters, except those appointed under s. 590.02(1)(d).

(5) "Firefighter employment" or "employment" means any service performed by a firefighter employee for the firefighter employer.

(6) "Place of firefighter employment" or "place of employment" means the physical location at which the firefighter is employed.

Section 3. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.803, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.803 Legislative intent.—It is the intent of the Legislature to enhance firefighter occupational safety and health in this state through the implementation and maintenance of policies, procedures, practices, rules, and standards that reduce the incidence of firefighter employee accidents, firefighter occupational diseases, and firefighter fatalities compensable under chapter 440 or otherwise. The Legislature further intends that the division develop a means by which it can identify individual firefighter employers with a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries, conduct safety inspections of those firefighter employers, and assist those firefighter employers in the development and implemention of firefighter employee safety and health programs. In addition, it is the intent of the Legislature that the division administer the provisions of ss. 633.801-633.825; provide assistance to firefighter employers, firefighter employees, and insurers; and enforce the policies, rules, and standards set forth in ss. 633.801-633.825.

Section 4. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.804, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.804 Safety inspections, consultations; rules.—The division shall adopt rules governing the manner, means, and frequency of firefighter employer and firefighter employee safety inspections and consultations by all insurers and self-insurers.

Section 5. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.805, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.805 Division to make study of firefighter occupational diseases, etc.—The division shall make a continuous study of firefighter occupational diseases and the ways and means for their control and prevention and shall make and enforce necessary regulations for such control. For this purpose, the division is authorized to cooperate with firefighter employers, firefighter employees, and insurers and with the Department of Health.

Section 6. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.806, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.806 Investigations by the division; refusal to admit; penalty.—

(1) The division shall make studies and investigations with respect to safety provisions and the causes of firefighter injuries in places of firefighter employment, and shall make to the Legislature and firefighter employers and insurers such recommendations as it considers proper as to the best means of preventing firefighter injuries. In making such studies and investigations, the division may:

(a) Cooperate with any agency of the United States charged with the duty of enforcing any law securing safety against injury in any place of firefighter employment covered by ss. 633.801-633.825, or any agency or department of the state engaged in enforcing any law to assure safety for firefighter employees.

(b) Allow any such agency or department to have access to the records of the division.

(2) The division by rule may adopt procedures for conducting investigations of firefighter employers under ss. 633.801-633.825.

Section 7. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.807, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.807 Safety; firefighter employer responsibilities.—Every firefighter employer shall furnish to firefighters employment that is safe for the firefighter employees, furnish and use safety devices and safeguards, adopt and use methods and processes reasonably adequate to render such an employment and place of employment safe, and do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the lives, health, and safety of such firefighter employees. As used in this section, the terms "safe" and "safety" as applied to any employment or place of firefighter employment mean such freedom from danger as is reasonably necessary for the protection of the lives, health, and safety of firefighter employees, including conditions and methods of sanitation and hygiene. Safety devices and safeguards required to be furnished by the firefighter employer by this section or by the division under authority of this section shall not include personal apparel and protective devices that replace personal apparel normally worn by firefighter employees during regular working hours.

633.808 Division authority.—The division shall:

(1) Investigate and prescribe by rule what safety devices, safeguards, or other means of protection must be adopted for the prevention of accidents in every place of firefighter employment or at any fire scene; determine what suitable devices, safeguards, or other means of protection for the prevention of occupational diseases must be adopted or followed in any or all such places of firefighter employment or at any fire scene; and adopt reasonable rules for the prevention of accidents, the safety, protection, and security of firefighters engaged in interior firefighting, and the prevention of occupational diseases.

(2) Ascertain, fix, and order such reasonable standards and rules for the construction, repair, and maintenance of places of firefighter employment as shall render them safe. Such rules and standards must be adopted in accordance with chapter 120.

(3) Assist firefighter employers in the development and implementation of firefighter employee safety training programs by contracting with professional safety organizations.

(4) Adopt rules prescribing recordkeeping responsibilities for firefighter employers, which may include rules for maintaining a log and summary of occupational injuries, diseases, and illnesses and for producing on request a notice of injury and firefighter employee accident investigation records, and rules prescribing a retention schedule for such records.

Section 9. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.810, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.810 Firefighter employers whose firefighter employees have a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries.—The division shall develop a means by which it can identify individual firefighter employers whose firefighter employees have a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries. The division shall carry out safety inspections of the facilities and operations of these firefighter employers in order to assist them in reducing the frequency and severity of work-related injuries. The division shall develop safety and health programs for those firefighter employers. Insurers shall distribute these safety and health programs to the firefighter employers so identified by the division. Those firefighter employers identified by the division as having a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries shall implement a division-developed safety and health program. The division shall carry out safety inspections of those firefighter employers so identified to ensure compliance with the safety and health program and to assist such firefighter employers in reducing the number of work-related injuries. The division may not assess penalties as the result of such inspections, except as provided by s. 633.813. Copies of any report made as the result of such an inspection must be provided to the firefighter employer and its insurer. Firefighter employers may submit their own safety and health programs to the division for approval in lieu of using the division-developed safety and health program. The division must promptly review the program submitted and approve or disapprove it. Upon approval by the division, the program must be implemented by the firefighter employer. If the program is not approved or if a program is not submitted, the firefighter employer must implement the division-developed program. The division shall adopt rules setting forth the criteria for safety and health programs, as such rules relate to this section.

Section 10. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.812, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.812 Workplace safety committees and safety coordinators.—

(1) In order to promote health and safety in places of firefighter employment in this state:

(a) Each firefighter employer of 20 or more firefighter employees shall establish and administer a workplace safety committee in accordance with rules adopted under this section.

(b) Each firefighter employer of fewer than 20 firefighter employees that is identified by the division as having a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries shall establish and administer a workplace safety committee or designate a workplace safety coordinator who shall establish and administer workplace safety activities in accordance with rules adopted under this section.

(2) The division shall adopt rules:

(a) Prescribing the membership of the workplace safety committees so as to ensure an equal number of firefighter employee representatives, who are volunteers or are elected by their peers, and of firefighter employer representatives and specifying the frequency of meetings.

(b) Requiring firefighter employers to make adequate records of each meeting and to file and maintain the records subject to inspection by the division.

(c) Prescribing the duties and functions of the workplace safety committee and workplace safety coordinator, which include, but are not limited to:

1. Establishing procedures for workplace safety inspections by the committee.

2. Establishing procedures investigating all workplace accidents, safety-related incidents, illnesses, and deaths.

3. Evaluating accident prevention and illness prevention programs.

4. Prescribing guidelines for the training of workplace safety committee members.

(3) The composition, selection, and function of workplace safety committees shall be a mandatory topic of negotiations with any certified collective bargaining agent for firefighter employers that operate under a collective bargaining agreement. Firefighter employers that operate under a collective bargaining agreement that contains provisions regulating the formation and operation of workplace safety committees that meet or exceed the minimum requirements contained in this section, or that otherwise have existing workplace safety committees that meet or exceed the minimum requirements established by this section, are in compliance with this section.

(4) Firefighter employees must be compensated at their regular hourly wages while engaged in workplace safety committee or workplace safety coordinator training, meetings, or other duties prescribed under this section.

Section 11. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.813, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.813 Firefighter employer penalties.—If any firefighter employer violates or fails or refuses to comply with ss. 633.801-633.825, any rule adopted by the division in accordance with chapter 120 for the prevention of injuries, accidents, or occupational diseases, or any lawful order of the division in connection with ss. 633.801-633.825, or fails or refuses to furnish or adopt any safety device, safeguard, or other means of protection prescribed by the division under ss. 633.801-633.825 for the prevention of accidents or occupational diseases, the division may assess against the firefighter employer a civil penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000 for each day the violation, failure, or refusal continues after the firefighter employer has been given notice thereof in writing. The total penalty for each violation may not exceed $50,000. The division shall adopt rules requiring penalties commensurate with the frequency or severity, or both, of safety violations. A hearing must be held in the county where the violation, failure, or refusal is alleged to have occurred unless otherwise agreed to by the firefighter employer and authorized by the division. All penalties assessed and collected under this section shall be deposited in the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

Section 12. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.814, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.814 Division cooperation with Federal Government; exemption from division requirements.—

(1) The division shall cooperate with the Federal Government so that duplicate inspections will be avoided yet assure safe places of firefighter employment for the citizens of this state.

(2) Except as provided in this section, a private firefighter employer is not subject to the requirements of the division if:

(a) The private firefighter employer is subject to the federal regulations in 29 C.F.R. ss. 1910 and 1926;

(b) The private firefighter employer has adopted and implemented a written safety program that conforms to the requirements of 29 C.F.R. ss. 1910 and 1926;

(c) A private firefighter employer with 20 or more full-time firefighter employees includes provisions for a workplace safety committee in its safety program. The workplace safety committee must include firefighter employee representation and must meet at least once each calendar quarter. The private firefighter employer must make adequate records of each meeting and maintain the records subject to inspections under subsection (3). The workplace safety committee shall, if appropriate, make recommendations regarding improvements to the safety program and corrections of hazards affecting workplace safety; and

(d) The private firefighter employer provides the division with a written statement that certifies compliance with this subsection.

(3) The division may enter at any reasonable time any place of firefighter employment for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of the written certification required pursuant to paragraph (2)(d). If the division determines that the firefighter employer has not complied with the requirements of subsection (2), the firefighter employer shall be subject to the rules of the division until the firefighter employer complies with subsection (2) and recertifies that fact to the division.

(4) This section shall not restrict the division from performing any duties pursuant to a written contract between the division and the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

Section 13. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.815, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.815 Failure to implement a safety and health program; cancellations.—If a firefighter employer that is found by the division to have a high frequency or severity of work-related injuries fails to implement a safety and health program, the insurer or self-insurer's fund that is providing coverage for the firefighter employer may cancel the contract for insurance with the firefighter employer. In the alternative, the insurer or fund may terminate any discount or deviation granted to the firefighter employer for the remainder of the term of the policy. If the contract is canceled or the discount or deviation is terminated, the insurer must make such reports as are required by law.

Section 14. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.816, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.816 Expenses of administration.—The amounts that are needed to administer ss. 633.801-633.825 shall be disbursed from the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

Section 15. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.817, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.817 Refusal to admit; penalty.—The division and its authorized representatives may enter and inspect any place of firefighter employment at any reasonable time for the purpose of investigating compliance with ss. 633.801-633.825 and conducting inspections for the proper enforcement of ss. 633.801-633.825. A firefighter employer who refuses to admit any member of the division or its authorized representative to any place of employment or to allow investigation and inspection pursuant to this section commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

Section 16. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.818, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.818 Firefighter employee rights and responsibilities.—

(1) Each firefighter employee of a firefighter employer covered under ss. 633.801-633.825 shall comply with rules adopted by the division and with reasonable workplace safety and health standards, rules, policies, procedures, and work practices established by the firefighter employer and the workplace safety committee. A firefighter employee who knowingly fails to comply with this subsection may be disciplined or discharged by the firefighter employer.

(2) A firefighter employer may not discharge, threaten to discharge, cause to be discharged, intimidate, coerce, otherwise discipline, or in any manner discriminate against a firefighter employee for any of the following reasons:

(a) The firefighter employee has testified or is about to testify, on her or his own behalf or on behalf of others, in any proceeding instituted under ss. 633.801-633.825;

(b) The firefighter employee has exercised any other right afforded under ss. 633.801-633.825; or

(c) The firefighter employee is engaged in activities relating to the workplace safety committee.

(3) Neither pay, position, seniority, nor other benefit may be lost for exercising any right under, or for seeking compliance with any requirement of, ss. 633.801-633.825.

Section 17. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.819, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.819 Compliance.—Failure of a firefighter employer or an insurer to comply with ss. 633.801-633.825 or with any rules adopted thereunder constitutes grounds for the division to seek remedies, including injunctive relief, for noncompliance by making appropriate filings with the circuit court.

Section 18. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.820, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.820 False statements to insurers.—A firefighter employer who knowingly and willfully falsifies or conceals a material fact, makes a false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation, or makes or uses any false document knowing the document to contain any false, fictitious, or fraudulent entry or statement to an insurer of workers' compensation insurance under ss. 633.801-633.825 commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

Section 19. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.823, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.823 Matters within jurisdiction of the division; false, fictitious, or fraudulent acts, statements, and representations prohibited; penalty; statute of limitations.—A person may not, in any matter within the jurisdiction of the division, knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal a material fact; make any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation; or make or use any false document, knowing the same to contain any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry. A person who violates this section commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. The statute of limitations for prosecution of an act committed in violation of this section is 5 years after the date the act was committed or, if not discovered within 30 days after the act was committed, 5 years after the date the act was discovered.

Section 20. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.824, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.824 Volunteer firefighters; volunteer fire departments.—Sections 633.803-633.825 apply to volunteer firefighters and volunteer fire departments.

Section 21. Effective July 1, 2001, section 633.825, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

633.825 Workplace safety.—

(1) The division shall assist in making places of firefighter employment safer places to work and decreasing the frequency and severity of work-related injuries.

(2) The division shall have the authority to adopt rules for the purpose of assuring safe working conditions for all firefighter employees by authorizing the enforcement of effective standards, assisting and encouraging firefighter employers to maintain safe working conditions, and providing for education and training in the field of safety. Specifically, the division may by rule adopt all or any part of subparts C through T and subpart Z of 29 C.F.R. part 1910 as revised April 8, 1998; the National Fire Protection Association, Inc., Standard 1500, paragraph 5-7 (Personal Alert Safety System) (1992 edition); and ANSI A 10.4-1990.

(3) With respect to 29 C.F.R. s. 1910.134(g)(4), the two individuals located outside the immediately dangerous to life and health atmosphere may be assigned to an additional rule, such as incident commander, pumper operator, engineer, or driver, so long as such individual is able to immediately perform assistance or rescue activities without jeopardizing the safety or health of any firefighter working at an incident. Also with respect to 29 C.F.R. s. 1910.134(g)(4):

(a) Each county, municipality, or special district shall implement such provision by April 1, 2002, except as provided in paragraph (b).

(b) If any county, municipality, or special district is unable to implement such provision by April 1, 2002, without adding additional personnel to its firefighting staff or expending significant additional funds, such county, municipality, or special district shall have an additional 6 months within which to implement such provision. Such county, municipality, or special district shall notify the division that the 6-month extension to implement such provision is in effect in such county, municipality, or special district within 30 days after its decision to extend the time for an additional 6 months. The decision to extend the time for implementation shall be made prior to April 1, 2002.

(c) If, after the extension granted in paragraph (b), the county, municipality, or special district, after having worked with and cooperated fully with the division and the Firefighters Employment, Standards, and Training Council, is still unable to implement such provision without adding additional personnel to its firefighting staff or expending significant additional funds, such county, municipality, or special district shall be exempt from the requirements of 29 C.F.R. s. 1910.134(g)(4). Nevertheless, each year thereafter the division shall review each such county, municipality, or special district to determine if such county, municipality, or special district has the ability to implement such provision without adding additional personnel to its firefighting staff or expending significant additional funds. If the division determines that any county, municipality, or special district has the ability to implement such provision without adding additional personnel to its firefighting staff or expending significant additional funds, the division shall require such county, municipality, or special district to implement such provision. Such requirement by the division under this paragraph constitutes final agency action subject to chapter 120.

(4) The provisions of chapter 440 which pertain to workplace safety shall be applicable to the division.

(5) The division shall have the authority to adopt any rule necessary to implement, interpret, and make specific the provisions of this section; however, the division may not adopt by rule any other standard or standards of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration or the National Fire Protection Association without specific legislative authority.

Section 22. Paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of section 383.3362, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(3) TRAINING.—

(c) The Department of Health, in consultation with the Emergency Medical Services Advisory Council, the Firefighters Employment, Standards, and Training Council, and the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission, shall develop and adopt, by rule, curriculum that, at a minimum, includes training in the nature of SIDS, standard procedures to be followed by law enforcement agencies in investigating cases involving sudden deaths of infants, and training in responding appropriately to the parents or caretakers who have requested assistance.

Section 23. Subsection (4) of section 633.30, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

633.30 Standards for firefighting; definitions.—As used in this chapter:

(4) "Council" means the Firefighters Employment, Standards, and Training Council.

To be eligible for appointment as a fire chief member, firefighter officer member, firefighter member, or a director or instructor of a state-certified firefighting facility, a person shall have had at least 4 years' experience in the firefighting profession. The remaining member, who shall be appointed by the State Fire Marshal, ~~two members~~ shall not be a member or representative ~~members~~ of the firefighting profession or of any local government. Members shall serve only as long as they continue to meet the criteria under which they were appointed, or unless a member has failed to appear at three consecutive and properly noticed meetings unless excused by the chair.

(2) ~~Initially, the State Fire Marshal shall appoint three members for terms of 4 years, two members for terms of 3 years, two members for terms of 2 years, and two members for terms of 1 year. Thereafter,~~ Members shall be appointed for 4-year terms and in no event shall a member serve more than two consecutive terms. Any vacancy shall be filled in the manner of the original appointment for the remaining time of the term.

Section 25. Subsection (4) of section 633.32, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

633.32 Organization; meetings; quorum; compensation; seal.—

(4) The council may adopt a seal for its use containing the words "Firefighters Employment, Standards, and Training Council."

Section 26. Subsections (4) and (5) of section 633.33, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

633.33 Special powers; firefighter training.—The council shall have special powers in connection with the employment and training of firefighters to:

(4) Consult and cooperate with any employing agency, university, college, community college, the Florida State Fire College, or other educational institution concerning the employment and safety of firefighters, including, but not limited to, the safety of firefighters while at the scene of a fire and at the scene of any incident related to emergency services to which a firefighter responds, development of firefighter training schools and programs of courses of instruction, including, but not limited to, education and training in the areas of fire science, fire technology, fire administration, and all allied and supporting fields.

(5) Make or support studies on any aspect of firefighting employment, education*,* and training or recruitment.

And the title is amended as follows:

—was read the second time by title.

The Committee on Crime Prevention, Corrections & Safety offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 160185)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Section 817.568, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

817.568 Criminal use of personal identification information.—

(1) As used in this section*, the term*:

(a) "Access device" means any card, plate, code, account number, electronic serial number, mobile identification number, personal identification number, or other telecommunications service, equipment, or instrument identifier, or other means of account access that can be used, alone or in conjunction with another access device, to obtain money, goods, services, or any other thing of value, or that can be used to initiate a transfer of funds, other than a transfer originated solely by paper instrument.

(b) "Authorization" means empowerment, permission, or competence to act.

(c) "Harass" means to engage in conduct directed at a specific person that is intended to cause substantial emotional distress to such person and serves no legitimate purpose. "Harass" does not mean to use personal identification information for accepted commercial purposes. The term does not include constitutionally protected conduct such as organized protests or the use of personal identification information for accepted commercial purposes.

(d) "Individual" means a single human being and does not mean a firm, association of individuals, corporation, partnership, joint venture, sole proprietorship, or any other entity.

(e) "Person" means a "person" as defined in s. 1.01(3).

(f) "Personal identification information" means any name or number that may be used, alone or in conjunction with any other information, to identify a specific individual, including any:

1. Name, social security number, date of birth, official state-issued or United States-issued driver's license or identification number, alien registration number, government passport number, employer or taxpayer identification number, or Medicaid or food stamp account number;

2. Unique biometric data, such as fingerprint, voice print, retina or iris image, or other unique physical representation;

3. Unique electronic identification number, address, or routing code; or

4. Telecommunication identifying information or access device.

(2)(a) Any person who willfully and without authorization fraudulently uses, or possesses with intent to fraudulently use, personal identification information concerning an individual without first obtaining that individual's consent, commits the offense of fraudulent use of personal identification information, which is a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(b) Any person who willfully and without authorization fraudulently uses personal identification information concerning an individual without first obtaining that individual's consent commits a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084, if the pecuniary benefit, the value of the services received, the payment sought to be avoided, or the amount of the injury or fraud perpetrated is $75,000 or more.

(3) Any person who willfully and without authorization possesses, uses, or attempts to use personal identification information concerning an individual without first obtaining that individual's consent, and who does so for the purpose of harassing that individual, commits the offense of harassment by use of personal identification information, which is a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(4) If an offense prohibited under this section was facilitated or furthered by the use of a public record, as defined in s. 119.011, the offense is reclassified to the next higher degree as follows:

(a) A misdemeanor of the first degree is reclassified as a felony of the third degree.

(b) A felony of the third degree is reclassified as a felony of the second degree.

(c) A felony of the second degree is reclassified as a felony of the first degree.

For purposes of sentencing under chapter 921 and incentive gain-time eligibility under chapter 944, a felony offense that is reclassified under this subsection is ranked one level above the ranking under s. 921.0022 of the felony offense committed, and a misdemeanor offense that is reclassified under this subsection is ranked in level 2 of the offense severity ranking chart in s. 921.0022.

(5)~~(4)~~ This section does not prohibit any lawfully authorized investigative, protective, or intelligence activity of a law enforcement agency of this state or any of its political subdivisions, of any other state or its political subdivisions, or of the Federal Government or its political subdivisions.

(6)~~(5)~~(a) In sentencing a defendant convicted of an offense under this section, the court may order that the defendant make restitution pursuant to s. 775.089 to any victim of the offense. In addition to the victim's out-of-pocket costs, such restitution may include payment of any other costs, including attorney's fees incurred by the victim in clearing the victim's credit history or credit rating, or any costs incurred in connection with any civil or administrative proceeding to satisfy any debt, lien, or other obligation of the victim arising as the result of the actions of the defendant.

(b) The sentencing court may issue such orders as are necessary to correct any public record that contains false information given in violation of this section.

(7)~~(6)~~ Prosecutions for violations of this section may be brought on behalf of the state by any state attorney or by the statewide prosecutor.

(8) LEGISLATIVE FINDING. The Legislature finds that, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the location where a victim gives or fails to give consent to the use of personal identification information is the county where the victim generally resides.

(9) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, venue for the prosecution and trial of violations of this section may be commenced and maintained in any county in which an element of the offense occurred, including the county where the victim generally resides.

(10) A prosecution of an offense prohibited under subsection (2) must be commenced within 3 years after the offense occurred. However, a prosecution may be commenced within 1 year after discovery of the offense by an aggrieved party, or by a person who has a legal duty to represent the aggrieved party and who is not a party to the offense, if such prosecution is commenced within 5 years after the violation occurred.

Section 2. Paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (3) of section 921.0022, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

(Amendment Bar Code: 741631)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 4, between lines 17 & 18,

insert:

Section 5. Paragraph (e) of subsection (4) of section 121.4501, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

121.4501 Public Employee Optional Retirement Program.—

(4) PARTICIPATION; ENROLLMENT.—

(e) After the period during which an eligible employee had the choice to elect the defined benefit program or the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the employee shall have one opportunity, that is, a second election ~~at the employee's discretion~~, to choose to move from the defined benefit program to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program or from the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program to the defined benefit program. This paragraph shall be contingent upon approval from the Internal Revenue Service for including the choice described herein within the programs offered by the Florida Retirement System.

1. If the employee chooses to move to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the applicable provisions of this section shall govern the transfer.

2. If the employee chooses to move from the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program to the defined benefit program, the employee must transfer from his or her optional program ~~Public Employee Optional Retirement Program~~ account an amount equal to the sum of the following:

a. The value of any account balance representing the actuarial present value of the employee's accrued benefit transferred to the optional program at the time of the initial transfer;

b. The product of the participant's salary during the period of participation in the optional program times the greater of the applicable contribution rate or the applicable employer normal cost rate in effect for the Florida Retirement System defined benefit program membership class to which the member belonged during each fiscal year of such period; and

c. Interest on the sum of the amounts calculated under sub-subparagraphs a. and b. The interest rate shall be equal to the greater of the annualized rate of return earned on investments of the assets of the Florida Retirement System Trust Fund as calculated by the State Board of Administration for each fiscal year of the participation period or the Florida Retirement System actuarial valuation assumed rate of return of 8 percent ~~and from other employee moneys as necessary, a sum representing all contributions that would have been made to the defined benefit plan for that employee and the actual return that would have been earned on those contributions had they been invested in the defined benefit program~~.

If, at the time of a member's election to transfer to the defined benefit program, the member's optional program account does not contain the total amount required to be transferred to the defined benefit program, the member must pay the remaining balance. If the member's optional program account contains more than the amount required to be transferred to the defined benefit program, such additional amount shall remain in the member's optional program account.

3. The second election must be made no later than 3 years after the initial election.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, lines 2-9,
remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines

Representative(s) Wiles offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 041959)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 10 between lines 19-20,

insert:

Section 3. (1) The serious and often adverse consequences resulting from the sole reliance on the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (FCAT) have increasingly resulted in questions and significant concerns by students, parents, teachers, and school administrators about how to ensure that the test is used appropriately and in a manner that is fair. Currently, there is no peer-reviewed, research-based determination that the FCAT is a reliable and valid instrument suitable to fairly assess students, schools, and teachers. Therefore, the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPPAGA), in consultation with the Department of Education, shall conduct a nationwide search for suitable independent research organizations to submit proposals for review of the FCAT. Based on the proposals and additional background information, OPPAGA shall recommend an organization or organizations to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the majority and minority leaders of each house of the Legislature. If no objections are made to the recommendation within 14 calendar days, OPPAGA shall proceed to contract with the recommended organization or organizations for the FCAT review.

(2) The FCAT review shall be guided by the principles and findings reported by the National Academy of Sciences on high stakes testing in 1999. The review shall include, but is not limited to, whether the FCAT is aligned adequately with the Sunshine State Standards; whether the test accurately and fairly measures what students have learned independent of their socioeconomic background and readiness for the subject matter being studied; whether the test can accurately reflect annual student learning gains within a school; and whether the test can accurately evaluate teacher performance.

(3) The Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability shall provide the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the majority and minority leaders of each house of the Legislature with quarterly updates and a final report before March 1, 2002.

(4) The independent review of the FCAT shall be funded by the Office of Program Analysis and Government Accountability within its appropriated funds for fiscal year 2001-2002.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, line 21, after the semicolon insert: requiring an independent review of the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test;

Rep. Wiles moved the adoption of the amendment.

Section 28. Paragraph (f) of subsection (2) of section 216.163, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.163 Governor's recommended budget; form and content; declaration of collective bargaining impasses.—

(2) The Governor's recommended budget shall also include:

(f) The Governor's recommendations for high-risk ~~critical~~ information technology ~~resource management~~ projects which should be subject to ~~special~~ monitoring under s. 282.322. These recommendations shall include proviso language which specifies whether funds are specifically provided to contract for project monitoring, or whether the Auditor General will conduct such project monitoring. When funds are recommended for contracting with a project monitor, such funds may equal 1 percent to 5 percent of the project's estimated total costs. These funds shall be specifically appropriated and nonrecurring.

Section 29. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) and paragraph (o) of subsection (3) of section 119.07, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

119.07 Inspection, examination, and duplication of records; exemptions.—

(b) If the nature or volume of public records requested to be inspected, examined, or copied pursuant to this subsection is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance by personnel of the agency involved, or both, the agency may charge, in addition to the actual cost of duplication, a special service charge, which shall be reasonable and shall be based on the cost incurred for such extensive use of information technology resources or the labor cost of the personnel providing the service that is actually incurred by the agency or attributable to the agency for the clerical and supervisory assistance required, or both. "Information technology resources" means data processing hardware and software and services, communications, supplies, personnel, facility resources, maintenance, and training ~~shall have the same meaning as in s. 282.303(12)~~.

(o) Data processing software obtained by an agency under a licensing agreement which prohibits its disclosure and which software is a trade secret, as defined in s. 812.081, and agency-produced data processing software which is sensitive are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution. The designation of agency-produced software as sensitive shall not prohibit an agency head from sharing or exchanging such software with another public agency. As used in this paragraph:

1. "Data processing software" means the programs and routines used to employ and control the capabilities of data processing hardware, including, but not limited to, operating systems, compilers, assemblers, utilities, library routines, maintenance routines, applications, and computer networking programs ~~has the same meaning as in s. 282.303(7)~~.

2. "Sensitive" means only those portions of data processing software, including the specifications and documentation, used to:

a. Collect, process, store, and retrieve information which is exempt from the provisions of subsection (1);

b. Collect, process, store, and retrieve financial management information of the agency, such as payroll and accounting records; or

c. Control and direct access authorizations and security measures for automated systems.

Section 30. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 119.083, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

119.083 Definitions; copyright of data processing software created by governmental agencies; fees; prohibited contracts.—

(1) As used in this section:

(b) "Data processing software" has the same meaning as in s. 119.07(3)(o) ~~282.303~~.

Section 5. Section 216.0446, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.0446 Review of information resources management needs.—

(1) There is created within the Legislature the Technology Review Workgroup. The workgroup and the State Technology Office shall independently review and make recommendations with respect to the portion of agencies' long-range program plans which pertains to information resources management needs and with respect to agencies' legislative budget requests for information technology and related resources ~~management~~. The Technology Review Workgroup shall report such recommendations, together with the findings and conclusions on which such recommendations are based,~~be responsible~~ to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees. The State Technology Office shall report such recommendations, together with the findings and conclusions on which such recommendations are based, to the Executive Office of the Governor and to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees.

(2) In addition to its primary duty specified in subsection (1), the Technology Review Workgroup shall have powers and duties that include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) To evaluate the information resource management needs identified in the agency long-range program plans for consistency with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and ~~Information Resources~~ Management and statewide policies recommended by the State Technology Office ~~Council~~, and make recommendations to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees.

(b) To review and make recommendations to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees on proposed budget amendments and agency transfers associated with information technology ~~resources management~~ initiatives or projects that involve more than one agency, that have an outcome that impacts another agency, ~~or~~ that exceed $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period*, or that are requested by the chairs of the legislative budget committees to be reviewed*.

Section 6. Subsection (5)of section 216.181, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.181 Approved budgets for operations and fixed capital outlay.—

(5) An amendment to the original operating budget for an information technology ~~resources management~~ project or initiative that involves more than one agency, has an outcome that impacts another agency, or exceeds $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period, except for those projects that are a continuation of hardware or software maintenance or software licensing agreements, or that are for desktop replacement that is similar to the technology currently in use must be reviewed by the Technology Review Workgroup pursuant to s. 216.0466 and approved by the Executive Office of the Governor for the executive branch or by the Chief Justice for the judicial branch, and shall be subject to the notice and review procedures set forth in s. 216.177.

remove from the bill: all of said lines

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 27. 282.322 Special monitoring process for designated information resources management projects.—

*(1)*For each information resources management project which is designated for special monitoring in the General Appropriations Act, with a proviso requiring a contract with a project monitor, the Technology Review Workgroup established pursuant to s. 216.0446, in consultation with each affected agency, shall be responsible for contracting with the project monitor. Upon contract award, funds equal to the contract amount shall be transferred to the Technology Review Workgroup upon request and subsequent approval of a budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292. With the concurrence of the Legislative Auditing Committee, the office of the Auditor General shall be the project monitor for other projects designated for special monitoring. However, nothing in this section precludes the Auditor General from conducting such monitoring on any project designated for special monitoring. In addition to monitoring and reporting on significant communications between a contracting agency and the appropriate federal authorities, the project monitoring process shall consist of evaluating each major stage of the designated project to determine whether the deliverables have been satisfied and to assess the level of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project. The major stages of each designated project shall be determined based on the agency's information systems development methodology. Within 20 days after an agency has completed a major stage of its designated project or at least 90 days, the project monitor shall issue a written report, including the findings and recommendations for correcting deficiencies, to the agency head, for review and comment. Within 20 days after receipt of the project monitor's report, the agency head shall submit a written statement of explanation or rebuttal concerning the findings and recommendations of the project monitor, including any corrective action to be taken by the agency. The project monitor shall include the agency's statement in its final report, which shall be forwarded, within 7 days after receipt of the agency's statement, to the agency head, the inspector general's office of the agency, the Executive Office of the Governor, the appropriations committees of the Legislature, the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee, the Technology Review Workgroup, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability. The Auditor General shall also receive a copy of the project monitor's report for those projects in which the Auditor General is not the project monitor.

(2) The Enterprise Project Management Office of the State Technology Office shall report any information technology projects the office identifies as high-risk to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the appropriations committees. Within the limits of current appropriations, the Enterprise Project Management Office shall monitor and report on such high-risk information technology projects, and assess the levels of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project.

110.205 Career service; exemptions.—

(2) EXEMPT POSITIONS.—The exempt positions which are not covered by this part include the following, provided that no position, except for positions established for a limited period of time pursuant to paragraph (i) ~~(h)~~, shall be exempted if the position reports to a position in the career service:

(a) All officers of the executive branch elected by popular vote and persons appointed to fill vacancies in such offices. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salary and benefits for any such officer who serves as the head of a department shall be set by the department in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

(b) All members, officers, and employees of the legislative branch, except for the members, officers, and employees of the Florida Public Service Commission.

(c) All members, officers, and employees of the judicial branch.

(d) All officers and employees of the State University System and the Correctional Education Program within the Department of Corrections, and the academic personnel and academic administrative personnel of the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind. In accordance with the provisions of chapter 242, the salaries for academic personnel and academic administrative personnel of the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind shall be set by the board of trustees for the school, subject only to the approval of the State Board of Education. The salaries for all instructional personnel and all administrative and noninstructional personnel of the Correctional Education Program shall be set by the Department of Corrections, subject to the approval of the Department of Management Services.

(e) The Chief Information Officer, deputy chief information officers, chief technology officers, and deputy chief technology officers in the State Technology Office. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the State Technology Office shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

(f)~~(e)~~ All members of state boards and commissions, however selected. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salary and benefits for any full-time board or commission member shall be set by the department in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

(g)~~(f)~~ Judges, referees, and receivers.

(h)~~(g)~~ Patients or inmates in state institutions.

(i)~~(h)~~ All positions which are established for a limited period of time for the purpose of conducting a special study, project, or investigation and any person paid from an other-personal-services appropriation. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salaries for such positions and persons shall be set in accordance with rules established by the employing agency for other-personal-services payments pursuant to s. 110.131.

(j)~~(i)~~ The appointed secretaries, assistant secretaries, deputy secretaries, and deputy assistant secretaries of all departments; the executive directors, assistant executive directors, deputy executive directors, and deputy assistant executive directors of all departments; and the directors of all divisions and those positions determined by the department to have managerial responsibilities comparable to such positions, which positions include, but are not limited to, program directors, assistant program directors, district administrators, deputy district administrators, the Director of Central Operations Services of the Department of Children and Family Services, and the State Transportation Planner, State Highway Engineer, State Public Transportation Administrator, district secretaries, district directors of planning and programming, production, and operations, and the managers of the offices specified in s. 20.23(3)(d)2., of the Department of Transportation. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

(k)~~(j)~~ The personal secretary to the incumbent of each position exempted in paragraphs ~~paragraph~~ (a), (e), and (j). ~~and to each appointed secretary, assistant secretary, deputy secretary, executive director, assistant executive director, and deputy executive director of each department under paragraph (i).~~ Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules of the Selected Exempt Service.

(l)~~(k)~~ All officers and employees in the office of the Governor, including all employees at the Governor's mansion, and employees within each separate budget entity, as defined in chapter 216, assigned to the Governor. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salary and benefits of these positions shall be set by the department as follows:

1. The chief of staff, the assistant or deputy chief of staff, general counsel, Director of Legislative Affairs, chief inspector general, Director of Cabinet Affairs, Director of Press Relations, Director of Planning and Budgeting, director of administration, director of state-federal relations, Director of Appointments, Director of External Affairs, Deputy General Counsel, Governor's Liaison for Community Development, Chief of Staff for the Lieutenant Governor, Deputy Director of Planning and Budgeting, policy coordinators, and the director of each separate budget entity shall have their salaries and benefits established by the department in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

2. The salaries and benefits of positions not established in sub-subparagraph a. shall be set by the employing agency. Salaries and benefits of employees whose professional training is comparable to that of licensed professionals under paragraph (r) ~~(q)~~, or whose administrative responsibility is comparable to a bureau chief shall be set by the Selected Exempt Service. The department shall make the comparability determinations. Other employees shall have benefits set comparable to legislative staff, except leave shall be comparable to career service as if career service employees.

(m)~~(l)~~ All assistant division director, deputy division director, and bureau chief positions in any department, and those positions determined by the department to have managerial responsibilities comparable to such positions, which positions include, but are not limited to, positions in the Department of Health, the Department of Children and Family Services, and the Department of Corrections that are assigned primary duties of serving as the superintendent or assistant superintendent, or warden or assistant warden, of an institution; positions in the Department of Corrections that are assigned primary duties of serving as the circuit administrator or deputy circuit administrator; positions in the Department of Transportation that are assigned primary duties of serving as regional toll managers and managers of offices as defined in s. 20.23(3)(d)3. and (4)(d); positions in the Department of Environmental Protection that are assigned the duty of an Environmental Administrator or program administrator; those positions described in s. 20.171 as included in the Senior Management Service; and positions in the Department of Health that are assigned the duties of Environmental Administrator, Assistant County Health Department Director, and County Health Department Financial Administrator. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules established for the Selected Exempt Service.

(n)~~(m)~~1.a. In addition to those positions exempted by other paragraphs of this subsection, each department head may designate a maximum of 20 policymaking or managerial positions, as defined by the department and approved by the Administration Commission, as being exempt from the Career Service System. Career service employees who occupy a position designated as a position in the Selected Exempt Service under this paragraph shall have the right to remain in the Career Service System by opting to serve in a position not exempted by the employing agency. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules of the Selected Exempt Service; provided, however, that if the agency head determines that the general counsel, chief Cabinet aide, public information administrator or comparable position for a Cabinet officer, inspector general, or legislative affairs director has both policymaking and managerial responsibilities and if the department determines that any such position has both policymaking and managerial responsibilities, the salary and benefits for each such position shall be established by the department in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service.

b. In addition, each department may designate one additional position in the Senior Management Service if that position reports directly to the agency head or to a position in the Senior Management Service and if any additional costs are absorbed from the existing budget of that department.

2. If otherwise exempt, employees of the Public Employees Relations Commission, the Commission on Human Relations, and the Unemployment Appeals Commission, upon the certification of their respective commission heads, may be provided for under this paragraph as members of the Senior Management Service, if otherwise qualified. However, the deputy general counsels of the Public Employees Relations Commission shall be compensated as members of the Selected Exempt Service.

(o)~~(n)~~ The executive director, deputy executive director, general counsel, official reporters, and division directors within the Public Service Commission and the personal secretary and personal assistant to each member of the Public Service Commission. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salary and benefits of the executive director, deputy executive directors, general counsel, Director of Administration, Director of Appeals, Director of Auditing and Financial Analysis, Director of Communications, Director of Consumer Affairs, Director of Electric and Gas, Director of Information Processing, Director of Legal Services, Director of Records and Reporting, Director of Research, and Director of Water and Sewer shall be set by the department in accordance with the rules of the Senior Management Service. The salary and benefits of the personal secretary and the personal assistant of each member of the commission and the official reporters shall be set by the department in accordance with the rules of the Selected Exempt Service, notwithstanding any salary limitations imposed by law for the official reporters.

(p)~~(o)~~1. All military personnel of the Department of Military Affairs. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the salary and benefits for such military personnel shall be set by the Department of Military Affairs in accordance with the appropriate military pay schedule.

2. The military police chiefs, military police officers, firefighter trainers, firefighter-rescuers, and electronic security system technicians shall have salary and benefits the same as career service employees.

(q)~~(p)~~ The staff directors, assistant staff directors, district program managers, district program coordinators, district subdistrict administrators, district administrative services directors, district attorneys, and the Deputy Director of Central Operations Services of the Department of Children and Family Services and the county health department directors and county health department administrators of the Department of Health. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall establish the salary range and benefits for these positions in accordance with the rules of the Selected Exempt Service.

(r)~~(q)~~ All positions not otherwise exempt under this subsection which require as a prerequisite to employment: licensure as a physician pursuant to chapter 458, licensure as an osteopathic physician pursuant to chapter 459, licensure as a chiropractic physician pursuant to chapter 460, including those positions which are occupied by employees who are exempted from licensure pursuant to s. 409.352; licensure as an engineer pursuant to chapter 471, which are supervisory positions except for such positions in the Department of Transportation; or for 12 calendar months, which require as a prerequisite to employment that the employee have received the degree of Bachelor of Laws or Juris Doctor from a law school accredited by the American Bar Association and thereafter membership in The Florida Bar, except for any attorney who serves as an administrative law judge pursuant to s. 120.65 or for hearings conducted pursuant to s. 120.57(1)(a). Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall set the salary and benefits for these positions in accordance with the rules established for the Selected Exempt Service.

(s)~~(r)~~ The statewide prosecutor in charge of the Office of Statewide Prosecution of the Department of Legal Affairs and all employees in the office. The Department of Legal Affairs shall set the salary of these positions.

(t)~~(s)~~ The executive director of each board or commission established within the Department of Business and Professional Regulation or the Department of Health. Unless otherwise fixed by law, the department shall establish the salary and benefits for these positions in accordance with the rules established for the Selected Exempt Service.

(u)~~(t)~~ All officers and employees of the State Board of Administration. The State Board of Administration shall set the salaries and benefits of these positions.

(v)~~(u)~~ Positions which are leased pursuant to a state employee lease agreement expressly authorized by the Legislature pursuant to s. 110.191.

(w) All managers, supervisors, and confidential employees of the State Technology Office. The State Technology Office shall set the salaries and benefits of these positions in accordance with the rules established for the Selected Exempt Service.

Section 3. Section 186.022, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

186.022 Information technology ~~resource~~ strategic plans.—By June 1 of each year, ~~the Geographic Information Board,~~ the Financial Management Information Board, the Criminal and Juvenile Justice Information Systems Council, and the Health Information Systems Council shall each develop and submit to the State Technology Office an information technology ~~resource~~ strategic plan ~~to the Executive Office of the Governor~~ in a form and manner prescribed in written instructions from ~~prepared by~~ the State Technology Office ~~Executive Office of the Governor~~ in consultation with the Executive Office of the Governor and the legislative appropriations committees. The State Technology Office ~~Executive Office of the Governor~~ shall review each such ~~the~~ strategic plan and ~~may provide comments within 30 days. In its review, the Executive Office of the Governor~~ shall determine ~~consider all comments and findings of the Technology Review Workgroup as to~~ whether each such ~~the~~ plan is consistent with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and ~~Information Resources~~ Management and statewide policies adopted by the State Technology Office, and by July 1 of each year shall develop and transmit to each such board and council a written expression of its findings, conclusions, and required changes, if any, with respect to each such strategic plan ~~recommended by the State Technology Council~~. If any change to any such strategic plan is ~~revisions are~~ required, each affected board ~~boards~~ and council shall revise its strategic plan to the extent necessary to incorporate such required changes ~~councils have 30 days to incorporate those revisions~~ and shall resubmit its strategic ~~return the~~ plan to the State Technology Office for final approval and acceptance ~~Executive Office of the Governor~~.

Section 4. Subsection (4) of section 216.013, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.013 Long-range program plan.—

(4) The Executive Office of the Governor shall review the long-range program plans for executive agencies to ensure that they are consistent with the state's goals and objectives and other requirements as specified in the written instructions and that they provide the framework and context for the agency's budget request. In its review, the Executive Office of the Governor shall consider the findings of the State Technology Office ~~Technology Review Workgroup~~ as to the consistency of the information technology portion of long-range program plans with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and ~~Information Resources~~ Management and statewide policies adopted ~~recommended~~ by the State Technology Office ~~Council~~ and the state's plan for facility needs pursuant to s. 216.0158. Based on the results of the review, the Executive Office of the Governor may require an agency to revise the plan.

(2) In addition to the powers and duties otherwise provided by law, the State Technology Office ~~its primary duty specified in subsection (1), the Technology Review Workgroup~~ shall have powers and duties that include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) To evaluate the information resource management needs identified in the agency long-range program plans for consistency with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and ~~Information Resources~~ Management and statewide policies adopted ~~recommended~~ by the State Technology Office ~~Council~~, and make recommendations to the Executive Office of the Governor and the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees.

(b) To review and make recommendations to the Executive Office of the Governor and ~~to~~ the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees on proposed budget amendments ~~and agency transfers~~ associated with information technology ~~resources management~~ initiatives ~~or projects that involve more than one agency, that have an outcome that impacts another agency, or that exceed $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period~~.

Section 6. Subsection (5) of section 216.181, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.181 Approved budgets for operations and fixed capital outlay.—

(5) An amendment to the original approved operating budget for an information technology project or initiative which requires review as provided in s. 216.181 ~~resources management project or initiative that involves more than one agency, has an outcome that impacts another agency, or exceeds $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period, except for those projects that are a continuation of hardware or software maintenance or software licensing agreements, or that are for desktop replacement that is similar to the technology currently in use~~ must be reviewed by the State Technology Office ~~Technology Review Workgroup~~ pursuant to s. 216.0466*. This excludes items submitted by the State Technology Office for review and approval according to the provisions of this section.* ~~and approved by the Executive Office of the Governor for the executive branch or by the Chief Justice for the judicial branch, and shall be subject to the notice and review procedures set forth in s. 216.177.~~

Section 7. Section 216.235, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.235 Innovation Investment Program; intent; definitions; composition and responsibilities of State Innovation Committee; responsibilities of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development ~~Department of Management Services, the Information Resource Commission,~~ and the review board; procedures for innovative project submission, review, evaluation, and approval; criteria to be considered.—

(1) This section shall be cited as the "Innovation Investment Program Act."

(2) The Legislature finds that each state agency should be encouraged to pursue innovative investment projects which demonstrate a novel, creative, and entrepreneurial approach to conducting the agency's normal business processes; effectuate a significant change in the accomplishment of the agency's activities; address an important problem of public concern; and have the potential of being replicated by other state agencies. The Legislature further finds that investment in innovation can produce longer-term savings and that funds for such investment should be available to assist agencies in investing in innovations that produce a cost savings to the state or improve the quality of services delivered. The Legislature also finds that any eligible savings realized as a result of investment in innovation should be available for future investment in innovation.

(3) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Agency" means an official, officer, commission, authority, council, committee, department, division, bureau, board, section, or other unit or entity of the executive branch.

(b) "Commission" means the Information Resource Commission.

(c) "Committee" means the State Innovation Committee.

(d) "Office" means the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development within the Executive Office of the Governor. ~~"Department" means the Department of Management Services.~~

(e) "Review board" means a nonpartisan board composed of private citizens and public employees who evaluate the projects and make funding recommendations to the committee.

(4) There is hereby created the State Innovation Committee, which shall have final approval authority as to which innovative investment projects submitted under this section shall be funded. Such committee shall be comprised of seven ~~five~~ members. Appointed members shall serve terms of 1 year and may be reappointed. The committee shall include:

(a) The Lieutenant Governor.

(b) The director of the Governor's Office of Planning and Budgeting.

(c) The Chief Information Officer in the State Technology Office.

(d)~~(c)~~ The Comptroller.

(e)~~(d)~~ One representative of the private sector appointed by the Commission on Government Accountability to the People.

(f)~~(e)~~ The director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development. ~~One representative appointed by Enterprise Florida, Inc.~~

(g) The Chair of IT Florida.com, Inc.

~~The Secretary of Management Services shall serve as an alternate in the event a member is unable to attend the committee meeting.~~

(5) Agencies shall submit proposed innovative investment projects to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development ~~department~~ by a date established and in the format prescribed by the office ~~department~~. Such innovative investment project proposals shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) The identification of a specific innovative investment project.

(b) The name of the agency's innovative investment project administrator.

(c) A cost/benefit analysis which is a financial summary of how the innovative investment project will produce a cost savings for the agency or improve the quality of the public services delivered by the agency. The analysis shall include a breakdown of each project cost category, including, but not limited to: the costs associated with hiring of other-personal-services staff, re-engineering efforts, purchase of equipment, maintenance agreements, training, consulting services, travel, acquisition of information technology resources; any monetary or in-kind contributions made by the agency, another public entity, or the private sector; and available baseline data, performance measures, and outcomes as defined in s. 216.011(1).

(d) The approval of the agency head, the agency's budget director, the agency's inspector general or internal auditor, and, if the innovative investment project involves information technology resources, the information resource manager.

(6) Any agency developing an innovative investment project proposal that involves information technology resources may consult with and seek technical assistance from the commission. The office ~~department~~ shall consult with the commission for any project proposal that involves information resource technology. The commission is responsible for evaluating these projects and for advising the committee and review board of the technical feasibility and any transferable benefits of the proposed technology. In addition to the requirements of subsection (5), the agencies shall provide to the commission any information requested by the commission to aid in determining that the proposed technology is appropriate for the project's success.

(7) The office ~~department~~ shall select a review board composed of private and public members. Terms of review board members shall be for 1 year beginning on a date established by the office ~~department~~. Review board members may serve more than one term. The board shall evaluate innovative investment projects and shall make recommendations to the committee as to which innovative projects should be considered for funding.

(8) When evaluating projects, the committee and the review board shall consider whether the innovative investment project meets the following criteria:

(a) Increases the quality of public services by the agency.

(b) Reduces costs for the agency.

(c) Involves a cooperative effort with another public entity or the private sector.

(d) Reduces the need for hiring additional employees or avoids other operating costs incurred by the agency in the future.

(9) The committee shall allocate funds based on a competitive evaluation process and award funds to agencies for innovative investment projects demonstrating quantifiable savings to the state, or improved customer service delivery.

(10) The awarded agency shall monitor and evaluate the projects to determine if the anticipated results were achieved.

(11) Funds appropriated for the Innovation Investment Program shall be distributed by the Executive Office of the Governor subject to notice, review, and objection procedures set forth in s. 216.177. The office ~~department~~ may transfer funds from the annual appropriation as necessary to administer the program.

Section 8. Paragraph (c) is added to subsection (1) of section 216.292, Florida Statutes, to read:

216.292 Appropriations nontransferable; exceptions.—

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or the provisions of s. 216.351, for fiscal year 2001-2002, state agencies may transfer positions and appropriations as necessary to comply with any provision of the General Appropriations Act, or any other provision of law, that requires or specifically authorizes the transfer of positions and appropriations in the consolidation of information technology resources to the State Technology Office.

Section 9. Section 282.005, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.005 Legislative findings and intent.—The Legislature finds that:

(1) Information is a strategic asset of the state, and, as such, it should be managed as a valuable state resource.

(2) The state makes significant investments in information technology ~~resources~~ in order to manage information and to provide services to its citizens.

(3) An office must be created to provide support and guidance to enhance the state's use and management of information technology ~~resources~~ and to design, procure, and deploy, on behalf of the state, information technology ~~resources~~.

(4) The cost-effective deployment of information technology ~~and information resources~~ by state agencies can best be managed by a Chief Information Officer.

(5) ~~The head of each state agency, in consultation with~~ The State Technology Office, has primary responsibility and accountability for the planning, budgeting, acquisition, development, implementation, use, and management of information technology ~~resources~~ within the state ~~agency~~. The State Technology Office shall use the state's information technology in the best interest of the state as a whole and shall contribute to and make use of shared data and related resources whenever appropriate. Each agency head has primary responsibility and accountability for setting agency priorities, identifying business needs, and determining agency services and programs to be developed as provided by law. The State Technology Office, through service level agreements with each agency, shall provide the information technology needed for the agency to accomplish its mission.

(6) The expanding need for, use of, and dependence on information technology ~~resources~~ requires focused management attention and managerial accountability by state agencies and the state as a whole.

~~(7) The agency head, in consultation with the State Technology Office, has primary responsibility for the agency's information technology resources and for their use in accomplishing the agency's mission. However, each agency shall also use its information technology resources in the best interests of the state as a whole and thus contribute to and make use of shared data and related resources whenever appropriate.~~

(7)~~(8)~~ The state*, through the State Technology Office,* shall provide, by whatever means is most cost-effective and efficient, the information technology, enterprise resource planning and management, and enterprise resource management infrastructure ~~the information resources management infrastructure~~ needed to collect, store, and process the state's data and information, provide connectivity, and facilitate the exchange of data and information among both public and private parties.

(8)~~(9)~~ A necessary part of the state's information technology ~~resources management~~ infrastructure is a statewide communications system for all types of signals, including*, but not limited to,* voice, data, video, radio, telephone, wireless, and image.

(9)~~(10)~~ To ensure the best management of the state's information technology ~~resources,~~ and notwithstanding other provisions of law to the contrary, the functions of information technology ~~resources management~~ are hereby assigned to the Board of Regents as the agency responsible for the development and implementation of policy, planning, management, rulemaking, standards, and guidelines for the State University System; to the State Board of Community Colleges as the agency responsible for establishing and developing rules and policies for the Florida Community College System; to the Supreme Court, for the judicial branch; to each state attorney and public defender; and to the State Technology Office for the executive branch of state government.

(10) The State Technology Office shall take no action affecting the supervision, control, management or coordination of information technology and information technology personnel, that any cabinet officer listed in s. 4 Art. IV of the State Constitution deems necessary for the exercise of his or her statutory or constitutional duties.

~~(11) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this act, the State Technology Office shall take no action affecting the supervision or control of the personnel or data processing equipment that the Comptroller deems necessary for the exercise of his or her official constitutional duties as set forth in s. 4(d) and (e), Art. IV of the State Constitution.~~

~~(12) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this act, the State Technology Office shall take no action affecting the supervision and control of the personnel or data processing equipment which the Attorney General deems necessary for the exercise of his or her official constitutional duties as set forth in s. 4(e), Art. IV of the State Constitution.~~

Section 10. Section 282.303, Florida Statutes, is renumbered as section 282.0041, Florida Statutes, and amended to read:

282.0041 ~~282.303~~ Definitions.—For the purposes of this part ~~ss. 282.303-282.322~~, the term:

(1) "Agency" means those entities described in s. 216.011(1)(qq)~~(mm)~~.

(2)~~(8)~~ "Agency Annual Enterprise Resource Planning and Management Report" means the report prepared by each Agency ~~the~~ Chief Information Officer ~~of each agency~~ as required by s. 282.3063.

(3)~~(2)~~ "Agency Chief Information Officer" means the person appointed by ~~the agency head, in consultation with~~ the State Technology Office~~,~~ to coordinate and manage the information technology ~~resources management~~ policies and activities applicable to ~~within~~ that agency.

(4)~~(3)~~ "Agency Chief Information Officers Council" means the council created in s. 282.315 to facilitate the sharing and coordination of information technology ~~resources management~~ issues and initiatives among the agencies.

(5)~~(13)~~ "Enterprise resources management infrastructure" means the hardware, software, networks, data, human resources, policies, standards, and facilities*, maintenance, and related materials and services* that are required to support the business processes of an agency or state enterprise.

~~(5) "Information technology hardware" means equipment designed for the automated storage, manipulation, and retrieval of data, voice or video, by electronic or mechanical means, or both, and includes, but is not limited to, central processing units, front-end processing units, including miniprocessors and microprocessors, and related peripheral equipment such as data storage devices, document scanners, data entry, terminal controllers and data terminal equipment, word processing systems, equipment and systems for computer networks, personal communication devices, and wireless equipment.~~

(6)~~(11)~~ "Enterprise resource planning and management" means the planning, budgeting, acquiring, developing, organizing, directing, training, ~~and~~ control*, and related services* associated with government information technology ~~resources~~. The term encompasses information and related resources, as well as the controls associated with their acquisition, development, dissemination, and use.

(7) "Information technology" means equipment, hardware, software, firmware, programs, systems, networks, infrastructure, media, and related material used to automatically, electronically, and wirelessly collect, receive, access, transmit, display, store, record, retrieve, analyze, evaluate, process, classify, manipulate, manage, assimilate, control, communicate, exchange, convert, converge, interface, switch, or disseminate information of any kind or form.

~~(6) "Information technology services" means all services that include, but are not limited to, feasibility studies, systems design, software development, enterprise resource planning, application service provision, consulting, or time-sharing services.~~

~~(7) "Data processing software" means the programs and routines used to employ and control the capabilities of data processing hardware, including, but not limited to, operating systems, compilers, assemblers, utilities, library routines, maintenance routines, applications, and computer networking programs.~~

(8)~~(10)~~ "Project" means an undertaking directed at the accomplishment of a strategic objective relating to enterprise resources management or a specific appropriated program.

(9) "State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and Management" means the report prepared by the State Technology Office as defined in s. 282.3093.

(10)~~(16)~~ "Standards" means the use of current, open, nonproprietary, or non-vendor-specific technologies.

(11)~~(4)~~ "State Technology Office" or "office" means the office created in s. 282.102 ~~to support and coordinate cost-effective deployment of technology and information resources and services across state government~~.

(12)~~(15)~~ "Total cost" means all costs associated with information technology ~~resources management~~ projects or initiatives, including, but not limited to, value of hardware, software, service, maintenance, incremental personnel, and facilities. Total cost of a loan or gift of information technology resources to an agency includes the fair market value of the resources, except that the total cost of loans or gifts of information technology ~~resources~~ to state universities to be used in instruction or research does not include fair market value.

~~(12) "Information technology resources" means data processing hardware and software and services, communications, supplies, personnel, facility resources, maintenance, and training.~~

~~(14) "Technology Review Workgroup" means the workgroup created in s. 216.0446 to review and make recommendations on agencies' information resources management planning and budgeting proposals.~~

Section 11. Section 282.102, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.102 Creation of the State Technology Office; powers and duties ~~of the State Technology Office of the Department of Management Services~~.—There is created a State Technology Office~~, administratively placed~~ within the Department of Management Services*. The office shall be a separate budget entity*, and ~~which~~ shall be headed by a Chief Information Officer who is appointed by the Governor and is in the Senior Management Service. The Chief Information Officer shall be an agency head for all purposes. The Department of Management Services shall provide administrative support and service to the office to the extent requested by the Chief Information Officer. The office may adopt policies and procedures regarding personnel, procurement, and transactions for State Technology Office personnel. The office shall have the following powers, duties, and functions:

(1) To publish electronically the portfolio of services available from the office, including pricing information; the policies and procedures of the office governing usage of available services; and a forecast of the priorities and initiatives for the state communications system for the ensuing 2 years. ~~The office shall provide a hard copy of its portfolio of services upon request.~~

(2) To adopt rules implementing policies and procedures providing best practices to be followed by agencies in acquiring, using, upgrading, modifying, replacing, or disposing of information technology. ~~To coordinate the purchase, lease, and use of all information technology services for state agencies, including communications services provided as part of any other total system to be used by the state or any of its agencies.~~

(3) To perform, in consultation with an agency, the enterprise resource planning and management for the agency.

(4)~~(3)~~ To advise and render aid to state agencies and political subdivisions of the state as to systems or methods to be used for organizing and meeting information technology requirements efficiently and effectively.

(5)~~(4)~~ To integrate the information technology systems and services of state agencies.

(6)~~(5)~~ To adopt technical standards for the state information technology system which will assure the interconnection of computer networks and information systems of ~~state~~ agencies.

(7)~~(6)~~ To assume management responsibility for any integrated information technology system or service when determined by the office to be economically efficient or performance-effective.

(8)~~(7)~~ To enter into agreements related to ~~for the support and use of the~~ information technology with ~~services of~~ state agencies and of political subdivisions of the state.

(9)~~(8)~~ To use and ~~or~~ acquire, with agency concurrence, information technology ~~facilities~~ now owned or operated by any ~~state~~ agency.

~~(9) To standardize policies and procedures for the use of such services.~~

(10) To purchase from or contract with information technology providers for information technology ~~facilities or services~~, including private line services.

(11) To apply for, receive, and hold, and to ~~or~~ assist agencies in applying for, receiving, or holding, such authorizations, patents, copyrights, trademarks, service marks, licenses, and allocations or channels and frequencies to carry out the purposes of this part ~~ss. 282.101-282.109~~.

(12) To purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire and to hold, sell, transfer, license, or otherwise dispose of real*, personal* ~~estate~~, ~~equipment,~~ and intellectual ~~other~~ property*, including, but not limited to, patents, trademarks, copyrights, and service marks.*

(13) To cooperate with any federal, state, or local emergency management agency in providing for emergency communications services.

(14) To delegate*, as necessary,* to state agencies the authority to purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire and to use ~~powers of acquisition and utilization of~~ information technology ~~equipment, facilities, and services~~ or*, as necessary,* to control and approve the purchase, lease, or acquisition and the use of all information technology ~~equipment, services, and facilities~~, including*, but not limited to,* communications services provided as part of any other total system to be used by the state or any of its agencies.

(15) To acquire ~~take~~ ownership, possession, custody, and control of existing communications equipment and facilities, ~~with agency concurrence,~~ including all right, title, interest, and equity therein, as necessary, to carry out the purposes of this part ~~ss. 282.101-282.109~~. However, the provisions of this subsection shall in no way affect the rights, title, interest, or equity in any such equipment or facilities owned by, or leased to, the state or any state agency by any telecommunications company.

(16) To adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 relating to information technology and to administer the provisions of this part.

(17) To provide a means whereby political subdivisions of the state may use ~~the~~ state information technology systems ~~system~~ upon such terms and under such conditions as the office may establish.

(18) To apply for and accept federal funds for any of the purposes of this part ~~ss. 282.101-282.109~~ as well as gifts and donations from individuals, foundations, and private organizations.

(19) To monitor issues relating to communications facilities and services before the Florida Public Service Commission and, when necessary, prepare position papers, prepare testimony, appear as a witness, and retain witnesses on behalf of state agencies in proceedings before the commission.

(20) Unless delegated to the agencies by the Chief Information Officer, to manage and control, but not intercept or interpret, communications within the SUNCOM Network by:

(a) Establishing technical standards to physically interface with the SUNCOM Network.

(b) Specifying how communications are transmitted within the SUNCOM Network.

(c) Controlling the routing of communications within the SUNCOM Network.

(d) Establishing standards, policies, and procedures for access to the SUNCOM Network.

(e) Ensuring orderly and reliable communications services in accordance with ~~the standards and policies of all state agencies and~~ the service level agreements executed with state agencies.

(21) To plan, design, and conduct experiments for information technology services, equipment, and technologies, and to implement enhancements in the state information technology system when in the public interest and cost-effective. Funding for such experiments shall be derived from SUNCOM Network service revenues and shall not exceed 2 percent of the annual budget for the SUNCOM Network for any fiscal year or as provided in the General Appropriations Act ~~for fiscal year 2000-2001~~. New services offered as a result of this subsection shall not affect existing rates for facilities or services.

(22) To enter into contracts or agreements, with or without competitive bidding or procurement, to make available, on a fair, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory basis, property and other structures under office control for the placement of new facilities by any wireless provider of mobile service as defined in 47 U.S.C. s. 153(n) or s. 332(d) and any telecommunications company as defined in s. 364.02 when it is determined to be practical and feasible to make such property or other structures available. The office may, without adopting a rule, charge a just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory fee for the placement of the facilities, payable annually, based on the fair market value of space used by comparable communications facilities in the state. The office and a wireless provider or telecommunications company may negotiate the reduction or elimination of a fee in consideration of services provided to the office by the wireless provider or telecommunications company. All such fees collected by the office shall be deposited directly into the ~~State Agency~~ Law Enforcement Radio Operating ~~System~~ Trust Fund, and may be used by the office to construct, maintain, or support the system.

(23) To provide an integrated electronic system for deploying government products, services, and information to individuals and businesses.

(a) The integrated electronic system shall reflect cost-effective deployment strategies in keeping with industry standards and practices, including protections and ~~of~~ security of private information as well as maintenance of public records.

(b) The office shall provide a method for assessing fiscal accountability for the integrated electronic system and shall establish the organizational structure required to implement this system.

(24) To provide administrative support to the Agency Chief Information Officers Council and other workgroups created by the Chief Information Officer.

(25) To facilitate state information technology education and training for senior management and other agency staff.

(26) To prepare, on behalf of the Executive Office of the Governor, memoranda on recommended guidelines and best practices for information resources management, when requested.

(27) To prepare, publish, and disseminate the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and Management under s. 282.310.

(28) To study and make a recommendation to the Governor and Legislature on the feasibility of implementing online voting in this state.

(29) To facilitate the development of a network access point in this state, as needed.

(30) To designate a State Chief Privacy Officer who shall be responsible for the continual review of policies, laws, rules, and practices of state agencies which may affect the privacy concerns of state residents.

Section 12. Section 282.103, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.103 SUNCOM Network; exemptions from the required use.—

(1) There is created within the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ the SUNCOM Network which shall be developed to serve as the state communications system for providing local and long-distance communications services to state agencies, political subdivisions of the state, municipalities, and nonprofit corporations pursuant to ss. 282.101-282.111. The SUNCOM Network shall be developed to transmit all types of communications signals, including, but not limited to, voice, data, video, image, and radio. State agencies shall cooperate and assist in the development and joint use of communications systems and services.

(2) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ shall design, engineer, implement, manage, and operate through state ownership, commercial leasing, or some combination thereof, the facilities and equipment providing SUNCOM Network services, and shall develop a system of equitable billings and charges for communication services.

(3) All state agencies are required to use the SUNCOM Network for agency communications services as the services become available; however, no agency is relieved of responsibility for maintaining communications services necessary for effective management of its programs and functions. If a SUNCOM Network service does not meet the communications requirements of an agency, the agency shall notify the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ in writing and detail the requirements for that communications service. If the office is unable to meet an agency's requirements by enhancing SUNCOM Network service, the office may ~~shall~~ grant the agency an exemption from the required use of specified SUNCOM Network services.

Section 13. Section 282.104, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.104 Use of state SUNCOM Network by municipalities.—Any municipality may request the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ to provide any or all of the SUNCOM Network's portfolio of communications services upon such terms and under such conditions as the office ~~department~~ may establish. The requesting municipality shall pay its share of installation and recurring costs according to the published rates for SUNCOM Network services and as invoiced by the office. Such municipality shall also pay for any requested modifications to existing SUNCOM Network services, if any charges apply.

282.105 Use of state SUNCOM Network by nonprofit corporations.—

(1) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ shall provide a means whereby private nonprofit corporations under contract with state agencies or political subdivisions of the state may use the state SUNCOM Network, subject to the limitations in this section. In order to qualify to use the state SUNCOM Network, a nonprofit corporation shall:

(a) Expend the majority of its total direct revenues for the provision of contractual services to the state, a municipality, or a political subdivision of the state; and

(b) Receive only a small portion of its total revenues from any source other than a state agency, a municipality, or a political subdivision of the state during the period of time SUNCOM Network services are requested.

Section 15. Section 282.106, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.106 Use of SUNCOM Network by libraries.—The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ may provide SUNCOM Network services to any library in the state, including libraries in public schools, community colleges, the State University System, and nonprofit private postsecondary educational institutions, and libraries owned and operated by municipalities and political subdivisions.

Section 16. Subsection (1), paragraphs (f) and (g) of subsection (2), and subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 282.1095, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

282.1095 State agency law enforcement radio system.—

(1) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ may acquire and implement a statewide radio communications system to serve law enforcement units of state agencies, and to serve local law enforcement agencies through a mutual aid channel. The Joint Task Force on State Agency Law Enforcement Communications is established in the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ to advise the office of member-agency needs for the planning, designing, and establishment of the joint system. The State Agency Law Enforcement Radio System Trust Fund is established in the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~. The trust fund shall be funded from surcharges collected under ss. 320.0802 and 328.72.

(f) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ is hereby authorized to rent or lease space on any tower under its control. The office may also rent, lease, or sublease ground space as necessary to locate equipment to support antennae on the towers. The costs for use of such space shall be established by the office for each site, when it is determined to be practicable and feasible to make space available. The office may refuse to lease space on any tower at any site. All moneys collected by the office for such rents, leases, and subleases shall be deposited directly into the ~~State Agency~~ Law Enforcement Radio Operating ~~System~~ Trust Fund and may be used by the office to construct, maintain, or support the system.

(g) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ is hereby authorized to rent, lease, or sublease ground space on lands acquired by the office for the construction of privately owned or publicly owned towers. The office may, as a part of such rental, lease, or sublease agreement, require space on said tower or towers for antennae as may be necessary for the construction and operation of the state agency law enforcement radio system or any other state need. The positions necessary for the office to accomplish its duties under this paragraph and paragraph (f) shall be established in the General Appropriations Act and shall be funded by the ~~State Agency~~ Law Enforcement Radio Operating ~~System~~ Trust Fund.

(3) Upon appropriation, moneys in the trust fund may be used by the office to acquire by competitive procurement the equipment; software; and engineering, administrative, and maintenance services it needs to construct, operate, and maintain the statewide radio system. Moneys in the trust fund collected as a result of the surcharges set forth in ss. 320.0802 and 328.72 shall be used to help fund the costs of the system. Upon completion of the system, moneys in the trust fund may also be used by the office to provide for payment of the recurring maintenance costs of the system. ~~Moneys in the trust fund may be appropriated to maintain and enhance, over and above existing agency budgets, existing radio equipment systems of the state agencies represented by the task force members, in an amount not to exceed 10 percent per year per agency, of the existing radio equipment inventory until the existing radio equipment can be replaced pursuant to implementation of the statewide radio communications system.~~

(4)(a) The office ~~joint task force~~ shall establish policies, procedures, and standards which shall be incorporated into a comprehensive management plan for the use and operation of the statewide radio communications system.

(b) The joint task force*, in consultation with the office,* shall have the authority to permit other state agencies to use the communications system, under terms and conditions established by the joint task force.

(5)~~(a)~~ The ~~State Technology~~ office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ shall provide technical support to the joint task force and shall bear the overall responsibility for the design, engineering, acquisition, and implementation of the statewide radio communications system and for ensuring the proper operation and maintenance of all system common equipment.

~~(b) The positions necessary for the office to accomplish its duties under this section shall be established through the budgetary process and shall be funded by the State Agency Law Enforcement Radio System Trust Fund.~~

Section 17. Section 282.111, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.111 Statewide system of regional law enforcement communications.—

(1) It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that a statewide system of regional law enforcement communications be developed whereby maximum efficiency in the use of existing radio channels is achieved in order to deal more effectively with the apprehension of criminals and the prevention of crime generally. To this end, all law enforcement agencies within the state are directed to provide the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ with any information the office requests for the purpose of implementing the provisions of subsection (2).

(2) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ is hereby authorized and directed to develop and maintain a statewide system of regional law enforcement communications. In formulating such a system, the office shall divide the state into appropriate regions and shall develop a program which shall include, but not be limited to, the following provisions:

(a) The communications requirements for each county and municipality comprising the region.

(b) An interagency communications provision which shall depict the communication interfaces between municipal, county, and state law enforcement entities which operate within the region.

(c) Frequency allocation and use provision which shall include, on an entity basis, each assigned and planned radio channel and the type of operation, simplex, duplex, or half-duplex, on each channel.

(3) The office shall adopt any necessary rules and regulations for implementing and coordinating the statewide system of regional law enforcement communications.

(4) The Chief Information Officer of the State Technology Office or his or her designee is designated as the director of the statewide system of regional law enforcement communications and, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section, is authorized to coordinate the activities of the system with other interested state agencies and local law enforcement agencies.

(5) No law enforcement communications system shall be established or present system expanded without the prior approval of the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~.

(6) Within the limits of its capability, the Department of Law Enforcement is encouraged to lend assistance to the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ in the development of the statewide system of regional law enforcement communications proposed by this section.

Section 18. Section 282.20, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.20 Technology Resource Center.—

(1)(a) The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ shall operate and manage the Technology Resource Center.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the term:

~~1. "Office" means the State Technology Office of the Department of Management Services.~~

1.~~2.~~ "Information-system utility" means a full-service information-processing facility offering hardware, software, operations, integration, networking, and consulting services.

2.~~3.~~ "Customer" means a state agency or other entity which is authorized to utilize the SUNCOM Network pursuant to this part.

(2) The Technology Resource Center shall:

(a) Serve the office and other customers as an information-system utility.

(b) Cooperate with customers to offer, develop, and support a wide range of services and applications needed by users of the Technology Resource Center.

(c) Cooperate with the Florida Legal Resource Center of the Department of Legal Affairs and other state agencies to develop and provide access to repositories of legal information throughout the state.

(d) Cooperate with the office to facilitate interdepartmental networking and integration of network services for its customers.

(e) Assist customers in testing and evaluating new and emerging technologies that could be used to meet the needs of the state.

(3) The office may contract with customers to provide any combination of services necessary for agencies to fulfill their responsibilities and to serve their users.

~~(4) Acceptance of any new customer other than a state agency which is expected to pay during the initial 12 months of use more than 5 percent of the previous year's revenues of the Technology Resource Center shall be contingent upon approval of the Office of Planning and Budgeting in a manner similar to the budget amendment process in s. 216.181.~~

(4)~~(5)~~ The Technology Resource Center may plan, design, establish pilot projects for, and conduct experiments with information technology resources, and may implement enhancements in services when such implementation is cost-effective. Funding for experiments and pilot projects shall be derived from service revenues and may not exceed 5 percent of the service revenues for the Technology Resource Center for any single fiscal year. Any experiment, pilot project, plan, or design must be approved by the Chief Information Officer ~~of the State Technology Office~~.

(5)~~(6)~~ Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 216.272, the Technology Resource Center may spend ~~the~~ funds in the reserve account of the Technology Enterprise Operating Trust Fund ~~its working capital trust fund~~ for enhancements to center operations or for information technology resources. Any expenditure of reserve account funds must be approved by the Chief Information Officer ~~of the State Technology Office~~. Any funds remaining in the reserve account at the end of the fiscal year may be carried forward and spent as approved by the Chief Information Officer ~~of the State Technology Office~~, provided that such approval conforms to any applicable provisions of chapter 216.

Section 19. Section 282.21, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.21 The State Technology Office's ~~Office of the Department of Management Services'~~ electronic access services.—The State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ may collect fees for providing remote electronic access pursuant to s. 119.085. The fees may be imposed on individual transactions or as a fixed subscription for a designated period of time. All fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the appropriate trust fund of the program or activity that made the remote electronic access available.

Section 20. Subsections (1) and (2) of section 282.22, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

282.22 ~~The~~ State Technology Office*;* ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ production*,* ~~and~~ dissemination*, and ownership* of materials and products.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature that when materials, products, information, and services are acquired ~~collected~~ or developed by or under the direction of the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~, through research and development or other efforts, including those subject to copyright, patent, or trademark, they shall be made available for use by state and local government entities at the earliest practicable date and in the most economical and efficient manner possible and consistent with chapter 119.

(2) To accomplish this objective the office is authorized to publish or partner with private sector entities to produce or have produced materials and products and to make them readily available for appropriate use. The office is authorized to charge an amount or receive value-added services adequate to cover the essential cost of producing and disseminating such materials, information, services, or products and is authorized to sell services~~, when appropriate, to any entity who is authorized to use the SUNCOM Network pursuant to this part and to the public~~.

Section 21. Section 282.23, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

282.23 State Strategic Information Technology Alliance.—

(1) The State Technology Office, in consultation with the Department of Management Services, may establish a State Strategic Information Technology Alliance for the acquisition and use of information technology and related material in accordance with competitive procurement provisions of chapter 287.

(2) The State Technology Office, in consultation with the Department of Management Services, shall adopt rules implementing policies and procedures applicable to establishing the strategic alliances with prequalified contractors or partners to provide the state with efficient, cost-effective, and advanced information technology.

Section 22. Section 282.3041, Florida Statutes, is repealed:

~~282.3041 State agency responsibilities.—The head of each state agency, in consultation with the State Technology Office, is responsible and accountable for enterprise resource planning and management within the agency in accordance with legislative intent and as defined in this part.~~

Section 23. Section 282.3055, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.3055 Agency Chief Information Officer; appointment; duties.—

(1)(a) To assist the State Technology Officer ~~agency head~~ in carrying out the enterprise resource planning and management responsibilities, the Chief Information Officer may ~~agency head shall~~ appoint~~, in consultation with the State Technology Office,~~ or contract for an Agency ~~a~~ Chief Information Officer ~~at a level commensurate with the role and importance of information technology resources in the agency~~. This position may be full time or part time.

(b) The Agency Chief Information Officer must, at a minimum, have knowledge and experience in both management and information technology resources.

(2) The duties of the Agency Chief Information Officer include, but are not limited to:

(a) Coordinating and facilitating agency enterprise resource planning and management projects and initiatives.

(b) Preparing an agency annual report on enterprise resource planning and management pursuant to s. 282.3063.

(c) Developing and implementing agency enterprise resource planning and management policies, procedures, and standards, including specific policies and procedures for review and approval of the agency's purchases of information technology resources in accordance with the office's policies and procedures.

(d) Advising agency senior management as to the enterprise resource planning and management needs of the agency for inclusion in planning documents required by law.

(e) Assisting in the development and prioritization of the enterprise resource planning and management schedule of the agency's legislative budget request.

Section 24. Subsection (1) of section 282.3063, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.3063 Agency Annual Enterprise Resource Planning and Management Report.—

(1) By September 1 of each year, and for the State University System within 90 days after completion of the expenditure analysis developed pursuant to s. 240.271(4), each Agency Chief Information Officer shall prepare and submit to the State Technology Office an Agency Annual Enterprise Resource Planning and Management Report. Following consultation with the State Technology Office and the Agency Chief Information Officers Council, the Executive Office of the Governor and the fiscal committees of the Legislature shall jointly develop and issue instructions for the format and contents of the report.

Section 25. Subsections (1) and (2) of section 282.315, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

282.315 Agency Chief Information Officers Council; creation.—The Legislature finds that enhancing communication, consensus building, coordination, and facilitation of statewide enterprise resource planning and management issues is essential to improving state management of such resources.

(1) There is created an Agency ~~a~~ Chief Information Officers Council to:

(a) Enhance communication among the Agency Chief Information Officers ~~of state agencies~~ by sharing enterprise resource planning and management experiences and exchanging ideas.

(b) Facilitate the sharing of best practices that are characteristic of highly successful technology organizations, as well as exemplary information technology applications of state agencies.

(c) Identify efficiency opportunities among state agencies.

(d) Serve as an educational forum for enterprise resource planning and management issues.

(e) Assist the State Technology Office in identifying critical statewide issues and, when appropriate, make recommendations for solving enterprise resource planning and management deficiencies.

(2) Members of the council shall include the Agency Chief Information Officers ~~of all state agencies~~, including the Chief Information Officers of the agencies and governmental entities enumerated in s. 282.3031, except that there shall be one Chief Information Officer selected by the state attorneys and one Chief Information Officer selected by the public defenders. The chairs, or their designees, of ~~the Geographic Information Board,~~ the Florida Financial Management Information System Coordinating Council, the Criminal and Juvenile Justice Information Systems Council, and the Health Information Systems Council shall represent their respective organizations on the Chief Information Officers Council as voting members.

282.318 Security of data and information technology resources.—

(2)(a) ~~Each agency head, in consultation with~~ The State Technology Office, in consultation with each agency head, is responsible and accountable for assuring an adequate level of security for all data and information technology resources of each ~~the~~ agency and, to carry out this responsibility, shall, at a minimum:

1. Designate an information security manager who shall administer the security program of each ~~the~~ agency for its data and information technology resources.

2. Conduct, and periodically update, a comprehensive risk analysis to determine the security threats to the data and information technology resources of each ~~the~~ agency. The risk analysis information is confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), except that such information shall be available to the Auditor General in performing his or her postauditing duties.

3. Develop, and periodically update, written internal policies and procedures to assure the security of the data and information technology resources of each ~~the~~ agency. The internal policies and procedures which, if disclosed, could facilitate the unauthorized modification, disclosure, or destruction of data or information technology resources are confidential information and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), except that such information shall be available to the Auditor General in performing his or her postauditing duties.

4. Implement appropriate cost-effective safeguards to reduce, eliminate, or recover from the identified risks to the data and information technology resources of each ~~the~~ agency.

5. Ensure that periodic internal audits and evaluations of each ~~the~~ security program for the data and information technology resources of the agency are conducted. The results of such internal audits and evaluations are confidential information and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1), except that such information shall be available to the Auditor General in performing his or her postauditing duties.

6. Include appropriate security requirements, as determined by the State Technology Office, in consultation with each agency head, in the written specifications for the solicitation of information technology resources.

(b) In those instances in which the State Technology Office ~~of the Department of Management Services~~ develops state contracts for use by state agencies, the office ~~department~~ shall include appropriate security requirements in the specifications for the solicitation for state contracts for procuring information technology resources.

Section 27. Section 282.322, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.322 High-risk information technology projects; reporting, monitoring, and assessment ~~Special monitoring process for designated information resources management projects.~~—The Enterprise Project Management Office of the State Technology Office shall report any information technology projects the office identifies as high-risk to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the appropriations committee chairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives. In addition to monitoring and reporting on such high-risk information technology projects, the Enterprise Project Management Office shall assess the levels of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project. ~~For each information resources management project which is designated for special monitoring in the General Appropriations Act, with a proviso requiring a contract with a project monitor, the Technology Review Workgroup established pursuant to s. 216.0446, in consultation with each affected agency, shall be responsible for contracting with the project monitor. Upon contract award, funds equal to the contract amount shall be transferred to the Technology Review Workgroup upon request and subsequent approval of a budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292. With the concurrence of the Legislative Auditing Committee, the office of the Auditor General shall be the project monitor for other projects designated for special monitoring. However, nothing in this section precludes the Auditor General from conducting such monitoring on any project designated for special monitoring. In addition to monitoring and reporting on significant communications between a contracting agency and the appropriate federal authorities, the project monitoring process shall consist of evaluating each major stage of the designated project to determine whether the deliverables have been satisfied and to assess the level of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project. The major stages of each designated project shall be determined based on the agency's information systems development methodology. Within 20 days after an agency has completed a major stage of its designated project or at least 90 days, the project monitor shall issue a written report, including the findings and recommendations for correcting deficiencies, to the agency head, for review and comment. Within 20 days after receipt of the project monitor's report, the agency head shall submit a written statement of explanation or rebuttal concerning the findings and recommendations of the project monitor, including any corrective action to be taken by the agency. The project monitor shall include the agency's statement in its final report, which shall be forwarded, within 7 days after receipt of the agency's statement, to the agency head, the inspector general's office of the agency, the Executive Office of the Governor, the appropriations committees of the Legislature, the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee, the Technology Review Workgroup, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability. The Auditor General shall also receive a copy of the project monitor's report for those projects in which the Auditor General is not the project monitor.~~

Section 28. Paragraph (f) of subsection (2) of section 216.163, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.163 Governor's recommended budget; form and content; declaration of collective bargaining impasses.—

(2) The Governor's recommended budget shall also include:

(f) The Governor's recommendations for high-risk ~~critical~~ information technology ~~resource management~~ projects which should be subject to ~~special~~ monitoring under s. 282.322. These recommendations shall include proviso language which specifies whether funds are specifically provided to contract for project monitoring, or whether the Auditor General will conduct such project monitoring. When funds are recommended for contracting with a project monitor, such funds may equal 1 percent to 5 percent of the project's estimated total costs. These funds shall be specifically appropriated and nonrecurring.

Section 29. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) and paragraph (o) of subsection (3) of section 119.07, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

(b) If the nature or volume of public records requested to be inspected, examined, or copied pursuant to this subsection is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance by personnel of the agency involved, or both, the agency may charge, in addition to the actual cost of duplication, a special service charge, which shall be reasonable and shall be based on the cost incurred for such extensive use of information technology resources or the labor cost of the personnel providing the service that is actually incurred by the agency or attributable to the agency for the clerical and supervisory assistance required, or both. "Information technology resources" means data processing hardware and software and services, communications, supplies, personnel, facility resources, maintenance, and training ~~shall have the same meaning as in s. 282.303(12)~~.

(o) Data processing software obtained by an agency under a licensing agreement which prohibits its disclosure and which software is a trade secret, as defined in s. 812.081, and agency-produced data processing software which is sensitive are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution. The designation of agency-produced software as sensitive shall not prohibit an agency head from sharing or exchanging such software with another public agency. As used in this paragraph:

1. "Data processing software" means the programs and routines used to employ and control the capabilities of data processing hardware, including, but not limited to, operating systems, compilers, assemblers, utilities, library routines, maintenance routines, applications, and computer networking programs ~~has the same meaning as in s. 282.303(7)~~.

2. "Sensitive" means only those portions of data processing software, including the specifications and documentation, used to:

a. Collect, process, store, and retrieve information which is exempt from the provisions of subsection (1);

b. Collect, process, store, and retrieve financial management information of the agency, such as payroll and accounting records; or

c. Control and direct access authorizations and security measures for automated systems.

Section 30. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 119.083, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

119.083 Definitions; copyright of data processing software created by governmental agencies; fees; prohibited contracts.—

(1) As used in this section:

(b) "Data processing software" has the same meaning as in s. 119.07(3)(o) ~~282.303~~.

Section 31. (1) Each state agency that entered into a memorandum of agreement with the State Technology Office by March 15, 2001, regarding consolidation of information technology resources and staff, shall transfer the positions identified in the memoranda and the associated rate and the amount of approved budget to the State Technology Office on October 1, 2001. The total number of positions transferred to the State Technology Office shall not exceed 1,760 full-time positions. Such transfers shall be subject to approval by the Legislative Budget Commission pursuant to chapter 216, Florida Statutes.

(2) Each state agency required to transfer positions pursuant to subsection (1) shall also transfer administrative support personnel and associated rate and the amount of approved budget to the State Technology Office. The number of administrative support positions transferred by each agency shall not exceed 5 percent of the number of positions transferred pursuant to subsection (1). Such transfers shall take effect July 15, 2001. Such transfers shall be subject to approval by the Legislative Budget Commission pursuant to chapter 216, Florida Statutes.

(3) The State Technology Office and the individual agencies may request subsequent transfers of full-time positions and associated rate and funds during the fiscal year to meet the levels of service agreed to between the State Technology Office and the agencies. Such transfers shall be subject to approval by the Legislative Budget Commission pursuant to chapter 216, Florida Statutes.

(4) The State Technology Office is authorized to charge back to each participating agency an amount equal to the total of all direct and indirect costs of administering the agreement with the agency and the total of all direct and indirect costs of rendering the performances required of the State Technology Office under such agreements.

(5) Any resources transferred to the State Technology Office which were dedicated to a federally funded system shall remain allocated to that system until the appropriate federal agency or authority confirms in writing that another plan for supporting the system will not result in federal sanctions.

(6) The corresponding amounts necessary to execute subsections (1)-(3) are appropriated to the state agencies for transfer to the State Technology Office. Such amounts and specific funds shall be equivalent to the amount of approved budget reduced from state agencies in subsections (1)-(3), subject to approval by the Legislative Budget Commission.

Section 32. Section 282.404, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 33. Subsection (6) of Section 11.90, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

(6) The Commission shall review information resources management needs identified in agency long-range program plans for consistency with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and Management and statewide policies adopted by the State Technology Office. The Commission shall also review proposed budget amendments associated with information technology that involve more than one agency, that have an outcome that impacts another agency, or that exceed $500,000 in total cost over 1-year period.

Section 34. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

216.0446 Review of information resources management needs.—

(1) There is created within the Legislature the Technology Review Workgroup. The workgroup and the State Technology Office shall independently review and make recommendations with respect to the portion of agencies' long-range program plans which pertains to information resources management needs and with respect to agencies' legislative budget requests for information technology and related resources ~~management~~. The Technology Review Workgroup shall report such recommendations, together with the findings and conclusions on which such recommendations are based, ~~be responsible~~ to the Legislative Budget Commission ~~chairs of the legislative appropriations committees~~. The State Technology Office shall report such recommendations, together with the findings and conclusions on which such recommendations are based, to the Executive Office of the Governor and to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees.

(2) In addition to its primary duty specified in subsection (1), the Technology Review Workgroup shall have powers and duties that include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) To evaluate the information resource management needs identified in the agency long-range program plans for consistency with the State Annual Report on Enterprise Resource Planning and ~~Information Resources~~ Management and statewide policies recommended by the State Technology Office ~~Council~~, and make recommendations to the Legislative Budget Commission ~~chairs of the legislative appropriations committees~~.

(b) To review and make recommendations to the Legislative Budget Commission ~~chairs of the legislative appropriations committees~~ on proposed budget amendments and agency transfers associated with information technology ~~resources management~~ initiatives or projects that involve more than one agency, that have an outcome that impacts another agency, ~~or~~ that exceed $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period*, or that are requested by the Legislative Budget Commission to be reviewed*.

Section 6. Subsection (5)of section 216.181, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.181 Approved budgets for operations and fixed capital outlay.—

(5) An amendment to the original operating budget for an information technology ~~resources management~~ project or initiative that involves more than one agency, has an outcome that impacts another agency, or exceeds $500,000 in total cost over a 1-year period, except for those projects that are a continuation of hardware or software maintenance or software licensing agreements, or that are for desktop replacement that is similar to the technology currently in use must be reviewed by the Technology Review Workgroup pursuant to s. 216.0466 and approved by the Executive Office of the Governor for the executive branch or by the Chief Justice for the judicial branch, and shall be subject to the notice and review procedures set forth in s. 216.177.

Section 27. 282.322 Special monitoring process for designated information resources management projects.—

*(1)*For each information resources management project which is designated for special monitoring in the General Appropriations Act, with a proviso requiring a contract with a project monitor, the Technology Review Workgroup established pursuant to s. 216.0446, in consultation with each affected agency, shall be responsible for contracting with the project monitor. Upon contract award, funds equal to the contract amount shall be transferred to the Technology Review Workgroup upon request and subsequent approval of a budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292. With the concurrence of the Legislative Auditing Committee, the office of the Auditor General shall be the project monitor for other projects designated for special monitoring. However, nothing in this section precludes the Auditor General from conducting such monitoring on any project designated for special monitoring. In addition to monitoring and reporting on significant communications between a contracting agency and the appropriate federal authorities, the project monitoring process shall consist of evaluating each major stage of the designated project to determine whether the deliverables have been satisfied and to assess the level of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project. The major stages of each designated project shall be determined based on the agency's information systems development methodology. Within 20 days after an agency has completed a major stage of its designated project or at least 90 days, the project monitor shall issue a written report, including the findings and recommendations for correcting deficiencies, to the agency head, for review and comment. Within 20 days after receipt of the project monitor's report, the agency head shall submit a written statement of explanation or rebuttal concerning the findings and recommendations of the project monitor, including any corrective action to be taken by the agency. The project monitor shall include the agency's statement in its final report, which shall be forwarded, within 7 days after receipt of the agency's statement, to the agency head, the inspector general's office of the agency, the Executive Office of the Governor, the appropriations committees of the Legislature, the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee, the Technology Review Workgroup, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability. The Auditor General shall also receive a copy of the project monitor's report for those projects in which the Auditor General is not the project monitor.

(2) The Enterprise Project Management Office of the State Technology Office shall report any information technology projects the office identifies as high-risk to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the appropriations committees. Within the limits of current appropriations, the Enterprise Project Management Office shall monitor and report on such high-risk information technology projects, and assess the levels of risks associated with proceeding to the next stage of the project.

The Committee on Judicial Oversight offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 031181)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. This act may be cited as the "Family Protection Act."

Section 2. Paragraph (f) of subsection (9) of section 39.301, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

39.301 Initiation of protective investigations.—

(9) For each report it receives, the department shall perform an onsite child protective investigation that includes a face-to-face interview with the child, other siblings, parents, and other adults in the household and an onsite assessment of the child's residence in order to:

(f) Determine the protective, treatment, and ameliorative services necessary to safeguard and ensure the child's safety and well-being and development, and cause the delivery of those services through the early intervention of the department or its agent. The training provided to staff members who conduct child protective investigations must include instruction on how and when to use the injunction process under s. 39.504 or s. 741.30 to remove a perpetrator of domestic violence from the home as an intervention to protect the child.

Section 3. Section 741.283, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

741.283 Minimum term of imprisonment for domestic violence.—If a person is adjudicated guilty of a crime of domestic violence, as defined in s. 741.28, and the person has intentionally caused bodily harm to another person, the court shall order the person to serve a minimum of 5 days in the county jail as part of the sentence imposed, unless the court sentences the person to a nonsuspended period of incarceration in a state correctional facility. This section does not preclude the court from sentencing the person to probation, community control, or an additional period of incarceration.

Section 4. Section 784.03, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

784.03 Battery; felony battery.—

(1)(a) The offense of battery occurs when a person:

1. Actually and intentionally touches or strikes another person against the will of the other; or

2. Intentionally causes bodily harm to another person.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (2), a person who commits battery commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) A person who has one ~~two~~ prior conviction ~~convictions~~ for battery*, aggravated battery, or felony battery and* who commits any second ~~a third~~ or subsequent battery commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. For purposes of this subsection, "conviction" means a determination of guilt that is the result of a plea or a trial, regardless of whether adjudication is withheld or a plea of nolo contendere is entered.

Section 5. Section 938.08, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

938.08 Additional cost to fund programs in domestic violence.—In addition to any sanction imposed for a violation of s. 784.011, s. 784.021, s. 784.03, s. 784.041, s. 784.045, s. 784.048, s. 784.07, s. 784.08, s. 784.081, s. 784.082, s. 784.083, s. 784.085, 794.011, or for any offense of domestic violence described in s. 741.28, the court shall impose a surcharge of $201. Payment of the surcharge shall be a condition of probation, community control, or any other court-ordered supervision. The sum of $85 of the surcharge shall be deposited into the Domestic Violence Trust Fund established in s. 741.01. The clerk of the court shall retain $1 of each surcharge that the clerk of the court collects as a service charge of the clerk's office. The remainder of the surcharge shall be provided to the governing board of the county to be used to defray the costs of incarcerating persons sentenced under s. 741.283 and to provide additional training to law enforcement personnel in combating domestic violence.

Section 6. Subsection (12) is added to section 948.03, Florida Statutes, to read:

948.03 Terms and conditions of probation or community control.—

(12) As a condition of probation, community control, or any other court-ordered community supervision, the court shall order a person convicted of an offense of domestic violence, as defined in s. 741.28, to attend and successfully complete a batterers' intervention program unless the court determines that the person does not qualify for the batterers' intervention program pursuant to s. 741.325. Effective July 1, 2002, the batterers' intervention program must be a program certified under s. 741.32 and the offender must pay the cost of attending the program.

Section 7. Subsection (2) of section 741.01, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

741.01 County court judge or clerk of the circuit court to issue marriage license; fee.—

(2) The fee charged for each marriage license issued in the state shall be increased by the sum of $30. This fee shall be collected upon receipt of the application for the issuance of a marriage license. The Executive Office of the Governor shall establish a Domestic Violence Trust Fund for the purpose of collecting and disbursing funds generated from the increase in the marriage license fee. Such funds which are generated shall be directed to the Department of Children and Family Services for the specific purpose of funding domestic violence centers, and the funds shall be appropriated in a "grants-in-aid" category to the Department of Children and Family Services for the purpose of funding domestic violence centers. From the proceeds of the surcharge deposited into the Domestic Violence Trust Fund as required under s. 938.08, the Executive Office of the Governor may spend up to $500,000 each year for the purpose of administering a statewide public-awareness campaign regarding domestic violence.

Section 8. Section 741.281, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

741.281 Court to order batterers' intervention program attendance.—If a person is found guilty of, has had adjudication withheld on, or has pled nolo contendere to a crime of domestic violence, as defined in s. 741.28, that person shall be ordered by the court to a minimum term of 1 year's probation and the court shall order that the defendant attend a batterers' intervention program as a condition of probation. If a person is admitted to a pretrial diversion program and has been charged with an act of domestic violence, as defined in s. 741.28, the court shall order as a condition of the program that the defendant attend a batterers' intervention program. The court must impose the condition of the batterers' intervention program for a defendant admitted to ~~placed on probation or~~ pretrial diversion under this section, but the court, in its discretion, may determine not to impose the condition if it states on the record why a batterers' intervention program might be inappropriate. The court must impose the condition of the batterers' intervention program for a defendant placed on probation unless the court determines that the person does not qualify for the batterers' intervention program pursuant to s. 741.325. Effective July 1, 2002, the batterers' intervention program must ~~It is preferred, but not mandatory, that such programs~~ be a certified program under s. 741.32. The imposition of probation under this section shall not preclude the court from imposing any sentence of imprisonment authorized by s. 775.082.

Section 9. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:

remove from the title of the bill: the entire title

(Amendment Bar Code: 234485)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—On page 1, line 24,

insert:

Section 1. Subsections (8), (9), (10), (14), and (15) of section 626.9911, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

626.9911 Definitions.—As used in this act, the term:

(8) "Related provider trust" means a titling trust or other trust established by a licensed viatical settlement provider or financing entity for the sole purpose of holding the ownership or beneficial interest in purchased policies in connection with a financing transaction ~~entering~~

~~into or owning viatical settlement contracts~~. The trust must have a written agreement with a licensed viatical settlement provider or financing entity under which the licensed viatical settlement provider or financing entity is responsible for insuring compliance with all statutory and regulatory requirements and under which the trust agrees to make all records and files relating to viatical settlement transactions available to the department as if those records and files were maintained directly by the licensed viatical settlement provider. This term does not include an independent third-party trustee or escrow agent or a trust that does not enter into agreements with a viator. A related provider trust shall be subject to all provisions of this act that apply to the viatical settlement provider who established the related provider trust, except s. 626.9912, which shall not be applicable. A viatical settlement provider may establish no more than one related provider trust, and the sole trustee of such related provider trust shall be the viatical settlement provider licensed under s. 626.9912. The name of the licensed viatical settlement provider shall be included within the name of the related provider trust.

(9) "Viatical settlement purchase agreement" means a contract or agreement, entered into by a viatical settlement purchaser, to which the viator is not a party, to purchase a life insurance policy or an interest in a life insurance policy, which is entered into for the purpose of deriving an economic benefit. The term also includes purchases made by viatical settlement purchasers from any person other than the provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract.

(10) "Viatical settlement purchaser" means a person who gives a sum of money as consideration for a life insurance policy or an equitable or legal interest in the death benefits of a life insurance policy that has been or will be the subject of a viatical settlement contract, for the purpose of deriving an economic benefit, including purchases made in the secondary market, that is, purchases from any person other than the provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract or an entity affiliated with the provider. The term does not include~~, other than~~ a licensee under this part, an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501, Regulation D of the Securities Act Rules, or a qualified institutional buyer as defined by Rule 144(a) of the Federal Securities Act, ~~or~~ a special purpose entity*, a financing entity, or a contingency insurer* ~~who gives a sum of money as consideration for a life insurance policy or an equitable or legal interest in the death benefits of a life insurance policy which has been or will be the subject of a viatical settlement contract, for the purpose of deriving an economic benefit~~. The above references to Rule 501, Regulation D and Rule 144(a) of the Federal Securities Act are used strictly for defining purposes and shall not be interpreted in any other manner. Any person who claims to be an accredited investor shall sign an affidavit stating that he or she is an accredited investor, the basis of that claim, and that he or she understands that as an accredited investor he or she will not be entitled to certain protections of the Viatical Act. This affidavit must be kept with other documents required to be maintained by this act.

(14) "Special purpose entity" means an entity established by a licensed viatical settlement provider or by a financing entity, which may be a corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, or other similar entity formed solely to provide, either directly or indirectly, access to ~~act as a vehicle to permit a lender to the provider to access~~ institutional capital markets to a viatical settlement ~~for the~~ provider or financing entity. A special purpose entity shall not enter into a viatical settlement contract or a viatical settlement purchase agreement.

(15) "Financing entity" means an underwriter, placement agent, lender, purchaser of securities, or purchaser of a policy or certificate from a viatical settlement provider, credit enhancer, or any entity ~~person~~ that ~~may be a party to a viatical settlement contract and that~~ has direct ownership in a policy or certificate that is the subject of a viatical settlement contract, but whose principal ~~sole~~ activity related to the transaction is providing funds or credit enhancement to effect the viatical settlement or the purchase of one or more viatical policies and who has an agreement in writing with one or more licensed viatical settlement providers to finance the acquisition of viatical settlement contracts ~~a licensed viatical settlement provider to act as a participant in a financing transaction~~. The term does not include a nonaccredited investor*, a viatical settlement purchaser,* or other natural person. A financing entity may not enter into a viatical settlement contract.

626.9921 Filing of forms; required procedures; approval.—

(1) A viatical settlement contract form, viatical settlement purchase agreement form, escrow form, or related form may be used in this state only after ~~the viatical settlement provider or any related provider trust has filed~~ the form has been filed with the department and only after the form has been approved by the department.

Section 3. Subsection (3) is added to section 626.99235, Florida Statutes, to read:

626.99235 Disclosures to viatical settlement purchasers; misrepresentations.—

(3) The requirements of this section also apply to purchases made from any person other than the provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract which are the subject of a viatical settlement purchase agreement.

Section 4. Section 626.99236, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

626.99236 Further disclosures to viatical settlement purchasers.—

(1) No later than 5 days prior to the assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of the death benefit or ownership of all or a portion of the insurance policy or certificate of insurance to the purchaser, the viatical settlement provider and the viatical settlement sales agent, themselves ~~itself~~ or through another person, shall provide in writing the following disclosures to any viatical settlement purchaser:

(a) All the life expectancy certifications obtained by the provider.

(b) The name and address of the insurance company, the policy number, and the date of original issue of the viaticated policy.

(c) The experience and qualifications of the person issuing the life expectancy certification, and that person's relationship to the viatical settlement provider, the viatical settlement broker, the viatical settlement sales agent, and the viator.

(d) The name and address of any person providing escrow services, and that person's relationship to the viatical settlement provider, the viatical settlement broker, the viatical settlement sales agent, and the viator.

(e) The type of life insurance policy offered or sold, including a statement as to whether the policy is whole life, term life, universal life, or a group policy certificate; a statement as to whether the policy is in lapse status or has lapsed in the last 2 years; and a statement as to whether the purchaser is entitled to benefits contained in the policy other than the death benefit of the policy.

(f) The procedure to be used by the provider to provide the status of the health condition of the insured to a purchaser.

(2) The viatical settlement purchase agreement is voidable by the purchaser at any time within 3 days after the disclosures mandated by this section are received by the purchaser.

(3) At the time the disclosures in subsection (1) are made, the viatical settlement purchaser shall be advised to seek independent financial advice from a person not compensated by the viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement broker or the viatical settlement sales agent. The viatical settlement purchaser shall sign an affidavit that he or she has received the disclosures and understands their importance.

(4) A viatical settlement purchase transaction, which involves a purchase from any person other than the provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract that is the subject of a viatical settlement purchase agreement, may be completed only through the use of an independent third-party trustee or escrow agent. All funds to be paid by the purchaser must be deposited by the purchaser with the independent third-party trustee or escrow agent. The independent third-party trustee or escrow agent shall not release the deposited funds to the seller until after the 3-day voidable period established by subsection (2) has expired.

(5) The requirements of subsections (1), (2), and (3) also apply to purchases made from any person other than the provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract that are the subject of a viatical settlement purchase agreement.

Section 5. Subsection (10) is added to section 626.9924, Florida Statutes, to read:

626.9924 Viatical settlement contracts; procedures; rescission.—

(10) The viatical settlement provider who effectuated the viatical settlement contract with the viator (the "initial provider") is responsible for tracking the insured, including but not limited to, keeping track of the insured's whereabouts and health status, submission of death claims or assisting the beneficiary in the submission of death claims, and the status of the payment of premiums until the death of the insured. This responsibility may be contracted out to a third party; however, the ultimate responsibility remains with the initial provider. This responsibility continues with the initial provider, notwithstanding any transfers of the viaticated policy in the secondary market. This subsection applies only to those viaticated policies that are or are to become the subject of viatical settlement purchase agreements.

Section 6. Subsection (3) is added to section 626.99245, Florida Statutes, to read:

626.99245 Conflict of regulation of viaticals.—

(3) This section does not affect the requirement of ss. 626.9911(6) and 626.9912(1) that a viatical settlement provider doing business from this state must obtain a viatical settlement license from the department. As used in this subsection, the term "doing business from this state" includes effectuating viatical settlement contracts and effectuating viatical settlement purchase agreements from offices in this state, regardless of the state of residence of the viator or the viatical settlement purchaser.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, lines 2 and 3,
remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines,

and insert in lieu thereof: An act relating to financial settlements; amending s. 626.9911, F.S.; revising definitions; amending s. 626.9921, F.S.; providing for approval of forms; amending s. 626.99235, F.S.; providing for applicability; amending s. 626.99236, F.S.; requiring certain purchases to be handled by an independent third-party trustee; amending s. 626.9924, F.S.; revising procedures for tracking the insured; amending s. 626.99245, F.S.; clarifying the application of licensing requirements to viatical settlement providers; specifying the purpose of the act;

Rep. Brown moved the adoption of the amendment, which was adopted.

On motion by Rep. Brown, under Rule 12.2(c), the following late-filed amendment was considered.

Representative(s) Brown offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 983481)

remove from the bill: all of said lines and insert in lieu thereof: (p) "Structured-settlement-payment rights" means rights to receive periodic payments, including lump-sum payments under a structured settlement, whether from the structured-settlement obligor or the annuity issuer, if:

1. The payee or any other interested party is domiciled in this state;

2. The structured settlement agreement was approved by a court of this state; or

3. The settled claim was pending before the courts of this state when the parties entered into the structured-settlement agreement.

(q) "Terms of the structured settlement" means the terms of the structured-settlement agreement; the annuity contract; a qualified-assignment agreement; or an order or approval of a court or other government authority authorizing or approving the structured settlement.

(r) "Transfer" means a sale, assignment, pledge, hypothecation, or other form of alienation or encumbrance made by a payee for consideration.

(s) "Transfer agreement" means the agreement providing for transfer of structured-settlement-payment rights from a payee to a transferee.

(t) "Transferee" means a person who is receiving or who will receive structured-settlement-payment rights resulting from a transfer.

(3) CONDITIONS TO TRANSFERS OF STRUCTURED-SETTLEMENT-PAYMENT RIGHTS AND STRUCTURED-SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS.—

(a) A direct or indirect transfer of structured-settlement-payment rights is not effective and a structured-settlement obligor or annuity issuer is not required to make a payment directly or indirectly to a transferee of structured-settlement-payment rights unless the transfer is authorized in advance in a final order by a court of competent jurisdiction which is based on the written express findings by the court that:

1. The transfer complies with this section and does not contravene other applicable law;

2. At least 10 days before the date on which the payee first incurred an obligation with respect to the transfer, the transferee provided to the payee a disclosure statement in bold type, no smaller than 14 points in size, which specifies:

a. The amounts and due dates of the structured-settlement payments to be transferred;

b. The aggregate amount of the payments;

c. The discounted present value of the payments, together with the discount rate used in determining the discounted present value;

d. The gross amount payable to the payee in exchange for the payments;

e. An itemized listing of all brokers' commissions, service charges, application fees, processing fees, closing costs, filing fees, referral fees, administrative fees, legal fees, and notary fees and other commissions, fees, costs, expenses, and charges payable by the payee or deductible from the gross amount otherwise payable to the payee;

f. The net amount payable to the payee after deducting all commissions, fees, costs, expenses, and charges described in sub-subparagraph e.;

g. The quotient, expressed as a percentage, obtained by dividing the net payment amount by the discounted present value of the payments, which must be disclosed in the following statement: "The net amount that you will receive from us in exchange for your future structured-settlement payments represent __ percent of the estimated current value of the payments based upon the discounted value using the applicable federal rate";

h. The effective annual interest rate, which must be disclosed in the following statement: "Based on the net amount that you will receive from us and the amounts and timing of the structured-settlement payments that you are turning over to us, you will, in effect, be paying interest to us at a rate of __ percent per year"; and

i. The amount of any penalty and the aggregate amount of any liquidated damages, including penalties, payable by the payee in the event of a breach of the transfer agreement by the payee;

3. The payee has established that the transfer is in the best interests of the payee, taking into account the welfare and support of the payee's dependents;

4. The payee has received, or waived his or her right to receive, independent professional advice regarding the legal, tax, and financial implications of the transfer;

5. The transferee has given written notice of the transferee's name, address, and taxpayer identification number to the annuity issuer and the structured-settlement obligor and has filed a copy of the notice with the court;

6. The transfer agreement provides that if the payee is domiciled in this state, any disputes between the parties will be governed in accordance with the laws of this state and that the domicile state of the payee is the proper venue to bring any cause of action arising out of a breach of the agreement; and

7. The court has determined that the net amount payable to the payee is fair, just, and reasonable under the circumstances then existing.

(b) If a proposed transfer would contravene the terms of the structured settlement, upon the filing of a written objection by any interested party and after considering the objection and any response to it, the court may grant, deny, or impose conditions upon the proposed transfer which the court deems just and proper given the facts and circumstances and in accordance with established principles of law. Any order approving a transfer must require that the transferee indemnify the annuity issuer and the structured-settlement obligor for any liability, including reasonable costs and attorney's fees, which arises from compliance by the issuer or obligor with the order of the court.

(c) Any provision in a transfer agreement which gives a transferee power to confess judgment against a payee is unenforceable to the extent that the amount of the judgment would exceed the amount paid by the transferee to the payee, less any payments received from the structured-settlement obligor or payee.

(d) In negotiating a structured settlement of claims brought by or on behalf of a claimant who is domiciled in this state, the structured-settlement obligor must disclose in writing to the claimant or the claimant's legal representative all of the following information that is not otherwise specified in the structured-settlement agreement:

1. The amounts and due dates of the periodic payments to be made under the structured-settlement agreement. In the case of payments that will be subject to periodic percentage increases, the amounts of future payments may be disclosed by identifying the base payment amount, the amount and timing of scheduled increases, and the manner in which increases will be compounded;

2. The amount of the premium payable to the annuity issuer;

3. The discounted present value of all periodic payments that are not life-contingent, together with the discount rate used in determining the discounted present value;

4. The nature and amount of any costs that may be deducted from any of the periodic payments;

5. Where applicable, that any transfer of the periodic payments is prohibited by the terms of the structured settlement and may otherwise be prohibited or restricted under applicable law; and

6. That any transfer of the periodic payments by the claimant may subject the claimant to serious adverse tax consequences.

(4) JURISDICTION; PROCEDURE FOR APPROVAL OF TRANSFERS.—At least 20 days before the scheduled hearing on an application for authorizing a transfer of structured-settlement-payment rights under this section, the transferee must file with the court and all interested parties a notice of the proposed transfer and the application for its authorization. The notice must include:

(a) A copy of the transferee's application to the court;

(b) A copy of the transfer agreement;

(c) A copy of the disclosure statement required under subsection (3);

(d) Notification that an interested party may support, oppose, or otherwise respond to the transferee's application, in person or by counsel, by submitting written comments to the court or by participating in the hearing; and

(e) Notification of the time and place of the hearing and notification of the manner in which and the time by which any written response to the application must be filed in order to be considered by the court. A written response to an application must be filed within 15 days after service of the transferee's notice.

(5) WAIVER PROHIBITED; NO PENALTIES INCURRED.—

(a) The provisions of this section may not be waived.

(b) If a transfer of structured-settlement-payment rights fails to satisfy the conditions of subsection (3), the payee who proposed the transfer does not incur any penalty, forfeit any application fee or other payment, or otherwise incur any liability to the proposed transferee.

(6) NONCOMPLIANCE.—

(a) If a transferee violates the requirements for stipulating the discount and finance charge provided for in subsection (3), neither the transferee nor any assignee may collect from the transferred payments, or from the payee, any amount in excess of the net advance amount, and the payee may recover from the transferee or any assignee:

1. A refund of any excess amounts previously received by the transferee or any assignee;

2. A penalty in an amount determined by the court, but not in excess of three times the aggregate amount of the discount and finance charge; and

3. Reasonable costs and attorney's fees.

(b) If the transferee violates the disclosure requirements in subsection (3), the transferee and any assignee are liable to the payee for:

1. A penalty in an amount determined by the court, but not in excess of three times the amount of the discount and finance charge; and

2. Reasonable costs and attorney's fees.

(c) A transferee or assignee is not liable for any penalty in any action brought under this section if the transferee or assignee establishes by a preponderance of evidence that the violation was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error, notwithstanding the transferee's maintenance of procedures reasonably designed to avoid such errors.

(d) Notwithstanding any other law, an action may not be brought under this section more than 1 year after the due date of:

1. The last transferred structured-settlement payment, in the case of a violation of the requirements for stipulating the discount and finance charge provided for in subsection (3).

2. The first transferred structured-settlement payment, in the case of a violation of the disclosure requirements of subsection (3).

(e) When any interested party has reason to believe that any transferee has violated this section, any interested party may bring a civil action for injunctive relief, penalties, and any other relief that is appropriate to secure compliance with this section.

And the title is amended as follows:

(1) When a supersedeas bond is required by the appellate court under Rule 9.310(b)(2), Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure or an appeal or other proceeding is taken in any court and there is no court rule or statute exempting the parties from giving supersedeas, cost, or other required bond, the parties are authorized to make and execute the required bond with a corporate surety thereon duly licensed to do business in this state. The premium or other cost for the bond may be paid from the general necessary and regular appropriation of the party taking the appeal, in the case of the state or any of its officers, boards, commissioners or other agencies, and from the county general fund, district school general fund, or otherwise as the case may be, in the case of a political subdivision of the state or any of its officers, boards, commissions or other agencies. The officers of the state and its political subdivisions and the executive officers of their boards, commissions, and other agencies aforesaid, are authorized to make and execute the bonds on behalf of the parties.

(2) In connection with an appeal taken by a state employee or official of a judgement against that employee or official in an individual capacity, as part of the legal defense being provided by the state risk management program, the Division of Risk Management may enter into an indemnification agreement for the purpose of securing an appellate supersedeas bond, provided that, under any such agreement, the liability of the State of Florida is limited to the amount of the judgment being appealed and any costs imposed by law or the appropriate court.

On motion by Rep. Mack, under Rule 12.2(c), the following late-filed amendment was considered.

Representative(s) Mack offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 264393)

Amendment 3 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Subsection (5) is added to section 11.066, Florida Statutes, to read:

11.066 Suits seeking monetary damages against the state or its agencies; payment of judgments; appropriations required.—

(5) The property of the state, the property of any state agency, or any monetary recovery made on behalf of the state or any state agency is not subject to a lien of any kind.

Section 2. Section 112.3175, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

112.3175 Remedies; contracts voidable.—

(1) Any contract that ~~which~~ has been executed in violation of this part is voidable:

(a)~~(1)~~ By any party to the contract.

(b)~~(2)~~ In any circuit court, by any appropriate action, by:

1.~~(a)~~ The commission.

2.~~(b)~~ The Attorney General.

3.~~(c)~~ Any citizen materially affected by the contract and residing in the jurisdiction represented by the officer or agency entering into such contract.

(2) Any contract that has been executed in violation of this part is presumed void with respect to any former employee or former public official of a state agency and is voidable with respect to any private-sector third party who employs or retains in any capacity such former agency employee or former public official.

Section 3. Subsection (1) of section 287.058, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

287.058 Contract document.—

(1) Every procurement of contractual services in excess of the threshold amount provided in s. 287.017 for CATEGORY TWO, except for the providing of health and mental health services or drugs in the examination, diagnosis, or treatment of sick or injured state employees or the providing of other benefits as required by the provisions of chapter 440, shall be evidenced by a written agreement embodying all provisions and conditions of the procurement of such services, which provisions and conditions shall, where applicable, include, but shall not be limited to:

(a) A provision that bills for fees or other compensation for services or expenses be submitted in detail sufficient for a proper preaudit and postaudit thereof.

(b) A provision that bills for any travel expenses be submitted in accordance with s. 112.061. A state agency may establish rates lower than the maximum provided in s. 112.061.

(c) A provision allowing unilateral cancellation by the agency for refusal by the contractor to allow public access to all documents, papers, letters, or other material ~~subject to the provisions of chapter 119 and~~ made or received by the contractor in conjunction with the contract*, unless the records are exempt from s. 24, (a) Art. I of the State Constitution and s. 119.07(1).*

(d) A provision dividing the contract into units of deliverables, which shall include, but not be limited to, reports, findings, and drafts, that must be received and accepted in writing by the contract manager prior to payment.

(e) A provision specifying the criteria and the final date by which such criteria must be met for completion of the contract.

(f) A provision specifying that the contract may be renewed on a yearly basis for a period of up to 2 years after the initial contract or for a period no longer than the term of the original contract, whichever period is longer, specifying the terms under which the cost may change as determined in the invitation to bid or request for proposals, and specifying that renewals shall be contingent upon satisfactory performance evaluations by the agency and subject to the availability of funds.

In lieu of a written agreement, the department may authorize the use of a purchase order for classes of contractual services, provided the provisions of paragraphs (a)-(f) are included in the purchase order, invitation to bid, or request for proposals. The purchase order shall include an adequate description of the services, the contract period, and the method of payment. In lieu of printing the provisions of paragraphs (a)-(f) in the contract document or purchase order, agencies may incorporate the requirements of paragraphs (a)-(f) by reference.

Section 4. Section 287.059, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

287.059 Private attorney services.—

(1) For purposes of this section, the term "agency" or "state agency" includes state officers, departments, boards, commissions, divisions, bureaus, councils, and units of organization, however designated, of the executive branch of state government, community and junior colleges, and multicounty special districts exclusive of those created by interlocal agreement or which have elected governing boards.

(2) No agency shall contract for private attorney services without the prior written approval of the Attorney General, except that such written approval is not required for private attorney services:

(a) Procured by the Executive Office of the Governor or any department under the exclusive jurisdiction of a single Cabinet officer.

(b) Provided by legal services organizations to indigent clients.

(c) Necessary to represent the state in litigation involving the State Risk Management Trust Fund pursuant to part II of chapter 284.

(d) Procured by the Board of Regents and the universities of the State University System.

(e) Procured by community and junior colleges and multicounty special districts.

(f) Procured by the Board of Trustees for the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind.

(3) An agency requesting approval for the use of private attorney services shall first offer to contract with the Department of Legal Affairs for such attorney services at a cost pursuant to mutual agreement. The Attorney General shall decide on a case-by-case basis to accept or decline to provide such attorney services as staffing, expertise, or other legal or economic considerations warrant. If the Attorney General declines to provide the requested attorney services, the Attorney General's written approval shall include a statement that the private attorney services requested cannot be provided by the office of the Attorney General or that such private attorney services are cost-effective in the opinion of the Attorney General. The Attorney General shall not consider political affiliation in making such decision. The office of the Attorney General shall respond to the request of an agency for prior written approval within 10 working days after receiving such request. The Attorney General may request additional information necessary for evaluation of a request. The Attorney General shall respond to the request within 10 working days after receipt of the requested information. Those agencies exempt from written approval from the Attorney General, as described in paragraphs (2)(a)-(f), may contract with the Department of Legal Affairs for attorney services. The Attorney General shall determine on a case-by-case basis whether to provide such attorney services as staffing, expertise, or other legal considerations warrant. The Attorney General may adopt, by rule, a form on which agencies requesting written approval for private attorney services shall provide information concerning:

(a) The nature of the attorney services to be provided and the issues involved.

(b) The need for use of private attorneys, rather than agency staff attorneys, utilizing the criteria provided in subsection (9) ~~(8)~~.

(c) The criteria by which the agency selected the private attorney or law firm it proposes to employ, utilizing the criteria provided in subsection (10) ~~(9)~~.

(d) Competitive fees for similar attorney services.

(e) The agency's analysis estimating the number of hours for attorney services, the costs, the total contract amount, and, when appropriate, a risk or cost-benefit analysis.

(f) Which partners, associates, paralegals, research associates, or other personnel will be used, and how their time will be billed to the agency.

(g) Any other information which the Attorney General deems appropriate for the proper evaluation of the need for such private attorney services.

(4) When written approval has been received from the Attorney General, the general counsel for the agency shall review the form and legality of the contract for private attorney services and shall indicate his or her approval by signing the contract ~~written final approval must be obtained from the agency head, or designee of the agency head, prior to the contracting for private attorney services~~. After a contract is approved and signed by the general counsel, in order to effectuate that contract the agency head must sign the contract. The agency head shall also maintain custody of the contract.

(5) The agency head or a designee shall give written approval prior to contracting for private attorney services for all agencies exempt from written approval of the Attorney General as described in paragraphs (2)(a)-(f).

(6) The Attorney General shall, by rule, adopt a standard fee schedule for private attorney services using hourly rates or an alternative billing methodology. The Attorney General shall take into consideration the following factors:

(a) Type of controversy involved and complexity of the legal services needed.

(b) Geographic area where the attorney services are to be provided.

(c) Novelty of the legal questions involved.

(d) Amount of experience desired for the particular kind of attorney services to be provided.

(e) Other factors deemed appropriate by the Attorney General.

(f) The most cost-effective or appropriate billing methodology.

(7)(a) A contingency fee contract must be commercially reasonable. As used in this subsection, the term "commercially reasonable" means no more than the amount permissible pursuant to rule 4-1.5 of the rules regulating The Florida Bar and case law interpreting that rule.

(b) If the amount of the fee is in dispute, the counsel retained by the state shall participate in mandatory binding arbitration. Payment of all attorney's fees is subject to appropriation. Attorney's fees shall be forfeited if, during the pendency of the case, the counsel retained by the state takes a public position that is adverse to the state's litigation or settlement posture.

(8)~~(7)~~ All agencies, when contracting for private attorney services, must use the standard fee schedule for private attorney services as established pursuant to this section unless the head of the agency, or his or her designee, waives use of the schedule and sets forth the reasons for deviating from the schedule in writing to the Attorney General. Such waiver must demonstrate necessity based upon criteria for deviation from the schedule which the Attorney General shall establish by rule.

(9)~~(8)~~ The Attorney General shall develop guidelines that may be used by agencies to determine when it is necessary and appropriate to seek private attorney services in lieu of staff attorney services.

(10)~~(9)~~ Agencies are encouraged to use the following criteria when selecting outside firms for attorney services:

(a) The magnitude or complexity of the case.

(b) The firm's ratings and certifications.

(c) The firm's minority status.

(d) The firm's physical proximity to the case and the agency.

(e) The firm's prior experience with the agency.

(f) The firm's prior experience with similar cases or issues.

(g) The firm's billing methodology and proposed rate.

(h) The firm's current or past adversarial position, or conflict of interest, with the agency.

(i) The firm's willingness to use resources of the agency to minimize costs.

(11)~~(10)~~ The Attorney General shall develop a standard addendum to every contract for attorney services that must be used by all agencies, unless waived by the Attorney General, describing in detail what is expected of both the contracted private attorney and the contracting agency. The addendum must address the internal system of governance if multiple law firms are parties to the contract and must, at a minimum, require that each firm identify one member who is authorized to legally bind the firm.

(12)~~(11)~~ Contracts for attorney services shall be originally executed for 1 year only, except that multiyear contracts may be entered into provided they are subject to annual appropriations and annual written approval from the Attorney General as described in subsection (3). Any amendments to extend the contract period or increase the billing rate or overall contract amount shall be considered new contracts for purposes of the written approval process described in subsection (3).

(14)~~(13)~~ The office of the Attorney General is authorized to competitively bid and contract with one or more court reporting services, on a circuitwide basis, on behalf of all state agencies in accordance with s. 287.057(2). The office of the Attorney General shall develop requests for proposal for court reporter services in consultation with the Florida Court Reporters Association. All agencies shall utilize the contracts for court reporting services entered into by the Office of the Attorney General where in force, unless otherwise ordered by a court or unless an agency has a contract for court reporting services executed prior to May 5, 1993.

(15)~~(14)~~ The Attorney General's office may, by rule, adopt standard fee schedules for court reporting services for each judicial circuit in consultation with the Florida Court Reporters Association. Agencies, when contracting for court reporting services, must use the standard fee schedule for court reporting services established pursuant to this section, provided no state contract is applicable or unless the head of the agency or his or her designee waives use of the schedule and sets forth the reasons for deviating from the schedule in writing to the Attorney General. Such waiver must demonstrate necessity based upon criteria for deviation from the schedule which the Attorney General shall establish by rule. Any proposed fee schedule under this section shall be submitted to the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court at least 60 days prior to publication of the notice to adopt the rule.

(16) Each private attorney who is under contract to provide attorney services for the state or a state agency shall, from the inception of the contractual relationship until at least 4 years after the contract expires or terminates, maintain detailed current records, including documentation of all expenses, disbursements, charges, credits, underlying receipts and invoices, and other financial transactions that concern the provision of such attorney services. The private attorney shall make all such records available for inspection and copying upon request in accordance with chapter 119.

Section 5. Section 60.08, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

60.08 Injunctions sought by the state pursuant to statute shall issue without bond.—In any action for injunctive relief sought by the state or one of its agencies as provided in ss. 501.207(1)(b), 542.23, and 895.05(5), any injunction sought shall issue without bond or surety and no bond or surety shall be required during the term of the injunction.

Section 6. Subsection (5) of section 16.01, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

16.01 Residence, office, and duties of Attorney General.—The Attorney General:

(5) Shall appear in and attend to such suits or prosecutions in any other of the courts of this state or in any courts of any other state or of the United States. This subsection is not intended to authorize the joinder of the Attorney General as a party in such suits or prosecutions.

Section 7. Sections 45.051, Florida Statutes, is amended to read : 45.051 Execution of supersedeas bond when required of the state or its political subdivisions.—

(1) When a supersedeas bond is required by the appellate court under Rule 9.310(b)(2), Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure or an appeal or other proceeding is taken in any court and there is no court rule or statute exempting the parties from giving supersedeas, cost, or other required bond, the parties are authorized to make and execute the required bond with a corporate surety thereon duly licensed to do business in this state. The premium or other cost for the bond may be paid from the general necessary and regular appropriation of the party taking the appeal, in the case of the state or any of its officers, boards, commissioners or other agencies, and from the county general fund, district school general fund, or otherwise as the case may be, in the case of a political subdivision of the state or any of its officers, boards, commissions or other agencies. The officers of the state and its political subdivisions and the executive officers of their boards, commissions, and other agencies aforesaid, are authorized to make and execute the bonds on behalf of the parties.

(2) In connection with an appeal taken by a state employee or official of a judgement against that employee or official in an individual capacity, as part of the legal defense being provided by the state risk management program, the Division of Risk Management may enter into an indemnification agreement for the purpose of securing an appellate supersedeas bond, provided that, under any such agreement, the liability of the State of Florida is limited to the amount of the judgment being appealed and any costs imposed by law or the appropriate court.

Section 8. Section 48.121, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

48.121 Service on the state.—When the state has consented to be sued, process against the state shall be served on the state attorney or an assistant state attorney for the judicial circuit within which the action is brought and by sending two copies of the process by registered or certified mail to the Attorney General. The state may serve motions or pleadings within 40 days after service is made. This section is not intended to authorize the joinder of the Attorney General or a state attorney as a party in such suit or prosecution.

Section 9. Section 45.062, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

45.062 Settlements, conditions, or orders when an agency of the executive branch is a party.—

(1) In any civil action in which a state executive branch agency or officer is a party in state or federal court, the officer, agent, official, or attorney who represents or is acting on behalf of such agency or officer may not settle such action, consent to any condition, or agree to any order in connection therewith, if the settlement, condition, or order requires the expenditure of or the obligation to expend any state funds or other state resources, or the establishment of any new program, unless:

(a) The expenditure is provided for by an existing appropriation or program established by law; and

(b) Prior written notification is given within 5 business days of the date the settlement or presettlement agreement or order is to be made final to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Senate and House minority leaders, and the Attorney General. Such notification shall specify how the agency involved will address the costs in future years within the limits of current appropriations.

(2) The state executive branch agency or officer shall negotiate a closure date as soon as possible for the civil action.

(3) The state executive branch agency or officer may not pledge any current or future action of another branch of state government as a condition for settling the civil action.

(4) Any settlement that commits the state to spending in excess of current appropriations or to policy changes inconsistent with current state law shall be contingent upon and subject to legislative appropriation or statutory amendment. The state agency or officer may agree to use all efforts to procure legislative funding or statutory amendment.

(5) State agencies and officers shall report to each substantive and fiscal committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over the reporting agency on all potential settlements that may commit the state to:

(a) Spend in excess of current appropriations; or

(b) Policy changes inconsistent with current state law.

The state agency or officer shall provide periodic updates to the appropriate legislative committees on these issues during the settlement process.

Section 10. Subsection (13) is added to section 216.023, Florida Statutes, to read:

216.023 Legislative budget requests to be furnished to Legislature by agencies.—

(13) As a part of the legislative budget request, the head of each state agency shall include an inventory of all litigation in which the agency is involved which may require additional appropriations to the agency or amendments to the law under which the agency operates. No later than March 1 following the submission of the legislative budget request, the head of the state agency shall provide an update of any additions or changes to the inventory. Such inventory shall include those items specified annually in the legislative budget instructions.

Section 11. Section 284.385, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

284.385 Reporting and handling of claims.—All departments covered by the State Risk Management Trust Fund under this part shall immediately report all known or potential claims to the Department of Insurance for handling, except employment complaints which have not been filed with the Florida Human Relations Commission, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or any similar agency. When deemed necessary, the Department of Insurance shall assign or reassign the claim to counsel. The assigned counsel shall report regularly to the Department of Insurance and to the covered department on the status of any such claims or litigation as required by the Department of Insurance. No such claim shall be compromised or settled for monetary compensation without the prior approval of the Department of Insurance and prior notification to the covered department. All departments shall cooperate with the Department of Insurance in its handling of claims. The Department of Insurance, the Department of Management Services, and the Department of Banking and Finance, with the cooperation of the state attorneys and the clerks of the courts, shall develop a system to coordinate the exchange of information concerning claims for and against the state, its agencies, and its subdivisions, to assist in collection of amounts due to them. The covered department shall have the responsibility for the settlement of any claim for injunctive or affirmative relief under 42 U.S.C. s. 1983 or similar federal or state statutes. The payment of a settlement or judgment for any claim covered and reported under this part shall be made only from the State Risk Management Trust Fund.

Section 12. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared severable.

insert:

Section 3. Subsections (6) and (10) of section 445.004, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

445.004 Workforce Florida, Inc.; creation; purpose; membership; duties and powers.—

(6) Workforce Florida, Inc., may take action that it deems necessary to achieve the purposes of this section, including, but not limited to:

(a) Creating a state employment, education, and training policy that ensures that programs to prepare workers are responsive to present and future business and industry needs and complement the initiatives of Enterprise Florida, Inc.

(b) Establishing policy direction for a funding system that provides incentives to improve the outcomes of vocational education programs, and of registered apprenticeship and work-based learning programs, and that focuses resources on occupations related to new or emerging industries that add greatly to the value of the state's economy.

(c) Establishing a comprehensive policy related to the education and training of target populations such as those who have disabilities, are economically disadvantaged, receive public assistance, are not proficient in English, or are dislocated workers. This approach should ensure the effective use of federal, state, local, and private resources in reducing the need for public assistance.

(d) Designating Institutes of Applied Technology composed of public and private postsecondary institutions working together with business and industry to ensure that technical and vocational education programs use the most advanced technology and instructional methods available and respond to the changing needs of business and industry.

(e) Providing policy direction for a system to project and evaluate labor market supply and demand using the results of the Workforce Estimating Conference created in s. 216.136 and the career education performance standards identified under s. 239.233.

(f) Reviewing the performance of public programs that are responsible for economic development, education, employment, and training. The review must include an analysis of the return on investment of these programs.

(g) Expanding the occupations identified by the Workforce Estimating Conference to meet needs created by local emergencies or plant closings or to capture occupations within emerging industries.

(h) Expanding the utilization of faith-based and community-based organizations to work collaboratively in the delivery of services to Florida's citizens.

(10) The workforce development strategy for the state shall be designed by Workforce Florida, Inc., and shall be centered around the strategies of First Jobs/First Wages, Better Jobs/Better Wages, and High Skills/High Wages.

(a) First Jobs/First Wages is the state's strategy to promote successful entry into the workforce through education and workplace experience that lead to self-sufficiency and career advancement. The components of the strategy include efforts that enlist business, education, and community support for students to achieve long-term career goals, ensuring that young people have the academic and occupational skills required to succeed in the workplace. A minimum of 15 percent of all Workforce Investment Act youth services funds shall be expended for after-school care programs, through contracts with qualified faith-based and community-based organizations, on an equal basis with other private organizations, to provide after-school care programs to eligible children 14 through 18 years of age. Such programs shall include academic tutoring, mentoring, and other appropriate services. Similar services may be provided for eligible children 6 through 13 years of age using Temporary Assistance for Needy Families funds.

(b) Better Jobs/Better Wages is the state's strategy for assisting employers in upgrading or updating the skills of their employees and for assisting incumbent workers in improving their performance in their current jobs or acquiring the education or training needed to secure a better job with better wages.

(c) High Skills/High Wages is the state's strategy for aligning education and training programs with high-paying, high-demand occupations that advance individuals' careers, build a more skilled workforce, and enhance Florida's efforts to attract and expand job-creating businesses.

Section 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

Reconsideration

On motion by Rep. Jennings, the House reconsidered the vote by which Amendment 3 was adopted. The question recurred on the adoption of the amendment.

Representative(s) Jennings offered the following:

Amendment 1 to Amendment 3 (with title amendment)—On page 3, line 22, after the period insert: Funds expended under this paragraph may not be used for religious or sectarian purposes. To provide after-school care programs under this paragraph, a community-based organization or a faith-based organization must be a nonprofit organization that holds a current exemption from federal taxation under s. 501(c)(3) or (4) of the Internal Revenue Code or must be a religious organization that is not required to apply for recognition of its exemption from federal taxation under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 4, line 16, of the amendment after the semicolon insert: providing limitations on provision of certain after-school care program;

The Committee on Local Government & Veterans Affairs offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 784647)

Amendment 1—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. The lessor, the Board of Internal Improvement Trust Fund is hereby directed to lease the following described property to the lessee, the City of Daytona Beach, Florida:

A parcel of sovereign submerged land in Volusia County, Florida, more particularly described as:

A portion of submerged land in the Atlantic Ocean adjacent to Block 2, Plan of Seabreeze Subdivision as recorded in Deed Book "O" Page 301, Public Records of Volusia County, Florida, and being more particularly described as follows. As a point of reference, commence at the northeast corner of Block 5, said plan of Seabreeze Subdivision, thence north 67 degrees 53 minutes 33 seconds east along the southerly original right of way line of Main Street and along its extension thereof, 488.65 feet more or less, to the mean high water line of the Atlantic Ocean Beach and to the point of beginning. Thence continue north 67 degrees 53 minutes 33 seconds east 1000.00 feet, thence south 22 degrees 06 minutes 27 seconds east 242.30 feet, thence south 67 degrees 53 minutes 33 seconds west, 979.07 feet, more or less to the aforementioned high water line, thence north 27 degrees 02 minutes 40 seconds west along the said mean high water line approximately 243.21 feet to the point of beginning.

Section 2. The term of this lease runs for a period of 35 years commencing on the date the City of Daytona Beach acquires ownership of the pier and associated upland parcel. Such acquisition must occur no later than 10 years after the effective date of this bill. The lessee shall pay an initial annual lease fee of $5,000 to the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund. The annual lease fee shall increase by $5,000 at each successive 5-year interval during the lease term and shall be remitted to the Department of Environmental Protection as the agent for the lessor. The lease fee for any renewals of this lease, beyond the initial lease period, shall be determined pursuant to the terms of Chapter 18-21, F.A.C., in effect at the time of such renewal.

Section 3. The submerged lands described in this act are leased for the purpose of furthering the city's downtown redevelopment initiative, including the city's acquisition of the historic pier situated upon the leased lands and such uses may include nonwater-dependent activities. If the city is unable to acquire the historic pier or, once having purchased the pier, relinquishes ownership, this lease is void.

Section 4. This lease is specifically contingent upon the City of Daytona Beach acquiring ownership of the pier, and this lease shall not become effective unless and until such acquisition is secured.

Section 5. The lessee shall make no claim of title or interest to said lands hereinbefore described by reason of the occupancy or use thereof, and all title and interest to said land hereinbefore described is vested in the lessor. The lessee may not make any claim, including any advertisement, that said land may be purchased, sold, or resold.

Section 6. During the term of this lease, the lessee shall maintain a fee simple title interest in the riparian upland property and, if such interest is terminated, the lease may be terminated at the option of the lessor. Prior to sale or other transfer of the lessee's fee simple title interest in the upland property, lessee shall inform any potential buyer or transferee of the lessee's upland property interest of the existence of this lease and all its terms and conditions and shall complete and execute any documents required by the lessor to effect an assignment of this lease, if authorized by further legislative action. Failure to do so will not relieve the lessee from responsibility for full compliance with the terms and conditions of this lease which include, but are not limited to, payment of all fees and/or penalty assessments incurred prior to such act.

Section 7. The lessee shall investigate all claims of every nature arising out of this lease at its expense and shall indemnify, defend and save, and hold harmless the State of Florida from all claims, actions, lawsuits, and demands arising out of this lease or the operation and activities associated with this lease.

Section 8. The lessee shall assume all responsibility for liabilities that accrue to the subject property or to the improvements thereon, including any and all drainage or special assessments or taxes of every kind and description which are now or may be hereafter lawfully assessed and levied against the subject property during the effective period of this lease.

Section 9. The lessee is prohibited from mooring vessels or charging general admission fees for public access to any pier built or operated on the leased premises. The lessee shall not knowingly permit or suffer any nuisances or illegal operations of any kind on the leased premises. During the term of this lease and any renewals, extensions, modifications or assignments thereof, lessee shall prohibit the operation of entry onto the leased premises of gambling cruise ships, or vessels that are used principally for the purpose of gambling, when these vessels are engaged in "cruises to nowhere." The term "cruises to nowhere" means the activity of ships that leave and return to the State of Florida without an intervening stop within another state or foreign country or waters within the jurisdiction of another state or foreign country, and any watercraft used to carry passengers to and from such gambling cruise ships.

Section 10. The lessee shall maintain the leased premises in good condition and keep the structures and equipment located thereon in a good state of repair in the interests of public health, safety, and welfare. No structure shall be built or operated in any manner that would cause harm to wildlife. All garbage, debris, and sewage shall be disposed of in an appropriate upland facility. The leased premises shall be subject to inspection by the Department of Environmental Protection at any reasonable time.

Section 11. The lessee shall prohibit the mooring of any "liveaboard" vessel within the leased premises. The "liveaboard" is defined as a vessel moored or docked at the facility and inhabited by a person or persons for any five (5) consecutive days or a total of ten (10) days within a thirty (30) day period. In the event liveaboards are authorized by further legislative action, in no event shall such "liveaboard" status exceed six (6) months within any twelve (12) month period, nor shall any such vessel constitute a legal or primary residence.

Section 12. The lessee, at its cost, shall remove any structures and equipment from the leased premises at the end of the lease term. Any costs incurred by the Lessor in removal of any structures and equipment constructed or maintained on the leased premises shall be paid by lessee and any unpaid costs and expenses shall constitute a lien upon the interest of the lessee in its riparian upland property enforceable in summary proceedings as provided by Law. If the lessee does not remove said structures and equipment occupying and erected upon the leased premises after expiration or cancellation of this lease, such structures and equipment will be deemed forfeited to the Lessor, and the lessor may authorize removal and may sell such forfeited structures and equipment after ten (10) days written notice by certified mail addressed to the lessee at such address on record as provided to the lessor by the lessee. However, such remedy shall be in addition to all other remedies available to the lessor under applicable laws, rules and regulations including the right to compel removal of all structures and the right to impose administrative fines.

Section 13. In the event that any part of any structure authorized hereunder is determined by a final adjudication issued by a court of competent jurisdiction to encroach on or interfere within adjacent riparian rights, lessee agrees to either obtain written consent for the offending structure from the affected riparian owner or to remove the interference or encroachment within sixty (60) days from the date of the adjudication. Failure to comply with this paragraph shall constitute a material breach of this lease agreement and shall be grounds for immediate termination of this lease agreement.

Section 14. Prior to commencement of construction and/or activities authorized herein, the lessee shall obtain all necessary federal, state, and local permits.

Section 15. On or in conjunction with the use of the leased premises, the lessee shall at all times comply with all federal, state, and local laws and all administrative rules promulgated thereunder which are not inconsistent with this act.

Section 16. The lease shall not be amended, modified, assigned or otherwise transferred without further legislative action.

Section 17. The lease authorized by this act represents the entire and only agreement between the parties. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

Section 18. This lease shall not take effect until the lessee, the City of Daytona Beach, submits acceptance of the terms of this lease in writing to the Department of Environmental Protection, as staff to the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund.

Section 19. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Rep. Wiles moved the adoption of the amendment.

Representative(s) Wiles offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 254971)

Substitute Amendment 1—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. The lessor, the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, is hereby directed to lease the following described property to the lessee, the City of Daytona Beach, Florida:

A parcel of sovereign submerged land in Volusia County, Florida, more particularly described as:

Section 7. The lessee shall investigate all claims of every nature arising out of this lease at its expense and shall indemnify, defend and save, and hold harmless the State of Florida from all claims, actions, lawsuits, and demands arising out of this lease or the operation and activities associated with this lease.

Section 8. The lessee shall assume all responsibility for liabilities that accrue to the subject property or to the improvements thereon, including any and all drainage or special assessments or taxes of every kind and description which are now or may be hereafter lawfully assessed and levied against the subject property during the effective period of this lease. The lessee shall purchase and maintain an all-risk property insurance policy to cover repair or replacement costs, subject to a deductible, that may arise out of damage occurring to the pier due to perils insured under such policy. The lessee shall provide proof of this insurance in writing and shall submit proof of insurance to the Department of Environmental Protection along with each annual lease payment.

Section 9. The lessee is prohibited from mooring vessels or charging general admission fees for public access to any pier built or operated on the leased premises. The lessee shall not knowingly permit or suffer any nuisances or illegal operations of any kind on the leased premises. During the term of this lease and during any renewals, extensions, modifications, or assignments thereof, the lessee shall prohibit the operation or entry onto the leased premises of gambling cruise ships, or vessels that are used principally for the purpose of gambling, when these vessels are engaged in "cruises to nowhere." The term "cruises to nowhere" means the activity of ships that leave and return to the State of Florida without an intervening stop within another state or foreign country or waters within the jurisdiction of another state or foreign country, and any watercraft used to carry passengers to and from such gambling cruise ships.

Section 10. The lessee shall maintain the leased premises in good condition and keep the structures and equipment located thereon in a good state of repair in the interests of public health, safety, and welfare. No structure shall be built or operated in any manner that would cause harm to wildlife. All garbage, debris, and sewage shall be disposed of in an appropriate upland facility. The leased premises shall be subject to inspection by the Department of Environmental Protection at any reasonable time.

Section 11. The lessee shall prohibit the mooring of any "liveaboard" vessel within the leased premises. "Liveaboard" is defined as a vessel moored or docked at the facility and inhabited by a person or persons for any 5 consecutive days or a total of 10 days within a 30-day period. In the event liveaboards are authorized by further legislative action, in no event shall such liveaboard status exceed 6 months within any 12-month period, nor shall any such vessel constitute a legal or primary residence.

Section 12. The lessee, at its cost, shall remove any structures and equipment from the leased premises at the end of the lease term. Any costs incurred by the lessor in removal of any structures and equipment constructed or maintained on the leased premises shall be paid by the lessee and any unpaid costs and expenses shall constitute a lien upon the interest of the lessee in its riparian upland property enforceable in summary proceedings as provided by law. If the lessee does not remove said structures and equipment occupying and erected upon the leased premises after expiration or cancellation of this lease, such structures and equipment shall be deemed forfeited to the lessor, and the lessor may authorize removal and may sell such forfeited structures and equipment after 10 days' written notice by certified mail addressed to the lessee at the address on record as provided to the lessor by the lessee. However, such remedy shall be in addition to all other remedies available to the lessor under applicable laws, rules, and regulations, including the right to compel removal of all structures and the right to impose administrative fines.

Section 13. In the event that any part of any structure authorized under this act is determined by a final adjudication issued by a court of competent jurisdiction to encroach on or interfere with adjacent riparian rights, the lessee agrees to either obtain written consent for the offending structure from the affected riparian owner or to remove the interference or encroachment within 60 days from the date of the adjudication. Failure to comply with this section shall constitute a material breach of this lease agreement and shall be grounds for immediate termination of this lease agreement.

Section 14. Prior to commencement of construction or the activities authorized in this act, the lessee shall obtain all necessary federal, state, and local permits. Nothing in this act shall serve as regulatory authorization for the proposed project or shall be construed as authorization to issue permits for the proposed project if the proposed project does not meet federal, state, or local permitting standards.

Section 15. On or in conjunction with the use of the leased premises, the lessee shall at all times comply with all federal, state, and local laws and all administrative rules promulgated thereunder which are not inconsistent with this act.

Section 16. The lease shall not be amended, modified, assigned, or otherwise transferred without further legislative action.

Section 17. The lease authorized by this act represents the entire and only agreement between the parties. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

Section 18. This lease shall not take effect until the lessee, the City of Daytona Beach, submits acceptance of the terms of this lease in writing to the Department of Environmental Protection, as staff to the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund.

Section 19. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 5. Subsections (1), (2), and (7) of section 240.40201, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

240.40201 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program.—

(1) The Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program is created to establish a lottery-funded scholarship program to reward any Florida high school graduate who merits recognition of high academic achievement and who enrolls in a degree program, certificate program, or applied technology diploma program at an eligible Florida public or private postsecondary education institution within 7 ~~3~~ years of graduation from high school. No award shall be provided to a student beyond 7 years after high school graduation, regardless of the year in which a student first receives scholarship funding.

(2) The Bright Futures Scholarship Program consists of three types of awards, the Florida Academic Scholarship, the Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholarship, and the Florida ~~Vocational~~ Gold Seal Vocational Scholarship.

(7) A student may receive only one type of award from the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program at a time, but may transfer from one type of award to another through the renewal application process, if the student's eligibility status changes. However, a student is not eligible to transfer from a Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholarship or a Florida ~~Vocational~~ Gold Seal Vocational Scholarship to a Florida Academic Scholarship. A student who receives an award from the program may also receive a federal family education loan or a federal direct loan, and the value of the award must be considered in the certification or calculation of the student's loan eligibility.

Section 6. Section 240.40202, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40202 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program; student eligibility requirements for initial awards.—

(1) To be eligible for an initial award from any of the three types of scholarships under the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program, a student must:

(a) Be a Florida resident as defined in s. 240.404 and rules of the State Board of Education.

(b) Earn a standard Florida high school diploma or its equivalent as described in s. 232.246 or s. 229.814 unless:

1. The student is enrolled full time in the early admission program of an eligible postsecondary education institution or completes a home education program according to s. 232.0201; or

2. The student earns a high school diploma from a non-Florida school while living with a parent or guardian who is on military or public service assignment away from Florida. "Public service assignment," as used in this subparagraph, means the occupational assignment outside Florida of a person who is a permanent resident of Florida and who is employed by the United States Government or the State of Florida, a condition of which employment is assignment outside Florida.

(c) Be accepted by and enroll in an eligible Florida public or independent postsecondary education institution.

(d) Be enrolled for at least 6 semester credit hours or the equivalent in quarter hours or clock hours.

(e) Not have been found guilty of, or have pled ~~plead~~ nolo contendere to or guilty to, a felony charge, unless the student has been granted clemency by the Governor and Cabinet sitting as the Executive Office of Clemency.

(f) Apply for a scholarship from the program by ~~April 1 of the last semester before~~ high school graduation. Requests for exceptions to this deadline may be accepted by the high school or district through December 31 following high school graduation.

(2) ~~A student is eligible to accept an initial award for 3 years following high school graduation and to accept a renewal award for 7 years following high school graduation.~~ A student ~~who applies for an award by April 1 and~~ who meets all ~~other~~ eligibility requirements, but who does not accept his or her award during the first year of eligibility after high school graduation, may apply for reinstatement of the award for use within 7 ~~reapply during subsequent application periods up to 3~~ years after high school graduation. Reinstatement applications must be received by the deadline established by the Department of Education.

(3) For purposes of calculating the grade point average to be used in determining initial eligibility for a Florida Bright Futures scholarship, the department shall assign additional weights to grades earned in the following courses:

(a) Courses identified in the course code directory as Advanced Placement, pre-International Baccalaureate, or International Baccalaureate.

(b) Courses designated as academic dual enrollment courses in the statewide course numbering system.

The department may assign additional weights to courses, other than those described in paragraphs (a) and (b), that are identified by the Articulation Coordinating Committee as containing rigorous academic curriculum and performance standards. The additional weight assigned to a course pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed 0.5 per course. The weighted system shall be developed and distributed to all high schools in the state prior to January 1, 1998. The department may determine a student's eligibility status during the senior year before graduation and may inform the student of the award at that time.

(4) Each school district shall provide each high school student a complete and accurate Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Evaluation Report and Key annually. The report shall be disseminated at the beginning of each school year. The report must include all high school coursework attempted, the number of credits earned toward each type of award, and the calculation of the grade point average for each award. The report must also identify all requirements not met per award as well as the award or awards for which the student has met the academic requirements.

(5)~~(4)~~ A student who wishes to qualify for a particular award within the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program, but who does not meet all of the requirements for that level of award, may, nevertheless, receive the award if the principal of the student's school or the district superintendent verifies that the deficiency is caused by the fact that school district personnel provided inaccurate or incomplete information to the student. The school district must provide a means for the student to correct the deficiencies and the student must correct them, either by completing comparable work at the postsecondary institution or by completing a directed individualized study program developed and administered by the school district. If the student does not complete the requirements by December 31 immediately following high school graduation, the student is ineligible to participate in the program.

Section 7. Section 240.40203, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40203 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program; student eligibility requirements for renewal*, reinstatement, and restoration* awards.—

(1) To be eligible to receive ~~renew~~ a scholarship from any of the three types of scholarships under the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program after the first year of eligibility, a student must meet the following requirements for renewal, reinstatement, or restoration:

(a) Renewal applies to students who receive an award for at least one term during the immediately preceding academic year. For renewal, a student must complete at least 12 semester credit hours or the equivalent in the last academic year in which the student earned a scholarship and~~.~~

~~(b)~~ maintain the cumulative grade point average required by the scholarship program, except that:

1. If a recipient's grades fall beneath the average required to renew a Florida Academic Scholarship, but are sufficient to renew a Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholarship ~~or a Florida Vocational Gold Seal Scholarship~~, the Department of Education may grant a renewal to the Florida Medallion Scholarship. ~~from one of those other scholarship programs, if the student meets the renewal eligibility requirements; or~~

2. If, upon renewal evaluation, a student fails to meet the renewal criteria pursuant to this section, credit hours and grades earned during the following summer term may be used to satisfy the renewal requirements. ~~If, at any time during the eligibility period, a student's grades are insufficient to renew the scholarship, the student may restore eligibility by improving the grade point average to the required level. A student is eligible for such a reinstatement only once.~~ The Legislature encourages education institutions to assist students to calculate whether or not it is possible to raise the grade point average during the summer term. ~~If the institution determines that it is possible, the education institution may so inform the department, which may reserve the student's award if funds are available.~~ The renewal, however, must not be granted until the student achieves the required cumulative grade point average and earns the required number of hours. If*, during* the summer term*, a student does not earn* ~~is not~~ sufficient hours or ~~to~~ raise the grade point average to the required renewal level, the student shall not be eligible for an award ~~student's next opportunity for renewal is the fall semester of~~ the following academic year.

(b) Reinstatement applies to students who were eligible but did not receive an award during the previous academic year or years, and who may apply to reestablish use of the scholarship. For reinstatement, a student must have been eligible at the time of the student's most recent Florida Bright Futures Scholarship eligibility determination. The student must apply for reinstatement by submitting a reinstatement application by the deadline established by the Department of Education.

(c) Restoration applies to students who lost scholarship eligibility as a result of not meeting the renewal grade point average or number of hours, or both, at a prior evaluation period. A student may restore eligibility by meeting the renewal grade point average during a subsequent renewal evaluation period. A student is eligible to receive such restoration only once. The student must submit an application for restoration by the deadline established by the Department of Education.

(2) A Florida Academic Scholar or a Florida Medallion Scholar ~~student who is enrolled in a program that terminates in an associate degree or a baccalaureate degree~~ may receive an award for a maximum of 110 percent of the number of credit hours required to complete the undergraduate program.

(3) A Florida Academic Scholar or a Florida Medallion Scholar who is enrolled in a combined undergraduate/graduate program that terminates in the award of a postbaccalaureate degree, or the simultaneous award of baccalaureate and postbaccalaureate degrees, may receive an award for a maximum of 110 percent of the number of credit hours required to complete a standard undergraduate program at the institution attended, at the undergraduate rate.

(4) A Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholar ~~student who is enrolled in a program that terminates in a technical certificate~~ may receive an award for up to 90 semester ~~a maximum of 110 percent of the~~ credit hours or the equivalent ~~clock hours required to complete the program up to 90 credit hours~~. A student who transfers from the Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholars award to the Florida Medallion Scholars award ~~one of these program levels to another~~ becomes eligible for the higher of the two credit hour limits.

Section 8. Section 240.40204, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40204 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program; eligible postsecondary education institutions.—A student is eligible for an award or the renewal*, reinstatement, or restoration* of an award from the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program if the student meets the requirements for the program as described in this act and is enrolled in a postsecondary education institution that meets the description in any one of the following subsections:

(1) A Florida public university, community college, or technical center.

(2) An independent Florida college or university that is accredited by an accrediting agency recognized by the United States Department of Education ~~a member of the Commission on Recognition of Postsecondary Accreditation~~ and which has operated in the state for at least 3 years.

(3) An independent Florida postsecondary education institution that is licensed by the State Board of Independent Colleges and Universities and which:

(a) Shows evidence of sound financial condition; and

(b) Has operated in the state for at least 3 years without having its approval, accreditation, or license placed on probation.

(4) A Florida independent postsecondary education institution that offers a nursing diploma approved by the Board of Nursing.

(5) A Florida independent postsecondary education institution that is licensed by the State Board of Nonpublic Career Education and which:

(a) Has a program completion and placement rate of at least the rate required by the current Florida Statutes, the Florida Administrative Code, or the Department of Education for an institution at its level; and

(b) Shows evidence of sound financial condition; and either:

1. Is accredited at the institutional level by an accrediting agency recognized by the United States Department of Education and has operated in the state for at least 3 years during which there has been no complaint for which probable cause has been found; or

2. Has operated in Florida for 5 years during which there has been no complaint for which probable cause has been found.

Section 9. Section 240.40205, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40205 Florida Academic Scholars award.—

(1) A student is eligible for a Florida Academic Scholars award if the student meets the general eligibility requirements for the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program and the student:

(a) Has achieved a 3.5 weighted grade point average as calculated pursuant to s. 240.40202, or its equivalent, in high school courses that are adopted by the Board of Regents and recommended by the State Board of Community Colleges as college-preparatory academic courses; and

(b) Has attained at least the score identified by rules of the Department of Education on the combined verbal and quantitative parts of the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Assessment Test, or the recentered Scholastic Assessment Test of the College Entrance Examination, or an equivalent score on the American College Testing Program; or

(c) Has attended a home education program according to s. 232.0201 during grades 11 and 12 or has completed the International Baccalaureate curriculum but failed to earn the International Baccalaureate Diploma, and has attained at least the score identified by rules of the Department of Education on the combined verbal and quantitative parts of the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Assessment Test, or the recentered Scholastic Assessment Test of the College Entrance Examination, or an equivalent score on the American College Testing Program; or

(d) Has been awarded an International Baccalaureate Diploma from the International Baccalaureate Office; or

(e) Has been recognized by the merit or achievement programs of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation as a scholar or finalist; or

(f) Has been recognized by the National Hispanic Recognition Program as a scholar recipient*; or*~~.~~

(g) Has been awarded the American International Certificate of Education Diploma from the University of Cambridge.

Effective with the 1998-1999 school year, a student must complete a program of community service work, as approved by the district school board or the administrators of a nonpublic school, which shall include a minimum of 75 hours of service work and require the student to identify a social problem that interests him or her, develop a plan for his or her personal involvement in addressing the problem, and, through papers or other presentations, evaluate and reflect upon his or her experience.

(2) A Florida Academic Scholar who is enrolled in a public postsecondary education institution is eligible for an award equal to the amount required to pay matriculation and~~,~~ fees, as defined by the department, and $600 for college-related expenses annually. A student who is enrolled in a nonpublic postsecondary education institution is eligible for an award equal to the amount that would be required to pay for the average matriculation and fees of a public postsecondary education institution at the comparable level, plus the annual $600.

(3) To be eligible for a renewal or restoration ~~award~~ as a Florida Academic Scholar, a student must meet the requirements of s. 240.40203 and the ~~maintain the equivalent of a~~ grade point average requirement of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale*, or the equivalent,* for all postsecondary education work attempted*. A student may have*~~, with~~ an opportunity for one restoration ~~reinstatement~~ as provided in this act.

(4) In each school district, the Florida Academic Scholar with the highest academic ranking shall be designated as an Academic Top Scholar and shall receive an additional award of $1,500 for college-related expenses. This award must be funded from the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program.

Section 10. Section 240.40206, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40206 Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholars award.—

(1) A student is eligible for a Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholars award if the student meets the general eligibility requirements for the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program and the student:

(a) Has achieved a weighted grade point average of 3.0 as calculated pursuant to s. 240.40202, or the equivalent, in high school courses that are adopted by the Board of Regents and recommended by the State Board of Community Colleges as college-preparatory academic courses; and

(b) Has attained at least the score identified by rules of the Department of Education on the combined verbal and quantitative parts of the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Assessment Test, or the recentered Scholastic Assessment Test of the College Entrance Examination, or an equivalent score on the American College Testing Program; or

(c) Has attended a home education program according to s. 232.0201 during grades 11 and 12 or has completed the International Baccalaureate curriculum but failed to earn the International Baccalaureate Diploma, and has attained at least the score identified by rules of the Department of Education on the combined verbal and quantitative parts of the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Assessment Test, or the recentered Scholastic Assessment Test of the College Entrance Examination, or an equivalent score on the American College Testing Program*; or*~~.~~

(d) Has been recognized by the merit or achievement programs of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation as a scholar or finalist, but has not completed a program of community service as provided in s. 240.40205; or

(e) Has been recognized by the National Hispanic Recognition Program as a scholar, but has not completed a program of community service as provided in s. 240.40205.

(2) A Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholar is eligible for an award equal to the amount required to pay 75 percent of matriculation and fees, as defined by the department, if the student is enrolled in a public postsecondary education institution. A student who is enrolled in a nonpublic postsecondary education institution is eligible for an award equal to the amount that would be required to pay 75 percent of the average matriculation and fees of a public postsecondary education institution at the comparable level.

(3) To be eligible for a renewal or restoration ~~award~~ as a Florida Medallion ~~Merit~~ Scholar, a student must meet the requirements of s. 240.40203 and the ~~maintain the equivalent of a~~ grade point average requirement of 2.75 on a 4.0 scale*, or the equivalent,* for all postsecondary education work attempted*. A student may have*~~, with~~ an opportunity for ~~reinstatement~~ one restoration ~~time~~ as provided in this act.

Section 11. Section 240.40207, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.40207 Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholars award.—The Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholars award is created within the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program to recognize and reward academic achievement and vocational preparation by high school students who wish to continue their education.

(1) A student is eligible for a Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholars award if the student meets the general eligibility requirements for the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program and the student:

(a) Successfully completes ~~the secondary school portion of a sequential program of studies that requires~~ at least three secondary school vocational credits in one program of study, as identified by the Department of Education, taken over at least 2 academic years, and is continued in a planned, related postsecondary education program. If the student's school does not offer such a two-plus-two or tech-prep program, the student must complete a job-preparatory career education program selected by the Workforce Estimating Conference or Workforce Florida, Inc., for its ability to provide high-wage employment in an occupation with high potential for employment opportunities. By July 1, 2002, the Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify the programs at each 4-year institution that qualify as planned, related postsecondary education programs. On-the-job training may not be substituted for any of the three required vocational credits.

(b) Demonstrates readiness for postsecondary education by earning a passing score on the Florida College Entry Level Placement Test or its equivalent as identified by the Department of Education.

(c) Earns a minimum cumulative weighted grade point average of 3.0, as calculated pursuant to s. 240.40202, on all subjects required for a standard high school diploma, excluding elective courses.

(d) Earns a minimum unweighted grade point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale for secondary vocational courses comprising the vocational program.

~~(e) Completes the requirements of a vocational-ready diploma program, as defined by rules of the State Board of Education.~~

(2) A Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholar is eligible for an award equal to the amount required to pay 75 percent of matriculation and fees, as defined by the department, if the student is enrolled in a public postsecondary education institution. A student who is enrolled in a nonpublic postsecondary education institution is eligible for an award equal to the amount that would be required to pay 75 percent of the matriculation and mandatory fees of a public postsecondary education institution at the comparable level.

(3) To be eligible for a renewal or restoration ~~award~~ as a Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholar, a student must meet the requirements of s. 240.40203 and the ~~maintain the equivalent of a~~ grade point average requirement of 2.75 on a 4.0 scale*, or the equivalent,* for all postsecondary education work attempted*. A student may have*~~, with~~ an opportunity for ~~reinstatement~~ one restoration ~~time~~ as provided in this act.

(4) Beginning with the fall term of 2003, a Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholars award may only be used by students who enroll in programs of 2 years or less at a vocational-technical institution, a community college, or a junior college unless the award is a renewal of an initial award issued prior to the fall term of 2003 or as otherwise provided for in this section. A student may use an award for a program at a 4-year institution if the program has been identified by the Articulation Coordinating Committee pursuant to subsection (1), the student meets the minimum State University System admissions requirements, and the institution certifies annually the student's continued enrollment in such program.

(5) Upon successful completion of an associate degree program or 60 hours, an award recipient who meets the renewal criteria in subsection (3) and enrolls in a baccalaureate degree program at an eligible postsecondary education institution is eligible to transfer to the Florida Medallion Scholars award component of the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program. Other than initial eligibility criteria, all other requirements of the Florida Medallion Scholars award shall apply to a student who transfers to that program pursuant to the provisions of this subsection. The number of hours for which a student may receive a Florida Medallion Scholars award shall be calculated by subtracting from the student's total eligibility pursuant to s. 240.40206(2) the number of hours for which the student has already received funding under the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program.

(6) If a Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholar received an initial award prior to the fall term of 2003, and has a cumulative grade point average of 2.75 in all postsecondary education work attempted, the Department of Education may transfer the student to the Florida Medallion Scholars award component of the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program at any renewal period. Other than initial eligibility criteria, all other requirements of the Florida Medallion Scholars award shall apply to a student who transfers to that program pursuant to the provisions of this subsection. The number of hours for which a student may receive a Florida Medallion Scholars award shall be calculated by subtracting from the student's total eligibility pursuant to s. 240.40206(2) the number of hours for which the student has already received funding under the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program.

~~(4) A student may earn a Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholarship for 110 percent of the number of credit hours required to complete the program, up to 90 credit hours or the equivalent. A Florida Gold Seal Scholar who has a cumulative grade point average of 2.75 in all postsecondary education work attempted may apply for a Florida Merit Scholars award at any renewal period. All other provisions of that program apply, and the credit hour limitation must be calculated by subtracting from the student's total eligibility the number of credit hours the student attempted while earning the Gold Seal Vocational Scholarship.~~

Section 12. Section 240.40211, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

240.40211 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program targeted occupations.—

(1)(a) Using information provided by the Workforce Estimating Conference, the Department of Education, in consultation with the Legislature, shall identify targeted occupations that are high demand, high wage, and high skill for which the state's postsecondary education institutions provide the necessary education and training.

(b) The Department of Education shall identify the specific associate and baccalaureate degree programs, certificate programs, and applied technology diploma programs that are offered by postsecondary education institutions and prepare students for employment in the targeted occupations. The department shall provide such information to the postsecondary education institutions that participate in the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program.

(c) Identification of targeted occupations and degree, certificate, and diploma programs shall be completed, and updated annually thereafter, for use in providing awards pursuant to this section beginning with the 2002-2003 fall academic term.

(2) A Florida Bright Futures Scholarship award recipient who is enrolled at a vocational-technical institution, a community college, or a junior college in a program identified pursuant to paragraph (1)(b) is eligible to receive an additional $250 per semester, or the equivalent, for postsecondary education-related expenses.

(3) A Florida Bright Futures Scholarship award recipient who is enrolled at a baccalaureate-degree-granting institution in the upper division of a program identified pursuant to paragraph (1)(b) is eligible to receive an additional $500 per semester, or the equivalent, for postsecondary education-related expenses.

(4) Institutions that participate in the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program and offer a program identified pursuant to paragraph (1)(b) shall advise their students of the availability of the awards provided pursuant to this section.

(5) The department shall establish procedures for institutions to certify to the department the initial and continued eligibility status of any student who is eligible to receive an award pursuant to this section. A student's continued enrollment in an eligible program shall be certified by the institution each academic year.

(6) The department shall evaluate this component of the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program from its inception to determine, of the total number of students who receive awards pursuant to this section, the number who become employed in the occupation for which the award was provided. This evaluation shall be reported on an annual basis to the Governor and the Legislature.

(7) This award component of the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program shall be implemented to the extent funded in the General Appropriations Act. When funds are not sufficient to make full awards, the department shall reduce the amount of each recipient's award pro rata.

Section 13. Section 240.40242, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 14. Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Testing Program.—

(1) By January 1, 2002, the Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify the minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which credit is to be awarded for each College Level Examination Program (CLEP) general examination, CLEP subject examination, College Board Advanced Placement Program examination, and International Baccalaureate examination. In addition, the Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify such courses in the general education core curriculum of each state university and community college.

(2) Each community college and state university must award credit for specific courses for which competency has been demonstrated by successful passage of one of these examinations unless the award of credit duplicates credit already awarded. Community colleges and universities may not exempt students from courses without the award of credit if competencies have been so demonstrated.

(3) Beginning with initial award recipients for the 2002-2003 academic year and continuing thereafter, students eligible for a Florida Academic Scholars award or a Florida Medallion Scholars award who are admitted to and enroll in a community college or state university shall, prior to registering for courses that may be earned through a CLEP examination and no later than registration for their second term, complete at least five examinations from those specified in subsection (1) in the following areas: English; humanities; mathematics; natural sciences; and social sciences. Successful completion of dual enrollment courses, Advanced Placement examinations, and International Baccalaureate examinations taken prior to high school graduation satisfy this requirement. The Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify the examinations that satisfy each component of this requirement.

(4) Initial award recipients for the 2001-2002 academic year who are eligible for a Florida Academic Scholars award or a Florida Medallion Scholars award and who are admitted to and enroll in a community college or state university may choose, prior to registering for courses that may be earned through CLEP examination, to complete up to five CLEP examinations, one in each of the following areas: English; humanities; mathematics; natural sciences; and social sciences.

(5) Each community college and state university shall pay for the CLEP examinations required pursuant to this section from the funds appropriated from the Educational Enhancement Trust Fund. Institutions shall pay no more than $46 per examination for the program, which shall include access to a student guide to prepare for the test. The Department of Education shall negotiate with the College Board for a reduced rate for the examinations. The institution shall not charge the student for preparation and administration of the test, access to a student guide to prepare for the test, or recordkeeping and reporting of each student's test results to the department.

(6) The credit awarded pursuant to this section shall apply toward the 120 hours of college credit required pursuant to s. 240.115(6).

(7) The maximum number of credit hours for which a student is eligible to receive a Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program award shall be reduced by the number of hours for which credit is awarded pursuant to this section.

(8) Beginning with the 2002-2003 award recipients, the Department of Education shall track and annually report on the effectiveness of the program, and include information on the number of students participating in the program; the CLEP examinations taken and the passage rate of Florida Academic Scholars and Florida Medallion Scholars award recipients; the use of Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate examinations and dual enrollment courses to satisfy the requirements of the program; and the course credit provided.

The Committee on Natural Resources & Environmental Protection offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 374085)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Paragraph (k) is added to subsection (3) of section 369.25, Florida Statutes, to read:

369.25 Aquatic plants; definitions; permits; powers of department; penalties.—

(3) The department has the following powers:

(k) To enforce this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, 403.141, and 403.161.

Section 2. Section 403.121, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.121 Enforcement; procedure; remedies.—The department shall have the following judicial and administrative remedies available to it for violations of this chapter, as specified in s. 403.161(1).

(1) Judicial remedies:

(a) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to establish liability and to recover damages for any injury to the air, waters, or property, including animal, plant, and aquatic life, of the state caused by any violation.

(b) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and to recover a civil penalty for each violation in an amount of not more than $10,000 per offense. However, the court may receive evidence in mitigation. Each day during any portion of which such violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (2)(c), it shall not be a defense to, or ground for dismissal of, these judicial remedies for damages and civil penalties that the department has failed to exhaust its administrative remedies, has failed to serve a notice of violation, or has failed to hold an administrative hearing prior to the institution of a civil action.

(2) Administrative remedies:

(a) The department may institute an administrative proceeding to establish liability and to recover damages for any injury to the air, waters, or property, including animal, plant, or aquatic life, of the state caused by any violation. The department may order that the violator pay a specified sum as damages to the state. Judgment for the amount of damages determined by the department may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof and may be enforced as any other judgment.

(b) If the department has reason to believe a violation has occurred, it may institute an administrative proceeding to order the prevention, abatement, or control of the conditions creating the violation or other appropriate corrective action. Except for violations involving hazardous wastes, asbestos, or underground injection, the department shall proceed administratively in all cases in which the department seeks administrative penalties that do not exceed $10,000 per assessment as calculated in accordance with subsections (3), (4), (5), (6), and (7). The department shall not impose administrative penalties in excess of $10,000 in a notice of violation. The department shall not have more than one notice of violation seeking administrative penalties pending against the same party at the same time unless the violations occurred at a different site or the violations were discovered by the department subsequent to the filing of a previous notice of violation.

(c) An administrative proceeding shall be instituted by the department's serving of a written notice of violation upon the alleged violator by certified mail. If the department is unable to effect service by certified mail, the notice of violation may be hand-delivered or personally served in accordance with chapter 48. The notice shall specify the provision of the law, rule, regulation, permit, certification, or order of the department alleged to be violated and the facts alleged to constitute a violation thereof. An order for corrective action*, penalty assessment, or damages* may be included with the notice. When the department is seeking to impose an administrative penalty for any violation by issuing a notice of violation, any corrective action needed to correct the violation or damages caused by the violation must be pursued in the notice of violation or they are waived. However, no order shall become effective until after service and an administrative hearing, if requested within 20 days after service. Failure to request an administrative hearing within this time period shall constitute a waiver thereof*, unless the respondent files a written notice with the department within this time period opting out of the administrative process initiated by the department to impose administrative penalties. Any respondent choosing to opt out of the administrative process initiated by the department in an action that seeks the imposition of administrative penalties must file a written notice with the department within 20 days after service of the notice of violation opting out of the administrative process. A respondent's decision to opt out of the administrative process does not preclude the department from initiating a state court action seeking injunctive relief, damages and the judicial imposition of civil penalties*.

(d) If a person timely files a petition challenging a notice of violation, that person will thereafter be referred to as the respondent. The hearing requested by the respondent shall be held within 180 days after the department has referred the initial petition to the Division of Administrative Hearings unless the parties agree to a later date. The department has the burden of proving with the preponderance of the evidence that the respondent is responsible for the violation. No administrative penalties should be imposed unless the department satisfies that burden. Following the close of the hearing, the administrative law judge shall issue a final order on all matters, including the imposition of an administrative penalty. When the department seeks to enforce that portion of a final order imposing administrative penalties pursuant to s. 120.69, the respondent shall not assert as a defense the inappropriateness of the administrative remedy. The department retains its final-order authority in all administrative actions that do not request the imposition of administrative penalties.

(e) After filing a petition requesting a formal hearing in response to a notice of violation in which the department imposes an administrative penalty, a respondent may request that a private mediator be appointed to mediate the dispute by contacting the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium within 10 days after receipt of the Initial Order from the administrative law judge. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall pay all of the costs of the mediator and for up to 8 hours of the mediator's time per case at $150 per hour. Upon notice from the respondent, the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall provide a panel of possible mediators from the area in which the hearing on the petition would be heard to the respondent. The respondent shall select the mediator and notify the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium of the selection within 15 days of receipt of the proposed panel of mediators. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall provide all of the administrative support for the mediation process. The mediation must be completed at least 15 days before the final-hearing date set by the administrative law judge.

(f) In any administrative proceeding brought by the department, the prevailing party shall recover all costs as provided in ss. 57.041 and 57.071. The costs must be included in the final order. The respondent is the prevailing party when an order is entered awarding no penalties to the department and such order has not been reversed on appeal or the time for seeking judicial review has expired. The respondent shall be entitled to an award of attorney's fees if the administrative law judge determines that the notice of violation initiated by the department seeking the imposition of administrative penalties was not substantially justified as defined in s. 57.111(3)(e). No award of attorney's fees as provided by this subsection shall exceed $15,000.

(g)~~(d)~~ Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing any other legal or administrative action in accordance with law. Nothing in this subsection shall limit the department's authority provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, and 403.141, to judicially pursue injunctive relief. When the department exercises its authority to judicially pursue injunctive relief, penalties in any amount up to the statutory maximum sought by the department must be pursued as part of the state court action and not by initiating a separate administrative proceeding. The department retains the authority to judicially pursue penalties in excess of $10,000 for violations not specifically included in the administrative penalty schedule, or for multiple or multi-day violations alleged to exceed a total of $10,000. The department also retains the authority provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, and 403.141, to judicially pursue injunctive relief and damages, if a notice of violation seeking the imposition of administrative penalties has not been issued. The department has the authority to enter into a settlement, either before or after initiating a notice of violation, and the settlement may include a penalty amount different from the administrative penalty schedule. Any case filed in state court because it is alleged to exceed a total of $10,000 in penalties may be settled in the court action for less than $10,000.

(h) Chapter 120, Florida Statutes, shall apply to any administrative action taken by the department or any delegated program pursuing administrative penalties in accordance with this section.

(3) Except for violations involving hazardous wastes, asbestos, or underground injection, administrative penalties must be calculated according to the following schedule:

(a) For a drinking water contamination violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for a Maximum Containment Level (MCL) violation; plus $1,000 if the violation is for a primary inorganic, organic, or radiological Maximum Contaminant Level or it is a fecal coliform bacteria violation; plus $1,000 if the violation occurs at a community water system; and plus $1,000 if any Maximum Contaminant Level is exceeded by more than 100 percent. For failure to obtain a clearance letter prior to placing a drinking water system into service when the system would not have been eligible for clearance - $3,000.

(b) For failure to obtain a required wastewater permit, other than a permit required for surface water discharge, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000. For a domestic or industrial wastewater violation not involving a surfacewater or groundwater quality violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for an unpermitted or unauthorized discharge or effluent-limitation exceedance. For an unpermitted or unauthorized discharge or effluent-limitation exceedance that resulted in a surfacewater or groundwater quality violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000.

(c) For a dredge and fill or stormwater violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for unpermitted or unauthorized dredging or filling or unauthorized construction of a stormwater management system against the person or persons responsible for the illegal dredging or filling, or unauthorized construction of a stormwater management system; plus $2,000 if the dredging or filling occurs in an Aquatic Preserve, Outstanding Florida Water, conservation easement, or Class I or Class II surfacewater; plus $1,000 if the area dredged or filled is greater than one-quarter acre but less than one-half acre, and plus $1,000 if the area dredged or filled is greater than one-half acre but less than one acre. The administrative penalty schedule shall not apply to a dredge and fill violation if the area dredged or filled exceeds one acre. The department retains the authority to seek the judicial imposition of civil penalties for all dredge and fill violations involving more than one acre. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for the failure to complete required mitigation, failure to record a required conservation easement , or for a water quality violation resulting from dredging or filling activities, stormwater construction activities or failure of a stormwater treatment facility. For stormwater management systems serving less than five acres, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for the failure to properly or timely construct a stormwater management system. In addition to the penalties authorized in this subsection, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 per violation against the contractor or agent of the owner or tenant that conducts unpermitted or unauthorized dredging or filling.

(d) For mangrove trimming or alteration violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 per violation against the contractor or agent of the owner or tenant that conducts mangrove trimming or alteration without a permit as required by s. 403.9328.

(e) For solid waste violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for the unpermitted or unauthorized disposal or storage of solid waste; plus $1,000 if the solid waste is Class I or Class III (excluding yard trash) or if the solid waste is construction and demolition debris in excess of 20 cubic yards; plus $1,000 if the waste is disposed of or stored in any natural or artificial body of water or within 500 feet of a potable water well; plus $1,000 if the waste contains PCB at a concentration of 50 parts per million or greater; untreated biomedical waste; friable asbestos greater than 1 cubic meter that is not wetted, bagged, and covered, used oil greater than 25 gallons; or 10 or more lead acid batteries. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for failure to properly maintain leachate control; unauthorized burning; failure to have a trained spotter on duty at the working face when accepting waste; failure to provide access control for three consecutive inspections. The department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for failure to construct or maintain a required stormwater management system.

(f) For an air emission violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for an unpermitted or unauthorized air emission or an air-emission-permit exceedance, plus $1,000 if the emission results in an air quality violation, plus $3,000 if the emission was from a major source and the source was major for the pollutant in violation; plus $1,000 if the emission was more than 150 percent of the allowable level.

(g) For storage tank system and petroleum contamination violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 for failure to empty a damaged storage system as necessary to ensure that a release does not occur until repairs to the storage system are completed; when a release has occurred from that storage tank system; failure to timely recover free product; or for failure to conduct remediation or monitoring activities until a no-further-action or site-rehabilitation completion order has been issued. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for failure to timely upgrade a storage tank system. The department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for failure to conduct or maintain required release detection; failure to timely investigate a suspected release from a storage system; depositing motor fuel into an unregistered storage tank system; failure to timely assess or remediate petroleum contamination; or failure to properly install a storage tank system. The department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for failure to properly operate, maintain, or close a storage tank system.

~~(3)(a) In addition to any judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department may assess a noncompliance fee for failure of any owner or operator of a domestic wastewater treatment facility to comply with a permit condition that requires the submittal of monthly operating reports or the reporting of the characteristics of the waste stream or the effects of the facility on surface or ground water. For the first and second violations of the reporting requirements, the fee shall not be assessed until the department has given the owner or operator at least 30 days to comply with the reporting requirement. The time shall not begin until the department has given the owner or operator written notice of the facts alleged to constitute the reporting violation, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to have been violated by the owner or operator, the corrective action needed to bring the facility into compliance, and the potential penalties that may be imposed as a result of the owner's or operator's failure to comply with the notice. For subsequent violations, the department does not have to provide 30 days' written notice of the violations prior to assessing a noncompliance fee, except as follows:~~

~~1. If any additional reporting violations occur prior to the expiration of either of the 30-day notices issued by the department, the department must provide the owner or operator with 30 days' written notice to correct these violations as well.~~

~~2. Upon the renewal of the permit, the department shall reinstate the 30-day notice requirements provided in this subsection prior to assessing a noncompliance fee during the new permit period.~~

~~(b) At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the owner or operator written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69. Once the assessment has become final and effective, the department may refuse to issue, modify, transfer, or renew a permit to the facility until the fee has been paid.~~

~~(c) Before assessing a noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures and assessment amounts for noncompliance fees authorized by paragraph (a). Noncompliance fees shall be set on a sliding scale based upon the type of violation, the degree of noncompliance, and the potential for harm. Such rules shall also authorize the application of adjustment factors subsequent to the initial assessment to increase or decrease the total amount assessed, such as the good faith efforts or the lack of good faith efforts of the owner or operator to comply with the reporting requirement, the lack of or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the owner or operator, the economic benefits associated with the owner's or operator's failure to comply, the owner's or operator's previous history of reporting violations, and the owner's or operator's ability to pay the noncompliance fee. No noncompliance fee shall exceed $250, and total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all reporting violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month. No noncompliance fee may be assessed unless the department has, within 90 days of the reporting violation, provided the owner or operator written notice of the violation.~~

~~(d) The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action which may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

~~(e) Fees collected pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund. The department may use a portion of the fund to contract for services to help in the collection of the fees assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

(4) In an administrative proceeding, in addition to the penalties that may be assessed under subsection (3), the department shall assess administrative penalties according to the following schedule:

(a) For failure to satisfy financial responsibility requirements or for violation of s. 377.371(1), $5,000.

(b) For failure to install, maintain, or use a required pollution control system or device, $4,000.

(c) For failure to obtain a required permit prior to construction or modification, $3,000.

(d) For failure to conduct required monitoring or testing; failure to conduct required release detection; failure to construct in compliance with a permit, $2,000.

(e) For failure to maintain required staff to respond to emergencies; failure to conduct required training; failure to prepare, maintain, or update required contingency plans; failure to adequately respond to emergencies to bring an emergency situation under control; or failure to submit required notification to the department, $1,000.

(f) For failure to prepare, submit, maintain, or use required reports or other required documentation, $500.

(5) For failure to comply with any other department regulatory statute or rule requirement not otherwise identified in this section, the department may assess a penalty of $500.

(6) For each additional day during which a violation occurs, the administrative penalties in subsection (3), subsection (4), and subsection (5) may be assessed per day per violation.

(7) The history of noncompliance of the violator for any previous violation resulting in an executed consent order, but not including a consent order entered into without a finding of violation, final order or judgment after the effective date of this law involving the imposition of $2,000 or more in penalties shall be taken into consideration in the following manner:

(a) One previous such violation within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 25 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(b) Two previous such violations within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 50 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(c) Three or more previous such violations within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 100 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(8) The direct economic benefit gained by the violator from the violation shall be added to the scheduled administrative penalty. The total administrative penalty, including any economic benefit added to the scheduled administrative penalty, shall not exceed $10,000.

(9) The administrative penalties assessed for any particular violation shall not exceed $5,000 against any one violator, unless the violator has a history of noncompliance, the economic benefit of the violation exceeds $5,000, or there are multi-day violations. The total administrative penalties shall not exceed $10,000 per assessment for all violations attributable to a specific person in the notice of violation.

(10) The administrative law judge may receive evidence in mitigation. The penalties identified in subsection (3), subsection (4), and subsection (5) may be reduced up to 50 percent by the administrative law judge for mitigating circumstances, including good faith efforts to comply prior to or after discovery of the violations by the department. Upon an affirmative finding that the violation was caused by circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the respondent and could not have been prevented by respondent's due diligence, the administrative law judge may further reduce the penalty.

(11) Penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund or other trust fund designated by statute and shall be used to fund the restoration of ecosystems, or polluted areas of the state, as defined by the department, to their condition before pollution occurred. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium may use a portion of the fund to administer the mediation process provided in paragraph (2)(e) and to contract with private mediators for administrative penalty cases.

(12) The purpose of the administrative penalty schedule and process is to provide a more predictable and efficient manner for individuals and businesses to resolve relatively minor environmental disputes. Nothing in subsection (3), subsection (4), subsection (5), subsection (6), or subsection (7) shall be construed as limiting a state court in the assessment of damages. The administrative penalty schedule does not apply to the judicial imposition of civil penalties in state court as provided in this section.

Section 3. Section 403.131, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.131 Injunctive relief, ~~cumulative~~ remedies.—

(1) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to seek injunctive relief to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule, regulation, permit certification, or order; to enjoin any violation specified in s. 403.161(1); and to seek injunctive relief to prevent irreparable injury to the air, waters, and property, including animal, plant, and aquatic life, of the state and to protect human health, safety, and welfare caused or threatened by any violation.

(2) All the judicial and administrative remedies to recover damages and penalties in this section and s. 403.121 ~~are independent and cumulative except that the judicial and administrative remedies to recover damages~~ are alternative and mutually exclusive.

Section 4. Subsection (3) of section 403.727, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.727 Violations; defenses, penalties, and remedies.—

(3) Violations of the provisions of this act are punishable as follows:

(a) Any person who violates the provisions of this act, the rules or orders of the department, or the conditions of a permit is liable to the state for any damages specified in s. 403.141 and for a civil penalty of not more than $50,000 for each day of continued violation, except as otherwise provided herein. The department may revoke any permit issued to the violator. In any action by the department against a small hazardous waste generator for the improper disposal of hazardous wastes, a rebuttable presumption of improper disposal shall be created if the generator was notified pursuant to s. 403.7234; the generator shall then have the burden of proving that the disposal was proper. If the generator was not so notified, the burden of proving improper disposal shall be placed upon the department.

(b) Any person who knowingly or by exhibiting reckless indifference or gross careless disregard for human health:

1. Transports or causes to be transported any hazardous waste, as defined in s. 403.703, to a facility which does not have a permit when such a permit is required under s. 403.707 or s. 403.722;

2. Disposes of, treats, or stores hazardous waste:

a. At any place but a hazardous waste facility which has a current and valid permit pursuant to s. 403.722;

b. In knowing violation of any material condition or requirement of such permit if such violation has a substantial likelihood of endangering human health, animal or plant life, or property; or

c. In knowing violation of any material condition or requirement of any applicable rule or standard if such violation has a substantial likelihood of endangering human health, animal or plant life, or property;

3. Makes any false statement or representation or knowingly omits material information in any hazardous waste application, label, manifest, record, report, permit, or other document required by this act;

4. Generates, stores, treats, transports, disposes of, or otherwise handles any hazardous waste and who knowingly destroys, alters, conceals, or fails to file any record, application, manifest, report, or other document required to be maintained or filed for purposes of compliance with this act; or

5. Transports without a manifest, or causes to be transported without a manifest, any hazardous waste required by rules adopted by the department to be accompanied by a manifest is, upon conviction, guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable for the first such conviction by a fine of not more than $50,000 for each day of violation or imprisonment not to exceed 5 years, or both, and for any subsequent conviction by a fine of not more than $100,000 per day of violation or imprisonment of not more than 10 years, or both.

~~(c)1. As used in this paragraph, "Class II violation" means a violation of this part, or the rules promulgated pursuant to this part, which pertains to small quantity generators as defined by applicable department rules and which does not result in a discharge or serious threat of a discharge of hazardous waste to the environment, or does not involve the failure to ensure that groundwater will be protected or that hazardous waste will be destined for and delivered to permitted facilities. Class II violations shall include, but need not be limited to, the failure to submit manifest exception reports in a timely manner, failure to provide a generator's United States Environmental Protection Agency identification number on the manifest, failure to maintain complete personnel training records, and failure to meet inspection schedule requirements for tanks and containers that hold hazardous waste.~~

~~2. In addition to any other judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department may assess a noncompliance fee for any Class II violation by a small quantity generator. For the first and second violations, the fee shall not be assessed until the generator has failed to comply after notice of noncompliance and has been given a reasonable time to comply. If the owner or operator fails after three or more notifications to comply with the requirement to correct the Class II violation, the department may assess the fee without waiting for compliance.~~

~~3. At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the small quantity generator written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69. Once the assessment has become final and effective, the department shall refuse to issue, modify, transfer, or renew a permit or issue an identification number to the facility until the fee has been paid.~~

~~4. Before assessing any noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this paragraph, which shall include a description of activities that constitute Class II violations and the setting of appropriate amounts for the noncompliance fees, based upon the type of violation, but not to exceed $250. Total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month.~~

~~5. The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action that may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this paragraph.~~

~~6. Noncompliance fees collected pursuant to this paragraph shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund. The department may use a portion of the fund to contract for services to help in the collection of fees assessed pursuant to this paragraph.~~

Section 5. Subsections (5) and (6) of section 403.860, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

403.860 Penalties and remedies.—

(5) In addition to any judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department or a county health department that has received approval by the department pursuant to s. 403.862(1)(c) shall ~~may~~ assess administrative penalties for violations of this section in accordance with s. 403.121 ~~a noncompliance fee for failure of any supplier of water of a public water system to comply with department requirements for the reporting, in the manner and time provided by department rule, of test results for microbiological, inorganic, or organic contaminants; or turbidity, radionucleides, or secondary standards~~.

~~(a) For the first and second violations of the microbiological reporting requirements, and for the first violation of other reporting requirements, the fee shall not be assessed until the department has given the supplier at least 30 days to comply with the reporting requirement. The time shall not begin until the department has given the supplier written notice of the facts alleged to constitute the reporting violation, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to have been violated by the owner or operator, the corrective action needed to bring the facility into compliance, and the potential penalties that may be~~

~~imposed as a result of the supplier's failure to comply with the notice. For subsequent violations of the microbiological reporting requirements, the department does not have to provide 30-day written notice of the violations prior to assessing a noncompliance fee, provided, however, that if any additional reporting violations occur prior to the expiration of either 30-day notice issued by the department, the department must provide the supplier with a 30-day written notice to correct those violations as well. Upon expiration of 36 months, the department shall reinstate the 30-day notice requirements provided in this subsection prior to assessing a noncompliance fee.~~

~~(b) At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the supplier written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69.~~

~~(c) Before assessing a noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures and assessment amounts for noncompliance fees authorized by paragraph (a). Noncompliance fees shall be set on a sliding scale based upon the type of violation, the degree of noncompliance, and the potential for harm. Such rules shall also authorize the application of adjustment factors subsequent to initial assessment to increase or decrease the total amount assessed, such as the good faith efforts or the lack of good faith efforts of the supplier to comply with the reporting requirements, the lack of or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the supplier, the economic benefits associated with the supplier's failure to comply with the reporting violation, the supplier's previous history of reporting violations, and the supplier's ability to pay the noncompliance fee.~~

~~(d) For microbiological reporting requirements, no noncompliance fee shall exceed $250, and total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all reporting violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month.~~

~~(e) For violations of reporting requirements other than microbiological, the fee shall be no greater than $50 per day for each day of violation, and the total amount assessed shall not exceed $2,000.~~

~~(f) The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action which may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

~~(g) No noncompliance fee may be assessed unless the department has, within 90 days of the reporting violation, provided the supplier written notice of the violation.~~

~~(6) The department is authorized to assess administrative penalties for failure to comply with the requirements of the Florida Safe Drinking Water Act.~~

~~(a) Prior to the assessment of an administrative penalty, the department shall provide the public water system a reasonable amount of time to complete the corrective action necessary to bring the system back into compliance.~~

~~(b)1. At the time of assessment of the administrative penalty, the department shall give the public water system notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective, unless an administrative hearing is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69.~~

~~2. The department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures for implementing the penalties and shall identify assessment amounts. The rules shall authorize the application of adjustment factors for the purpose of increasing or decreasing the total amount assessed subsequent to initial assessment. Such factors may include the lack or degree of good faith to comply with the requirements, the lack or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the owner, the compliance history of the public water system, the economic benefit derived by the failure to comply with the requirements, and the ability to pay.~~

~~(c) The amount of the penalties assessed shall be as follows:~~

~~1. In the case of a public water system serving a population of more than 10,000, the penalty shall be not less than $1,000 per day per violation.~~

~~2. In the case of any other public water system, the penalty shall be adequate to ensure compliance.~~

~~However, the total amount of the penalty assessed on any public water system may not exceed $10,000 per violation.~~

Section 6. Two years after the effective date of this act, the Department of Environmental Protection shall submit a report to the Legislature describing the number of notices of violation issued by the department seeking the imposition of administrative penalties, the amount of administrative penalties obtained by the department, and the efficiencies gained from the provisions of this act.

Section 7. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

And the title is amended as follows:

remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines

and insert in lieu thereof: An act relating to environmental control; amending s. 369.25, F.S.; granting the Department of Environmental Protection additional enforcement powers for aquatic plant control; amending ss. 403.121, 403.131, 403.727, 403.860, F.S.; revising judicial and administrative remedies for violations of environmental laws; providing for administrative penalties; requiring the Department of Environmental Protection to report to the Legislature; providing an effective date.

Rep. Goodlette moved the adoption of the amendment.

The Committee on Fiscal Policy & Resources offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 471999)

Substitute Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. Paragraph (k) is added to subsection (3) of section 369.25, Florida Statutes, to read:

369.25 Aquatic plants; definitions; permits; powers of department; penalties.—

(3) The department has the following powers:

(k) To enforce this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, 403.141, and 403.161.

Section 2. Section 403.121, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.121 Enforcement; procedure; remedies.—The department shall have the following judicial and administrative remedies available to it for violations of this chapter, as specified in s. 403.161(1).

(1) Judicial remedies:

(a) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to establish liability and to recover damages for any injury to the air, waters, or property, including animal, plant, and aquatic life, of the state caused by any violation.

(b) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and to recover a civil penalty for each violation in an amount of not more than $10,000 per offense. However, the court may receive evidence in mitigation. Each day during any portion of which such violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (2)(c), it shall not be a defense to, or ground for dismissal of, these judicial remedies for damages and civil penalties that the department has failed to exhaust its administrative remedies, has failed to serve a notice of violation, or has failed to hold an administrative hearing prior to the institution of a civil action.

(2) Administrative remedies:

(a) The department may institute an administrative proceeding to establish liability and to recover damages for any injury to the air, waters, or property, including animal, plant, or aquatic life, of the state caused by any violation. The department may order that the violator pay a specified sum as damages to the state. Judgment for the amount of damages determined by the department may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof and may be enforced as any other judgment.

(b) If the department has reason to believe a violation has occurred, it may institute an administrative proceeding to order the prevention, abatement, or control of the conditions creating the violation or other appropriate corrective action. Except for violations involving hazardous wastes, asbestos, or underground injection, the department shall proceed administratively in all cases in which the department seeks administrative penalties that do not exceed $10,000 per assessment as calculated in accordance with subsections (3), (4), (5), (6), and (7). The department shall not impose administrative penalties in excess of $10,000 in a notice of violation. The department shall not have more than one notice of violation seeking administrative penalties pending against the same party at the same time unless the violations occurred at a different site or the violations were discovered by the department subsequent to the filing of a previous notice of violation.

(c) An administrative proceeding shall be instituted by the department's serving of a written notice of violation upon the alleged violator by certified mail. If the department is unable to effect service by certified mail, the notice of violation may be hand-delivered or personally served in accordance with chapter 48. The notice shall specify the provision of the law, rule, regulation, permit, certification, or order of the department alleged to be violated and the facts alleged to constitute a violation thereof. An order for corrective action*, penalty assessment, or damages* may be included with the notice. When the department is seeking to impose an administrative penalty for any violation by issuing a notice of violation, any corrective action needed to correct the violation or damages caused by the violation must be pursued in the notice of violation or they are waived. However, no order shall become effective until after service and an administrative hearing, if requested within 20 days after service. Failure to request an administrative hearing within this time period shall constitute a waiver thereof, unless the respondent files a written notice with the department within this time period opting out of the administrative process initiated by the department to impose administrative penalties. Any respondent choosing to opt out of the administrative process initiated by the department in an action that seeks the imposition of administrative penalties must file a written notice with the department within 20 days after service of the notice of violation opting out of the administrative process. A respondent's decision to opt out of the administrative process does not preclude the department from initiating a state court action seeking injunctive relief, damages, and the judicial imposition of civil penalties.

(d) If a person timely files a petition challenging a notice of violation, that person will thereafter be referred to as the respondent. The hearing requested by the respondent shall be held within 180 days after the department has referred the initial petition to the Division of Administrative Hearings unless the parties agree to a later date. The department has the burden of proving with the preponderance of the evidence that the respondent is responsible for the violation. No administrative penalties should be imposed unless the department satisfies that burden. Following the close of the hearing, the administrative law judge shall issue a final order on all matters, including the imposition of an administrative penalty. When the department seeks to enforce that portion of a final order imposing administrative penalties pursuant to s. 120.69, the respondent shall not assert as a defense the inappropriateness of the administrative remedy. The department retains its final-order authority in all administrative actions that do not request the imposition of administrative penalties.

(e) After filing a petition requesting a formal hearing in response to a notice of violation in which the department imposes an administrative penalty, a respondent may request that a private mediator be appointed to mediate the dispute by contacting the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium within 10 days after receipt of the Initial Order from the administrative law judge. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall pay all of the costs of the mediator and for up to 8 hours of the mediator's time per case at $150 per hour. Upon notice from the respondent, the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall provide to the respondent a panel of possible mediators from the area in which the hearing on the petition would be heard. The respondent shall select the mediator and notify the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium of the selection within 15 days of receipt of the proposed panel of mediators. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium shall provide all of the administrative support for the mediation process. The mediation must be completed at least 15 days before the final-hearing date set by the administrative law judge.

(f) In any administrative proceeding brought by the department, the prevailing party shall recover all costs as provided in ss. 57.041 and 57.071. The costs must be included in the final order. The respondent is the prevailing party when an order is entered awarding no penalties to the department and such order has not been reversed on appeal or the time for seeking judicial review has expired. The respondent shall be entitled to an award of attorney's fees if the administrative law judge determines that the notice of violation issued by the department seeking the imposition of administrative penalties was not substantially justified as defined in s. 57.111(3)(e). No award of attorney's fees as provided by this subsection shall exceed $15,000.

(g)~~(d)~~ Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing any other legal or administrative action in accordance with law. Nothing in this subsection shall limit the department's authority provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, and 403.141, to judicially pursue injunctive relief. When the department exercises its authority to judicially pursue injunctive relief, penalties in any amount up to the statutory maximum sought by the department must be pursued as part of the state court action and not by initiating a separate administrative proceeding. The department retains the authority to judicially pursue penalties in excess of $10,000 for violations not specifically included in the administrative penalty schedule, or for multiple or multi-day violations alleged to exceed a total of $10,000. The department also retains the authority provided in ss. 403.121, 403.131, and 403.141, to judicially pursue injunctive relief and damages, if a notice of violation seeking the imposition of administrative penalties has not been issued. The department has the authority to enter into a settlement, either before or after initiating a notice of violation, and the settlement may include a penalty amount different from the administrative penalty schedule. Any case filed in state court because it is alleged to exceed a total of $10,000 in penalties may be settled in the court action for less than $10,000.

(h) Chapter 120 shall apply to any administrative action taken by the department or any delegated program pursuing administrative penalties in accordance with this section.

(3) Except for violations involving hazardous wastes, asbestos, or underground injection, administrative penalties must be calculated according to the following schedule:

(a) For a drinking water contamination violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for a Maximum Containment Level (MCL) violation; plus $1,000 if the violation is for a primary inorganic, organic, or radiological Maximum Contaminant Level or it is a fecal coliform bacteria violation; plus $1,000 if the violation occurs at a community water system; and plus $1,000 if any Maximum Contaminant Level is exceeded by more than 100 percent. For failure to obtain a clearance letter prior to placing a drinking water system into service when the system would not have been eligible for clearance, the department shall assess a penalty of $3,000.

(b) For failure to obtain a required wastewater permit, other than a permit required for surface water discharge, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000. For a domestic or industrial wastewater violation not involving a surfacewater or groundwater quality violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for an unpermitted or unauthorized discharge or effluent-limitation exceedance. For an unpermitted or unauthorized discharge or effluent-limitation exceedance that resulted in a surfacewater or groundwater quality violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000.

(c) For a dredge and fill or stormwater violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for unpermitted or unauthorized dredging or filling or unauthorized construction of a stormwater management system against the person or persons responsible for the illegal dredging or filling, or unauthorized construction of a stormwater management system plus $2,000 if the dredging or filling occurs in an Aquatic Preserve, Outstanding Florida Water, conservation easement, or Class I or Class II surfacewater, plus $1,000 if the area dredged or filled is greater than one-quarter acre but less than or equal to one-half acre, and plus $1,000 if the area dredged or filled is greater than one-half acre but less than or equal to one acre. The administrative penalty schedule shall not apply to a dredge and fill violation if the area dredged or filled exceeds one acre. The department retains the authority to seek the judicial imposition of civil penalties for all dredge and fill violations involving more than one acre. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for the failure to complete required mitigation, failure to record a required conservation easement, or for a water quality violation resulting from dredging or filling activities, stormwater construction activities or failure of a stormwater treatment facility. For stormwater management systems serving less than five acres, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for the failure to properly or timely construct a stormwater management system. In addition to the penalties authorized in this subsection, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 per violation against the contractor or agent of the owner or tenant that conducts unpermitted or unauthorized dredging or filling.

(d) For mangrove trimming or alteration violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 per violation against the contractor or agent of the owner or tenant that conducts mangrove trimming or alteration without a permit as required by s. 403.9328.

(e) For solid waste violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for the unpermitted or unauthorized disposal or storage of solid waste; plus $1,000 if the solid waste is Class I or Class III (excluding yard trash) or if the solid waste is construction and demolition debris in excess of 20 cubic yards, plus $1,000 if the waste is disposed of or stored in any natural or artificial body of water or within 500 feet of a potable water well, plus $1,000 if the waste contains PCB at a concentration of 50 parts per million or greater; untreated biomedical waste; friable asbestos greater than 1 cubic meter which is not wetted, bagged, and covered; used oil greater than 25 gallons; or 10 or more lead acid batteries. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for failure to properly maintain leachate control; unauthorized burning; failure to have a trained spotter on duty at the working face when accepting waste; failure to provide access control for three consecutive inspections. The department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for failure to construct or maintain a required stormwater management system.

(f) For an air emission violation, the department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for an unpermitted or unauthorized air emission or an air-emission-permit exceedance, plus $1,000 if the emission results in an air quality violation, plus $3,000 if the emission was from a major source and the source was major for the pollutant in violation; plus $1,000 if the emission was more than 150 percent of the allowable level.

(g) For storage tank system and petroleum contamination violations, the department shall assess a penalty of $5,000 for failure to empty a damaged storage system as necessary to ensure that a release does not occur until repairs to the storage system are completed; when a release has occurred from that storage tank system; for failure to timely recover free product; or for failure to conduct remediation or monitoring activities until a no-further-action or site-rehabilitation completion order has been issued. The department shall assess a penalty of $3,000 for failure to timely upgrade a storage tank system. The department shall assess a penalty of $2,000 for failure to conduct or maintain required release detection; failure to timely investigate a suspected release from a storage system; depositing motor fuel into an unregistered storage tank system; failure to timely assess or remediate petroleum contamination; or failure to properly install a storage tank system. The department shall assess a penalty of $1,000 for failure to properly operate, maintain, or close a storage tank system.

~~(3)(a) In addition to any judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department may assess a noncompliance fee for failure of any owner or operator of a domestic wastewater treatment facility to comply with a permit condition that requires the submittal of monthly operating reports or the reporting of the characteristics of the waste stream or the effects of the facility on surface or ground water. For the first and second violations of the reporting requirements, the fee shall not be assessed until the department has given the owner or operator at least 30 days to comply with the reporting requirement. The time shall not begin until the department has given the owner or operator written notice of the facts alleged to constitute the reporting violation, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to have been violated by the owner or operator, the corrective action needed to bring the facility into compliance, and the potential penalties that may be imposed as a result of the owner's or operator's failure to comply with the notice. For subsequent violations, the department does not have to provide 30 days' written notice of the violations prior to assessing a noncompliance fee, except as follows:~~

~~1. If any additional reporting violations occur prior to the expiration of either of the 30-day notices issued by the department, the department must provide the owner or operator with 30 days' written notice to correct these violations as well.~~

~~2. Upon the renewal of the permit, the department shall reinstate the 30-day notice requirements provided in this subsection prior to assessing a noncompliance fee during the new permit period.~~

~~(b) At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the owner or operator written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69. Once the assessment has become final and effective, the department may refuse to issue, modify, transfer, or renew a permit to the facility until the fee has been paid.~~

~~(c) Before assessing a noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures and assessment amounts for noncompliance fees authorized by paragraph (a). Noncompliance fees shall be set on a sliding scale based upon the type of violation, the degree of noncompliance, and the potential for harm. Such rules shall also authorize the application of adjustment factors subsequent to the initial assessment to increase or decrease the total amount assessed, such as the good faith efforts or the lack of good faith efforts of the owner or operator to comply with the reporting requirement, the lack of or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the owner or operator, the economic benefits associated with the owner's or operator's failure to comply, the owner's or operator's previous history of reporting violations, and the owner's or operator's ability to pay the noncompliance fee. No noncompliance fee shall exceed $250, and total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all reporting violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month. No noncompliance fee may be assessed unless the department has, within 90 days of the reporting violation, provided the owner or operator written notice of the violation.~~

~~(d) The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action which may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

~~(e) Fees collected pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund. The department may use a portion of the fund to contract for services to help in the collection of the fees assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

(4) In an administrative proceeding, in addition to the penalties that may be assessed under subsection (3), the department shall assess administrative penalties according to the following schedule:

(a) For failure to satisfy financial responsibility requirements or for violation of s. 377.371(1), $5,000.

(b) For failure to install, maintain, or use a required pollution control system or device, $4,000.

(c) For failure to obtain a required permit before construction or modification, $3,000.

(d) For failure to conduct required monitoring or testing; failure to conduct required release detection; or failure to construct in compliance with a permit, $2,000.

(e) For failure to maintain required staff to respond to emergencies; failure to conduct required training; failure to prepare, maintain, or update required contingency plans; failure to adequately respond to emergencies to bring an emergency situation under control; or failure to submit required notification to the department, $1,000.

(f) For failure to prepare, submit, maintain, or use required reports or other required documentation, $500.

(5) For failure to comply with any other departmental regulatory statute or rule requirement not otherwise identified in this section, the department may assess a penalty of $500.

(6) For each additional day during which a violation occurs, the administrative penalties in subsection (3), subsection (4), and subsection (5) may be assessed per day per violation.

(7) The history of noncompliance of the violator for any previous violation resulting in an executed consent order, but not including a consent order entered into without a finding of violation, or resulting in a final order or judgment after the effective date of this law involving the imposition of $2,000 or more in penalties shall be taken into consideration in the following manner:

(a) One previous such violation within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 25 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(b) Two previous such violations within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 50 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(c) Three or more previous such violations within 5 years prior to the filing of the notice of violation will result in a 100 percent per day increase in the scheduled administrative penalty.

(8) The direct economic benefit gained by the violator from the violation, where consideration of economic benefit is provided by Florida law or required by federal law as part of a federally delegated or approved program, shall be added to the scheduled administrative penalty. The total administrative penalty, including any economic benefit added to the scheduled administrative penalty, shall not exceed $10,000.

(9) The administrative penalties assessed for any particular violation as described in subsection (8) shall not exceed $5,000 against any one violator, unless the violator has a history of noncompliance, the economic benefit of the violation exceeds $5,000, or there are multi-day violations. The total administrative penalties shall not exceed $10,000 per assessment for all violations attributable to a specific person in the notice of violation.

(10) The administrative law judge may receive evidence in mitigation. The penalties identified in subsection (3), subsection (4), and subsection (5) may be reduced up to 50 percent by the administrative law judge for mitigating circumstances, including good faith efforts to comply prior to or after discovery of the violations by the department. Upon an affirmative finding that the violation was caused by circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the respondent and could not have been prevented by respondent's due diligence, the administrative law judge may further reduce the penalty.

(11) Penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund or other trust fund designated by statute and shall be used to fund the restoration of ecosystems, or polluted areas of the state, as defined by the department, to their condition before pollution occurred. The Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium may use a portion of the fund to administer the mediation process provided in paragraph (2)(e) and to contract with private mediators for administrative penalty cases.

(12) The purpose of the administrative penalty schedule and process is to provide a more predictable and efficient manner for individuals and businesses to resolve relatively minor environmental disputes. Subsection (3), subsection (4), subsection (5), subsection (6), or subsection (7) shall not be construed as limiting a state court in the assessment of damages. The administrative penalty schedule does not apply to the judicial imposition of civil penalties in state court as provided in this section.

Section 3. Section 403.131, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.131 Injunctive relief, ~~cumulative~~ remedies.—

(1) The department may institute a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to seek injunctive relief to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule, regulation, permit certification, or order; to enjoin any violation specified in s. 403.161(1); and to seek injunctive relief to prevent irreparable injury to the air, waters, and property, including animal, plant, and aquatic life, of the state and to protect human health, safety, and welfare caused or threatened by any violation.

(2) All the judicial and administrative remedies to recover damages and penalties in this section and s. 403.121 ~~are independent and cumulative except that the judicial and administrative remedies to recover damages~~ are alternative and mutually exclusive.

Section 4. Subsection (3) of section 403.727, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.727 Violations; defenses, penalties, and remedies.—

(3) Violations of the provisions of this act are punishable as follows:

(a) Any person who violates the provisions of this act, the rules or orders of the department, or the conditions of a permit is liable to the state for any damages specified in s. 403.141 and for a civil penalty of not more than $50,000 for each day of continued violation, except as otherwise provided herein. The department may revoke any permit issued to the violator. In any action by the department against a small hazardous waste generator for the improper disposal of hazardous wastes, a rebuttable presumption of improper disposal shall be created if the generator was notified pursuant to s. 403.7234; the generator shall then have the burden of proving that the disposal was proper. If the generator was not so notified, the burden of proving improper disposal shall be placed upon the department.

(b) Any person who knowingly or by exhibiting reckless indifference or gross careless disregard for human health:

1. Transports or causes to be transported any hazardous waste, as defined in s. 403.703, to a facility which does not have a permit when such a permit is required under s. 403.707 or s. 403.722;

2. Disposes of, treats, or stores hazardous waste:

a. At any place but a hazardous waste facility which has a current and valid permit pursuant to s. 403.722;

b. In knowing violation of any material condition or requirement of such permit if such violation has a substantial likelihood of endangering human health, animal or plant life, or property; or

c. In knowing violation of any material condition or requirement of any applicable rule or standard if such violation has a substantial likelihood of endangering human health, animal or plant life, or property;

3. Makes any false statement or representation or knowingly omits material information in any hazardous waste application, label, manifest, record, report, permit, or other document required by this act;

4. Generates, stores, treats, transports, disposes of, or otherwise handles any hazardous waste and who knowingly destroys, alters, conceals, or fails to file any record, application, manifest, report, or other document required to be maintained or filed for purposes of compliance with this act; or is, upon conviction, guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable for the first such conviction by a fine of not more than $50,000 for each day of violation or imprisonment not to exceed 5 years, or both, and for any subsequent conviction by a fine of not more than $100,000 per day of violation or imprisonment of not more than 10 years, or both.

~~(c)1. As used in this paragraph, "Class II violation" means a violation of this part, or the rules promulgated pursuant to this part, which pertains to small quantity generators as defined by applicable department rules and which does not result in a discharge or serious threat of a discharge of hazardous waste to the environment, or does not involve the failure to ensure that groundwater will be protected or that hazardous waste will be destined for and delivered to permitted facilities. Class II violations shall include, but need not be limited to, the failure to submit manifest exception reports in a timely manner, failure to provide a generator's United States Environmental Protection Agency identification number on the manifest, failure to maintain complete personnel training records, and failure to meet inspection schedule requirements for tanks and containers that hold hazardous waste.~~

~~2. In addition to any other judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department may assess a noncompliance fee for any Class II violation by a small quantity generator. For the first and second violations, the fee shall not be assessed until the generator has failed to comply after notice of noncompliance and has been given a reasonable time to comply. If the owner or operator fails after three or more notifications to comply with the requirement to correct the Class II violation, the department may assess the fee without waiting for compliance.~~

~~3. At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the small quantity generator written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69. Once the assessment has become final and effective, the department shall refuse to issue, modify, transfer, or renew a permit or issue an identification number to the facility until the fee has been paid.~~

~~4. Before assessing any noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this paragraph, which shall include a description of activities that constitute Class II violations and the setting of appropriate amounts for the noncompliance fees, based upon the type of violation, but not to exceed $250. Total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month.~~

~~5. The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action that may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this paragraph.~~

~~6. Noncompliance fees collected pursuant to this paragraph shall be deposited in the Ecosystem Management and Restoration Trust Fund. The department may use a portion of the fund to contract for services to help in the collection of fees assessed pursuant to this paragraph.~~

Section 5. Subsections (5) and (6) of section 403.860, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

403.860 Penalties and remedies.—

(5) In addition to any judicial or administrative remedy authorized by this part, the department or a county health department that has received approval by the department pursuant to s. 403.862(1)(c) shall ~~may~~ assess administrative penalties for violations of this section in accordance with s. 403.121 ~~a noncompliance fee for failure of any supplier of water of a public water system to comply with department requirements for the reporting, in the manner and time provided by department rule, of test results for microbiological, inorganic, or organic contaminants; or turbidity, radionucleides, or secondary standards~~.

~~(a) For the first and second violations of the microbiological reporting requirements, and for the first violation of other reporting requirements, the fee shall not be assessed until the department has given the supplier at least 30 days to comply with the reporting requirement. The time shall not begin until the department has given the supplier written notice of the facts alleged to constitute the reporting violation, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to have been violated by the owner or operator, the corrective action needed to bring the facility into compliance, and the potential penalties that may be imposed as a result of the supplier's failure to comply with the notice. For subsequent violations of the microbiological reporting requirements, the department does not have to provide 30-day written notice of the violations prior to assessing a noncompliance fee, provided, however, that if any additional reporting violations occur prior to the expiration of either 30-day notice issued by the department, the department must provide the supplier with a 30-day written notice to correct those violations as well. Upon expiration of 36 months, the department shall reinstate the 30-day notice requirements provided in this subsection prior to assessing a noncompliance fee.~~

~~(b) At the time of assessment of a noncompliance fee, the department shall give the supplier written notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective unless an administrative proceeding is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69.~~

~~(c) Before assessing a noncompliance fee, the department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures and assessment amounts for noncompliance fees authorized by paragraph (a). Noncompliance fees shall be set on a sliding scale based upon the type of violation, the degree of noncompliance, and the potential for harm. Such rules shall also authorize the application of adjustment factors subsequent to initial assessment to increase or decrease the total amount assessed, such as the good faith efforts or the lack of good faith efforts of the supplier to comply with the reporting requirements, the lack of or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the supplier, the economic benefits associated with the supplier's failure to comply with the~~

~~reporting violation, the supplier's previous history of reporting violations, and the supplier's ability to pay the noncompliance fee.~~

~~(d) For microbiological reporting requirements, no noncompliance fee shall exceed $250, and total noncompliance fees assessed shall not exceed $1,000 per assessment for all reporting violations attributable to a specific facility during any one month.~~

~~(e) For violations of reporting requirements other than microbiological, the fee shall be no greater than $50 per day for each day of violation, and the total amount assessed shall not exceed $2,000.~~

~~(f) The department's assessment of a noncompliance fee shall be in lieu of any civil action which may be instituted by the department in a court of competent jurisdiction to impose and recover civil penalties for any violation that resulted in the fee assessment, unless the department initiates a civil action for nonpayment of a fee properly assessed pursuant to this subsection.~~

~~(g) No noncompliance fee may be assessed unless the department has, within 90 days of the reporting violation, provided the supplier written notice of the violation.~~

~~(6) The department is authorized to assess administrative penalties for failure to comply with the requirements of the Florida Safe Drinking Water Act.~~

~~(a) Prior to the assessment of an administrative penalty, the department shall provide the public water system a reasonable amount of time to complete the corrective action necessary to bring the system back into compliance.~~

~~(b)1. At the time of assessment of the administrative penalty, the department shall give the public water system notice setting forth the amount assessed, the specific provision of law, rule, or order alleged to be violated, the facts alleged to constitute the violation, the corrective action needed to bring the party into compliance, and the rights available under chapter 120 to challenge the assessment. The assessment shall be final and effective, unless an administrative hearing is requested within 20 days after receipt of the written notice, and shall be enforceable pursuant to s. 120.69.~~

~~2. The department shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection. The rules shall establish specific procedures for implementing the penalties and shall identify assessment amounts. The rules shall authorize the application of adjustment factors for the purpose of increasing or decreasing the total amount assessed subsequent to initial assessment. Such factors may include the lack or degree of good faith to comply with the requirements, the lack or degree of willfulness or negligence on the part of the owner, the compliance history of the public water system, the economic benefit derived by the failure to comply with the requirements, and the ability to pay.~~

~~(c) The amount of the penalties assessed shall be as follows:~~

~~1. In the case of a public water system serving a population of more than 10,000, the penalty shall be not less than $1,000 per day per violation.~~

~~2. In the case of any other public water system, the penalty shall be adequate to ensure compliance.~~

~~However, the total amount of the penalty assessed on any public water system may not exceed $10,000 per violation.~~

Section 6. Two years after the effective date of this act, the Department of Environmental Protection shall submit a report to the Legislature describing the number of notices of violation issued by the department seeking the imposition of administrative penalties, the amount of administrative penalties obtained by the department, and the efficiencies gained from the provisions of this act.

Section 7. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

And the title is amended as follows:

1. Organic material that exists on the surface of natural mineral soil shall be allowed to be removed to a depth of 3 feet or to the natural mineral soils, whichever is less.

2. All organic material removal pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in an upland site in a manner that will prevent the reintroduction of the material into waters in the state except when spoil material is permitted to be used to create wildlife islands in freshwater bodies of the state when a governmental entity is permitted pursuant to this section to create such islands as a part of a restoration or enhancement project.

3. All activities are performed in a manner consistent with state water quality standards.

4. No activities under this exemption are conducted in wetland areas, as defined by s. 373.019(22), which are supported by a natural soil as shown in applicable U.S. Department of Agriculture county soil surveys, except when a governmental entity is permitted pursuant to s. 369.20 to conduct such activities as a part of a restoration or enhancement project.

and insert in lieu thereof:

(t) A floating vessel platform or floating boat lift either of which floats at all times in the water for the sole purpose of supporting a vessel so that the vessel is out of the water when not in use, provided that:

1. Such structures are wholly contained within a boat slip previously permitted under ss. 403.91-403.929, 1984 Supplement to the Florida Statutes 1983, as amended, or Part IV of chapter 373, or, when associated with a dock that is exempt under this subsection or a permitted dock with no defined boat slip, such structures do not exceed a combined total of 500 square feet, or 200 square feet in an Outstanding Florida Water.

2. Such structures shall not be used for any commercial purpose or for mooring additional vessels that remain in the water when not in use, and shall not substantially impede the flow of water, creat a navigational hazard, or unreasonably infringe upon the traditional, or common law riparian rights of adjacent property owners, as defined in s. 253.141;

3. Such structures shall be constructed and used so as to minimize adverse impacts to submerged lands, wetlands, shellfish areas, aquatic plant and animal species, and other biological communities; including locating such structures in areas where no seagrasses exist if such areas are present adjacent to the dock; and

4. Such structures shall not be constructed in areas specifically prohibited for boat mooring under conditions of a permit issued in accordance with ss. 403.91-403.929, 1984 Supplement to the Florida Statutes 1983, as amended, or Part IV of Chapter 373, or other form of authorization issued by a local government.

Structures that qualify for this exemption are relieved from any requirement to obtain permission to use or occupy lands owned by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund and shall not be subject to any more stringent regulation by any local government. The exemption provided in this paragraph shall be in addition to the exemption provided in paragraph (b). By January 1, 2002, the department shall adopt a general permit by rule for those floating vessel platforms that do not qualify for the exemptions provided in this paragraph, but do not cause significant adverse impacts to occur individually or cumulatively. The issuance of such general permit shall also constitute permission to use or occupy lands owned by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund. Upon the adoption of the rule creating such general permit, no local government shall impose a more stringent regulation on floating vessel platforms covered by such general permit.

4. Results in actuarially justified rate increases on an annual basis:

a. Attributed to the insurer reducing the portion of the premium used to pay claims from the loss ratio standard certified in the last actuarial certification filed by the insurer, in excess of the greater of 50 percent of annual medical trend or 5 percent. At its option, the insurer may file for approval of an actuarially justified new business rate schedule for new insureds and a rate increase for existing insureds that is equal to the rate increase which equals the greater of 150 percent of annual medical trend or 10 percent. Future annual rate increases for existing insureds shall be limited to the greater of 150 percent of the rate increase approved for new insureds or 10 percent until the two rate schedules converge;

b. In excess of the greater of 150 percent of annual medical trend or 10 percent and the company did not comply with the annual filing requirements of s. 627.410(7) or department rule for health maintenance organizations pursuant to s. 641.31. At its option the insurer may file for approval of an actuarially justified new business rate schedule for new insureds and a rate increase for existing insureds that is equal to the rate increase allowed by the preceding sentence. Future annual rate increases for existing insureds shall be limited to the greater of 150 percent of the rate increase approved for new insureds or 10 percent until the two rate schedules converge; or

c. In excess of the greater of 150 percent of annual medical trend or 10 percent on a form or block of pooled forms in which no form is currently available for sale.

(f) Excludes coverage for human immunodeficiency virus infection or acquired immune deficiency syndrome or contains limitations in the benefits payable, or in the terms or conditions of such contract, for human immunodeficiency virus infection or acquired immune deficiency syndrome which are different than those which apply to any other sickness or medical condition.

(2) In determining whether the benefits are reasonable in relation to the premium charged, the department, in accordance with reasonable actuarial techniques, shall consider:

(a) Past loss experience and prospective loss experience within and without this state.

(b) Allocation of expenses.

(c) Risk and contingency margins, along with justification of such margins.

(d) Acquisition costs.

(3) If a health insurance rate filing changes the established rate relationships between insureds, the aggregate effect of such change shall be revenue neutral. The change to the new relationship shall be phased in over a period not to exceed 3 years as approved by the department. The rate filing may also include increases based on overall experience or annual medical trend, or both, which portions shall not be phased in over any period.

(4) In determining medical trend for application of subparagraph (1)(e)4., the department shall

Section 1. Paragraph (a) of subsection (6) of section 627.410, Florida Statutes, is amended, and paragraph (f) is added to subsection (7) of said section, to read:

627.410 Filing, approval of forms.—

(6)(a) An insurer shall not deliver or issue for delivery or renew in this state any health insurance policy form until it has filed with the department a copy of every applicable rating manual, rating schedule, change in rating manual, and change in rating schedule; if rating manuals and rating schedules are not applicable, the insurer must file with the department applicable premium rates and any change in applicable premium rates. This paragraph does not apply to group health insurance policies insuring groups of 51 or more persons, except for Medicare supplement insurance, long-term care insurance, and any coverage under which the increase in claims costs over the lifetime of the contract due to advancing age or duration is prefunded in the premium.

(f) Insurers with fewer than 1,000 nationwide policyholders or insured group members or subscribers covered under any form or pooled group of forms with health insurance coverage, as described in s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., excluding Medicare supplement insurance coverage under part VIII, at the time of a rate filing made pursuant to subparagraph (b)1., may file for an annual rate increase limited to medical trend as adopted by the department pursuant to s. 627.411(5). The filing is in lieu of the actuarial memorandum required for a rate filing prescribed by paragraph (6)(b). The filing must include forms adopted by the department and a certification by an officer of the company that the filing includes all similar forms.

Section 2. Section 627.411, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.411 Grounds for disapproval.—

(1) The department shall disapprove any form filed under s. 627.410, or withdraw any previous approval thereof, only if the form:

(a) Is in any respect in violation of, or does not comply with, this code.

(b) Contains or incorporates by reference, where such incorporation is otherwise permissible, any inconsistent, ambiguous, or misleading clauses, or exceptions and conditions which deceptively affect the risk purported to be assumed in the general coverage of the contract.

(c) Has any title, heading, or other indication of its provisions which is misleading.

(d) Is printed or otherwise reproduced in such manner as to render any material provision of the form substantially illegible.

(e) Is for health insurance, and*:*

1. Provides benefits that ~~which~~ are unreasonable in relation to the premium charged*;*~~,~~

2. Contains provisions that ~~which~~ are unfair or inequitable or contrary to the public policy of this state or that ~~which~~ encourage misrepresentation*;* ~~, or~~

3. Contains provisions that ~~which~~ apply rating practices that ~~which result in premium escalations that are not viable for the policyholder market or~~ result in unfair discrimination pursuant to s. 626.9541(1)(g)2.; ~~in sales practices.~~

4. Results in an actuarially justified rate increase that includes the insurer reducing the portion of the premium used to pay claims from the loss-ratio standard certified in the last actuarial certification filed by the insurer, which rate increase is in excess of the actuarially justified rate increase without such loss-ratio change, by an amount exceeding the greater of 50 percent of annual medical trend or 5 percent;

5. Results in an actuarially justified rate increase that includes the insurer changing established rate relationships between insureds or types of coverage, which rate increase is in excess of the actuarially justified rate increase without such relationship change, to any insured by an amount exceeding the greater of 50 percent of annual medical trend or 5 percent;

6. Results in an actuarially justified rate increase that is in excess of the greater of 150 percent of annual medical trend or 10 percent attributed to the insurer not complying with the annual filing requirements of s. 627.410(7) or department rule adopted under s. 641.31; or

7. Results in an actuarially justified rate increase that is in excess of the greater of 150 percent of annual medical trend or 10 percent on a form or block of pooled forms in which no form is currently available for sale. This provision does not apply to prestandardized Medicare supplement forms.

(f) Excludes coverage for human immunodeficiency virus infection or acquired immune deficiency syndrome or contains limitations in the benefits payable, or in the terms or conditions of such contract, for human immunodeficiency virus infection or acquired immune deficiency syndrome which are different than those which apply to any other sickness or medical condition.

(2) In determining whether the benefits are reasonable in relation to the premium charged, the department, in accordance with reasonable actuarial techniques, shall consider:

(a) Past loss experience and prospective loss experience within and without this state.

(b) Allocation of expenses.

(c) Risk and contingency margins, along with justification of such margins.

(d) Acquisition costs.

(3) If the renewal rate increase to existing insureds at the time of the rate filing would exceed the indicated levels based on the conditions in subparagraph (1)(e)4., subparagraph (1)(e)5., or subparagraph (1)(e)6., the insurer may file for approval of a higher new business rate schedule for new insureds and a rate increase of the amount that is actuarially justified by the aggregate data without such condition, plus the greater of 50 percent of annual medical trend or 5 percent for existing insureds. Future annual rate increases for the existing insureds at the time of the exercise of this provision is limited to the greater of 150 percent of the rate increase approved for new insureds, the greater of 150 percent of medical trend, or 10 percent, until the rate schedules converge. The application of this subsection is not a violation of s. 627.410(6)(d).

(4) If a rate filing changes the established rate relationship between insureds, the aggregate effect of such change shall be revenue neutral. The change to the new relationship shall be phased in under this subsection over a period not to exceed 3 years, as approved by the department.

(5) In determining medical trend for application of subparagraphs (1)(e)4., 5., 6., and 7., the department shall semiannually determine medical trend for each health care market, using reasonable actuarial techniques and standards. The trend must be adopted by the department by rule and determined as follows:

(a) Trend must be determined separately for medical expense; preferred provider organization; Medicare supplement; health maintenance organization; and other coverage for individual, small group, and large group, where applicable.

(b) The department shall survey insurers and health maintenance organizations currently issuing products and representing at least an 80-percent market share based on premiums earned in the state for the most recent calendar year for each of the categories specified in paragraph (a).

(c) Trend must be computed as the average annual medical trend approved for the carriers surveyed, giving appropriate weight to each carrier's statewide market share of earned premiums.

(d) The annual trend is the annual change in claims cost per unit of exposure. Trend includes the combined effect of medical provider price changes, new medical procedures, and technology and cost shifting.

Section 3. Subsection (9) is added to section 627.6515, Florida Statutes, to read:

627.6515 Out-of-state groups.—

(9) For purposes of this section, any insurer that issues any group health insurance policy or group certificate for health insurance to a resident of this state and requires individual underwriting to determine coverage eligibility or premium rates to be charged shall combine the experience of all association-based group policies or association-based group certificates which are substantially similar with respect to type and level of benefits and marketing method issued in this state after the policy form has been in force for a period of 5 years to calculate uniform percentage rate increases. For purposes of this section, policy forms that have different cost-sharing arrangements or different riders are considered to be different policy forms. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to require uniform rates for policies or certificates after their fifth duration, it being the intent and purpose of this law to require uniform percentage rate increases for such policies or certificates. Furthermore, nothing in this subsection shall be construed to eliminate changes in rates by age for attained age policies or certificates. The provisions of this subsection shall apply to policies or certificates issued after July 1, 2001. For purposes of this subsection, a group health policy or group certificate for health insurance means any hospital or medical policy or certificate, hospital or medical service plan contract, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract. The term does not include accident-only, specified disease, individual hospital indemnity, credit, dental-only, vision-only, Medicare supplement, long-term care, or disability income insurance; similar supplemental plans provided under a separate policy, certificate, or contract of insurance, which cannot duplicate coverage under an underlying health plan and are specifically designed to fill gaps in the underlying health plan, coinsurance, or deductibles; coverage issued as a supplement to liability insurance; workers' compensation or similar insurance; or automobile medical-payment insurance.

Section 4. Paragraph (n) of subsection (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection (6) of section 627.6699, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.6699 Employee Health Care Access Act.—

(3) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(n) "Modified community rating" means a method used to develop carrier premiums which spreads financial risk across a large population; allows the use of separate rating factors for age, gender, family composition, tobacco usage, and geographic area as determined under paragraph (5)(j); and allows adjustments for~~: claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage as permitted under subparagraph (6)(b)5.; and~~ administrative and acquisition expenses as permitted under subparagraph (6)(b)5. A carrier may separate the experience of small employer groups with less than 2 eligible employees from the experience of small employer groups with 2 through 50 eligible employees.

(6) RESTRICTIONS RELATING TO PREMIUM RATES.—

(b) For all small employer health benefit plans that are subject to this section and are issued by small employer carriers on or after January 1, 1994, premium rates for health benefit plans subject to this section are subject to the following:

1. Small employer carriers must use a modified community rating methodology in which the premium for each small employer must be determined solely on the basis of the eligible employee's and eligible dependent's gender, age, family composition, tobacco use, or geographic area as determined under paragraph (5)(j) and in which the premium may be adjusted as permitted by subparagraphs 6. ~~5.~~ and 7. ~~6.~~

2. Rating factors related to age, gender, family composition, tobacco use, or geographic location may be developed by each carrier to reflect the carrier's experience. The factors used by carriers are subject to department review and approval.

3. If the modified community rate is determined from two experience pools as authorized by paragraph (3)(n), the rate to be charged to small employer groups of less than 2 eligible employees may not exceed 150 percent of the rate determined for groups of 2 through 50 eligible employees; however, the carrier may charge excess losses of the less than 2 eligible employee experience pool to the experience pool of the 2 through 50 eligible employees so that all losses are allocated and the 150-percent rate limit on the less than 2 eligible employee experience pool is maintained.

4.~~3.~~ Small employer carriers may not modify the rate for a small employer for 12 months from the initial issue date or renewal date, unless the composition of the group changes or benefits are changed. However, a small employer carrier may modify the rate one time prior to 12 months after the initial issue date for a small employer who enrolls under a previously issued group policy that has a common anniversary date for all employers covered under the policy if:

a. The carrier discloses to the employer in a clear and conspicuous manner the date of the first renewal and the fact that the premium may increase on or after that date.

b. The insurer demonstrates to the department that efficiencies in administration are achieved and reflected in the rates charged to small employers covered under the policy.

5.~~4.~~ A carrier may issue a group health insurance policy to a small employer health alliance or other group association with rates that reflect a premium credit for expense savings attributable to administrative activities being performed by the alliance or group association if such expense savings are specifically documented in the insurer's rate filing and are approved by the department. Any such credit may not be based on different morbidity assumptions or on any other factor related to the health status or claims experience of any person covered under the policy. Nothing in this subparagraph exempts an alliance or group association from licensure for any activities that require licensure under the insurance code. A carrier issuing a group health insurance policy to a small employer health alliance or other group association shall allow any properly licensed and appointed agent of that carrier to market and sell the small employer health alliance or other group association policy. Such agent shall be paid the usual and customary commission paid to any agent selling the policy.

6.~~5.~~ Any adjustments in rates for claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage may not be charged to individual employees or dependents. For a small employer's policy, such adjustments may not result in a rate for the small employer which deviates more than 15 percent from the carrier's approved rate. Any such adjustment must be applied uniformly to the rates charged for all employees and dependents of the small employer. A small employer carrier may make an adjustment to a small employer's renewal premium, not to exceed 10 percent annually, due to the claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage of the employees or dependents of the small employer. Semiannually, small group carriers shall report information on forms adopted by rule by the department, to enable the department to monitor the relationship of aggregate adjusted premiums actually charged policyholders by each carrier to the premiums that would have been charged by application of the carrier's approved modified community rates. If the aggregate resulting from the application of such adjustment exceeds the premium that would have been charged by application of the approved modified community rate by 5 percent for the current reporting period, the carrier shall limit the application of such adjustments only to minus adjustments beginning not more than 60 days after the report is sent to the department. For any subsequent reporting period, if the total aggregate adjusted premium actually charged does not exceed the premium that would have been charged by application of the approved modified community rate by 5 percent, the carrier may apply both plus and minus adjustments. A small employer carrier may provide a credit to a small employer's premium based on administrative and acquisition expense differences resulting from the size of the group. Group size administrative and acquisition expense factors may be developed by each carrier to reflect the carrier's experience and are subject to department review and approval.

7.~~6.~~ A small employer carrier rating methodology may include separate rating categories for one dependent child, for two dependent children, and for three or more dependent children for family coverage of employees having a spouse and dependent children or employees having dependent children only. A small employer carrier may have fewer, but not greater, numbers of categories for dependent children than those specified in this subparagraph.

8.~~7.~~ Small employer carriers may not use a composite rating methodology to rate a small employer with fewer than 10 employees. For the purposes of this subparagraph, a "composite rating methodology" means a rating methodology that averages the impact of the rating factors for age and gender in the premiums charged to all of the employees of a small employer.

Section 5. Section 627.9408, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.9408 Rules.—

(1) The department may ~~has authority to~~ adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to administer ~~implement the provisions of~~ this part.

(2) The department may adopt by rule the provisions of the Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in the second quarter of the year 2000 which are not in conflict with the Florida Insurance Code.

Section 6. Paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of section 641.31, Florida Statutes, is amended, and paragraph (f) is added to said subsection, to read:

641.31 Health maintenance contracts.—

(b) Any change in the rate is subject to paragraph (d) and requires at least 30 days' advance written notice to the subscriber. In the case of a group member, there may be a contractual agreement with the health maintenance organization to have the employer provide the required notice to the individual members of the group. This paragraph does not apply to a group contract covering 51 or more persons unless the rate is for any coverage under which the increase in claim costs over the lifetime of the contract due to advancing age or duration is prefunded in the premium.

(f) A health maintenance organization with fewer than 1,000 covered subscribers under all individual or group contracts, at the time of a rate filing, may file for an annual rate increase limited to annual medical trend, as adopted by the department. The filing is in lieu of the actuarial memorandum otherwise required for the rate filing. The filing must include forms adopted by the department and a certification by an officer of the company that the filing includes all similar forms.

Section 7. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) of section 641.3155, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

641.3155 Payment of claims.—

(1)(a) As used in this section, the term "clean claim" for a noninstitutional provider means a claim submitted on a HCFA 1500 form which has no defect or impropriety, including lack of required substantiating documentation for noncontracted providers and suppliers, or particular circumstances requiring special treatment which prevent timely payment from being made on the claim. A claim may not be considered not clean solely because a health maintenance organization refers the claim to a medical specialist within the health maintenance organization for examination. If additional substantiating documentation, such as the medical record or encounter data, is required from a source outside the health maintenance organization, the claim is considered not clean. This paragraph does not apply to claims which include potential coordination of benefits for third-party liability or subrogation, as evidenced by the information provided on the claim form related to coordination of benefits. This definition of "clean claim" is repealed on the effective date of rules adopted by the department which define the term "clean claim."

(b) Absent a written definition that is agreed upon through contract, the term "clean claim" for an institutional claim is a properly and accurately completed paper or electronic billing instrument that consists of the UB-92 data set or its successor with entries stated as mandatory by the National Uniform Billing Committee. This paragraph does not apply to claims which include potential coordination of benefits for third-party liability or subrogation, as evidenced by the information provided on the claim form related to coordination of benefits.

Section 8. Health flex plans.—

(1) INTENT.—The Legislature finds that a significant portion of the residents of this state are not able to obtain affordable health insurance coverage. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature to expand the availability of health care options for lower income uninsured state residents by encouraging health insurers, health maintenance organizations, health care provider sponsored organizations, local governments, health care districts, or other public or private community-based organizations to develop alternative approaches to traditional health insurance which emphasize coverage for basic and preventive health care services. To the maximum extent possible, such options should be coordinated with existing governmental or community-based health services programs in a manner that is consistent with the objectives and requirements of such programs.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

(a) "Agency" means the Agency for Health Care Administration.

(b) "Approved plan" means a health flex plan approved under subsection (3) which guarantees payment by the health plan entity for specified health care services provided to the enrollee.

(c) "Enrollee" means an individual who has been determined eligible for and is receiving health benefits under a health flex plan approved under this section.

(d) "Health care coverage" means payment for health care services covered as benefits under an approved plan or that otherwise provides, either directly or through arrangements with other persons, covered health care services on a prepaid per-capita basis or on a prepaid aggregate fixed-sum basis.

(e) "Health plan entity" means a health insurer, health maintenance organization, health care provider sponsored organization, local government, health care districts, or other public or private community-based organization that develops and implements an approved plan and is responsible for financing and paying all claims by enrollees of the plan.

(3) PILOT PROGRAM.—The agency and the Department of Insurance shall jointly approve or disapprove health flex plans which provide health care coverage for eligible participants residing in the three areas of the state having the highest number of uninsured residents as determined by the agency. A plan may limit or exclude benefits otherwise required by law for insurers offering coverage in this state, cap the total amount of claims paid in 1 year per enrollee, or limit the number of enrollees covered. The agency and the Department of Insurance shall not approve or shall withdraw approval of a plan which:

(a) Contains any ambiguous, inconsistent, or misleading provisions, or exceptions or conditions that deceptively affect or limit the benefits purported to be assumed in the general coverage provided by the plan;

(b) Provides benefits that are unreasonable in relation to the premium charged, contains provisions that are unfair or inequitable or contrary to the public policy of this state or that encourage misrepresentation, or result in unfair discrimination in sales practices; or

(c) Cannot demonstrate that the plan is financially sound and the applicant has the ability to underwrite or finance the benefits provided.

(4) LICENSE NOT REQUIRED.—A health flex plan approved under this section shall not be subject to the licensing requirements of the Florida Insurance Code or chapter 641, Florida Statutes, relating to health maintenance organizations, unless expressly made applicable. However, for the purposes of prohibiting unfair trade practices, health flex plans shall be considered insurance subject to the applicable provisions of part IX of chapter 626, Florida Statutes, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(5) ELIGIBILITY.—Eligibility to enroll in an approved health flex plan is limited to residents of this state who:

(a) Are 64 years of age or younger;

(b) Have a family income equal to or less than 200 percent of the federal poverty level;

(c) Are not covered by a private insurance policy and are not eligible for coverage through a public health insurance program such as Medicare or Medicaid, or other public health care program, including, but not limited to, Kidcare, and have not been covered at any time during the past 6 months; and

(d) Have applied for health care benefits through an approved health flex plan and agree to make any payments required for participation, including, but not limited to, periodic payments and payments due at the time health care services are provided.

(6) RECORDS.—Every health flex plan provider shall maintain reasonable records of its loss, expense, and claims experience and shall make such records reasonably available to enable the agency and the Department of Insurance to monitor and determine the financial viability of the plan, as necessary.

(7) NOTICE.—The denial of coverage by the health plan entity shall be accompanied by the specific reasons for denial, nonrenewal, or cancellation. Notice of nonrenewal or cancellation shall be provided at least 45 days in advance of such nonrenewal or cancellation except that 10 days' written notice shall be given for cancellation due to nonpayment of premiums. If the health plan entity fails to give the required notice, the plan shall remain in effect until notice is appropriately given.

(8) NONENTITLEMENT.—Coverage under an approved health flex plan is not an entitlement and no cause of action shall arise against the state, local governmental entity, or other political subdivision of this state or the agency for failure to make coverage available to eligible persons under this section.

(9) CIVIL ACTIONS.—In addition to an administrative action initiated under subsection (4), the agency may seek any remedy provided by law, including, but not limited to, the remedies provided in s. 812.035, Florida Statutes, if the agency finds that a health plan entity has engaged in any act resulting in injury to an enrollee covered by a plan approved under this section.

Section 9. The Legislature finds that the affordability and availability of health insurance is one of the most important and complex issues in this state and that coverage issued to a state resident under group health insurance policies issued outside the state is an important factor in meeting the needs of the citizens of this state. The Legislature also finds that it is important to ensure that those policies are adequately regulated in order to maintain the quality of the coverage offered to citizens of this state. Therefore, the Workgroup on Out of State Group Policies is hereby created to study the regulatory environment in which these policies are now offered and recommend any statutory changes that may be necessary to maintain the quality of the insurance offered in this state. There shall be four members from the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and four members from the Senate appointed by the President of the Senate. The group shall begin its meetings by July 1, 2001, and complete its meetings by November 15, 2001. Recommendations for suggested legislation shall be delivered to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate by December 15, 2001. At its first meeting, the group shall elect a chair from among its members.

Section 10. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, line 2, through page 2, line 25,
remove from the title of the bill: all of said lines,

and insert in lieu thereof: An act relating to health insurance; amending s. 627.410, F.S.; exempting group health insurance policies insuring groups of a certain size from rate filing requirements; providing alternative rate filing requirements for insurers with less than a specified number of nationwide policyholders or members; amending s. 627.411, F.S.; revising the grounds for the disapproval of insurance policy forms; providing that a health insurance policy form may be disapproved if it results in certain rate increases; specifying allowable new business rates and renewal rates if rate increases exceed certain levels; authorizing the Department of Insurance to determine medical trend for purposes of approving rate filings; amending s. 627.6515, F.S.; providing additional experience requirements and limitations for out-of-state groups; providing construction; amending s. 627.6699, F.S.; revising a definition; allowing carriers to separate the experience of small employer groups with fewer than two employees; revising the rating factors that may be used by small employer carriers; amending s. 627.9408, F.S.; authorizing the department to adopt by rule certain provisions of the Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation, as adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners; amending s. 641.31, F.S.; exempting contracts of group health maintenance organizations covering a specified number of persons from the requirements of filing with the department; providing alternative rate filing requirements for organizations with less than a specified number of subscribers; amending s. 641.3155, F.S.; specifying nonapplication of certain provisions to certain claims; providing for certain health flex plans; providing legislative intent; providing definitions; providing for a pilot program for health flex plans for certain uninsured persons; providing criteria; exempting approved health flex plans from certain licensing requirements; providing criteria for eligibility to enroll in a health flex plan; requiring health flex plan providers to maintain certain records; providing requirements for denial, nonrenewal, or cancellation of coverage; specifying that coverage under an approved health flex plan is not an entitlement; providing for civil actions against health plan entities by the Agency for Health Care Administration under certain circumstances; providing legislative findings; creating the Workgroup on Out of State Group Policies; providing for membership; providing purposes; requiring recommendations for proposed legislation; providing an effective date.

Rep. Berfield moved the adoption of the amendment, which was adopted.

Under Rule 10.13(b), the bill was referred to the Engrossing Clerk.

HB 579—A bill to be entitled An act relating to the Uniform Commercial Code; revising ch. 679, F.S., relating to secured transactions; creating ss. 679.1011, 679.1021, 679.1031, 679.1041, 679.1051, 679.1061, 679.1071, 679.1081, 679.1091, 679.1101, F.S.; providing a short title, definitions, and general concepts; creating ss. 679.2011, 679.2021, 679.2031, 679.2041, 679.2051, 679.2061, 679.2071, 679.2081, 679.209, 679.210, F.S.; providing for the effectiveness and attachment of security agreements; prescribing rights and duties of secured parties; creating ss. 679.3011, 679.3021, 679.3031, 679.3041, 679.3051, 679.3061, 679.3071, 679.3081, 679.091, 679.3101, 679.3111, 679.3121, 679.3131, 679.3141, 679.3151, 679.3161, 679.3171, 679.3181, 679.319, 679.320, 679.321, 679.322, 679.323, 679.324, 679.325, 679.326, 679.327, 679.328, 679.329, 679.330, 679.331, 679.332, 679.333, 679.334, 679.335, 679.336, 679.337, 679.338, 679.340, 679.341, 679.342, F.S.; providing for perfection and priority of security interests; creating ss. 679.40111, 679.4021, 679.4031, 679.4041, 679.4051, 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, 679.409, F.S.; prescribing rights of third parties; creating ss. 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.5031, 679.5041, 679.5051, 679.5061, 679.5071, 679.508, 679.509, 679.510, 679.511, 679.512, 679.513, 679.524, 679.515, 679.516, 679.517, 679.518, 679.519, 679.520, 679.521, 679.522, 679.523, 679.524, 679.525, 679.526, 679.527, F.S.; prescribing filing procedures for perfection of a security interest; providing forms; providing duties and operation of filing office; creating ss. 679.601, 679.602, 679.603, 679.604, 679.605, 679.606, 679.607, 679.608, 679.609, 679.610, 679.611, 679.612, 679.613, 679.614, 679.615, 679.616, 679.617, 679.618, 679.619, 679.620, 679.621, 679.622, 679.623, 679.624, 679.625, 679.626, 679.627, F.S.; prescribing procedures for default and enforcement of security interests; providing for forms; creating ss. 679.701, 679.702, 679.703, 679.704, 679.705, 679.706, 679.707, 679.708, 679.709, F.S.; providing transitional effective dates and savings clause for perfected and unperfected security interests, specified actions, and financing statements; specifying priority of conflicting claims; amending s. 671.105, F.S.; specifying the precedence of law governing the perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of security interests and agricultural liens; amending s. 671.201, F.S.; revising definitions used in the Uniform Commercial Code; amending s. 672.103, F.S.; conforming a cross-reference; amending s. 672.210, F.S.; providing that the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially affects the buyer unless the enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller; amending s. 672.326, F.S.; eliminating provisions relating to consignment sales; amending s. 672.502, F.S.; modifying buyers' rights to goods on a seller's repudiation, failure to deliver, or insolvency; amending s. 672.716, F.S.; providing that, for goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the buyer's right of replevin vests upon acquisition of a special property; amending s. 674.2101, F.S.; conforming a cross-reference; creating s. 675.1181, F.S.; specifying conditions under which an issuer or nominated person has a security interest in a document presented under a letter of credit; amending ss. 677.503, 678.1031, F.S.; conforming cross-references; amending s. 678.1061, F.S.; specifying a condition under which a purchaser has control of a security entitlement; amending s. 678.1101, F.S.; modifying rules that determine a securities intermediary's jurisdiction; amending s. 678.3011, F.S.; providing for delivery of a certificated security to a purchaser; amending s. 678.3021, F.S.; eliminating a requirement that a purchaser of a certificated or uncertificated security receive delivery prior to acquiring all rights in the security; amending s. 678.5101, F.S.; prescribing rights of a purchaser of a security entitlement from an entitlement holder; amending ss. 680.1031, 680.303, 680.307, 680.309, F.S.; conforming cross-references; repealing ss. 679.101, 679.102, 679.103, 679.104,

PART I
GENERAL PROVISIONS

679.1011 Short title.—This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code-Secured Transactions.

679.1021 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter, the term:

(a) "Accession" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that the identity of the original goods is not lost.

(b) "Account," except as used in "account for," means a right to payment of a monetary obligation, whether or not earned by performance, for property that has been or is to be sold, leased, licensed, assigned, or otherwise disposed of; for services rendered or to be rendered; for a policy of insurance issued or to be issued; for a secondary obligation incurred or to be incurred; for energy provided or to be provided; for the use or hire of a vessel under a charter or other contract; arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card; or as winnings in a lottery or other game of chance operated or sponsored by a state, governmental unit of a state, or person licensed or authorized to operate the game by a state or governmental unit of a state. The term includes health-care-insurance receivables. The term does not include rights to payment evidenced by chattel paper or an instrument; commercial tort claims; deposit accounts; investment property; letter-of-credit rights or letters of credit; or rights to payment for money or funds advanced or sold, other than rights arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card.

(c) "Account debtor" means a person obligated on an account, chattel paper, or general intangible. The term does not include persons obligated to pay a negotiable instrument, even if the instrument constitutes part of chattel paper.

(d) "Accounting," except as used in the term "accounting for," means a record:

1. Authenticated by a secured party;

2. Indicating the aggregate unpaid secured obligations as of a date not more than 35 days earlier or 35 days later than the date of the record; and

3. Identifying the components of the obligations in reasonable detail.

(e) "Agricultural lien" means an interest, other than a security interest, in farm products:

1. Which secures payment or performance of an obligation for:

a. Goods or services furnished in connection with a debtor's farming operation; or

b. Rent on real property leased by a debtor in connection with the debtor's farming operation;

2. Which is created by statute in favor of a person who:

a. In the ordinary course of the person's business furnished goods or services to a debtor in connection with a debtor's farming operation; or

b. Leased real property to a debtor in connection with the debtor's farming operation; and

3. Whose effectiveness does not depend on the person's possession of the personal property.

(f) "As-extracted collateral" means:

1. Oil, gas, or other minerals that are subject to a security interest that:

a. Is created by a debtor having an interest in the minerals before extraction; and

b. Attaches to the minerals as extracted; or

2. Accounts arising out of the sale at the wellhead or minehead of oil, gas, or other minerals in which the debtor had an interest before extraction.

(g) "Authenticate" means:

1. To sign; or

2. To execute or otherwise adopt a symbol, or encrypt or similarly process a record in whole or in part, with the present intent of the authenticating person to identify the person and adopt or accept a record.

(h) "Bank" means an organization that is engaged in the business of banking. The term includes savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and trust companies.

(i) "Cash proceeds" means proceeds that are money, checks, deposit accounts, or the like.

(j) "Certificate of title" means a certificate of title with respect to which a statute provides for the security interest in question to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the collateral.

(k) "Chattel paper" means a record or records that evidence both a monetary obligation and a security interest in specific goods, a security interest in specific goods and software used in the goods, a security interest in specific goods and license of software used in the goods, a lease of specific goods, or a lease of specific goods and license of software used in the goods. In this paragraph, "monetary obligation" means a monetary obligation secured by the goods or owed under a lease of the goods and includes a monetary obligation with respect to software used in the goods. The term does not include charters or other contracts involving the use or hire of a vessel or records that evidence a right to payment arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card. If a transaction is evidenced by records that include an instrument or series of instruments, the group of records taken together constitutes chattel paper.

(l) "Collateral" means the property subject to a security interest or agricultural lien. The term includes:

1. Proceeds to which a security interest attaches;

2. Accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, and promissory notes that have been sold; and

3. Goods that are the subject of a consignment.

(m) "Commercial tort claim" means a claim arising in tort with respect to which:

1. The claimant is an organization; or

2. The claimant is an individual and the claim:

a. Arose in the course of the claimant's business or profession; and

b. Does not include damages arising out of personal injury to or the death of an individual.

(n) "Commodity account" means an account maintained by a commodity intermediary in which a commodity contract is carried for a commodity customer.

(o) "Commodity contract" means a commodity futures contract, an option on a commodity futures contract, a commodity option, or another contract if the contract or option is:

1. Traded on or subject to the rules of a board of trade that has been designated as a contract market for such a contract pursuant to federal commodities laws; or

2. Traded on a foreign commodity board of trade, exchange, or market, and is carried on the books of a commodity intermediary for a commodity customer.

(p) "Commodity customer" means a person for which a commodity intermediary carries a commodity contract on its books.

(q) "Commodity intermediary" means a person who:

1. Is registered as a futures commission merchant under federal commodities law; or

2. In the ordinary course of the person's business provides clearance or settlement services for a board of trade that has been designated as a contract market pursuant to federal commodities law.

(r) "Communicate" means:

1. To send a written or other tangible record;

2. To transmit a record by any means agreed upon by the persons sending and receiving the record; or

3. In the case of transmission of a record to or by a filing office, to transmit a record by any means prescribed by filing-office rule.

(s) "Consignee" means a merchant to which goods are delivered in a consignment.

(t) "Consignment" means a transaction, regardless of its form, in which a person delivers goods to a merchant for the purpose of sale and:

1. The merchant:

a. Deals in goods of that kind under a name other than the name of the person making delivery;

b. Is not an auctioneer; and

c. Is not generally known by its creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others;

2. With respect to each delivery, the aggregate value of the goods is $1,000 or more at the time of delivery;

3. The goods are not consumer goods immediately before delivery; and

4. The transaction does not create a security interest that secures an obligation.

(u) "Consignor" means a person who delivers goods to a consignee in a consignment.

(v) "Consumer debtor" means a debtor in a consumer transaction.

(w) "Consumer goods" means goods that are used or bought for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(x) "Consumer-goods transaction" means a consumer transaction in which:

1. An individual incurs an obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; and

2. A security interest in consumer goods secures the obligation.

(y) "Consumer obligor" means an obligor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation as part of a transaction entered into primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(z) "Consumer transaction" means a transaction in which an individual incurs an obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; a security interest secures the obligation; and the collateral is held or acquired primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. The term includes consumer-goods transactions.

(aa) "Continuation statement" means an amendment of a financing statement which:

1. Identifies, by its file number, the initial financing statement to which it relates; and

2. Indicates that it is a continuation statement for, or that it is filed to continue the effectiveness of, the identified financing statement.

(bb) "Debtor" means:

1. A person having an interest, other than a security interest or other lien, in the collateral, whether or not the person is an obligor;

2. A seller of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes; or

3. A consignee.

(cc) "Deposit account" means a demand, time, savings, passbook, or similar account maintained with a bank. The term does not include investment property or accounts evidenced by an instrument.

(dd) "Document" means a document of title or a receipt of the type described in s. 677.201(2).

(ee) "Electronic chattel paper" means chattel paper evidenced by a record or records consisting of information stored in an electronic medium.

(ff) "Encumbrance" means a right, other than an ownership interest, in real property. The term includes mortgages and other liens on real property.

(gg) "Equipment" means goods other than inventory, farm products, or consumer goods.

(hh) "Farm products" means goods, other than standing timber, with respect to which the debtor is engaged in a farming operation and which are:

1. Crops grown, growing, or to be grown, including:

a. Crops produced on trees, vines, and bushes; and

b. Aquatic goods produced in aquacultural operations;

2. Livestock, born or unborn, including aquatic goods produced in aquacultural operations;

3. Supplies used or produced in a farming operation; or

4. Products of crops or livestock in their unmanufactured states.

(ii) "Farming operation" means raising, cultivating, propagating, fattening, grazing, or any other farming, livestock, or aquacultural operation.

(jj) "File number" means the number assigned to an initial financing statement pursuant to s. 679.519(1).

(kk) "Filing office" means an office designated in s. 679.5011 as the place to file a financing statement.

(ll) "Filing-office rule" means a rule adopted pursuant to s. 679.526.

(mm) "Financing statement" means a record or records composed of an initial financing statement and any filed record relating to the initial financing statement.

(nn) "Fixture filing" means the filing of a financing statement covering goods that are or are to become fixtures and satisfying s. 679.502(1) and (2). The term includes the filing of a financing statement covering goods of a transmitting utility which are or are to become fixtures.

(oo) "Fixtures" means goods that have become so related to particular real property that an interest in them arises under real property law.

(pp) "General intangible" means any personal property, including things in action, other than accounts, chattel paper, commercial tort claims, deposit accounts, documents, goods, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, letters of credit, money, and oil, gas, or other minerals before extraction. The term includes payment intangibles and software.

(qq) "Good faith" means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing.

(rr) "Goods" means all things that are movable when a security interest attaches. The term includes fixtures; standing timber that is to be cut and removed under a conveyance or contract for sale; the unborn young of animals; crops grown, growing, or to be grown, even if the crops are produced on trees, vines, or bushes; and manufactured homes. The term also includes a computer program embedded in goods and any supporting information provided in connection with a transaction relating to the program if the program is associated with the goods in such a manner that it customarily is considered part of the goods, or by becoming the owner of the goods, a person acquires a right to use the program in connection with the goods. The term does not include a computer program embedded in goods that consist solely of the medium in which the program is embedded. The term also does not include accounts, chattel paper, commercial tort claims, deposit accounts, documents, general intangibles, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, letters of credit, money, or oil, gas, or other minerals before extraction.

(ss) "Governmental unit" means a subdivision, agency, department, county, parish, municipality, or other unit of the government of the United States, a state, or a foreign country. The term includes an organization having a separate corporate existence if the organization is eligible to issue debt on which interest is exempt from income taxation under the laws of the United States.

(tt) "Health-care-insurance receivable" means an interest in or claim under a policy of insurance which is a right to payment of a monetary obligation for health-care goods or services provided.

(uu) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument or any other writing that evidences a right to the payment of a monetary obligation, is not itself a security agreement or lease, and is of a type that in the ordinary course of business is transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment. The term does not include investment property, letters of credit, or writings that evidence a right to payment arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card.

(vv) "Inventory" means goods, other than farm products, which:

1. Are leased by a person as lessor;

2. Are held by a person for sale or lease or to be furnished under a contract of service;

3. Are furnished by a person under a contract of service; or

4. Consist of raw materials, work in process, or materials used or consumed in a business.

(ww) "Investment property" means a security, whether certificated or uncertificated, security entitlement, securities account, commodity contract, or commodity account.

(xx) "Jurisdiction of organization," with respect to a registered organization, means the jurisdiction under whose law the organization is organized.

(yy) "Letter-of-credit right" means a right to payment or performance under a letter of credit, whether or not the beneficiary has demanded or is at the time entitled to demand payment or performance. The term does not include the right of a beneficiary to demand payment or performance under a letter of credit.

(zz) "Lien creditor" means:

1. A creditor that has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy, or the like;

2. An assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment;

3. A trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition; or

4. A receiver in equity from the time of appointment.

(aaa) "Manufactured home" means a structure, transportable in one or more sections, which, in the traveling mode, is eight body feet or more in width or 40 body feet or more in length, or, when erected on site, is 320 or more square feet, and which is built on a permanent chassis and designed to be used as a dwelling with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities, and includes the plumbing, heating, air-conditioning, and electrical systems contained therein. The term includes any structure that meets all of the requirements of this paragraph except the size requirements and with respect to which the manufacturer voluntarily files a certification required by the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development and complies with the standards established under Title 42 of the United States Code.

(bbb) "Manufactured-home transaction" means a secured transaction:

1. That creates a purchase-money security interest in a manufactured home, other than a manufactured home held as inventory; or

2. In which a manufactured home, other than a manufactured home held as inventory, is the primary collateral.

(ccc) "Mortgage" means a consensual interest in real property, including fixtures, which secures payment or performance of an obligation, which interest was created or derived from an instrument described in s. 697.01.

(ddd) "New debtor" means a person who becomes bound as debtor under s. 679.2031(4) by a security agreement previously entered into by another person.

(eee) "New value" means money; money's worth in property, services, or new credit; or release by a transferee of an interest in property previously transferred to the transferee. The term does not include an obligation substituted for another obligation.

(fff) "Noncash proceeds" means proceeds other than cash proceeds.

(ggg) "Obligor" means a person who, with respect to an obligation secured by a security interest in or an agricultural lien on the collateral, owes payment or other performance of the obligation, has provided property other than the collateral to secure payment or other performance of the obligation, or is otherwise accountable in whole or in part for payment or other performance of the obligation. The term does not include issuers or nominated persons under a letter of credit.

(hhh) "Original debtor," except as used in s. 679.3101(3), means a person who, as debtor, entered into a security agreement to which a new debtor has become bound under s. 679.2031(4).

(iii) "Payment intangible" means a general intangible under which the account debtor's principal obligation is a monetary obligation.

(jjj) "Person related to," with respect to an individual, means:

1. The spouse of the individual;

2. A brother, brother-in-law, sister, or sister-in-law of the individual;

3. An ancestor or lineal descendant of the individual or the individual's spouse; or

4. Any other relative, by blood or marriage, of the individual or the individual's spouse who shares the same home with the individual.

(kkk) "Person related to," with respect to an organization, means:

1. A person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the organization;

2. An officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions with respect to, the organization;

3. An officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions with respect to, a person described in subparagraph 1.;

4. The spouse of an individual described in subparagraph 1., subparagraph 2., or subparagraph 3.; or

5. An individual who is related by blood or marriage to an individual described in subparagraph 1., subparagraph 2., subparagraph 3., or subparagraph 4. and shares the same home with the individual.

(lll) "Proceeds," except as used in s. 679.609(2), means the following property:

1. Whatever is acquired upon the sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition of collateral;

2. Whatever is collected on, or distributed on account of, collateral;

3. Rights arising out of collateral;

4. To the extent of the value of collateral, claims arising out of the loss, nonconformity, or interference with the use of, defects or infringement of rights in, or damage to, the collateral; or

5. To the extent of the value of collateral and to the extent payable to the debtor or the secured party, insurance payable by reason of the loss or nonconformity of, defects or infringement of rights in, or damage to, the collateral.

(mmm) "Promissory note" means an instrument that evidences a promise to pay a monetary obligation, does not evidence an order to pay, and does not contain an acknowledgment by a bank that the bank has received for deposit a sum of money or funds.

(nnn) "Proposal" means a record authenticated by a secured party which includes the terms on which the secured party is willing to accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures pursuant to ss. 679.620, 679.621, and 679.622.

(ooo) "Public-finance transaction" means a secured transaction in connection with which:

1. Debt securities are issued;

2. All or a portion of the securities issued have an initial stated maturity of at least 20 years; and

3. The debtor, obligor, secured party, account debtor or other person obligated on collateral, assignor or assignee of a secured obligation, or assignor or assignee of a security interest is a state or a governmental unit of a state.

(ppp) "Pursuant to commitment," with respect to an advance made or other value given by a secured party, means pursuant to the secured party's obligation, whether or not a subsequent event of default or other event not within the secured party's control has relieved or may relieve the secured party from its obligation.

(qqq) "Record," except as used in the terms "for record," "of record," "record or legal title," and "record owner," means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

(rrr) "Registered organization" means an organization organized solely under the law of a single state or the United States and as to which the state or the United States must maintain a public record showing the organization to have been organized.

(sss) "Secondary obligor" means an obligor to the extent that:

1. The obligor's obligation is secondary; or

2. The obligor has a right of recourse with respect to an obligation secured by collateral against the debtor, another obligor, or property of either.

(ttt) "Secured party" means:

1. A person in whose favor a security interest is created or provided for under a security agreement, whether or not any obligation to be secured is outstanding;

2. A person who holds an agricultural lien;

3. A consignor;

4. A person to whom accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes have been sold;

5. A trustee, indenture trustee, agent, collateral agent, or other representative in whose favor a security interest or agricultural lien is created or provided for; or

6. A person who holds a security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), s. 680.508(5), s. 674.2101, or s. 675.118.

(3) Chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

679.1031 Purchase-money security interest; application of payments; burden of establishing.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Purchase-money collateral" means goods or software that secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to that collateral.

(b) "Purchase-money obligation" means an obligation of an obligor incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral or for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of the collateral if the value is in fact so used.

(2) A security interest in goods is a purchase-money security interest:

(a) To the extent that the goods are purchase-money collateral with respect to that security interest;

(b) If the security interest is in inventory that is or was purchase-money collateral, also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to other inventory in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest; and

(c) Also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to software in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest.

(3) A security interest in software is a purchase-money security interest to the extent that the security interest also secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to goods in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest if:

(a) The debtor acquired interest in the software in an integrated transaction in which the debtor acquired an interest in the goods; and

(b) The debtor acquired interest in the software for the principal purpose of using the software in the goods.

(4) The security interest of a consignor in goods that are the subject of a consignment is a purchase-money security interest in inventory.

(5) If the extent to which a security interest is a purchase-money security interest depends on the application of a payment to a particular obligation, the payment must be applied:

(a) In accordance with any reasonable method of application to which the parties agree;

(b) In the absence of the parties' agreement to a reasonable method, in accordance with any intention of the obligor manifested at or before the time of payment; or

(c) In the absence of an agreement to a reasonable method and a timely manifestation of the obligor's intention, in the following order:

1. To obligations that are not secured; and

2. If more than one obligation is secured, to obligations secured by purchase-money security interests in the order in which those obligations were incurred.

(6) A purchase-money security interest does not lose its status as such, even if:

(a) The purchase-money collateral also secures an obligation that is not a purchase-money obligation;

(b) Collateral that is not purchase-money collateral also secures the purchase-money obligation; or

(c) The purchase-money obligation has been renewed, refinanced, consolidated, or restructured.

(7) A secured party claiming a purchase-money security interest has the burden of establishing the extent to which the security interest is a purchase-money security interest.

679.1041 Control of deposit account.—

(1) A secured party has control of a deposit account if:

(a) The secured party is the bank with which the deposit account is maintained;

(b) The debtor, secured party, and bank have agreed in an authenticated record that the bank will comply with instructions originated by the secured party directing disposition of the funds in the deposit account without further consent by the debtor; or

(c) The secured party becomes the bank's customer with respect to the deposit account.

(2) A secured party that has satisfied subsection (1) has control, even if the debtor retains the right to direct the disposition of funds from the deposit account.

679.1051 Control of electronic chattel paper.—A secured party has control of electronic chattel paper if the record or records comprising the chattel paper are created, stored, and assigned in such a manner that:

(1) A single authoritative copy of the record or records exists which is unique, identifiable and, except as otherwise provided in subsections (4), (5), and (6), unalterable;

(2) The authoritative copy identifies the secured party as the assignee of the record or records;

(3) The authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the secured party or its designated custodian;

(4) Copies or revisions that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the participation of the secured party;

(5) Each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and

(6) Any revision of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as an authorized or unauthorized revision.

679.1061 Control of investment property.—

(1) A person has control of a certificated security, uncertificated security, or security entitlement as provided in s. 678.1061.

(2) A secured party has control of a commodity contract if:

(a) The secured party is the commodity intermediary with which the commodity contract is carried; or

(b) The commodity customer, secured party, and commodity intermediary have agreed that the commodity intermediary will apply any value distributed on account of the commodity contract as directed by the secured party without further consent by the commodity customer.

(3) A secured party having control of all security entitlements or commodity contracts carried in a securities account or commodity account has control over the securities account or commodity account.

679.1071 Control of letter-of-credit right.—A secured party has control of a letter-of-credit right to the extent of any right to payment or performance by the issuer or any nominated person if the issuer or nominated person has consented to an assignment of proceeds of the letter of credit under s. 675.114(3) or otherwise applicable law or practice.

679.1081 Sufficiency of description.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided herein and in subsections (3), (4), and (5), a description of personal or real property is sufficient, whether or not it is specific, if it reasonably identifies what is described. A description of real estate in a record filed to perfect a security interest in crops growing or to be grown or goods which are or are to become fixtures shall be sufficient only if the filing or recording of the same constitutes constructive notice under the laws of this state, other than this chapter, which are applicable to the filing or recording of a record of a mortgage, and a mailing or street address alone shall not be sufficient.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a description of collateral reasonably identifies the collateral if it identifies the collateral by:

(a) Specific listing;

(b) Category;

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a type of collateral defined in the Uniform Commercial Code;

(d) Quantity;

(e) Computational or allocational formula or procedure; or

(f) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), any other method, if the identity of the collateral is objectively determinable.

(3) A description of collateral as "all the debtor's assets" or "all the debtor's personal property" or using words of similar import does not reasonably identify the collateral for purposes of the security agreement.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a description of a security entitlement, securities account, or commodity account is sufficient if it describes:

(a) The collateral by those terms or as investment property; or

(b) The underlying financial asset or commodity contract.

(5) A description only by type of collateral defined in the Uniform Commercial Code is an insufficient description of:

(a) A commercial tort claim; or

(b) In a consumer transaction, consumer goods, a security entitlement, a securities account, or a commodity account.

679.1091 Scope.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), this chapter applies to:

(a) A transaction, regardless of its form, that creates a security interest in personal property or fixtures by contract;

(b) An agricultural lien;

(c) A sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes;

(d) A consignment;

(e) A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.502, s. 672.711, or s. 680.508(5), as provided in s. 679.1101; and

(f) A security interest arising under s. 674.2101 or s. 675.118.

(2) The application of this chapter to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this chapter does not apply.

(3) This chapter does not apply to the extent that:

(a) A statute, regulation, or treaty of the United States preempts this chapter;

(b) Another statute of this state expressly governs the creation, perfection, priority, or enforcement of a security interest created by this state or a governmental unit of this state;

(c) A statute of another state, a foreign country, or a governmental unit of another state or a foreign country, other than a statute generally applicable to security interests, expressly governs creation, perfection, priority, or enforcement of a security interest created by the state, country, or governmental unit; or

(d) The rights of a transferee beneficiary or nominated person under a letter of credit are independent and superior under s. 675.114.

(4) This chapter does not apply to:

(a) A landlord's lien, other than an agricultural lien;

(b) A lien, other than an agricultural lien, given by statute or other rule of law for services or materials, but s. 679.333 applies with respect to priority of the lien;

(c) An assignment of a claim for wages, salary, or other compensation of an employee;

(d) A sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose;

(e) An assignment of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes which is for the purpose of collection only;

(f) An assignment of a right to payment under a contract to an assignee that is also obligated to perform under the contract;

(g) An assignment of a single account, payment intangible, or promissory note to an assignee in full or partial satisfaction of a preexisting indebtedness;

(h) A transfer of an interest in or an assignment of a claim under a policy of insurance, other than an assignment by or to a health-care provider of a health-care-insurance receivable and any subsequent assignment of the right to payment, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds;

(i) An assignment of a right represented by a judgment, other than a judgment taken on a right to payment that was collateral;

(j) A right of recoupment or set-off, but:

1. Section 679.340 applies with respect to the effectiveness of rights of recoupment or set-off against deposit accounts; and

2. Section 679.4041 applies with respect to defenses or claims of an account debtor;

(k) The creation or transfer of an interest in or lien on real property, including a lease or rents thereunder, except to the extent that provision is made for:

1. Liens on real property in ss. 679.2031 and 679.3081;

2. Fixtures in s. 679.334;

3. Fixture filings in ss. 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.512, 679.516, and 679.519; and

4. Security agreements covering personal and real property in s. 679.604;

(l) An assignment of a claim arising in tort, other than a commercial tort claim, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds;

(m) An assignment of a deposit account, other than a non-negotiable certificate of deposit, in a consumer transaction, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds; or

(n) Any transfer by a governmental unit.

679.1101 Security interests arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680.—A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), or s. 680.508(5) is subject to this chapter. However, until the debtor obtains possession of the goods:

(1) The security interest is enforceable, even if s. 679.2031(2)(c) has not been satisfied;

(2) Filing is not required to perfect the security interest;

(3) The rights of the secured party after default by the debtor are governed by chapter 672 or chapter 680; and

(4) The security interest has priority over a conflicting security interest created by the debtor.

Section 2. Part II of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.201, 679.202, 679.203, 679.204, 679.205, 679.206, 679.207, and 679.208, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part II of that chapter, consisting of sections 679.2011, 679.2021, 679.2031, 670.2041, 679.2051, 679.2061, 679.2071, 679.2081, 679.209, and 679.210, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART II
EFFECTIVENESS OF SECURITY AGREEMENT;
ATTACHMENT OF SECURITY INTEREST;
RIGHTS OF PARTIES TO SECURITY AGREEMENT

679.2011 General effectiveness of security agreement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in the Uniform Commercial Code, a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral, and against creditors.

(2) Nothing in this chapter validates any charge or practice illegal under any statute or regulation thereunder governing usury, small loans, retail installment sales, or the like, or extends the application of any such statute or regulation to any transaction not otherwise subject thereto. A transaction, although subject to this chapter, is also subject to chapters 516 and 520, and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and any such statute, the provisions of such statute shall control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified therein.

679.2021 Title to collateral immaterial.—Except as otherwise provided with respect to consignments or sales of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes, the provisions of this chapter with regard to rights and obligations apply whether title to collateral is in the secured party or the debtor.

679.2031 Attachment and enforceability of security interest; proceeds; supporting obligations; formal requisites.—

(1) A security interest attaches to collateral when it becomes enforceable against the debtor with respect to the collateral, unless an agreement expressly postpones the time of attachment.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) through (9), a security interest is enforceable against the debtor and third parties with respect to the collateral only if:

(a) Value has been given;

(b) The debtor has rights in the collateral or the power to transfer rights in the collateral to a secured party; and

(c) One of the following conditions is met:

1. The debtor has authenticated a security agreement that provides a description of the collateral and, if the security interest covers timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned;

2. The collateral is not a certificated security and is in the possession of the secured party under s. 679.3131 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement;

3. The collateral is a certificated security in registered form and the security certificate has been delivered to the secured party under S. 678.3011 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement; or

4. The collateral is deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights, and the secured party has control under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement.

(3) Subsection (2) is subject to s. 674.2101 on the security interest of a collecting bank, s. 675.118 on the security interest of a letter-of-credit issuer or nominated person, s. 679.1101 on a security interest arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680, and s. 679.2061 on security interests in investment property.

(4) A person becomes bound as debtor by a security agreement entered into by another person if, by operation of law other than this chapter or by contract:

(a) The security agreement becomes effective to create a security interest in the person's property; or

(b) The person becomes generally obligated for the obligations of the other person, including the obligation secured under the security agreement, and acquires or succeeds to all or substantially all of the assets of the other person.

(5) If a new debtor becomes bound as debtor by a security agreement entered into by another person:

(a) The agreement satisfies subsection (2)(c) with respect to existing or after-acquired property of the new debtor to the extent the property is described in the agreement; and

(b) Another agreement is not necessary to make a security interest in the property enforceable.

(6) The attachment of a security interest in collateral gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by s. 679.3151 and is also attachment of a security interest in a supporting obligation for the collateral.

(7) The attachment of a security interest in a right to payment or performance secured by a security interest or other lien on personal or real property is also attachment of a security interest in the security interest, mortgage, or other lien.

(8) The attachment of a security interest in a securities account is also attachment of a security interest in the security entitlements carried in the securities account.

(9) The attachment of a security interest in a commodity account is also attachment of a security interest in the commodity contracts carried in the commodity account.

679.2041 After-acquired property; future advances.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a security agreement may create or provide for a security interest in after-acquired collateral.

(2) A security interest does not attach under a term constituting an after-acquired property clause to:

(a) Consumer goods, other than an accession when given as additional security, unless the debtor acquires rights in them within 10 days after the secured party gives value; or

(b) A commercial tort claim.

(3) A security agreement may provide that collateral secures, or that accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes are sold in connection with, future advances or other value, whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment.

679.2051 Use or disposition of collateral permissible.—

(1) A security interest is not invalid or fraudulent against creditors solely because:

(a) The debtor has the right or ability to:

1. Use, commingle, or dispose of all or part of the collateral, including returned or repossessed goods;

2. Collect, compromise, enforce, or otherwise deal with collateral;

3. Accept the return of collateral or make repossessions; or

4. Use, commingle, or dispose of proceeds; or

(b) The secured party fails to require the debtor to account for proceeds or replace collateral.

(2) This section does not relax the requirements of possession if attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by the secured party.

679.2061 Security interest arising in purchase or delivery of financial asset.—

(1) A security interest in favor of a securities intermediary attaches to a person's security entitlement if:

(a) The person buys a financial asset through the securities intermediary in a transaction in which the person is obligated to pay the purchase price to the securities intermediary at the time of the purchase; and

(b) The securities intermediary credits the financial asset to the buyer's securities account before the buyer pays the securities intermediary.

(2) The security interest described in subsection (1) secures the person's obligation to pay for the financial asset.

(3) A security interest in favor of a person who delivers a certificated security or other financial asset represented by a writing attaches to the security or other financial asset if:

(a) The security or other financial asset:

1. In the ordinary course of business is transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment; and

2. Is delivered under an agreement between persons in the business of dealing with such securities or financial assets; and

(b) The agreement calls for delivery against payment.

(4) The security interest described in subsection (3) secures the obligation to make payment for the delivery.

679.2071 Rights and duties of secured party having possession or control of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party shall use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in the secured party's possession. In the case of chattel paper or an instrument, reasonable care includes taking necessary steps to preserve rights against prior parties unless otherwise agreed.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), if a secured party has possession of collateral:

(a) Reasonable expenses, including the cost of insurance and payment of taxes or other charges, incurred in the custody, preservation, use, or operation of the collateral are chargeable to the debtor and are secured by the collateral;

(b) The risk of accidental loss or damage is on the debtor to the extent of a deficiency in any effective insurance coverage;

(c) The secured party shall keep the collateral identifiable, but fungible collateral may be commingled; and

(d) The secured party may use or operate the collateral:

1. For the purpose of preserving the collateral or its value;

2. As permitted by an order of a court having competent jurisdiction; or

3. Except in the case of consumer goods, in the manner and to the extent agreed by the debtor.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party having possession of collateral or control of collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071:

(a) May hold as additional security any proceeds, except money or funds, received from the collateral;

(b) Shall apply money or funds received from the collateral to reduce the secured obligation, unless remitted to the debtor; and

(c) May create a security interest in the collateral.

(4) If the secured party is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor:

(a) Subsection (1) does not apply unless the secured party is entitled under an agreement:

1. To charge back uncollected collateral; or

2. Otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor based on the nonpayment or other default of an account debtor or other obligor on the collateral; and

(b) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply.

679.2081 Additional duties of secured party having control of collateral.—

(1) This section applies to cases in which there is no outstanding secured obligation and the secured party is not committed to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value.

(2) Within 10 days after receiving an authenticated demand by the debtor:

(a) A secured party having control of a deposit account under s. 679.1041(1)(b) shall send to the bank with which the deposit account is maintained an authenticated statement that releases the bank from any further obligation to comply with instructions originated by the secured party;

(b) A secured party having control of a deposit account under s. 679.1041(1)(c) shall:

1. Pay the debtor the balance on deposit in the deposit account; or

2. Transfer the balance on deposit into a deposit account in the debtor's name;

(c) A secured party, other than a buyer, having control of electronic chattel paper under s. 679.1051 shall:

1. Communicate the authoritative copy of the electronic chattel paper to the debtor or its designated custodian;

2. If the debtor designates a custodian that is the designated custodian with which the authoritative copy of the electronic chattel paper is maintained for the secured party, communicate to the custodian an authenticated record releasing the designated custodian from any further obligation to comply with instructions originated by the secured party and instructing the custodian to comply with instructions originated by the debtor; and

3. Take appropriate action to enable the debtor or the debtor's designated custodian to make copies of or revisions to the authoritative copy which add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy without the consent of the secured party;

(d) A secured party having control of investment property under s. 678.1061(4)(b) or s. 679.1061(2) shall send to the securities intermediary or commodity intermediary with which the security entitlement or commodity contract is maintained an authenticated record that releases the securities intermediary or commodity intermediary from any further obligation to comply with entitlement orders or directions originated by the secured party; and

(e) A secured party having control of a letter-of-credit right under s. 679.1071 shall send to each person having an unfulfilled obligation to pay or deliver proceeds of the letter of credit to the secured party an authenticated release from any further obligation to pay or deliver proceeds of the letter of credit to the secured party.

679.209 Duties of secured party if account debtor has been notified of assignment.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), this section applies if:

(a) There is no outstanding secured obligation; and

(b) The secured party is not committed to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value.

(2) Within 10 days after receiving an authenticated demand by the debtor, a secured party shall send to an account debtor that has received notification of an assignment to the secured party as assignee under s. 679.4061(1) an authenticated record that releases the account debtor from any further obligation to the secured party.

(3) This section does not apply to an assignment constituting the sale of an account, chattel paper, or payment intangible.

679.210 Request for accounting; request regarding list of collateral or statement of account.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Request" means a record of a type described in paragraph (b), paragraph (c), or paragraph (d).

(b) "Request for an accounting" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient provide an accounting of the unpaid obligations secured by collateral and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(c) "Request regarding a list of collateral" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient approve or correct a list of what the debtor believes to be the collateral securing an obligation and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(d) "Request regarding a statement of account" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient approve or correct a statement indicating what the debtor believes to be the aggregate amount of unpaid obligations secured by collateral as of a specified date and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(e) "Reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship" means that the request provides information sufficient for the person to identify the transaction or relationship and respond to the request. Pursuant to s. 679.603(1), a secured party and debtor may determine by agreement the standards for measuring fulfillment of this duty.

(f) "Person" means a person or entity that is or was a secured party or otherwise claims or has claimed an interest in the collateral.

(2) Subject to subsections (3), (4), (5), and (6), a secured party, other than a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor, shall comply with a request within 14 days after receipt:

(a) In the case of a request for an accounting, by authenticating and sending to the debtor an accounting; and

(b) In the case of a request regarding a list of collateral or a request regarding a statement of account, by authenticating and sending to the debtor an approval or correction.

(3) A secured party that claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor may comply with a request regarding a list of collateral by sending to the debtor an authenticated record including a statement to that effect within 14 days after receipt.

(4) A person who receives a request regarding a list of collateral, claims no interest in the collateral when the request is received, and claimed an interest in the collateral at an earlier time shall comply with the request within 14 days after receipt by sending to the debtor an authenticated record:

(a) Disclaiming any interest in the collateral; and

(b) If known to the recipient, providing the name and mailing address of any assignee of or successor to the recipient's interest in the collateral.

(5) A person who receives a request for an accounting or a request regarding a statement of account, claims no interest in the obligations when the request is received, and claimed an interest in the obligations at an earlier time shall comply with the request within 14 days after receipt by sending to the debtor an authenticated record:

(a) Disclaiming any interest in the obligations; and

(b) If known to the recipient, providing the name and mailing address of any assignee of or successor to the recipient's interest in the obligations.

(6) A debtor is entitled under this section without charge to one response to a request for an accounting or a request regarding a statement of account for each secured obligation during any 6-month period. A debtor in a consumer transaction is entitled to a single response to a request regarding a list of collateral, for a transaction other than a consumer transaction, without charge during any 6-month period. The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $25 for each additional response to a request for an accounting, a request regarding a statement of account, or a request regarding a list of collateral for a consumer transaction. To the extent provided in an authenticated record, the secured party may require the payment of reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, reasonably incurred in providing a response to a request regarding a list of collateral for a transaction other than a consumer transaction under this section; otherwise, the secured party may not charge more than $25 for each request regarding a list of collateral. Excluding a request related to a proposed satisfaction of the secured obligation, a secured party is not required to respond to more than 12 of each of the permitted requests in any 12-month period.

Section 3. Part III of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.301, 679.302, 679.303, 679.304, 690.305, 679.306, 679.307, 679.308, 679.309, 679.310, 679.311, 679.312, 679.313, 679.314, 679.315, 679.316, 679.317, and 679.318, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part III of that chapter, consisting of sections 679.3011, 679.3021, 679.3031, 679.3041, 690.3051, 679.3061, 679.3071, 679.3081, 679.3091, 679.3101, 679.3111, 679.3121, 679.3131, 679.3141, 679.3151, 679.3161, 679.3171, 679.3181, 679.319, 679.320, 679.321, 679.322, 679.323, 679.324, 679.325, 679.326, 679.327, 679.328, 679.329, 679.330, 679.331, 679.332, 679.333, 679.334, 679.335, 679.336, 679.337, 679.3381, 679.339, 679.340, 679.341, and 679.342, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART III
PERFECTION AND PRIORITY

679.3011 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests.—Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.1091, 679.3031, 679.3041, 679.3051, and 679.3061, the following rules determine the law governing perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, while a debtor is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral.

(2) While collateral is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a possessory security interest in that collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), while negotiable documents, goods, instruments, money, or tangible chattel paper is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs:

(a) Perfection of a security interest in the goods by filing a fixture filing;

(b) Perfection of a security interest in timber to be cut; and

(c) The effect of perfection or nonperfection and the priority of a nonpossessory security interest in the collateral.

(4) The local law of the jurisdiction in which the wellhead or minehead is located governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in as-extracted collateral.

679.3021 Law governing perfection and priority of agricultural liens.—While farm products are located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of an agricultural lien on the farm products.

679.3031 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in goods covered by a certificate of title.—

(1) This section applies to goods covered by a certificate of title, even if there is no other relationship between the jurisdiction under whose certificate of title the goods are covered and the goods or the debtor.

(2) Goods become covered by a certificate of title when a valid application for the certificate of title and the applicable fee are delivered to the appropriate authority. Goods cease to be covered by a certificate of title at the earlier of the time the certificate of title ceases to be effective under the law of the issuing jurisdiction or the time the goods become covered subsequently by a certificate of title issued by another jurisdiction.

(3) The local law of the jurisdiction under whose certificate of title the goods are covered governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in goods covered by a certificate of title from the time the goods become covered by the certificate of title until the goods cease to be covered by the certificate of title.

679.3041 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in deposit accounts.—

(1) The local law of a bank's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a deposit account maintained with that bank.

(2) The following rules determine a bank's jurisdiction for purposes of this part:

(a) If an agreement between the bank and the debtor governing the deposit account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or the Uniform Commercial Code, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the bank and its customer governing the deposit account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(c) If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the bank and its customer governing the deposit account expressly provides that the deposit account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(d) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the bank's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the customer's account is located.

(e) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the bank's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the chief executive office of the bank is located.

679.3051 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in investment property.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the following rules apply:

(a) While a security certificate is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in the certificated security represented thereby.

(b) The local law of the issuer's jurisdiction as specified in s. 678.1101(4) governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in an uncertificated security.

(c) The local law of the securities intermediary's jurisdiction as specified in s. 678.1101(5) governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a security entitlement or securities account.

(d) The local law of the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a commodity contract or commodity account.

(2) The following rules determine a commodity intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part:

(a) If an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or the Uniform Commercial Code, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(c) If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that the commodity account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(d) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the commodity customer's account is located.

(e) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the chief executive office of the commodity intermediary is located.

(3) The local law of the jurisdiction in which the debtor is located governs:

(a) Perfection of a security interest in investment property by filing;

(b) Automatic perfection of a security interest in investment property created by a broker or securities intermediary; and

(c) Automatic perfection of a security interest in a commodity contract or commodity account created by a commodity intermediary.

679.3061 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in letter-of-credit rights.—

(1) Subject to subsection (3), the local law of the issuer's jurisdiction or a nominated person's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a letter-of-credit right if the issuer's jurisdiction or nominated person's jurisdiction is a state.

(2) For purposes of this part, an issuer's jurisdiction or nominated person's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction whose law governs the liability of the issuer or nominated person with respect to the letter-of-credit right as provided in s. 675.116.

(3) This section does not apply to a security interest that is perfected only under s. 679.3081(4).

679.3071 Location of debtor.—

(1) In this section, the term "place of business" means a place where a debtor conducts its affairs.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the following rules determine a debtor's location:

(a) A debtor who is an individual is located at the individual's principal residence.

(b) A debtor that is an organization and has only one place of business is located at its place of business.

(c) A debtor that is an organization and has more than one place of business is located at its chief executive office.

(3) Subsection (2) applies only if a debtor's residence, place of business, or chief executive office, as applicable, is located in a jurisdiction whose law generally requires information concerning the existence of a nonpossessory security interest to be made generally available in a filing, recording, or registration system as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the collateral. If subsection (2) does not apply, the debtor is located in the District of Columbia.

(4) A person who ceases to exist, have a residence, or have a place of business continues to be located in the jurisdiction specified by subsections (2) and (3).

(5) A registered organization that is organized under the law of a state is located in that state.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), a registered organization that is organized under the law of the United States and a branch or agency of a bank that is not organized under the law of the United States or a state are located:

(a) In the state that the law of the United States designates, if the law designates a state of location;

(b) In the state that the registered organization, branch, or agency designates, if the law of the United States authorizes the registered organization, branch, or agency to designate its state of location; or

(c) In the District of Columbia, if neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies.

(7) A registered organization continues to be located in the jurisdiction specified by subsection (5) or subsection (6) notwithstanding:

(a) The suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or lapse of the registered organization's status as such in its jurisdiction of organization; or

(b) The dissolution, winding up, or cancellation of the existence of the registered organization.

(8) The United States is located in the District of Columbia.

(9) A branch or agency of a bank that is not organized under the law of the United States or a state is located in the state in which the branch or agency is licensed, if all branches and agencies of the bank are licensed in only one state.

(10) A foreign air carrier under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, is located at the designated office of the agent upon which service of process may be made on behalf of the carrier.

(11) This section applies only for purposes of this part.

679.3081 When security interest or agricultural lien is perfected; continuity of perfection.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section and s. 679.3091, a security interest is perfected if it has attached and all of the applicable requirements for perfection in ss. 679.3101-679.3161 have been satisfied. A security interest is perfected when it attaches if the applicable requirements are satisfied before the security interest attaches.

(2) An agricultural lien is perfected if it has become effective and all of the applicable requirements for perfection in s. 679.3101 have been satisfied. An agricultural lien is perfected when it becomes effective if the applicable requirements are satisfied before the agricultural lien becomes effective.

(3) A security interest or agricultural lien is perfected continuously if it is originally perfected by one method under this chapter and is later perfected by another method under this chapter, without an intermediate period during which it was unperfected.

(4) Perfection of a security interest in collateral also perfects a security interest in a supporting obligation for the collateral.

(5) Perfection of a security interest in a right to payment or performance also perfects a security interest in a security interest, mortgage, or other lien on personal or real property securing the right.

(6) Perfection of a security interest in a securities account also perfects a security interest in the security entitlements carried in the securities account.

(7) Perfection of a security interest in a commodity account also perfects a security interest in the commodity contracts carried in the commodity account.

679.3091 Security interest perfected upon attachment.—The following security interests are perfected when they attach:

(1) A purchase-money security interest in consumer goods, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3111(2) with respect to consumer goods that are subject to a statute or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1);

(2) An assignment of accounts or payment intangibles which does not by itself or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the assignor's outstanding accounts or payment intangibles;

(3) A sale of a payment intangible;

(4) A sale of a promissory note;

(5) A security interest created by the assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable to the provider of the health-care goods or services;

(6) A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), or s. 680.508(5), until the debtor obtains possession of the collateral;

(7) A security interest of a collecting bank arising under s. 674.2101;

(8) A security interest of an issuer or nominated person arising under s. 675.118;

(9) A security interest arising in the delivery of a financial asset under s. 679.2061(3);

(10) A security interest in investment property created by a broker or securities intermediary;

(11) A security interest in a commodity contract or a commodity account created by a commodity intermediary;

(12) An assignment for the benefit of all creditors of the transferor and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder; and

(13) A security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a decedent's estate.

679.3101 When filing required to perfect security interest or agricultural lien; security interests and agricultural liens to which filing provisions do not apply.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) and s. 679.3121(2), a financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests and agricultural liens.

(2) The filing of a financing statement is not necessary to perfect a security interest:

(a) That is perfected under s. 679.3081(4), (5), (6), or (7);

(b) That is perfected under s. 679.3091 when it attaches;

(c) In property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1);

(d) In goods in possession of a bailee which is perfected under s. 679.3121(4)(a) or (b);

(e) In certificated securities, documents, goods, or instruments which is perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7);

(f) In collateral in the secured party's possession under s. 679.3131;

(g) In a certificated security which is perfected by delivery of the security certificate to the secured party under s. 679.3131;

(h) In deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights which is perfected by control under s. 679.3141;

(i) In proceeds which is perfected under s. 679.3151; or

(j) That is perfected under s. 679.3161.

(3) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest or agricultural lien, a filing under this chapter is not required to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

679.3111 Perfection of security interests in property subject to certain statutes, regulations, and treaties.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the filing of a financing statement is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to:

(a) A statute, regulation, or treaty of the United States whose requirements for a security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property preempt s. 679.3101(1);

(b) A statute covering automobiles, trailers, mobile homes, boats, farm tractors, or the like, which provides for a security interest to be indicated on a certificate of title of such property as a condition or result of perfection, and any non-Uniform Commercial Code central filing statute; or

(c) A certificate-of-title statute of another jurisdiction which provides for a security interest to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property.

(2) Compliance with the requirements of a statute, regulation, or treaty described in paragraph (1) for obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) and ss.

679.3131 and 679.3161(4) and (5) for goods covered by a certificate of title, a security interest in property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (1) may be perfected only by compliance with those requirements, and a security interest so perfected remains perfected notwithstanding a change in the use or transfer of possession of the collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) and s. 679.3161(4) and (5), duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the requirements prescribed by a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (1) are governed by the statute, regulation, or treaty. In other respects, the security interest is subject to this chapter.

(4) During any period in which collateral subject to a statute specified in paragraph (1)(b) is inventory held for sale or lease by a person or leased by that person as lessor and that person is in the business of selling goods of that kind, this section does not apply to a security interest in that collateral created by that person.

679.3121 Perfection of security interests in chattel paper, deposit accounts, documents, goods covered by documents, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, and money; perfection by permissive filing; temporary perfection without filing or transfer of possession.—

(1) A security interest in chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, or investment property may be perfected by filing.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3151(3) and (4) for proceeds:

(a) A security interest in a deposit account may be perfected only by control under s. 679.3141.

(b) And except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3081(4), a security interest in a letter-of-credit right may be perfected only by control under s. 679.3141.

(c) A security interest in money may be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession under s. 679.3131.

(3) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a negotiable document covering the goods:

(a) A security interest in the goods may be perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document; and

(b) A security interest perfected in the document has priority over any security interest that becomes perfected in the goods by another method during that time.

(4) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a nonnegotiable document covering the goods, a security interest in the goods may be perfected by:

(a) Issuance of a document in the name of the secured party;

(b) The bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest; or

(c) Filing as to the goods.

(5) A security interest in certificated securities, negotiable documents, or instruments is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of 20 days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under an authenticated security agreement.

(6) A perfected security interest in a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee, other than one that has issued a negotiable document for the goods, remains perfected for 20 days without filing if the secured party makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of:

(a) Ultimate sale or exchange; or

(b) Loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing, or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange.

(7) A perfected security interest in a certificated security or instrument remains perfected for 20 days without filing if the secured party delivers the security certificate or instrument to the debtor for the purpose of:

(a) Ultimate sale or exchange; or

(b) Presentation, collection, enforcement, renewal, or registration of transfer.

(8) After the 20-day period specified in subsection (5), subsection (6), or subsection (7) expires, perfection depends upon compliance with this chapter.

679.3131 When possession by or delivery to secured party perfects security interest without filing.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a secured party may perfect a security interest in negotiable documents, goods, instruments, money, or tangible chattel paper by taking possession of the collateral. A secured party may perfect a security interest in certificated securities by taking delivery of the certificated securities under s. 678.3011.

(2) With respect to goods covered by a certificate of title issued by this state, a secured party may perfect a security interest in the goods by taking possession of the goods only in the circumstances described in s. 679.3161(4).

(3) With respect to collateral other than certificated securities and goods covered by a document, a secured party takes possession of collateral in the possession of a person other than the debtor, the secured party, or a lessee of the collateral from the debtor in the ordinary course of the debtor's business, when:

(a) The person in possession authenticates a record acknowledging that it holds possession of the collateral for the secured party's benefit; or

(b) The person takes possession of the collateral after having authenticated a record acknowledging that the person will hold possession of collateral for the secured party's benefit.

(4) If perfection of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by a secured party, perfection occurs no earlier than the time the secured party takes possession and continues only while the secured party retains possession.

(5) A security interest in a certificated security in registered form is perfected by delivery when delivery of the certificated security occurs under s. 678.3011 and remains perfected by delivery until the debtor obtains possession of the security certificate.

(6) A person in possession of collateral is not required to acknowledge that the person holds possession for a secured party's benefit.

(7) If a person acknowledges that the person holds possession for the secured party's benefit:

(a) The acknowledgment is effective under subsection (3) or s. 678.3011(1), even if the acknowledgment violates the rights of a debtor; and

(b) Unless the person otherwise agrees or law other than this chapter otherwise provides, the person does not owe any duty to the secured party and is not required to confirm the acknowledgment to another person.

(8) A secured party having possession of collateral does not relinquish possession by delivering the collateral to a person other than the debtor or a lessee of the collateral from the debtor in the ordinary course of the debtor's business if the person was instructed before the delivery or is instructed contemporaneously with the delivery:

(a) To hold possession of the collateral for the secured party's benefit; or

(b) To redeliver the collateral to the secured party.

(9) A secured party does not relinquish possession, even if a delivery under subsection (8) violates the rights of a debtor. A person to whom collateral is delivered under subsection (8) does not owe any duty to the secured party and is not required to confirm the delivery to another person unless the person otherwise agrees or law other than this chapter otherwise provides.

679.3141 Perfection by control.—

(1) A security interest in investment property, deposit accounts, letter-of-credit rights, or electronic chattel paper may be perfected by control of the collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071.

(2) A security interest in deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, or letter-of-credit rights is perfected by control under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, or s. 679.1071 when the secured party obtains control and remains perfected by control only while the secured party retains control.

(3) A security interest in investment property is perfected by control under s. 679.1061 from the time the secured party obtains control and remains perfected by control until:

(a) The secured party does not have control; and

(b) One of the following occurs:

1. If the collateral is a certificated security, the debtor has or acquires possession of the security certificate;

2. If the collateral is an uncertificated security, the issuer has registered or registers the debtor as the registered owner; or

3. If the collateral is a security entitlement, the debtor is or becomes the entitlement holder.

679.3151 Secured party's rights on disposition of collateral and in proceeds.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter and in s. 672.403(2):

(a) A security interest or agricultural lien continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition thereof unless the secured party authorized the disposition free of the security interest or agricultural lien; and

(b) A security interest attaches to any identifiable proceeds of collateral.

(2) Proceeds that are commingled with other property are identifiable proceeds:

(a) If the proceeds are goods, to the extent provided by s. 679.336; and

(b) If the proceeds are not goods, to the extent that the secured party identifies the proceeds by a method of tracing, including application of equitable principles, that is permitted under law other than this chapter with respect to commingled property of the type involved.

(3) A security interest in proceeds is a perfected security interest if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected.

(4) A perfected security interest in proceeds becomes unperfected on the 21st day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds unless:

(a) The following conditions are satisfied:

1. A filed financing statement covers the original collateral;

2. The proceeds are collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing in the office in which the financing statement has been filed; and

3. The proceeds are not acquired with cash proceeds;

(b) The proceeds are identifiable cash proceeds; or

(c) The security interest in the proceeds is perfected other than under subsection (3) when the security interest attaches to the proceeds or within 20 days thereafter.

(5) If a filed financing statement covers the original collateral, a security interest in proceeds which remains perfected under paragraph (4)(a) becomes unperfected at the later of:

(a) When the effectiveness of the filed financing statement lapses under s. 679.515 or is terminated under s. 679.513; or

(b) The 21st day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds.

679.3161 Continued perfection of security interest following change in governing law.—

(1) A security interest perfected pursuant to the law of the jurisdiction designated in s. 679.3011(1) or s. 679.3051(3) remains perfected until the earliest of:

(a) The time perfection would have ceased under the law of that jurisdiction;

(b) The expiration of 4 months after a change of the debtor's location to another jurisdiction; or

(c) The expiration of 1 year after a transfer of collateral to a person who thereby becomes a debtor and is located in another jurisdiction.

(2) If a security interest described in subsection (1) becomes perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earliest time or event described in that subsection, it remains perfected thereafter. If the security interest does not become perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earliest time or event, it becomes unperfected and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(3) A possessory security interest in collateral, other than goods covered by a certificate of title and as-extracted collateral consisting of goods, remains continuously perfected if:

(a) The collateral is located in one jurisdiction and subject to a security interest perfected under the law of that jurisdiction;

(b) Thereafter the collateral is brought into another jurisdiction; and

(c) Upon entry into the other jurisdiction, the security interest is perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a security interest in goods covered by a certificate of title which is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction when the goods become covered by a certificate of title from this state remains perfected until the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become so covered.

(5) A security interest described in subsection (4) becomes unperfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value if the applicable requirements for perfection under s. 679.3111(2) or s. 679.3131 are not satisfied before the earlier of:

(a) The time the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become covered by a certificate of title from this state; or

(b) The expiration of 4 months after the goods had become so covered.

(6) A security interest in deposit accounts, letter-of-credit rights, or investment property which is perfected under the law of the bank's jurisdiction, the issuer's jurisdiction, a nominated person's jurisdiction, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction, or the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction, as applicable, remains perfected until the earlier of:

(a) The time the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of that jurisdiction; or

(b) The expiration of 4 months after a change of the applicable jurisdiction to another jurisdiction.

(7) If a security interest described in subsection (6) becomes perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earlier of the time or the end of the period described in that subsection, it remains perfected thereafter. If the security interest does not become perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earlier of that time or the end of that period, it becomes unperfected and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

679.3171 Interests that take priority over or take free of security interest or agricultural lien.—

(1) A security interest or agricultural lien is subordinate to the rights of:

(a) A person entitled to priority under s. 679.322; and

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a person who becomes a lien creditor before the earlier of the time:

1. The security interest or agricultural lien is perfected; or

2. One of the conditions specified in s. 679.2031(2)(c) is met and a financing statement covering the collateral is filed.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer, other than a secured party, of tangible chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate takes free of a security interest or agricultural lien if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest or agricultural lien and before it is perfected.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a lessee of goods takes free of a security interest or agricultural lien if the lessee gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest or agricultural lien and before it is perfected.

(4) A licensee of a general intangible or a buyer, other than a secured party, of accounts, electronic chattel paper, general intangibles, or investment property other than a certificated security takes free of a security interest if the licensee or buyer gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.320 and 679.321, if a person files a financing statement with respect to a purchase-money security interest before or within 20 days after the debtor receives delivery of the collateral, the security interest takes priority over the rights of a buyer, lessee, or lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

679.3181 No interest retained in right to payment that is sold; rights and title of seller of account or chattel paper with respect to creditors and purchasers.—

(1) A debtor who has sold an account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note does not retain a legal or equitable interest in the collateral sold.

(2) For purposes of determining the rights of creditors of, and purchasers for value of an account or chattel paper from, a debtor who has sold an account or chattel paper, while the buyer's security interest is unperfected, the debtor is deemed to have rights and title to the account or chattel paper identical to those the debtor sold.

679.319 Rights and title of consignee with respect to creditors and purchasers.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), for purposes of determining the rights of creditors of, and purchasers for value of goods from, a consignee, while the goods are in the possession of the consignee, the consignee is deemed to have rights and title to the goods identical to those the consignor had or had power to transfer.

(2) For purposes of determining the rights of a creditor of a consignee, law other than this chapter determines the rights and title of a consignee while goods are in the consignee's possession if, under this part, a perfected security interest held by the consignor would have priority over the rights of the creditor.

679.320 Buyer of goods.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer in ordinary course of business, other than a person buying farm products from a person engaged in farming operations, takes free of a security interest created by the buyer's seller, even if the security interest is perfected and the buyer knows of its existence.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer of goods from a person who used or bought the goods for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes takes free of a security interest, even if perfected, if the buyer buys:

(a) Without knowledge of the security interest;

(b) For value;

(c) Primarily for the buyer's personal, family, or household purposes; and

(d) Before the filing of a financing statement covering the goods.

(3) To the extent that it affects the priority of a security interest over a buyer of goods under subsection (2), the period of effectiveness of a filing made in the jurisdiction in which the seller is located is governed by s. 679.3161(1) and (2).

(4) A buyer in ordinary course of business buying oil, gas, or other minerals at the wellhead or minehead or after extraction takes free of an interest arising out of an encumbrance.

(5) Subsections (1) and (2) do not affect a security interest in goods in the possession of the secured party under s. 679.3131.

679.321 Licensee of general intangible and lessee of goods in ordinary course of business.—

(1) In this section, the term "licensee in ordinary course of business" means a person who becomes a licensee of a general intangible in good faith, without knowledge that the license violates the rights of another person in the general intangible, and in the ordinary course from a person in the business of licensing general intangibles of that kind. A person becomes a licensee in the ordinary course if the license to the person comports with the usual or customary practices in the kind of business in which the licensor is engaged or with the licensor's own usual or customary practices.

(2) A licensee in ordinary course of business takes its rights under a nonexclusive license free of a security interest in the general intangible created by the licensor, even if the security interest is perfected and the licensee knows of its existence.

(3) A lessee in ordinary course of business takes its leasehold interest free of a security interest in the goods created by the lessor, even if the security interest is perfected and the lessee knows of its existence.

679.322 Priorities among conflicting security interests in and agricultural liens on same collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, priority among conflicting security interests and agricultural liens in the same collateral is determined according to the following rules:

(a) Conflicting perfected security interests and agricultural liens rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the earlier of the time a filing covering the collateral is first made or the security interest or agricultural lien is first perfected, if there is no period thereafter during which is neither filing nor perfection.

(b) A perfected security interest or agricultural lien has priority over a conflicting unperfected security interest or agricultural lien.

(c) The first security interest or agricultural lien to attach or become effective has priority if conflicting security interests and agricultural liens are unperfected.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a):

(a) The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in proceeds; and

(b) The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral supported by a supporting obligation is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in the supporting obligation.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), a security interest in collateral which qualifies for priority over a conflicting security interest under s. 679.327, s. 679.328, s. 679.329, s. 679.330, or s. 679.331 also has priority over a conflicting security interest in:

(a) Any supporting obligation for the collateral; and

(b) Proceeds of the collateral if:

1. The security interest in proceeds is perfected;

2. The proceeds are cash proceeds or of the same type as the collateral; and

3. In the case of proceeds that are proceeds of proceeds, all intervening proceeds are cash proceeds, proceeds of the same type as the collateral, or an account relating to the collateral.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), if a security interest in chattel paper, deposit accounts, negotiable documents, instruments, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights is perfected by a method other than filing, conflicting perfected security interests in proceeds of the collateral rank according to priority in time of filing.

(5) Subsection (4) applies only if the proceeds of the collateral are not cash proceeds, chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights.

(6) Subsections (1) through (5) are subject to:

(a) Subsection (7) and the other provisions of this part;

(b) Section 674.2101 with respect to a security interest of a collecting bank;

(c) Section 675.118 with respect to a security interest of an issuer or nominated person; and

(d) Section 679.1101 with respect to a security interest arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680.

(7) A perfected agricultural lien on collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in or agricultural lien on the same collateral if the statute creating the agricultural lien so provides.

679.323 Future advances.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), for purposes of determining the priority of a perfected security interest under s. 679.322(1)(a), perfection of the security interest dates from the time an advance is made to the extent that the security interest secures an advance that:

(a) Is made while the security interest is perfected only:

1. Under s. 679.3091 when it attaches; or

2. Temporarily under s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7); and

(b) Is not made pursuant to a commitment entered into before or while the security interest is perfected by a method other than under s. 679.3091 or s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a security interest is subordinate to the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor to the extent that the security interest secures an advance made more than 45 days after the person becomes a lien creditor unless the advance is made:

(a) Without knowledge of the lien; or

(b) Pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lien.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a security interest held by a secured party that is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer of goods other than a buyer in ordinary course of business takes free of a security interest to the extent that it secures advances made after the earlier of:

(a) The time the secured party acquires knowledge of the buyer's purchase; or

(b) Forty-five days after the purchase.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply if the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the buyer's purchase and before the expiration of the 45-day period.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a lessee of goods, other than a lessee in ordinary course of business, takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures advances made after the earlier of:

(a) The time the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease; or

(b) Forty-five days after the lease contract becomes enforceable.

(7) Subsection (6) does not apply if the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the 45-day period.

679.324 Priority of purchase-money security interests.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in goods other than inventory or livestock has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same goods, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, if the purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 20 days thereafter.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory, has priority over a conflicting security interest in chattel paper or an instrument constituting proceeds of the inventory and in proceeds of the chattel paper, if so provided in s. 679.330, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds of the inventory to the extent the identifiable cash proceeds are received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer, if:

(a) The purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the inventory;

(b) The purchase-money secured party sends an authenticated notification to the holder of the conflicting security interest;

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within 5 years before the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(d) The notification states that the person sending the notification has or expects to acquire a purchase-money security interest in inventory of the debtor and describes the inventory.

(3) Paragraphs (2)(b), (c), and (d) apply only if the holder of the conflicting security interest had filed a financing statement covering the same types of inventory:

(a) If the purchase-money security interest is perfected by filing, before the date of the filing; or

(b) If the purchase-money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(6), before the beginning of the 20-day period thereunder.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in livestock that are farm products has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same livestock, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in their identifiable proceeds and identifiable products in their unmanufactured states also has priority, if:

(a) The purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the livestock;

(b) The purchase-money secured party sends an authenticated notification to the holder of the conflicting security interest;

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within 6 months before the debtor receives possession of the livestock; and

(d) The notification states that the person sending the notification has or expects to acquire a purchase-money security interest in livestock of the debtor and describes the livestock.

(5) Paragraphs (4)(b), (c), and (d) apply only if the holder of the conflicting security interest had filed a financing statement covering the same types of livestock:

(a) If the purchase-money security interest is perfected by filing, before the date of the filing; or

(b) If the purchase-money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(6), before the beginning of the 20-day period thereunder.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in software has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, to the extent that the purchase-money security interest in the goods in which the software was acquired for use has priority in the goods and proceeds of the goods under this section.

(7) If more than one security interest qualifies for priority in the same collateral under subsection (1), subsection (2), subsection (4), or subsection (6):

(a) A security interest securing an obligation incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral has priority over a security interest securing an obligation incurred for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of collateral; and

(b) In all other cases, s. 679.322(1) applies to the qualifying security interests.

679.325 Priority of security interests in transferred collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a security interest created by a debtor is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral created by another person if:

(a) The debtor acquired the collateral subject to the security interest created by the other person;

(b) The security interest created by the other person was perfected when the debtor acquired the collateral; and

(c) There is no period thereafter during which the security interest is unperfected.

(2) Subsection (1) subordinates a security interest only if the security interest:

(a) Otherwise would have priority solely under s. 679.322(1) or s. 679.324; or

(b) Arose solely under s. 672.711(3) or s. 680.508(5).

679.326 Priority of security interests created by new debtor.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a security interest created by a new debtor which is perfected by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under s. 679.508 in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral which is perfected other than by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under s. 679.508.

(2) The other provisions of this part determine the priority among conflicting security interests in the same collateral perfected by filed financing statements that are effective solely under s. 679.508. However, if the security agreements to which a new debtor became bound as debtor were not entered into by the same original debtor, the conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of the new debtor's having become bound.

679.327 Priority of security interests in deposit account.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same deposit account:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of the deposit account under s. 679.1041 has priority over a conflicting security interest held by a secured party that does not have control.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), security interests perfected by control under s. 679.3141 rank according to priority in time of obtaining control.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a security interest held by the bank with which the deposit account is maintained has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(4) A security interest perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(c) has priority over a security interest held by the bank with which the deposit account is maintained.

679.328 Priority of security interests in investment property.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same investment property:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of investment property under s. 679.1061 has priority over a security interest held by a secured party that does not have control of the investment property.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), conflicting security interests held by secured parties each of which has control under s. 679.1061 rank according to priority in time of:

(a) If the collateral is a security, obtaining control;

(b) If the collateral is a security entitlement carried in a securities account and:

1. If the secured party obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(a), the secured party's becoming the person for which the securities account is maintained;

2. If the secured party obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(b), the securities intermediary's agreement to comply with the secured party's entitlement orders with respect to security entitlements carried or to be carried in the securities account; or

3. If the secured party obtained control through another person under s. 678.1061(4)(c), the time on which priority would be based under this paragraph if the other person were the secured party; or

(c) If the collateral is a commodity contract carried with a commodity intermediary, the satisfaction of the requirement for control specified in s. 679.1061(2)(b) with respect to commodity contracts carried or to be carried with the commodity intermediary.

(3) A security interest held by a securities intermediary in a security entitlement or a securities account maintained with the securities intermediary has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(4) A security interest held by a commodity intermediary in a commodity contract or a commodity account maintained with the commodity intermediary has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(5) A security interest in a certificated security in registered form which is perfected by taking delivery under s. 679.3131(1) and not by control under s. 679.3141 has priority over a conflicting security interest perfected by a method other than control.

(6) Conflicting security interests created by a broker, securities intermediary, or commodity intermediary which are perfected without control under s. 679.1061 rank equally.

(7) In all other cases, priority among conflicting security interests in investment property is governed by ss. 679.322 and 679.323.

679.329 Priority of security interests in letter-of-credit right.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same letter-of-credit right:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of the letter-of-credit right under s. 679.1071 has priority to the extent of its control over a conflicting security interest held by a secured party that does not have control.

(2) Security interests perfected by control under s. 679.3141 rank according to priority in time of obtaining control.

679.330 Priority of purchaser of chattel paper or instrument.—

(1) A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if:

(a) In good faith and in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under s. 679.1051; and

(b) The chattel paper does not indicate that it has been assigned to an identified assignee other than the purchaser.

(2) A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed other than merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under s. 679.1051 in good faith, in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a purchaser having priority in chattel paper under subsection (1) or subsection (2) also has priority in proceeds of the chattel paper to the extent that:

(a) Section 679.322 provides for priority in the proceeds; or

(b) The proceeds consist of the specific goods covered by the chattel paper or cash proceeds of the specific goods, even if the purchaser's security interest in the proceeds is unperfected.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.331(1), a purchaser of an instrument has priority over a security interest in the instrument perfected by a method other than possession if the purchaser gives value and takes possession of the instrument in good faith and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

(5) For purposes of subsections (1) and (2), the holder of a purchase-money security interest in inventory gives new value for chattel paper constituting proceeds of the inventory.

(6) For purposes of subsections (2) and (4), if chattel paper or an instrument indicates that it has been assigned to an identified secured party other than the purchaser, a purchaser of the chattel paper or instrument has knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

679.331 Priority of rights of purchasers of instruments, documents, and securities under other articles; priority of interests in financial assets and security entitlements under chapter 678.—

(1) This chapter does not limit the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument, a holder to which a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated, or a protected purchaser of a security. These holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest, even if perfected, to the extent provided in chapters 673, 677, and 678.

(2) This chapter does not limit the rights of or impose liability on a person to the extent that the person is protected against the assertion of an adverse claim under chapter 678.

(3) Filing under this chapter does not constitute notice of a claim or defense to the holders, purchasers, or persons described in subsections (1) and (2).

679.332 Transfer of money; transfer of funds from deposit account.—

(1) A transferee of money takes the money free of a security interest unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

(2) A transferee of funds from a deposit account takes the funds free of a security interest in the deposit account unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

679.333 Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law.—

(1) In this section, the term "possessory lien" means an interest, other than a security interest or an agricultural lien:

(a) Which secures payment or performance of an obligation for services or materials furnished with respect to goods by a person in the ordinary course of the person's business;

(b) Which is created by statute or rule of law in favor of the person; and

(c) The effectiveness of which depends on the person's possession of the goods.

(2) A possessory lien on goods has priority over a security interest in the goods unless the lien is created by a statute that expressly provides otherwise.

679.334 Priority of security interests in fixtures and crops.—

(1) A security interest under this chapter may be created in goods that are fixtures or may continue in goods that become fixtures. A security interest does not exist under this chapter in ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.

(2) This chapter does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures under real property law.

(3) A security interest in goods which are or become fixtures is invalid against any person with an interest in the real property at the time the security interest in the goods is perfected or at the time the goods are affixed to the real property, whichever occurs later, unless such person has consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures.

(4) A security interest in goods which are or become fixtures takes priority as to the goods over the claims of all persons acquiring an interest in the real property subsequent to the perfection of such security interest or the affixing of the goods to the real property, whichever occurs later.

(5) A perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the security interest is:

(a) Created in a manufactured home in a manufactured-home transaction; and

(b) Perfected pursuant to a statute described in s. 679.3111(1)(b).

(6) A perfected security interest in crops growing on real property has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property.

(7) Subsection (6) prevails over any inconsistent provisions of the statutes.

679.335 Accessions.—

(1) A security interest may be created in an accession and continues in collateral that becomes an accession.

(2) If a security interest is perfected when the collateral becomes an accession, the security interest remains perfected in the collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest in an accession.

(4) A security interest in an accession is subordinate to a security interest in the whole which is perfected by compliance with the requirements of a certificate-of-title statute under s. 679.3111(2).

(5) After default, subject to part VI, a secured party may remove an accession from other goods if the security interest in the accession has priority over the claims of every person having an interest in the whole.

(6) A secured party that removes an accession from other goods under subsection (5) shall promptly reimburse any holder of a security interest or other lien on, or owner of, the whole or of the other goods, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury to the whole or the other goods. The secured party need not reimburse the holder or owner for any diminution in value of the whole or the other goods caused by the absence of the accession removed or by any necessity for replacing it. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

679.336 Commingled goods.—

(1) In this section, the term "commingled goods" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that their identity is lost in a product or mass.

(2) A security interest does not exist in commingled goods as such. However, a security interest may attach to a product or mass that results when goods become commingled goods.

(3) If collateral becomes commingled goods, a security interest attaches to the product or mass.

(4) If a security interest in collateral is perfected before the collateral becomes commingled goods, the security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3) is perfected.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3).

(6) If more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3), the following rules determine priority:

(a) A security interest that is perfected under subsection (4) has priority over a security interest that is unperfected at the time the collateral becomes commingled goods.

(b) If more than one security interest is perfected under subsection (4), the security interests rank equally in proportion to value of the collateral at the time it became commingled goods.

679.337 Priority of security interests in goods covered by certificate of title.—If, while a security interest in goods is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction, this state issues a certificate of title that does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or contain a statement that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate:

(1) A buyer of the goods, other than a person in the business of selling goods of that kind, takes free of the security interest if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest; and

(2) The security interest is subordinate to a conflicting security interest in the goods that attaches, and is perfected under s. 679.3111(2), after issuance of the certificate and without the conflicting secured party's knowledge of the security interest.

679.338 Priority of security interest or agricultural lien perfected by filed financing statement providing certain incorrect information.—If a security interest or agricultural lien is perfected by a filed financing statement providing information described in s. 679.516(2)(e) which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed:

(1) The security interest or agricultural lien is subordinate to a conflicting perfected security interest in the collateral to the extent that the holder of the conflicting security interest gives value in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information; and

(2) A purchaser, other than a secured party, of the collateral takes free of the security interest or agricultural lien to the extent that, in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information, the purchaser gives value and, in the case of chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate, receives delivery of the collateral.

679.339 Priority subject to subordination.—This chapter does not preclude subordination by agreement by a person entitled to priority.

679.340 Effectiveness of right of recoupment or set-off against deposit account.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a bank with which a deposit account is maintained may exercise any right of recoupment or set-off against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the application of this chapter to a security interest in a deposit account does not affect a right of recoupment or set-off of the secured party as to a deposit account maintained with the secured party.

(3) The exercise by a bank of a set-off against a deposit account is ineffective against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account which is perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(c), if the set-off is based on a claim against the debtor.

679.341 Bank's rights and duties with respect to deposit account.—Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.340(3), and unless the bank otherwise agrees in an authenticated record, a bank's rights and duties with respect to a deposit account maintained with the bank are not terminated, suspended, or modified by:

(1) The creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the deposit account;

(2) The bank's knowledge of the security interest; or

(3) The bank's receipt of instructions from the secured party.

679.342 Bank's right to refuse to enter into or disclose existence of control agreement.—This chapter does not require a bank to enter into an agreement of the kind described in s. 679.1041(1)(b), even if its customer so requests or directs. A bank that has entered into such an agreement is not required to confirm the existence of the agreement to another person unless requested to do so by its customer.

Section 4. Part IV of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.401, 679.4011, 679.402, 679.403, 679.404, 679.405, 679.406, 679.407, and 679.408, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part IV, consisting of sections 679.40111, 679.4021, 679.4031, 679.4041, 679.4051, 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, and 679.409, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART IV
RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES

679.40111 Alienability of debtor's rights.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) and ss. 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, and 679.409, whether a debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred is governed by law other than this chapter.

(2) An agreement between the debtor and secured party which prohibits a transfer of the debtor's rights in collateral or makes the transfer a default does not prevent the transfer from taking effect.

679.4021 Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor or in tort.—The existence of a security interest, agricultural lien, or authority given to a debtor to dispose of or use collateral, without more, does not subject a secured party to liability in contract or tort for the debtor's acts or omissions.

679.4031 Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee.—

(1) In this section, the term "value" has the meaning provided in s. 673.3031(1).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor not to assert against an assignee any claim or defense that the account debtor may have against the assignor is enforceable by an assignee that takes an assignment:

(a) For value;

(b) In good faith;

(c) Without notice of a claim of a property or possessory right to the property assigned; and

(d) Without notice of a defense or claim in recoupment of the type that may be asserted against a person entitled to enforce a negotiable instrument under s. 673.3031(1).

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to defenses of a type that may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under s. 673.3031(2).

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the rights of an assignee are subject to claims or defenses that the account debtor could assert against the original obligee, and the record does not include such a statement:

(a) The record has the same effect as if the record included such a statement; and

(b) The account debtor may assert against an assignee those claims and defenses that would have been available if the record included such a statement.

(5) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), this section does not displace law other than this chapter which gives effect to an agreement by an account debtor not to assert a claim or defense against an assignee.

679.4041 Rights acquired by assignee; claims and defenses against assignee.—

(1) Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims, and subject to subsections (2) through (5), the rights of an assignee are subject to:

(a) All terms of the agreement between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim in recoupment arising from the transaction that gave rise to the contract; and

(b) Any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives a notification of the assignment authenticated by the assignor or the assignee.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the claim of an account debtor against an assignor may be asserted against an assignee under subsection (1) only to reduce the amount the account debtor owes.

(3) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the account debtor's recovery against an assignee with respect to claims and defenses against the assignor may not exceed amounts paid by the account debtor under the record, and the record does not include such a statement, the extent to which a claim of an account debtor against the assignor may be asserted against an assignee is determined as if the record included such a statement.

(5) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

679.4051 Modification of assigned contract.—

(1) A modification of or substitution for an assigned contract is effective against an assignee if made in good faith. The assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that the modification or substitution is a breach of contract by the assignor. This subsection is subject to subsections (2) through (4).

(2) Subsection (1) applies to the extent that:

(a) The right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance; or

(b) The right to payment or a part thereof has been fully earned by performance and the account debtor has not received notification of the assignment under s. 679.4061(1).

(3) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

679.4061 Discharge of account debtor; notification of assignment; identification and proof of assignment; restrictions on assignment of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, and promissory notes ineffective.—

(1) Subject to subsections (2) through (9), an account debtor on an account, chattel paper, or a payment intangible may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor until, but not after, the account debtor receives a notification, authenticated by the assignor or the assignee, that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. After receipt of the notification, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignee and may not discharge the obligation by paying the assignor.

(2) Subject to subsection (8), notification is ineffective under subsection (1):

(a) If it does not reasonably identify the rights assigned;

(b) To the extent that an agreement between an account debtor and a seller of a payment intangible limits the account debtor's duty to pay a person other than the seller and the limitation is effective under law other than this chapter; or

(c) At the option of an account debtor, if the notification notifies the account debtor to make less than the full amount of any installment or other periodic payment to the assignee, even if:

1. Only a portion of the account, chattel paper, or payment intangible has been assigned to that assignee;

2. A portion has been assigned to another assignee; or

3. The account debtor knows that the assignment to that assignee is limited.

(3) Subject to subsection (8), if requested by the account debtor, an assignee shall seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made. Unless the assignee complies, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor, even if the account debtor has received a notification under subsection (1).

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5) and ss. 680.303 and 679.4071, and subject to subsection (8), a term in an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor or in a promissory note is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to the sale of a payment intangible or promissory note.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 680.303 and 679.4071 and subject to subsections (8) and (9), a rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, an account or chattel paper is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the account or chattel paper; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account or chattel paper.

(7) Subject to subsection (8), an account debtor may not waive or vary its option under paragraph (2)(c).

(8) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. Subsection (6) does not apply to the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in:

(a) A claim of a debtor who is a natural person against an employer to receive compensation for injuries or sickness while an employee.

(b) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in unemployment, alimony, disability, pension, or retirement benefits or victim compensation funds.

(c) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in other benefits which are designated solely for his or her maintenance, support, or education, the assignability of which is expressly prohibited or restricted by any statute.

However, this provision shall not preclude such debtor's creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in a settlement arising from a personal injury claim other than one against an employer arising out of the debtor's employment.

(9) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

(10) This section prevails over any inconsistent statute, rule, or regulation.

679.4071 Restrictions on creation or enforcement of security interest in leasehold interest or in lessor's residual interest.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a lease agreement is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a party to the lease to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the lease.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 680.303(7), a term described in paragraph (1)(b) is effective to the extent that there is:

(a) A transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the term; or

(b) A delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the term.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is not a transfer that materially impairs the lessee's prospect of obtaining return performance or materially changes the duty of or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the lessee within the purview of s. 680.303(4) unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the lessor.

679.4081 Restrictions on assignment of promissory notes, health-care-insurance receivables, and certain general intangibles ineffective.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor which relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or a general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise, and which term prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to, the assignment or transfer of, or creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in, the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, is ineffective to the extent that the term:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(2) Subsection (1) applies to a security interest in a payment intangible or promissory note only if the security interest arises out of a sale of the payment intangible or promissory note.

(3) A rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, person obligated on a promissory note, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, a promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise between an account debtor and a debtor, is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(4) To the extent that a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor which relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or general intangible or a rule of law, statute, or regulation described in subsection (3) would be effective under law other than this chapter but is ineffective under subsection (1) or subsection (3), the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible:

(a) Is not enforceable against the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(b) Does not impose a duty or obligation on the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(c) Does not require the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or performance from the secured party;

(d) Does not entitle the secured party to use or assign the debtor's rights under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including any related information or materials furnished to the debtor in the transaction giving rise to the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible;

(e) Does not entitle the secured party to use, assign, possess, or have access to any trade secrets or confidential information of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor; and

(f) Does not entitle the secured party to enforce the security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(5) This section prevails over any inconsistent statute, rule, or regulation.

(6) Subsection (3) does not apply to the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in:

(a) A claim of a debtor who is a natural person against an employer to receive compensation for injuries or sickness while an employee.

(b) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in unemployment, alimony, disability, pension, or retirement benefits or victim compensation funds.

(c) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in other benefits which are designated solely for his or her maintenance or support, the assignability of which is expressly prohibited or restricted by any statute.

However, this provision shall not preclude such debtor's creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in a settlement arising from a personal injury claim other than one against an employer arising out of the debtor's employment.

679.409 Restrictions on assignment of letter-of-credit rights ineffective.—

(1) A term in a letter of credit or a rule of law, statute, regulation, custom, or practice applicable to the letter of credit which prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of an applicant, issuer, or nominated person to a beneficiary's assignment of or creation of a security interest in a letter-of-credit right is ineffective to the extent that the term or rule of law, statute, regulation, custom, or practice:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the letter-of-credit right.

(2) To the extent that a term in a letter of credit is ineffective under subsection (1) but would be effective under law other than this chapter or a custom or practice applicable to the letter of credit, to the transfer of a right to draw or otherwise demand performance under the letter of credit, or to the assignment of a right to proceeds of the letter of credit, the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right:

(a) Is not enforceable against the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary;

(b) Imposes no duties or obligations on the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary; and

(c) Does not require the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or other performance from the secured party.

Section 5. (1) The Legislature finds that it is in the best interest of the citizens and businesses of this state to adopt Part V of Revised Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code as proposed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Law, "revised Article 9," subject to specific modifications, as revised chapter 679, Florida Statutes. Such revised Article 9 almost exclusively affects secured transactions and the relationships between and among secured creditors, debtors, other creditors, and purchasers of personal property subject to a security interest. Both individuals and business entities are intended to benefit from the enactment of revised Article 9.

(2) The Legislature also finds that, among other things, revised Article 9 contemplates a more straightforward and efficient system for documenting the perfection, amendment, continuance, termination, assignment, and transfer of security interests and requires less governmental involvement than necessary under existing law. Revised Article 9 suggests the possibility that states may delegate their historical administrative and operational responsibilities over financing statement filings to a nongovernmental entity. This principle complements the legislative policy of reducing government's detailed regulation and involvement with private commerce and business transactions. Consistent with other revisions to current chapter 679, Florida Statutes, being adopted by this act, the requirement for exclusive administration and operation by this state of the system of filing and maintaining documents evidencing secured transactions no longer exists. However, the carrying out of the duties of the filing office and filing officer are very important to the uninterrupted flow of secured transactions and the Secretary of State shall retain oversight over the private filing agency to which the filing office and filing officer duties under revised Article 9, as revised chapter 679, Florida Statutes, may be delegated.

Section 6. Part V of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.501, 679.502, 679.503, 679.504, 679.505, 679.506, and 679.507, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part V, consisting of sections 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.5031. 679.5041, 679.5051, 679.5061, 679.5071, 679.508, 679.509, 679.510, 679.511, 679.512, 679.513, 671.514, 679.515, 679.516, 679.517, 679.518, 679.519, 679.520, 679.521, 679.522, 679.523, 679.524, 679.525, 679.526, and 679.527, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART V
FILING

679.5011 Filing office.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), the office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest or agricultural lien is:

(a) The office of the clerk of the circuit court, if:

1. The collateral is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut; or

2. The financing statement is filed as a fixture filing and the collateral is goods that are or are to become fixtures;

(b) The office of the Secretary of State, in accordance with ss. 679.3011-679.3071, and in all other cases.

(2) The office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the Secretary of State. The financing statement also constitutes a fixture filing as to the collateral indicated in the financing statement which is or is to become fixtures.

679.5021 Contents of financing statement; record of mortgage as financing statement; time of filing financing statement.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a financing statement is sufficient only if it:

(a) Provides the name of the debtor;

(b) Provides the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party; and

(c) Indicates the collateral covered by the financing statement.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.5011(2), to be sufficient, a financing statement that covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, or that is filed as a fixture filing and covers goods that are or are to become fixtures, must comply with the requirements of subsection (1) and also:

(a) Indicate that it covers this type of collateral;

(b) Indicate that it is to be filed in the real property records;

(c) Provide a description of the real property to which the collateral is related; and

(d) If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real property, provide the name of a record owner.

(3) A record of a mortgage satisfying the requirements of chapter 697 is effective, from the date of recording, as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut only if:

(a) The record of a mortgage indicates the goods or accounts that it covers;

(b) The goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real property described in the record of a mortgage or the collateral is related to the real property described in the mortgage and is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut;

(c) The record of a mortgage complies with the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than an indication that it is to be filed in the real property records; and

(d) The record of a mortgage is recorded as required by chapter 697.

(4) A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches.

679.5031 Name of debtor and secured party.—

(1) A financing statement sufficiently provides the name of the debtor:

(a) If the debtor is a registered organization, only if the financing statement provides the name of the debtor indicated on the public record of the debtor's jurisdiction of organization which shows the debtor to have been organized;

(b) If the debtor is a decedent's estate, only if the financing statement provides the name of the decedent and indicates that the debtor is an estate;

(c) If the debtor is a trust or a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust, only if the financing statement:

1. Provides the name, if any, specified for the trust in its organic documents or, if no name is specified, provides the name of the settlor and additional information sufficient to distinguish a debtor from other trusts having one or more of the same settlors; and

2. Indicates, in the debtor's name or otherwise, that the debtor is a trust or is a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust; and

(d) In other cases:

1. If the debtor has a name, only if it provides the individual or organizational name of the debtor; and

2. If the debtor does not have a name, only if it provides the names of the partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(2) A financing statement that provides the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection (1) is not rendered ineffective by the absence of:

(a) A trade name or other name of the debtor; or

(b) Unless required under subparagraph (1)(d)2., names of partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(3) A financing statement that provides only the debtor's trade name does not sufficiently provide the name of the debtor.

(4) Failure to indicate the representative capacity of a secured party or representative of a secured party does not affect the sufficiency of a financing statement.

(5) A financing statement may provide the name of more than one debtor and the name of more than one secured party.

679.5041 Indication of collateral.—A financing statement sufficiently indicates the collateral that it covers if the financing statement provides:

(1) A description of the collateral pursuant to s. 679.1081; or

(2) If the security agreement grants a security interest in all of the debtor's personal property and such property is reasonably identified in the security agreement, as permitted by s. 679.1081, an indication that the financing statement covers all assets or all personal property.

679.5051 Filing and compliance with other statutes and treaties for consignments, leases, bailments, and other transactions.—

(1) A consignor, lessor, or bailor of goods, a licensor, or a buyer of a payment intangible or promissory note may file a financing statement, or may comply with a statute or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1), using the terms "consignor," "consignee," "lessor," "lessee," "bailor," "bailee," "licensor," "licensee," "owner," "registered owner," "buyer," "seller," or words of similar import, instead of the terms "secured party" and "debtor."

(2) This part applies to the filing of a financing statement under subsection (1) and, as appropriate, to compliance that is equivalent to filing a financing statement under s. 679.3111(2), but the filing or compliance is not of itself a factor in determining whether the collateral secures an obligation. If it is determined for another reason that the collateral secures an obligation, a security interest held by the consignor, lessor, bailor, licensor, owner, or buyer which attaches to the collateral is perfected by the filing or compliance.

679.5061 Effect of errors or omissions.—

(1) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this part is effective, even if it has minor errors or omissions, unless the errors or omissions make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with s. 679.5031(1) is seriously misleading.

(3) If a search of the records of the filing office under the debtor's correct name, using the filing office's standard search logic, if any, would disclose a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with s. 679.5031(1), the name provided does not make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(4) For purposes of s. 679.508(2), the term "debtor's correct name" as used in subsection (3) means the correct name of the new debtor.

679.5071 Effect of certain events on effectiveness of financing statement.—

(1) A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral that is sold, exchanged, leased, licensed, or otherwise disposed of and in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues, even if the secured party knows of or consents to the disposition.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) and s. 679.508, a financing statement is not rendered ineffective if, after the financing statement is filed, the information provided in the financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061.

(3) If a debtor so changes its name that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061:

(a) The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor before, or within 4 months after, the change; and

(b) The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than 4 months after the change, unless an amendment to the financing statement which renders the financing statement not seriously misleading is filed within 4 months after the change.

679.508 Effectiveness of financing statement if new debtor becomes bound by security agreement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a filed financing statement naming an original debtor is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights to the extent that the financing statement would have been effective had the original debtor acquired rights in the collateral.

(2) If the difference between the name of the original debtor and that of the new debtor causes a filed financing statement that is effective under subsection (1) to be seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061:

(a) The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor before, and within 4 months after, the new debtor becomes bound under s. 679.2031(4); and

(b) The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor more than 4 months after the new debtor becomes bound under s. 679.2031(4) unless an initial financing statement providing the name of the new debtor is filed before the expiration of that time.

(3) This section does not apply to collateral as to which a filed financing statement remains effective against the new debtor under s. 679.5071(1).

679.509 Persons entitled to file a record.—

(1) A person may file an initial financing statement, amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement, or amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:

(a) The debtor authorizes the filing in an authenticated record or pursuant to subsection (2) or subsection (3); or

(b) The person holds an agricultural lien that has become effective at the time of filing and the financing statement covers only collateral in which the person holds an agricultural lien.

(2) By authenticating or becoming bound as a debtor by a security agreement, a debtor or new debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing statement, and an amendment, covering:

(a) The collateral described in the security agreement; and

(b) Property that becomes collateral under s. 679.3151(1)(b), whether or not the security agreement expressly covers proceeds.

(3) A person may file an amendment other than an amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement or an amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:

(a) The secured party of record authorizes the filing; or

(b) The amendment is a termination statement for a financing statement as to which the secured party of record has failed to file or send a termination statement as required by s. 679.5131(1) or (3).

(4) If there is more than one secured party of record for a financing statement, each secured party of record may authorize the filing of an amendment under subsection (3).

(5) By acquiring collateral in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues under s. 679.3151(1), a debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing, and an amendment, covering the collateral and property that become collateral under s. 679.3151(1)(b).

679.510 Effectiveness of filed record.—

(1) Subject to subsection (3), a filed record is effective only to the extent that it was filed by a person who may file it under s. 679.509.

(2) A record authorized by one secured party of record does not affect the financing statement with respect to another secured party of record.

(3) If a person may file a termination statement only under s. 679.509(3)(b), the filed termination statement is effective only if the debtor authorizes the filing and the termination statement indicates that the debtor authorized it to be filed.

(4) A continuation statement that is not filed within the 6-month period prescribed by s. 679.515(4) is ineffective.

679.511 Secured party of record.—

(1) A secured party of record with respect to a financing statement is a person whose name is provided as the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party in an initial financing statement that has been filed. If an initial financing statement is filed under s. 679.514(1), the assignee named in the initial financing statement is the secured party of record with respect to the financing statement.

(2) If an amendment of a financing statement which provides the name of a person as a secured party or a representative of a secured party is filed, the person named in the amendment is a secured party of record. If an amendment is filed under s. 679.514(2), the assignee named in the amendment is a secured party of record.

(3) A person remains a secured party of record until the filing of an amendment of the financing statement which deletes the person.

679.512 Amendment of financing statement.—

(1) Subject to s. 679.509, a person may add or delete collateral covered by, continue or terminate the effectiveness of, or, subject to subsection (5), otherwise amend the information provided in, a financing statement by filing an amendment that:

(a) Identifies, by its correct file number, if any, the initial financing statement to which the amendment relates, and the name of the debtor and the secured party of record; and

(b) If the amendment relates to an initial financing statement filed or recorded in a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a), provides the information specified in s. 679.5021(2), the official records book and page number of the initial financing statement to which the amendment relates, and the name of the debtor and secured party of record.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.515, the filing of an amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of the financing statement.

(3) A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds collateral is effective as to the added collateral only from the date of the filing of the amendment.

(4) A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds a debtor is effective as to the added debtor only from the date of the filing of the amendment.

(5) An amendment is ineffective to the extent it:

(a) Purports to delete all debtors and fails to provide the name of a debtor to be covered by the financing statement; or

(b) Purports to delete all secured parties of record and fails to provide the name of a new secured party of record.

679.513 Termination statement.—

(1) A secured party shall cause the secured party of record for a financing statement to file a termination statement for the financing statement if the financing statement covers consumer goods and:

(a) There is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value; or

(b) The debtor did not authorize the filing of the initial financing statement.

(2) To comply with subsection (1), a secured party shall cause the secured party of record to file the termination statement:

(a) Within 1 month after there is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value; or

(b) If earlier, within 20 days after the secured party receives an authenticated demand from a debtor.

(3) In cases not governed by subsection (1), within 20 days after a secured party receives an authenticated demand from a debtor, the secured party shall cause the secured party of record for a financing statement to send to the debtor a termination statement for the financing statement or file the termination statement in the filing office if:

(a) Except in the case of a financing statement covering accounts or chattel paper that has been sold or goods that are the subject of a consignment, there is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value;

(b) The financing statement covers accounts or chattel paper that has been sold but as to which the account debtor or other person obligated has discharged its obligation;

(c) The financing statement covers goods that were the subject of a consignment to the debtor but are not in the debtor's possession; or

(d) The debtor did not authorize the filing of the initial financing statement.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, upon the filing of a termination statement with the filing office, the financing statement to which the termination statement relates ceases to be effective. Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, for purposes of ss. 679.519(7) and 679.522(1), the filing with the filing office of a termination statement relating to a financing statement that indicates that the debtor is a transmitting utility also causes the effectiveness of the financing statement to lapse.

679.514 Assignment of powers of secured party of record.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), an initial financing statement may reflect an assignment of all of the secured party's power to authorize an amendment to the financing statement by providing the name and mailing address of the assignee as the name and address of the secured party.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a secured party of record may assign of record all or part of its power to authorize an amendment to a financing statement by filing in the filing office an amendment of the financing statement which:

(a) Identifies, by its correct file number and the secured party of record, the initial financing statement to which it relates;

(b) Provides the names of the assignor and debtor; and

(c) Provides the name and mailing address of the assignee.

(3) An assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture covered by a real property mortgage that is effective as a fixture filing under s. 679.5021(3) may be made only by an assignment of record of the mortgage in the manner provided by s. 701.02.

679.515 Duration and effectiveness of financing statement; effect of lapsed financing statement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2), (5), (6), and (7), a filed financing statement is effective for a period of 5 years after the date of filing.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (5), (6), and (7), an initial financing statement filed in connection with a manufactured-home transaction is effective for a period of 30 years after the date of filing if it indicates that it is filed in connection with a manufactured-home transaction.

(3) The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the period of its effectiveness unless, before the lapse, a continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection (4). Upon lapse, a financing statement ceases to be effective and any security interest or agricultural lien that was perfected by the financing statement becomes unperfected, unless the security interest is perfected without filing. If the security interest or agricultural lien becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(4) A continuation statement may be filed only within 6 months before the expiration of the 5-year period specified in subsection (1) or the 30-year period specified in subsection (2), whichever is applicable.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, upon timely filing of a continuation statement, the effectiveness of the initial financing statement continues for a period of 5 years commencing on the day on which the financing statement would have become ineffective in the absence of the filing. Upon the expiration of the 5-year period, the financing statement lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection (3), unless, before the lapse, another continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection (4). Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the initial financing statement.

(6) If a debtor is a transmitting utility and a filed financing statement so indicates, the financing statement is effective until a termination statement is filed.

(7) A record of a mortgage satisfying the requirements of chapter 697 that is effective as a fixture filing under s. 679.5021(3) remains effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real property.

679.516 What constitutes filing; effectiveness of filing.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), communication of a record to a filing office, tender of the processing fee, or acceptance of the record by the filing office constitutes filing.

(2) Filing does not occur with respect to a record that a filing office refuses to accept because:

(a) The record is not communicated by a method or medium of communication authorized by the filing office;

(b) An amount equal to or greater than the applicable processing fee is not tendered;

(c) The record does not include the notation required by s. 201.22 indicating that the excise tax required by chapter 201 had been paid or is not required;

(d) The filing office is unable to index the record because:

1. In the case of an initial financing statement, the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial;

2. In the case of an amendment or correction statement, the record:

a. Does not correctly identify the initial financing statement as required by s. 679.512 or s. 679.518, as applicable; or

b. Identifies an initial financing statement the effectiveness of which has lapsed under s. 679.515;

3. In the case of an initial financing statement that provides the name of a debtor identified as an individual or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor identified as an individual which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates, the record does not identify the debtor's last name and first name or initial; or

4. In the case of a record filed or recorded in the filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a), the record does not provide a sufficient description of the real property to which it relates;

(e) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that adds a secured party of record, the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial and mailing address for the secured party of record;

(f) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the amendment relates, the record does not:

1. Provide a mailing address for the debtor;

2. Indicate whether the debtor is an individual or an organization; or

3. If the financing statement indicates that the debtor is an organization, provide:

a. A type of organization for the debtor;

b. A jurisdiction of organization for the debtor; or

c. An organizational identification number for the debtor or indicate that the debtor has none;

(g) In the case of an assignment reflected in an initial financing statement under s. 679.514(1) or an amendment filed under s. 679.514(2), the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial and mailing address for the assignee;

(h) In the case of a continuation statement, the record is not filed within the 6-month period prescribed by s. 679.515(4);

(i) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment, which amendment requires the inclusion of a collateral statement but the record does not provide any, the record does not provide a statement of collateral; or

(3) For purposes of subsection (2):

(a) A record does not provide information if the filing office is unable to read or decipher the information; and

(b) A record that does not indicate that it is an amendment or identify an initial financing statement to which it relates, as required by s. 679.512, s. 679.514, or s. 679.518, is an initial financing statement.

(4) A record that is communicated to the filing office with tender of the filing fee, but that the filing office refuses to accept for a reason other than one set forth in subsection (2), is effective as a filed record except as against a purchaser of the collateral which gives value in reasonable reliance upon the absence of the record from the files.

(5)(a) If the Secretary of State reasonably and in good faith believes that:

1. A financing statement submitted for filing has been tendered to the wrong office; or

2. An exhibit or attachment specifically mentioned in the record as being attached is not attached; or

(b) If the filing office is unable to index the record because an amendment or correction statement was previously terminated under s. 679.513, the filing office shall nevertheless conditionally accept the filing and give the financing statement a conditional filing number and record the date of filing as of the date it is received, the "conditional filing date," if it otherwise complies with this part. However, the financing statement may be rejected and the filing number and filing date purged from the filing office records if the person submitting the financing statement does not provide the filing office with information or documents satisfying the requirements of this part within 20 business days after the filing office sends an authenticated record stating an objection to the financing statement as permitted herein, which objection shall be sent within 3 business days after the financing statement is received by the filing office. If not rejected in accordance with this provision, the effective date of a conditionally accepted financing statement shall be the conditional filing date.

(6) If the Secretary of State reasonably and in good faith believes that a financing statement submitted for filing is fraudulent, the filing office shall nevertheless conditionally accept the filing and give the financing statement a conditional filing number and record the date of filing as the date it is received, the "conditional filing date," if it otherwise complies with this part. However, the financing statement may be rejected and the filing number and filing date purged from the filing office records if the person submitting the financing statement does not provide the filing office with information or documents supporting the legitimacy of the financing statement within 20 business days after the filing office sends an authenticated record stating an objection to the financing statement as permitted herein, which objection shall be sent within 3 business days after the financing statement is received by the filing office. If not rejected in accordance with this provision, the effective date of a conditionally accepted financing statement shall be the conditional filing date.

679.517 Effect of indexing errors.—The failure of the filing office to index a record correctly does not affect the effectiveness of the filed record.

679.518 Claim concerning inaccurate or wrongfully filed record.—

(1) A person may file in the filing office a correction statement with respect to a record indexed there under the person's name if the person believes that the record is inaccurate or was wrongfully filed.

(2) A correction statement must:

(a) Identify the record to which it relates by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement, the debtor, and the secured party of record to which the record relates;

(b) Indicate that it is a correction statement; and

(c) Provide the basis for the person's belief that the record is inaccurate and indicate the manner in which the person believes the record should be amended to cure any inaccuracy or provide the basis for the person's belief that the record was wrongfully filed.

(3) The filing of a correction statement does not affect the effectiveness of an initial financing statement or other filed record.

679.519 Numbering, maintaining, and indexing records; communicating information provided in records.—

(1) For each record filed in a filing office, the filing office shall, in accordance with such other laws applicable to the recording of instruments by a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a):

(a) Assign a unique number to the filed record;

(b) Create a record that bears the number assigned to the filed record and the date and time of filing;

(c) Maintain the filed record for public inspection; and

(d) Index the filed record in accordance with subsections (3), (4), and (5).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), a file number assigned after January 1, 2002, must include a digit that:

(a) Is mathematically derived from or related to the other digits of the file number; and

(b) Enables the filing office to detect whether a number communicated as the file number includes a single-digit or transpositional error.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (4) and (5), the filing office shall:

(a) Index an initial financing statement according to the name of the debtor and shall index all filed records relating to the initial financing statement in a manner that associates with one another an initial financing statement and all filed records relating to the initial financing statement; and

(b) Index a record that provides a name of a debtor which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates also according to the name that was not previously provided.

(4) If a financing statement is filed as a fixture filing or covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, the filing office shall index it:

(a) Under the names of the debtor and of each owner of record shown on the financing statement as if they were the mortgagors under a mortgage of the real property described; and

(b) To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if the secured party were the mortgagee thereunder, or, if indexing is by description, as if the financing statement were a mortgage of the real property described.

(5) If a financing statement is filed as a fixture filing or covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, the filing office shall index an assignment filed under s. 679.514(1) or an amendment filed under s. 679.514(2):

(a) Under the name of the assignor as grantor; and

(b) To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a real property mortgage under the name of the assignee, under the name of the assignee.

(6) The filing office shall maintain a capability for:

(a) Retrieving a record by the name of the debtor and by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates; and

(b) Associating and retrieving with one another an initial financing statement and each filed record relating to the initial financing statement.

(7) The filing office may not remove a debtor's name from the index until 1 year after the effectiveness of a financing statement naming the debtor lapses under s. 679.515 with respect to all secured parties of record.

(8) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), the filing office shall perform the acts required by subsections (1) through (5) at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule, but not later than 3 business days after the filing office receives the record in question, if practical.

(9) Subsections (1), (2), and (8) do not apply to a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a).

679.520 Acceptance and refusal to accept record.—

(1) A filing office shall refuse to accept a record for filing for a reason set forth in s. 679.516(2) and may refuse to accept a record for filing only for a reason set forth in s. 679.516(2).

(2) If a filing office refuses to accept a record for filing, it shall communicate to the person that presented the record the fact of and reason for the refusal and the date and time the record would have been filed had the filing office accepted it. The communication must be made at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule but, in the case of a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b), in no event more than 3 business days after the filing office receives the record, if practical.

(3) A filed financing statement satisfying s. 679.5021(1) and (2) is effective, even if the filing office is required to refuse to accept it for filing under subsection (1). However, s. 679.338 applies to a filed financing statement providing information described in s. 679.516(2)(e) which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed.

(4) If a record communicated to a filing office provides information that relates to more than one debtor, this part applies as to each debtor separately.

679.521 Uniform form of written financing statement and amendment.—The Secretary of State shall develop or approve mandatory forms for use in filing under this chapter. Such forms must be in accord with the requirements of Florida law, including s. 201.22. The secretary may, if he or she finds that such forms meet these requirements, approve the use of a standard national form for this purpose.

679.522 Maintenance and destruction of records.—

(1) The filing office shall maintain a record of the information provided in a filed financing statement for at least 1 year after the effectiveness of the financing statement has lapsed under s. 679.515 with respect to all secured parties of record. The record must be retrievable by using the name of the debtor and by using the file number, or official records book and page number if a fixture filing, assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates.

(2) Except to the extent that chapter 119 governing disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing office immediately may destroy any written record evidencing a financing statement. However, if the filing office destroys a written record, it shall maintain another record of the financing statement which complies with subsection (1).

679.523 Information from filing office; sale or license of records.—

(1) If a person files a written record, the filing office shall make available, on the database, an image of the record showing the number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a) and the date of the filing of the record or, if requested, send to the person a separate printed acknowledgement indicating the debtor's name, the number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a), and the date of the filing of the record.

(2) If a person files a record other than a written record, the filing office described in s. 679.5011(l)(b) shall communicate to the person an image that provides:

(a) The information in the record;

(b) The number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a); and

(c) The date and time of the filing of the record.

(3) In complying with its duty under this chapter, the filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b) may communicate information in any medium. However, if requested, the filing office shall communicate information by issuing its written certificate or a record that can be admitted into evidence in the courts of the state without extrinsic evidence of its authenticity.

(4) The filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b) shall perform the acts required by subsections (1) and (2) at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule, but not later than 3 business days after the filing office receives the request, if practical.

679.524 Delay by filing office.—Delay by the filing office beyond a time limit prescribed by this part is excused if:

(1) The delay is caused by interruption of communication or computer facilities, war, emergency conditions, failure of equipment, or other circumstances beyond control of the filing office; and

(2) The filing office exercises reasonable diligence under the circumstances.

679.525 Processing fees.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the nonrefundable processing fee for filing and indexing a record under this part, other than an initial financing statement of the kind described in s. 679.5021(3), is:

(a) For filing a financing statement, $25 for the first page, which shall include the cost of filing a termination statement for the financing statement;

(b) For filing an amendment, $12 for the first page;

(c) For indexing by additional debtor, secured party, or assignee, $3 per additional name indexed;

(d) For use of a nonapproved form, $5;

(e) For each additional facing page attached to a record, $3;

(f) For filing a financing statement communicated by an electronic filing process authorized by the filing office, $15 with no additional fees for multiple names or attached pages;

(g) For filing an amendment communicated by an electronic filing process authorized by the filing office, $5 with no additional fees for multiple names or attached pages;

(h) For a certified copy of a financing statement and any and all associated amendments, $30; and

(i) For a photocopy of a filed record, $1 per page.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the fee for filing and indexing an initial financing statement of the kind described in s. 679.5021(3) is the amount specified in chapter 28.

(3) This section does not require a fee with respect to a mortgage that is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut under s. 679.5021(3). However, the recording and satisfaction fees that otherwise would be applicable to the mortgage apply.

679.526 Filing-office rules.—The Department of State may adopt and publish rules to administer this chapter. The filing-office rules must be:

(1) Consistent with this chapter.

(2) Adopted and published in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act.

679.527 Authority to delegate.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the Secretary of State may delegate the duties of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter to a private filing agency qualified to transact business in this state which otherwise has satisfied all other requirements of law and has entered into an approved written contract with the Department of State. Upon the effective date of such contract, the private filing agency shall, subject to the review of the Secretary of State or his or her designee, fully and diligently perform and carry out the responsibilities of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter, except as proscribed in the contract or this chapter.

(2) Notwithstanding any contract with the private filing agency, the Secretary of State, or his or her designee who is an employee of the Department of State, shall retain the sole authority to conditionally accept and later reject a purportedly fraudulent financing statement as permitted under s. 679.515. The decision to reject shall be made within 3 business days after the financing statement is received by the filing office. However, the private filing agency may recommend to the Secretary of State or his or her designee action as to any purportedly fraudulent financing statement and shall send to the party submitting the financing statement immediately after the decision is made an authenticated record of any determination of conditional acceptance or rejection made by the Secretary of State or his or her designee. Further, notwithstanding any such contract, the Secretary of State or his or her designee also may review and reverse any decision by the private filing agency to reject a financing statement under this chapter.

(3) The Secretary of State shall immediately after the effective date of this act develop and issue a request for qualifications seeking qualified entities to perform the duties of the filing officer and filing office under this chapter which are delegable.

(a) The qualifications and any contract shall, at a minimum, require:

1. The creation and maintenance of a central filing, recording, retrieval, and response system that is capable of fully satisfying the filing officer and filing office requirements under this chapter.

2. Record maintenance in compliance with chapter 119.

3. Oversight by the Department of State, including compliance audits of the performance standards described in subsection (5).

4. Access by the public, including review at no charge through the Internet or such other substitute medium, of all financing statements maintained by the Department of State under chapter 679 existing as of the date of the enactment of this act, and of all financing statements filed after the effective date of this act, subject to any requirements or limitations of chapter 119 and this chapter.

5. Maintenance for at least 5 years of the type and amount of fees and procedures for the deposit of revenues, net of operating costs, prescribed by the Department of State as of the effective date of this act, consistent with chapter 15.

(4) Notwithstanding the requirements of chapter 287, the Secretary of State or his or her designee may determine and select the most qualified respondent to the request for qualifications as the private filing agency under this chapter.

(5) The Secretary of State or his or her designee shall develop performance standards to assure that the system to be used and actually used by the private filing agency is accurate, efficient, and complete and that the system satisfies the responsibilities of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter and meets the needs of various persons and entities using or affected by the filing system.

(6) Because of the unique role the filing office and filing officer have in administering and overseeing the system of filing, amending, terminating, and assigning financing statements, and the importance to commerce within this state of uninterrupted, consistent, and credible service to parties affected by the filing system, any contract between the Department of State and the private filing agency shall not be assignable without the express written consent of the Secretary of State, which consent may be withheld in his or her sole and absolute discretion.

(7) If:

(a) The private filing agency ceases, is unable, or fails to perform all of the duties required under this chapter required of the filing office and filing officer or as provided for in any contract, as determined by the Secretary of State in his or her sole discretion;

(b) An assignee for the benefit of creditor is appointed for the private filing agency or its assets or a receiver is appointed for the private filing agency or its assets other than by the Secretary of State;

(c) Bankruptcy or other insolvency proceedings are commenced by the private filing agency; or

(d) An involuntary bankruptcy case is commenced against the private filing agency and the case is not dismissed within 5 business days after the filing of the petition, the Secretary of State shall, immediately or as soon as practicable thereafter, assume the duties of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter; appoint a receiver for the private filing agency to fulfill the duties of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter and any existing contract; or redelegate such duties to a new private filing agency that meets the requirements of this section and enters into a new approved contract with the Secretary of State. Upon any assumption, appointment, or redelegation by the Secretary of State under this subsection, any rights of the private filing agency pertaining to the contract or otherwise with respect to this chapter shall immediately terminate.

(8) All financing statements, logs, or indices evidencing information regarding the filing, amendment, continuation, termination, or assignment of financing statements, and all other records pertaining to financing statements received or sent by the private filing agency, regardless of the form in which they are maintained, shall be and remain the property of this state, and upon demand shall be immediately turned over to the Secretary of State upon the occurrence of any event described in paragraph (7)(a), paragraph (7)(b), paragraph (7)(c), or paragraph (7)(d). The Secretary of State shall be entitled to injunctive relief on an emergency basis if the private filing agency fails to turn over any of such records.

Section 7. Part VI of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.601, 679.602, 679.603, 679.604, 679.605, 679.606, 679.607, 679.608, 679.609, 679.610, 679.611, 679.612, 679.613, 679.614, 679.615, 679.616, 679.617, 679.618, 679.619, 679.620, 679.621, 679.622, 679.623, 679.624, 679.625, 679.626, 679.627, and 679.628, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART VI
DEFAULT

679.601 Rights after default; judicial enforcement; consignor or buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes.—

(1) After default, a secured party has the rights provided in this part and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.602, those provided by agreement of the parties. A secured party:

(a) May reduce a claim to judgment, foreclose, or otherwise enforce the claim, security interest, or agricultural lien by any available judicial procedure; and

(b) If the collateral is documents, may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods they cover.

(2) A secured party in possession of collateral or control of collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071 has the rights and duties provided in s. 679.2071.

(3) The rights under subsections (1) and (2) are cumulative and may be exercised simultaneously.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7) and s. 679.605, after default, a debtor and an obligor have the rights provided in this part and by agreement of the parties.

(5) If a secured party has reduced its claim to judgment, the lien of any levy that may be made upon the collateral by virtue of an execution based upon the judgment relates back to the earliest of:

(a) The date of perfection of the security interest or agricultural lien in the collateral;

(b) The date of filing a financing statement covering the collateral; or

(c) Any date specified in a statute under which the agricultural lien was created.

(6) A sale pursuant to an execution is a foreclosure of the security interest or agricultural lien by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section. A secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this chapter.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.607(3), this part imposes no duties upon a secured party that is a consignor or is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes.

679.602 Waiver and variance of rights and duties.—Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.624, to the extent that they give rights to a debtor or obligor and impose duties on a secured party, the debtor or obligor may not waive or vary the rules stated in the following listed sections:

(1) Section 679.2071(2)(d)3., which deals with use and operation of the collateral by the secured party;

(2) Section 679.210, which deals with requests for an accounting and requests concerning a list of collateral and statement of account;

(3) Section 679.607(3), which deals with collection and enforcement of collateral;

(4) Sections 679.608(1) and 679.615(3) to the extent that they deal with application or payment of noncash proceeds of collection, enforcement, or disposition;

(5) Sections 679.608(1) and 679.615(4) to the extent that they require accounting for or payment of surplus proceeds of collateral;

(6) Section 679.609 to the extent that it imposes upon a secured party that takes possession of collateral without judicial process the duty to do so without breach of the peace;

(7) Sections 679.610(2), 679.611, 679.613, and 679.614, which deal with disposition of collateral;

(8) Section 679.615(6), which deals with calculation of a deficiency or surplus when a disposition is made to the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor;

(9) Section 679.616, which deals with explanation of the calculation of a surplus or deficiency;

(10) Sections 679.620, 679.621, and 679.622, which deal with acceptance of collateral in satisfaction of obligation;

(11) Section 679.623, which deals with redemption of collateral;

(12) Section 679.624, which deals with permissible waivers; and

(13) Sections 679.625 and 679.626, which deal with the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this article.

679.603 Agreement on standards concerning rights and duties.—

(1) The parties may determine by agreement the standards measuring the fulfillment of the rights of a debtor or obligor and the duties of a secured party under a rule stated in s. 679.602 if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the duty under s. 679.609 to refrain from breaching the peace.

679.604 Procedure if security agreement covers real property or fixtures.—

(1) If a security agreement covers both personal and real property, a secured party may proceed:

(a) Under this part as to the personal property without prejudicing any rights with respect to the real property; or

(b) As to both the personal property and the real property in accordance with the rights with respect to the real property, in which case the other provisions of this part do not apply.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), if a security agreement covers goods that are or become fixtures, a secured party may proceed:

(a) Under this part; or

(b) In accordance with the rights with respect to real property, in which case the other provisions of this part do not apply.

(3) Subject to the other provisions of this part, if a secured party holding a security interest in fixtures has priority over all owners and encumbrancers of the real property, the secured party, after default, may remove the collateral from the real property. The secured party shall give reasonable notification of its intent to remove the collateral to all persons entitled to reimbursement under subsection (4).

(4) A secured party that removes collateral shall promptly reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real property, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury caused by the removal. The secured party need not reimburse the encumbrancer or owner for any diminution in value of the real property caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse. This subsection does not prohibit a secured party and the person entitled to reimbursement from entering into an authenticated record providing for the removal of fixtures and reimbursement for any damage caused thereby.

679.605 Unknown debtor or secondary obligor.—A secured party does not owe a duty based on its status as secured party:

(1) To a person who is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

(a) That the person is a debtor or obligor;

(b) The identity of the person; and

(c) How to communicate with the person; or

(2) To a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

(a) That the person is a debtor; and

(b) The identity of the person.

679.606 Time of default for agricultural lien.—For purposes of this part, a default occurs in connection with an agricultural lien at the time the secured party becomes entitled to enforce the lien in accordance with the statute under which it was created.

679.607 Collection and enforcement by secured party.—

(1) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party:

(a) May notify an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to or for the benefit of the secured party;

(b) May take any proceeds to which the secured party is entitled under s. 679.3151;

(c) May enforce the obligations of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral and exercise the rights of the debtor with respect to the obligation of the account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to the debtor, and with respect to any property that secures the obligations of the account debtor or other person obligated on the collateral;

(d) If it holds a security interest in a deposit account perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(a), may apply the balance of the deposit account to the obligation secured by the deposit account; and

(e) If it holds a security interest in a deposit account perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(b) or (c), may instruct the bank to pay the balance of the deposit account to or for the benefit of the secured party.

(2) If necessary to enable a secured party to exercise under paragraph (1)(c) the right of a debtor to enforce a mortgage nonjudicially outside this state, the secured party may record in the office in which a record of the mortgage is recorded:

(a) A copy of the security agreement that creates or provides for a security interest in the obligation secured by the mortgage; and

(b) The secured party's sworn affidavit in recordable form stating that:

1. A default has occurred; and

2. The secured party is entitled to enforce the mortgage nonjudicially outside this state.

(3) A secured party shall proceed in a commercially reasonable manner if the secured party:

(a) Undertakes to collect from or enforce an obligation of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral; and

(b) Is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor.

(4) A secured party may deduct from the collections made pursuant to subsection (3) reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement, including reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party.

(5) This section does not determine whether an account debtor, bank, or other person obligated on collateral owes a duty to a secured party.

(6) Nothing in subsection (2) is intended to create a right of nonjudicial foreclosure in this state.

679.608 Application of proceeds of collection or enforcement; liability for deficiency and right to surplus.—

(1) If a security interest or agricultural lien secures payment or performance of an obligation, the following rules apply:

(a) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of collection or enforcement under s. 679.607 in the following order to:

1. The reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

2. The satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or agricultural lien under which the collection or enforcement is made; and

3. The satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other lien on the collateral subject to the security interest or agricultural lien under which the collection or enforcement is made if the secured party receives an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.

(b) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time and agree to indemnify the secured party on reasonable terms acceptable to the secured party for damages, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, incurred or suffered by the secured party if the subordinate holder did not have the right to receive the amounts to be paid to it. Unless the holder complies, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under subparagraph (a)3.

(c) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application noncash proceeds of collection and enforcement under s. 679.607 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application noncash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.

(d) A secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus, and the obligor is liable for any deficiency.

(2) If the underlying transaction is a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes, the debtor is not entitled to any surplus, and the obligor is not liable for any deficiency.

(3) If the secured party in good faith cannot determine the validity, extent, or priority of a subordinate security interest or other lien or there are conflicting claims of subordinate interests or liens, the secured party may commence an interpleader action with respect to remaining proceeds in excess of $2,500 in the circuit or county court, as applicable based upon the amount to be deposited, where the collateral was located or collected or in the county where the debtor has its chief executive office or principal residence in this state, as applicable. If authorized in an authenticated record, the interpleading secured party is entitled to be paid from the remaining proceeds the actual costs of the filing fee and an attorney's fee in the amount of $250 incurred in connection with filing the interpleader action and obtaining an order approving the interpleader of funds. The debtor in a consumer transaction may not be assessed for the attorney's fees and costs incurred in the interpleader action by the holders of subordinate security interests or other liens based upon disputes among said holders, and a debtor in a transaction other than a consumer transaction may only recover such fees and costs to the extent provided for in an authenticated record. If authorized in an authenticated record, the court in the interpleader action may award reasonable attorney's fees and costs to the prevailing party in a dispute between the debtor and a holder of a security interest or lien which claims an interest in the remaining interplead proceeds, but only if the debtor challenges the validity, priority, or extent of said security interest or lien. Except as provided in this subsection, a debtor may not be assessed attorney's fees and costs incurred by any party in an interpleader action commenced under this section.

679.609 Secured party's right to take possession after default.—

(1) After default, a secured party:

(a) May take possession of the collateral; and

(b) Without removal, may render equipment unusable and dispose of collateral on a debtor's premises under s. 679.610.

(2) A secured party may proceed under subsection (1):

(a) Pursuant to judicial process; or

(b) Without judicial process, if it proceeds without breach of the peace.

(3) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties.

679.610 Disposition of collateral after default.—

(1) After default, a secured party may sell, lease, license, or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its present condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing.

(2) Every aspect of a disposition of collateral, including the method, manner, time, place, and other terms, must be commercially reasonable. If commercially reasonable, a secured party may dispose of collateral by public or private proceedings, by one or more contracts, as a unit or in parcels, and at any time and place and on any terms.

(3) A secured party may purchase collateral:

(a) At a public disposition; or

(b) At a private disposition only if the collateral is of a kind that is customarily sold on a recognized market or the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations.

(4) A contract for sale, lease, license, or other disposition includes the warranties relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, and the like which by operation of law accompany a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract.

(5) A secured party may disclaim or modify warranties under subsection (4):

(a) In a manner that would be effective to disclaim or modify the warranties in a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract of disposition; or

(b) By communicating to the purchaser a record evidencing the contract for disposition and including an express disclaimer or modification of the warranties.

(6) A record is sufficient to disclaim warranties under subsection (5) if it indicates that "there is no warranty relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, or the like in this disposition" or uses words of similar import.

679.611 Notification before disposition of collateral.—

(1) In this section, the term "notification date" means the earlier of the date on which:

(a) A secured party sends to the debtor and any secondary obligor an authenticated notification of disposition; or

(b) The debtor and any secondary obligor waive the right to notification.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party that disposes of collateral under s. 679.610 shall send to the persons specified in subsection (3) a reasonable authenticated notification of disposition.

(3) To comply with subsection (2), the secured party shall send an authenticated notification of disposition to:

(a) The debtor;

(b) Any secondary obligor; and

(c) If the collateral is other than consumer goods:

1. Any other person from whom the secured party has received, before the notification date, an authenticated notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;

2. Any other secured party or lienholder that, 10 days before the notification date, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by the filing of a financing statement that:

a. Identified the collateral;

b. Was indexed under the debtor's name as of that date; and

c. Was filed in the office in which to file a financing statement against the debtor covering the collateral as of that date; and

3. Any other secured party that, 10 days before the notification date, held a security interest in the collateral perfected by compliance with a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1).

(4) Subsection (2) does not apply if the collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market.

(5) A secured party complies with the requirement for notification prescribed by subparagraph (3)(c)2. if:

(a) Not later than 20 days or earlier than 30 days before the notification date, the secured party requests, in a commercially reasonable manner, information concerning financing statements indexed under the debtor's name in the office indicated in subparagraph (3)(c)2.; and

(b) Before the notification date, the secured party:

1. Did not receive a response to the request for information; or

2. Received a response to the request for information and sent an authenticated notification of disposition to each secured party or other lienholder named in that response whose financing statement covered the collateral.

(6) For purposes of subsection (3), the secured party may send the authenticated notification as follows:

(a) If the collateral is other than consumer goods, to the debtor at the address in the financing statement, unless the secured party has received an authenticated record from the debtor notifying the secured party of a different address for such notification purposes or the secured party has actual knowledge of the address of the debtor's chief executive office or principal residence, as applicable, at the time the notification is sent;

(b) If the collateral is other than consumer goods, to any secondary obligor at the address, if any, in the authenticated agreement, unless the secured party has received an authenticated record from the secondary obligor notifying the secured party of a different address for such notification purposes or the secured party has actual knowledge of the address of the secondary obligor's chief executive office or principal residence, as applicable, at the time the notification is sent; and

(c) If the collateral is other than consumer goods:

1. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)1., at the address stated in the notification;

2. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)2., at the address stated in the financing statement;

3. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)3., at the address stated in the official records of the recording or registration agency.

679.612 Timeliness of notification before disposition of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), whether a notification is sent within a reasonable time is a question of fact.

(2) A notification of disposition sent after default and 10 days or more before the earliest time of disposition set forth in the notification is sent within a reasonable time before the disposition.

679.613 Contents and form of notification before disposition of collateral; general.—Except in a consumer-goods transaction, the following rules apply:

(1) The contents of a notification of disposition are sufficient if the notification:

(a) Describes the debtor and the secured party;

(b) Describes the collateral that is the subject of the intended disposition;

(c) States the method of intended disposition;

(d) States that the debtor is entitled to an accounting of the unpaid indebtedness and states the charge, if any, for an accounting; and

(e) States the time and place of a public disposition or the time after which any other disposition is to be made.

(2) Whether the contents of a notification that lacks any of the information specified in subsection (1) are nevertheless sufficient is a question of fact.

(3) The contents of a notification providing substantially the information specified in subsection (1) are sufficient, even if the notification includes:

(a) Information not specified by that paragraph; or

(b) Minor errors that are not seriously misleading.

(4) A particular phrasing of the notification is not required.

(5) The following form of notification and the form appearing in s. 679.614(3), when completed, each provides sufficient information:

(4) A notification in the form of subsection (3) is sufficient, even if additional information appears at the end of the form.

(5) A notification in the form of subsection (3) is sufficient, even if it includes errors in information not required by subsection (1), unless the error is misleading with respect to rights arising under this chapter.

(6) If a notification under this section is not in the form of subsection (3), law other than this chapter determines the effect of including information not required by subsection (1).

679.615 Application of proceeds of disposition; liability for deficiency and right to surplus.—

(1) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of disposition under s. 679.610 in the following order to:

(a) The reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for disposition, processing, and disposing, and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

(b) The satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made;

(c) The satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other subordinate lien on the collateral if:

1. The secured party receives from the holder of the subordinate security interest or other lien an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed; and

2. In a case in which a consignor has an interest in the collateral, the subordinate security interest or other lien is senior to the interest of the consignor; and

(d) A secured party that is a consignor of the collateral if the secured party receives from the consignor an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.

(2) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time after receipt of the request and agree to indemnify the secured party on reasonable terms acceptable to the secured party for damages, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, incurred or suffered by the secured party if the subordinate holder did not have the right to receive the amounts to be paid to it. Unless the holder complies, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under paragraph (1)(c).

(3) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application noncash proceeds of disposition under s. 679.610 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application noncash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.

(4) If the security interest under which a disposition is made secures payment or performance of an obligation, after making the payments and applications required by subsection (1) and permitted by subsection (3):

(a) Unless paragraph (1)(d) requires the secured party to apply or pay over cash proceeds to a consignor, the secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus; and

(b) The obligor is liable for any deficiency.

(5) If the underlying transaction is a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes:

(a) The debtor is not entitled to any surplus; and

(b) The obligor is not liable for any deficiency.

(6) The surplus or deficiency following a disposition is calculated based on the amount of proceeds that would have been realized in a disposition complying with this part to a transferee other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor if:

(a) The transferee in the disposition is the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor; and

(b) The amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of proceeds that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

(7) A secured party that receives cash proceeds of a disposition in good faith and without knowledge that the receipt violates the rights of the holder of a security interest or other lien that is not subordinate to the security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made:

(a) Takes the cash proceeds free of the security interest or other lien;

(b) Is not obligated to apply the proceeds of the disposition to the satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or other lien; and

(c) Is not obligated to account to or pay the holder of the security interest or other lien for any surplus.

(8) If the secured party in good faith cannot determine the validity, extent, or priority of a subordinate security interest or other lien or there are conflicting claims of subordinate interests or liens, the secured party may commence an interpleader action with respect to remaining proceeds in excess of $2,500 in the circuit or county court, as applicable based upon the amount to be deposited, where the collateral was located or collected or in the county where the debtor's chief executive office or principal residence is located in this state, as applicable. The interpleading secured party and any other parties in the interpleader action shall only be entitled to recover attorney's fees and costs as permitted in s. 679.608(3).

679.616 Explanation of calculation of surplus or deficiency.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Explanation" means a writing that:

1. States the amount of the surplus or deficiency;

2. Provides an explanation in accordance with subsection (3) of how the secured party calculated the surplus or deficiency;

3. States, if applicable, that future debits, credits, charges, including additional credit service charges or interest, rebates, and expenses may affect the amount of the surplus or deficiency; and

4. Provides a telephone number or mailing address from which additional information concerning the transaction is available.

(b) "Request" means a record:

1. Authenticated by a debtor or consumer obligor;

2. Requesting that the recipient provide an explanation; and

3. Sent after disposition of the collateral under s. 679.610.

(2) In a consumer-goods transaction in which the debtor is entitled to a surplus or a consumer obligor is liable for a deficiency under s. 679.615, the secured party shall:

(a) Send an explanation to the debtor or consumer obligor, as applicable, after the disposition and:

1. Before or when the secured party accounts to the debtor and pays any surplus or first makes written demand on the consumer obligor after the disposition for payment of the deficiency; and

2. Within 14 days after receipt of a request; or

(b) In the case of a consumer obligor who is liable for a deficiency, within 14 days after receipt of a request, send to the consumer obligor a record waiving the secured party's right to a deficiency.

(3) To comply with subparagraph (1)(a)2., a writing must provide the following information in the following order:

(a) The aggregate amount of obligations secured by the security interest under which the disposition was made, and, if the amount reflects a rebate of unearned interest or credit service charge, an indication of that fact, calculated as of a specified date:

1. If the secured party takes or receives possession of the collateral after default, not more than 35 days before the secured party takes or receives possession; or

2. If the secured party takes or receives possession of the collateral before default or does not take possession of the collateral, not more than 35 days before the disposition;

(b) The amount of proceeds of the disposition;

(c) The aggregate amount of the obligations after deducting the amount of proceeds;

(d) The amount, in the aggregate or by type, and types of expenses, including expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for disposition, processing, and disposing of the collateral, and attorney's fees secured by the collateral which are known to the secured party and relate to the current disposition;

(e) The amount, in the aggregate or by type, and types of credits, including rebates of interest or credit service charges, to which the obligor is known to be entitled and which are not reflected in the amount in paragraph (a); and

(f) The amount of the surplus or deficiency.

(4) A particular phrasing of the explanation is not required. An explanation complying substantially with the requirements of subsection (1) is sufficient, even if it includes minor errors that are not seriously misleading.

(5) A debtor or consumer obligor is entitled without charge to one response to a request under this section during any 6-month period in which the secured party did not send to the debtor or consumer obligor an explanation pursuant to paragraph (2)(a). The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $25 for each additional response.

679.617 Rights of transferee of collateral.—

(1) A secured party's disposition of collateral after default:

(a) Transfers to a transferee for value all of the debtor's rights in the collateral;

(b) Discharges the security interest under which the disposition is made; and

(c) Discharges any subordinate security interest or other subordinate lien other than liens created under statutes providing for liens, if any, that are not to be discharged.

(2) A transferee that acts in good faith takes free of the rights and interests described in subsection (1), even if the secured party fails to comply with this chapter or the requirements of any judicial proceeding.

(3) If a transferee does not take free of the rights and interests described in subsection (1), the transferee takes the collateral subject to:

(a) The debtor's rights in the collateral;

(b) The security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made; and

(c) Any other security interest or other lien.

679.618 Rights and duties of certain secondary obligors.—

(1) A secondary obligor acquires the rights and becomes obligated to perform the duties of the secured party after the secondary obligor:

(a) Receives an assignment of a secured obligation from the secured party;

(b) Receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party and agrees to accept the rights and assume the duties of the secured party; or

(c) Is subrogated to the rights of a secured party with respect to collateral.

(2) An assignment, transfer, or subrogation described in subsection (1):

(a) Is not a disposition of collateral under s. 679.610; and

(b) Relieves the secured party of further duties under this chapter.

679.619 Transfer of record or legal title.—

(1) In this section, the term "transfer statement" means a record authenticated by a secured party stating:

(a) That the debtor has defaulted in connection with an obligation secured by specified collateral;

(b) That the secured party has exercised its post-default remedies with respect to the collateral;

(c) That, by reason of the exercise, a transferee has acquired the rights of the debtor in the collateral; and

(d) The name and mailing address of the secured party, debtor, and transferee.

(2) A transfer statement entitles the transferee to the transfer of record of all rights of the debtor in the collateral specified in the statement in any official filing, recording, registration, or certificate-of-title system covering the collateral. If a transfer statement is presented with the applicable fee and request form to the official or office responsible for maintaining the system, the official or office shall:

(a) Accept the transfer statement;

(b) Promptly amend its records to reflect the transfer; and

(c) If applicable, issue a new appropriate certificate of title in the name of the transferee.

(3) A transfer of the record or legal title to collateral to a secured party under subsection (2) or otherwise is not of itself a disposition of collateral under this chapter and does not of itself relieve the secured party of its duties under this chapter.

679.620 Acceptance of collateral in full or partial satisfaction of obligation; compulsory dispostion of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a secured party may accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if:

(a) The debtor consents to the acceptance under subsection (3);

(b) The secured party does not receive, within the time set forth in subsection (4), a notification of objection to the proposal authenticated by:

1. A person to whom the secured party was required to send a proposal under s. 679.621; or

2. Any other person, other than the debtor, holding an interest in the collateral subordinate to the security interest that is the subject of the proposal;

(c) If the collateral is consumer goods, the collateral is not in the possession of the debtor when the debtor consents to the acceptance; and

(d) Subsection (5) does not require the secured party to dispose of the collateral or the debtor waives the requirement pursuant to s. 679.624.

(2) A purported or apparent acceptance of collateral under this section is ineffective unless:

(a) The secured party consents to the acceptance in an authenticated record or sends a proposal to the debtor; and

(b) The conditions of subsection (1) are met.

(3) For purposes of this section:

(a) A debtor consents to an acceptance of collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if the debtor agrees to the terms of the acceptance in a record authenticated after default; and

(b) A debtor consents to an acceptance of collateral in full satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if the debtor agrees to the terms of the acceptance in a record authenticated after default or the secured party:

1. Sends to the debtor after default a proposal that is unconditional or subject only to a condition that collateral not in the possession of the secured party be preserved or maintained;

2. In the proposal, proposes to accept collateral in full satisfaction of the obligation it secures, and, in a consumer transaction, provides notice that the proposal will be deemed accepted if it is not objected to by an authenticated notice within 30 days after the date the proposal is sent by the secured party; and

3. Does not receive a notification of objection authenticated by the debtor within 30 days after the proposal is sent.

(4) To be effective under paragraph (1)(b), a notification of objection must be received by the secured party:

(a) In the case of a person to whom the proposal was sent pursuant to s. 679.621, within 20 days after notification was sent to that person; and

(b) In other cases:

1. Within 20 days after the last notification was sent pursuant to s. 679.621; or

2. If a notification was not sent, before the debtor consents to the acceptance under subsection (3).

(5) A secured party that has taken possession of collateral shall dispose of the collateral pursuant to s. 679.610 within the time specified in subsection (6) if:

(a) Sixty percent of the cash price has been paid in the case of a purchase-money security interest in consumer goods; or

(b) Sixty percent of the principal amount of the obligation secured has been paid in the case of a non-purchase-money security interest in consumer goods.

(6) To comply with subsection (5), the secured party shall dispose of the collateral:

(a) Within 90 days after taking possession; or

(b) Within any longer period to which the debtor and all secondary obligors have agreed in an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(7) In a consumer transaction, a secured party may not accept collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures.

679.621 Notification of proposal to accept collateral.—

(1) A secured party that desires to accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures shall send its proposal to:

(a) Any person from whom the secured party has received, before the debtor consented to the acceptance, an authenticated notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;

(b) Any other secured party or lienholder that, 10 days before the debtor consented to the acceptance, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by the filing of a financing statement that:

1. Identified the collateral;

2. Was indexed under the debtor's name as of that date; and

3. Was filed in the office or offices in which to file a financing statement against the debtor covering the collateral as of that date; and

(c) Any other secured party that, 10 days before the debtor consented to the acceptance, held a security interest in the collateral perfected by compliance with a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1).

(2) A secured party that desires to accept collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures shall send its proposal to any secondary obligor in addition to the persons described in subsection (1).

(3) A secured party shall send its proposal under s. 679.621(1) or (2) to the affected party at the address prescribed in s. 679.611(6).

679.622 Effect of acceptance of collateral.—

(1) A secured party's acceptance of collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures:

(a) Discharges the obligation to the extent consented to by the debtor;

(b) Transfers to the secured party all of a debtor's rights in the collateral;

(c) Discharges the security interest or agricultural lien that is the subject of the debtor's consent and any subordinate security interest or other subordinate lien; and

(d) Terminates any other subordinate interest.

(2) A subordinate interest is discharged or terminated under subsection (1), even if the secured party fails to comply with this chapter.

679.623 Right to redeem collateral.—

(1) A debtor, any secondary obligor, or any other secured party or lienholder may redeem collateral.

(2) To redeem collateral, a person shall tender:

(a) Fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral; and

(b) The reasonable expenses and attorney's fees described in s. 679.615(1)(a).

(3) A redemption may occur at any time before a secured party:

(a) Has collected collateral under s. 679.607;

(b) Has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under s. 679.610; or

(c) Has accepted collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures under s. 679.622.

679.624 Waiver.—

(1) A debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to notification of disposition of collateral under s. 679.611 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(2) A debtor may waive the right to require disposition of collateral under s. 679.620(5) only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(3) Except in a consumer-goods transaction, a debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to redeem collateral under s. 679.623 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

679.625 Remedies for failure to comply with article.—

(1) If it is established that a secured party is not proceeding in accordance with this chapter, a court may order or restrain collection, enforcement, or disposition of collateral on appropriate terms and conditions. This subsection shall not preclude a debtor other than a consumer and a secured party, or two or more secured parties in other than a consumer transaction, from agreeing in an authenticated record that the debtor or secured party must first provide to the alleged offending secured party notice of a violation of this chapter and opportunity to cure before commencing any legal proceeding under this section.

(2) Subject to subsections (3), (4), and (6), a person is liable for damages in the amount of any loss caused by a failure to comply with this chapter, including damages suffered by the debtor resulting from the debtor's inability to obtain, or increased costs of alternative financing, but not including consequential, special, or penal damages, unless the conduct giving rise to the failure constitutes an independent claim under the laws of this state other than this chapter and then only to the extent otherwise recoverable under law.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 671.628:

(a) A person who, at the time of the failure, was a debtor, was an obligor, or held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral may recover damages under subsection (2) for the person's loss; and

(b) If the collateral is consumer goods, a person who was a debtor or a secondary obligor at the time a secured party failed to comply with this part may recover for that failure in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus 10 percent of the principal amount of the obligation or the time-price differential plus 10 percent of the cash price.

(4) A debtor whose deficiency is eliminated under s. 679.626 may recover damages for the loss of any surplus. However, a debtor or secondary obligor whose deficiency is eliminated or reduced under s. 679.626 may not otherwise recover under subsection (2) for noncompliance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.

(5) In lieu of damages recoverable under subsection (2), the debtor, consumer obligor, or person named as a debtor in a filed record, as applicable, may recover $500 in each case from a person who:

(a) Fails to comply with s. 679.2081;

(b) Fails to comply with s. 679.209;

(c) Files a record that the person is not entitled to file under s. 679.509(1);

(d) Fails to cause the secured party of record to file or send a termination statement as required by s. 679.513(1) or (3) after receipt of an authenticated record notifying the person of such noncompliance;

(e) Fails to comply with s. 679.616(2)(a) and whose failure is part of a pattern, or consistent with a practice, of noncompliance; or

(f) Fails to comply with s. 679.616(2)(b) with respect to a consumer transaction, and with respect to a transaction other than a consumer transaction, after receipt of an authenticated record notifying the person of such noncompliance.

(6) A debtor or consumer obligor may recover damages under subsection (2) and, in addition, $500 in each case from a person who, without reasonable cause, fails to comply with a request under s. 679.210. A recipient of a request under s. 679.210 which never claimed an interest in the collateral or obligations that are the subject of a request under that section has a reasonable excuse for failure to comply with the request within the meaning of this subsection.

(7) If a secured party fails to comply with a request regarding a list of collateral or a statement of account under S. 679.210, the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the list or statement included in the request as against a person who is reasonably misled by the failure.

679.626 Action in which deficiency or surplus is in issue.—In an action arising from a transaction in which the amount of a deficiency or surplus is in issue, the following rules apply:

(1) A secured party need not prove compliance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance unless the debtor or a secondary obligor places the secured party's compliance in issue.

(2) If the secured party's compliance is placed in issue, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with this part.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.628, if a secured party fails to prove that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance, the liability of a debtor or a secondary obligor for a deficiency is limited to an amount by which the sum of the secured obligation, reasonable expenses, and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, attorney's fees exceeds the greater of:

(a) The proceeds of the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance; or

(b) The amount of proceeds that would have been realized had the noncomplying secured party proceeded in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.

(4) For purposes of paragraph (3)(b), the amount of proceeds that would have been realized is equal to the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorney's fees unless the secured party proves that the amount is less than that sum.

(5) If a deficiency or surplus is calculated under s. 679.615(6), the debtor or obligor has the burden of establishing that the amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of prices that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

679.627 Determination of whether conduct was commercially reasonable.—

(1) The fact that a greater amount could have been obtained by a collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to preclude the secured party from establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was made in a commercially reasonable manner.

(2) A disposition of collateral is made in a commercially reasonable manner if the disposition is made:

(a) In the usual manner on any recognized market;

(b) At the price current in any recognized market at the time of the disposition; or

(c) Otherwise in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property that was the subject of the disposition.

(3) A collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is commercially reasonable if it has been approved:

(a) In a judicial proceeding;

(b) By a bona fide creditors' committee;

(c) By a representative of creditors; or

(d) By an assignee for the benefit of creditors.

(4) Approval under subsection (3) need not be obtained, and lack of approval does not mean that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is not commercially reasonable.

679.628 Nonliability and limitation on liability of secured party; liability of secondary obligor.—

(1) Unless a secured party knows that a person is a debtor or obligor, knows the identity of the person, and knows how to communicate with the person:

(a) The secured party is not liable to the person, or to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against the person, for failure to comply with this chapter; and

(b) The secured party's failure to comply with this chapter does not affect the liability of the person for a deficiency.

(2) A secured party is not liable because of its status as a secured party:

(a) To a person who is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

1. That the person is a debtor or obligor;

2. The identity of the person; and

3. How to communicate with the person; or

(b) To a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

1. That the person is a debtor; and

2. The identity of the person.

(3) A secured party is not liable to any person, and a person's liability for a deficiency is not affected, because of any act or omission arising out of the secured party's reasonable belief that a transaction is not a consumer-goods transaction or a consumer transaction or that goods are not consumer goods, if the secured party's belief is based on its reasonable reliance on:

(a) A debtor's representation concerning the purpose for which collateral was to be used, acquired, or held; or

(b) an obligor's representation concerning the purpose for which a secured obligation was incurred.

(4) A secured party is not liable to any person under s. 679.625(3)(b) for its failure to comply with s. 679.616.

(5) A secured party is not liable under s. 679.625(3)(b) more than once with respect to any one secured obligation.

Section 8. Part VII of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.701, 679.702, 679.703, 679.704, 679.705, 679.706, 679.707, 679.708, and 679.709, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART VII
TRANSITION

679.701 Effective date.—This act takes effect July 1, 2001.

679.702 Savings clause.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this part, this act applies to a transaction or lien within its scope, even if the transaction or lien was entered into or created before this act takes effect.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) and ss. 679.703-679.709:

(a) Transactions and liens that were not governed by chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000, were validly entered into or created before this act takes effect, and would be subject to this act if they had been entered into or created after this act takes effect, and the rights, duties, and interests flowing from those transactions and liens remain valid after this act takes effect; and

(b) The transactions and liens may be terminated, completed, consummated, and enforced as required or permitted by this act or by the law that otherwise would apply if this act had not taken effect.

(3) This act does not affect an action, case, or proceeding commenced before this act takes effect.

679.703 Security interest perfected before effective date.—

(1) A security interest that is enforceable immediately before this act takes effect and would have priority over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time is a perfected security interest under this act if, when this act takes effect, the applicable requirements for enforceability and perfection under this act are satisfied without further action.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.705, if, immediately before this act takes effect, a security interest is enforceable and would have priority over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time, but the applicable requirements for enforceability or perfection under this act are not satisfied when this act takes effect, the security interest:

(a) Is a perfected security interest for 1 year after this act takes effect;

(b) Remains enforceable thereafter only if the security interest becomes enforceable under s. 679.203 before the year expires; and

(c) Remains perfected thereafter only if the applicable requirements for perfection under this act are satisfied before the year expires.

679.704 Security interest unperfected before effective date.—A security interest that is enforceable immediately before this act takes effect but that would be subordinate to the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time:

(1) Remains an enforceable security interest for 1 year after this act takes effect;

(2) Remains enforceable thereafter if the security interest becomes enforceable under s. 679.203 when this act takes effect or within 1 year thereafter; and

(3) Becomes perfected:

(a) Without further action when this act takes effect if the applicable requirements for perfection under this act are satisfied before or at that time; or

(b) When the applicable requirements for perfection are satisfied if the requirements are satisfied after that time.

679.705 Effectiveness of action taken before effective date.—

(1) If action, other than the filing of a financing statement, is taken before this act takes effect and the action would have resulted in priority of a security interest over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor had the security interest become enforceable before this act takes effect, the action is effective to perfect a security interest that attaches under this act within 1 year after this act takes effect. An attached security interest becomes unperfected 1 year after this act takes effect unless the security interest becomes a perfected security interest under this act before the expiration of that period.

(2) The filing of a financing statement before this act takes effect is effective to perfect a security interest to the extent the filing would satisfy the applicable requirements for perfection under this act.

(3) This act does not render ineffective an effective financing statement that, before this act takes effect, is filed and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in s. 679.103, Florida Statutes 2000. However, except as otherwise provided in subsections (4) and (5) and s. 679.706, the financing statement ceases to be effective at the earlier of:

(a) The time the financing statement would have ceased to be effective under the law of the jurisdiction in which it is filed; or

(b) June 30, 2006.

(4) The filing of a continuation statement after this act takes effect does not continue the effectiveness of the financing statement filed before this act takes effect. However, upon the timely filing of a continuation statement after this act takes effect and in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III, the effectiveness of a financing statement filed in the same office in that jurisdiction before this act takes effect continues for the period provided by the law of that jurisdiction.

(5) Paragraph (3)(b) applies to a financing statement that, before this act takes effect, is filed against a transmitting utility and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in s. 679.103, Florida Statutes 2000, only to the extent that part III provides that the law of a jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction in which the financing statement is filed governs perfection of a security interest in collateral covered by the financing statement.

(6) A financing statement that includes a financing statement filed before this act takes effect and a continuation statement filed after this act takes effect is effective only to the extent that it satisfies the requirements of part V for an initial financing statement.

679.706 When initial financing statement suffices to continue effectiveness of financing statement.—

(1) The filing of an initial financing statement in the office specified in s. 679.5011 continues the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before this act takes effect if:

(a) The filing of an initial financing statement in that office would be effective to perfect a security interest under this act;

(b) The pre-effective date financing statement was filed in an office in another state or another office in this state; and

(c) The initial financing statement satisfies subsection (3).

(2) The filing of an initial financing statement under subsection (1) continues the effectiveness of the pre-effective date financing statement:

(a) If the initial financing statement is filed before this act takes effect, for the period provided in s. 679.403, Florida Statutes 2000, with respect to a financing statement; and

(b) If the initial financing statement is filed after this act takes effect, for the period provided in s. 679.515 with respect to an initial financing statement.

(3) To be effective for purposes of subsection (1), an initial financing statement must:

(a) Satisfy the requirements of part V for an initial financing statement;

(b) Identify the pre-effective date financing statement by indicating the office in which the financing statement was filed and providing the dates of filing and file numbers, if any, of the financing statement and of the most recent continuation statement filed with respect to the financing statement; and

(c) Indicate that the pre-effective date financing statement remains effective.

679.707 Amendment or pre-effective date financing statement.—

(1) In this section, the term "pre-effective date financing statement" means a financing statement filed before this act takes effect.

(2) After this act takes effect, a person may add or delete collateral covered by, continue or terminate the effectiveness of, or otherwise amend the information provided in a pre-effective date financing statement only in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III. However, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement also may be terminated in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction in which the financing statement is filed.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), if the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the information in a pre-effective date financing statement may be amended after this act takes effect only if:

(a) The pre-effective date financing statement and an amendment are filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011;

(b) An amendment is filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011 concurrently with, or after the filing in that office of, an initial financing statement that satisfies s. 671.706(3); or

(c) An initial financing statement that provides the information as amended and satisfies s. 679.706(3) is filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011.

(4) If the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement may be continued only under s. 679.705(4) and (6) or s. 679.706.

(5) Whether or not the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement filed in this state may be terminated after this act takes effect by filing a termination statement in the office in which the pre-effective date financing statement is filed, unless an initial financing statement that satisfies s. 679.706(3) has been filed in the office specified by the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III as the office in which to file a financing statement.

679.708 Persons entitled to file initial financing statement or continuation statement.—A person may file an initial financing statement or a continuation statement under this part if:

(1) The secured party of record authorizes the filing; and

(2) The filing is necessary under this part:

(a) To continue the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before this act takes effect; or

(b) To perfect or continue the perfection of a security interest.

679.709 Priority.—

(1) This act determines the priority of conflicting claims to collateral. However, if the relative priorities of the claims were established before this act takes effect, chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000, determines priority.

(2) For purposes of s. 679.322(1), the priority of a security interest that becomes enforceable under s. 679.2031 of this act dates from the time this act takes effect if the security interest is perfected under this act by the filing of a financing statement before this act takes effect which would not have been effective to perfect the security interest under chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000. This subsection does not apply to conflicting security interests each of which is perfected by the filing of such a financing statement.

Section 9. Subsection (2) of section 671.105, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

671.105 Territorial application of the code; parties' power to choose applicable law.—

(2) When one of the following provisions of this code specifies the applicable law, that provision governs; and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law (including the conflict-of-laws rules) so specified:

(a) Governing law in the chapter on funds transfers. (s. 670.507)

(b) Rights of sellers' creditors against sold goods. (s. 672.402)

(c) Applicability of the chapter on bank deposits and collections. (s. 674.102)

(d) Applicability of the chapter on letters of credit. (s. 675.116)

(e) Applicability of the chapter on investment securities. (s. 678.1101)

(f) Law governing perfection*, the effect* ~~provisions~~ of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of security interests and agricultural liens ~~chapter on secured transactions~~. (ss. 679.3011-679.3071) ~~(s. 679.103)~~

(g) Applicability of the chapter on leases. (ss. 680.1051 and 680.1061)

Section 10. Subsections (9), (32), and (37) of section 671.201, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

671.201 General definitions.—Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent chapters of this code which are applicable to specific chapters or parts thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this code:

(9) "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who buys goods in good faith ~~and~~ without knowledge that the sale violates ~~to him or her is in violation of~~ the ~~ownership~~ rights ~~or security interest~~ of another person ~~a third party~~ in the goods*, and* ~~buys~~ in the ordinary course from a person*, other than a pawnbroker,* in the business of selling goods of that kind ~~but does not include a pawnbroker~~. A person buys goods in the ordinary course if the sale to the person comports with the usual or customary practices in the kind of business in which the seller is engaged or with the seller's own usual or customary practices. A person who sells oil, gas, or other minerals at the wellhead or minehead is a person ~~All persons who sell minerals or the like (including oil and gas) at wellhead or minehead shall be deemed to be persons~~ in the business of selling goods of that kind. A buyer in the ordinary course of business ~~"Buying"~~ may buy ~~be~~ for cash*,* ~~or~~ by exchange of other property*,* or on secured or unsecured credit and may acquire ~~includes receiving~~ goods or documents of title under a preexisting contract for sale ~~but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt~~. Only a buyer who takes possession of the goods or has a right to recover the goods from the seller under chapter 672 may be a buyer in the ordinary course of business. A person who acquires goods in a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt is not a buyer in the ordinary course of business.

(32) "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, security interest, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. ~~The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (s. 672.401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest.~~ The term also includes any interest of a consignor and a buyer of accounts*,* ~~or~~ chattel paper*, a payment intangible, or a promissory note in a transaction* which is subject to chapter 679. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under s. 672.401 is not a security interest, but a buyer may also acquire a security interest by complying with chapter 679. Except as otherwise provided in s. 672.505, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under chapter 672 or chapter 680 to retain or acquire possession of the goods is not a security interest, but a seller or lessor may also acquire a security interest by complying with chapter 679. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods, notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (s. 672.401), is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. ~~Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a security interest, but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (s. 672.326).~~ Whether a transaction creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case; however:

(a) A transaction creates a security interest if the consideration the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease not subject to termination by the lessee, and;

1. The original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;

2. The lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;

3. The lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or

4. The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

(b) A transaction does not create a security interest merely because it provides that:

1. The present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;

2. The lessee assumes the risk of loss of the goods or agrees to pay taxes; insurance; filing, recording, or registration fees; or service or maintenance costs with respect to the goods;

3. The lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;

4. The lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or

5. The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

(c) For purposes of this subsection:

1. Additional consideration is not nominal if, when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed or if, when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed. Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised.

2. "Reasonably predictable" and "remaining economic life of the goods" are to be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into.

3. "Present value" means the amount as of a date certain of one or more sums payable in the future, discounted to the date certain. The discount is determined by the interest rate specified by the parties if the rate is not manifestly unreasonable at the time the transaction is entered into; otherwise, the discount is determined by a commercially reasonable rate that takes into account the facts and circumstances of each case at the time the transaction was entered into.

Section 11. Subsection (3) of section 672.103, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.103 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(3) The following definitions in other chapters apply to this chapter:

"Check," s. 673.1041.

"Consignee," s. 677.102.

"Consignor," s. 677.102.

"Consumer goods," s. 679.1021 ~~679.109~~.

"Dishonor," s. 673.5021.

"Draft," s. 673.1041.

Section 12. Section 672.210, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.210 Delegation of performance; assignment of rights.—

(1) A party may perform her or his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having her or his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.4061, unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on her or him by her or his contract, or impair materially her or his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of her or his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially changes the duty of or increases materially the burden or risk imposed on the buyer or impairs materially the buyer's chance of obtaining return performance within the purview of subsection (2) unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller. Even in that event, the creation, attachment, perfection, and enforcement of the security interest remain effective, but the seller is liable to the buyer for damages caused by the delegation to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the buyer. A court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the contract for sale or an injunction against enforcement of the security interest or consummation of the enforcement.

(4)~~(3)~~ Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

(5)~~(4)~~ An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by her or him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

(6)~~(5)~~ The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to her or his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (s. 672.609).

Section 13. Section 672.326, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.326 Sale on approval and sale or return; ~~consignment sales and~~ rights of creditors.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is:

(a) A "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

(b) A "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(2) ~~Except as provided in subsection (3),~~ Goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

~~(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which she or he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum." However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery:~~

~~(a) Complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or~~

~~(b) Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by her or his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or~~

~~(c) Complies with the filing provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679).~~

(3)~~(4)~~ Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (s. 672.201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (s. 672.202).

Section 14. Section 672.502, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's repudiation, failure to deliver, or insolvency.—

(1) Subject to subsections ~~subsection~~ (2) and (3), and even though the goods have not been shipped, a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which she or he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if:

(a) In the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the seller repudiates or fails to deliver as required by the contract; or

(b) In all cases, the seller becomes insolvent within ten days after receipt of the first installment on their price.

(2) The buyer's right to recover the goods under paragraph (1)(a) vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller has not then repudiated or failed to deliver.

(3)~~(2)~~ If the identification creating her or his special property has been made by the buyer she or he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale.

Section 15. Section 672.716, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.—

(1) Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

(2) The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

(3) The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort she or he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered. In the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the buyer's right of replevin vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller had not then repudiated or failed to deliver.

Section 16. Subsection (3) of section 674.2101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

674.2101 Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents, and proceeds.—

(3) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents, and proceeds. So long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues to that extent and is subject to chapter 679, but:

(a) No security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (s. 679.2031(2)(c)1. ~~679.203(1)(a)~~);

(b) No filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

(c) The security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents, or proceeds.

Section 17. Section 675.1181, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

675.1181 Security interest of issuer of nominated person.—

(1) An issuer or nominated person has a security interest in a document presented under a letter of credit to the extent that the issuer or nominated person honors or gives value for the presentation.

(2) As long as and to the extent that an issuer or nominated person has not been reimbursed or has not otherwise recovered the value given with respect to a security interest in a document under subsection (1), the security interest continues and is subject to chapter 679, but a security agreement is not necessary to make the security interest enforceable under s. 679.2031(2)(c):

(a) If the document is presented in a medium other than a written or other tangible medium, the security interest is perfected; and

(b) If the document is presented in a written or other tangible medium and is not a certificated security, chattel paper, a document of title, an instrument, or a letter of credit, the security interest is perfected and has priority over a conflicting security interest in the document so long as the debtor does not have possession of the document.

Section 18. Subsection (1) of section 677.503, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

677.503 Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.—

(1) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither:

(a) Delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or the bailor's nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this chapter (s. 677.403) or with power of disposition under this code (ss. 672.403 and 679.320 ~~679.307~~) or other statute or rule of law; nor

(b) Acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or the bailor's nominee of any document of title.

Section 19. Subsection (6) of section 678.1031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.1031 Rules for determining whether certain obligations and interests are securities or financial assets.—

(6) A commodity contract, as defined in s. 679.1021(1)(o) ~~679.115~~, is not a security or a financial asset.

Section 20. Subsections (4) and (6) of section 678.1061, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

678.1061 Control.—

(4) A purchaser has "control" of a security entitlement if:

(a) The purchaser becomes the entitlement holder; ~~or~~

(b) The securities intermediary has agreed that it will comply with entitlement orders originated by the purchaser without further consent by the entitlement holder*; or*~~.~~

(c) Another person has control of the security entitlement on behalf of the purchaser or, having previously acquired control of the security entitlement, acknowledges that the person has control on behalf of the purchaser.

(6) A purchaser who has satisfied the requirements of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (3)~~(b)~~ or subsection ~~paragraph~~ (4)~~(b)~~ has control*,* even if the registered owner in the case of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (3)~~(b)~~ or the entitlement holder in the case of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (4)~~(b)~~ retains the right to make substitutions for the uncertificated security or security entitlement, to originate instructions or entitlement orders to the issuer or securities intermediary, or otherwise to deal with the uncertificated security or security entitlement.

Section 21. Subsection (5) of section 678.1101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.1101 Applicability; choice of law.—

(5) The following rules determine a "securities intermediary's jurisdiction" for purposes of this section:

(a) If an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or this code ~~specifies that it is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction~~, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(c)~~(b)~~ If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account ~~does not specify the governing law as provided in paragraph (a), but~~ expressly provides ~~specifies~~ that the securities account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(d)~~(c)~~ If none of the preceding paragraphs applies ~~an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder does not specify a jurisdiction as provided in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b)~~, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which ~~is located~~ the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the entitlement holder's account is located.

(e)~~(d)~~ If none of the preceding paragraphs applies ~~an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder does not specify a jurisdiction as provided in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) and an account statement does not identify an office serving the entitlement holder's account as provided in paragraph (c)~~, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which ~~is located~~ the chief executive office of the securities intermediary is located.

Section 22. Subsection (1) of section 678.3011, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.3011 Delivery.—

(1) Delivery of a certificated security to a purchaser occurs when:

(a) The purchaser acquires possession of the security certificate;

(b) Another person, other than a securities intermediary, either acquires possession of the security certificate on behalf of the purchaser or, having previously acquired possession of the certificate, acknowledges that it holds for the purchaser; or

(c) A securities intermediary acting on behalf of the purchaser acquires possession of the security certificate, only if the certificate is in registered form and is registered in the name of the purchaser, payable to the order of the purchaser, or ~~has been~~ specially indorsed to the purchaser by an effective indorsement and has not been endorsed to the securities intermediary or in blank.

Section 23. Section 678.3021, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.3021 Rights of purchaser.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2) and (3), a purchaser ~~upon delivery~~ of a certificated or uncertificated security ~~to a~~

~~purchaser, the purchaser~~ acquires all rights in the security that the transferor had or had power to transfer.

(2) A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased.

(3) A purchaser of a certificated security who as a previous holder had notice of an adverse claim does not improve its position by taking from a protected purchaser.

Section 24. Section 678.5101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.5101 Rights of purchaser of security entitlement from entitlement holder.—

(1) In a case not covered by the priority rules in chapter 679 or the rules stated in subsection (3), an action based on an adverse claim to a financial asset or security entitlement, whether framed in conversion, replevin, constructive trust, equitable lien, or other theory, may not be asserted against a person who purchases a security entitlement, or an interest therein, from an entitlement holder if the purchaser gives value, does not have notice of the adverse claim, and obtains control.

(2) If an adverse claim could not have been asserted against an entitlement holder under s. 678.5021, the adverse claim cannot be asserted against a person who purchases a security entitlement, or an interest therein, from the entitlement holder.

(3) In a case not covered by the priority rules in chapter 679, a purchaser for value of a security entitlement, or an interest therein, who obtains control has priority over a purchaser of a security entitlement, or an interest therein, who does not obtain control. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), purchasers who have control rank according to priority in time of:

(a) The purchaser's becoming the person for whom the securities account, in which the security entitlement is carried, is maintained, if the purchaser obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(a);

(b) The securities intermediary's agreement to comply with the purchaser's entitlement orders with respect to security entitlements carried or to be carried in the securities account in which the security entitlement is carried, if the purchaser obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(b); or

(c) If the purchaser obtained control through another person under s. 678.1061(4)(c), the time on which priority would be based under this subsection if the other person were the secured party. ~~equally, except that~~

(4) A securities intermediary as purchaser has priority over a conflicting purchaser who has control unless otherwise agreed by the securities intermediary.

Section 25. Subsection (3) of section 680.1031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.1031 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(3) The following definitions in other chapters of this code apply to this chapter:

(a) "Account," s. 679.1021(1)(b) ~~679.106~~.

(b) "Between merchants," s. 672.104(3).

(c) "Buyer," s. 672.103(1)(a).

(d) "Chattel paper," s. 679.1021(1)(k) ~~679.105(1)(b)~~.

(e) "Consumer goods," s. 679.1021(1)(w) ~~679.109(1)~~.

(f) "Document," s. 679.1021(1)(dd) ~~679.105(1)(f)~~.

(g) "Entrusting," s. 672.403(3).

(h) "General intangible ~~intangibles~~," s. 679.1021(1)(pp) ~~679.106~~.

(i) "Good faith," s. 672.103(1)(b).

(j) "Instrument," s. 679.1021(1)(uu) ~~679.105(1)(i)~~.

(k) "Merchant," s. 672.104(1).

(l) "Mortgage," s. 679.1021(1)(ccc) ~~679.105(1)(j)~~.

(m) "Pursuant to a commitment," s. 679.1021(1)(ppp) ~~679.105(1)(k)~~.

(n) "Receipt," s. 672.103(1)(c).

(o) "Sale," s. 672.106(1).

(p) "Sale on approval," s. 672.326(1).

(q) "Sale or return," s. 672.326(1).

(r) "Seller," s. 672.103(1)(d).

Section 26. Section 680.303, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.303 Alienability of party's interest under lease contract or of lessor's residual interest in goods; delegation of performance; transfer of rights.—

(1) As used in this section, "creation of a security interest" includes the sale of a lease contract that is subject to chapter 679 by reason of s. 679.1091(1)(c).

(2) Except as provided in subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) and s. 679.4071~~(4)~~, a provision in a lease agreement which:

(a) Prohibits the voluntary or involuntary transfer, including a transfer by sale, sublease, creation or enforcement of a security interest, or attachment, levy, or other judicial process, of an interest of a party under the lease contract or of the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or

(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, gives rise to the rights and remedies provided in subsection (4) ~~(5)~~, but a transfer that is prohibited or is an event of default under the lease agreement is otherwise effective.

~~(3) A provision in a lease agreement which:~~

~~(a) Prohibits the creation or enforcement of a security interest in an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or~~

~~(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, is not enforceable unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the provision or an actual delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the provision. Neither the granting nor the enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the lessee within the purview of subsection (5) unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual delegation of a material performance of the lessor.~~

(3)~~(4)~~ A provision in a lease agreement which:

(a) Prohibits a transfer of a right to damages for default with respect to the whole lease contract or of a right to payment arising out of the transferor's due performance of the transferor's entire obligation; or

(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, is not enforceable, and such a transfer is not a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the other party to the lease contract within the purview of subsection (4) ~~(5)~~.

(4)~~(5)~~ Subject to subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) and s. 679.4071~~(4)~~:

(a) If a transfer is made which is made an event of default under a lease agreement, the party to the lease contract not making the transfer, unless that party waives the default or otherwise agrees, has the rights and remedies described in s. 680.501(2);

(b) If paragraph (a) is not applicable and if a transfer is made that is prohibited under a lease agreement or materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the other party to the lease contract, unless the party not making the transfer agrees at any time to the transfer in the lease contract or otherwise, then, except as limited by contract, the transferor is liable to the party not making the transfer for damages caused by the transfer to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the party not making the transfer and a court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the lease contract or an injunction against the transfer.

(5)~~(6)~~ A transfer of "the lease" or of "all my rights under the lease" or a transfer in similar general terms is a transfer of rights, and unless the language or the circumstances, as in a transfer for security, indicate the contrary, the transfer is a delegation of duties by the transferor to the transferee. Acceptance by the transferee constitutes a promise by the transferee to perform those duties. The promise is enforceable by either the transferor or the other party to the lease contract.

(6)~~(7)~~ Unless otherwise agreed by the lessor and the lessee, a delegation of performance does not relieve the transferor as against the other party of any duty to perform or of any liability for default.

(7)~~(8)~~ In a consumer lease, to prohibit the transfer of an interest of a party under the lease contract or to make a transfer an event of default, the language must be specific, by a writing, and conspicuous.

Section 27. Section 680.307, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.307 Priority of liens arising by attachment or levy on, security interests in, and other claims to goods.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in s. 680.306, a creditor of a lessee takes subject to the lease contract.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) ~~and (4)~~ and in ss. 680.306 and 680.308, a creditor of a lessor takes subject to the lease contract unless~~:~~

~~(a)~~ the creditor holds a lien that attached to the goods before the lease contract became enforceable.~~;~~

~~(b) The creditor holds a security interest in the goods and the lessee did not give value and receive delivery of the goods without knowledge of the security interests; or~~

~~(c) The creditor holds a security interest in the goods which was perfected (s. 679.303) before the lease contract became enforceable.~~

(3) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.3171, 679.321, and 679.323, a lessee takes a leasehold interest subject to a security interest held by a creditor or lessor. ~~A lessee in the ordinary course of business takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest in the goods created by the lessor even though the security interest is perfected (s. 679.303) and the lessee knows of its existence.~~

~~(4) A lessee other than a lessee in the ordinary course of business takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures future advances made after the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease or more than 45 days after the lease contract becomes enforceable, whichever first occurs, unless the future advances are made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the 45-day period.~~

Section 28. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 680.309, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.309 Lessor's and lessee's rights when goods become fixtures.—

(1) In this section:

(b) A "fixture filing" is the filing, in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded, of a financing statement covering goods that are or are to become fixtures and conforming to the requirements of s. 679.5021(1) and (2) ~~679.402(5)~~.

Section 29. This act shall take effect January 1, 2002.

And the title is amended as follows:

679.527 Florida Secured Transaction Registry and Authority to Contract Filing Office and Filing Officer Duties Under Part V.—

(1) The "Florida Secured Transaction Registry" means that centralized data base for which all initial financing statements, amendments, assignments, and other statements of change ("UCC Records"), that are authorized to be filed under this chapter, are filed, maintained, and can be retrieved from. The Florida Secured Transaction Registry shall include the data and other information pertaining to UCC records filed with the Florida Secretary of State and effective under this chapter before October 1, 2001, or filed with the Secretary of State or filed with the Private Filing Agency as authorized in this section after October 1, 2001. Consistent with s. 679.5011(1)(a), this section does not apply to initial financing statements, amendments, assignments, and other statements of change filed under this chapter with an office of the clerk of the circuit court.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the duties of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter may be performed by an entity qualified to transact business in the State of Florida (the "Private Filing Agency") which has entered into a written contract with the Department of State satisfying the minimum requirements provided in this section. The Private Filing Agency, among its other duties conferred by contract or by this part, shall have the responsibility for acting as the filing office under this chapter and overseeing the continued existence and maintenance of the Florida Secured Transaction Registry.

(3) The Secretary of State, or the Private Filing Agency if authorized by the Secretary of State, may enter into a contract with an entity qualified to transact business in the State of Florida for the purpose of physically performing the filing officer duties under this part. However, the Private Filing Agency, unless displaced by the Secretary of State or a subsequent Private Filing Agency, shall remain the filing office under this chapter.

(4) Upon the effective date of the contract with the Private Filing Agency or October 31, 2001, whichever occurs later, the Secretary of State shall cease acting as the filing officer and filing office under this part, although the Secretary of State shall retain the authority and powers as otherwise provided in this section or by other applicable law.

(5) The Secretary of State is authorized to and shall immediately develop and issue a Request for Qualifications seeking a qualified entity to perform the duties of the Private Filing Agency under this chapter. The qualifications and any contract shall, at a minimum, require:

(a) Creation and maintenance of a central filing, recording, retrieval, and response system as part of the Florida Secured Transaction Registry that is capable of satisfying the filing officer and filing office requirements under this chapter, which system shall be comparable and compatible with the filing system in existence immediately prior to the effective date of this section to the fullest extent possible as determined by the Secretary of State;

(b) Continuous and easy access by the public, including review at no charge through the Internet or such other substitute medium acceptable to the Secretary of State, of all UCC Records filed and maintained by the Department of State under this chapter as of the effective date of this section, subject to any requirements or limitations of chapter 119 and this chapter;

(c) Records maintenance in compliance with this part and chapter 119;

(d) Oversight by the Secretary of State, including compliance audits of the performance standards described below;

(e) Maintenance of the current level of filing fees and procedures for the deposit of revenues, net of operating costs, consistent with chapter 15; and

(f) Bonding in an amount acceptable to the Secretary of State.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in a contract approved by the Secretary of State, the Private Filing Agency shall not be liable to any person harmed by the failure of the Private Filing Agency to comply with the filing office or filing officer requirements under this chapter, unless such failure is due to specific acts or omissions done recklessly or committed knowingly and with malicious intent and then only to the extent such acts or omissions directly and proximately cause identifiable damages.

(7) Notwithstanding the requirements of chapter 287, the Secretary of State shall have the authority to determine and select the most qualified respondent to the Request for Qualifications as the Private Filing Agency under this section and negotiate and enter into one or more contracts as provided in this section.

(8) The Secretary of State shall develop performance standards to ensure that the Florida Secured Transaction Registry and its central filing system to be implemented and maintained by the Private Filing Agency is accurate and complete, that the system implements and maintains the responsibilities of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter, and that the system implemented meets the needs of various persons and entities using or affected by the filing system.

(9) Any contract between the Secretary of State and the Private Filing Agency shall not be assignable, absolutely or for security, or otherwise transferable, without the express written consent of the Secretary of State, which consent may be withheld in his or her sole and absolute discretion.

(10) The Secretary of State shall immediately assume, either temporarily or permanently, the duties of the filing office and filing officer under this chapter, or assign such filing office and filing officer duties to a new Private Filing Agency that meets the requirements of this chapter and enters into a new contract with the Secretary of State satisfying the requirements of this section, upon the happening of any one of the following:

(a) a Private Filing Agency has not been approved by the Secretary of State and a contract required by this section has not been executed;

(b) the Private Filing Agency ceases, is unable, or fails, to perform the duties required under this chapter by the filing office or filing officer or as provided for in any contract, as determined by the Secretary of State in accordance with the terms of the contract;

(c) an assignee for the benefit of creditors is appointed for the Private Filing Agency or its assets or a receiver is appointed for the Private Filing Agency or its assets other than the Secretary of State;

(d) a bankruptcy case or other insolvency proceeding is commenced by the Private Filing Agency; or

(e) an involuntary bankruptcy case or other insolvency proceeding is commenced against the Private Filing Agency and the case or proceeding is not dismissed within five (5) business days of the filing of the petition.

(11) Immediately upon the occurrence of an event described in subsection (10) any rights of the Private Filing Agency pertaining to the contract or otherwise, with respect to this chapter, shall terminate without any further action being required. Additionally, any rights of the Private Filing Agency pertaining to the contract or otherwise, with respect to this chapter shall terminate in the discretion of the Secretary of State upon written notice to said Private Filing Agency.

(12) If required by the Secretary of State, any contracts with the Private Filing Agency entered into pursuant to this section shall provide that any exclusive rights of the Private Filing Agency shall terminate automatically without further action upon any default under the contract, even if the default is capable of being cured.

(13) The Florida Secured Transaction Registry; data bases, source or object codes, and any software relating to the Florida Secured Transaction Registry and system for central filing under this part, and all information contained in any of the foregoing; all documents and records, in whatever form or medium, filed with, created by or maintained by the Private Filing Agency under this chapter, including all UCC Records and any other records or documents relating to the UCC Records, in whatever form or medium, whether existing prior to the effective date of this section or thereafter (collectively, the "UCC Filing Office Materials and Records"); are and shall remain the sole and exclusive property of the State of Florida, and upon demand the originals and all copies are subject to the immediate turnover by the Private Filing Agency to the Secretary of State upon the occurrence of any of the events in subsection (10). The Secretary of State shall have the right to inspect at anytime, and make copies of, the UCC Filing Office Materials and Records. The Private Filing Agency shall not acquire rights to the Florida Secured Transaction Registry or the UCC Filing Office Materials and Records, and may not sell, license, lease, donate, copyright, patent, trademark, pledge or otherwise transfer any of the UCC Filing Office Materials and Records to any person or entity, except as authorized in writing by the Secretary of State.

(14) To the extent permitted by its contract with the Secretary of State and provided the procedures for certification required by the Secretary of State are complied with, the Private Filing Agency is authorized to certify any of the UCC Records for the purposes of admissibility in a state or federal court or other tribunal proceeding, upon request for an authenticated record. Said certified record shall constitute a public record under s. 90.803(8).

(15) The Private Filing Agency shall be subject to the exclusive original jurisdiction of the Circuit Court of Leon County, Florida, for any litigation between the Secretary of State and the Private Filing Agency. The Secretary of State shall be entitled to injunctive relief on an emergency basis if the Private Filing Agency or its agents or employees fail to turn over any of the UCC Filing Office Materials and Records or otherwise fails to comply with the contracts or with the filing officer or filing office duties under this chapter.

(16) The terms "Florida Secretary of State," "Secretary of State," or "Secretary", when employed in this chapter in and connection with carrying out the filing office and filing officer duties assigned under this chapter, also shall mean the Private Filing Agency except as otherwise provided in the approved contract with said entities.

PART I
GENERAL PROVISIONS

679.1011 Short title.—This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code-Secured Transactions.

679.1021 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter, the term:

(a) "Accession" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that the identity of the original goods is not lost.

(b) "Account," except as used in "account for," means a right to payment of a monetary obligation, whether or not earned by performance, for property that has been or is to be sold, leased, licensed, assigned, or otherwise disposed of; for services rendered or to be rendered; for a policy of insurance issued or to be issued; for a secondary obligation incurred or to be incurred; for energy provided or to be provided; for the use or hire of a vessel under a charter or other contract; arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card; or as winnings in a lottery or other game of chance operated or sponsored by a state, governmental unit of a state, or person licensed or authorized to operate the game by a state or governmental unit of a state. The term includes health-care-insurance receivables. The term does not include rights to payment evidenced by chattel paper or an instrument; commercial tort claims; deposit accounts; investment property; letter-of-credit rights or letters of credit; or rights to payment for money or funds advanced or sold, other than rights arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card.

(c) "Account debtor" means a person obligated on an account, chattel paper, or general intangible. The term does not include persons obligated to pay a negotiable instrument, even if the instrument constitutes part of chattel paper.

(d) "Accounting," except as used in the term "accounting for," means a record:

1. Authenticated by a secured party;

2. Indicating the aggregate unpaid secured obligations as of a date not more than 35 days earlier or 35 days later than the date of the record; and

3. Identifying the components of the obligations in reasonable detail.

(e) "Agricultural lien" means an interest, other than a security interest, in farm products:

1. Which secures payment or performance of an obligation for:

a. Goods or services furnished in connection with a debtor's farming operation; or

b. Rent on real property leased by a debtor in connection with the debtor's farming operation;

2. Which is created by statute in favor of a person who:

a. In the ordinary course of the person's business furnished goods or services to a debtor in connection with a debtor's farming operation; or

b. Leased real property to a debtor in connection with the debtor's farming operation; and

3. Whose effectiveness does not depend on the person's possession of the personal property.

(f) "As-extracted collateral" means:

1. Oil, gas, or other minerals that are subject to a security interest that:

a. Is created by a debtor having an interest in the minerals before extraction; and

b. Attaches to the minerals as extracted; or

2. Accounts arising out of the sale at the wellhead or minehead of oil, gas, or other minerals in which the debtor had an interest before extraction.

(g) "Authenticate" means:

1. To sign; or

2. To execute or otherwise adopt a symbol, or encrypt or similarly process a record in whole or in part, with the present intent of the authenticating person to identify the person and adopt or accept a record.

(h) "Bank" means an organization that is engaged in the business of banking. The term includes savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and trust companies.

(i) "Cash proceeds" means proceeds that are money, checks, deposit accounts, or the like.

(j) "Certificate of title" means a certificate of title with respect to which a statute provides for the security interest in question to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the collateral.

(k) "Chattel paper" means a record or records that evidence both a monetary obligation and a security interest in specific goods, a security interest in specific goods and software used in the goods, a security interest in specific goods and license of software used in the goods, a lease of specific goods, or a lease of specific goods and license of software used in the goods. In this paragraph, "monetary obligation" means a monetary obligation secured by the goods or owed under a lease of the goods and includes a monetary obligation with respect to software used in the goods. The term does not include charters or other contracts involving the use or hire of a vessel or records that evidence a right to payment arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card. If a transaction is evidenced by records that include an instrument or series of instruments, the group of records taken together constitutes chattel paper.

(l) "Collateral" means the property subject to a security interest or agricultural lien. The term includes:

1. Proceeds to which a security interest attaches;

2. Accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, and promissory notes that have been sold; and

3. Goods that are the subject of a consignment.

(m) "Commercial tort claim" means a claim arising in tort with respect to which:

1. The claimant is an organization; or

2. The claimant is an individual and the claim:

a. Arose in the course of the claimant's business or profession; and

b. Does not include damages arising out of personal injury to or the death of an individual.

(n) "Commodity account" means an account maintained by a commodity intermediary in which a commodity contract is carried for a commodity customer.

(o) "Commodity contract" means a commodity futures contract, an option on a commodity futures contract, a commodity option, or another contract if the contract or option is:

1. Traded on or subject to the rules of a board of trade that has been designated as a contract market for such a contract pursuant to federal commodities laws; or

2. Traded on a foreign commodity board of trade, exchange, or market, and is carried on the books of a commodity intermediary for a commodity customer.

(p) "Commodity customer" means a person for which a commodity intermediary carries a commodity contract on its books.

(q) "Commodity intermediary" means a person who:

1. Is registered as a futures commission merchant under federal commodities law; or

2. In the ordinary course of the person's business provides clearance or settlement services for a board of trade that has been designated as a contract market pursuant to federal commodities law.

(r) "Communicate" means:

1. To send a written or other tangible record;

2. To transmit a record by any means agreed upon by the persons sending and receiving the record; or

3. In the case of transmission of a record to or by a filing office, to transmit a record by any means prescribed by filing-office rule.

(s) "Consignee" means a merchant to which goods are delivered in a consignment.

(t) "Consignment" means a transaction, regardless of its form, in which a person delivers goods to a merchant for the purpose of sale and:

1. The merchant:

a. Deals in goods of that kind under a name other than the name of the person making delivery;

b. Is not an auctioneer; and

c. Is not generally known by its creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others;

2. With respect to each delivery, the aggregate value of the goods is $1,000 or more at the time of delivery;

3. The goods are not consumer goods immediately before delivery; and

4. The transaction does not create a security interest that secures an obligation.

(u) "Consignor" means a person who delivers goods to a consignee in a consignment.

(v) "Consumer debtor" means a debtor in a consumer transaction.

(w) "Consumer goods" means goods that are used or bought for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(x) "Consumer-goods transaction" means a consumer transaction in which:

1. An individual incurs an obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; and

2. A security interest in consumer goods secures the obligation.

(y) "Consumer obligor" means an obligor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation as part of a transaction entered into primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(z) "Consumer transaction" means a transaction in which an individual incurs an obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; a security interest secures the obligation; and the collateral is held or acquired primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. The term includes consumer-goods transactions.

(aa) "Continuation statement" means an amendment of a financing statement which:

1. Identifies, by its file number, the initial financing statement to which it relates; and

2. Indicates that it is a continuation statement for, or that it is filed to continue the effectiveness of, the identified financing statement.

(bb) "Debtor" means:

1. A person having an interest, other than a security interest or other lien, in the collateral, whether or not the person is an obligor;

2. A seller of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes; or

3. A consignee.

(cc) "Deposit account" means a demand, time, savings, passbook, or similar account maintained with a bank. The term does not include investment property or accounts evidenced by an instrument.

(dd) "Document" means a document of title or a receipt of the type described in s. 677.201(2).

(ee) "Electronic chattel paper" means chattel paper evidenced by a record or records consisting of information stored in an electronic medium.

(ff) "Encumbrance" means a right, other than an ownership interest, in real property. The term includes mortgages and other liens on real property.

(gg) "Equipment" means goods other than inventory, farm products, or consumer goods.

(hh) "Farm products" means goods, other than standing timber, with respect to which the debtor is engaged in a farming operation and which are:

1. Crops grown, growing, or to be grown, including:

a. Crops produced on trees, vines, and bushes; and

b. Aquatic goods produced in aquacultural operations;

2. Livestock, born or unborn, including aquatic goods produced in aquacultural operations;

3. Supplies used or produced in a farming operation; or

4. Products of crops or livestock in their unmanufactured states.

(ii) "Farming operation" means raising, cultivating, propagating, fattening, grazing, or any other farming, livestock, or aquacultural operation.

(jj) "File number" means the number assigned to an initial financing statement pursuant to s. 679.519(1).

(kk) "Filing office" means an office designated in s. 679.5011 as the place to file a financing statement.

(ll) "Filing-office rule" means a rule adopted pursuant to s. 679.526.

(mm) "Financing statement" means a record or records composed of an initial financing statement and any filed record relating to the initial financing statement.

(nn) "Fixture filing" means the filing of a financing statement covering goods that are or are to become fixtures and satisfying s. 679.502(1) and (2). The term includes the filing of a financing statement covering goods of a transmitting utility which are or are to become fixtures.

(oo) "Fixtures" means goods that have become so related to particular real property that an interest in them arises under real property law.

(pp) "General intangible" means any personal property, including things in action, other than accounts, chattel paper, commercial tort claims, deposit accounts, documents, goods, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, letters of credit, money, and oil, gas, or other minerals before extraction. The term includes payment intangibles and software.

(qq) "Good faith" means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing.

(rr) "Goods" means all things that are movable when a security interest attaches. The term includes fixtures; standing timber that is to be cut and removed under a conveyance or contract for sale; the unborn young of animals; crops grown, growing, or to be grown, even if the crops are produced on trees, vines, or bushes; and manufactured homes. The term also includes a computer program embedded in goods and any supporting information provided in connection with a transaction relating to the program if the program is associated with the goods in such a manner that it customarily is considered part of the goods, or by becoming the owner of the goods, a person acquires a right to use the program in connection with the goods. The term does not include a computer program embedded in goods that consist solely of the medium in which the program is embedded. The term also does not include accounts, chattel paper, commercial tort claims, deposit accounts, documents, general intangibles, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, letters of credit, money, or oil, gas, or other minerals before extraction.

(ss) "Governmental unit" means a subdivision, agency, department, county, parish, municipality, or other unit of the government of the United States, a state, or a foreign country. The term includes an organization having a separate corporate existence if the organization is eligible to issue debt on which interest is exempt from income taxation under the laws of the United States.

(tt) "Health-care-insurance receivable" means an interest in or claim under a policy of insurance which is a right to payment of a monetary obligation for health-care goods or services provided.

(uu) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument or any other writing that evidences a right to the payment of a monetary obligation, is not itself a security agreement or lease, and is of a type that in the ordinary course of business is transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment. The term does not include investment property, letters of credit, or writings that evidence a right to payment arising out of the use of a credit or charge card or information contained on or for use with the card.

(vv) "Inventory" means goods, other than farm products, which:

1. Are leased by a person as lessor;

2. Are held by a person for sale or lease or to be furnished under a contract of service;

3. Are furnished by a person under a contract of service; or

4. Consist of raw materials, work in process, or materials used or consumed in a business.

(ww) "Investment property" means a security, whether certificated or uncertificated, security entitlement, securities account, commodity contract, or commodity account.

(xx) "Jurisdiction of organization," with respect to a registered organization, means the jurisdiction under whose law the organization is organized.

(yy) "Letter-of-credit right" means a right to payment or performance under a letter of credit, whether or not the beneficiary has demanded or is at the time entitled to demand payment or performance. The term does not include the right of a beneficiary to demand payment or performance under a letter of credit.

(zz) "Lien creditor" means:

1. A creditor that has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy, or the like;

2. An assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment;

3. A trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition; or

4. A receiver in equity from the time of appointment.

(aaa) "Manufactured home" means a structure, transportable in one or more sections, which, in the traveling mode, is eight body feet or more in width or 40 body feet or more in length, or, when erected on site, is 320 or more square feet, and which is built on a permanent chassis and designed to be used as a dwelling with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities, and includes the plumbing, heating, air-conditioning, and electrical systems contained therein. The term includes any structure that meets all of the requirements of this paragraph except the size requirements and with respect to which the manufacturer voluntarily files a certification required by the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development and complies with the standards established under Title 42 of the United States Code.

(bbb) "Manufactured-home transaction" means a secured transaction:

1. That creates a purchase-money security interest in a manufactured home, other than a manufactured home held as inventory; or

2. In which a manufactured home, other than a manufactured home held as inventory, is the primary collateral.

(ccc) "Mortgage" means a consensual interest in real property, including fixtures, which secures payment or performance of an obligation, which interest was created or derived from an instrument described in s. 697.01.

(ddd) "New debtor" means a person who becomes bound as debtor under s. 679.2031(4) by a security agreement previously entered into by another person.

(eee) "New value" means money; money's worth in property, services, or new credit; or release by a transferee of an interest in property previously transferred to the transferee. The term does not include an obligation substituted for another obligation.

(fff) "Noncash proceeds" means proceeds other than cash proceeds.

(ggg) "Obligor" means a person who, with respect to an obligation secured by a security interest in or an agricultural lien on the collateral, owes payment or other performance of the obligation, has provided property other than the collateral to secure payment or other performance of the obligation, or is otherwise accountable in whole or in part for payment or other performance of the obligation. The term does not include issuers or nominated persons under a letter of credit.

(hhh) "Original debtor," except as used in s. 679.3101(3), means a person who, as debtor, entered into a security agreement to which a new debtor has become bound under s. 679.2031(4).

(iii) "Payment intangible" means a general intangible under which the account debtor's principal obligation is a monetary obligation.

(jjj) "Person related to," with respect to an individual, means:

1. The spouse of the individual;

2. A brother, brother-in-law, sister, or sister-in-law of the individual;

3. An ancestor or lineal descendant of the individual or the individual's spouse; or

4. Any other relative, by blood or marriage, of the individual or the individual's spouse who shares the same home with the individual.

(kkk) "Person related to," with respect to an organization, means:

1. A person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the organization;

2. An officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions with respect to, the organization;

3. An officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions with respect to, a person described in subparagraph 1.;

4. The spouse of an individual described in subparagraph 1., subparagraph 2., or subparagraph 3.; or

5. An individual who is related by blood or marriage to an individual described in subparagraph 1., subparagraph 2., subparagraph 3., or subparagraph 4. and shares the same home with the individual.

(lll) "Proceeds," except as used in s. 679.609(2), means the following property:

1. Whatever is acquired upon the sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition of collateral;

2. Whatever is collected on, or distributed on account of, collateral;

3. Rights arising out of collateral;

4. To the extent of the value of collateral, claims arising out of the loss, nonconformity, or interference with the use of, defects or infringement of rights in, or damage to, the collateral; or

5. To the extent of the value of collateral and to the extent payable to the debtor or the secured party, insurance payable by reason of the loss or nonconformity of, defects or infringement of rights in, or damage to, the collateral.

(mmm) "Promissory note" means an instrument that evidences a promise to pay a monetary obligation, does not evidence an order to pay, and does not contain an acknowledgment by a bank that the bank has received for deposit a sum of money or funds.

(nnn) "Proposal" means a record authenticated by a secured party which includes the terms on which the secured party is willing to accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures pursuant to ss. 679.620, 679.621, and 679.622.

(ooo) "Pursuant to commitment," with respect to an advance made or other value given by a secured party, means pursuant to the secured party's obligation, whether or not a subsequent event of default or other event not within the secured party's control has relieved or may relieve the secured party from its obligation.

(ppp) "Record," except as used in the terms "for record," "of record," "record or legal title," and "record owner," means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

(qqq) "Registered organization" means an organization organized solely under the law of a single state or the United States and as to which the state or the United States must maintain a public record showing the organization to have been organized.

(rrr) "Secondary obligor" means an obligor to the extent that:

1. The obligor's obligation is secondary; or

2. The obligor has a right of recourse with respect to an obligation secured by collateral against the debtor, another obligor, or property of either.

(sss) "Secured party" means:

1. A person in whose favor a security interest is created or provided for under a security agreement, whether or not any obligation to be secured is outstanding;

2. A person who holds an agricultural lien;

3. A consignor;

4. A person to whom accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes have been sold;

5. A trustee, indenture trustee, agent, collateral agent, or other representative in whose favor a security interest or agricultural lien is created or provided for; or

6. A person who holds a security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), s. 680.508(5), s. 674.2101, or s. 675.118.

(ttt) "Security agreement" means an agreement that creates or provides for a security interest.

(uuu) "Send," in connection with a record or notification, means:

1. To deposit in the mail, deliver for transmission, or transmit by any other usual means of communication, with postage or cost of transmission provided for, addressed to any address reasonable under the circumstances; or

2. To cause the record or notification to be received within the time that it would have been received if properly sent under subparagraph 1.

(vvv) "Software" means a computer program and any supporting information provided in connection with a transaction relating to the program. The term does not include a computer program that is included in the definition of goods.

(www) "State" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

(xxx) "Supporting obligation" means a letter-of-credit right or secondary obligation that supports the payment or performance of an account, chattel paper, a document, a general intangible, an instrument, or investment property.

(yyy) "Tangible chattel paper" means chattel paper evidenced by a record or records consisting of information that is inscribed on a tangible medium.

(zzz) "Termination statement" means an amendment of a financing statement which:

1. Identifies, by its file number, or if a fixture filing, by the official records book and page number, the initial financing statement to which it relates; and

2. Indicates either that it is a termination statement or that the identified financing statement is no longer effective.

(aaaa) "Transmitting utility" means a person primarily engaged in the business of:

1. Operating a railroad, subway, street railway, or trolley bus;

2. Transmitting communications electrically, electromagnetically, or by light;

3. Transmitting goods by pipeline or sewer; or

4. Transmitting or producing and transmitting electricity, steam, gas, or water.

(3) Chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

679.1031 Purchase-money security interest; application of payments; burden of establishing.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Purchase-money collateral" means goods or software that secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to that collateral.

(b) "Purchase-money obligation" means an obligation of an obligor incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral or for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of the collateral if the value is in fact so used.

(2) A security interest in goods is a purchase-money security interest:

(a) To the extent that the goods are purchase-money collateral with respect to that security interest;

(b) If the security interest is in inventory that is or was purchase-money collateral, also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to other inventory in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest; and

(c) Also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to software in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest.

(3) A security interest in software is a purchase-money security interest to the extent that the security interest also secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to goods in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest if:

(a) The debtor acquired interest in the software in an integrated transaction in which the debtor acquired an interest in the goods; and

(b) The debtor acquired interest in the software for the principal purpose of using the software in the goods.

(4) The security interest of a consignor in goods that are the subject of a consignment is a purchase-money security interest in inventory.

(5) If the extent to which a security interest is a purchase-money security interest depends on the application of a payment to a particular obligation, the payment must be applied:

(a) In accordance with any reasonable method of application to which the parties agree;

(b) In the absence of the parties' agreement to a reasonable method, in accordance with any intention of the obligor manifested at or before the time of payment; or

(c) In the absence of an agreement to a reasonable method and a timely manifestation of the obligor's intention, in the following order:

1. To obligations that are not secured; and

2. If more than one obligation is secured, to obligations secured by purchase-money security interests in the order in which those obligations were incurred.

(6) A purchase-money security interest does not lose its status as such, even if:

(a) The purchase-money collateral also secures an obligation that is not a purchase-money obligation;

(b) Collateral that is not purchase-money collateral also secures the purchase-money obligation; or

(c) The purchase-money obligation has been renewed, refinanced, consolidated, or restructured.

(7) A secured party claiming a purchase-money security interest has the burden of establishing the extent to which the security interest is a purchase-money security interest.

679.1041 Control of deposit account.—

(1) A secured party has control of a deposit account if:

(a) The secured party is the bank with which the deposit account is maintained;

(b) The debtor, secured party, and bank have agreed in an authenticated record that the bank will comply with instructions originated by the secured party directing disposition of the funds in the deposit account without further consent by the debtor; or

(c) The secured party becomes the bank's customer with respect to the deposit account.

(2) A secured party that has satisfied subsection (1) has control, even if the debtor retains the right to direct the disposition of funds from the deposit account.

679.1051 Control of electronic chattel paper.—A secured party has control of electronic chattel paper if the record or records comprising the chattel paper are created, stored, and assigned in such a manner that:

(1) A single authoritative copy of the record or records exists which is unique, identifiable and, except as otherwise provided in subsections (4), (5), and (6), unalterable;

(2) The authoritative copy identifies the secured party as the assignee of the record or records;

(3) The authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the secured party or its designated custodian;

(4) Copies or revisions that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the participation of the secured party;

(5) Each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and

(6) Any revision of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as an authorized or unauthorized revision.

679.1061 Control of investment property.—

(1) A person has control of a certificated security, uncertificated security, or security entitlement as provided in s. 678.1061.

(2) A secured party has control of a commodity contract if:

(a) The secured party is the commodity intermediary with which the commodity contract is carried; or

(b) The commodity customer, secured party, and commodity intermediary have agreed that the commodity intermediary will apply any value distributed on account of the commodity contract as directed by the secured party without further consent by the commodity customer.

(3) A secured party having control of all security entitlements or commodity contracts carried in a securities account or commodity account has control over the securities account or commodity account.

679.1071 Control of letter-of-credit right.—A secured party has control of a letter-of-credit right to the extent of any right to payment or performance by the issuer or any nominated person if the issuer or nominated person has consented to an assignment of proceeds of the letter of credit under s. 675.114(3) or otherwise applicable law or practice.

679.1081 Sufficiency of description.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided herein and in subsections (3), (4), and (5), a description of personal or real property is sufficient, whether or not it is specific, if it reasonably identifies what is described. A description of real estate in a record filed to perfect a security interest in crops growing or to be grown or goods which are or are to become fixtures shall be sufficient only if the filing or recording of the same constitutes constructive notice under the laws of this state, other than this chapter, which are applicable to the filing or recording of a record of a mortgage, and a mailing or street address alone shall not be sufficient.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a description of collateral reasonably identifies the collateral if it identifies the collateral by:

(a) Specific listing;

(b) Category;

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a type of collateral defined in the Uniform Commercial Code;

(d) Quantity;

(e) Computational or allocational formula or procedure; or

(f) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), any other method, if the identity of the collateral is objectively determinable.

(3) A description of collateral as "all the debtor's assets" or "all the debtor's personal property" or using words of similar import does not reasonably identify the collateral for purposes of the security agreement.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a description of a security entitlement, securities account, or commodity account is sufficient if it describes:

(a) The collateral by those terms or as investment property; or

(b) The underlying financial asset or commodity contract.

(5) A description only by type of collateral defined in the Uniform Commercial Code is an insufficient description of:

(a) A commercial tort claim; or

(b) In a consumer transaction, consumer goods, a security entitlement, a securities account, or a commodity account.

679.1091 Scope.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), this chapter applies to:

(a) A transaction, regardless of its form, that creates a security interest in personal property or fixtures by contract;

(b) An agricultural lien;

(c) A sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes;

(d) A consignment;

(e) A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.502, s. 672.711, or s. 680.508(5), as provided in s. 679.1101; and

(f) A security interest arising under s. 674.2101 or s. 675.118.

(2) The application of this chapter to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this chapter does not apply.

(3) This chapter does not apply to the extent that:

(a) A statute, regulation, or treaty of the United States preempts this chapter; or

(b) The rights of a transferee beneficiary or nominated person under a letter of credit are independent and superior under s. 675.114.

(4) This chapter does not apply to:

(a) A landlord's lien, other than an agricultural lien;

(b) A lien, other than an agricultural lien, given by statute or other rule of law for services or materials, but s. 679.333 applies with respect to priority of the lien;

(c) An assignment of a claim for wages, salary, or other compensation of an employee;

(d) A sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose;

(e) An assignment of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes which is for the purpose of collection only;

(f) An assignment of a right to payment under a contract to an assignee that is also obligated to perform under the contract;

(g) An assignment of a single account, payment intangible, or promissory note to an assignee in full or partial satisfaction of a preexisting indebtedness;

(h) A transfer of an interest in or an assignment of a claim under a policy of insurance, other than an assignment by or to a health-care provider of a health-care-insurance receivable and any subsequent assignment of the right to payment, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds;

(i) An assignment of a right represented by a judgment, other than a judgment taken on a right to payment that was collateral;

(j) A right of recoupment or set-off, but:

1. Section 679.340 applies with respect to the effectiveness of rights of recoupment or set-off against deposit accounts; and

2. Section 679.4041 applies with respect to defenses or claims of an account debtor;

(k) The creation or transfer of an interest in or lien on real property, including a lease or rents thereunder, except to the extent that provision is made for:

1. Liens on real property in ss. 679.2031 and 679.3081;

2. Fixtures in s. 679.334;

3. Fixture filings in ss. 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.512, 679.516, and 679.519; and

4. Security agreements covering personal and real property in s. 679.604;

(l) An assignment of a claim arising in tort, other than a commercial tort claim, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds;

(m) An assignment of a deposit account, other than a non-negotiable certificate of deposit, in a consumer transaction, but ss. 679.3151 and 679.322 apply with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds; or

(n) Any transfer by a government or governmental unit.

679.1101 Security interests arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680.—A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), or s. 680.508(5) is subject to this chapter. However, until the debtor obtains possession of the goods:

(1) The security interest is enforceable, even if s. 679.2031(2)(c) has not been satisfied;

(2) Filing is not required to perfect the security interest;

(3) The rights of the secured party after default by the debtor are governed by chapter 672 or chapter 680; and

(4) The security interest has priority over a conflicting security interest created by the debtor.

Section 2. Part II of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.201, 679.202, 679.203, 679.204, 679.205, 679.206, 679.207, and 679.208, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part II of that chapter, consisting of sections 679.2011, 679.2021, 679.2031, 670.2041, 679.2051, 679.2061, 679.2071, 679.2081, 679.209, and 679.210, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART II
EFFECTIVENESS OF SECURITY AGREEMENT;
ATTACHMENT OF SECURITY INTEREST;
RIGHTS OF PARTIES TO SECURITY AGREEMENT

679.2011 General effectiveness of security agreement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in the Uniform Commercial Code, a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral, and against creditors.

(2) Nothing in this chapter validates any charge or practice illegal under any statute or regulation thereunder governing usury, small loans, retail installment sales, or the like, or extends the application of any such statute or regulation to any transaction not otherwise subject thereto. A transaction, although subject to this chapter, is also subject to chapters 516 and 520, and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and any such statute, the provisions of such statute shall control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified therein.

679.2021 Title to collateral immaterial.—Except as otherwise provided with respect to consignments or sales of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes, the provisions of this chapter with regard to rights and obligations apply whether title to collateral is in the secured party or the debtor.

679.2031 Attachment and enforceability of security interest; proceeds; supporting obligations; formal requisites.—

(1) A security interest attaches to collateral when it becomes enforceable against the debtor with respect to the collateral, unless an agreement expressly postpones the time of attachment.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) through (9), a security interest is enforceable against the debtor and third parties with respect to the collateral only if:

(a) Value has been given;

(b) The debtor has rights in the collateral or the power to transfer rights in the collateral to a secured party; and

(c) One of the following conditions is met:

1. The debtor has authenticated a security agreement that provides a description of the collateral and, if the security interest covers timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned;

2. The collateral is not a certificated security and is in the possession of the secured party under s. 679.3131 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement;

3. The collateral is a certificated security in registered form and the security certificate has been delivered to the secured party under S. 678.3011 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement; or

4. The collateral is deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights, and the secured party has control under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071 pursuant to the debtor's security agreement.

(3) Subsection (2) is subject to s. 674.2101 on the security interest of a collecting bank, s. 675.118 on the security interest of a letter-of-credit issuer or nominated person, s. 679.1101 on a security interest arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680, and s. 679.2061 on security interests in investment property.

(4) A person becomes bound as debtor by a security agreement entered into by another person if, by operation of law other than this chapter or by contract:

(a) The security agreement becomes effective to create a security interest in the person's property; or

(b) The person becomes generally obligated for the obligations of the other person, including the obligation secured under the security agreement, and acquires or succeeds to all or substantially all of the assets of the other person.

(5) If a new debtor becomes bound as debtor by a security agreement entered into by another person:

(a) The agreement satisfies subsection (2)(c) with respect to existing or after-acquired property of the new debtor to the extent the property is described in the agreement; and

(b) Another agreement is not necessary to make a security interest in the property enforceable.

(6) The attachment of a security interest in collateral gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by s. 679.3151 and is also attachment of a security interest in a supporting obligation for the collateral.

(7) The attachment of a security interest in a right to payment or performance secured by a security interest or other lien on personal or real property is also attachment of a security interest in the security interest, mortgage, or other lien.

(8) The attachment of a security interest in a securities account is also attachment of a security interest in the security entitlements carried in the securities account.

(9) The attachment of a security interest in a commodity account is also attachment of a security interest in the commodity contracts carried in the commodity account.

679.2041 After-acquired property; future advances.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a security agreement may create or provide for a security interest in after-acquired collateral.

(2) A security interest does not attach under a term constituting an after-acquired property clause to:

(a) Consumer goods, other than an accession when given as additional security, unless the debtor acquires rights in them within 10 days after the secured party gives value; or

(b) A commercial tort claim.

(3) A security agreement may provide that collateral secures, or that accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes are sold in connection with, future advances or other value, whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment.

679.2051 Use or disposition of collateral permissible.—

(1) A security interest is not invalid or fraudulent against creditors solely because:

(a) The debtor has the right or ability to:

1. Use, commingle, or dispose of all or part of the collateral, including returned or repossessed goods;

2. Collect, compromise, enforce, or otherwise deal with collateral;

3. Accept the return of collateral or make repossessions; or

4. Use, commingle, or dispose of proceeds; or

(b) The secured party fails to require the debtor to account for proceeds or replace collateral.

(2) This section does not relax the requirements of possession if attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by the secured party.

679.2061 Security interest arising in purchase or delivery of financial asset.—

(1) A security interest in favor of a securities intermediary attaches to a person's security entitlement if:

(a) The person buys a financial asset through the securities intermediary in a transaction in which the person is obligated to pay the purchase price to the securities intermediary at the time of the purchase; and

(b) The securities intermediary credits the financial asset to the buyer's securities account before the buyer pays the securities intermediary.

(2) The security interest described in subsection (1) secures the person's obligation to pay for the financial asset.

(3) A security interest in favor of a person who delivers a certificated security or other financial asset represented by a writing attaches to the security or other financial asset if:

(a) The security or other financial asset:

1. In the ordinary course of business is transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment; and

2. Is delivered under an agreement between persons in the business of dealing with such securities or financial assets; and

(b) The agreement calls for delivery against payment.

(4) The security interest described in subsection (3) secures the obligation to make payment for the delivery.

679.2071 Rights and duties of secured party having possession or control of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party shall use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in the secured party's possession. In the case of chattel paper or an instrument, reasonable care includes taking necessary steps to preserve rights against prior parties unless otherwise agreed.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), if a secured party has possession of collateral:

(a) Reasonable expenses, including the cost of insurance and payment of taxes or other charges, incurred in the custody, preservation, use, or operation of the collateral are chargeable to the debtor and are secured by the collateral;

(b) The risk of accidental loss or damage is on the debtor to the extent of a deficiency in any effective insurance coverage;

(c) The secured party shall keep the collateral identifiable, but fungible collateral may be commingled; and

(d) The secured party may use or operate the collateral:

1. For the purpose of preserving the collateral or its value;

2. As permitted by an order of a court having competent jurisdiction; or

3. Except in the case of consumer goods, in the manner and to the extent agreed by the debtor.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party having possession of collateral or control of collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071:

(a) May hold as additional security any proceeds, except money or funds, received from the collateral;

(b) Shall apply money or funds received from the collateral to reduce the secured obligation, unless remitted to the debtor; and

(c) May create a security interest in the collateral.

(4) If the secured party is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor:

(a) Subsection (1) does not apply unless the secured party is entitled under an agreement:

1. To charge back uncollected collateral; or

2. Otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor based on the nonpayment or other default of an account debtor or other obligor on the collateral; and

(b) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply.

679.2081 Additional duties of secured party having control of collateral.—

(1) This section applies to cases in which there is no outstanding secured obligation and the secured party is not committed to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value.

(2) Within 10 days after receiving an authenticated demand by the debtor:

(a) A secured party having control of a deposit account under s. 679.1041(1)(b) shall send to the bank with which the deposit account is maintained an authenticated statement that releases the bank from any further obligation to comply with instructions originated by the secured party;

(b) A secured party having control of a deposit account under s. 679.1041(1)(c) shall:

1. Pay the debtor the balance on deposit in the deposit account; or

2. Transfer the balance on deposit into a deposit account in the debtor's name;

(c) A secured party, other than a buyer, having control of electronic chattel paper under s. 679.1051 shall:

1. Communicate the authoritative copy of the electronic chattel paper to the debtor or its designated custodian;

2. If the debtor designates a custodian that is the designated custodian with which the authoritative copy of the electronic chattel paper is maintained for the secured party, communicate to the custodian an authenticated record releasing the designated custodian from any further obligation to comply with instructions originated by the secured party and instructing the custodian to comply with instructions originated by the debtor; and

3. Take appropriate action to enable the debtor or the debtor's designated custodian to make copies of or revisions to the authoritative copy which add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy without the consent of the secured party;

(d) A secured party having control of investment property under s. 678.1061(4)(b) or s. 679.1061(2) shall send to the securities intermediary or commodity intermediary with which the security entitlement or commodity contract is maintained an authenticated record that releases the securities intermediary or commodity intermediary from any further obligation to comply with entitlement orders or directions originated by the secured party; and

(e) A secured party having control of a letter-of-credit right under s. 679.1071 shall send to each person having an unfulfilled obligation to pay or deliver proceeds of the letter of credit to the secured party an authenticated release from any further obligation to pay or deliver proceeds of the letter of credit to the secured party.

679.209 Duties of secured party if account debtor has been notified of assignment.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), this section applies if:

(a) There is no outstanding secured obligation; and

(b) The secured party is not committed to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value.

(2) Within 10 days after receiving an authenticated demand by the debtor, a secured party shall send to an account debtor that has received notification of an assignment to the secured party as assignee under s. 679.4061(1) an authenticated record that releases the account debtor from any further obligation to the secured party.

(3) This section does not apply to an assignment constituting the sale of an account, chattel paper, or payment intangible.

679.210 Request for accounting; request regarding list of collateral or statement of account.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Request" means a record of a type described in paragraph (b), paragraph (c), or paragraph (d).

(b) "Request for an accounting" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient provide an accounting of the unpaid obligations secured by collateral and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(c) "Request regarding a list of collateral" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient approve or correct a list of what the debtor believes to be the collateral securing an obligation and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(d) "Request regarding a statement of account" means a record authenticated by a debtor requesting that the recipient approve or correct a statement indicating what the debtor believes to be the aggregate amount of unpaid obligations secured by collateral as of a specified date and reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship that is the subject of the request.

(e) "Reasonably identifying the transaction or relationship" means that the request provides information sufficient for the person to identify the transaction or relationship and respond to the request. Pursuant to s. 679.603(1), a secured party and debtor may determine by agreement the standards for measuring fulfillment of this duty.

(f) "Person" means a person or entity that is or was a secured party or otherwise claims or has claimed an interest in the collateral.

(2) Subject to subsections (3), (4), (5), and (6), a secured party, other than a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor, shall comply with a request within 14 days after receipt:

(a) In the case of a request for an accounting, by authenticating and sending to the debtor an accounting; and

(b) In the case of a request regarding a list of collateral or a request regarding a statement of account, by authenticating and sending to the debtor an approval or correction.

(3) A secured party that claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor may comply with a request regarding a list of collateral by sending to the debtor an authenticated record including a statement to that effect within 14 days after receipt.

(4) A person who receives a request regarding a list of collateral, claims no interest in the collateral when the request is received, and claimed an interest in the collateral at an earlier time shall comply with the request within 14 days after receipt by sending to the debtor an authenticated record:

(a) Disclaiming any interest in the collateral; and

(b) If known to the recipient, providing the name and mailing address of any assignee of or successor to the recipient's interest in the collateral.

(5) A person who receives a request for an accounting or a request regarding a statement of account, claims no interest in the obligations when the request is received, and claimed an interest in the obligations at an earlier time shall comply with the request within 14 days after receipt by sending to the debtor an authenticated record:

(a) Disclaiming any interest in the obligations; and

(b) If known to the recipient, providing the name and mailing address of any assignee of or successor to the recipient's interest in the obligations.

(6) A debtor is entitled under this section without charge to one response to a request for an accounting or a request regarding a statement of account for each secured obligation during any 6-month period. A debtor in a consumer transaction is entitled to a single response to a request regarding a list of collateral, for a transaction other than a consumer transaction, without charge during any 6-month period. The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $25 for each additional response to a request for an accounting, a request regarding a statement of account, or a request regarding a list of collateral for a consumer transaction. To the extent provided in an authenticated record, the secured party may require the payment of reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, reasonably incurred in providing a response to a request regarding a list of collateral for a transaction other than a consumer transaction under this section; otherwise, the secured party may not charge more than $25 for each request regarding a list of collateral. Excluding a request related to a proposed satisfaction of the secured obligation, a secured party is not required to respond to more than 12 of each of the permitted requests in any 12-month period.

Section 3. Part III of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.301, 679.302, 679.303, 679.304, 690.305, 679.306, 679.307, 679.308, 679.309, 679.310, 679.311, 679.312, 679.313, 679.314, 679.315, 679.316, 679.317, and 679.318, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part III of that chapter, consisting of sections 679.3011, 679.3021, 679.3031, 679.3041, 690.3051, 679.3061, 679.3071, 679.3081, 679.3091, 679.3101, 679.3111, 679.3121, 679.3131, 679.3141, 679.3151, 679.3161, 679.3171, 679.3181, 679.319, 679.320, 679.321, 679.322, 679.323, 679.324, 679.325, 679.326, 679.327, 679.328, 679.329, 679.330, 679.331, 679.332, 679.333, 679.334, 679.335, 679.336, 679.337, 679.3381, 679.339, 679.340, 679.341, and 679.342, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART III
PERFECTION AND PRIORITY

679.3011 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests.—Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.1091, 679.3031, 679.3041, 679.3051, and 679.3061, the following rules determine the law governing perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, while a debtor is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral.

(2) While collateral is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a possessory security interest in that collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), while negotiable documents, goods, instruments, money, or tangible chattel paper is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs:

(a) Perfection of a security interest in the goods by filing a fixture filing;

(b) Perfection of a security interest in timber to be cut; and

(c) The effect of perfection or nonperfection and the priority of a nonpossessory security interest in the collateral.

(4) The local law of the jurisdiction in which the wellhead or minehead is located governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in as-extracted collateral.

679.3021 Law governing perfection and priority of agricultural liens.—While farm products are located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of an agricultural lien on the farm products.

679.3031 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in goods covered by a certificate of title.—

(1) This section applies to goods covered by a certificate of title, even if there is no other relationship between the jurisdiction under whose certificate of title the goods are covered and the goods or the debtor.

(2) Goods become covered by a certificate of title when a valid application for the certificate of title and the applicable fee are delivered to the appropriate authority. Goods cease to be covered by a certificate of title at the earlier of the time the certificate of title ceases to be effective under the law of the issuing jurisdiction or the time the goods become covered subsequently by a certificate of title issued by another jurisdiction.

(3) The local law of the jurisdiction under whose certificate of title the goods are covered governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in goods covered by a certificate of title from the time the goods become covered by the certificate of title until the goods cease to be covered by the certificate of title.

679.3041 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in deposit accounts.—

(1) The local law of a bank's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a deposit account maintained with that bank.

(2) The following rules determine a bank's jurisdiction for purposes of this part:

(a) If an agreement between the bank and the debtor governing the deposit account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or the Uniform Commercial Code, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the bank and its customer governing the deposit account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(c) If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the bank and its customer governing the deposit account expressly provides that the deposit account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the bank's jurisdiction.

(d) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the bank's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the customer's account is located.

(e) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the bank's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the chief executive office of the bank is located.

679.3051 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in investment property.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the following rules apply:

(a) While a security certificate is located in a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in the certificated security represented thereby.

(b) The local law of the issuer's jurisdiction as specified in s. 678.1101(4) governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in an uncertificated security.

(c) The local law of the securities intermediary's jurisdiction as specified in s. 678.1101(5) governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a security entitlement or securities account.

(d) The local law of the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a commodity contract or commodity account.

(2) The following rules determine a commodity intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part:

(a) If an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or the Uniform Commercial Code, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(c) If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the commodity intermediary and commodity customer governing the commodity account expressly provides that the commodity account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction.

(d) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the commodity customer's account is located.

(e) If none of the preceding paragraphs applies, the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which the chief executive office of the commodity intermediary is located.

(3) The local law of the jurisdiction in which the debtor is located governs:

(a) Perfection of a security interest in investment property by filing;

(b) Automatic perfection of a security interest in investment property created by a broker or securities intermediary; and

(c) Automatic perfection of a security interest in a commodity contract or commodity account created by a commodity intermediary.

679.3061 Law governing perfection and priority of security interests in letter-of-credit rights.—

(1) Subject to subsection (3), the local law of the issuer's jurisdiction or a nominated person's jurisdiction governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in a letter-of-credit right if the issuer's jurisdiction or nominated person's jurisdiction is a state.

(2) For purposes of this part, an issuer's jurisdiction or nominated person's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction whose law governs the liability of the issuer or nominated person with respect to the letter-of-credit right as provided in s. 675.116.

(3) This section does not apply to a security interest that is perfected only under s. 679.3081(4).

679.3071 Location of debtor.—

(1) In this section, the term "place of business" means a place where a debtor conducts its affairs.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the following rules determine a debtor's location:

(a) A debtor who is an individual is located at the individual's principal residence.

(b) A debtor that is an organization and has only one place of business is located at its place of business.

(c) A debtor that is an organization and has more than one place of business is located at its chief executive office.

(3) Subsection (2) applies only if a debtor's residence, place of business, or chief executive office, as applicable, is located in a jurisdiction whose law generally requires information concerning the existence of a nonpossessory security interest to be made generally available in a filing, recording, or registration system as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the collateral. If subsection (2) does not apply, the debtor is located in the District of Columbia.

(4) A person who ceases to exist, have a residence, or have a place of business continues to be located in the jurisdiction specified by subsections (2) and (3).

(5) A registered organization that is organized under the law of a state is located in that state.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), a registered organization that is organized under the law of the United States and a branch or agency of a bank that is not organized under the law of the United States or a state are located:

(a) In the state that the law of the United States designates, if the law designates a state of location;

(b) In the state that the registered organization, branch, or agency designates, if the law of the United States authorizes the registered organization, branch, or agency to designate its state of location; or

(c) In the District of Columbia, if neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies.

(7) A registered organization continues to be located in the jurisdiction specified by subsection (5) or subsection (6) notwithstanding:

(a) The suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or lapse of the registered organization's status as such in its jurisdiction of organization; or

(b) The dissolution, winding up, or cancellation of the existence of the registered organization.

(8) The United States is located in the District of Columbia.

(9) A branch or agency of a bank that is not organized under the law of the United States or a state is located in the state in which the branch or agency is licensed, if all branches and agencies of the bank are licensed in only one state.

(10) A foreign air carrier under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, is located at the designated office of the agent upon which service of process may be made on behalf of the carrier.

(11) This section applies only for purposes of this part.

679.3081 When security interest or agricultural lien is perfected; continuity of perfection.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section and s. 679.3091, a security interest is perfected if it has attached and all of the applicable requirements for perfection in ss. 679.3101-679.3161 have been satisfied. A security interest is perfected when it attaches if the applicable requirements are satisfied before the security interest attaches.

(2) An agricultural lien is perfected if it has become effective and all of the applicable requirements for perfection in s. 679.3101 have been satisfied. An agricultural lien is perfected when it becomes effective if the applicable requirements are satisfied before the agricultural lien becomes effective.

(3) A security interest or agricultural lien is perfected continuously if it is originally perfected by one method under this chapter and is later perfected by another method under this chapter, without an intermediate period during which it was unperfected.

(4) Perfection of a security interest in collateral also perfects a security interest in a supporting obligation for the collateral.

(5) Perfection of a security interest in a right to payment or performance also perfects a security interest in a security interest, mortgage, or other lien on personal or real property securing the right.

(6) Perfection of a security interest in a securities account also perfects a security interest in the security entitlements carried in the securities account.

(7) Perfection of a security interest in a commodity account also perfects a security interest in the commodity contracts carried in the commodity account.

679.3091 Security interest perfected upon attachment.—The following security interests are perfected when they attach:

(1) A purchase-money security interest in consumer goods, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3111(2) with respect to consumer goods that are subject to a statute or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1);

(2) An assignment of accounts or payment intangibles which does not by itself or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the assignor's outstanding accounts or payment intangibles;

(3) A sale of a payment intangible;

(4) A sale of a promissory note;

(5) A security interest created by the assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable to the provider of the health-care goods or services;

(6) A security interest arising under s. 672.401, s. 672.505, s. 672.711(3), or s. 680.508(5), until the debtor obtains possession of the collateral;

(7) A security interest of a collecting bank arising under s. 674.2101;

(8) A security interest of an issuer or nominated person arising under s. 675.118;

(9) A security interest arising in the delivery of a financial asset under s. 679.2061(3);

(10) A security interest in investment property created by a broker or securities intermediary;

(11) A security interest in a commodity contract or a commodity account created by a commodity intermediary;

(12) An assignment for the benefit of all creditors of the transferor and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder; and

(13) A security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a decedent's estate.

679.3101 When filing required to perfect security interest or agricultural lien; security interests and agricultural liens to which filing provisions do not apply.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) and s. 679.3121(2), a financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests and agricultural liens.

(2) The filing of a financing statement is not necessary to perfect a security interest:

(a) That is perfected under s. 679.3081(4), (5), (6), or (7);

(b) That is perfected under s. 679.3091 when it attaches;

(c) In property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1);

(d) In goods in possession of a bailee which is perfected under s. 679.3121(4)(a) or (b);

(e) In certificated securities, documents, goods, or instruments which is perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7);

(f) In collateral in the secured party's possession under s. 679.3131;

(g) In a certificated security which is perfected by delivery of the security certificate to the secured party under s. 679.3131;

(h) In deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights which is perfected by control under s. 679.3141;

(i) In proceeds which is perfected under s. 679.3151; or

(j) That is perfected under s. 679.3161.

(3) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest or agricultural lien, a filing under this chapter is not required to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

679.3111 Perfection of security interests in property subject to certain statutes, regulations, and treaties.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the filing of a financing statement is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to:

(a) A statute, regulation, or treaty of the United States whose requirements for a security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property preempt s. 679.3101(1);

(b) A statute covering automobiles, trailers, mobile homes, boats, farm tractors, or the like, which provides for a security interest to be indicated on a certificate of title of such property as a condition or result of perfection, and any non-Uniform Commercial Code central filing statute; or

(c) A certificate-of-title statute of another jurisdiction which provides for a security interest to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of the security interest's obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property.

(2) Compliance with the requirements of a statute, regulation, or treaty described in paragraph (1) for obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) and ss. 679.3131 and 679.3161(4) and (5) for goods covered by a certificate of title, a security interest in property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (1) may be perfected only by compliance with those requirements, and a security interest so perfected remains perfected notwithstanding a change in the use or transfer of possession of the collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) and s. 679.3161(4) and (5), duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the requirements prescribed by a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (1) are governed by the statute, regulation, or treaty. In other respects, the security interest is subject to this chapter.

(4) During any period in which collateral subject to a statute specified in paragraph (1)(b) is inventory held for sale or lease by a person or leased by that person as lessor and that person is in the business of selling goods of that kind, this section does not apply to a security interest in that collateral created by that person.

679.3121 Perfection of security interests in chattel paper, deposit accounts, documents, goods covered by documents, instruments, investment property, letter-of-credit rights, and money; perfection by permissive filing; temporary perfection without filing or transfer of possession.—

(1) A security interest in chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, or investment property may be perfected by filing.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3151(3) and (4) for proceeds:

(a) A security interest in a deposit account may be perfected only by control under s. 679.3141.

(b) And except as otherwise provided in s. 679.3081(4), a security interest in a letter-of-credit right may be perfected only by control under s. 679.3141.

(c) A security interest in money may be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession under s. 679.3131.

(3) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a negotiable document covering the goods:

(a) A security interest in the goods may be perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document; and

(b) A security interest perfected in the document has priority over any security interest that becomes perfected in the goods by another method during that time.

(4) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a nonnegotiable document covering the goods, a security interest in the goods may be perfected by:

(a) Issuance of a document in the name of the secured party;

(b) The bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest; or

(c) Filing as to the goods.

(5) A security interest in certificated securities, negotiable documents, or instruments is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of 20 days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under an authenticated security agreement.

(6) A perfected security interest in a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee, other than one that has issued a negotiable document for the goods, remains perfected for 20 days without filing if the secured party makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of:

(a) Ultimate sale or exchange; or

(b) Loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing, or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange.

(7) A perfected security interest in a certificated security or instrument remains perfected for 20 days without filing if the secured party delivers the security certificate or instrument to the debtor for the purpose of:

(a) Ultimate sale or exchange; or

(b) Presentation, collection, enforcement, renewal, or registration of transfer.

(8) After the 20-day period specified in subsection (5), subsection (6), or subsection (7) expires, perfection depends upon compliance with this chapter.

679.3131 When possession by or delivery to secured party perfects security interest without filing.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a secured party may perfect a security interest in negotiable documents, goods, instruments, money, or tangible chattel paper by taking possession of the collateral. A secured party may perfect a security interest in certificated securities by taking delivery of the certificated securities under s. 678.3011.

(2) With respect to goods covered by a certificate of title issued by this state, a secured party may perfect a security interest in the goods by taking possession of the goods only in the circumstances described in s. 679.3161(4).

(3) With respect to collateral other than certificated securities and goods covered by a document, a secured party takes possession of collateral in the possession of a person other than the debtor, the secured party, or a lessee of the collateral from the debtor in the ordinary course of the debtor's business, when:

(a) The person in possession authenticates a record acknowledging that it holds possession of the collateral for the secured party's benefit; or

(b) The person takes possession of the collateral after having authenticated a record acknowledging that the person will hold possession of collateral for the secured party's benefit.

(4) If perfection of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by a secured party, perfection occurs no earlier than the time the secured party takes possession and continues only while the secured party retains possession.

(5) A security interest in a certificated security in registered form is perfected by delivery when delivery of the certificated security occurs under s. 678.3011 and remains perfected by delivery until the debtor obtains possession of the security certificate.

(6) A person in possession of collateral is not required to acknowledge that the person holds possession for a secured party's benefit.

(7) If a person acknowledges that the person holds possession for the secured party's benefit:

(a) The acknowledgment is effective under subsection (3) or s. 678.3011(1), even if the acknowledgment violates the rights of a debtor; and

(b) Unless the person otherwise agrees or law other than this chapter otherwise provides, the person does not owe any duty to the secured party and is not required to confirm the acknowledgment to another person.

(8) A secured party having possession of collateral does not relinquish possession by delivering the collateral to a person other than the debtor or a lessee of the collateral from the debtor in the ordinary course of the debtor's business if the person was instructed before the delivery or is instructed contemporaneously with the delivery:

(a) To hold possession of the collateral for the secured party's benefit; or

(b) To redeliver the collateral to the secured party.

(9) A secured party does not relinquish possession, even if a delivery under subsection (8) violates the rights of a debtor. A person to whom collateral is delivered under subsection (8) does not owe any duty to the secured party and is not required to confirm the delivery to another person unless the person otherwise agrees or law other than this chapter otherwise provides.

679.3141 Perfection by control.—

(1) A security interest in investment property, deposit accounts, letter-of-credit rights, or electronic chattel paper may be perfected by control of the collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071.

(2) A security interest in deposit accounts, electronic chattel paper, or letter-of-credit rights is perfected by control under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, or s. 679.1071 when the secured party obtains control and remains perfected by control only while the secured party retains control.

(3) A security interest in investment property is perfected by control under s. 679.1061 from the time the secured party obtains control and remains perfected by control until:

(a) The secured party does not have control; and

(b) One of the following occurs:

1. If the collateral is a certificated security, the debtor has or acquires possession of the security certificate;

2. If the collateral is an uncertificated security, the issuer has registered or registers the debtor as the registered owner; or

3. If the collateral is a security entitlement, the debtor is or becomes the entitlement holder.

679.3151 Secured party's rights on disposition of collateral and in proceeds.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter and in s. 672.403(2):

(a) A security interest or agricultural lien continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition thereof unless the secured party authorized the disposition free of the security interest or agricultural lien; and

(b) A security interest attaches to any identifiable proceeds of collateral.

(2) Proceeds that are commingled with other property are identifiable proceeds:

(a) If the proceeds are goods, to the extent provided by s. 679.336; and

(b) If the proceeds are not goods, to the extent that the secured party identifies the proceeds by a method of tracing, including application of equitable principles, that is permitted under law other than this chapter with respect to commingled property of the type involved.

(3) A security interest in proceeds is a perfected security interest if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected.

(4) A perfected security interest in proceeds becomes unperfected on the 21st day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds unless:

(a) The following conditions are satisfied:

1. A filed financing statement covers the original collateral;

2. The proceeds are collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing in the office in which the financing statement has been filed; and

3. The proceeds are not acquired with cash proceeds;

(b) The proceeds are identifiable cash proceeds; or

(c) The security interest in the proceeds is perfected other than under subsection (3) when the security interest attaches to the proceeds or within 20 days thereafter.

(5) If a filed financing statement covers the original collateral, a security interest in proceeds which remains perfected under paragraph (4)(a) becomes unperfected at the later of:

(a) When the effectiveness of the filed financing statement lapses under s. 679.515 or is terminated under s. 679.513; or

(b) The 21st day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds.

679.3161 Continued perfection of security interest following change in governing law.—

(1) A security interest perfected pursuant to the law of the jurisdiction designated in s. 679.3011(1) or s. 679.3051(3) remains perfected until the earliest of:

(a) The time perfection would have ceased under the law of that jurisdiction;

(b) The expiration of 4 months after a change of the debtor's location to another jurisdiction; or

(c) The expiration of 1 year after a transfer of collateral to a person who thereby becomes a debtor and is located in another jurisdiction.

(2) If a security interest described in subsection (1) becomes perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earliest time or event described in that subsection, it remains perfected thereafter. If the security interest does not become perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earliest time or event, it becomes unperfected and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(3) A possessory security interest in collateral, other than goods covered by a certificate of title and as-extracted collateral consisting of goods, remains continuously perfected if:

(a) The collateral is located in one jurisdiction and subject to a security interest perfected under the law of that jurisdiction;

(b) Thereafter the collateral is brought into another jurisdiction; and

(c) Upon entry into the other jurisdiction, the security interest is perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a security interest in goods covered by a certificate of title which is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction when the goods become covered by a certificate of title from this state remains perfected until the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become so covered.

(5) A security interest described in subsection (4) becomes unperfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value if the applicable requirements for perfection under s. 679.3111(2) or s. 679.3131 are not satisfied before the earlier of:

(a) The time the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become covered by a certificate of title from this state; or

(b) The expiration of 4 months after the goods had become so covered.

(6) A security interest in deposit accounts, letter-of-credit rights, or investment property which is perfected under the law of the bank's jurisdiction, the issuer's jurisdiction, a nominated person's jurisdiction, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction, or the commodity intermediary's jurisdiction, as applicable, remains perfected until the earlier of:

(a) The time the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of that jurisdiction; or

(b) The expiration of 4 months after a change of the applicable jurisdiction to another jurisdiction.

(7) If a security interest described in subsection (6) becomes perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earlier of the time or the end of the period described in that subsection, it remains perfected thereafter. If the security interest does not become perfected under the law of the other jurisdiction before the earlier of that time or the end of that period, it becomes unperfected and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

679.3171 Interests that take priority over or take free of security interest or agricultural lien.—

(1) A security interest or agricultural lien is subordinate to the rights of:

(a) A person entitled to priority under s. 679.322; and

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a person who becomes a lien creditor before the earlier of the time:

1. The security interest or agricultural lien is perfected; or

2. One of the conditions specified in s. 679.2031(2)(c) is met and a financing statement covering the collateral is filed.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer, other than a secured party, of tangible chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate takes free of a security interest or agricultural lien if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest or agricultural lien and before it is perfected.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a lessee of goods takes free of a security interest or agricultural lien if the lessee gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest or agricultural lien and before it is perfected.

(4) A licensee of a general intangible or a buyer, other than a secured party, of accounts, electronic chattel paper, general intangibles, or investment property other than a certificated security takes free of a security interest if the licensee or buyer gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.320 and 679.321, if a person files a financing statement with respect to a purchase-money security interest before or within 20 days after the debtor receives delivery of the collateral, the security interest takes priority over the rights of a buyer, lessee, or lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

679.3181 No interest retained in right to payment that is sold; rights and title of seller of account or chattel paper with respect to creditors and purchasers.—

(1) A debtor who has sold an account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note does not retain a legal or equitable interest in the collateral sold.

(2) For purposes of determining the rights of creditors of, and purchasers for value of an account or chattel paper from, a debtor who has sold an account or chattel paper, while the buyer's security interest is unperfected, the debtor is deemed to have rights and title to the account or chattel paper identical to those the debtor sold.

679.319 Rights and title of consignee with respect to creditors and purchasers.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), for purposes of determining the rights of creditors of, and purchasers for value of goods from, a consignee, while the goods are in the possession of the consignee, the consignee is deemed to have rights and title to the goods identical to those the consignor had or had power to transfer.

(2) For purposes of determining the rights of a creditor of a consignee, law other than this chapter determines the rights and title of a consignee while goods are in the consignee's possession if, under this part, a perfected security interest held by the consignor would have priority over the rights of the creditor.

679.320 Buyer of goods.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer in ordinary course of business, other than a person buying farm products from a person engaged in farming operations, takes free of a security interest created by the buyer's seller, even if the security interest is perfected and the buyer knows of its existence.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer of goods from a person who used or bought the goods for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes takes free of a security interest, even if perfected, if the buyer buys:

(a) Without knowledge of the security interest;

(b) For value;

(c) Primarily for the buyer's personal, family, or household purposes; and

(d) Before the filing of a financing statement covering the goods.

(3) To the extent that it affects the priority of a security interest over a buyer of goods under subsection (2), the period of effectiveness of a filing made in the jurisdiction in which the seller is located is governed by s. 679.3161(1) and (2).

(4) A buyer in ordinary course of business buying oil, gas, or other minerals at the wellhead or minehead or after extraction takes free of an interest arising out of an encumbrance.

(5) Subsections (1) and (2) do not affect a security interest in goods in the possession of the secured party under s. 679.3131.

679.321 Licensee of general intangible and lessee of goods in ordinary course of business.—

(1) In this section, the term "licensee in ordinary course of business" means a person who becomes a licensee of a general intangible in good faith, without knowledge that the license violates the rights of another person in the general intangible, and in the ordinary course from a person in the business of licensing general intangibles of that kind. A person becomes a licensee in the ordinary course if the license to the person comports with the usual or customary practices in the kind of business in which the licensor is engaged or with the licensor's own usual or customary practices.

(2) A licensee in ordinary course of business takes its rights under a nonexclusive license free of a security interest in the general intangible created by the licensor, even if the security interest is perfected and the licensee knows of its existence.

(3) A lessee in ordinary course of business takes its leasehold interest free of a security interest in the goods created by the lessor, even if the security interest is perfected and the lessee knows of its existence.

679.322 Priorities among conflicting security interests in and agricultural liens on same collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, priority among conflicting security interests and agricultural liens in the same collateral is determined according to the following rules:

(a) Conflicting perfected security interests and agricultural liens rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the earlier of the time a filing covering the collateral is first made or the security interest or agricultural lien is first perfected, if there is no period thereafter during which is neither filing nor perfection.

(b) A perfected security interest or agricultural lien has priority over a conflicting unperfected security interest or agricultural lien.

(c) The first security interest or agricultural lien to attach or become effective has priority if conflicting security interests and agricultural liens are unperfected.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a):

(a) The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in proceeds; and

(b) The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral supported by a supporting obligation is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in the supporting obligation.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), a security interest in collateral which qualifies for priority over a conflicting security interest under s. 679.327, s. 679.328, s. 679.329, s. 679.330, or s. 679.331 also has priority over a conflicting security interest in:

(a) Any supporting obligation for the collateral; and

(b) Proceeds of the collateral if:

1. The security interest in proceeds is perfected;

2. The proceeds are cash proceeds or of the same type as the collateral; and

3. In the case of proceeds that are proceeds of proceeds, all intervening proceeds are cash proceeds, proceeds of the same type as the collateral, or an account relating to the collateral.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), if a security interest in chattel paper, deposit accounts, negotiable documents, instruments, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights is perfected by a method other than filing, conflicting perfected security interests in proceeds of the collateral rank according to priority in time of filing.

(5) Subsection (4) applies only if the proceeds of the collateral are not cash proceeds, chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, investment property, or letter-of-credit rights.

(6) Subsections (1) through (5) are subject to:

(a) Subsection (7) and the other provisions of this part;

(b) Section 674.2101 with respect to a security interest of a collecting bank;

(c) Section 675.118 with respect to a security interest of an issuer or nominated person; and

(d) Section 679.1101 with respect to a security interest arising under chapter 672 or chapter 680.

(7) A perfected agricultural lien on collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in or agricultural lien on the same collateral if the statute creating the agricultural lien so provides.

679.323 Future advances.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), for purposes of determining the priority of a perfected security interest under s. 679.322(1)(a), perfection of the security interest dates from the time an advance is made to the extent that the security interest secures an advance that:

(a) Is made while the security interest is perfected only:

1. Under s. 679.3091 when it attaches; or

2. Temporarily under s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7); and

(b) Is not made pursuant to a commitment entered into before or while the security interest is perfected by a method other than under s. 679.3091 or s. 679.3121(5), (6), or (7).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a security interest is subordinate to the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor to the extent that the security interest secures an advance made more than 45 days after the person becomes a lien creditor unless the advance is made:

(a) Without knowledge of the lien; or

(b) Pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lien.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a security interest held by a secured party that is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a buyer of goods other than a buyer in ordinary course of business takes free of a security interest to the extent that it secures advances made after the earlier of:

(a) The time the secured party acquires knowledge of the buyer's purchase; or

(b) Forty-five days after the purchase.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply if the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the buyer's purchase and before the expiration of the 45-day period.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a lessee of goods, other than a lessee in ordinary course of business, takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures advances made after the earlier of:

(a) The time the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease; or

(b) Forty-five days after the lease contract becomes enforceable.

(7) Subsection (6) does not apply if the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the 45-day period.

679.324 Priority of purchase-money security interests.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in goods other than inventory or livestock has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same goods, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, if the purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 20 days thereafter.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory, has priority over a conflicting security interest in chattel paper or an instrument constituting proceeds of the inventory and in proceeds of the chattel paper, if so provided in s. 679.330, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds of the inventory to the extent the identifiable cash proceeds are received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer, if:

(a) The purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the inventory;

(b) The purchase-money secured party sends an authenticated notification to the holder of the conflicting security interest;

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within 5 years before the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(d) The notification states that the person sending the notification has or expects to acquire a purchase-money security interest in inventory of the debtor and describes the inventory.

(3) Paragraphs (2)(b), (c), and (d) apply only if the holder of the conflicting security interest had filed a financing statement covering the same types of inventory:

(a) If the purchase-money security interest is perfected by filing, before the date of the filing; or

(b) If the purchase-money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(6), before the beginning of the 20-day period thereunder.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in livestock that are farm products has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same livestock, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in their identifiable proceeds and identifiable products in their unmanufactured states also has priority, if:

(a) The purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the livestock;

(b) The purchase-money secured party sends an authenticated notification to the holder of the conflicting security interest;

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within 6 months before the debtor receives possession of the livestock; and

(d) The notification states that the person sending the notification has or expects to acquire a purchase-money security interest in livestock of the debtor and describes the livestock.

(5) Paragraphs (4)(b), (c), and (d) apply only if the holder of the conflicting security interest had filed a financing statement covering the same types of livestock:

(a) If the purchase-money security interest is perfected by filing, before the date of the filing; or

(b) If the purchase-money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession under s. 679.3121(6), before the beginning of the 20-day period thereunder.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a perfected purchase-money security interest in software has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral, and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, to the extent that the purchase-money security interest in the goods in which the software was acquired for use has priority in the goods and proceeds of the goods under this section.

(7) If more than one security interest qualifies for priority in the same collateral under subsection (1), subsection (2), subsection (4), or subsection (6):

(a) A security interest securing an obligation incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral has priority over a security interest securing an obligation incurred for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of collateral; and

(b) In all other cases, s. 679.322(1) applies to the qualifying security interests.

679.325 Priority of security interests in transferred collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a security interest created by a debtor is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral created by another person if:

(a) The debtor acquired the collateral subject to the security interest created by the other person;

(b) The security interest created by the other person was perfected when the debtor acquired the collateral; and

(c) There is no period thereafter during which the security interest is unperfected.

(2) Subsection (1) subordinates a security interest only if the security interest:

(a) Otherwise would have priority solely under s. 679.322(1) or s. 679.324; or

(b) Arose solely under s. 672.711(3) or s. 680.508(5).

679.326 Priority of security interests created by new debtor.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a security interest created by a new debtor which is perfected by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under s. 679.508 in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights is subordinate to a security interest in the same collateral which is perfected other than by a filed financing statement that is effective solely under s. 679.508.

(2) The other provisions of this part determine the priority among conflicting security interests in the same collateral perfected by filed financing statements that are effective solely under s. 679.508. However, if the security agreements to which a new debtor became bound as debtor were not entered into by the same original debtor, the conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of the new debtor's having become bound.

679.327 Priority of security interests in deposit account.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same deposit account:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of the deposit account under s. 679.1041 has priority over a conflicting security interest held by a secured party that does not have control.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), security interests perfected by control under s. 679.3141 rank according to priority in time of obtaining control.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a security interest held by the bank with which the deposit account is maintained has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(4) A security interest perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(c) has priority over a security interest held by the bank with which the deposit account is maintained.

679.328 Priority of security interests in investment property.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same investment property:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of investment property under s. 679.1061 has priority over a security interest held by a secured party that does not have control of the investment property.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (3) and (4), conflicting security interests held by secured parties each of which has control under s. 679.1061 rank according to priority in time of:

(a) If the collateral is a security, obtaining control;

(b) If the collateral is a security entitlement carried in a securities account and:

1. If the secured party obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(a), the secured party's becoming the person for which the securities account is maintained;

2. If the secured party obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(b), the securities intermediary's agreement to comply with the secured party's entitlement orders with respect to security entitlements carried or to be carried in the securities account; or

3. If the secured party obtained control through another person under s. 678.1061(4)(c), the time on which priority would be based under this paragraph if the other person were the secured party; or

(c) If the collateral is a commodity contract carried with a commodity intermediary, the satisfaction of the requirement for control specified in

s. 679.1061(2)(b) with respect to commodity contracts carried or to be carried with the commodity intermediary.

(3) A security interest held by a securities intermediary in a security entitlement or a securities account maintained with the securities intermediary has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(4) A security interest held by a commodity intermediary in a commodity contract or a commodity account maintained with the commodity intermediary has priority over a conflicting security interest held by another secured party.

(5) A security interest in a certificated security in registered form which is perfected by taking delivery under s. 679.3131(1) and not by control under s. 679.3141 has priority over a conflicting security interest perfected by a method other than control.

(6) Conflicting security interests created by a broker, securities intermediary, or commodity intermediary which are perfected without control under s. 679.1061 rank equally.

(7) In all other cases, priority among conflicting security interests in investment property is governed by ss. 679.322 and 679.323.

679.329 Priority of security interests in letter-of-credit right.—The following rules govern priority among conflicting security interests in the same letter-of-credit right:

(1) A security interest held by a secured party having control of the letter-of-credit right under s. 679.1071 has priority to the extent of its control over a conflicting security interest held by a secured party that does not have control.

(2) Security interests perfected by control under s. 679.3141 rank according to priority in time of obtaining control.

679.330 Priority of purchaser of chattel paper or instrument.—

(1) A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if:

(a) In good faith and in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under s. 679.1051; and

(b) The chattel paper does not indicate that it has been assigned to an identified assignee other than the purchaser.

(2) A purchaser of chattel paper has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper which is claimed other than merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest if the purchaser gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or obtains control of the chattel paper under s. 679.1051 in good faith, in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.327, a purchaser having priority in chattel paper under subsection (1) or subsection (2) also has priority in proceeds of the chattel paper to the extent that:

(a) Section 679.322 provides for priority in the proceeds; or

(b) The proceeds consist of the specific goods covered by the chattel paper or cash proceeds of the specific goods, even if the purchaser's security interest in the proceeds is unperfected.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.331(1), a purchaser of an instrument has priority over a security interest in the instrument perfected by a method other than possession if the purchaser gives value and takes possession of the instrument in good faith and without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

(5) For purposes of subsections (1) and (2), the holder of a purchase-money security interest in inventory gives new value for chattel paper constituting proceeds of the inventory.

(6) For purposes of subsections (2) and (4), if chattel paper or an instrument indicates that it has been assigned to an identified secured party other than the purchaser, a purchaser of the chattel paper or instrument has knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.

679.331 Priority of rights of purchasers of instruments, documents, and securities under other articles; priority of interests in financial assets and security entitlements under chapter 678.—

(1) This chapter does not limit the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument, a holder to which a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated, or a protected purchaser of a security. These holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest, even if perfected, to the extent provided in chapters 673, 677, and 678.

(2) This chapter does not limit the rights of or impose liability on a person to the extent that the person is protected against the assertion of an adverse claim under chapter 678.

(3) Filing under this chapter does not constitute notice of a claim or defense to the holders, purchasers, or persons described in subsections (1) and (2).

679.332 Transfer of money; transfer of funds from deposit account.—

(1) A transferee of money takes the money free of a security interest unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

(2) A transferee of funds from a deposit account takes the funds free of a security interest in the deposit account unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

679.333 Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law.—

(1) In this section, the term "possessory lien" means an interest, other than a security interest or an agricultural lien:

(a) Which secures payment or performance of an obligation for services or materials furnished with respect to goods by a person in the ordinary course of the person's business;

(b) Which is created by statute or rule of law in favor of the person; and

(c) The effectiveness of which depends on the person's possession of the goods.

(2) A possessory lien on goods has priority over a security interest in the goods unless the lien is created by a statute that expressly provides otherwise.

679.334 Priority of security interests in fixtures and crops.—

(1) A security interest under this chapter may be created in goods that are fixtures or may continue in goods that become fixtures. A security interest does not exist under this chapter in ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.

(2) This chapter does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures under real property law.

(3) A security interest in goods which are or become fixtures is invalid against any person with an interest in the real property at the time the security interest in the goods is perfected or at the time the goods are affixed to the real property, whichever occurs later, unless such person has consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures.

(4) A security interest in goods which are or become fixtures takes priority as to the goods over the claims of all persons acquiring an interest in the real property subsequent to the perfection of such security interest or the affixing of the goods to the real property, whichever occurs later.

(5) A perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the security interest is:

(a) Created in a manufactured home in a manufactured-home transaction; and

(b) Perfected pursuant to a statute described in s. 679.3111(1)(b).

(6) A perfected security interest in crops growing on real property has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property.

(7) Subsection (6) prevails over any inconsistent provisions of the statutes.

679.335 Accessions.—

(1) A security interest may be created in an accession and continues in collateral that becomes an accession.

(2) If a security interest is perfected when the collateral becomes an accession, the security interest remains perfected in the collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest in an accession.

(4) A security interest in an accession is subordinate to a security interest in the whole which is perfected by compliance with the requirements of a certificate-of-title statute under s. 679.3111(2).

(5) After default, subject to part VI, a secured party may remove an accession from other goods if the security interest in the accession has priority over the claims of every person having an interest in the whole.

(6) A secured party that removes an accession from other goods under subsection (5) shall promptly reimburse any holder of a security interest or other lien on, or owner of, the whole or of the other goods, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury to the whole or the other goods. The secured party need not reimburse the holder or owner for any diminution in value of the whole or the other goods caused by the absence of the accession removed or by any necessity for replacing it. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

679.336 Commingled goods.—

(1) In this section, the term "commingled goods" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that their identity is lost in a product or mass.

(2) A security interest does not exist in commingled goods as such. However, a security interest may attach to a product or mass that results when goods become commingled goods.

(3) If collateral becomes commingled goods, a security interest attaches to the product or mass.

(4) If a security interest in collateral is perfected before the collateral becomes commingled goods, the security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3) is perfected.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), the other provisions of this part determine the priority of a security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3).

(6) If more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3), the following rules determine priority:

(a) A security interest that is perfected under subsection (4) has priority over a security interest that is unperfected at the time the collateral becomes commingled goods.

(b) If more than one security interest is perfected under subsection (4), the security interests rank equally in proportion to value of the collateral at the time it became commingled goods.

679.337 Priority of security interests in goods covered by certificate of title.—If, while a security interest in goods is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction, this state issues a certificate of title that does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or contain a statement that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate:

(1) A buyer of the goods, other than a person in the business of selling goods of that kind, takes free of the security interest if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest; and

(2) The security interest is subordinate to a conflicting security interest in the goods that attaches, and is perfected under s. 679.3111(2), after issuance of the certificate and without the conflicting secured party's knowledge of the security interest.

679.338 Priority of security interest or agricultural lien perfected by filed financing statement providing certain incorrect information.—If a security interest or agricultural lien is perfected by a filed financing statement providing information described in s. 679.516(2)(e) which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed:

(1) The security interest or agricultural lien is subordinate to a conflicting perfected security interest in the collateral to the extent that the holder of the conflicting security interest gives value in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information; and

(2) A purchaser, other than a secured party, of the collateral takes free of the security interest or agricultural lien to the extent that, in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information, the purchaser gives value and, in the case of chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate, receives delivery of the collateral.

679.339 Priority subject to subordination.—This chapter does not preclude subordination by agreement by a person entitled to priority.

679.340 Effectiveness of right of recoupment or set-off against deposit account.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a bank with which a deposit account is maintained may exercise any right of recoupment or set-off against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the application of this chapter to a security interest in a deposit account does not affect a right of recoupment or set-off of the secured party as to a deposit account maintained with the secured party.

(3) The exercise by a bank of a set-off against a deposit account is ineffective against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account which is perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(c), if the set-off is based on a claim against the debtor.

679.341 Bank's rights and duties with respect to deposit account.—Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.340(3), and unless the bank otherwise agrees in an authenticated record, a bank's rights and duties with respect to a deposit account maintained with the bank are not terminated, suspended, or modified by:

(1) The creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the deposit account;

(2) The bank's knowledge of the security interest; or

(3) The bank's receipt of instructions from the secured party.

679.342 Bank's right to refuse to enter into or disclose existence of control agreement.—This chapter does not require a bank to enter into an agreement of the kind described in s. 679.1041(1)(b), even if its customer so requests or directs. A bank that has entered into such an agreement is not required to confirm the existence of the agreement to another person unless requested to do so by its customer.

Section 4. Part IV of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.401, 679.4011, 679.402, 679.403, 679.404, 679.405, 679.406, 679.407, and 679.408, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part IV, consisting of sections 679.40111, 679.4021, 679.4031, 679.4041, 679.4051, 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, and 679.409, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART IV
RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES

679.40111 Alienability of debtor's rights.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) and ss. 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, and 679.409, whether a debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred is governed by law other than this chapter.

(2) An agreement between the debtor and secured party which prohibits a transfer of the debtor's rights in collateral or makes the transfer a default does not prevent the transfer from taking effect.

679.4021 Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor or in tort.—The existence of a security interest, agricultural lien, or authority given to a debtor to dispose of or use collateral, without more, does not subject a secured party to liability in contract or tort for the debtor's acts or omissions.

679.4031 Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee.—

(1) In this section, the term "value" has the meaning provided in s. 673.3031(1).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor not to assert against an assignee any claim or defense that the account debtor may have against the assignor is enforceable by an assignee that takes an assignment:

(a) For value;

(b) In good faith;

(c) Without notice of a claim of a property or possessory right to the property assigned; and

(d) Without notice of a defense or claim in recoupment of the type that may be asserted against a person entitled to enforce a negotiable instrument under s. 673.3031(1).

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to defenses of a type that may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under s. 673.3031(2).

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the rights of an assignee are subject to claims or defenses that the account debtor could assert against the original obligee, and the record does not include such a statement:

(a) The record has the same effect as if the record included such a statement; and

(b) The account debtor may assert against an assignee those claims and defenses that would have been available if the record included such a statement.

(5) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), this section does not displace law other than this chapter which gives effect to an agreement by an account debtor not to assert a claim or defense against an assignee.

679.4041 Rights acquired by assignee; claims and defenses against assignee.—

(1) Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims, and subject to subsections (2) through (5), the rights of an assignee are subject to:

(a) All terms of the agreement between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim in recoupment arising from the transaction that gave rise to the contract; and

(b) Any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives a notification of the assignment authenticated by the assignor or the assignee.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the claim of an account debtor against an assignor may be asserted against an assignee under subsection (1) only to reduce the amount the account debtor owes.

(3) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than this chapter requires that the record include a statement to the effect that the account debtor's recovery against an assignee with respect to claims and defenses against the assignor may not exceed amounts paid by the account debtor under the record, and the record does not include such a statement, the extent to which a claim of an account debtor against the assignor may be asserted against an assignee is determined as if the record included such a statement.

(5) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

679.4051 Modification of assigned contract.—

(1) A modification of or substitution for an assigned contract is effective against an assignee if made in good faith. The assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that the modification or substitution is a breach of contract by the assignor. This subsection is subject to subsections (2) through (4).

(2) Subsection (1) applies to the extent that:

(a) The right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance; or

(b) The right to payment or a part thereof has been fully earned by performance and the account debtor has not received notification of the assignment under s. 679.4061(1).

(3) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

679.4061 Discharge of account debtor; notification of assignment; identification and proof of assignment; restrictions on assignment of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, and promissory notes ineffective.—

(1) Subject to subsections (2) through (9), an account debtor on an account, chattel paper, or a payment intangible may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor until, but not after, the account debtor receives a notification, authenticated by the assignor or the assignee, that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. After receipt of the notification, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignee and may not discharge the obligation by paying the assignor.

(2) Subject to subsection (8), notification is ineffective under subsection (1):

(a) If it does not reasonably identify the rights assigned;

(b) To the extent that an agreement between an account debtor and a seller of a payment intangible limits the account debtor's duty to pay a person other than the seller and the limitation is effective under law other than this chapter; or

(c) At the option of an account debtor, if the notification notifies the account debtor to make less than the full amount of any installment or other periodic payment to the assignee, even if:

1. Only a portion of the account, chattel paper, or payment intangible has been assigned to that assignee;

2. A portion has been assigned to another assignee; or

3. The account debtor knows that the assignment to that assignee is limited.

(3) Subject to subsection (8), if requested by the account debtor, an assignee shall seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made. Unless the assignee complies, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor, even if the account debtor has received a notification under subsection (1).

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5) and ss. 680.303 and 679.4071, and subject to subsection (8), a term in an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor or in a promissory note is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to the sale of a payment intangible or promissory note.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 680.303 and 679.4071 and subject to subsections (8) and (9), a rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, an account or chattel paper is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the government, governmental body or official, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the account or chattel paper; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account or chattel paper.

(7) Subject to subsection (8), an account debtor may not waive or vary its option under paragraph (2)(c).

(8) This section is subject to law other than this chapter which establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. Subsection (6) does not apply to the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in:

(a) A claim or right to receive compensation for injuries or sickness as described in 26 U.S.C. subsection 104(a)(1) or (2).

(b) A claim or right to receive benefits under a special needs trust as described in 42 U.S.C. subsection 1396p(d)(4).

(c) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in unemployment, alimony, disability, pension, or retirement benefits or victim compensation funds.

(d) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in other benefits which are designated solely for his or her maintenance, support, or education, the assignability of which is expressly prohibited or restricted by any statute.

(9) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

(10) This section prevails over any inconsistent statute, rule, or regulation.

679.4071 Restrictions on creation or enforcement of security interest in leasehold interest or in lessor's residual interest.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a lease agreement is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) Prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a party to the lease to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the lease.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 680.303(7), a term described in paragraph (1)(b) is effective to the extent that there is:

(a) A transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the term; or

(b) A delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the term.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is not a transfer that materially impairs the lessee's prospect of obtaining return performance or materially changes the duty of or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the lessee within the purview of s. 680.303(4) unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the lessor.

679.4081 Restrictions on assignment of promissory notes, health-care-insurance receivables, and certain general intangibles ineffective.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor which relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or a general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise, and which term prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to, the assignment or transfer of, or creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in, the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, is ineffective to the extent that the term:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(2) Subsection (1) applies to a security interest in a payment intangible or promissory note only if the security interest arises out of a sale of the payment intangible or promissory note.

(3) A rule of law, statute, or regulation that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, person obligated on a promissory note, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of, or creation of a security interest in, a promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise between an account debtor and a debtor, is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or transfer or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(4) To the extent that a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor which relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or general intangible or a rule of law, statute, or regulation described in subsection (3) would be effective under law other than this chapter but is ineffective under subsection (1) or subsection (3), the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible:

(a) Is not enforceable against the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(b) Does not impose a duty or obligation on the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(c) Does not require the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or performance from the secured party;

(d) Does not entitle the secured party to use or assign the debtor's rights under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including any related information or materials furnished to the debtor in the transaction giving rise to the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible;

(e) Does not entitle the secured party to use, assign, possess, or have access to any trade secrets or confidential information of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor; and

(f) Does not entitle the secured party to enforce the security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(5) This section prevails over any inconsistent statute, rule, or regulation.

(6) Subsection (3) does not apply to the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in:

(a) A claim or right to receive compensation for injuries or sickness as described in 26 U.S.C. subsection 104(a)(1) or (2).

(b) A claim or right to receive benefits under a special needs trust as described in 42 U.S.C. subsection 1396p(d)(4).

(c) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in unemployment, alimony, disability, pension, or retirement benefits or victim compensation funds.

(d) The interest of a debtor who is a natural person in other benefits which are designated solely for his or her maintenance, support, or education, the assignability of which is expressly prohibited or restricted by any statute.

679.409 Restrictions on assignment of letter-of-credit rights ineffective.—

(1) A term in a letter of credit or a rule of law, statute, regulation, custom, or practice applicable to the letter of credit which prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of an applicant, issuer, or nominated person to a beneficiary's assignment of or creation of a security interest in a letter-of-credit right is ineffective to the extent that the term or rule of law, statute, regulation, custom, or practice:

(a) Would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right; or

(b) Provides that the assignment or the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the letter-of-credit right.

(2) To the extent that a term in a letter of credit is ineffective under subsection (1) but would be effective under law other than this chapter or a custom or practice applicable to the letter of credit, to the transfer of a right to draw or otherwise demand performance under the letter of credit, or to the assignment of a right to proceeds of the letter of credit, the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right:

(a) Is not enforceable against the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary;

(b) Imposes no duties or obligations on the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary; and

(c) Does not require the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or other performance from the secured party.

Section 5. (1) The Legislature finds that it is in the best interest of the citizens and businesses of this state to adopt Part V of Revised Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code as proposed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Law, "revised Article 9," subject to specific modifications, as revised chapter 679, Florida Statutes. Such revised Article 9 almost exclusively affects secured transactions and the relationships between and among secured creditors, debtors, other creditors, and purchasers of personal property subject to a security interest. Both individuals and business entities are intended to benefit from the enactment of revised Article 9.

(2) The Legislature also finds that, among other things, revised Article 9 contemplates a more straightforward and efficient system for documenting the perfection, amendment, continuance, termination, assignment, and transfer of security interests and requires less governmental involvement than necessary under existing law. Revised Article 9 suggests the possibility that states may delegate their historical administrative and operational responsibilities over financing statement filings to a nongovernmental entity. This principle complements the legislative policy of reducing government's detailed regulation and involvement with private commerce and business transactions. Consistent with other revisions to current chapter 679, Florida Statutes, being adopted by this act, the requirement for exclusive administration and operation by this state of the system of filing and maintaining documents evidencing secured transactions no longer exists. However, the carrying out of the duties of the filing office and filing officer are very important to the uninterrupted flow of secured transactions and the Secretary of State shall retain oversight over the private filing agency to which the filing office and filing officer duties under revised Article 9, as revised chapter 679, Florida Statutes, may be delegated.

Section 6. Part V of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.501, 679.502, 679.503, 679.504, 679.505, 679.506, and 679.507, Florida Statutes, is repealed and a new part V, consisting of sections 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.5031. 679.5041, 679.5051, 679.5061, 679.5071, 679.508, 679.509, 679.510, 679.511, 679.512, 679.513, 671.514, 679.515, 679.516, 679.517, 679.518, 679.519, 679.520, 679.521, 679.522, 679.523, 679.524, 679.525, 679.526, and 679.527, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART V
FILING

679.5011 Filing office.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), the office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest or agricultural lien is:

(a) The office of the clerk of the circuit court, if:

1. The collateral is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut; or

2. The collateral is goods that are or are to become fixtures in this state, in which event the financing statement shall be filed as a fixture filing.

(b) The Florida Secured Transaction Registry, in accordance with ss. 679.3011-679.3071, and in all other cases.

(2) The office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the Office of the Secretary of State, or the filing office authorized by s. 697.527 to accept filings for the Florida Secured Transaction Registry. The financing statement also constitutes a fixture filing as to the collateral indicated in the financing statement which is or is to become fixtures.

679.5021 Contents of financing statement; record of mortgage as financing statement; time of filing financing statement.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a financing statement is sufficient only if it:

(a) Provides the name of the debtor;

(b) Provides the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party; and

(c) Indicates the collateral covered by the financing statement.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.5011(2), to be sufficient, a financing statement that covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, or that is filed as a fixture filing and covers goods that are or are to become fixtures, must comply with the requirements of subsection (1) and also:

(a) Indicate that it covers this type of collateral;

(b) Indicate that it is to be filed in the real property records;

(c) Provide a description of the real property to which the collateral is related; and

(d) If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real property, provide the name of a record owner.

(3) A record of a mortgage satisfying the requirements of chapter 697 is effective, from the date of recording, as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut only if:

(a) The record of a mortgage indicates the goods or accounts that it covers;

(b) The goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real property described in the record of a mortgage or the collateral is related to the real property described in the mortgage and is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut;

(c) The record of a mortgage complies with the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than an indication that it is to be filed in the real property records; and

(d) The record of a mortgage is recorded as required by chapter 697.

(4) A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches.

679.5031 Name of debtor and secured party.—

(1) A financing statement sufficiently provides the name of the debtor:

(a) If the debtor is a registered organization, only if the financing statement provides the name of the debtor indicated on the public record of the debtor's jurisdiction of organization which shows the debtor to have been organized;

(b) If the debtor is a decedent's estate, only if the financing statement provides the name of the decedent and indicates that the debtor is an estate;

(c) If the debtor is a trust or a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust, only if the financing statement:

1. Provides the name, if any, specified for the trust in its organic documents or, if no name is specified, provides the name of the settlor and additional information sufficient to distinguish a debtor from other trusts having one or more of the same settlors; and

2. Indicates, in the debtor's name or otherwise, that the debtor is a trust or is a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust; and

(d) In other cases:

1. If the debtor has a name, only if it provides the individual or organizational name of the debtor; and

2. If the debtor does not have a name, only if it provides the names of the partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(2) A financing statement that provides the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection (1) is not rendered ineffective by the absence of:

(a) A trade name or other name of the debtor; or

(b) Unless required under subparagraph (1)(d)2., names of partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(3) A financing statement that provides only the debtor's trade name does not sufficiently provide the name of the debtor.

(4) Failure to indicate the representative capacity of a secured party or representative of a secured party does not affect the sufficiency of a financing statement.

(5) A financing statement may provide the name of more than one debtor and the name of more than one secured party.

679.5041 Indication of collateral.—A financing statement sufficiently indicates the collateral that it covers if the financing statement provides:

(1) A description of the collateral pursuant to s. 679.1081; or

(2) If the security agreement grants a security interest in all of the debtor's personal property and such property is reasonably identified in the security agreement, as permitted by s. 679.1081, an indication that the financing statement covers all assets or all personal property.

679.5051 Filing and compliance with other statutes and treaties for consignments, leases, bailments, and other transactions.—

(1) A consignor, lessor, or bailor of goods, a licensor, or a buyer of a payment intangible or promissory note may file a financing statement, or may comply with a statute or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1), using the terms "consignor," "consignee," "lessor," "lessee," "bailor," "bailee," "licensor," "licensee," "owner," "registered owner," "buyer," "seller," or words of similar import, instead of the terms "secured party" and "debtor."

(2) This part applies to the filing of a financing statement under subsection (1) and, as appropriate, to compliance that is equivalent to filing a financing statement under s. 679.3111(2), but the filing or compliance is not of itself a factor in determining whether the collateral secures an obligation. If it is determined for another reason that the collateral secures an obligation, a security interest held by the consignor, lessor, bailor, licensor, owner, or buyer which attaches to the collateral is perfected by the filing or compliance.

679.5061 Effect of errors or omissions.—

(1) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this part is effective, even if it has minor errors or omissions, unless the errors or omissions make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with s. 679.5031(1) is seriously misleading.

(3) If a search of the records of the filing office under the debtor's correct name, using the filing office's standard search logic, if any, would disclose a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with s. 679.5031(1), the name provided does not make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(4) For purposes of s. 679.508(2), the term "debtor's correct name" as used in subsection (3) means the correct name of the new debtor.

679.5071 Effect of certain events on effectiveness of financing statement.—

(1) A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral that is sold, exchanged, leased, licensed, or otherwise disposed of and in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues, even if the secured party knows of or consents to the disposition.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) and s. 679.508, a financing statement is not rendered ineffective if, after the financing statement is filed, the information provided in the financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061.

(3) If a debtor so changes its name that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061:

(a) The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor before, or within 4 months after, the change; and

(b) The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than 4 months after the change, unless an amendment to the financing statement which renders the financing statement not seriously misleading is filed within 4 months after the change.

679.508 Effectiveness of financing statement if new debtor becomes bound by security agreement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a filed financing statement naming an original debtor is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights to the extent that the financing statement would have been effective had the original debtor acquired rights in the collateral.

(2) If the difference between the name of the original debtor and that of the new debtor causes a filed financing statement that is effective under subsection (1) to be seriously misleading under the standard set forth in s. 679.5061:

(a) The financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor before, and within 4 months after, the new debtor becomes bound under s. 679.2031(4); and

(b) The financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor more than 4 months after the new debtor becomes bound under s. 679.2031(4) unless an initial financing statement providing the name of the new debtor is filed before the expiration of that time.

(3) This section does not apply to collateral as to which a filed financing statement remains effective against the new debtor under s. 679.5071(1).

679.509 Persons entitled to file a record.—

(1) A person may file an initial financing statement, amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement, or amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:

(a) The debtor authorizes the filing in an authenticated record or pursuant to subsection (2) or subsection (3); or

(b) The person holds an agricultural lien that has become effective at the time of filing and the financing statement covers only collateral in which the person holds an agricultural lien.

(2) By authenticating or becoming bound as a debtor by a security agreement, a debtor or new debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing statement, and an amendment, covering:

(a) The collateral described in the security agreement; and

(b) Property that becomes collateral under s. 679.3151(1)(b), whether or not the security agreement expressly covers proceeds.

(3) A person may file an amendment other than an amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement or an amendment that adds a debtor to a financing statement only if:

(a) The secured party of record authorizes the filing; or

(b) The amendment is a termination statement for a financing statement as to which the secured party of record has failed to file or send a termination statement as required by s. 679.5131(1) or (3).

(4) If there is more than one secured party of record for a financing statement, each secured party of record may authorize the filing of an amendment under subsection (3).

(5) By acquiring collateral in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues under s. 679.3151(1), a debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing, and an amendment, covering the collateral and property that become collateral under s. 679.3151(1)(b).

679.510 Effectiveness of filed record.—

(1) Subject to subsection (3), a filed record is effective only to the extent that it was filed by a person who may file it under s. 679.509.

(2) A record authorized by one secured party of record does not affect the financing statement with respect to another secured party of record.

(3) If a person may file a termination statement only under s. 679.509(3)(b), the filed termination statement is effective only if the debtor authorizes the filing and the termination statement indicates that the debtor authorized it to be filed.

(4) A continuation statement that is not filed within the 6-month period prescribed by s. 679.515(4) is ineffective.

679.511 Secured party of record.—

(1) A secured party of record with respect to a financing statement is a person whose name is provided as the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party in an initial financing statement that has been filed. If an initial financing statement is filed under s. 679.514(1), the assignee named in the initial financing statement is the secured party of record with respect to the financing statement.

(2) If an amendment of a financing statement which provides the name of a person as a secured party or a representative of a secured party is filed, the person named in the amendment is a secured party of record. If an amendment is filed under s. 679.514(2), the assignee named in the amendment is a secured party of record.

(3) A person remains a secured party of record until the filing of an amendment of the financing statement which deletes the person.

679.512 Amendment of financing statement.—

(1) Subject to s. 679.509, a person may add or delete collateral covered by, continue or terminate the effectiveness of, or, subject to subsection (5), otherwise amend the information provided in, a financing statement by filing an amendment that:

(a) Identifies, by its correct file number, if any, the initial financing statement to which the amendment relates, and the name of the debtor and the secured party of record; and

(b) If the amendment relates to an initial financing statement filed or recorded in a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a), provides the information specified in s. 679.5021(2), the official records book and page number of the initial financing statement to which the amendment relates, and the name of the debtor and secured party of record.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.515, the filing of an amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of the financing statement.

(3) A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds collateral is effective as to the added collateral only from the date of the filing of the amendment.

(4) A financing statement that is amended by an amendment that adds a debtor is effective as to the added debtor only from the date of the filing of the amendment.

(5) An amendment is ineffective to the extent it:

(a) Purports to delete all debtors and fails to provide the name of a debtor to be covered by the financing statement; or

(b) Purports to delete all secured parties of record and fails to provide the name of a new secured party of record.

679.513 Termination statement.—

(1) A secured party shall cause the secured party of record for a financing statement to file a termination statement for the financing statement if the financing statement covers consumer goods and:

(a) There is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value; or

(b) The debtor did not authorize the filing of the initial financing statement.

(2) To comply with subsection (1), a secured party shall cause the secured party of record to file the termination statement:

(a) Within 1 month after there is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value; or

(b) If earlier, within 20 days after the secured party receives an authenticated demand from a debtor.

(3) In cases not governed by subsection (1), within 20 days after a secured party receives an authenticated demand from a debtor, the secured party shall cause the secured party of record for a financing statement to send to the debtor a termination statement for the financing statement or file the termination statement in the filing office if:

(a) Except in the case of a financing statement covering accounts or chattel paper that has been sold or goods that are the subject of a consignment, there is no obligation secured by the collateral covered by the financing statement and no commitment to make an advance, incur an obligation, or otherwise give value;

(b) The financing statement covers accounts or chattel paper that has been sold but as to which the account debtor or other person obligated has discharged its obligation;

(c) The financing statement covers goods that were the subject of a consignment to the debtor but are not in the debtor's possession; or

(d) The debtor did not authorize the filing of the initial financing statement.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, upon the filing of a termination statement with the filing office, the financing statement to which the termination statement relates ceases to be effective. Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, for purposes of ss. 679.519(7) and 679.522(1), the filing with the filing office of a termination statement relating to a financing statement that indicates that the debtor is a transmitting utility also causes the effectiveness of the financing statement to lapse.

679.514 Assignment of powers of secured party of record.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), an initial financing statement may reflect an assignment of all of the secured party's power to authorize an amendment to the financing statement by providing the name and mailing address of the assignee as the name and address of the secured party.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a secured party of record may assign of record all or part of its power to authorize an amendment to a financing statement by filing in the filing office an amendment of the financing statement which:

(a) Identifies, by its correct file number and the secured party of record, the initial financing statement to which it relates;

(b) Provides the names of the assignor and debtor; and

(c) Provides the name and mailing address of the assignee.

(3) An assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture covered by a real property mortgage that is effective as a fixture filing under s. 679.5021(3) may be made only by an assignment of record of the mortgage in the manner provided by s. 701.02.

679.515 Duration and effectiveness of financing statement; effect of lapsed financing statement.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2), (5), (6), and (7), a filed financing statement is effective for a period of 5 years after the date of filing.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (5), (6), and (7), an initial financing statement filed in connection with a manufactured-home transaction is effective for a period of 30 years after the date of filing if it indicates that it is filed in connection with a manufactured-home transaction.

(3) The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the period of its effectiveness unless, before the lapse, a continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection (4). Upon lapse, a financing statement ceases to be effective and any security interest or agricultural lien that was perfected by the financing statement becomes unperfected, unless the security interest is perfected without filing. If the security interest or agricultural lien becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(4) A continuation statement may be filed only within 6 months before the expiration of the 5-year period specified in subsection (1) or the 30-year period specified in subsection (2), whichever is applicable.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.510, upon timely filing of a continuation statement, the effectiveness of the initial financing statement continues for a period of 5 years commencing on the day on which the financing statement would have become ineffective in the absence of the filing. Upon the expiration of the 5-year period, the financing statement lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection (3), unless, before the lapse, another continuation statement is filed pursuant to subsection (4). Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the initial financing statement.

(6) If a debtor is a transmitting utility and a filed financing statement so indicates, the financing statement is effective until a termination statement is filed.

(7) A record of a mortgage satisfying the requirements of chapter 697 that is effective as a fixture filing under s. 679.5021(3) remains effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real property.

679.516 What constitutes filing; effectiveness of filing.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), communication of a record to a filing office, tender of the processing fee, or acceptance of the record by the filing office constitutes filing.

(2) Filing does not occur with respect to a record that a filing office refuses to accept because:

(a) The record is not communicated by a method or medium of communication authorized by the filing office;

(b) An amount equal to or greater than the applicable processing fee is not tendered;

(c) The record does not include the notation required by s. 201.22 indicating that the excise tax required by chapter 201 had been paid or is not required;

(d) The filing office is unable to index the record because:

1. In the case of an initial financing statement, the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial;

2. In the case of an amendment or correction statement, the record:

a. Does not correctly identify the initial financing statement as required by s. 679.512 or s. 679.518, as applicable; or

b. Identifies an initial financing statement the effectiveness of which has lapsed under s. 679.515;

3. In the case of an initial financing statement that provides the name of a debtor identified as an individual or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor identified as an individual which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates, the record does not identify the debtor's last name and first name or initial; or

4. In the case of a record filed or recorded in the filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a), the record does not provide a sufficient description of the real property to which it relates;

(e) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that adds a secured party of record, the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial and mailing address for the secured party of record;

(f) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the amendment relates, the record does not:

1. Provide a mailing address for the debtor;

2. Indicate whether the debtor is an individual or an organization; or

3. If the financing statement indicates that the debtor is an organization, provide:

a. A type of organization for the debtor;

b. A jurisdiction of organization for the debtor; or

c. An organizational identification number for the debtor or indicate that the debtor has none;

(g) In the case of an assignment reflected in an initial financing statement under s. 679.514(1) or an amendment filed under s. 679.514(2), the record does not provide an organization's name or, if an individual, the individual's last name and first name or initial and mailing address for the assignee;

(h) In the case of a continuation statement, the record is not filed within the 6-month period prescribed by s. 679.515(4);

(i) In the case of an initial financing statement or an amendment, which amendment requires the inclusion of a collateral statement but the record does not provide any, the record does not provide a statement of collateral; or

(3) For purposes of subsection (2):

(a) A record does not provide information if the filing office is unable to read or decipher the information; and

(b) A record that does not indicate that it is an amendment or identify an initial financing statement to which it relates, as required by s. 679.512, s. 679.514, or s. 679.518, is an initial financing statement.

(4) A record that is communicated to the filing office with tender of the filing fee, but that the filing office refuses to accept for a reason other than one set forth in subsection (2), is effective as a filed record except as against a purchaser of the collateral which gives value in reasonable reliance upon the absence of the record from the files.

679.517 Effect of indexing errors.—The failure of the filing office to index a record correctly does not affect the effectiveness of the filed record.

679.518 Claim concerning inaccurate or wrongfully filed record.—

(1) A person may file in the filing office a correction statement with respect to a record indexed there under the person's name if the person believes that the record is inaccurate or was wrongfully filed.

(2) A correction statement must:

(a) Identify the record to which it relates by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement, the debtor, and the secured party of record to which the record relates;

(b) Indicate that it is a correction statement; and

(c) Provide the basis for the person's belief that the record is inaccurate and indicate the manner in which the person believes the record should be amended to cure any inaccuracy or provide the basis for the person's belief that the record was wrongfully filed.

(3) The filing of a correction statement does not affect the effectiveness of an initial financing statement or other filed record.

679.519 Numbering, maintaining, and indexing records; communicating information provided in records.—

(1) For each record filed in a filing office, the filing office shall, in accordance with such other laws applicable to the recording of instruments by a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a):

(a) Assign a unique number to the filed record;

(b) Create a record that bears the number assigned to the filed record and the date and time of filing;

(c) Maintain the filed record for public inspection; and

(d) Index the filed record in accordance with subsections (3), (4), and (5).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), a file number assigned after January 1, 2002, must include a digit that:

(a) Is mathematically derived from or related to the other digits of the file number; and

(b) Enables the filing office to detect whether a number communicated as the file number includes a single-digit or transpositional error.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (4) and (5), the filing office shall:

(a) Index an initial financing statement according to the name of the debtor and shall index all filed records relating to the initial financing statement in a manner that associates with one another an initial financing statement and all filed records relating to the initial financing statement; and

(b) Index a record that provides a name of a debtor which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates also according to the name that was not previously provided.

(4) If a financing statement is filed as a fixture filing or covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, the filing office shall index it:

(a) Under the names of the debtor and of each owner of record shown on the financing statement as if they were the mortgagors under a mortgage of the real property described; and

(b) To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if the secured party were the mortgagee thereunder, or, if indexing is by description, as if the financing statement were a mortgage of the real property described.

(5) If a financing statement is filed as a fixture filing or covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, the filing office shall index an assignment filed under s. 679.514(1) or an amendment filed under s. 679.514(2):

(a) Under the name of the assignor as grantor; and

(b) To the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a real property mortgage under the name of the assignee, under the name of the assignee.

(6) The filing office shall maintain a capability for:

(a) Retrieving a record by the name of the debtor and by the file number assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates; and

(b) Associating and retrieving with one another an initial financing statement and each filed record relating to the initial financing statement.

(7) The filing office may not remove a debtor's name from the index until 1 year after the effectiveness of a financing statement naming the debtor lapses under s. 679.515 with respect to all secured parties of record.

(8) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (9), the filing office shall perform the acts required by subsections (1) through (5) at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule, but not later than 3 business days after the filing office receives the record in question, if practical.

(9) Subsections (1), (2), and (8) do not apply to a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(a).

679.520 Acceptance and refusal to accept record.—

(1) A filing office shall refuse to accept a record for filing for a reason set forth in s. 679.516(2) and may refuse to accept a record for filing only for a reason set forth in s. 679.516(2).

(2) If a filing office refuses to accept a record for filing, it shall communicate to the person that presented the record the fact of and reason for the refusal and the date and time the record would have been filed had the filing office accepted it. The communication must be made at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule but, in the case of a filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b), in no event more than 3 business days after the filing office receives the record, if practical.

(3) A filed financing statement satisfying s. 679.5021(1) and (2) is effective, even if the filing office is required to refuse to accept it for filing under subsection (1). However, s. 679.338 applies to a filed financing statement providing information described in s. 679.516(2)(e) which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed.

(4) If a record communicated to a filing office provides information that relates to more than one debtor, this part applies as to each debtor separately.

679.521 Uniform form of written financing statement and amendment.—The Secretary of State shall develop or approve acceptable forms for use in filing under this chapter. Such forms must be in accord with the requirements of Florida law, including s. 201.22. The secretary may, if he or she finds that such forms meet these requirements, approve the use of a standard national form for this purpose.

679.522 Maintenance and destruction of records.—

(1) The filing office shall maintain a record of the information provided in a filed financing statement for at least 1 year after the effectiveness of the financing statement has lapsed under s. 679.515 with respect to all secured parties of record. The record must be retrievable by using the name of the debtor and by using the file number, or official records book and page number if a fixture filing, assigned to the initial financing statement to which the record relates.

(2) Except to the extent that chapter 119 governing disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing office immediately may destroy any written record evidencing a financing statement. However, if the filing office destroys a written record, it shall maintain another record of the financing statement which complies with subsection (1).

679.523 Information from filing office; sale or license of records.—

(1) If a person files a written record, the filing office shall make available, on the database, an image of the record showing the number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a) and the date of the filing of the record or, if requested, send to the person a separate printed acknowledgement indicating the debtor's name, the number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a), and the date of the filing of the record.

(2) If a person files a record other than a written record, the filing office described in s. 679.5011(l)(b) shall communicate to the person an image that provides:

(a) The information in the record;

(b) The number assigned to the record pursuant to s. 679.519(1)(a); and

(c) The date and time of the filing of the record.

(3) In complying with its duty under this chapter, the filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b) may communicate information in any medium. However, if requested, the filing office shall communicate information by issuing its written certificate or a record that can be admitted into evidence in the courts of the state without extrinsic evidence of its authenticity.

(4) The filing office described in s. 679.5011(1)(b) shall perform the acts required by subsections (1) and (2) at the time and in the manner prescribed by any filing-office rule, but not later than 3 business days after the filing office receives the request, if practical.

679.524 Delay by filing office.—Delay by the filing office beyond a time limit prescribed by this part is excused if:

(1) The delay is caused by interruption of communication or computer facilities, war, emergency conditions, failure of equipment, or other circumstances beyond control of the filing office; and

(2) The filing office exercises reasonable diligence under the circumstances.

679.525 Processing fees.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the nonrefundable processing fee for filing and indexing a record under this part, other than an initial financing statement of the kind described in s. 679.5021(3), is:

(a) For filing an initial financing statement, $28 for the first page, and second page, if any, which shall include the cost of filing a termination statement for the financing statement;

(b) For filing an amendment, $12 for the first page;

(c) For indexing by additional debtor, secured party, or assignee, $3 per additional name indexed;

(d) For use of a nonapproved form, $5;

(e) For each additional page attached to a record, $3;

(f) For filing a financing statement communicated by an electronic filing process authorized by the filing office, $15 with no additional fees for multiple names or attached pages;

(g) For filing an amendment communicated by an electronic filing process authorized by the filing office, $5 with no additional fees for multiple names or attached pages;

(h) For a certified copy of a financing statement and any and all associated amendments, $30; and

(i) For a photocopy of a filed record, $1 per page.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the fee for filing and indexing an initial financing statement of the kind described in s. 679.5021(3) is the amount specified in chapter 28.

(3) This section does not require a fee with respect to a mortgage that is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut under s. 679.5021(3). However, the recording and satisfaction fees that otherwise would be applicable to the mortgage apply.

679.526 Filing-office rules.—The Department of State may adopt and publish rules to administer this chapter. The filing-office rules must be:

(1) Consistent with this chapter.

(2) Adopted and published in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act.

679.527 Florida Secured Transaction Registry.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) The "Florida Secured Transaction Registry" or "registry" means the centralized database in which all initial financing statements, amendments, assignments, and other statements of change authorized to be filed under this chapter are filed, maintained, and retrieved. The term does not apply to documents that are filed under this chapter with the clerk of a circuit court.

(b) "Department" means the Department of State.

(c) "Materials and records" includes, but is not limited to data bases, source or object codes, and any software relating to the Florida Secured Transaction Registry or system for centralized filing under this part, regardless of the original source of its creation or maintenance.

(2) The Department of State may contract for the performance of the administrative and operational functions under this part of the filing office and filing officer for the Florida Secured Transaction Registry, provided that any such contract shall not be assignable or otherwise transferable without the express written consent of the department, notwithstanding any limitations imposed by ss. 679.4061 or 679.4081.

(3) The department shall perform the administrative and operational functions, as filing officer and filing office, for the Florida Secured Transaction Registry until October 1, 2001, or upon the effective date of a contract executed by the department to administer and operate the registry, whichever occurs later. At such time, the department shall cease serving as the designated filing officer and filing office for the registry under this part, and thereafter, except to the extent it reclaims such responsibilities as provided below, shall not be responsible for the duties of the filing office and officer under this part, including determining whether documents tendered for filing under this part satisfy the requirements of law. The department shall retain authority under this part to approve the forms required to be filed under this part. If authorized by the contract, the entity performing the duties of the filing office may certify a copy of a financing statement or amendment thereto which shall be admissible in a state or federal court or other tribunal proceeding.

(4) Notwithstanding the terms and conditions of any contract to perform the administrative and operational functions of the filing office or filing officer under this part for the Florida Secured Transaction Registry, the department and the state shall retain sole and exclusive ownership of the materials and records of the registry, shall have the right to inspect and make copies of the materials and records of the registry, and shall have the right to immediately reclaim and take possession and control of the original materials and records of the registry if any entity under contract with the department to administer and operate the registry does not, or cannot, perform the terms and conditions of the contract for any reason or commences or consents to an insolvency proceeding. If the department reclaims control of the materials and records of the registry, the department shall provide for the uninterrupted fulfillment of the duties of the filing office and filing officer by administration and operation by the department until a subsequent contract for such duties can be executed. The department shall be entitled to injunctive relief if the entity fails to turn over the materials and records upon demand, and the Circuit Court for Leon County, Florida shall have exclusive original jurisdiction to adjudicate any disputes pertaining to this section or any contract entered into under this section.

(5) The Department of State shall immediately develop and issue a Request for Qualifications seeking capable parties to perform both the administrative and operational functions currently being performed by the department as a filing officer and filing office under the Uniform Commercial Code.

(a) The qualifications shall, at a minimum, provide for the organization and maintenance of the Florida Secured Transaction Registry as the centralized Uniform Commercial Code filing and retrieval system, which:

1. Is comparable and compatible with the existing filing system.

2. Is open to the public and accessible through the Internet, to permit the review of all existing filings of the department and all future filings, in compliance with chapter 119.

3. Provides for oversight and compliance audits by the department.

4. Requires records maintenance in compliance with this part and chapter 119.

5. Maintains the current level of filing fees and procedures for the deposit of revenues with the department as specified in chapter 15, net of operating costs, for a period of 5 years.

(b) The Department of State shall develop performance standards to ensure that the filing system is accurate and complete and that the users thereof are being well-served. Periodically, the department shall verify that these performance standards are being met or modified as may be needed from time to time.

Section 7. Part VI of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.601, 679.602, 679.603, 679.604, 679.605, 679.606, 679.607, 679.608, 679.609, 679.610, 679.611, 679.612, 679.613, 679.614, 679.615, 679.616, 679.617, 679.618, 679.619, 679.620, 679.621, 679.622, 679.623, 679.624, 679.625, 679.626, 679.627, and 679.628, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART VI
DEFAULT

679.601 Rights after default; judicial enforcement; consignor or buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes.—

(1) After default, a secured party has the rights provided in this part and, except as otherwise provided in s. 679.602, those provided by agreement of the parties. A secured party:

(a) May reduce a claim to judgment, foreclose, or otherwise enforce the claim, security interest, or agricultural lien by any available judicial procedure; and

(b) If the collateral is documents, may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods they cover.

(2) A secured party in possession of collateral or control of collateral under s. 679.1041, s. 679.1051, s. 679.1061, or s. 679.1071 has the rights and duties provided in s. 679.2071.

(3) The rights under subsections (1) and (2) are cumulative and may be exercised simultaneously.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7) and s. 679.605, after default, a debtor and an obligor have the rights provided in this part and by agreement of the parties.

(5) If a secured party has reduced its claim to judgment, the lien of any levy that may be made upon the collateral by virtue of an execution based upon the judgment relates back to the earliest of:

(a) The date of perfection of the security interest or agricultural lien in the collateral;

(b) The date of filing a financing statement covering the collateral; or

(c) Any date specified in a statute under which the agricultural lien was created.

(6) A sale pursuant to an execution is a foreclosure of the security interest or agricultural lien by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section. A secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this chapter.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.607(3), this part imposes no duties upon a secured party that is a consignor or is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes.

679.602 Waiver and variance of rights and duties.—Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.624, to the extent that they give rights to a debtor or obligor and impose duties on a secured party, the debtor or obligor may not waive or vary the rules stated in the following listed sections:

(1) Section 679.2071(2)(d)3., which deals with use and operation of the collateral by the secured party;

(2) Section 679.210, which deals with requests for an accounting and requests concerning a list of collateral and statement of account;

(3) Section 679.607(3), which deals with collection and enforcement of collateral;

(4) Sections 679.608(1) and 679.615(3) to the extent that they deal with application or payment of noncash proceeds of collection, enforcement, or disposition;

(5) Sections 679.608(1) and 679.615(4) to the extent that they require accounting for or payment of surplus proceeds of collateral;

(6) Section 679.609 to the extent that it imposes upon a secured party that takes possession of collateral without judicial process the duty to do so without breach of the peace;

(7) Sections 679.610(2), 679.611, 679.613, and 679.614, which deal with disposition of collateral;

(8) Section 679.615(6), which deals with calculation of a deficiency or surplus when a disposition is made to the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor;

(9) Section 679.616, which deals with explanation of the calculation of a surplus or deficiency;

(10) Sections 679.620, 679.621, and 679.622, which deal with acceptance of collateral in satisfaction of obligation;

(11) Section 679.623, which deals with redemption of collateral;

(12) Section 679.624, which deals with permissible waivers; and

(13) Sections 679.625 and 679.626, which deal with the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this article.

679.603 Agreement on standards concerning rights and duties.—

(1) The parties may determine by agreement the standards measuring the fulfillment of the rights of a debtor or obligor and the duties of a secured party under a rule stated in s. 679.602 if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the duty under s. 679.609 to refrain from breaching the peace.

679.604 Procedure if security agreement covers real property or fixtures.—

(1) If a security agreement covers both personal and real property, a secured party may proceed:

(a) Under this part as to the personal property without prejudicing any rights with respect to the real property; or

(b) As to both the personal property and the real property in accordance with the rights with respect to the real property, in which case the other provisions of this part do not apply.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), if a security agreement covers goods that are or become fixtures, a secured party may proceed:

(a) Under this part; or

(b) In accordance with the rights with respect to real property, in which case the other provisions of this part do not apply.

(3) Subject to the other provisions of this part, if a secured party holding a security interest in fixtures has priority over all owners and encumbrancers of the real property, the secured party, after default, may remove the collateral from the real property. The secured party shall give reasonable notification of its intent to remove the collateral to all persons entitled to reimbursement under subsection (4).

(4) A secured party that removes collateral shall promptly reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real property, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury caused by the removal. The secured party need not reimburse the encumbrancer or owner for any diminution in value of the real property caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse. This subsection does not prohibit a secured party and the person entitled to reimbursement from entering into an authenticated record providing for the removal of fixtures and reimbursement for any damage caused thereby.

679.605 Unknown debtor or secondary obligor.—A secured party does not owe a duty based on its status as secured party:

(1) To a person who is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

(a) That the person is a debtor or obligor;

(b) The identity of the person; and

(c) How to communicate with the person; or

(2) To a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

(a) That the person is a debtor; and

(b) The identity of the person.

679.606 Time of default for agricultural lien.—For purposes of this part, a default occurs in connection with an agricultural lien at the time the secured party becomes entitled to enforce the lien in accordance with the statute under which it was created.

679.607 Collection and enforcement by secured party.—

(1) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party:

(a) May notify an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to or for the benefit of the secured party;

(b) May take any proceeds to which the secured party is entitled under s. 679.3151;

(c) May enforce the obligations of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral and exercise the rights of the debtor with respect to the obligation of the account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to the debtor, and with respect to any property that secures the obligations of the account debtor or other person obligated on the collateral;

(d) If it holds a security interest in a deposit account perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(a), may apply the balance of the deposit account to the obligation secured by the deposit account; and

(e) If it holds a security interest in a deposit account perfected by control under s. 679.1041(1)(b) or (c), may instruct the bank to pay the balance of the deposit account to or for the benefit of the secured party.

(2) If necessary to enable a secured party to exercise under paragraph (1)(c) the right of a debtor to enforce a mortgage nonjudicially outside this state, the secured party may record in the office in which a record of the mortgage is recorded:

(a) A copy of the security agreement that creates or provides for a security interest in the obligation secured by the mortgage; and

(b) The secured party's sworn affidavit in recordable form stating that:

1. A default has occurred; and

2. The secured party is entitled to enforce the mortgage nonjudicially outside this state.

(3) A secured party shall proceed in a commercially reasonable manner if the secured party:

(a) Undertakes to collect from or enforce an obligation of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral; and

(b) Is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor.

(4) A secured party may deduct from the collections made pursuant to subsection (3) reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement, including reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party.

(5) This section does not determine whether an account debtor, bank, or other person obligated on collateral owes a duty to a secured party.

(6) Nothing in subsection (2) is intended to create a right of nonjudicial foreclosure in this state.

679.608 Application of proceeds of collection or enforcement; liability for deficiency and right to surplus.—

(1) If a security interest or agricultural lien secures payment or performance of an obligation, the following rules apply:

(a) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of collection or enforcement under s. 679.607 in the following order to:

1. The reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

2. The satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or agricultural lien under which the collection or enforcement is made; and

3. The satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other lien on the collateral subject to the security interest or agricultural lien under which the collection or enforcement is made if the secured party receives an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.

(b) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time and agree to indemnify the secured party on reasonable terms acceptable to the secured party for damages, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, incurred or suffered by the secured party if the subordinate holder did not have the right to receive the amounts to be paid to it. Unless the holder complies, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under subparagraph (a)3.

(c) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application noncash proceeds of collection and enforcement under s. 679.607 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application noncash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.

(d) A secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus, and the obligor is liable for any deficiency.

(2) If the underlying transaction is a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes, the debtor is not entitled to any surplus, and the obligor is not liable for any deficiency.

(3) If the secured party in good faith cannot determine the validity, extent, or priority of a subordinate security interest or other lien or there are conflicting claims of subordinate interests or liens, the secured party may commence an interpleader action with respect to remaining proceeds in excess of $2,500 in the circuit or county court, as applicable based upon the amount to be deposited, where the collateral was located or collected or in the county where the debtor has its chief executive office or principal residence in this state, as applicable. If authorized in an authenticated record, the interpleading secured party is entitled to be paid from the remaining proceeds the actual costs of the filing fee and an attorney's fee in the amount of $250 incurred in connection with filing the interpleader action and obtaining an order approving the interpleader of funds. The debtor in a consumer transaction may not be assessed for the attorney's fees and costs incurred in the interpleader action by the holders of subordinate security interests or other liens based upon disputes among said holders, and a debtor in a transaction other than a consumer transaction may only recover such fees and costs to the extent provided for in an authenticated record. If authorized in an authenticated record, the court in the interpleader action may award reasonable attorney's fees and costs to the prevailing party in a dispute between the debtor and a holder of a security interest or lien which claims an interest in the remaining interplead proceeds, but only if the debtor challenges the validity, priority, or extent of said security interest or lien. Except as provided in this subsection, a debtor may not be assessed attorney's fees and costs incurred by any party in an interpleader action commenced under this section.

679.609 Secured party's right to take possession after default.—

(1) After default, a secured party:

(a) May take possession of the collateral; and

(b) Without removal, may render equipment unusable and dispose of collateral on a debtor's premises under s. 679.610.

(2) A secured party may proceed under subsection (1):

(a) Pursuant to judicial process; or

(b) Without judicial process, if it proceeds without breach of the peace.

(3) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties.

679.610 Disposition of collateral after default.—

(1) After default, a secured party may sell, lease, license, or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its present condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing.

(2) Every aspect of a disposition of collateral, including the method, manner, time, place, and other terms, must be commercially reasonable. If commercially reasonable, a secured party may dispose of collateral by public or private proceedings, by one or more contracts, as a unit or in parcels, and at any time and place and on any terms.

(3) A secured party may purchase collateral:

(a) At a public disposition; or

(b) At a private disposition only if the collateral is of a kind that is customarily sold on a recognized market or the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations.

(4) A contract for sale, lease, license, or other disposition includes the warranties relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, and the like which by operation of law accompany a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract.

(5) A secured party may disclaim or modify warranties under subsection (4):

(a) In a manner that would be effective to disclaim or modify the warranties in a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract of disposition; or

(b) By communicating to the purchaser a record evidencing the contract for disposition and including an express disclaimer or modification of the warranties.

(6) A record is sufficient to disclaim warranties under subsection (5) if it indicates that "there is no warranty relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, or the like in this disposition" or uses words of similar import.

679.611 Notification before disposition of collateral.—

(1) In this section, the term "notification date" means the earlier of the date on which:

(a) A secured party sends to the debtor and any secondary obligor an authenticated notification of disposition; or

(b) The debtor and any secondary obligor waive the right to notification.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), a secured party that disposes of collateral under s. 679.610 shall send to the persons specified in subsection (3) a reasonable authenticated notification of disposition.

(3) To comply with subsection (2), the secured party shall send an authenticated notification of disposition to:

(a) The debtor;

(b) Any secondary obligor; and

(c) If the collateral is other than consumer goods:

1. Any other person from whom the secured party has received, before the notification date, an authenticated notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;

2. Any other secured party or lienholder that, 10 days before the notification date, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by the filing of a financing statement that:

a. Identified the collateral;

b. Was indexed under the debtor's name as of that date; and

c. Was filed in the office in which to file a financing statement against the debtor covering the collateral as of that date; and

3. Any other secured party that, 10 days before the notification date, held a security interest in the collateral perfected by compliance with a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1).

(4) Subsection (2) does not apply if the collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market.

(5) A secured party complies with the requirement for notification prescribed by subparagraph (3)(c)2. if:

(a) Not later than 20 days or earlier than 30 days before the notification date, the secured party requests, in a commercially reasonable manner, information concerning financing statements indexed under the debtor's name in the office indicated in subparagraph (3)(c)2.; and

(b) Before the notification date, the secured party:

1. Did not receive a response to the request for information; or

2. Received a response to the request for information and sent an authenticated notification of disposition to each secured party or other lienholder named in that response whose financing statement covered the collateral.

(6) For purposes of subsection (3), the secured party may send the authenticated notification as follows:

(a) If the collateral is other than consumer goods, to the debtor at the address in the financing statement, unless the secured party has received an authenticated record from the debtor notifying the secured party of a different address for such notification purposes or the secured party has actual knowledge of the address of the debtor's chief executive office or principal residence, as applicable, at the time the notification is sent;

(b) If the collateral is other than consumer goods, to any secondary obligor at the address, if any, in the authenticated agreement, unless the secured party has received an authenticated record from the secondary obligor notifying the secured party of a different address for such notification purposes or the secured party has actual knowledge of the address of the secondary obligor's chief executive office or principal residence, as applicable, at the time the notification is sent; and

(c) If the collateral is other than consumer goods:

1. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)1., at the address stated in the notification;

2. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)2., at the address stated in the financing statement;

3. To the person described in subparagraph (3)(c)3., at the address stated in the official records of the recording or registration agency.

679.612 Timeliness of notification before disposition of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), whether a notification is sent within a reasonable time is a question of fact.

(2) A notification of disposition sent after default and 10 days or more before the earliest time of disposition set forth in the notification is sent within a reasonable time before the disposition.

679.613 Contents and form of notification before disposition of collateral; general.—Except in a consumer-goods transaction, the following rules apply:

(1) The contents of a notification of disposition are sufficient if the notification:

(a) Describes the debtor and the secured party;

(b) Describes the collateral that is the subject of the intended disposition;

(c) States the method of intended disposition;

(d) States that the debtor is entitled to an accounting of the unpaid indebtedness and states the charge, if any, for an accounting; and

(e) States the time and place of a public disposition or the time after which any other disposition is to be made.

(2) Whether the contents of a notification that lacks any of the information specified in subsection (1) are nevertheless sufficient is a question of fact.

(3) The contents of a notification providing substantially the information specified in subsection (1) are sufficient, even if the notification includes:

(a) Information not specified by that paragraph; or

(b) Minor errors that are not seriously misleading.

(4) A particular phrasing of the notification is not required.

(5) The following form of notification and the form appearing in s. 679.614(3), when completed, each provides sufficient information:

NOTIFICATION OF DISPOSITION OF COLLATERAL

To:. . . . (Name of debtor, obligor, or other person to which the notification is sent). . . .

From:. . . . (Name, address, and telephone number of secured party). . . .

We are sending this notice to the following other people who have an interest in . . . . (describe collateral). . . . or who owe money under your agreement:

. . . . (Names of all other debtors and obligors, if any). . . .

(4) A notification in the form of subsection (3) is sufficient, even if additional information appears at the end of the form.

(5) A notification in the form of subsection (3) is sufficient, even if it includes errors in information not required by subsection (1), unless the error is misleading with respect to rights arising under this chapter.

(6) If a notification under this section is not in the form of subsection (3), law other than this chapter determines the effect of including information not required by subsection (1).

679.615 Application of proceeds of disposition; liability for deficiency and right to surplus.—

(1) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of disposition under s. 679.610 in the following order to:

(a) The reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for disposition, processing, and disposing, and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

(b) The satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made;

(c) The satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other subordinate lien on the collateral if:

1. The secured party receives from the holder of the subordinate security interest or other lien an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed; and

2. In a case in which a consignor has an interest in the collateral, the subordinate security interest or other lien is senior to the interest of the consignor; and

(d) A secured party that is a consignor of the collateral if the secured party receives from the consignor an authenticated demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.

(2) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time after receipt of the request and agree to indemnify the secured party on reasonable terms acceptable to the secured party for damages, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, incurred or suffered by the secured party if the subordinate holder did not have the right to receive the amounts to be paid to it. Unless the holder complies, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under paragraph (1)(c).

(3) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application noncash proceeds of disposition under s. 679.610 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application noncash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.

(4) If the security interest under which a disposition is made secures payment or performance of an obligation, after making the payments and applications required by subsection (1) and permitted by subsection (3):

(a) Unless paragraph (1)(d) requires the secured party to apply or pay over cash proceeds to a consignor, the secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus; and

(b) The obligor is liable for any deficiency.

(5) If the underlying transaction is a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes:

(a) The debtor is not entitled to any surplus; and

(b) The obligor is not liable for any deficiency.

(6) The surplus or deficiency following a disposition is calculated based on the amount of proceeds that would have been realized in a disposition complying with this part to a transferee other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor if:

(a) The transferee in the disposition is the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor; and

(b) The amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of proceeds that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

(7) A secured party that receives cash proceeds of a disposition in good faith and without knowledge that the receipt violates the rights of the holder of a security interest or other lien that is not subordinate to the security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made:

(a) Takes the cash proceeds free of the security interest or other lien;

(b) Is not obligated to apply the proceeds of the disposition to the satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or other lien; and

(c) Is not obligated to account to or pay the holder of the security interest or other lien for any surplus.

(8) If the secured party in good faith cannot determine the validity, extent, or priority of a subordinate security interest or other lien or there are conflicting claims of subordinate interests or liens, the secured party may commence an interpleader action with respect to remaining proceeds in excess of $2,500 in the circuit or county court, as applicable based upon the amount to be deposited, where the collateral was located or collected or in the county where the debtor's chief executive office or principal residence is located in this state, as applicable. The interpleading secured party and any other parties in the interpleader action shall only be entitled to recover attorney's fees and costs as permitted in s. 679.608(3).

679.616 Explanation of calculation of surplus or deficiency.—

(1) In this section, the term:

(a) "Explanation" means a writing that:

1. States the amount of the surplus or deficiency;

2. Provides an explanation in accordance with subsection (3) of how the secured party calculated the surplus or deficiency;

3. States, if applicable, that future debits, credits, charges, including additional credit service charges or interest, rebates, and expenses may affect the amount of the surplus or deficiency; and

4. Provides a telephone number or mailing address from which additional information concerning the transaction is available.

(b) "Request" means a record:

1. Authenticated by a debtor or consumer obligor;

2. Requesting that the recipient provide an explanation; and

3. Sent after disposition of the collateral under s. 679.610.

(2) In a consumer-goods transaction in which the debtor is entitled to a surplus or a consumer obligor is liable for a deficiency under s. 679.615, the secured party shall:

(a) Send an explanation to the debtor or consumer obligor, as applicable, after the disposition and:

1. Before or when the secured party accounts to the debtor and pays any surplus or first makes written demand on the consumer obligor after the disposition for payment of the deficiency; and

2. Within 14 days after receipt of a request; or

(b) In the case of a consumer obligor who is liable for a deficiency, within 14 days after receipt of a request, send to the consumer obligor a record waiving the secured party's right to a deficiency.

(3) To comply with subparagraph (1)(a)2., a writing must provide the following information in the following order:

(a) The aggregate amount of obligations secured by the security interest under which the disposition was made, and, if the amount reflects a rebate of unearned interest or credit service charge, an indication of that fact, calculated as of a specified date:

1. If the secured party takes or receives possession of the collateral after default, not more than 35 days before the secured party takes or receives possession; or

2. If the secured party takes or receives possession of the collateral before default or does not take possession of the collateral, not more than 35 days before the disposition;

(b) The amount of proceeds of the disposition;

(c) The aggregate amount of the obligations after deducting the amount of proceeds;

(d) The amount, in the aggregate or by type, and types of expenses, including expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for disposition, processing, and disposing of the collateral, and attorney's fees secured by the collateral which are known to the secured party and relate to the current disposition;

(e) The amount, in the aggregate or by type, and types of credits, including rebates of interest or credit service charges, to which the obligor is known to be entitled and which are not reflected in the amount in paragraph (a); and

(f) The amount of the surplus or deficiency.

(4) A particular phrasing of the explanation is not required. An explanation complying substantially with the requirements of subsection (1) is sufficient, even if it includes minor errors that are not seriously misleading.

(5) A debtor or consumer obligor is entitled without charge to one response to a request under this section during any 6-month period in which the secured party did not send to the debtor or consumer obligor an explanation pursuant to paragraph (2)(a). The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $25 for each additional response.

679.617 Rights of transferee of collateral.—

(1) A secured party's disposition of collateral after default:

(a) Transfers to a transferee for value all of the debtor's rights in the collateral;

(b) Discharges the security interest under which the disposition is made; and

(c) Discharges any subordinate security interest or other subordinate lien other than liens created under statutes providing for liens, if any, that are not to be discharged.

(2) A transferee that acts in good faith takes free of the rights and interests described in subsection (1), even if the secured party fails to comply with this chapter or the requirements of any judicial proceeding.

(3) If a transferee does not take free of the rights and interests described in subsection (1), the transferee takes the collateral subject to:

(a) The debtor's rights in the collateral;

(b) The security interest or agricultural lien under which the disposition is made; and

(c) Any other security interest or other lien.

679.618 Rights and duties of certain secondary obligors.—

(1) A secondary obligor acquires the rights and becomes obligated to perform the duties of the secured party after the secondary obligor:

(a) Receives an assignment of a secured obligation from the secured party;

(b) Receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party and agrees to accept the rights and assume the duties of the secured party; or

(c) Is subrogated to the rights of a secured party with respect to collateral.

(2) An assignment, transfer, or subrogation described in subsection (1):

(a) Is not a disposition of collateral under s. 679.610; and

(b) Relieves the secured party of further duties under this chapter.

679.619 Transfer of record or legal title.—

(1) In this section, the term "transfer statement" means a record authenticated by a secured party stating:

(a) That the debtor has defaulted in connection with an obligation secured by specified collateral;

(b) That the secured party has exercised its post-default remedies with respect to the collateral;

(c) That, by reason of the exercise, a transferee has acquired the rights of the debtor in the collateral; and

(d) The name and mailing address of the secured party, debtor, and transferee.

(2) A transfer statement entitles the transferee to the transfer of record of all rights of the debtor in the collateral specified in the statement in any official filing, recording, registration, or certificate-of-title system covering the collateral. If a transfer statement is presented with the applicable fee and request form to the official or office responsible for maintaining the system, the official or office shall:

(a) Accept the transfer statement;

(b) Promptly amend its records to reflect the transfer; and

(c) If applicable, issue a new appropriate certificate of title in the name of the transferee.

(3) A transfer of the record or legal title to collateral to a secured party under subsection (2) or otherwise is not of itself a disposition of collateral under this chapter and does not of itself relieve the secured party of its duties under this chapter.

679.620 Acceptance of collateral in full or partial satisfaction of obligation; compulsory dispostion of collateral.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), a secured party may accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if:

(a) The debtor consents to the acceptance under subsection (3);

(b) The secured party does not receive, within the time set forth in subsection (4), a notification of objection to the proposal authenticated by:

1. A person to whom the secured party was required to send a proposal under s. 679.621; or

2. Any other person, other than the debtor, holding an interest in the collateral subordinate to the security interest that is the subject of the proposal;

(c) If the collateral is consumer goods, the collateral is not in the possession of the debtor when the debtor consents to the acceptance; and

(d) Subsection (5) does not require the secured party to dispose of the collateral or the debtor waives the requirement pursuant to s. 679.624.

(2) A purported or apparent acceptance of collateral under this section is ineffective unless:

(a) The secured party consents to the acceptance in an authenticated record or sends a proposal to the debtor; and

(b) The conditions of subsection (1) are met.

(3) For purposes of this section:

(a) A debtor consents to an acceptance of collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if the debtor agrees to the terms of the acceptance in a record authenticated after default; and

(b) A debtor consents to an acceptance of collateral in full satisfaction of the obligation it secures only if the debtor agrees to the terms of the acceptance in a record authenticated after default or the secured party:

1. Sends to the debtor after default a proposal that is unconditional or subject only to a condition that collateral not in the possession of the secured party be preserved or maintained;

2. In the proposal, proposes to accept collateral in full satisfaction of the obligation it secures, and, in a consumer transaction, provides notice that the proposal will be deemed accepted if it is not objected to by an authenticated notice within 30 days after the date the proposal is sent by the secured party; and

3. Does not receive a notification of objection authenticated by the debtor within 30 days after the proposal is sent.

(4) To be effective under paragraph (1)(b), a notification of objection must be received by the secured party:

(a) In the case of a person to whom the proposal was sent pursuant to s. 679.621, within 20 days after notification was sent to that person; and

(b) In other cases:

1. Within 20 days after the last notification was sent pursuant to s. 679.621; or

2. If a notification was not sent, before the debtor consents to the acceptance under subsection (3).

(5) A secured party that has taken possession of collateral shall dispose of the collateral pursuant to s. 679.610 within the time specified in subsection (6) if:

(a) Sixty percent of the cash price has been paid in the case of a purchase-money security interest in consumer goods; or

(b) Sixty percent of the principal amount of the obligation secured has been paid in the case of a non-purchase-money security interest in consumer goods.

(6) To comply with subsection (5), the secured party shall dispose of the collateral:

(a) Within 90 days after taking possession; or

(b) Within any longer period to which the debtor and all secondary obligors have agreed in an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(7) In a consumer transaction, a secured party may not accept collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures.

679.621 Notification of proposal to accept collateral.—

(1) A secured party that desires to accept collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures shall send its proposal to:

(a) Any person from whom the secured party has received, before the debtor consented to the acceptance, an authenticated notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;

(b) Any other secured party or lienholder that, 10 days before the debtor consented to the acceptance, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by the filing of a financing statement that:

1. Identified the collateral;

2. Was indexed under the debtor's name as of that date; and

3. Was filed in the office or offices in which to file a financing statement against the debtor covering the collateral as of that date; and

(c) Any other secured party that, 10 days before the debtor consented to the acceptance, held a security interest in the collateral perfected by compliance with a statute, regulation, or treaty described in s. 679.3111(1).

(2) A secured party that desires to accept collateral in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures shall send its proposal to any secondary obligor in addition to the persons described in subsection (1).

(3) A secured party shall send its proposal under s. 679.621(1) or (2) to the affected party at the address prescribed in s. 679.611(6).

679.622 Effect of acceptance of collateral.—

(1) A secured party's acceptance of collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures:

(a) Discharges the obligation to the extent consented to by the debtor;

(b) Transfers to the secured party all of a debtor's rights in the collateral;

(c) Discharges the security interest or agricultural lien that is the subject of the debtor's consent and any subordinate security interest or other subordinate lien; and

(d) Terminates any other subordinate interest.

(2) A subordinate interest is discharged or terminated under subsection (1), even if the secured party fails to comply with this chapter.

679.623 Right to redeem collateral.—

(1) A debtor, any secondary obligor, or any other secured party or lienholder may redeem collateral.

(2) To redeem collateral, a person shall tender:

(a) Fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral; and

(b) The reasonable expenses and attorney's fees described in s. 679.615(1)(a).

(3) A redemption may occur at any time before a secured party:

(a) Has collected collateral under s. 679.607;

(b) Has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under s. 679.610; or

(c) Has accepted collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures under s. 679.622.

679.624 Waiver.—

(1) A debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to notification of disposition of collateral under s. 679.611 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(2) A debtor may waive the right to require disposition of collateral under s. 679.620(5) only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

(3) Except in a consumer-goods transaction, a debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to redeem collateral under s. 679.623 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and authenticated after default.

679.625 Remedies for failure to comply with article.—

(1) If it is established that a secured party is not proceeding in accordance with this chapter, a court may order or restrain collection, enforcement, or disposition of collateral on appropriate terms and conditions. This subsection shall not preclude a debtor other than a consumer and a secured party, or two or more secured parties in other than a consumer transaction, from agreeing in an authenticated record that the debtor or secured party must first provide to the alleged offending secured party notice of a violation of this chapter and opportunity to cure before commencing any legal proceeding under this section.

(2) Subject to subsections (3), (4), and (6), a person is liable for damages in the amount of any loss caused by a failure to comply with this chapter, including damages suffered by the debtor resulting from the debtor's inability to obtain, or increased costs of, alternative financing, but not including consequential, special, or penal damages, unless the conduct giving rise to the failure constitutes an independent claim under the laws of this state other than this chapter and then only to the extent otherwise recoverable under law.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.628:

(a) A person who, at the time of the failure, was a debtor, was an obligor, or held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral may recover damages under subsection (2) for the person's loss; and

(b) If the collateral is consumer goods, a person who was a debtor or a secondary obligor at the time a secured party failed to comply with this part may recover for that failure in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus 10 percent of the principal amount of the obligation or the time-price differential plus 10 percent of the cash price.

(4) A debtor whose deficiency is eliminated under s. 679.626 may recover damages for the loss of any surplus. However, a debtor or secondary obligor whose deficiency is eliminated or reduced under s. 679.626 may not otherwise recover under subsection (2) for noncompliance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.

(5) In lieu of damages recoverable under subsection (2), the debtor, consumer obligor, or person named as a debtor in a filed record, as applicable, may recover $500 in each case from a person who:

(a) Fails to comply with s. 679.2081;

(b) Fails to comply with s. 679.209;

(c) Files a record that the person is not entitled to file under s. 679.509(1);

(d) Fails to cause the secured party of record to file or send a termination statement as required by s. 679.513(1) or (3) after receipt of an authenticated record notifying the person of such noncompliance;

(e) Fails to comply with s. 679.616(2)(a) and whose failure is part of a pattern, or consistent with a practice, of noncompliance; or

(f) Fails to comply with s. 679.616(2)(b) with respect to a consumer transaction, and with respect to a transaction other than a consumer transaction, after receipt of an authenticated record notifying the person of such noncompliance.

(6) A debtor or consumer obligor may recover damages under subsection (2) and, in addition, $500 in each case from a person who, without reasonable cause, fails to comply with a request under s. 679.210. A recipient of a request under s. 679.210 which never claimed an interest in the collateral or obligations that are the subject of a request under that section has a reasonable excuse for failure to comply with the request within the meaning of this subsection.

(7) If a secured party fails to comply with a request regarding a list of collateral or a statement of account under S. 679.210, the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the list or statement included in the request as against a person who is reasonably misled by the failure.

679.626 Action in which deficiency or surplus is in issue.—In an action arising from a transaction in which the amount of a deficiency or surplus is in issue, the following rules apply:

(1) A secured party need not prove compliance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance unless the debtor or a secondary obligor places the secured party's compliance in issue.

(2) If the secured party's compliance is placed in issue, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with this part.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.628, if a secured party fails to prove that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance, the liability of a debtor or a secondary obligor for a deficiency is limited to an amount by which the sum of the secured obligation, reasonable expenses, and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, attorney's fees exceeds the greater of:

(a) The proceeds of the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance; or

(b) The amount of proceeds that would have been realized had the noncomplying secured party proceeded in accordance with the provisions of this part relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.

(4) For purposes of paragraph (3)(b), the amount of proceeds that would have been realized is equal to the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorney's fees unless the secured party proves that the amount is less than that sum.

(5) If a deficiency or surplus is calculated under s. 679.615(6), the debtor or obligor has the burden of establishing that the amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of prices that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

679.627 Determination of whether conduct was commercially reasonable.—

(1) The fact that a greater amount could have been obtained by a collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to preclude the secured party from establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was made in a commercially reasonable manner.

(2) A disposition of collateral is made in a commercially reasonable manner if the disposition is made:

(a) In the usual manner on any recognized market;

(b) At the price current in any recognized market at the time of the disposition; or

(c) Otherwise in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property that was the subject of the disposition.

(3) A collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is commercially reasonable if it has been approved:

(a) In a judicial proceeding;

(b) By a bona fide creditors' committee;

(c) By a representative of creditors; or

(d) By an assignee for the benefit of creditors.

(4) Approval under subsection (3) need not be obtained, and lack of approval does not mean that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is not commercially reasonable.

679.628 Nonliability and limitation on liability of secured party; liability of secondary obligor.—

(1) Unless a secured party knows that a person is a debtor or obligor, knows the identity of the person, and knows how to communicate with the person:

(a) The secured party is not liable to the person, or to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against the person, for failure to comply with this chapter; and

(b) The secured party's failure to comply with this chapter does not affect the liability of the person for a deficiency.

(2) A secured party is not liable because of its status as a secured party:

(a) To a person who is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

1. That the person is a debtor or obligor;

2. The identity of the person; and

3. How to communicate with the person; or

(b) To a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

1. That the person is a debtor; and

2. The identity of the person.

(3) A secured party is not liable to any person, and a person's liability for a deficiency is not affected, because of any act or omission arising out of the secured party's reasonable belief that a transaction is not a consumer-goods transaction or a consumer transaction or that goods are not consumer goods, if the secured party's belief is based on its reasonable reliance on:

(a) A debtor's representation concerning the purpose for which collateral was to be used, acquired, or held; or

(b) an obligor's representation concerning the purpose for which a secured obligation was incurred.

(4) A secured party is not liable to any person under s. 679.625(3)(b) for its failure to comply with s. 679.616.

(5) A secured party is not liable under s. 679.625(3)(b) more than once with respect to any one secured obligation.

Section 8. Part VII of chapter 679, Florida Statutes, consisting of sections 679.701, 679.702, 679.703, 679.704, 679.705, 679.706, 679.707, 679.708, and 679.709, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

PART VII
TRANSITION

679.701 Effective date.—This part takes effect January 1, 2002.

679.702 Savings clause.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this part, this act applies to a transaction or lien within its scope, even if the transaction or lien was entered into or created before this act takes effect.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) and ss. 679.703-679.709:

(a) Transactions and liens that were not governed by chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000, were validly entered into or created before this act takes effect, and would be subject to this act if they had been entered into or created after this act takes effect, and the rights, duties, and interests flowing from those transactions and liens remain valid after this act takes effect; and

(b) The transactions and liens may be terminated, completed, consummated, and enforced as required or permitted by this act or by the law that otherwise would apply if this act had not taken effect.

(3) This act does not affect an action, case, or proceeding commenced before this act takes effect.

679.703 Security interest perfected before effective date.—

(1) A security interest that is enforceable immediately before this act takes effect and would have priority over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time is a perfected security interest under this act if, when this act takes effect, the applicable requirements for enforceability and perfection under this act are satisfied without further action.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.705, if, immediately before this act takes effect, a security interest is enforceable and would have priority over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time, but the applicable requirements for enforceability or perfection under this act are not satisfied when this act takes effect, the security interest:

(a) Is a perfected security interest for 1 year after this act takes effect;

(b) Remains enforceable thereafter only if the security interest becomes enforceable under s. 679.203 before the year expires; and

(c) Remains perfected thereafter only if the applicable requirements for perfection under this act are satisfied before the year expires.

679.704 Security interest unperfected before effective date.—A security interest that is enforceable immediately before this act takes effect but that would be subordinate to the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor at that time:

(1) Remains an enforceable security interest for 1 year after this act takes effect;

(2) Remains enforceable thereafter if the security interest becomes enforceable under s. 679.203 when this act takes effect or within 1 year thereafter; and

(3) Becomes perfected:

(a) Without further action when this act takes effect if the applicable requirements for perfection under this act are satisfied before or at that time; or

(b) When the applicable requirements for perfection are satisfied if the requirements are satisfied after that time.

679.705 Effectiveness of action taken before effective date.—

(1) If action, other than the filing of a financing statement, is taken before this act takes effect and the action would have resulted in priority of a security interest over the rights of a person who becomes a lien creditor had the security interest become enforceable before this act takes effect, the action is effective to perfect a security interest that attaches under this act within 1 year after this act takes effect. An attached security interest becomes unperfected 1 year after this act takes effect unless the security interest becomes a perfected security interest under this act before the expiration of that period.

(2) The filing of a financing statement before this act takes effect is effective to perfect a security interest to the extent the filing would satisfy the applicable requirements for perfection under this act.

(3) This act does not render ineffective an effective financing statement that, before this act takes effect, is filed and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in s. 679.103, Florida Statutes 2000. However, except as otherwise provided in subsections (4) and (5) and s. 679.706, the financing statement ceases to be effective at the earlier of:

(a) The time the financing statement would have ceased to be effective under the law of the jurisdiction in which it is filed; or

(b) June 30, 2006.

(4) The filing of a continuation statement after this act takes effect does not continue the effectiveness of the financing statement filed before this act takes effect. However, upon the timely filing of a continuation statement after this act takes effect and in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III, the effectiveness of a financing statement filed in the same office in that jurisdiction before this act takes effect continues for the period provided by the law of that jurisdiction.

(5) Paragraph (3)(b) applies to a financing statement that, before this act takes effect, is filed against a transmitting utility and satisfies the applicable requirements for perfection under the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in s. 679.103, Florida Statutes 2000, only to the extent that part III provides that the law of a jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction in which the financing statement is filed governs perfection of a security interest in collateral covered by the financing statement.

(6) A financing statement that includes a financing statement filed before this act takes effect and a continuation statement filed after this act takes effect is effective only to the extent that it satisfies the requirements of part V for an initial financing statement.

679.706 When initial financing statement suffices to continue effectiveness of financing statement.—

(1) The filing of an initial financing statement in the office specified in s. 679.5011 continues the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before this act takes effect if:

(a) The filing of an initial financing statement in that office would be effective to perfect a security interest under this act;

(b) The pre-effective date financing statement was filed in an office in another state or another office in this state; and

(c) The initial financing statement satisfies subsection (3).

(2) The filing of an initial financing statement under subsection (1) continues the effectiveness of the pre-effective date financing statement:

(a) If the initial financing statement is filed before this act takes effect, for the period provided in s. 679.403, Florida Statutes 2000, with respect to a financing statement; and

(b) If the initial financing statement is filed after this act takes effect, for the period provided in s. 679.515 with respect to an initial financing statement.

(3) To be effective for purposes of subsection (1), an initial financing statement must:

(a) Satisfy the requirements of part V for an initial financing statement;

(b) Identify the pre-effective date financing statement by indicating the office in which the financing statement was filed and providing the dates of filing and file numbers, if any, of the financing statement and of the most recent continuation statement filed with respect to the financing statement; and

(c) Indicate that the pre-effective date financing statement remains effective.

679.707 Amendment or pre-effective date financing statement.—

(1) In this section, the term "pre-effective date financing statement" means a financing statement filed before this act takes effect.

(2) After this act takes effect, a person may add or delete collateral covered by, continue or terminate the effectiveness of, or otherwise amend the information provided in a pre-effective date financing statement only in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III. However, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement also may be terminated in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction in which the financing statement is filed.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), if the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the information in a pre-effective date financing statement may be amended after this act takes effect only if:

(a) The pre-effective date financing statement and an amendment are filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011;

(b) An amendment is filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011 concurrently with, or after the filing in that office of, an initial financing statement that satisfies s. 671.706(3); or

(c) An initial financing statement that provides the information as amended and satisfies s. 679.706(3) is filed in the office specified in s. 679.5011.

(4) If the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement may be continued only under s. 679.705(4) and (6) or s. 679.706.

(5) Whether or not the law of this state governs perfection of a security interest, the effectiveness of a pre-effective date financing statement filed in this state may be terminated after this act takes effect by filing a termination statement in the office in which the pre-effective date financing statement is filed, unless an initial financing statement that satisfies s. 679.706(3) has been filed in the office specified by the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in part III as the office in which to file a financing statement.

679.708 Persons entitled to file initial financing statement or continuation statement.—A person may file an initial financing statement or a continuation statement under this part if:

(1) The secured party of record authorizes the filing; and

(2) The filing is necessary under this part:

(a) To continue the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before this act takes effect; or

(b) To perfect or continue the perfection of a security interest.

679.709 Priority.—

(1) This act determines the priority of conflicting claims to collateral. However, if the relative priorities of the claims were established before this act takes effect, chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000, determines priority.

(2) For purposes of s. 679.322(1), the priority of a security interest that becomes enforceable under s. 679.2031 of this act dates from the time this act takes effect if the security interest is perfected under this act by the filing of a financing statement before this act takes effect which would not have been effective to perfect the security interest under chapter 679, Florida Statutes 2000. This subsection does not apply to conflicting security interests each of which is perfected by the filing of such a financing statement.

Section 9. Subsection (2) of section 671.105, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

671.105 Territorial application of the code; parties' power to choose applicable law.—

(2) When one of the following provisions of this code specifies the applicable law, that provision governs; and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law (including the conflict-of-laws rules) so specified:

(a) Governing law in the chapter on funds transfers. (s. 670.507)

(b) Rights of sellers' creditors against sold goods. (s. 672.402)

(c) Applicability of the chapter on bank deposits and collections. (s. 674.102)

(d) Applicability of the chapter on letters of credit. (s. 675.116)

(e) Applicability of the chapter on investment securities. (s. 678.1101)

(f) Law governing perfection*, the effect* ~~provisions~~ of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of security interests and agricultural liens ~~chapter on secured transactions~~. (ss. 679.3011-679.3071) ~~(s. 679.103)~~

(g) Applicability of the chapter on leases. (ss. 680.1051 and 680.1061)

Section 10. Subsections (9), (32), and (37) of section 671.201, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

671.201 General definitions.—Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent chapters of this code which are applicable to specific chapters or parts thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this code:

(9) "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who buys goods in good faith ~~and~~ without knowledge that the sale violates ~~to him or her is in violation of~~ the ~~ownership~~ rights ~~or security interest~~ of another person ~~a third party~~ in the goods*, and* ~~buys~~ in the ordinary course from a person*, other than a pawnbroker,* in the business of selling goods of that kind ~~but does not include a pawnbroker~~. A person buys goods in the ordinary course if the sale to the person comports with the usual or customary practices in the kind of business in which the seller is engaged or with the seller's own usual or customary practices. A person who sells oil, gas, or other minerals at the wellhead or minehead is a person ~~All persons who sell minerals or the like (including oil and gas) at wellhead or minehead shall be deemed to be persons~~ in the business of selling goods of that kind. A buyer in the ordinary course of business ~~"Buying"~~ may buy ~~be~~ for cash*,* ~~or~~ by exchange of other property*,* or on secured or unsecured credit and may acquire ~~includes receiving~~ goods or documents of title under a preexisting contract for sale ~~but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt~~. Only a buyer who takes possession of the goods or has a right to recover the goods from the seller under chapter 672 may be a buyer in the ordinary course of business. A person who acquires goods in a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt is not a buyer in the ordinary course of business.

(32) "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, security interest, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. ~~The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (s. 672.401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest.~~ The term also includes any interest of a consignor and a buyer of accounts*,* ~~or~~ chattel paper*, a payment intangible, or a promissory note in a transaction* which is subject to chapter 679. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under s. 672.401 is not a security interest, but a buyer may also acquire a security interest by complying with chapter 679. Except as otherwise provided in s. 672.505, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under chapter 672 or chapter 680 to retain or acquire possession of the goods is not a security interest, but a seller or lessor may also acquire a security interest by complying with chapter 679. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods, notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (s. 672.401), is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. ~~Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a security interest, but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (s. 672.326).~~ Whether a transaction creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case; however:

(a) A transaction creates a security interest if the consideration the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease not subject to termination by the lessee, and;

1. The original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;

2. The lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;

3. The lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or

4. The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

(b) A transaction does not create a security interest merely because it provides that:

1. The present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;

2. The lessee assumes the risk of loss of the goods or agrees to pay taxes; insurance; filing, recording, or registration fees; or service or maintenance costs with respect to the goods;

3. The lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;

4. The lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or

5. The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

(c) For purposes of this subsection:

1. Additional consideration is not nominal if, when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed or if, when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed. Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised.

2. "Reasonably predictable" and "remaining economic life of the goods" are to be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into.

3. "Present value" means the amount as of a date certain of one or more sums payable in the future, discounted to the date certain. The discount is determined by the interest rate specified by the parties if the rate is not manifestly unreasonable at the time the transaction is entered into; otherwise, the discount is determined by a commercially reasonable rate that takes into account the facts and circumstances of each case at the time the transaction was entered into.

Section 11. Subsection (3) of section 672.103, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.103 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(3) The following definitions in other chapters apply to this chapter:

"Check," s. 673.1041.

"Consignee," s. 677.102.

"Consignor," s. 677.102.

"Consumer goods," s. 679.1021 ~~679.109~~.

"Dishonor," s. 673.5021.

"Draft," s. 673.1041.

Section 12. Section 672.210, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.210 Delegation of performance; assignment of rights.—

(1) A party may perform her or his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having her or his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.4061, unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on her or him by her or his contract, or impair materially her or his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of her or his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially changes the duty of or increases materially the burden or risk imposed on the buyer or impairs materially the buyer's chance of obtaining return performance within the purview of subsection (2) unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller. Even in that event, the creation, attachment, perfection, and enforcement of the security interest remain effective, but the seller is liable to the buyer for damages caused by the delegation to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the buyer. A court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the contract for sale or an injunction against enforcement of the security interest or consummation of the enforcement.

(4)~~(3)~~ Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

(5)~~(4)~~ An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by her or him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

(6)~~(5)~~ The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to her or his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (s. 672.609).

Section 13. Section 672.326, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.326 Sale on approval and sale or return; ~~consignment sales and~~ rights of creditors.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is:

(a) A "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

(b) A "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(2) ~~Except as provided in subsection (3),~~ Goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

~~(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which she or he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum." However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery:~~

~~(a) Complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or~~

~~(b) Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by her or his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or~~

~~(c) Complies with the filing provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679).~~

(3)~~(4)~~ Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (s. 672.201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (s. 672.202).

Section 14. Section 672.502, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's repudiation, failure to deliver, or insolvency.—

(1) Subject to subsections ~~subsection~~ (2) and (3), and even though the goods have not been shipped*,* a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which she or he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if*:*

(a) In the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the seller repudiates or fails to deliver as required by the contract; or

(b) In all cases, the seller becomes insolvent within ten days after receipt of the first installment on their price.

(2) The buyer's right to recover the goods under paragraph (1)(a) vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller has not then repudiated or failed to deliver.

(3)~~(2)~~ If the identification creating her or his special property has been made by the buyer she or he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale.

Section 15. Section 672.716, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

672.716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.—

(1) Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

(2) The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

(3) The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort she or he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered. In the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the buyer's right of replevin vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller had not then repudiated or failed to deliver.

Section 16. Subsection (3) of section 674.2101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

674.2101 Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents, and proceeds.—

(3) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents, and proceeds. So long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues to that extent and is subject to chapter 679, but:

(a) No security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (s. 679.2031(2)(c)1. ~~679.203(1)(a)~~);

(b) No filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

(c) The security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents, or proceeds.

Section 17. Section 675.1181, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

675.1181 Security interest of issuer of nominated person.—

(1) An issuer or nominated person has a security interest in a document presented under a letter of credit to the extent that the issuer or nominated person honors or gives value for the presentation.

(2) As long as and to the extent that an issuer or nominated person has not been reimbursed or has not otherwise recovered the value given with respect to a security interest in a document under subsection (1), the security interest continues and is subject to chapter 679, but a security agreement is not necessary to make the security interest enforceable under s. 679.2031(2)(c):

(a) If the document is presented in a medium other than a written or other tangible medium, the security interest is perfected; and

(b) If the document is presented in a written or other tangible medium and is not a certificated security, chattel paper, a document of title, an instrument, or a letter of credit, the security interest is perfected and has priority over a conflicting security interest in the document so long as the debtor does not have possession of the document.

Section 18. Subsection (1) of section 677.503, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

677.503 Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.—

(1) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither:

(a) Delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or the bailor's nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this chapter (s. 677.403) or with power of disposition under this code (ss. 672.403 and 679.320 ~~679.307~~) or other statute or rule of law; nor

(b) Acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or the bailor's nominee of any document of title.

Section 19. Subsection (6) of section 678.1031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.1031 Rules for determining whether certain obligations and interests are securities or financial assets.—

(6) A commodity contract, as defined in s. 679.1021(1)(o) ~~679.115~~, is not a security or a financial asset.

Section 20. Subsections (4) and (6) of section 678.1061, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

678.1061 Control.—

(4) A purchaser has "control" of a security entitlement if:

(a) The purchaser becomes the entitlement holder; ~~or~~

(b) The securities intermediary has agreed that it will comply with entitlement orders originated by the purchaser without further consent by the entitlement holder*; or*~~.~~

(c) Another person has control of the security entitlement on behalf of the purchaser or, having previously acquired control of the security entitlement, acknowledges that the person has control on behalf of the purchaser.

(6) A purchaser who has satisfied the requirements of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (3)~~(b)~~ or subsection ~~paragraph~~ (4)~~(b)~~ has control*,* even if the registered owner in the case of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (3)~~(b)~~ or the entitlement holder in the case of subsection ~~paragraph~~ (4)~~(b)~~ retains the right to make substitutions for the uncertificated security or security entitlement, to originate instructions or entitlement orders to the issuer or securities intermediary, or otherwise to deal with the uncertificated security or security entitlement.

Section 21. Subsection (5) of section 678.1101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.1101 Applicability; choice of law.—

(5) The following rules determine a "securities intermediary's jurisdiction" for purposes of this section:

(a) If an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account expressly provides that a particular jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction for purposes of this part, this chapter, or this code ~~specifies that it is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction~~, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(b) If paragraph (a) does not apply and an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account expressly provides that the agreement is governed by the law of a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(c)~~(b)~~ If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder governing the securities account ~~does not specify the governing law as provided in paragraph (a), but~~ expressly provides ~~specifies~~ that the securities account is maintained at an office in a particular jurisdiction, that jurisdiction is the securities intermediary's jurisdiction.

(d)~~(c)~~ If none of the preceding paragraphs applies ~~an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder does not specify a jurisdiction as provided in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b)~~, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which ~~is located~~ the office identified in an account statement as the office serving the entitlement holder's account is located.

(e)~~(d)~~ If none of the preceding paragraphs applies ~~an agreement between the securities intermediary and its entitlement holder does not specify a jurisdiction as provided in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) and an account statement does not identify an office serving the entitlement holder's account as provided in paragraph (c)~~, the securities intermediary's jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in which ~~is located~~ the chief executive office of the securities intermediary is located.

Section 22. Subsection (1) of section 678.3011, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.3011 Delivery.—

(1) Delivery of a certificated security to a purchaser occurs when:

(a) The purchaser acquires possession of the security certificate;

(b) Another person, other than a securities intermediary, either acquires possession of the security certificate on behalf of the purchaser or, having previously acquired possession of the certificate, acknowledges that it holds for the purchaser; or

(c) A securities intermediary acting on behalf of the purchaser acquires possession of the security certificate, only if the certificate is in registered form and is registered in the name of the purchaser, payable to the order of the purchaser, or ~~has been~~ specially indorsed to the purchaser by an effective indorsement and has not been endorsed to the securities intermediary or in blank.

Section 23. Section 678.3021, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.3021 Rights of purchaser.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2) and (3), a purchaser ~~upon delivery~~ of a certificated or uncertificated security ~~to a purchaser, the purchaser~~ acquires all rights in the security that the transferor had or had power to transfer.

(2) A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased.

(3) A purchaser of a certificated security who as a previous holder had notice of an adverse claim does not improve its position by taking from a protected purchaser.

Section 24. Section 678.5101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

678.5101 Rights of purchaser of security entitlement from entitlement holder.—

(1) In a case not covered by the priority rules in chapter 679 or the rules stated in subsection (3), an action based on an adverse claim to a financial asset or security entitlement, whether framed in conversion, replevin, constructive trust, equitable lien, or other theory, may not be asserted against a person who purchases a security entitlement, or an interest therein, from an entitlement holder if the purchaser gives value, does not have notice of the adverse claim, and obtains control.

(2) If an adverse claim could not have been asserted against an entitlement holder under s. 678.5021, the adverse claim cannot be asserted against a person who purchases a security entitlement, or an interest therein, from the entitlement holder.

(3) In a case not covered by the priority rules in chapter 679, a purchaser for value of a security entitlement, or an interest therein, who obtains control has priority over a purchaser of a security entitlement, or an interest therein, who does not obtain control. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), purchasers who have control rank according to priority in time of:

(a) The purchaser's becoming the person for whom the securities account, in which the security entitlement is carried, is maintained, if the purchaser obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(a);

(b) The securities intermediary's agreement to comply with the purchaser's entitlement orders with respect to security entitlements carried or to be carried in the securities account in which the security entitlement is carried, if the purchaser obtained control under s. 678.1061(4)(b); or

(c) If the purchaser obtained control through another person under s. 678.1061(4)(c), the time on which priority would be based under this subsection if the other person were the secured party. ~~equally, except that~~

(4) A securities intermediary as purchaser has priority over a conflicting purchaser who has control unless otherwise agreed by the securities intermediary.

Section 25. Subsection (3) of section 680.1031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.1031 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(3) The following definitions in other chapters of this code apply to this chapter:

(a) "Account," s. 679.1021(1)(b) ~~679.106~~.

(b) "Between merchants," s. 672.104(3).

(c) "Buyer," s. 672.103(1)(a).

(d) "Chattel paper," s. 679.1021(1)(k) ~~679.105(1)(b)~~.

(e) "Consumer goods," s. 679.1021(1)(w) ~~679.109(1)~~.

(f) "Document," s. 679.1021(1)(dd) ~~679.105(1)(f)~~.

(g) "Entrusting," s. 672.403(3).

(h) "General intangible ~~intangibles~~," s. 679.1021(1)(pp) ~~679.106~~.

(i) "Good faith," s. 672.103(1)(b).

(j) "Instrument," s. 679.1021(1)(uu) ~~679.105(1)(i)~~.

(k) "Merchant," s. 672.104(1).

(l) "Mortgage," s. 679.1021(1)(ccc) ~~679.105(1)(j)~~.

(m) "Pursuant to a commitment," s. 679.1021(1)(ppp) ~~679.105(1)(k)~~.

(n) "Receipt," s. 672.103(1)(c).

(o) "Sale," s. 672.106(1).

(p) "Sale on approval," s. 672.326(1).

(q) "Sale or return," s. 672.326(1).

(r) "Seller," s. 672.103(1)(d).

Section 26. Section 680.303, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.303 Alienability of party's interest under lease contract or of lessor's residual interest in goods; delegation of performance; transfer of rights.—

(1) As used in this section, "creation of a security interest" includes the sale of a lease contract that is subject to chapter 679 by reason of s. 679.1091(1)(c).

(2) Except as provided in subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) and s. 679.4071~~(4)~~, a provision in a lease agreement which:

(a) Prohibits the voluntary or involuntary transfer, including a transfer by sale, sublease, creation or enforcement of a security interest, or attachment, levy, or other judicial process, of an interest of a party under the lease contract or of the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or

(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, gives rise to the rights and remedies provided in subsection (4) ~~(5)~~, but a transfer that is prohibited or is an event of default under the lease agreement is otherwise effective.

~~(3) A provision in a lease agreement which:~~

~~(a) Prohibits the creation or enforcement of a security interest in an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or~~

~~(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, is not enforceable unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the provision or an actual delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the provision. Neither the granting nor the enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the lessee within the purview of subsection (5) unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual delegation of a material performance of the lessor.~~

(3)~~(4)~~ A provision in a lease agreement which:

(a) Prohibits a transfer of a right to damages for default with respect to the whole lease contract or of a right to payment arising out of the transferor's due performance of the transferor's entire obligation; or

(b) Makes such a transfer an event of default, is not enforceable, and such a transfer is not a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the other party to the lease contract within the purview of subsection (4) ~~(5)~~.

(4)~~(5)~~ Subject to subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) and s. 679.4071~~(4)~~:

(a) If a transfer is made which is made an event of default under a lease agreement, the party to the lease contract not making the transfer, unless that party waives the default or otherwise agrees, has the rights and remedies described in s. 680.501(2);

(b) If paragraph (a) is not applicable and if a transfer is made that is prohibited under a lease agreement or materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on, the other party to the lease contract, unless the party not making the transfer agrees at any time to the transfer in the lease contract or otherwise, then, except as limited by contract, the transferor is liable to the party not making the transfer for damages caused by the transfer to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the party not making the transfer and a court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the lease contract or an injunction against the transfer.

(5)~~(6)~~ A transfer of "the lease" or of "all my rights under the lease" or a transfer in similar general terms is a transfer of rights, and unless the language or the circumstances, as in a transfer for security, indicate the contrary, the transfer is a delegation of duties by the transferor to the transferee. Acceptance by the transferee constitutes a promise by the transferee to perform those duties. The promise is enforceable by either the transferor or the other party to the lease contract.

(6)~~(7)~~ Unless otherwise agreed by the lessor and the lessee, a delegation of performance does not relieve the transferor as against the other party of any duty to perform or of any liability for default.

(7)~~(8)~~ In a consumer lease, to prohibit the transfer of an interest of a party under the lease contract or to make a transfer an event of default, the language must be specific, by a writing, and conspicuous.

Section 27. Section 680.307, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.307 Priority of liens arising by attachment or levy on, security interests in, and other claims to goods.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in s. 680.306, a creditor of a lessee takes subject to the lease contract.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~subsections~~ (3) ~~and (4)~~ and in ss. 680.306 and 680.308, a creditor of a lessor takes subject to the lease contract unless~~:~~

~~(a)~~ the creditor holds a lien that attached to the goods before the lease contract became enforceable.~~;~~

~~(b) The creditor holds a security interest in the goods and the lessee did not give value and receive delivery of the goods without knowledge of the security interests; or~~

~~(c) The creditor holds a security interest in the goods which was perfected (s. 679.303) before the lease contract became enforceable.~~

(3) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 679.3171, 679.321, and 679.323, a lessee takes a leasehold interest subject to a security interest held by a creditor or lessor. ~~A lessee in the ordinary course of business~~

~~takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest in the goods created by the lessor even though the security interest is perfected (s. 679.303) and the lessee knows of its existence.~~

~~(4) A lessee other than a lessee in the ordinary course of business takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures future advances made after the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease or more than 45 days after the lease contract becomes enforceable, whichever first occurs, unless the future advances are made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the 45-day period.~~

Section 28. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 680.309, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

680.309 Lessor's and lessee's rights when goods become fixtures.—

(1) In this section:

(b) A "fixture filing" is the filing, in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded, of a financing statement covering goods that are or are to become fixtures and conforming to the requirements of s. 679.5021(1) and (2) ~~679.402(5)~~.

Section 29. This act shall take effect January 1, 2002.

And the title is amended as follows:
remove the entire title from the bill:

and insert in lieu thereof: An act relating to the Uniform Commercial Code; revising ch. 679, F.S., relating to secured transactions; creating ss. 679.1011, 679.1021, 679.1031, 679.1041, 679.1051, 679.1061, 679.1071, 679.1081, 679.1091, 679.1101, F.S.; providing a short title, definitions, and general concepts; creating ss. 679.2011, 679.2021, 679.2031, 679.2041, 679.2051, 679.2061, 679.2071, 679.2081, 679.209, 679.210, F.S.; providing for the effectiveness and attachment of security agreements; prescribing rights and duties of secured parties; creating ss. 679.3011, 679.3021, 679.3031, 679.3041, 679.3051, 679.3061, 679.3071, 679.3081, 679.091, 679.3101, 679.3111, 679.3121, 679.3131, 679.3141, 679.3151, 679.3161, 679.3171, 679.3181, 679.319, 679.320, 679.321, 679.322, 679.323, 679.324, 679.325, 679.326, 679.327, 679.328, 679.329, 679.330, 679.331, 679.332, 679.333, 679.334, 679.335, 679.336, 679.337, 679.338, 679.340, 679.341, 679.342, F.S.; providing for perfection and priority of security interests; creating ss. 679.40111, 679.4021, 679.4031, 679.4041, 679.4051, 679.4061, 679.4071, 679.4081, 679.409, F.S.; prescribing rights of third parties; providing legislative findings; creating ss. 679.5011, 679.5021, 679.5031, 679.5041, 679.5051, 679.5061, 679.5071, 679.508, 679.509, 679.510, 679.511, 679.512, 679.513, 679.524, 679.515, 679.516, 679.517, 679.518, 679.519, 679.520, 679.521, 679.522, 679.523, 679.524, 679.525, 679.526, 679.527, F.S.; prescribing filing procedures for perfection of a security interest; providing forms; providing duties and operation of filing office; providing definitions relating to the Florida Secured Transaction Registry; requiring the Department of State to cease operating as designated filing officer and filing office for certain purposes; providing duties and responsibilities of the Department of State relating to contracting for the administration, operation, and maintenance of the registry; providing criteria for the registry; operation of a filing office; providing definitions relating to the Florida Secured Transaction Registry; requiring the Department of State to cease operating as designated filing officer and filing office for certain purposes; providing duties and responsibilities of the Department of State relating to contracting for the administration, operation, and maintenance of the registry; creating ss. 679.601, 679.602, 679.603, 679.604, 679.605, 679.606, 679.607, 679.608, 679.609, 679.610, 679.611, 679.612, 679.613, 679.614, 679.615, 679.616, 679.617, 679.618, 679.619, 679.620, 679.621, 679.622, 679.623, 679.624, 679.625, 679.626, 679.627, F.S.; prescribing procedures for default and enforcement of security interests; providing for forms; creating ss. 679.701, 679.702, 679.703, 679.704, 679.705, 679.706, 679.707, 679.708, 679.709, F.S.; providing transitional effective dates and savings clause for perfected and unperfected security interests, specified actions, and financing statements; specifying priority of conflicting claims; amending s. 671.105, F.S.; specifying the precedence of law governing the perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of security interests and agricultural liens; amending s. 671.201, F.S.; revising definitions used in the Uniform Commercial Code; amending s. 672.103, F.S.; conforming a cross-reference; amending s. 672.210, F.S.; providing that the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially affects the buyer unless the enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller; amending s. 672.326, F.S.; eliminating provisions relating to consignment sales; amending s. 672.502, F.S.; modifying buyers' rights to goods on a seller's repudiation, failure to deliver, or insolvency; amending s. 672.716, F.S.; providing that, for goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the buyer's right of replevin vests upon acquisition of a special property; amending s. 674.2101, F.S.; conforming a cross-reference; creating s. 675.1181, F.S.; specifying conditions under which an issuer or nominated person has a security interest in a document presented under a letter of credit; amending ss. 677.503, 678.1031, F.S.; Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause

and insert in lieu thereof:

Section 1. This act may be cited as the "Florida Alzheimer's Training Act."

Section 2. Section 400.1755, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.1755 Care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders.—

(1) As a condition of licensure, facilities licensed under this part must provide to each of their employees, upon beginning employment, basic written information about interacting with persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders.

(2) All employees who are expected to, or whose responsibilities require them to, have direct contact with residents with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders must, in addition to the information provided in subsection (1), have an initial training of at least 1 hour completed in the first 3 months after employment. This training shall include, but not be limited to, an overview of dementias and shall provide basic skills in communicating with persons with dementia.

(3) An individual who provides direct care shall be considered a direct caregiver and must complete the required initial training and an additional 3 hours of training within 9 months after beginning employment. This training shall include, but not be limited to, managing problem behaviors, promoting the resident's independence in activities of daily living, and skills in working with families and caregivers.

(a) For certified nursing assistants, the required 4 hours of training shall be part of the total hours of training required annually.

(b) For health care practitioners licensed pursuant to chapter 456, continuing education hours completed as required by the board shall be counted toward this total of 4 hours.

(4) For employees who are health care practitioners licensed pursuant to chapter 456, training that is sanctioned by the health care practitioner's board shall be considered to be approved by the Department of Elderly Affairs.

(5) The Department of Elderly Affairs or its designee shall approve the initial and continuing training provided to employees under this section. The department shall approve training offered in a variety of formats, including, but not limited to, Internet-based, video, teleconferencing, and classroom instruction. The department shall keep a list of current providers who are approved to provide initial and continuing training. The department shall adopt rules to establish standards for the trainers and the training required in this section.

(6) Upon completing any training listed in this section, the employee or direct caregiver shall be issued a certificate that includes the name of the training provider, the topic covered, and the date and signature of the training provider. The certificate is evidence of completion of training in the identified topic, and the employee or direct caregiver is not required to repeat training in that topic if the employee or direct caregiver changes employment to a different facility or to an assisted living facility, home health agency or nurse registry, adult day care center, or adult family-care home. The direct caregiver must comply with other applicable continuing education requirements.

Section 3. Section 400.4786, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4786 Care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders.—

(1) As a condition of licensure, home health agencies and nurse registries licensed under this part must provide to each of their employees basic written information about interacting with persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders upon beginning employment.

(2) All employees who are expected to, or whose responsibilities require them to, have direct contact with clients with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders must, in addition to the information provided in subsection (1), have an initial training of at least 1 hour completed in the first 3 months after employment. This training shall include, but not be limited to, an overview of dementias and shall provide basic skills in communicating with persons with dementia.

(3) An individual who provides direct care shall be considered a direct caregiver and must complete the required initial training and an additional 3 hours of training within 9 months after beginning employment with the home health agency or nurse registry. This training shall include, but not be limited to, managing problem behaviors, promoting the client's independence in activities of daily living, and skills in working with families and caregivers.

(a) For certified nursing assistants, the required 4 hours of training shall be part of the total hours of training required annually.

(b) For health care practitioners licensed pursuant to chapter 456, continuing education hours completed as required by the board shall be counted toward this total of 4 hours.

(4) For employees who are health care practitioners licensed pursuant to chapter 456, training that is sanctioned by the health care practitioner's board shall be considered to be approved by the Department of Elderly Affairs.

(5) The Department of Elderly Affairs or its designee shall approve the initial and continuing training provided to employees under this section. The department shall approve training offered in a variety of formats, including, but not limited to, Internet-based, video, teleconferencing, and classroom instruction. The department shall keep a list of current providers who are approved to provide initial and continuing training. The department shall adopt rules to establish standards for the trainers and the training required in this section.

(6) Upon completing any training listed in this section, the employee or direct caregiver shall be issued a certificate that includes the name of the training provider, the topic covered, and the date and signature of the training provider. The certificate is evidence of completion of training in the identified topic, and the employee or direct caregiver is not required to repeat training in that topic if the employee or direct caregiver changes employment to a different home health agency or nurse registry or to an assisted living facility, nursing home, adult day care center, or adult family-care home. The direct caregiver must comply with other applicable continuing education requirements.

Section 4. Section 400.55715, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.55715 Care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders.—

(1) As a condition of licensure, adult day care centers licensed under this part must provide to each of their employees, upon beginning employment, basic written information about interacting with persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders.

(2) All employees who are expected to, or whose responsibilities require them to, have direct contact with clients with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders must, in addition to the information provided in subsection (1), have an initial training of at least 1 hour completed in the first 3 months after employment. This training shall include, but not be limited to, an overview of dementias and shall provide basic skills in communicating with persons with dementia.

(3) An individual who provides direct care shall be considered a direct caregiver and must complete the required initial training and an additional 3 hours of training within 9 months after beginning employment. (4) For employees who are health care practitioners licensed pursuant to chapter 456, training that is sanctioned by the health care practitioner's board shall be considered to be approved by the Department of Elderly Affairs.

(5) The Department of Elderly Affairs or its designee shall approve the initial and continuing training provided to employees under this section. The department shall approve training offered in a variety of formats, including, but not limited to, Internet-based, video, teleconferencing, and classroom instruction. The department shall keep a list of current providers who are approved to provide initial and continuing training. The department shall adopt rules to establish standards for the trainers and the training required in this section.

(6) Upon completing any training listed in this section, the employee or direct caregiver shall be issued a certificate that includes the name of the training provider, the topic covered, and the date and signature of the training provider. The certificate is evidence of completion of training in the identified topic, and the employee or direct caregiver is not required to repeat training in that topic if the employee or direct caregiver changes employment to a different adult day care center or to an assisted living facility, nursing home, home health agency or nurse registry, or adult family-care home. The direct caregiver must comply with other applicable continuing education requirements.

Section 5. Section 400.626, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.626 Care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders.—

(1) As a condition of licensure, adult family-care homes licensed under this part must provide to each of their employees, upon beginning employment, basic written information about interacting with persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders.

(2) All employees who are expected to, or whose responsibilities require them to, have direct contact with residents with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders must, in addition to the information provided in subsection (1), have an initial training of at least 1 hour completed in the first 3 months after employment. This training shall include, but not be limited to, an overview of dementias and shall provide basic skills in communicating with persons with dementia.

The department shall keep a list of current providers who are approved to provide initial and continuing training. The department shall adopt rules to establish standards for the trainers and the training required in this section.

(6) Upon completing any training listed in this section, the employee or direct caregiver shall be issued a certificate that includes the name of the training provider, the topic covered, and the date and signature of the training provider. The certificate is evidence of completion of training in the identified topic, and the employee or direct caregiver is not required to repeat training in that topic if the employee or direct caregiver changes employment to a different adult family-care home or to an assisted living facility, nursing home, home health agency or nurse registry, or adult day care center. The direct caregiver must comply with other applicable continuing education requirements.

Section 6. The training requirements established in this act shall apply to all new employees hired on or after July 1, 2002.

Section 7. The Department of Elderly Affairs may contract with a state university or statewide advocacy organization that possesses expertise in the area of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders to review potential trainers and training materials. The department may accept grants, donations, and gifts to meet the costs associated with providing the review and approval and the required training.

Section 8. A community care service system shall contain a dementia-specific care provider network to properly address the care of a person with dementia and the family of such person.

Section 9. The Legislature finds that appropriate care for persons with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders is an urgent health need in this state. Therefore, each state university, college, or postsecondary school that prepares undergraduate or graduate students in the healing arts regulated under chapter 456, Florida Statutes, is encouraged to include in its curriculum basic training about Alzheimer's disease and related disorders.

Section 10. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:
remove from the title of the bill: the entire title and insert in lieu thereof: A bill to be entitled An act relating to health care facilities; creating the "Florida Alzheimer's Training Act"; creating ss. 400.1755, 400.4786, 400.55715, and 400.626, F.S.; prescribing information and training requirements for employees of nursing homes, home health agencies, nurse registries, adult day care centers, and adult family-care homes, respectively, that provide care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders; prescribing duties of the Department of Elderly Affairs; providing rulemaking authority; providing timeframe for compliance; authorizing the Department of Elderly Affairs to contract for review of trainers and training materials; providing for costs; providing that a community care service system shall contain a dementia-specific care provider network; encouraging inclusion of certain training in healing arts curricula; providing an effective date.

(a) Unless alternative notice requirements are otherwise provided by law, notice of all budget hearings conducted by the governing board or district staff must be published in a newspaper of general paid circulation in each county in which the district lies not less than 5 days nor more than 15 days before the hearing.

(b) Budget workshops conducted for the public and not governed by s. 200.065 must be advertised in a newspaper of general paid circulation in the community or area in which the workshop will occur not less than 5 days nor more than 15 days before the workshop.

(c) The tentative budget shall be adopted in accordance with the provisions of s. 200.065; however, if the mailing of the notice of proposed property taxes is delayed beyond September 3 in any county in which the district lies, the district shall advertise its intention to adopt a tentative budget and millage rate, pursuant to s. 200.065(3)(g), in a newspaper of general paid circulation in that county. ~~The budget shall set forth, classified by object and purpose, and by fund if so designated, the proposed expenditures of the district for bonds or other debt, for construction, for acquisition of land, for operation and maintenance of the district works, for the conduct of the affairs of the district generally, and for other purposes, to which may be added an amount to be held as a reserve. District administrative and operating expenses must be identified in the budget and allocated among district programs.~~

~~(2) The budget shall also show the estimated amount which will appear at the beginning of the fiscal year as obligated upon commitments made but uncompleted. There shall be shown the estimated unobligated or net balance which will be on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the estimated amount to be raised by district taxes and from other sources for meeting the requirements of the district.~~

(d)~~(3)~~ As provided in s. 200.065(2)(d), the board shall publish one or more notices of its intention to ~~finally~~ adopt a final budget for the district for the ensuing fiscal year. The notice shall appear adjacent to an advertisement that sets ~~which shall set~~ forth the tentative budget in a format meeting the budget summary requirements of s. 129.03(3)(b) ~~in~~ full. The district shall not include expenditures of federal special revenues and state special revenues when preparing the statement required by s. 200.065(3)(l). The notice and advertisement shall be published in one or more newspapers having a combined general paid circulation in each county ~~the counties having land~~ in which the district lies. Districts may include explanatory phrases and examples in budget advertisements published under s. 200.065 to clarify or illustrate the effect that the district budget may have on ad valorem taxes.

(e)~~(4)~~ The hearing for adoption of ~~to finally adopt~~ a final budget and millage rate shall be by and before the governing board of the district as provided in s. 200.065 and may be continued from day to day until terminated by the board.

(4) BUDGET CONTROLS.—

(a) The final adopted budget for the district will thereupon be the operating and fiscal guide for the district for the ensuing year; however, transfers of funds may be made within the budget by action of the governing board at a public meeting of the governing board.

(b) The district shall control its budget, at a minimum, by funds and shall provide to the Executive Office of the Governor a description of its budget control mechanisms.

(c) Should the district receive unanticipated funds after the adoption of the final budget, the final budget may be amended by including such funds, so long as notice of intention to amend is published in the notice of the governing board meeting at which the amendment will be considered, pursuant to s. 120.525 ~~one time in one or more newspapers qualified to accept legal advertisements having a combined general circulation in the counties in the district~~. The notice shall set forth a summary of the proposed amendment ~~and shall be published at least 10 days prior to the public meeting of the board at which the proposed amendment is to be considered~~. However, in the event of a disaster or of an emergency arising to prevent or avert the same, the governing board shall not be limited by the budget but shall have authority to apply such funds as may be available therefor or as may be procured for such purpose.

(5) TENTATIVE BUDGET CONTENTS AND SUBMISSION; REVIEW AND APPROVAL.—

(a) The Executive Office of the Governor is authorized to approve or disapprove, in whole or in part, the budget of each water management district and shall analyze each budget as to the adequacy of fiscal resources available to the district and the adequacy of district expenditures related to water supply, including water resource development projects identified in the district's regional water supply plans; water quality; flood protection and floodplain management; and natural systems. This analysis shall be based on the particular needs within each water management district in those four areas of responsibility.

(b) The Executive Office of the Governor and the water management districts shall develop a process to facilitate review and communication regarding water management district budgets, as necessary. Written disapproval of any provision in the tentative budget must be received by the district at least 5 business days prior to the final district budget adoption hearing conducted under s. 200.065(2)(d). If written disapproval of any portion of the budget is not received at least 5 business days prior to the final budget adoption hearing, the governing board may proceed with final adoption. Any provision rejected by the Governor shall not be included in a district's final budget.

(c) Each water management district shall, by August 1 of each year, submit for review a tentative budget to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the chairs of all legislative committees and subcommittees with substantive or fiscal jurisdiction over water management districts, as determined by the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House of Representatives as applicable, the secretary of the department, and the governing body of each county in which the district has jurisdiction or derives any funds for the operations of the district.

(d) The tentative budget must set forth the proposed expenditures of the district, to which may be added an amount to be held as reserve. The tentative budget must include, but is not limited to, the following information for the preceding fiscal year and the current fiscal year, and the proposed amounts for the upcoming fiscal year, in a standard format prescribed by the Executive Office of the Governor ~~which is generally consistent with the format prescribed by legislative budget instructions for state agencies and the format requirements of s. 216.031~~:

1. The estimated amount of funds remaining at the beginning of the fiscal year which have been obligated for the payment of outstanding commitments not yet completed.

2. The estimated amount of unobligated funds or net cash balance on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the estimated amount of funds to be raised by district taxes or received from other sources to meet the requirements of the district.

3. The millage rates and the percentage increase above the rolled-back rate, together with a summary of the reasons the increase is required, and the percentage increase in taxable value resulting from new construction within the district.;

4.~~2.~~ The salaries ~~salary~~ and benefits, expenses, operating capital outlay, number of authorized positions, and other personal services for the following program areas of the district~~, including a separate section for lobbying, intergovernmental relations, and advertising~~:

a. Water resource planning and monitoring;

b. Land acquisition, restoration, and public works;

c. Operation and maintenance of works and lands;

d. Regulation;

e. Outreach for which the information provided must contain a full description and accounting of expenditures for water resources education; public information and public relations, including public service announcements and advertising in any media; and lobbying activities related to local, regional, state and federal governmental affairs, whether incurred by district staff or through contractual services; and

f. Management and administration.

~~a. District management and administration;~~

~~b. Implementation through outreach activities;~~

~~c. Implementation through regulation;~~

~~d. Implementation through acquisition, restoration, and public works;~~

~~e. Implementation through operations and maintenance of lands and works;~~

~~f. Water resources planning and monitoring; and~~

~~g. A full description and accounting of expenditures for lobbying activities relating to local, regional, state, and federal governmental affairs, whether incurred by district staff or through contractual services and all expenditures for public relations, including all expenditures for public service announcements and advertising in any media.~~

In addition to the program areas reported by all water management districts, the South Florida Water Management District shall include in its budget document ~~a~~ separate sections ~~section~~ on all costs associated with the Everglades Construction Project and the Comprehensive Everglades Restoration Plan.

5.~~3.~~ The total estimated amount in the district budget for each area of responsibility listed in subparagraph 4. ~~paragraph (a)~~ and for water resource development projects identified in the district's regional water supply plans.

~~4. A 5-year capital improvements plan.~~

6.~~5.~~ A description of each new, expanded, reduced, or eliminated program.

~~6. A proposed 5-year water resource development work program, that describes the district's implementation strategy for the water resource development component of each approved regional water supply plan developed or revised pursuant to s. 373.0361. The work program shall address all the elements of the water resource development component in the district's approved regional water supply plans. The office of the Governor, with the assistance of the department, shall review the proposed work program. The review shall include a written evaluation of its consistency with and furtherance of the district's approved regional water supply plans, and adequacy of proposed expenditures. As part of the review, the Executive Office of the Governor and the department shall afford to all interested parties the opportunity to provide written comments on each district's proposed work program. At least 7 days prior to the adoption of its final budget, the governing board shall state in writing to the Executive Office of the Governor which changes recommended in the evaluation it will incorporate into its work program, or specify the reasons for not incorporating the changes. The office of the Governor shall include the district's responses in the written evaluation and shall submit a copy of the evaluation to the Legislature; and~~

7. The funding sources, including, but not limited to, ad valorem taxes, Surface Water Improvement and Management Program funds, other state funds, federal funds, and user fees and permit fees for each program area.

(e)~~(d)~~ By September 5 of the year in which the budget is submitted, the House and Senate appropriations chairs may transmit to each district comments and objections to the proposed budgets. Each district governing board shall include a response to such comments and objections in the record of the governing board meeting where final adoption of the budget takes place, and the record of this meeting shall be transmitted to the Executive Office of the Governor, the department, and the chairs of the House and Senate appropriations committees.

(f)~~(e)~~ The Executive Office of the Governor shall annually, on or before December 15, file with the Legislature a report that summarizes its review ~~the expenditures~~ of the water management districts' tentative budgets and displays the adopted budget allocations ~~districts~~ by program area*. The report must identify* ~~and identifies~~ the districts that are not in compliance with the reporting requirements of this section. State funds shall be withheld from a water management district that fails to comply with these reporting requirements.

(6) FINAL BUDGET; ANNUAL AUDIT; CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PLAN; WATER RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT WORK PROGRAM.—

(a) Each district must, by the date specified for each item, furnish copies of the following documents to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the chairs of all legislative committees and subcommittees having substantive or fiscal jurisdiction over the districts, as determined by the President or Speaker as applicable, the secretary of the department, and the governing board of each county in which the district has jurisdiction or derives any funds for the operations of the district;

1. The adopted budget, to be furnished within 10 days after its adoption.

2. A financial audit of its accounts and records, to be furnished within 10 days after its acceptance by the governing board. The audit must be conducted in accordance with the provisions of s. 11.45 and the rules adopted thereunder. In addition to the entities named above, the district must provide a copy of the audit to the Auditor General within 10 days after its acceptance by the governing board.

3. A 5-year capital improvements plan, to be furnished within 45 days after the adoption of the final budget. The plan must include expected sources of revenue for planned improvements and must be prepared in a manner comparable to the fixed capital outlay format set forth in s. 216.043.

4. A 5-year water resource development work program to be furnished within 45 days after the adoption of the final budget. The program must describe the district's implementation strategy for the water resource development component of each approved regional water supply plan developed or revised under s. 373.0361. The work program must address all the elements of the water resource development component in the district's approved regional water supply plans. Within 45 days after its submittal, the department shall review the proposed work program and submit its findings, questions, and comments to the district. The review must include a written evaluation of the program's consistency with the furtherance of the district's approved regional water supply plans, and the adequacy of proposed expenditures. As part of the review, the department shall give interested parties the opportunity to provide written comments on each district's proposed work program. Within 60 days after receipt of the department's evaluation, the governing board shall state in writing to the department which changes recommended in the evaluation it will incorporate into its work program or specify the reasons for not incorporating the changes. The department shall include the district's responses in a final evaluation report and shall submit a copy of the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(b) If any entity listed in paragraph (a) provides written comments to the district regarding any document furnished under this subsection, the district must respond to the comments in writing and furnish copies of the comments and written responses to the other entities.

Section 2. Paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 373.079, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.079 Members of governing board; oath of office; staff.—

(4)

(b)1. The governing board of each water management district shall employ an inspector general, who shall report directly to the board. However, the governing boards of the Suwannee River Water Management District and the Northwest Florida Water Management District may jointly employ an inspector general, or provide for inspector general services by interagency agreement with a state agency or water management district inspector general.

2. An inspector general must have the qualifications prescribed and perform the applicable duties of state agency inspectors general as provided in s. 20.055.

~~3. Within 45 days of the adoption of the final budget, the governing board shall submit a 5-year capital improvement plan and fiscal report for the district to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Secretary of Environmental Protection. The capital improvement plan must include expected sources of revenue for planned improvements and shall be prepared in a manner comparable to the fixed capital outlay format set forth in s. 216.043. The fiscal report shall cover the preceding fiscal year and shall include a summary statement of the financial operations of the district.~~

Section 3. Section 373.501, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.501 Appropriation of funds to water management districts.—

(1) The department may allocate to the water management districts, from funds appropriated to the department, such sums as may be deemed necessary to defray the costs of the administrative, regulatory, and other activities of the districts. The governing boards shall submit annual budget requests for such purposes to the department, and the department shall consider such budgets in preparing its budget request for the Legislature.

(2) Funds appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose of funding a specific water management district project shall be transferred to the water management district when the proposed project has been reviewed by the secretary of the pertinent state agency and upon receipt of a governing board resolution requesting such funds.

Section 4. Subsection (11) of section 373.59, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.59 Water Management Lands Trust Fund.—

(11) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, ~~and for the 2000-2001 fiscal year only,~~ the governing board of a water management district may request, and the Secretary of Environmental Protection shall release upon such request, moneys allocated to the districts pursuant to subsection (8) for ~~the purpose of carrying out the~~ purposes consistent with the provisions of s. 373.0361, s. 373.0831 ~~s. 375.0831~~, s. 373.139, or ss. 373.451-373.4595 and for legislatively authorized land acquisition and water restoration initiatives. No funds may be used pursuant to this subsection until necessary debt service obligations, requirements for payments in lieu of taxes, and land management obligations that may be required by this chapter are provided for. ~~This subsection is repealed on July 1, 2001~~.

Section 5. Sections 373.507 and 373.589, Florida Statutes, are repealed.

Section 6. Section 153.11, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

153.11 Water service charges and sewer service charges; revenues.—

(1)(a) The county commission shall in the resolution providing for the issuance of either water revenue bonds or sewer revenue bonds, or both, fix the initial schedule of rates, rate structures, fees*,* and other charges for the use of and for the services furnished or to be furnished by the facilities, to be paid by the owner, tenant or occupant of each lot or parcel of land which may be connected with and use any such facility by or through any part of the water system of the county.

(b) After the system or systems shall have been in operation the county commission may revise the ~~such~~ schedule of rates, rate structures, fees*,* and charges from time to time. Such rates, rate structures, fees*,* and charges shall be so fixed and revised as to provide funds, with other funds available for such purposes, sufficient at all times to pay the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating the system or systems including the reserves for such purposes and for replacements and depreciation and necessary extensions, to pay the principal of and the interest on the water revenue bonds and/or sewer revenue bonds as the same shall become due and the reserves therefor, and to provide a margin of safety for making such payments. The county commission may establish rates or rate structures in such a manner as to encourage and promote water conservation and the use of reclaimed water for nonpotable uses. The county commission shall charge and collect the rates, fees*,* and charges so fixed or revised*,* and the ~~such~~ rates, rate structures, fees*,* and charges shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any other commission, board, bureau*,* or agency of the county or of the state or of any sanitary district or other political subdivision of the state.

(c) Such rates, rate structures, fees*,* and charges shall be just and equitable and may be based or computed upon the quantity of water consumed and/or upon the number and size of sewer connections or upon the number and kind of plumbing fixtures in use in the premises connected with the sewer system or upon the number or average number of persons residing or working in or otherwise connected with such premises or upon any other factor affecting the use of the facilities furnished or upon any combination of the foregoing factors.

(d) In cases where the amount of water furnished to any building or premises is such that it imposes an unreasonable burden upon the water supply system an additional charge may be made therefor or the county commission may if it deems advisable compel the owners or occupants of such building or premises to reduce the amount of water consumed thereon in a manner to be specified by the county commission or the county commission may refuse to furnish water to such building or premises.

(e) In cases where the character of the sewage from any manufacturing or industrial plant or any building or premises is such that it imposes an unreasonable burden upon any sewage disposal system, an additional charge may be made therefor, or the county commission may, if it deems it advisable, compel such manufacturing or industrial plant or such building or premises to treat such sewage in such manner as shall be specified by the county commission before discharging such sewage into any sewer lines owned or maintained by the county.

(2) The county commission may charge any owner or occupant of any building or premise receiving the services of the facilities herein provided such initial installation or connection charge or fee as the commission may determine to be just and reasonable.

(3)(a) No rates, rate structures, fees*,* or charges shall be fixed under the foregoing provisions of this section until after a public hearing at which all of the users of the facilities provided by this chapter and owners, tenants and occupants of property served or to be served thereby and all others interested shall have an opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed rates, rate structures, fees*,* and charges. After the adoption by the county commission of a resolution setting forth the preliminary schedule or schedules fixing and classifying such rates, rate structures, fees, and charges, notice of such public hearing setting forth the schedule or schedules of rates, rate structures, fees, and charges shall be given by one publication in a newspaper published in the county at least 10 days before the date fixed in said notice for the hearing, which said hearing may be adjourned from time to time. After such hearing such preliminary schedule or schedules, either as originally adopted or as modified or amended, shall be adopted and put into effect and thereupon the resolution providing for the issuance of water revenue bonds and/or sewer revenue bonds may be finally adopted.

(b) A copy of the schedule or schedules of such rates, rate structures, fees, and charges finally fixed in such resolution shall be kept on file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court in the county and shall be open to inspection by all parties interested. The rates, rate structures, fees, or charges so fixed for any class of users or property served shall be extended to cover any additional property thereafter served which fall within the same class without the necessity of any hearing or notice.

(c) Any change or revision of any rates, rate structures, fees, or charges may be made in the same manner as such rates, rate structures, fees, or charges were originally established as hereinabove provided, but if such change or revision be made substantially pro rata as to all classes of service no notice or hearing shall be required.

Section 7. Subsection (13) is added to section 163.3167, Florida Statutes, to read:

163.3167 Scope of act.—

(13) Each local government shall address in its comprehensive plan the availability of water supplies necessary to meet the projected water use demands for the established planning period, compatible with any applicable plan developed pursuant to s. 373.036.

Section 8. Paragraph (a) of subsection (3), paragraph (a) of subsection (4), and paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of section 163.3177, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

163.3177 Required and optional elements of comprehensive plan; studies and surveys.—

(3)(a) The comprehensive plan shall contain a capital improvements element designed to consider the need for and the location of public facilities in order to encourage the efficient utilization of such facilities and set forth:

1. A component which outlines principles for construction, extension, or increase in capacity of public facilities, including potable water facilities compatible with the applicable regional water supply plan developed pursuant to s. 373.0361, as well as a component which outlines principles for correcting existing public facility deficiencies, which are necessary to implement the comprehensive plan. The components shall cover at least a 5-year period.

2. Estimated public facility costs, including a delineation of when facilities will be needed, the general location of the facilities, and projected revenue sources to fund the facilities.

3. Standards to ensure the availability of public facilities and the adequacy of those facilities including acceptable levels of service.

4. Standards for the management of debt.

(4)(a) Coordination of the local comprehensive plan with the comprehensive plans of adjacent municipalities, the county, adjacent counties, or the region; with any applicable plan developed pursuant to s. 373.036; with adopted rules pertaining to designated areas of critical state concern; and with the state comprehensive plan shall be a major objective of the local comprehensive planning process. To that end, in the preparation of a comprehensive plan or element thereof, and in the comprehensive plan or element as adopted, the governing body shall include a specific policy statement indicating the relationship of the proposed development of the area to the comprehensive plans of adjacent municipalities, the county, adjacent counties, or the region and to the state comprehensive plan, as the case may require and as such adopted plans or plans in preparation may exist.

(6) In addition to the requirements of subsections (1)-(5), the comprehensive plan shall include the following elements:

(c) A general sanitary sewer, solid waste, drainage, potable water, and natural groundwater aquifer recharge element correlated to principles and guidelines for future land use, indicating ways to provide for future potable water, drainage, sanitary sewer, solid waste, and aquifer recharge protection requirements for the area. The element may be a detailed engineering plan including a topographic map depicting areas of prime groundwater recharge. The element shall describe the problems and needs and the general facilities that will be required for solution of the problems and needs. The element shall also include a topographic map depicting any areas adopted by a regional water management district as prime groundwater recharge areas for the Floridan or Biscayne aquifers, pursuant to s. 373.0395. These areas shall be given special consideration when the local government is engaged in zoning or considering future land use for said designated areas. For areas served by septic tanks, soil surveys shall be provided which indicate the suitability of soils for septic tanks. By October 1, 2002, the element shall also include data and analyses, based upon the appropriate plan developed pursuant to s. 373.036, that evaluate the availability of potable water compared to population growth projected by the future land use plan.

Section 9. Paragraph (k) is added to subsection (2) of section 373.1961, Florida Statutes, to read:

373.1961 Water production.—

(2) The Legislature finds that, due to a combination of factors, vastly increased demands have been placed on natural supplies of fresh water, and that, absent increased development of alternative water supplies, such demands may increase in the future. The Legislature also finds that potential exists in the state for the production of significant quantities of alternative water supplies, including reclaimed water, and that water production includes the development of alternative water supplies, including reclaimed water, for appropriate uses. It is the intent of the Legislature that utilities develop reclaimed water systems, where reclaimed water is the most appropriate alternative water supply option, to deliver reclaimed water to as many users as possible through the most cost-effective means, and to construct reclaimed water system infrastructure to their owned or operated properties and facilities where they have reclamation capability. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the water management districts which levy ad valorem taxes for water management purposes should share a percentage of those tax revenues with water providers and users, including local governments, water, wastewater, and reuse utilities, municipal, industrial, and agricultural water users, and other public and private water users, to be used to supplement other funding sources in the development of alternative water supplies. The Legislature finds that public moneys or services provided to private entities for such uses constitute public purposes which are in the public interest. In order to further the development and use of alternative water supply systems, including reclaimed water systems, the Legislature provides the following:

(k) The Florida Public Service Commission shall allow entities under its jurisdiction constructing alternative water supply facilities, including but not limited to aquifer storage and recovery wells, to recover the full, prudently incurred cost of such facilities through their rate structure. Every component of an alternative water supply facility constructed by an investor-owned utility shall be recovered in current rates.

Section 10. Subsection (2) of section 373.217, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.217 Superseded laws and regulations.—

(2) It is the further intent of the Legislature that Part II of the Florida Water Resources Act of 1972, as amended, as set forth in ss. 373.203-373.249, shall provide the exclusive authority for requiring permits for the consumptive use of water and for authorizing transportation thereof pursuant to s. 373.223(2). Nothwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 163, the issuance of a permit under this part shall be a conclusive determination of the availability of water supplies, including ground and surface water resources and alternative water supplies, for the use authorized by such permit.

Section 11. Section 373.621, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

373.621 Water conservation.—The Legislature recognizes the significant value of water conservation in the protection and efficient use of water resources. Accordingly, additional consideration in the administration of ss. 373.223, 373.233, and 373.236 shall be given to applicants who implement water conservation practices pursuant to s. 570.080 or other applicable water conservation measures as determined by the department or water management district.

Section 12. Section 403.064, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.064 Reuse of reclaimed water.—

(1) The encouragement and promotion of water conservation, and reuse of reclaimed water, as defined by the department, are state objectives and are considered to be in the public interest. The Legislature finds that the reuse of reclaimed water is a critical component of meeting the state's existing and future water supply needs while sustaining natural systems. The Legislature further finds that for those wastewater treatment plants permitted and operated under an approved reuse program by the department, the reclaimed water shall be considered environmentally acceptable and not a threat to public health and safety.

(2) All applicants for permits to construct or operate a domestic wastewater treatment facility located within, serving a population located within, or discharging within a water resource caution area shall prepare a reuse feasibility study as part of their application for the permit. Reuse feasibility studies shall be prepared in accordance with department guidelines adopted by rule and shall include, but are not limited to:

(a) Evaluation of monetary costs and benefits for several levels and types of reuse.

(b) Evaluation of water savings if reuse is implemented.

(c) Evaluation of rates and fees necessary to implement reuse.

(d) Evaluation of environmental and water resource benefits associated with reuse.

(e) Evaluation of economic, environmental, and technical constraints.

(f) A schedule for implementation of reuse. The schedule shall consider phased implementation.

(3) The permit applicant shall prepare a plan of study for the reuse feasibility study consistent with the reuse feasibility study guidelines adopted by department rule. The plan of study shall include detailed descriptions of applicable treatment and water supply alternatives to be evaluated and the methods of analysis to be used. The plan of study shall be submitted to the department for review and approval.

(4)~~(3)~~ The study required under subsection (2) shall be performed by the applicant, and the applicant shall determine the feasibility of reuse based upon the results of the study, ~~'s determination of feasibility is final~~ if the study complies with the requirements of subsections (2) and (3).

(5)~~(4)~~ A reuse feasibility study is not required if:

(a) The domestic wastewater treatment facility has an existing or proposed permitted or design capacity less than 0.1 million gallons per day; or

(b) The permitted reuse capacity equals or exceeds the total permitted capacity of the domestic wastewater treatment facility.

(6)~~(5)~~ A reuse feasibility study prepared under subsection (2) satisfies a water management district requirement to conduct a reuse feasibility study imposed on a local government or utility that has responsibility for wastewater management.

(7)~~(6)~~ Local governments may allow the use of reclaimed water for inside activities, including, but not limited to, toilet flushing, fire protection, and decorative water features, as well as for outdoor uses, provided the reclaimed water is from domestic wastewater treatment facilities which are permitted, constructed, and operated in accordance with department rules.

(8)~~(7)~~ Permits issued by the department for domestic wastewater treatment facilities shall be consistent with requirements for reuse included in applicable consumptive use permits issued by the water management district, if such requirements are consistent with department rules governing reuse of reclaimed water. This subsection applies only to domestic wastewater treatment facilities which are located within, or serve a population located within, or discharge within water resource caution areas and are owned, operated, or controlled by a local government or utility which has responsibility for water supply and wastewater management.

(9)~~(8)~~ Local governments may and are encouraged to implement programs for the reuse of reclaimed water. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or preempt such local reuse programs.

(10)~~(9)~~ A local government that implements a reuse program under this section shall be allowed to allocate the costs in a reasonable manner.

(11)~~(10)~~ Pursuant to chapter 367, the Florida Public Service Commission shall allow entities under its jurisdiction which conduct studies or implement reuse projects, including, but not limited to, any study required by subsection (2) or facilities used for reliability purposes for a reclaimed water reuse system, to recover the full, prudently incurred cost of such studies and facilities through their rate structure.

(12)~~(11)~~ In issuing consumptive use permits, the permitting agency shall consider the local reuse program.

(13)~~(12)~~ A local government shall require a developer, as a condition for obtaining a development order, to comply with the local reuse program.

(14)~~(13) If,~~ After conducting a feasibility study under subsection (2), ~~an applicant determines that reuse of reclaimed water is feasible,~~ domestic wastewater treatment facilities that dispose of effluent by Class I deep well injection, as defined in 40 C.F.R. part 144.6(a), must implement reuse ~~according to the schedule for implementation contained in the study conducted under subsection (2),~~ to the degree that reuse is ~~determined~~ feasible*, based upon the applicant's reuse feasibility study*. Applicable permits issued by the department shall be consistent with the requirements of this subsection.

(a) This subsection does not limit the use of a Class I deep well injection facility as backup for a reclaimed water reuse system.

(b) This subsection applies only to domestic wastewater treatment facilities located within, serving a population located within, or discharging within a water resource caution area.

(15)~~(14) If,~~ After conducting a feasibility study under subsection (2), ~~an applicant determines that reuse of reclaimed water is feasible,~~ domestic wastewater treatment facilities that dispose of effluent by surface water discharges or by land application methods must implement reuse ~~according to the schedule for implementation contained in the study conducted under subsection (2),~~ to the degree that reuse is ~~determined~~ feasible*, based upon the applicant's reuse feasibility study.*. This subsection does not apply to surface water discharges or land application systems which are currently categorized as reuse under department rules. Applicable permits issued by the department shall be consistent with the requirements of this subsection.

(a) This subsection does not limit the use of a surface water discharge or land application facility as backup for a reclaimed water reuse system.

(b) This subsection applies only to domestic wastewater treatment facilities located within, serving a population located within, or discharging within a water resource caution area.

Section 13. Section 570.080, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

570.080 Agricultural water conservation program.—The department shall establish an agricultural water conservation program which includes the following:

(1) A cost share program, coordinated where appropriate with United States Department of Agriculture and other federal, state, regional, and local agencies, for irrigation system retrofit and application of mobile irrigation laboratory evaluations for water conservation as provided in this section, and where applicable, for water quality improvement pursuant to s. 403.067(7)(d).

(2) The development and implementation of voluntary interim measures or best management practices, adopted by rule, which provide for increased efficiencies in the utilization and management of water for agricultural production. In the process of developing and adopting rules for interim measures or best management practices, the department shall consult with the Department of Environmental Protection and the water management districts. Such rules may also include a system to ensure the implementation of the interim measures or best management practices, including record keeping requirements. As new information regarding efficient agricultural water use and management becomes available the department shall reevaluate, and revise as needed, the interim measures or best management practices. The interim measures or best management practices may include irrigation retrofit, implementation of mobile irrigation laboratory evaluations and recommendations, water resource augmentation, and integrated water management systems for drought management and flood control and should, to the maximum extend practicable, be designed to qualify for regulatory and other incentives, as determined by the agency having applicable statutory authority.

(3) Provision of assistance to the water management districts in the development and implementation of a consistent, to the extent practicable, methodology for the efficient allocation of water for agricultural irrigation.

Section 14. The South Florida, St. Johns River, and Southwest Florida Water Management Districts shall each develop and participate in financing at least one public-private alternative water project that expands the current availability of alternative water supplies. Funding for the selected project shall commence no later than fiscal year 2001-2002. The selected project shall meet the criteria in s. 373.0831(4)(a). Projects that create new sources in order to help implement a prevention or recovery strategy for a minimum flow or level shall be given priority consideration for funding.

Section 15. As a result of ongoing drought conditions throughout the state and in order to aid in the development of a better understanding of Florida's unique surface and ground water sources, it is the intent of the Legislature that the water management districts undertake a coordinated effort to develop an illustrative public service program that depicts the current status of major surface and ground water sources. This program shall be designed to provide information that shows the water levels of aquifers and water bodies that are critical to water supplies within each water management district. It is the intent of the Legislature that the districts develop partnerships with the local media to assist in the dissemination of this information. Further, it is the intent of the Legislature that this program be developed and made available no later than December 31, 2001. Beginning January 1, 2002, and every six months thereafter, the information developed pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the appropriate legislative committees with substantive jurisdiction over the water management districts.

Section 16. Subsection (7) of section 373.0693, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.0693 Basins; basin boards.—

(7) At 11:59 p.m. on December 31, 1976, the Manasota Watershed Basin of the Ridge and Lower Gulf Coast Water Management District, which is annexed to the Southwest Florida Water Management District by change of its boundaries pursuant to chapter 76-243, Laws of Florida, shall be formed into a subdistrict or basin of the Southwest Florida Water Management District, subject to the same provisions as the other basins in such district. Such subdistrict shall be designated initially as the Manasota Basin. The members of the governing board of the Manasota Watershed Basin of the Ridge and Lower Gulf Coast Water Management District shall become members of the governing board of the Manasota Basin of the Southwest Florida Water Management District. Notwithstanding other provisions in this section, beginning on July 1, 2001, the membership of the Manasota Basin Board shall be comprised of three members from Manatee County and three members from Sarasota County. Matters relating to tie votes shall be resolved pursuant to subsection (6) by the ex officio chair designated by the governing board to vote in case of a tie vote.

Section 17. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

And the title is amended as follows:

Rep. Harrington moved the adoption of the amendment, which was adopted.

Under Rule 10.13(b), the bill was referred to the Engrossing Clerk.

HB 1077—A bill to be entitled An act relating to health care; creating s. 456.41, F.S.; authorizing provision of and access to complementary or alternative health care treatments; requiring patients to be provided with certain information regarding such treatments; requiring the keeping of certain records; providing effect on the practice acts; amending s. 381.026, F.S.; revising the Florida Patient's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities to include the right to access any mode of treatment the patient or the patient's health care practitioner believes is in the patient's best interests; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title and, under Rule 10.13(b), referred to the Engrossing Clerk.

HM 1161—A memorial to the Federal Emergency Management Agency, urging the agency to adopt a policy towards the Florida Keys that is consistent with Florida law and its own policy.

WHEREAS, under the Florida Statute of Limitations, section 95.11(3)(c), Florida Statutes, Judge Richard Payne ruled on October 6, 2000, that Monroe County could not enforce removal of downstairs enclosures that were built over 4 years prior to enforcement action, and

WHEREAS, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), in a letter dated July 29, 1991, threatened to suspend Monroe County from the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) if the county established a 4-year limitation on code violations, and

WHEREAS, FEMA, in a letter to Monroe County dated December 12, 2000, from its Associate Director for Mitigation, Michael J. Armstrong, stated that if Monroe County did not appeal Judge Payne's ruling of October 6, 2000, FEMA would consider this action as a defect in the county's floodplain management program, and

WHEREAS, Monroe County was denied a rehearing on January 19, 2001, by Judge Payne to reconsider the ruling to remove all illegal downstairs enclosures, and

WHEREAS, FEMA records show that Monroe County has a high participation and a low claim history in the NFIP, and

WHEREAS, 76,000 pre-firm structures, out of 4.3 million pre-firm structures that have had two or more losses since 1978, represent 33 percent of all losses paid by FEMA, and

WHEREAS, only 1.9 million pre-firm structures out of 4.3 million pre-firm structures have their lowest floors above base flood level, and it is punitive to mandate that Monroe County remove more than 4,000 downstairs enclosures because they are below base flood level, and

WHEREAS, 23 percent of NFIP claim dollars paid from 1978 to 1996 went to areas not identified as special hazard flood areas, and

WHEREAS, Texas and Louisiana account for 40 percent of all repeated flood claims (1.1 billion), and

WHEREAS, with the exception of Key Biscayne, the majority of repeated flood claims comes from the gulf coast on the top half of the State of Florida, and

WHEREAS, the current FEMA policy towards the Florida Keys is arbitrary, capricious, and inconsistent with its national policy, and its enforcement of a special pilot program does not align with FEMA's own stated goals, and

WHEREAS, the enforcement of FEMA's pilot program is inconsistent with Florida law and would create enormous economic hardships on the economy of the Florida Keys, and

WHEREAS, the removal of more than 4,000 downstairs enclosures would work against the stated policy of the Department of Community Affairs to provide affordable housing for the people of Monroe County, and

WHEREAS, the Florida Legislature recognizes that Monroe County must follow the laws of the State of Florida and its circuit judges, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the Federal Emergency Management Agency is requested to adopt a policy toward the Florida Keys that is consistent with Florida law and its own national policy.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this memorial be sent to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, each member of the Florida delegation to the United States Congress, and the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

—was read the second time by title. On motion by Rep. Sorensen, the memorial was adopted. The vote was:

The Committee on Economic Development & International Trade offered the following:

(Amendment Bar Code: 933717)

Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—
Remove from the bill: Everything after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof: Paragraphs (g) and (h) of subsection (5) of section 212.08, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (q) is added to that subsection, to read:

212.08 Sales, rental, use, consumption, distribution, and storage tax; specified exemptions.—The sale at retail, the rental, the use, the consumption, the distribution, and the storage to be used or consumed in this state of the following are hereby specifically exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter.

(5) EXEMPTIONS; ACCOUNT OF USE.—

(g) Building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone.—

1. Beginning July 1, 1995, building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter upon an affirmative showing to the satisfaction of the department that the items have been used for the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone. Except as provided in subparagraph 2., this exemption inures to the owner, lessee, or lessor of the rehabilitated real property located in an enterprise zone only through a refund of previously paid taxes. To receive a refund pursuant to this paragraph, the owner, lessee, or lessor of the rehabilitated real property located in an enterprise zone must file an application under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, which includes:

a. The name and address of the person claiming the refund.

b. An address and assessment roll parcel number of the rehabilitated real property in an enterprise zone for which a refund of previously paid taxes is being sought.

c. A description of the improvements made to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property.

d. A copy of the building permit issued for the rehabilitation of the real property.

e. A sworn statement, under the penalty of perjury, from the general contractor licensed in this state with whom the applicant contracted to make the improvements necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property, which statement lists the building materials used in the rehabilitation of the real property, the actual cost of the building materials, and the amount of sales tax paid in this state on the building materials. In the event that a general contractor has not been used, the applicant shall provide this information in a sworn statement, under the penalty of perjury. Copies of the invoices which evidence the purchase of the building materials used in such rehabilitation and the payment of sales tax on the building materials shall be attached to the sworn statement provided by the general contractor or by the applicant. Unless the actual cost of building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property and the payment of sales taxes due thereon is documented by a general contractor or by the applicant in this manner, the cost of such building materials shall be an amount equal to 40 percent of the increase in assessed value for ad valorem tax purposes.

f. The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the rehabilitated real property is located.

g. A certification by the local building code inspector that the improvements necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property are substantially completed.

h. Whether the business is a small business as defined by s. 288.703(1).

i. If applicable, the name and address of each permanent employee of the business, including, for each employee who is a resident of an enterprise zone, the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides.

2. This exemption inures to a city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* through a refund of previously paid taxes if the building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone are paid for from the funds of a community development block grant*, State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program,* or similar grant or loan program. To receive a refund pursuant to this paragraph, a city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* must file an application which includes the same information required to be provided in subparagraph 1. by an owner, lessee, or lessor of rehabilitated real property. In addition, the application must include a sworn statement signed by the chief executive officer of the city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* seeking a refund which states that the building materials for which a refund is sought were paid for from the funds of a community development block grant*, State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program,* or similar grant or loan program.

3. Within 10 working days after receipt of an application, the governing body or enterprise zone development agency shall review the application to determine if it contains all the information required pursuant to subparagraph 1. or subparagraph 2. and meets the criteria set out in this paragraph. The governing body or agency shall certify all applications that contain the information required pursuant to subparagraph 1. or subparagraph 2. and meet the criteria set out in this paragraph as eligible to receive a refund. If applicable, the governing body or agency shall also certify if 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees. The certification shall be in writing, and a copy of the certification shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue. The applicant shall be responsible for forwarding a certified application to the department within the time specified in subparagraph 4.

4. An application for a refund pursuant to this paragraph must be submitted to the department within 6 months after the rehabilitation of the property is deemed to be substantially completed by the local building code inspector or within 90 days after the rehabilitated property is first subject to assessment.

5. The provisions of s. 212.095 do not apply to any refund application made pursuant to this paragraph. No more than one exemption through a refund of previously paid taxes for the rehabilitation of real property shall be permitted for any one parcel of real property. No refund shall be granted pursuant to this paragraph unless the amount to be refunded exceeds $500. No refund granted pursuant to this paragraph shall exceed the lesser of 97 percent of the Florida sales or use tax paid on the cost of the building materials used in the rehabilitation of the real property as determined pursuant to sub-subparagraph 1.e. or $5,000, or, if no less than 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees, the amount of refund granted pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the lesser of 97 percent of the sales tax paid on the cost of such building materials or $10,000. A refund approved pursuant to this paragraph shall be made within 30 days of formal approval by the department of the application for the refund.

6. The department shall adopt rules governing the manner and form of refund applications and may establish guidelines as to the requisites for an affirmative showing of qualification for exemption under this paragraph.

7. The department shall deduct an amount equal to 10 percent of each refund granted under the provisions of this paragraph from the amount transferred into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 212.20 for the county area in which the rehabilitated real property is located and shall transfer that amount to the General Revenue Fund.

8. For the purposes of the exemption provided in this paragraph:

a. "Building materials" means tangible personal property which becomes a component part of improvements to real property.

b. "Real property" has the same meaning as provided in s. 192.001(12).

c. "Rehabilitation of real property" means the reconstruction, renovation, restoration, rehabilitation, construction, or expansion of improvements to real property.

d. "Substantially completed" has the same meaning as provided in s. 192.042(1).

9. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on December 31, 2005.

(h) Business property used in an enterprise zone.—

1. Beginning July 1, 1995, business property purchased for use by businesses located in an enterprise zone which is subsequently used in an enterprise zone shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter. This exemption inures to the business only through a refund of previously paid taxes. A refund shall be authorized upon an affirmative showing by the taxpayer to the satisfaction of the department that the requirements of this paragraph have been met.

2. To receive a refund, the business must file under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, an application which includes:

a. The name and address of the business claiming the refund.

b. The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the business is located.

c. A specific description of the property for which a refund is sought, including its serial number or other permanent identification number.

d. The location of the property.

e. The sales invoice or other proof of purchase of the property, showing the amount of sales tax paid, the date of purchase, and the name and address of the sales tax dealer from whom the property was purchased.

f. Whether the business is a small business as defined by s. 288.703(1).

g. If applicable, the name and address of each permanent employee of the business, including, for each employee who is a resident of an enterprise zone, the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides.

3. Within 10 working days after receipt of an application, the governing body or enterprise zone development agency shall review the application to determine if it contains all the information required pursuant to subparagraph 2. and meets the criteria set out in this paragraph. The governing body or agency shall certify all applications that contain the information required pursuant to subparagraph 2. and meet the criteria set out in this paragraph as eligible to receive a refund. If applicable, the governing body or agency shall also certify if 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees. The certification shall be in writing, and a copy of the certification shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue. The business shall be responsible for forwarding a certified application to the department within the time specified in subparagraph 4.

4. An application for a refund pursuant to this paragraph must be submitted to the department within 6 months after the tax is due on the business property that is purchased.

5. The provisions of s. 212.095 do not apply to any refund application made pursuant to this paragraph. The amount refunded on purchases of business property under this paragraph shall be the lesser of 97 percent of the sales tax paid on such business property or $5,000, or, if no less than 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees, the amount refunded on purchases of business property under this paragraph shall be the lesser of 97 percent of the sales tax paid on such business property or $10,000. A refund approved pursuant to this paragraph shall be made within 30 days of formal approval by the department of the application for the refund. No refund shall be granted under this paragraph unless the amount to be refunded exceeds $100 in sales tax paid on purchases made within a 60-day time period.

6. The department shall adopt rules governing the manner and form of refund applications and may establish guidelines as to the requisites for an affirmative showing of qualification for exemption under this paragraph.

7. If the department determines that the business property is used outside an enterprise zone within 3 years from the date of purchase, the amount of taxes refunded to the business purchasing such business property shall immediately be due and payable to the department by the business, together with the appropriate interest and penalty, computed from the date of purchase, in the manner provided by this chapter. Notwithstanding this subparagraph, business property used exclusively in:

a. Licensed commercial fishing vessels,

b. Fishing guide boats, or

c. Ecotourism guide boats that leave and return to a fixed location within an area designated under s. 370.28 are eligible for the exemption provided under this paragraph if all requirements of this paragraph are met. Such vessels and boats must be owned by a business that is eligible to receive the exemption provided under this paragraph. This exemption does not apply to the purchase of a vessel or boat.

8. The department shall deduct an amount equal to 10 percent of each refund granted under the provisions of this paragraph from the amount transferred into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 212.20 for the county area in which the business property is located and shall transfer that amount to the General Revenue Fund.

9. For the purposes of this exemption, "business property" means new or used property defined as "recovery property" in s. 168(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, except:

a. Property classified as 3-year property under s. 168(c)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended;

b. Industrial machinery and equipment as defined in sub-subparagraph (b)6.a. and eligible for exemption under paragraph (b); ~~and~~

c. Building materials as defined in sub-subparagraph (g)8.a.; and

d. Business property having a sales price of under $500 per unit.

10. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on December 31, 2005.

(q) Community contribution tax credit for donations.—

1. Authorization.—Beginning July 1, 2001, persons who are registered with the department under s. 212.18 to collect or remit sales or use tax and who make donations to eligible sponsors are eligible for tax credits against their state sales and use tax liabilities as provided in this paragraph:

a. The credit shall be computed as 50 percent of the person's approved annual community contribution;

b. The credit shall be granted as a refund against state sales and use taxes reported on returns and remitted in the 12 months preceding the date of application to the department for the credit as required in sub–subparagraph 3.c. If the annual credit is not fully used through such refund because of insufficient tax payments during the applicable 12–month period, the unused amount may be included in an application for a refund made pursuant to sub–subparagraph 3.c. in subsequent years against the total tax payments made for such year. Carryover credits may be applied for a 3–year period without regard to any time limitation that would otherwise apply under s. 215.26;

c. No person shall receive more than $200,000 in annual tax credits for all approved community contributions made in any one year;

d. All proposals for the granting of the tax credit shall require the prior approval of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development;

e. The total amount of tax credits which may be granted for all programs approved under this paragraph, s. 220.183, and s. 624.5105 is $20 million annually; and

f. A person who is eligible to receive the credit provided for in this paragraph, s. 220.183, or s. 624.5105 may receive the credit only under the one section of the person's choice.

2. Eligibility requirements.—

a. A community contribution by a person must be in the following form:

(I) Cash or other liquid assets;

(II) Real property;

(III) Goods or inventory; or

(IV) Other physical resources as identified by the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

b. All community contributions must be reserved exclusively for use in a project. As used in this sub-subparagraph, the term "project" means any activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing that is affordable to low-income or very–low–income households as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28); designed to provide commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities; or designed to improve entrepreneurial and job–development opportunities for low–income persons. A project may be the investment necessary to increase access to high-speed broadband capability in rural communities with enterprise zones, including projects that result in improvements to communications assets that are owned by a business. This paragraph does not preclude projects that propose to construct or rehabilitate housing for low-income or very–low–income households on scattered sites. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may reserve up to 50 percent of the available annual tax credits for housing for very–low–income households pursuant to s. 420.9071(28) for the first 6 months of the fiscal year. With respect to housing, contributions may be used to pay the following eligible low-income and very–low–income housing-related activities:

(I) Project development impact and management fees for low-income or very–low–income housing projects;

(II) Down payment and closing costs for eligible persons, as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28);

(III) Administrative costs, including housing counseling and marketing fees, not to exceed 10 percent of the community contribution, directly related to low-income or very–low–income projects; and

(IV) Removal of liens recorded against residential property by municipal, county, or special-district local governments when satisfaction of the lien is a necessary precedent to the transfer of the property to an eligible person, as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28), for the purpose of promoting home ownership. Contributions for lien removal must be received from a nonrelated third party.

c. The project must be undertaken by an "eligible sponsor," which includes:

(I) A community action program;

(II) A nonprofit community–based development organization whose mission is the provision of housing for low–income or very–low–income households or increasing entrepreneurial and job–development opportunities for low–income persons;

(III) A neighborhood housing services corporation;

(IV) A local housing authority created under chapter 421;

(V) A community redevelopment agency created under s. 163.356;

(VI) The Florida Industrial Development Corporation;

(VII) An historic preservation district agency or organization;

(VIII) A regional workforce board;

(IX) A direct–support organization as provided in s. 240.551;

(X) An enterprise zone development agency created under s. 290.0056;

(XI) A community–based organization incorporated under chapter 617 which is recognized as educational, charitable, or scientific pursuant to s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and whose by–laws and articles of incorporation include affordable housing, economic development, or community development as the primary mission of the corporation;

(XII) Units of local government;

(XIII) Units of state government; or

(XIV) Any other agency that the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development designates by rule.

In no event may a contributing person have a financial interest in the eligible sponsor.

d. The project must be located in an area designated an enterprise zone or a Front Porch Florida community pursuant to s. 14.2015(9)(b), unless the project increases access to high-speed broadband capability for rural communities with enterprise zones but is physically located outside the designated rural zone boundaries. Any project designed to construct or rehabilitate housing for low–income or very–low–income households as defined in s. 420.0971(19) and (28) is exempt from the area requirement of this sub–subparagraph.

3. Application requirements.—

a. Any eligible sponsor seeking to participate in this program must submit a proposal to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development which sets forth the name of the sponsor, a description of the project and the area in which the project is located, together with such supporting information as is prescribed by rule. The proposal must also contain a resolution from the local governmental unit in which the project is located certifying that the project is consistent with local plans and regulations.

b. Any person seeking to participate in this program must submit an application for tax credit to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development which sets forth the name of the sponsor, a description of the project, and the type, value, and purpose of the contribution. The sponsor shall verify the terms of the application and indicate its receipt of the contribution, which verification must be in writing and accompany the application for tax credit. The person must submit a separate tax credit application to the office for each individual contribution that it makes to each individual project.

c. Any person who has received notification from the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development that a tax credit has been approved must apply to the department to receive the refund. Application must be made on the form prescribed for claiming refunds of sales and use taxes and be accompanied by a copy of the notification. A person may submit only one application for refund to the department within any 12–month period.

4. Administration.—

a. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 necessary to administer this paragraph, including rules for the approval or disapproval of proposals by a person.

b. The decision of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development must be in writing, and, if approved, the notification shall state the maximum credit allowable to the person. Upon approval, the office shall transmit a copy of the decision to the Department of Revenue.

c. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall periodically monitor all projects in a manner consistent with available resources to ensure that resources are used in accordance with this paragraph; however, each project must be reviewed at least once every 2 years.

d. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall, in consultation with the Department of Community Affairs, the Florida Housing Finance Corporation, and the statewide and regional housing and financial intermediaries, market the availability of the community contribution tax credit program to community–based organizations.

5. Expiration.—This paragraph expires June 30, 2005; however, any accrued credit carryover that is unused on that date may be used until the expiration of the 3–year carryover period for such credit.

Section 1. Effective January 1, 2002, section 212.096, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.096 Sales, rental, storage, use tax; enterprise zone jobs credit against sales tax.—

(1) For the purposes of the credit provided in this section:

(a) "Eligible business" means any sole proprietorship, firm, partnership, corporation, bank, savings association, estate, trust, business trust, receiver, syndicate, or other group or combination, or successor business, located in an enterprise zone. The business must demonstrate to the department that the total number of full-time jobs defined under paragraph (d) has increased from the average of the previous 12 months. The term "eligible business" includes a business that added a minimum of five new full-time jobs in an enterprise zone between July 1, 2000, and December 31, 2001. An eligible business does not include any business which has claimed the credit permitted under s. 220.181 for any new business employee first beginning employment with the business after July 1, 1995.

(b) "Month" means either a calendar month or the time period from any day of any month to the corresponding day of the next succeeding month or, if there is no corresponding day in the next succeeding month, the last day of the succeeding month.

(c) "New employee" means a person residing in an enterprise zone~~, a qualified Job Training Partnership Act classroom training participant,~~ or a participant in the welfare transition program ~~participant~~ who begins employment with an eligible business after July 1, 1995, and who has not been previously employed full-time within the preceding 12 months by the eligible business, or a successor eligible business, claiming the credit allowed by this section.

(d) "Jobs" means full–time positions, as consistent with terms used by the Agency for Workforce Innovation and the United States Department of Labor for purposes of unemployment compensation tax administration and employment estimation resulting directly from a business operation in this state. This number may not include temporary construction jobs involved with the construction of facilities or any jobs that have previously been included in any application for tax credits under s. 220.181(1). The term "jobs" also includes employment of an employee leased from an employee leasing company licensed under chapter 468 if such employee has been continuously leased to the employer for an average of at least 36 hours per week for more than 6 months.

(e) "New job has been created" means that the total number of full-time jobs has increased in an enterprise zone from the average of the previous 12 months, as demonstrated to the department by a business located in the enterprise zone.

A person shall be deemed to be employed if the person performs duties in connection with the operations of the business on a regular, full-time basis, provided the person is performing such duties for an average of at least 36 hours per week each month~~, or a part-time basis, provided the person is performing such duties for an average of at least 20 hours per week each month throughout the year~~. The person must be performing such duties at a business site located in the enterprise zone.

(2)(a) It is the legislative intent to encourage the provision of meaningful employment opportunities which will improve the quality of life of those employed and to encourage economic expansion of enterprise zones and the state. Therefore, beginning January ~~July~~ 1, 2002 ~~1995~~, upon an affirmative showing by an eligible ~~a~~ business to the satisfaction of the department that the requirements of this section have been met, the business shall be allowed a credit against the tax remitted under this chapter.

(b) The credit shall be computed as 20 ~~follows:~~

~~1. Ten~~ percent of the actual monthly wages paid in this state to each new employee hired when a new job has been created, unless the business is located within a rural enterprise zone pursuant to s. 290.004(8), in which case the credit shall be 30 percent of the actual monthly wages paid ~~whose wages do not exceed $1,500 a month~~. If no less than 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees, the credit shall be computed as 30 ~~15~~ percent of the actual monthly wages paid in this state to each new employee hired when a new job has been created, unless the business is located within a rural enterprise zone, in which case the credit shall be 45 percent of the actual monthly wages paid.~~;~~

~~2. Five percent of the first $1,500 of actual monthly wages paid in this state for each new employee whose wages exceed $1,500 a month; or~~

~~3. Fifteen percent of the first $1,500 of actual monthly wages paid in this state for each new employee who is a WAGES Program participant pursuant to chapter 414.~~

For purposes of this paragraph, monthly wages shall be computed as one-twelfth of the expected annual wages paid to such employee. The amount paid as wages to a new employee is the compensation paid to such employee that is subject to unemployment tax. The credit shall be allowed for up to 24 ~~12~~ consecutive months, beginning with the first tax return due pursuant to s. 212.11 after approval by the department.

(3) In order to claim this credit, an eligible business must file under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, a statement which includes:

(a) For each new employee for whom this credit is claimed, the employee's name and place of residence, including the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides if the new employee is a person residing in an enterprise zone, and, if applicable, documentation that the employee is a ~~qualified Job Training Partnership Act classroom training participant or a~~ welfare transition program participant.

(b) If applicable, the name and address of each permanent employee of the business, including, for each employee who is a resident of an enterprise zone, the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides.

(c) The name and address of the eligible business.

(d) The starting salary or hourly wages paid to the new employee.

(e) Demonstration to the department that the total number of full–time jobs defined under paragraph (1)(d) has increased in an enterprise zone from the average of the previous 12 months.

(f)~~(e)~~ The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the business is located.

(g)~~(f)~~ Whether the business is a small business as defined by s. 288.703(1).

(h)~~(g)~~ Within 10 working days after receipt of an application, the governing body or enterprise zone development agency shall review the application to determine if it contains all the information required pursuant to this subsection and meets the criteria set out in this section. The governing body or agency shall certify all applications that contain the information required pursuant to this subsection and meet the criteria set out in this section as eligible to receive a credit. If applicable, the governing body or agency shall also certify if 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees. The certification shall be in writing, and a copy of the certification shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue. The business shall be responsible for forwarding a certified application to the department within the time specified in paragraph (i) ~~(h)~~.

(i)~~(h)~~ All applications for a credit pursuant to this section must be submitted to the department within 6 4 months after the new employee is hired.

(4) Within 10 working days after receipt of a completed application for a credit authorized in this section, the department shall inform the business that the application has been approved. The credit may be taken on the first return due after receipt of approval from the department.

(5)~~(4)~~ In the event the application is incomplete or insufficient to support the credit authorized in this section, the department shall deny the credit and notify the business of that fact. The business may reapply for this credit.

(6)~~(5)~~ The credit provided in this section does not apply:

(a) For any new employee who is an owner, partner, or stockholder of an eligible business.

(b) For any new employee who is employed for any period less than 3 ~~full~~ calendar months.

(7)~~(6)~~ The credit provided in this section shall not be allowed for any month in which the tax due for such period or the tax return required pursuant to s. 212.11 for such period is delinquent.

(8)~~(7)~~ In the event an eligible business has a credit larger than the amount owed the state on the tax return for the time period in which the credit is claimed, the amount of the credit for that time period shall be the amount owed the state on that tax return.

(9)~~(8)~~ Any business which has claimed this credit shall not be allowed any credit under the provisions of s. 220.181 for any new employee beginning employment after July 1, 1995.

(10)~~(9)~~ It shall be the responsibility of each business to affirmatively demonstrate to the satisfaction of the department that it meets the requirements of this section.

(11)~~(10)~~ Any person who fraudulently claims this credit is liable for repayment of the credit plus a mandatory penalty of 100 percent of the credit plus interest at the rate provided in this chapter, and such person is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(12)~~(11)~~ The provisions of this section, except for subsection (11) ~~(10)~~, ~~shall~~ expire ~~and be void on~~ December 31, 2005.

Section 2. Effective January 1, 2002, section 212.098, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.098 Rural Job Tax Credit Program.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Eligible business" means any sole proprietorship, firm, partnership, or corporation that is located in a qualified county and is predominantly engaged in, or is headquarters for a business predominantly engaged in, activities usually provided for consideration by firms classified within the following standard industrial classifications: SIC 01-SIC 09 (agriculture, forestry, and fishing); SIC 20-SIC 39 (manufacturing); SIC 422 (public warehousing and storage); SIC 70 (hotels and other lodging places); SIC 7391 (research and development); SIC 7992 (public golf courses); ~~and~~ SIC 7996 (amusement parks); and a targeted industry eligible for the qualified target industry business tax refund under s. 288.106. A call center or similar customer service operation that services a multistate market or an international market is also an eligible business. In addition, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may, as part of its final budget request submitted pursuant to s. 216.023, recommend additions to or deletions from the list of standard industrial classifications used to determine an eligible business, and the Legislature may implement such recommendations. Excluded from eligible receipts are receipts from retail sales, except such receipts for hotels and other lodging places classified in SIC 70, public golf courses in SIC 7992, and amusement parks in SIC 7996. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "predominantly" means that more than 50 percent of the business's gross receipts from all sources is generated by those activities usually provided for consideration by firms in the specified standard industrial classification. The determination of whether the business is located in a qualified county and the tier ranking of that county must be based on the date of application for the credit under this section. Commonly owned and controlled entities are to be considered a single business entity.

(b) "Qualified employee" means any employee of an eligible business who performs duties in connection with the operations of the business on a regular, full-time basis for an average of at least 36 hours per week for at least 3 months within the qualified county in which the eligible business is located. The term also includes an employee leased from an employee leasing company licensed under chapter 468, if such employee has been continuously leased to the employer for an average of at least 36 hours per week for more than 6 months. An owner or partner of the eligible business is not a qualified employee.

(c) "Qualified area ~~county~~" means any area that is contained within a rural area of critical economic concern designated under s. 288.0656, a county that has a population of fewer than 75,000 persons, or any county that has a population of 100,000 or less and is contiguous to a county that has a population of less than 75,000, selected in the following manner: every third year, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall rank and tier the state's counties according to the following four factors:

1. Highest unemployment rate for the most recent 36-month period.

2. Lowest per capita income for the most recent 36-month period.

3. Highest percentage of residents whose incomes are below the poverty level, based upon the most recent data available.

4. Average weekly manufacturing wage, based upon the most recent data available.

~~Tier-one qualified counties are those ranked 1-5 and represent the state's least-developed counties according to this ranking. Tier-two qualified counties are those ranked 6-10, and tier-three counties are those ranked 11-17. Notwithstanding this definition, "qualified county" also means a county that contains an area that has been designated as a federal Enterprise Community pursuant to the 1999 Agricultural Appropriations Act. Such a designated area shall be ranked in tier three until the areas are reevaluated by the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.~~

(d) "New business" means any eligible business first beginning operation on a site in a qualified county and clearly separate from any other commercial or business operation of the business entity within a qualified county. A business entity that operated an eligible business within a qualified county within the 48 months before the period provided for application by subsection (2) is not considered a new business.

(e) "Existing business" means any eligible business that does not meet the criteria for a new business.

(2) A new eligible business may apply for a tax credit under this subsection once at any time during its first year of operation. A new eligible business in a tier-one qualified area that ~~county which~~ has at least 10 qualified employees on the date of application shall receive a $1,000 ~~$1,500~~ tax credit for each such employee. ~~A new eligible business in a tier-two qualified county which has at least 20 qualified employees on the date of application shall receive a $1,000 tax credit for each such employee. A new eligible business in a tier-three qualified county which has at least 30 qualified employees on the date of application shall receive a $500 tax credit for each such employee.~~

(3) An existing eligible business may apply for a tax credit under this subsection at any time it is entitled to such credit, except as restricted by this subsection. An existing eligible business with fewer than 50 employees in a ~~tier-one~~ qualified area that ~~county which~~ on the date of application has at least 20 percent ~~5~~ more qualified employees than it had 1 year prior to its date of application shall receive a $1,000 ~~$1,500~~ tax credit for each such additional employee. An existing ~~eligible~~ business that has 50 employees or more in a qualified area that, on the date of application, has at least 10 more qualified employees than it had 1 year prior to its date of application shall receive a $1,000 tax credit for each additional employee. ~~in a tier-two qualified county which on the date of application has at least 10 more qualified employees than it had 1 year prior to its date of application shall receive a $1,000 credit for each such additional employee. An existing business in a tier-three qualified county which on the date of application has at least 15 more qualified employees than it had 1 year prior to its date of application shall receive a $500 tax credit for each such additional employee. An existing business may apply for the credit under this subsection no more than once in any 12-month period.~~ Any existing eligible business that received a credit under subsection (2) may not apply for the credit under this subsection sooner than 12 months after the application date for the credit under subsection (2).

(4) For any new eligible business receiving a credit pursuant to subsection (2), an additional $500 credit shall be provided for any qualified employee who is a welfare transition program participant. For any existing eligible business receiving a credit pursuant to subsection (3), an additional $500 credit shall be provided for any qualified employee who is a welfare transition program participant. Such employee must be employed on the application date and have been employed less than 1 year. This credit shall be in addition to other credits pursuant to this section regardless of the tier-level of the county. Appropriate documentation concerning the eligibility of an employee for this credit must be submitted as determined by the department.

(5) To be eligible for a tax credit under subsection (3), the number of qualified employees employed 1 year prior to the application date must be no lower than the number of qualified employees on the application date on which a credit under this section was based for any previous application, including an application under subsection (2).

(6)(a) In order to claim this credit, an eligible business must file under oath with the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development a statement that includes the name and address of the eligible business, the starting salary or hourly wages paid to the new employee, and any other information that the Department of Revenue requires.

(b) Within 30 working days after receipt of an application for credit, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall review the application to determine whether it contains all the information required by this subsection and meets the criteria set out in this section. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall approve all applications that contain the information required by this subsection and meet the criteria set out in this section as eligible to receive a credit.

(c) The maximum credit amount that may be approved during any calendar year is $5 million. The Department of Revenue, in conjunction with the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development, shall notify the governing bodies in areas designated as qualified counties when the $5 million maximum amount has been reached. Applications must be considered for approval in the order in which they are received without regard to whether the credit is for a new or existing business. This limitation applies to the value of the credit as contained in approved applications. Approved credits may be taken in the time and manner allowed pursuant to this section.

(d) A business may not receive more than $500,000 of tax credits during any one calendar year for its efforts in creating jobs.

(7) If the application is insufficient to support the credit authorized in this section, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall deny the credit and notify the business of that fact. The business may reapply for this credit within 3 months after such notification.

(8) If the credit under this section is greater than can be taken on a single tax return, excess amounts may be taken as credits on any tax return submitted within 12 months after the approval of the application by the department.

(9) It is the responsibility of each business to affirmatively demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Department of Revenue that it meets the requirements of this section.

(10) Any person who fraudulently claims this credit is liable for repayment of the credit plus a mandatory penalty of 100 percent of the credit and is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(11) A corporation may take the credit under this section against its corporate income tax liability, as provided in s. 220.1895. However, a corporation that uses its job tax credit against the tax imposed by chapter 220 may not receive the credit provided for in this section. A credit may be taken against only one tax.

(12) The department shall adopt rules governing the manner and form of applications for credit and may establish guidelines as to the requisites for an affirmative showing of qualification for the credit under this section.

Section 3. Reduction or waiver of financial match requirements.—Notwithstanding any other law, the member agencies and organizations of the Rural Economic Development Initiative (REDI), as defined in section 288.0656(6)(a), Florida Statutes, shall review the financial match requirements for projects in rural areas as defined in section 288.0656(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

(1) Each agency and organization shall develop a proposal to waive or reduce the match requirement for rural areas.

(2) Agencies and organizations shall ensure that all proposals are submitted to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development for review by the REDI agencies.

(3) These proposals shall be delivered to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development for distribution to the REDI agencies and organizations. A meeting of REDI agencies and organizations must be called within 30 days after receipt of such proposals for REDI comment and recommendations on each proposal.

(4) Waivers and reductions must be requested by the county or community, and such county or community must have three or more of the factors identified in section 288.0656(2)(a), Florida Statutes.

(5) Any other funds available to the project may be used for financial match of federal programs when there is fiscal hardship and the match requirements may not be waived or reduced.

(6) When match requirements are not reduced or eliminated, donations of land, though usually not recognized as an in–kind match, may be permitted.

(7) To the fullest extent possible, agencies and organizations shall expedite the rule adoption and amendment process if necessary to incorporate the reduction in match by rural areas in fiscal distress.

(8) REDI shall include in its annual report an evaluation on the status of changes to rules, number of awards made with waivers, and recommendations for future changes.

Section 4. Subsection (1) of section 220.03, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

220.03 Definitions.—

(1) SPECIFIC TERMS.—When used in this code, and when not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Ad valorem taxes paid" means 96 percent of property taxes levied for operating purposes and does not include interest, penalties, or discounts foregone. In addition, the term "ad valorem taxes paid," for purposes of the credit in s. 220.182, means the ad valorem tax paid on new or additional real or personal property acquired to establish a new business or facilitate a business expansion, including pollution and waste control facilities, or any part thereof, and including one or more buildings or other structures, machinery, fixtures, and equipment. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(b) "Affiliated group of corporations" means two or more corporations which constitute an affiliated group of corporations as defined in s. 1504(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) "Business" or "business firm" means any business entity authorized to do business in this state as defined in paragraph (e), and any bank or savings and loan association as defined in s. 220.62, subject to the tax imposed by the provisions of this chapter. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(d) "Community contribution" means the grant by a business firm of any of the following items:

1. Cash or other liquid assets.

2. Real property.

3. Goods or inventory.

4. Other physical resources as identified by the department.

The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(e) "Corporation" includes all domestic corporations; foreign corporations qualified to do business in this state or actually doing business in this state; joint-stock companies; limited liability companies, under chapter 608; common-law declarations of trust, under chapter 609; corporations not for profit, under chapter 617; agricultural cooperative marketing associations, under chapter 618; professional service corporations, under chapter 621; foreign unincorporated associations, under chapter 622; private school corporations, under chapter 623; foreign corporations not for profit which are carrying on their activities in this state; and all other organizations, associations, legal entities, and artificial persons which are created by or pursuant to the statutes of this state, the United States, or any other state, territory, possession, or jurisdiction. The term "corporation" does not include proprietorships, even if using a fictitious name; partnerships of any type, as such; limited liability companies that are taxable as partnerships for federal income tax purposes; state or public fairs or expositions, under chapter 616; estates of decedents or incompetents; testamentary trusts; or private trusts.

(f) "Department" means the Department of Revenue of this state.

(g) "Director" means the executive director of the Department of Revenue and, when there has been an appropriate delegation of authority, the executive director's delegate.

(h) "Earned," "accrued," "paid," or "incurred" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which a taxpayer's income is computed under this code.

(i) "Emergency," as used in s. 220.02 and in paragraph (u) of this subsection, means occurrence of widespread or severe damage, injury, or loss of life or property proclaimed pursuant to s. 14.022 or declared pursuant to s. 252.36. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(j) "Enterprise zone" means an area in the state designated pursuant to s. 290.0065. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(k) "Expansion of an existing business," for the purposes of the enterprise zone property tax credit, means any business entity authorized to do business in this state as defined in paragraph (e), and any bank or savings and loan association as defined in s. 220.62, subject to the tax imposed by the provisions of this chapter, located in an enterprise zone, which expands by or through additions to real and personal property and which establishes five or more new jobs to employ five or more additional full-time employees at such location. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(l) "Fiscal year" means an accounting period of 12 months or less ending on the last day of any month other than December or, in the case of a taxpayer with an annual accounting period of 52-53 weeks under s. 441(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, the period determined under that subsection.

(m) "Includes" or "including," when used in a definition contained in this code, shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.

(n) "Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended and in effect on January 1, 2000, except as provided in subsection (3).

(o) "Local government" means any county or incorporated municipality in the state. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(p) "New business," for the purposes of the enterprise zone property tax credit, means any business entity authorized to do business in this state as defined in paragraph (e), or any bank or savings and loan association as defined in s. 220.62, subject to the tax imposed by the provisions of this chapter, first beginning operations on a site located in an enterprise zone and clearly separate from any other commercial or industrial operations owned by the same entity, bank, or savings and loan association and which establishes five or more new jobs to employ five or more additional full-time employees at such location. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(q) "New employee," for the purposes of the enterprise zone jobs credit, means a person residing in an enterprise zone~~, a qualified Job Training Partnership Act classroom training participant,~~ or a ~~WAGES Program~~ participant in the welfare transition program who is employed at a business located in an enterprise zone who begins employment in the operations of the business after July 1, 1995, and who has not been previously employed full-time within the preceding 12 months by the business or a successor business claiming the credit pursuant to s. 220.181. A person shall be deemed to be employed by such a business if the person performs duties in connection with the operations of the business on a full-time basis, provided she or he is performing such duties for an average of at least 36 hours per week each month~~, or a part-time basis, provided she or he is performing such duties for an average of at least 20 hours per week each month throughout the year~~. The term "jobs" also includes employment of an employee leased from an employee leasing company licensed under chapter 468, if such employee has been continuously leased to the employer for an average of at least 36 hours per week for more than 6 months. The person must be performing such duties at a business site located in an enterprise zone. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(r) "Nonbusiness income" means rents and royalties from real or tangible personal property, capital gains, interest, dividends, and patent and copyright royalties, to the extent that they do not arise from transactions and activities in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business. The term "nonbusiness income" does not include income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operations, or any amounts which could be included in apportionable income without violating the due process clause of the United States Constitution. For purposes of this definition, "income" means gross receipts less all expenses directly or indirectly attributable thereto. Functionally related dividends are presumed to be business income.

(s) "Partnership" includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, including a limited partnership; and the term "partner" includes a member having a capital or a profits interest in a partnership.

(t) "Project" means any activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor, as defined in s. 220.183(2)(c), which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing that is affordable to low–income or very–low–income households as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28); designed to provide commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities; or designed to improve entrepreneurial and job–development opportunities for low–income persons. The term also includes the provision of educational programs and materials by an eligible sponsor. A project may be the investment necessary to increase access to high–speed broadband capability in rural communities with enterprise zones, including projects that result in improvements to communications assets that are owned by a business. This paragraph does not preclude projects that propose to construct or rehabilitate low-income or very–low–income housing on scattered sites. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may reserve up to 50 percent of the available annual tax credits under s. 220.181 for housing for very–low–income households pursuant to s. 420.9071(28) for the first 6 months of the fiscal year. With respect to housing, contributions may be used to pay the following eligible project–related activities:

1. Project development, impact, and management fees for low–income or very–low–income housing projects;

2. Down payment and closing costs for eligible persons, as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28);

3. Administrative costs, including housing counseling and marketing fees, not to exceed 10 percent of the community contribution, directly related to low–income or very–low–income projects; and

4. Removal of liens recorded against residential property by municipal, county, or special-district local governments when satisfaction of the lien is a necessary precedent to the transfer of the property to an eligible person, as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28), for the purpose of promoting home ownership. Contributions for lien removal must be received from a nonrelated third party. ~~"Project" means any activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor, as defined in s. 220.183(2)(c), which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing or commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities or to improve entrepreneurial and job development opportunities for low-income persons.~~

The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(u) "Rebuilding of an existing business" means replacement or restoration of real or tangible property destroyed or damaged in an emergency, as defined in paragraph (i), after July 1, 1995, in an enterprise zone, by a business entity authorized to do business in this state as defined in paragraph (e), or a bank or savings and loan association as defined in s. 220.62, subject to the tax imposed by the provisions of this chapter, located in the enterprise zone. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(v) "Regulations" includes rules promulgated, and forms prescribed, by the department.

(w) "Returns" includes declarations of estimated tax required under this code.

(x) "Secretary" means the secretary of the Department of Commerce. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on June 30, 2005.

(y) "State," when applied to a jurisdiction other than Florida, means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country, or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing.

(z) "Taxable year" means the calendar or fiscal year upon the basis of which net income is computed under this code, including, in the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year, the period for which such return is made.

(aa) "Taxpayer" means any corporation subject to the tax imposed by this code, and includes all corporations for which a consolidated return is filed under s. 220.131. However, "taxpayer" does not include a corporation having no individuals (including individuals employed by an affiliate) receiving compensation in this state as defined in s. 220.15 when the only property owned or leased by said corporation (including an affiliate) in this state is located at the premises of a printer with which it has contracted for printing, if such property consists of the final printed product, property which becomes a part of the final printed product, or property from which the printed product is produced.

(bb) "Functionally related dividends" include the following types of dividends:

1. Those received from a subsidiary of which the voting stock is more than 50 percent owned or controlled by the taxpayer or members of its affiliated group and which is engaged in the same general line of business.

2. Those received from any corporation which is either a significant source of supply for the taxpayer or its affiliated group or a significant purchaser of the output of the taxpayer or its affiliated group, or which sells a significant part of its output or obtains a significant part of its raw materials or input from the taxpayer or its affiliated group. "Significant" means an amount of 15 percent or more.

3. Those resulting from the investment of working capital or some other purpose in furtherance of the taxpayer or its affiliated group.

However, dividends not otherwise subject to tax under this chapter are excluded.

(cc) "Child care facility startup costs" means expenditures for substantial renovation, equipment, including playground equipment and kitchen appliances and cooking equipment, real property, including land and improvements, and for reduction of debt, made in connection with a child care facility as defined by s. 402.302, or any facility providing daily care to children who are mildly ill, which is located in this state on the taxpayer's premises and used by the employees of the taxpayer.

(dd) "Operation of a child care facility" means operation of a child care facility as defined by s. 402.302, or any facility providing daily care to children who are mildly ill, which is located in this state within 5 miles of at least one place of business of the taxpayer and which is used by the employees of the taxpayer.

(ee) "Citrus processing company" means a corporation which, during the 60-month period ending on December 31, 1997, had derived more than 50 percent of its total gross receipts from the processing of citrus products and the manufacture of juices.

(ff) "New job has been created" means that the total number of full-time jobs has increased in an enterprise zone from the average of the previous 12 months, as demonstrated to the department by a business located in the enterprise zone.

(gg) "Jobs" means full-time positions, as consistent with terms used by the Agency for Workforce Innovation and the United States Department of Labor for purposes of unemployment compensation tax administration and employment estimation resulting directly from business operations in this state. This number may not include temporary construction jobs involved with the construction of facilities or any jobs that have previously been included in any application for tax credits under s. 220.181(1).

Section 5. Effective January 1, 2002, subsections (1) and (2) of section 220.181, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

220.181 Enterprise zone jobs credit.—

(1)(a) Beginning January ~~July~~ 1, 2002 ~~1995~~, there shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this chapter to any business located in an enterprise zone which demonstrates to the department that the total number of full-time jobs defined under s. 212.096(1)(d) has increased from the average of the previous 12 months. This credit is also available for a business that added a minimum of five new full-time jobs in an enterprise zone between July 1, 2000, and December 31, 2001 ~~employs one or more new employees~~. The credit shall be computed as 20 ~~follows:~~

~~1. Ten~~ percent of the actual monthly wages paid in this state to each new employee hired when a new job has been created, as defined under s. 220.03(1)(ff), unless the business is located in a rural enterprise zone, pursuant to s. 290.004(8), in which case the credit shall be 30 percent of the actual monthly wages paid ~~whose wages do not exceed $1,500 a month~~. If no less than 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees, the credit shall be computed as 30 ~~15~~ percent of the actual monthly wages paid in this state to each new employee hired when a new job has been created, unless the business is located in a rural enterprise zone, in which case the credit shall be 45 percent of the actual monthly wages paid, for a period of up to 24 ~~12~~ consecutive months.~~;~~

~~2. Five percent of the first $1,500 of actual monthly wages paid in this state for each new employee whose wages exceed $1,500 a month; or~~

~~3. Fifteen percent of the first $1,500 of actual monthly wages paid in this state for each new employee who is a welfare transition program participant.~~

(b) This credit applies only with respect to wages subject to unemployment tax and does not apply for any new employee who is employed for any period less than 3 full months.

(c) If this credit is not fully used in any one year, the unused amount may be carried forward for a period not to exceed 5 years. The carryover credit may be used in a subsequent year when the tax imposed by this chapter for such year exceeds the credit for such year after applying the other credits and unused credit carryovers in the order provided in s. 220.02(8).

(2) When filing for an enterprise zone jobs credit, a business must file under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, a statement which includes:

(a) For each new employee for whom this credit is claimed, the employee's name and place of residence during the taxable year, including the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the new employee resides if the new employee is a person residing in an enterprise zone, and, if applicable, documentation that the employee is a ~~qualified Job Training Partnership Act classroom training participant or a~~ welfare transition program participant.

(b) If applicable, the name and address of each permanent employee of the business, including, for each employee who is a resident of an enterprise zone, the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides.

(c) The name and address of the business.

(d) The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the eligible business is located.

(e) The salary or hourly wages paid to each new employee claimed.

(f) Demonstration to the department that the total number of full-time jobs has increased from the average of the previous 12 months.

(g)~~(f)~~ Whether the business is a small business as defined by s. 288.703(1).

Section 6. Subsections (1), (2), (3), and (4) of section 220.183, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

220.183 Community contribution tax credit.—

(1) AUTHORIZATION TO GRANT COMMUNITY CONTRIBUTION TAX CREDITS; LIMITATIONS ON INDIVIDUAL CREDITS AND PROGRAM SPENDING.—

(a) There shall be allowed a credit of 50 percent of a community contribution against any tax due for a taxable year under this chapter.

(b) No business firm shall receive more than $200,000 in annual tax credits for all approved community contributions made in any one year.

(c) The total amount of tax credit which may be granted for all programs approved under this section*, s. 212.08(5)(q),* and s. 624.5105 is $20 ~~$10~~ million annually.

(d) All proposals for the granting of the tax credit shall require the prior approval of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(e) If the credit granted pursuant to this section is not fully used in any one year because of insufficient tax liability on the part of the business firm, the unused amount may be carried forward for a period not to exceed 5 years. The carryover credit may be used in a subsequent year when the tax imposed by this chapter for such year exceeds the credit for such year under this section after applying the other credits and unused credit carryovers in the order provided in s. 220.02(8).

(f) A taxpayer who files a Florida consolidated return as a member of an affiliated group pursuant to s. 220.131(1) may be allowed the credit on a consolidated return basis.

(g) A taxpayer who is eligible to receive the credit provided for in s. 624.5105 is not eligible to receive the credit provided by this section.

(2) ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS.—

(a) All community contributions by a business firm shall be in the form specified in s. 220.03(1)(d).

(b) All community contributions must be reserved exclusively for use in projects as defined in s. 220.03(1)(t). The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may reserve up to 50 percent of the available annual tax credits for housing for very-low-income households pursuant to s. 420.9071(28), for the first 6 months of the fiscal year.

(c) The project must be undertaken by an "eligible sponsor," defined here as:

1. A community action program;

2. A nonprofit community-based ~~community~~ development organization whose mission is the provision of housing for low-income or very-low-income households or increasing entrepreneurial and job-development opportunities for low-income persons ~~corporation~~;

3. A neighborhood housing services corporation;

4. A local housing authority, created pursuant to chapter 421;

5. A community redevelopment agency, created pursuant to s. 163.356;

6. The Florida Industrial Development Corporation;

7. An historic preservation district agency or organization;

8. A regional workforce board ~~private industry council~~;

9. A direct-support organization as provided in s. 240.551;

10. An enterprise zone development agency created pursuant to s. 290.0056 ~~s. 290.0057~~; ~~or~~

11. A community–based organization incorporated under chapter 617 which is recognized as educational, charitable, or scientific pursuant to s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and whose by–laws and articles of incorporation include affordable housing, economic development, or community development as the primary mission of the corporation;

12. Units of local government;

13. Units of state government; or

14.~~11.~~ Such other agency as the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may, from time to time, designate by rule.

In no event shall a contributing business firm have a financial interest in the eligible sponsor.

(d) The project shall be located in an area designated as an enterprise zone or a Front Porch Florida Community pursuant to s. 14.2015(9)(b) ~~pursuant to s. 290.0065~~. Any project designed to construct or rehabilitate housing for low-income or very-low-income households as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28) ~~low-income housing~~ is exempt from the area requirement of this paragraph. This section does not preclude projects that propose to construct or rehabilitate housing for low–income or very–low–income households on scattered sites. Any project designed to provide increased access to high–speed broadband capabilities which includes coverage of a rural enterprise zone may locate the project's infrastructure in any area of a rural county.

(3) APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS.—

(a) Any eligible sponsor wishing to participate in this program must submit a proposal to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development which sets forth the sponsor, the project, the area in which the project is located, and such supporting information as may be prescribed by rule. The proposal shall also contain a resolution from the local governmental unit in which it is located certifying that the project is consistent with local plans and regulations.

(b) Any business wishing to participate in this program must submit an application for tax credit to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development, which application sets forth the sponsor; the project; and the type, value, and purpose of the contribution. The sponsor shall verify the terms of the application and indicate its receipt of ~~willingness to receive~~ the contribution, ~~which verification indicate its willingness to receive the contribution,~~ which verification must ~~shall~~ be in writing and ~~shall~~ accompany the application for tax credit.

(c) The business firm must submit a separate application for tax credit for each individual contribution that ~~which~~ it makes ~~proposes to contribute~~ to each individual project.

(4) ADMINISTRATION.—

(a) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development has authority to adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement the provisions of this section, including rules for the approval or disapproval of proposals by business firms.

(b) The decision of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall be in writing, and, if approved, the notification must ~~proposal shall~~ state the maximum credit allowable to the business firm. A copy of the decision shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue, who shall apply such credit to the tax liability of the business firm.

(c) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall periodically monitor all projects in a manner consistent with available resources to ensure that resources are utilized in accordance with this section; however, each project shall be reviewed no less often than once every 2 years.

(d) The Department of Revenue has authority to adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement the provisions of this section.

(e) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall, in consultation with the Department of Community Affairs, the Florida Housing Finance Corporation, and the statewide and regional housing and financial intermediaries, market the availability of the community contribution tax credit program to community–based organizations.

Section 7. Section 288.018, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.018 Regional Rural Development Grants Program.—

(1) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall establish a matching grant program to provide funding to regionally based economic development organizations representing rural counties and communities for the purpose of building the professional capacity of their organizations. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development is authorized to approve, on an annual basis, grants to such regionally based economic development organizations. The maximum amount an organization may receive in any year will be $35,000, or $100,000 in a rural area of critical economic concern recommended by the Rural Economic Development Initiative and designated by the Governor, and must be matched each year by an equivalent amount of nonstate resources.

(2) In approving the participants, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall consider the demonstrated need of the applicant for assistance and require the following:

(a) Documentation of official commitments of support from each of the units of local government represented by the regional organization.

(b) Demonstration that each unit of local government has made a financial or in-kind commitment to the regional organization.

(c) Demonstration that the private sector has made financial or in-kind commitments to the regional organization.

(d) Demonstration that the organization is in existence and actively involved in economic development activities serving the region.

(e) Demonstration of the manner in which the organization is or will coordinate its efforts with those of other local and state organizations.

(3) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may also contract for the development of an enterprise zone web portal or web sites for each enterprise zone which will be used to market the program for job creation in disadvantaged urban and rural enterprise zones. Each enterprise zone web page should include downloadable links to state forms and information, as well as local message boards that help businesses and residents receive information concerning zone boundaries, job openings, zone programs, and neighborhood improvement activities.

(4)~~(3)~~ The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may expend up to $750,000 ~~$600,000~~ each fiscal year from funds appropriated to the Rural Community Development Revolving Loan Fund for the purposes outlined in this section. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may contract with Enterprise Florida, Inc., for the administration of the purposes specified in this section. Funds released to Enterprise Florida, Inc., for this purpose shall be released quarterly and shall be calculated based on the applications in process.

Section 8. Section 288.019, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

288.019 Rural considerations in grant review and evaluation processes.—Notwithstanding any other law, and to the fullest extent possible, the member agencies and organizations of the Rural Economic Development Initiative (REDI) as defined in s. 288.0656(6)(a) shall review all grant and loan application evaluation criteria to ensure the fullest access for rural counties as defined in s. 288.0656(2)(b) to resources available throughout the state.

(1) Each REDI agency and organization shall review all evaluation and scoring procedures and develop modifications to those procedures which minimize the impact of a project within a rural area.

(2) Evaluation criteria and scoring procedures must provide for an appropriate ranking based on the proportionate impact that projects have on a rural area when compared with similar project impacts on an urban area.

(3) Evaluation criteria and scoring procedures must recognize the disparity of available fiscal resources for an equal level of financial support from an urban county and a rural county.

(a) The evaluation criteria should weight contribution in proportion to the amount of funding available at the local level.

(b) In–kind match should be allowed and applied as financial match when a county is experiencing financial distress through elevated unemployment at a rate in excess of the state's average by 5 percentage points or because of the loss of its ad valorem base.

(4) For existing programs, the modified evaluation criteria and scoring procedure must be delivered to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development for distribution to the REDI agencies and organizations. The REDI agencies and organizations shall review and make comments. Future rules, programs, evaluation criteria, and scoring processes must be brought before a REDI meeting for review, discussion, and recommendation to allow rural counties fuller access to the state's resources.

Section 9. Subsection (2) of section 288.065, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.065 Rural Community Development Revolving Loan Fund.—

(2) The program shall provide for long-term loans, loan guarantees, and loan loss reserves to units of local governments*, or economic development organizations substantially underwritten by a unit of local government,* within counties with populations of 75,000 or less, or any county that has a population of 100,000 or less and is contiguous to a county with a population of 75,000 or less, as determined by the most recent official estimate pursuant to s. 186.901, residing in incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county*, or to units of local government, or economic development organizations substantially underwritten by a unit of local government, within a rural area of critical economic concern*. Requests for loans shall be made by application to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development. Loans shall be made pursuant to agreements specifying the terms and conditions agreed to between the applicant ~~local government~~ and the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development. The loans shall be the legal obligations of the applicant ~~local government~~. All repayments of principal and interest shall be returned to the loan fund and made available for loans to other applicants. However, in a rural area of critical economic concern designated by the Governor, and upon approval by the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development, repayments of principal and interest may be retained by the applicant ~~a unit of local government~~ if such repayments are dedicated and matched to fund regionally based economic development organizations representing the rural area of critical economic concern.

Section 10. Subsection (6) of section 288.0656, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.0656 Rural Economic Development Initiative.—

(6)(a) By ~~No later than~~ August 1 of each year~~, 1999~~, the head of each of the following agencies and organizations shall designate a high-level staff person from within the agency or organization to serve as the REDI representative for the agency or organization:

1. The Department of Community Affairs.
2. The Department of Transportation.
3. The Department of Environmental Protection.
4. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.
5. The Department of State.
6. The Department of Health.
7. The Department of Children and Family Services.
8. The Department of Corrections.
9. The Agency for Workforce Innovation ~~Department of Labor and Employment Security~~.
10. The Department of Education.
11. The Department of Juvenile Justice.
12.~~11.~~ The Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.
13.~~12.~~ Each water management district.
14.~~13.~~ Enterprise Florida, Inc.
15. Workforce Florida, Inc.
16.~~14.~~ The Florida Commission on Tourism or VISIT Florida.
17.~~15.~~ The Florida Regional Planning Council Association.
18.~~16.~~ The Florida State Rural Development Council.
19.~~17.~~ The Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

An alternate for each designee shall also be chosen, and the names of the designees and alternates shall be sent to the director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(b) Each REDI representative must have comprehensive knowledge of his or her agency's functions, both regulatory and service in nature, and of the state's economic goals, policies, and programs. This person shall be the primary point of contact for his or her agency with REDI on issues and projects relating to economically distressed rural communities and with regard to expediting project review, shall ensure a prompt effective response to problems arising with regard to rural issues, and shall work closely with the other REDI representatives in the identification of opportunities for preferential awards of program funds and allowances and waiver of program requirements when necessary to encourage and facilitate long-term private capital investment and job creation.

(c) The REDI representatives shall work with REDI in the review and evaluation of statutes and rules for adverse impact on rural communities and the development of alternative proposals to mitigate that impact.

(d) Each REDI representative shall be responsible for ensuring that each district office or facility of his or her agency is informed about the Rural Economic Development Initiative and for providing assistance throughout the agency in the implementation of REDI activities.

Section 11. Section 288.1088, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.1088 Quick Action Closing Fund.—

(1)(a) The Legislature finds that attracting, retaining, and providing favorable conditions for the growth of certain high-impact business facilities*, privately developed critical rural infrastructure, or key facilities in economically distressed urban or rural communities which provide* ~~provides~~ widespread economic benefits to the public through high-quality employment opportunities in such facilities or ~~and~~ in related facilities attracted to the state, through the increased tax base provided by the high-impact facility and related businesses ~~in related sectors~~, through an enhanced entrepreneurial climate in the state and the resulting business and employment opportunities, and through the stimulation and enhancement of the state's universities and community colleges. In the global economy, there exists serious and fierce international competition for these facilities, and in most instances, when all available resources for economic development have been used, the state continues to encounter severe competitive disadvantages in vying for these ~~high-impact~~ business facilities. Florida's rural areas must provide a competitive environment for business in the information age. This often requires an incentive to make it feasible for private investors to provide infrastructure in those areas.

(b) The Legislature therefore declares that sufficient resources shall be available to respond to extraordinary economic opportunities and to compete effectively for these high-impact business facilities*, critical private infrastructure in rural areas, and key businesses in economically distressed urban or rural communities*.

(2) There is created within the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development the Quick Action Closing Fund.

(3)(a) Enterprise Florida, Inc., shall evaluate individual proposals for high-impact business facilities and forward recommendations regarding the use of moneys in the fund for such facilities to the director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development. Such evaluation and recommendation must include, but need not be limited to:

1. A description of the type of facility or infrastructure, its operations ~~business operation~~, and the associated product or service associated with the facility.

2. The number of full-time-equivalent jobs that will be created by the facility and the total estimated average annual wages of those jobs or, in the case of privately developed rural infrastructure, the types of business activities and jobs stimulated by the investment.

3. The cumulative amount of investment to be dedicated to the facility within a specified period.

4. A statement of any special impacts the facility is expected to stimulate in a particular business sector in the state or regional economy or in the state's universities and community colleges.

5. A statement of the role the incentive is expected to play in the decision of the applicant business to locate or expand in this state or for the private investor to provide critical rural infrastructure.

(b) Upon receipt of the evaluation and recommendation from Enterprise Florida, Inc., the director shall recommend approval or disapproval of a project for receipt of funds from the Quick Action Closing Fund to the Governor. In recommending a project ~~high-impact business facility~~, the director shall include proposed performance conditions that the project ~~facility~~ must meet to obtain incentive funds. The Governor shall consult with the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives before giving final approval for a project. The Executive Office of the Governor shall recommend approval of a project and release of funds pursuant to the legislative consultation and review requirements set forth in s. 216.177. The recommendation must include proposed performance conditions the project must meet to obtain funds.

(c) Upon the approval of the Governor, the director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development and the ~~high-impact~~ business shall enter into a contract that sets forth the conditions for payment of moneys from the fund. The contract must include the total amount of funds awarded; the performance conditions that must be met to obtain the award, including, but not limited to, net new employment in the state, average salary, and total capital investment; demonstrate a baseline of current service and a measure of enhanced capability; the methodology for validating performance; the schedule of payments from the fund; and sanctions for failure to meet performance conditions.

(d) Enterprise Florida, Inc., shall validate contractor performance. Such validation shall be reported within 6 months after completion of the contract to the Governor, President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 12. Subsection (2) of section 288.9015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

288.9015 Enterprise Florida, Inc.; purpose; duties.—

(2) It shall be the responsibility of Enterprise Florida, Inc., to aggressively market Florida's rural communities*,* ~~and~~ distressed urban communities*, and enterprise zones* as locations for potential new investment, to aggressively assist in the retention and expansion of existing businesses in these communities, and to aggressively assist these communities in the identification and development of new economic development opportunities for job creation*, fully using state incentive programs such as the Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund Program under s. 288.106 and the Quick Action Closing Fund under s. 288.1088 in economically distressed areas*.

Section 13. Section 290.004, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

290.004 Definitions relating to Florida Enterprise Zone Act.—As used in ss. 290.001-290.016:

(1) "Community investment corporation" means a black business investment corporation, a certified development corporation, a small business investment corporation, or other similar entity incorporated under Florida law that has limited its investment policy to making investments solely in minority business enterprises.

(2) "Department" means the Department of Commerce.

(3) "Director" means the director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(4) "Governing body" means the council or other legislative body charged with governing the county or municipality.

(5) "Interagency coordinating council" means the Enterprise Zone Interagency Coordinating Council created pursuant to s. 290.009.

(6) "Minority business enterprise" has the same meaning as in s. 288.703.

(7) "Office" means the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(8) "Rural enterprise zone" means an enterprise zone that is nominated by a county having a population of 75,000 or fewer, or a county having a population of 100,000 or fewer which is contiguous to a county having a population of 75,000 or fewer, or by a municipality in such a county, or by such a county and one or more municipalities. An enterprise zone designated in accordance with s. 370.28 or s. 290.0065(5)(b), is considered to be a rural enterprise zone.

(9)~~(8)~~ "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce.

(10)~~(9)~~ "Small business" has the same meaning as in s. 288.703.

Section 14. Enterprise zone designation for Sarasota County or Sarasota County and Sarasota.—Sarasota County, or Sarasota County and the City of Sarasota jointly, may apply to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development for designation of one enterprise zone within the county, or within both the county and the municipality, which zone encompasses an area that is south of the north county line, west of Tuttle Avenue, north of 10th Street, and east of U.S. Highway 41. The application must be submitted by December 31, 2001, and must comply with the requirements of section 290.0055, Florida Statutes. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 290.0065, Florida Statutes, limiting the total number of enterprise zones designated and the number of enterprise zones within a population category, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may designate one enterprise zone under this section. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall establish the initial effective date of the enterprise zone designated under this section.

Section 15. Section 290.00555, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

290.00555 Satellite enterprise zones.~~—Before December 31, 1999,~~ Any municipality an area of which has previously received designation as an enterprise zone in the population category described in s. 290.0065(3)(a)3. may create a satellite enterprise zone not exceeding 1.5 square miles in area outside of and, notwithstanding anything contained in s. 290.0055(4), or any other law, in addition to the previously designated enterprise zone boundaries. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall amend the boundaries of the areas previously designated by any such municipality as enterprise zones upon receipt of a resolution adopted by the municipality describing the satellite enterprise zone areas, as long as the additional areas are consistent with the categories, criteria, and limitations imposed by s. 290.0055. However, the requirements imposed by s. 290.0055(4)(d) do not apply to such satellite enterprise zone areas.

Section 16. Satellite enterprise zones may be created pursuant to section 290.00555, Florida Statutes, effective retroactively to December 31, 1999. Resolutions adopted to create satellite enterprise zones under this section must be submitted to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development no later than August 1, 2001. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development must amend the boundaries of previously designated enterprise zones to create eligible satellite enterprise zones no later than September 1, 2001. Notwithstanding the time limitations contained in chapter 212, Florida Statutes, a business in a satellite enterprise zone designated under this section which was eligible to receive tax incentives pursuant to section 212.08(5)(g) and (h) and section 212.096, Florida Statutes, during the period beginning December 31, 1999, and ending on the date of the creation of the satellite enterprise zone, must submit an application for the tax incentives by December 1, 2001. All other requirements of the enterprise zone program apply to such a business.

Section 17. Section 290.0065, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

290.0065 State designation of enterprise zones.—

(1) Upon application of the governing body of a county or municipality or of a county and one or more municipalities jointly pursuant to s. 290.0055, Enterprise Florida, Inc., and the office ~~department~~, in consultation with the interagency coordinating council, shall determine which areas nominated by such governing bodies meet the criteria outlined in s. 290.0055 and are the most appropriate for designation as state enterprise zones. The office ~~department~~ is authorized to designate up to 5 areas within each of the categories established in subparagraphs (3)(a)1., 2., 3., 4., and 5., except that the office ~~department~~ may only designate a total of 20 areas as enterprise zones. The office ~~department~~ shall not designate more than three enterprise zones in any one county. All designations, including any provision for redesignations, of state enterprise zones pursuant to this section shall be effective July 1, 1995.

(2) Each application made pursuant to s. 290.0055 shall be ranked competitively within the appropriate category established pursuant to subsection (3) based on the pervasive poverty, unemployment, and general distress of the area; the strategic plan, including local fiscal and regulatory incentives, prepared pursuant to s. 290.0057; and the prospects for new investment and economic development in the area. Pervasive poverty, unemployment, and general distress shall be weighted 35 percent; strategic plan and local fiscal and regulatory incentives shall be weighted 40 percent; and prospects for new investment and economic development in the area shall be weighted 25 percent.

(3)(a) Each area designated as an enterprise zone pursuant to this section shall be placed in one of the following categories based on the 1990 census:

1. Communities consisting of census tracts in areas having a total population of 150,000 persons or more.

2. Communities consisting of census tracts in areas having a total population of 50,000 persons or more but less than 150,000 persons.

3. Communities having a population of 20,000 persons or more but less than 50,000 persons.

4. Communities having a population of 7,500 persons or more but less than 20,000 persons.

5. Communities having a population of less than 7,500 persons.

(b) Any area authorized to be an enterprise zone by both a county and a municipality shall be placed in the appropriate category established under paragraph (a) in which an application by the municipality would have been considered if the municipality had acted alone, if at least 60 percent of the population of the area authorized to be an enterprise zone resides within the municipality. An area authorized to be an enterprise zone by a county and one or more municipalities shall be placed in the category in which an application by the municipality with the highest percentage of residents in such area would have been considered if such municipality had authorized the area to be an enterprise zone. An area authorized to be an enterprise zone by a county as defined by s. 125.011(1) shall be placed in the category in which an application by the municipality in which the area is located would have been considered if the municipality had authorized such area to be an enterprise zone. An area authorized to be an enterprise zone by a county as defined by s. 125.011(1) which area is located in two or more municipalities shall be placed in the category in which an application by the municipality with the highest percentage of residents in such area would have been considered if such municipality had authorized such area to be an enterprise zone.

(4)(a) Notwithstanding s. 290.0055, any area existing as a state enterprise zone as of the effective date of this section and originally approved through a joint application from a county and municipality, or through an application from a county as defined in s. 125.011(1), shall be redesignated as a state enterprise zone upon the creation of an enterprise zone development agency pursuant to s. 290.0056 and the completion of a strategic plan pursuant to s. 290.0057. Any area redesignated pursuant to this subsection, other than an area located in a county defined in s. 125.011(1), may be relocated or modified by the appropriate governmental bodies. Such relocation or modification shall be identified in the strategic plan and shall meet the requirements for designation as established by s. 290.005. Any relocation or modification shall be submitted on or before June 1, 1996.

(b) The office ~~department~~ shall place any area designated as a state enterprise zone pursuant to this subsection in the appropriate category established in subsection (3), and include such designations within the limitations on state enterprise zone designations set out in subsection (1).

(c) Any county or municipality having jurisdiction over an area designated as a state enterprise zone pursuant to this subsection, other than a county defined by s. 125.011(1), may not apply for designation of another area.

(5) Notwithstanding s. 290.0055, an area designated as a federal empowerment zone or enterprise community pursuant to Title XIII of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993, the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, or the 1999 Agricultural Appropriations Act shall be designated a state enterprise zone as follows:

(a) An area designated as an urban empowerment zone or urban enterprise community pursuant to Title XIII of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 or the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 shall be designated a state enterprise zone by the office ~~department~~ upon completion of the requirements set out in paragraph (d), except in the case of a county as defined in s. 125.011(1) which, notwithstanding s. 290.0055, may incorporate and include such designated urban empowerment zone or urban enterprise community areas within the boundaries of its state enterprise zones without any limitation as to size.

(b) An area designated as a rural empowerment zone or rural enterprise community pursuant to Title XIII of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 or the 1999 Agricultural Appropriations Act shall be designated a state rural enterprise zone by the office ~~department~~ upon completion of the requirements set out in paragraph (d) and may incorporate and include such designated rural empowerment zone or rural enterprise community within the boundaries of its state enterprise zones without any limitation as to size.

(c) Any county or municipality having jurisdiction over an area designated as a state enterprise zone pursuant to this subsection, other than a county defined in s. 125.011(1), may not apply for designation of another area.

(d) Prior to designating such areas as state enterprise zones, the office ~~department~~ shall ensure that the governing body having jurisdiction over the zone submits the strategic plan required pursuant to 7 C.F.R. part 25 or 24 C.F.R. part 597 to the office ~~department~~, and creates an enterprise zone development agency pursuant to s. 290.0056.

(e) The office ~~department~~ shall place any area designated as a state enterprise zone pursuant to this subsection in the appropriate category established in subsection (3), and include such designations within the limitations on state enterprise zone designations set out in subsection (1).

(6)(a) The office ~~department~~, in consultation with Enterprise Florida, Inc., and the interagency coordinating council, may develop guidelines ~~shall promulgate any rules~~ necessary for the approval of areas under this section by the director ~~secretary~~.

(b) Such guidelines ~~rules~~ shall provide for the measurement of pervasive poverty, unemployment, and general distress using the criteria outlined by s. 290.0058.

(c) Such guidelines ~~rules~~ shall provide for the evaluation of the strategic plan and local fiscal and regulatory incentives for effectiveness, including how the following key principles will be implemented by the governing body or bodies:

1. Economic opportunity, including job creation within the community and throughout the region, as well as entrepreneurial initiatives, small business expansion, and training for jobs that offer upward mobility.

2. Sustainable community development that advances the creation of livable and vibrant communities through comprehensive approaches that coordinate economic, physical, community, and human development.

3. Community-based partnerships involving the participation of all segments of the community.

4. Strategic vision for change that identifies how the community will be revitalized. This vision should include methods for building on community assets and coordinate a response to community needs in a comprehensive fashion. This vision should provide goals and performance benchmarks for measuring progress and establish a framework for evaluating and adjusting the strategic plan.

5. Local fiscal and regulatory incentives enacted pursuant to s. 290.0057(1)(e). These incentives should induce economic revitalization, including job creation and small business expansion.

(d) Such guidelines may ~~rules shall~~ provide methods for evaluating the prospects for new investment and economic development in the area, including a review and evaluation of any previous state enterprise zones located in the area.

(7) Upon approval by the director ~~secretary~~ of a resolution authorizing an area to be an enterprise zone pursuant to this section, the office ~~department~~ shall assign a unique identifying number to that resolution. The office ~~department~~ shall provide the Department of Revenue and Enterprise Florida, Inc., with a copy of each resolution approved, together with its identifying number.

(8)(a) Notwithstanding s. 290.0055, any area existing as a state enterprise zone as of December 30, 1994, which has received at least $1 million in state community development funds and at least $500,000 in federal community development funds, which has less than 300 businesses located within the boundaries of the enterprise zone, and which has been designated by the United States Department of Agriculture as a "Champion Community" shall be redesignated as a state enterprise zone upon the creation of an enterprise zone development agency pursuant to s. 290.0056 and the completion of a strategic plan pursuant to s. 290.0057.

(b) Such designation shall be in addition to the limitations of state enterprise zone designation set out in subsection (1).

~~(9) The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may amend the boundaries of any enterprise zone designated by the state pursuant to this section, consistent with the categories, criteria, and limitations imposed in this section upon the establishment of such enterprise zone and only if consistent with the determinations made in s. 290.0058(2).~~

(9)~~(10)~~ Before December 31, 1998, the governing body of a county in which an enterprise zone designated pursuant to paragraph (5)(b) is located may apply to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development to amend the boundaries of the enterprise zone for the purpose of replacing areas not suitable for development. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall approve the application if it does not increase the overall size of the enterprise zone. Except that upon the request of the governing body of a home rule charter county, or any county the government of which has been consolidated with the government of one or more municipalities in accordance with s. 9, Art. VIII of the State Constitution of 1885, as preserved by s. 6(e), Art. VIII of the State Constitution as revised in 1968 and subsequently amended, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may amend the boundaries of an area designated as an enterprise zone upon the receipt of a resolution adopted by such governing body describing the amended boundaries, so long as the added area does not increase the overall size of the expanded zone more than its original size or 20 square miles, whichever is larger, and is consistent with the categories, criteria, and limitations imposed by s. 290.0055.

(10)~~(11)~~ Before December 31, 1999, any county as defined in s. 125.011(1) may create a satellite enterprise zone not exceeding 3 square miles in area outside of and, notwithstanding anything contained in s. 290.0055(4) or elsewhere, in addition to the previously designated 20 square miles of enterprise zones. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall amend the boundaries of the areas previously designated by any such county as enterprise zones upon the receipt of a resolution adopted by such governing body describing the satellite enterprise zone, as long as the additional area is consistent with the categories, criteria, and limitations imposed by s. 290.0055, provided that the 20-square-mile limitation and the requirements imposed by s. 290.0055(4)(d) do not apply to such satellite enterprise zone.

Section 18. Section 290.00676, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

290.00676 Amendment of rural enterprise zone boundaries.—Notwithstanding any other law, upon recommendation by Enterprise Florida, Inc., the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may approve requests to amend the boundaries of rural enterprise zones as defined in s. 290.004(8). Boundary amendments authorized by this section are subject to the following requirements:

(1) The amendment may increase the size of the rural enterprise zone up to a maximum zone size of 20 square miles.

(2) The amendment may increase the zone's number of noncontiguous areas by one, if the additional noncontiguous area has zero population. For purposes of this subsection, the pervasive poverty criteria may be set aside for the addition of a noncontiguous area.

(3) The local enterprise zone development agency must request the amendment from Enterprise Florida, Inc., prior to December 30, 2001. The request must contain maps and sufficient information to allow the office to determine the number of noncontiguous areas and the total size of the rural enterprise zone.

Section 19. Section 290.00677, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

290.00677 Rural enterprise zones; special qualifications.—

(1) Notwithstanding the enterprise zone residency requirements set out in s. 212.096(1)(c), eligible businesses as defined by s. 212.096(1)(a), located in rural enterprise zones as defined by s. 290.004, may receive the basic minimum credit provided under s. 212.096 for creating a new job and hiring a person residing within the jurisdiction of a rural county, as defined by s. 288.106(1)(r). All other provisions of s. 212.096, including, but not limited to, those relating to the award of enhanced credits, apply to such businesses.

(2) Notwithstanding the enterprise zone residency requirements set out in s. 220.03(1)(q), eligible businesses as defined by s. 212.096(1)(a), located in rural enterprise zones as defined in s. 290.004, may receive the basic minimum credit provided under s. 220.181 for creating a new job and hiring a person residing within the jurisdiction of a rural county, as defined by s. 288.106(1)(r). All other provisions of s. 220.181, including, but not limited to, those relating to the award of enhanced credits apply to such businesses.

Section 20. Section 290.00694, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

290.00694 Enterprise zone designation for rural communities.—An area designated as a rural champion community under the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 or a community within a designated rural area of critical economic concern under s. 288.0656 may submit an application to Enterprise Florida, Inc., for review and recommendation to the office for designation as an enterprise zone. The application must be submitted by December 31, 2001. Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 290.0065 limiting the total number of enterprise zones designated and the number of enterprise zones within a population category, the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development may designate enterprise zones under this section. Upon completion of the requirements set out in s. 290.0065(5)(d), the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall establish the initial effective date of the enterprise zones designated pursuant to this section. Only one community in each county in a rural area of critical economic concern may be designated as an enterprise zone.

Section 21. Subsection (3) of section 290.007, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

290.007 State incentives available in enterprise zones.—The following incentives are provided by the state to encourage the revitalization of enterprise zones:

(3) The community contribution tax credits provided in ss. 212.08, 220.183*,* and 624.5105.

Section 22. Subsection (7) is added to section 290.048, Florida Statutes, to read:

290.048 General powers of Department of Community Affairs under ss. 290.0401-290.049.—The department has all the powers necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes and provisions of the program, including the power to:

(7) Establish advisory committees and solicit participation in designing, administering, and evaluating the program and in linking the program with other housing and community development resources.

Section 23. Section 290.049, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 24. Subsection (4) of section 370.28, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 25. Subsection (39) is added to section 420.507, Florida Statutes, to read:

420.507 Powers of the corporation.—The corporation shall have all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this part, including the following powers which are in addition to all other powers granted by other provisions of this part:

(39) To create recognition programs to honor individuals, community–based development organizations, units of local government, or others who have demonstrated the ideals of community stewardship and increased access to housing for low–income households, including economically distressed areas. Such programs may incorporate certificates of recognition by the Governor and may include presentation by the Governor or his representative.

Section 26. Subsections (1), (2), (4), and (5) of section 624.5105, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

624.5105 Community contribution tax credit; authorization; limitations; eligibility and application requirements; administration; definitions; expiration.—

(1) AUTHORIZATION TO GRANT TAX CREDITS; LIMITATIONS.—

(a) There shall be allowed a credit of 50 percent of a community contribution against any tax due for a calendar year under s. 624.509 or s. 624.510.

(b) No insurer shall receive more than $200,000 in annual tax credits for all approved community contributions made in any one year.

(c) The total amount of tax credit which may be granted for all programs approved under this section*, s. 212.08(5)(q),* and s. 220.183 is $20 ~~$10~~ million annually.

(d) Each proposal for the granting of such tax credit requires the prior approval of the director.

(e) If the credit granted pursuant to this section is not fully used in any one year because of insufficient tax liability on the part of the insurer, the unused amount may be carried forward for a period not to exceed 5 years. The carryover credit may be used in a subsequent year when the tax imposed by s. 624.509 or s. 624.510 for such year exceeds the credit under this section for such year.

(2) ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS.—

(a) Each community contribution by an insurer must be in a form specified in subsection (5).

(b) Each community contribution must be reserved exclusively for use in a project as defined in s. 220.03(1)(t).

(c) The project must be undertaken by an "eligible sponsor," as ~~which term is~~ defined in s. 220.183(2)(c). ~~as:~~

~~1. A community action program;~~

~~2. A community development corporation;~~

~~3. A neighborhood housing services corporation;~~

~~4. A local housing authority created pursuant to chapter 421;~~

~~5. A community redevelopment agency created pursuant to s. 163.356;~~

~~6. The Florida Industrial Development Corporation;~~

~~7. A historic preservation district agency or organization;~~

~~8. A private industry council;~~

~~9. An enterprise zone development agency created pursuant to s. 290.0057; or~~

~~10. Such other agency as the director may, from time to time, designate by rule.~~

In no event shall a contributing insurer have a financial interest in the eligible sponsor.

(d) The project shall be located in an area designated as an enterprise zone or a Front Porch Community pursuant to s. 14.2015(9)(b) ~~s. 290.0065~~. Any project designed to construct or rehabilitate housing for low–income or very–low–income households as defined in s. 420.9071(19) and (28) ~~low-income housing~~ is exempt from the area requirement of this paragraph.

(4) ADMINISTRATION.—

(a)1. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development is authorized to adopt all rules necessary to administer this section, including rules for the approval or disapproval of proposals by insurers.

2. The decision of the director shall be in writing, and, if approved, the proposal shall state the maximum credit allowable to the insurer. A copy of the decision shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue, who shall apply such credit to the tax liability of the insurer.

3. The office shall monitor all projects periodically, in a manner consistent with available resources to ensure that resources are utilized in accordance with this section; however, each project shall be reviewed no less frequently than once every 2 years.

4. The Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development shall, in consultation with the Department of Community Affairs, the Florida Housing Finance Corporation, and the statewide and regional housing and financial intermediaries, market the availability of the community contribution tax credit program to community–based organizations.

(b) The Department of Revenue shall adopt any rules necessary to ensure the orderly implementation and administration of this section.

(5) DEFINITIONS.—For the purpose of this section:

(a) "Community contribution" means the grant by an insurer of any of the following items:

1. Cash or other liquid assets.

2. Real property.

3. Goods or inventory.

4. Other physical resources which are identified by the department.

(b) "Director" means the director of the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(c) "Local government" means any county or incorporated municipality in the state.

(d) "Office" means the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development.

(e) "Project" means an activity as defined in s. 220.03(1)(t) or the provision of educational programs and materials by an eligible sponsor. ~~any activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor, as defined in subsection (2), which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing or commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities or to improve entrepreneurial and job-development opportunities for low-income persons.~~

Section 27. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, this act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

Section 1. Paragraphs (g) and (h) of subsection (5) of section 212.08, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (q) is added to that subsection, to read:

212.08 Sales, rental, use, consumption, distribution, and storage tax; specified exemptions.—The sale at retail, the rental, the use, the consumption, the distribution, and the storage to be used or consumed in this state of the following are hereby specifically exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter.

(5) EXEMPTIONS; ACCOUNT OF USE.—

(g) Building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone.—

1. Beginning July 1, 1995, building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter upon an affirmative showing to the satisfaction of the department that the items have been used for the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone. Except as provided in subparagraph 2., this exemption inures to the owner, lessee, or lessor of the rehabilitated real property located in an enterprise zone only through a refund of previously paid taxes. To receive a refund pursuant to this paragraph, the owner, lessee, or lessor of the rehabilitated real property located in an enterprise zone must file an application under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, which includes:

a. The name and address of the person claiming the refund.

b. An address and assessment roll parcel number of the rehabilitated real property in an enterprise zone for which a refund of previously paid taxes is being sought.

c. A description of the improvements made to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property.

d. A copy of the building permit issued for the rehabilitation of the real property.

e. A sworn statement, under the penalty of perjury, from the general contractor licensed in this state with whom the applicant contracted to make the improvements necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property, which statement lists the building materials used in the rehabilitation of the real property, the actual cost of the building materials, and the amount of sales tax paid in this state on the building materials. In the event that a general contractor has not been used, the applicant shall provide this information in a sworn statement, under the penalty of perjury. Copies of the invoices which evidence the purchase of the building materials used in such rehabilitation and the payment of sales tax on the building materials shall be attached to the sworn statement provided by the general contractor or by the applicant. Unless the actual cost of building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property and the payment of sales taxes due thereon is documented by a general contractor or by the applicant in this manner, the cost of such building materials shall be an amount equal to 40 percent of the increase in assessed value for ad valorem tax purposes.

f. The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the rehabilitated real property is located.

g. A certification by the local building code inspector that the improvements necessary to accomplish the rehabilitation of the real property are substantially completed.

h. Whether the business is a small business as defined by s. 288.703(1).

i. If applicable, the name and address of each permanent employee of the business, including, for each employee who is a resident of an enterprise zone, the identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the employee resides.

2. This exemption inures to a city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* through a refund of previously paid taxes if the building materials used in the rehabilitation of real property located in an enterprise zone are paid for from the funds of a community development block grant*, State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program,* or similar grant or loan program. To receive a refund pursuant to this paragraph, a city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* must file an application which includes the same information required to be provided in subparagraph 1. by an owner, lessee, or lessor of rehabilitated real property. In addition, the application must include a sworn statement signed by the chief executive officer of the city, county, ~~or~~ other governmental agency*, or nonprofit community-based organization* seeking a refund which states that the building materials for which a refund is sought were paid for from the funds of a community development block grant*, State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program,* or similar grant or loan program.

3. Within 10 working days after receipt of an application, the governing body or enterprise zone development agency shall review the application to determine if it contains all the information required pursuant to subparagraph 1. or subparagraph 2. and meets the criteria set out in this paragraph. The governing body or agency shall certify all applications that contain the information required pursuant to subparagraph 1. or subparagraph 2. and meet the criteria set out in this paragraph as eligible to receive a refund. If applicable, the governing body or agency shall also certify if 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees. The certification shall be in writing, and a copy of the certification shall be transmitted to the executive director of the Department of Revenue. The applicant shall be responsible for forwarding a certified application to the department within the time specified in subparagraph 4.

4. An application for a refund pursuant to this paragraph must be submitted to the department within 6 months after the rehabilitation of the property is deemed to be substantially completed by the local building code inspector or within 90 days after the rehabilitated property is first subject to assessment.

5. The provisions of s. 212.095 do not apply to any refund application made pursuant to this paragraph. No more than one exemption through a refund of previously paid taxes for the rehabilitation of real property shall be permitted for any one parcel of real property. No refund shall be granted pursuant to this paragraph unless the amount to be refunded exceeds $500. No refund granted pursuant to this paragraph shall exceed the lesser of 97 percent of the Florida sales or use tax paid on the cost of the building materials used in the rehabilitation of the real property as determined pursuant to sub-subparagraph 1.e. or $5,000, or, if no less than 20 percent of the employees of the business are residents of an enterprise zone, excluding temporary and part-time employees, the amount of refund granted pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the lesser of 97 percent of the sales tax paid on the cost of such building materials or $10,000. A refund approved pursuant to this paragraph shall be made within 30 days of formal approval by the department of the application for the refund.

6. The department shall adopt rules governing the manner and form of refund applications and may establish guidelines as to the requisites for an affirmative showing of qualification for exemption under this paragraph.

7. The department shall deduct an amount equal to 10 percent of each refund granted under the provisions of this paragraph from the amount transferred into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 212.20 for the county area in which the rehabilitated real property is located and shall transfer that amount to the General Revenue Fund.

8. For the purposes of the exemption provided in this paragraph:

a. "Building materials" means tangible personal property which becomes a component part of improvements to real property.

b. "Real property" has the same meaning as provided in s. 192.001(12).

c. "Rehabilitation of real property" means the reconstruction, renovation, restoration, rehabilitation, construction, or expansion of improvements to real property.

d. "Substantially completed" has the same meaning as provided in s. 192.042(1).

9. The provisions of this paragraph shall expire and be void on December 31, 2005.

(h) Business property used in an enterprise zone.—

1. Beginning July 1, 1995, business property purchased for use by businesses located in an enterprise zone which is subsequently used in an enterprise zone shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter. This exemption inures to the business only through a refund of previously paid taxes. A refund shall be authorized upon an affirmative showing by the taxpayer to the satisfaction of the department that the requirements of this paragraph have been met.

2. To receive a refund, the business must file under oath with the governing body or enterprise zone development agency having jurisdiction over the enterprise zone where the business is located, as applicable, an application which includes:

a. The name and address of the business claiming the refund.

b. The identifying number assigned pursuant to s. 290.0065 to the enterprise zone in which the business is located.
